ROOSEVELT SUFFERS THROAT TROUBLE AND SOME SLIGHT FEVER

Ex-President Leaves Swedish Capital for Visit to Berlin.

Entertained By Col. Graves of Duluth While in Stockholm.

Plans at Berlin Are Changed Owing to King Edward's Death.

Stockholm, May 9.—Mr. Roosevelt left for Berlin on a special train at 11 o'clock this morning. He was feeling well and in a joking mood, and considered himself altogether equal to the visit in Germany.

During the night the former president had a light fever and today his voice was husky, giving evidence of a slight attack of bronchitis.

Col. Roosevelt only left his apartments once. He took luncheon with Col. Charles H. Graves of Duluth, Minn., the American minister to Sweden, at the legation, and there met Sven Hedin, the explorer, Dr. Nordenskjold the Antarctic explorer, Admiral Palander, Prof. Arrenhaus, who is connected with the Nobel institute, and other scientific and literary people.

Greeted by Big Crowd.

He intended to make a speech at the National Museum before the students and the massed singing societies, but gave this up, and instead, bowed from the balcony of the legation to the students and singers, who gathered in the street below and sang selections. The crowd on both sides of the water front facing the legation were estimated at between 30,000 and 40,000, the greatest crowds. Minister Graves

STEAMER VENUS HAS DISAPPEARED

Has Not Been Spoken Since Sailing With Arms for Nicaragua.

New Orleans, La., May 9.—The steamship Venus, loaded with arms and ammunition, according to all insurgents here, carrying several large guns which were to be mounted on the vessel, sailed from this city May 1, ostensibly for Greytown, Nicaragua, and has not since been spoken.

It has been asserted that the vessel put into either a Mexican or Honduran port, changed its register, and flying the Nicaraguan flag, proceeded in support of the Madriz government to Bluefields is a trip ordinarily of five days. With eight days having passed since the departure of the vessel from this port, its whereabouts is a matter of mystery.

It has been reported that the Venus was about to attack Bluefields in conjunction with the movement of an armed land force from the Madriz government.

HARVEST FOR GRIM REAPER

Ten Are Known to Be Dead and at Least Half Hundred Hurt.

Ottawa, Ont., May 9.—An explosion which shook Canada's capital to the foundations and sent the citizens into the streets in panic occurred just before 6 o'clock Sunday night when the magazine of the General Explosives company, located four miles away across the Ottawa river on the outskirts of the French city of Hull, blew up.

Ten are known to be dead and at least fifty are injured, some very seriously.

Fire broke out in the workshop of the factory, attracting to the neighborhood a crowd of a thousand men and boys who had been watching a baseball game in a field nearby. Warnings were disregarded and the crowd stayed until two terrific explosions filled the air with a mass of stone which had formed the walls of the factory.

Looked Like Battlefield.

Men and boys were mowed down as by a fire of artillery. The scene where the crowd from the ball field stood resembled a battlefield. Headless, armless and legless bodies were lying about among scores of unconscious forms. The silence which followed the final death-dealing blast was more terrifying than the cries and moans which came with return to consciousness of the badly injured. The nearest houses of the workmen were a quarter of a mile from the factory, but the flying

SET TIME OF ROYAL RITES

King Edward's Funeral Will Be Held May 20---Cast of Face Is Made.

Salvation Army Is Permitted to Hold Services for Dead Monarch.

London, May 9.—The tomb of Edward VII will be beneath the Albert Memorial chapel at Windsor, where the body of his eldest son, the Duke of Clarence, has a sepulchre. The obsequies will be held on Friday, May 20.

Before the funeral, the body of the king will lie in state in Westminster hall, under the house in Westminster which was last the scene of a similar ceremony when, for two days and nights, a constant stream of citizens filed past the coffin of the great commoner, Gladstone. Before being taken to Westminster, the body will lie in state in the throne room of Buckingham palace.

King Edward's casket will be fashioned out of oak grown in the royal forest at Windsor. It will first be lowered to the valut beneath the chapel floor of St. George's chapel, Windsor castle. Afterwards, when the permanent tomb has been prepared, it will be removed to Albert chapel. A supplementary gazette orders full court mourning until Nov. 7 and after that half mourning until May 7, 1911.

Takes Cast of King's Face.

Albert Bruce Joy, the sculptor, took a plaster cast of the late king's features, while Sir Luke Fields, the noted illustrator, sketched his face.

According to the Times, the king died from heart failure following bronchitis, and, the paper declares, all rumors of other ailments may be dismissed as idle gossip. There never

NEWS OF DEATH OF KING KILLS WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah J. P. Mobley of Minneapolis Dies of the Shock.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Sarah J. P. Mobley, aged 70 and wealthy, lies dead in the county morgue today. Coroner Seashore pronounced death due to heart failure, brought on by reading of the death of King Edward of England.

Mrs. Mobley was found dead at her home, 229 Second street, yesterday by neighbors who were in the habit of calling on her to inquire after her needs. She was lying on the floor fully dressed for the street, and had an extra edition of a newspaper in her hand, containing the announcement of King Edward's death.

Mrs. Mobley was an admirer of King Edward, and on the walls of nearly every room in her house were hung portraits of the king, picturing his life from boyhood to manhood.

Her Ideal of a Man.

"King Edward is my ideal of a man," she often said to her neighbors.

Besides the little home, in which she lived alone, she was possessed of other property, and it is said she had considerable money in a safe deposit vault.

She was a pioneer resident of Minnesota, and married Judge Mobley in Colorado and lived for a time in that state, where it is said she also owns property.

PROCLAIM GEORGE V

Brilliant and Impressive Ceremony Is Conducted By British Officers.

Public Proclamation Is Witnessed By Thousands of His Subjects.

London, May 9.—With the time-honored ceremony of a brilliant and impressive character, George V this morning publicly was proclaimed king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India.

It was officially announced at Buckingham palace at noon that Queen Mother Alexandra was well and bearing up bravely.

This morning rumors were current that in a paroxysm of grief the mother of the king had broken a blood vessel and that her condition was serious.

Sharply at the stroke of 9 four heralds arrayed in medieval uniforms of scarlet, heavily braided with gold, mounted the balcony of Friary court at St. James palace, where Queen Victoria presented herself to the people on the opening of her memorable reign, and blew a fanfare through their long silver trumpets.

Great Mass of People.

The precincts of the palace by this time were a great mass of people, many of whom could secure but the briefest glimpse of the proceedings. The balconies and roofs of the ancient palace which had been draped with red cloth were reserved for the notables, all of whom were in the deepest mourning. Members of the royal household, the ministers and their wives and nigh officers of state all in brilliant uniforms, were gathered around the court.

TAFT CLAIMS HE WAS MISQUOTED

President Does Not Favor Central Bank Plan for the Present.

Washington, May 9.—Although President Taft was quoted in his Boston address not long ago as being in favor of a central bank, it is learned that he is opposed to a cenral bank of issue at the present time. To the score of bankers who have been sending inquiries Secretary MacVeagh has been authorized by the president to make the following statement:

"Mr. Taft was misquoted in the reports of his Boston address. The president is not in favor of a central bank at the present time, and he has personally requested me to advise you that he is not advocating the establishment of such an institution."

It is said that the president has learned by his trips through the various states that the opposition to the central bank is such that the subject should be approached with caution. Moreover, he is said to have reached the conclusion that such a change would involve unsettled conditions.

ABOLISH THE MIDDLEMEN

Farmers Form New Organization at Meeting in St. Louis.

School of Handling Farm Products to Be Founded in Denver.

St. Louis, Mo., May 9.—The American Co-operative union, the purpose of which is to aid in the crusade against high prices, was organized by farmers who attended the national rally, which closed here Saturday night. The organization was perfected secretly and announced Sunday. Thomas G. Nelson of Indianapolis is president, Rev. J. T. Tuohy of St. Louis is secretary and Thomas Emmerton of Bloomer, Wis., treasurer.

The union is to be incorporated for $1,000,000 and branches operated in every large city of the United States, it is announced.

Plan School at Denver.

The plan provides for the absolute elimination of the middleman in the sale of farm products. A part of the general purpose is to establish a school at Denver, Col., in which the principles of handling farm products will be taught. Mr. Nelson says that Gifford Pinchot will be asked to accept the presidency of the institution.

The resolutions adopted during the sessions demand postal savings banks, providing the deposits be not centralized; a parcels post, restriction of foreign immigration by a head tax on each immigrant, abolition by congressional enactemnt of dealing in futures, restriction of the "white slave" traffic and an increased appropriation for the agricultural department.

MAN KILLS TWO FOR WHISKY THEFT

Virginian Uses Shotgun at Gathering at Home of Neighbor.

Staunton, Va., May 9.—Armed with a repeating shotgun, Arch Brown, 35 years old, yesterday afternoon opened fire upon assembled guests at the home of a neighbor, four miles from here, killing two persons and wounding two others, one of whom may die. Perry Hoy and a boy named Higgs, 8 years old, are dead. Abe Hoy, brother of Perry Hoy, was probably fatally shot and the other wounded man was the father of the Higgs boy.

Brown's wholesale shooting was the result of his anger having been aroused by the belief that Abe Hoy had stolen some whisky with which Brown had entrusted him. Brown came to this place after the shooting and surrendered to the jailer.

Boyle Case Postponed.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 9.—The superior court, sitting in Pittsburg today, postponed until tomorrow the hearing of arguments for a retrial in the case of Helen Boyle, now serving a 25-year sentence in the Western penitentiary for complicity in the kidnaping of "Billy" Whitla of Sharon, Pa., about a year ago. Attorneys for Mrs. Boyle will plead "no jurisdiction."

FOREST FIRES THREATEN CITY'S PUMPING STATION

Call Comes From Lakewood for Assistance of Fire Department.

Situation Not Critical, But No Chances Are Being Taken.

Great Stretch of Territory Along Iron Range Line in Flames.

Dangerous forest fires are sweeping from the proximity of Colbyville and Arnold towards the lake and the pumping station with alarming rapidity.

The situation late this forenoon became so alarming that calls for assistance were sent to the Duluth fire department from the pumping station, which is in danger from the flames. The Lakeside department being nearest the conflagration, was immediately dispatched to the scene.

The pumping station is quite seriously threatened, as nearly as can be learned from the reports which have reached the city. It is thought, however, that the fire fighters will be able to save it from destruction. It is of concrete and brick construction and a wide fire line is being placed around it. The opinion is that the flames will Ossining, N. Y., May 9.—Gilbert Coleman, a mulatto convicted of wife murder in New York city, was electrocuted in Sing Sing prison today.

Coleman was smiling as he entered the death chamber and walked to the chair with a firm step. He breathed a prayer as the electrodes were being placed. The body was taken in charge by Coleman's brother, who will take it to Virginia for burial.

Coleman was a Pullman car cook. He stabbed his wife to death in a fit of jealousy on Dec. 19, 1908.

WAYMAN ON BRIBE TRAIL

Chicago Prosecutor Is After Bigger Men Than the Legislators.

Men Who Did Not Vote for Lorimer Say They Knew of No Bribe.

Chicago, May 9.—In resuming its sessions today the grand jury is believed to be in search of quarry "higher up" than the legislators indicted last week on charges of bribery and perjury in connection with the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate.

State's Attorney Wayman has announced confessions of Democratic Representatives Beckmeyer, Link and White, but he is believed to be after at least two more, as five is the number of votes by which Lorimer was chosen.

The faces of many new witnesses are expected to show themselves before the inquisition this week. Mr. Wayman did not confide the subpoenas for the additional witnesses to his regular staff of detectives, but gave them to operatives of a private agency for service.

Representatives William Murphy, James J. O'Toole and Charles Naylor, all Democrats, of Chicago, were the first witnesses today. They said they had not voted for Lorimer and knew nothing of any bribery of legislators.

HEINZE JURORS SEE FAMILIES

Are Allowed to Go Home Under Escort of Federal Deputies.

New York, May 9.—The jurors in the trial of F. A. Heinze, former president of the Mercantile National bank, were allowed to visit their homes yesterday under the supervision of special federal deputies, winding up the day with a sacred concert in the parlors of the downtown hotel where they live during the trial.

The government closed its case last week after introducing a mass of evidence, largely documentary, in an effort to connect Heinze's alleged violations of the banking law with the promotion of a speculation in United Copper stocks conducted by the firm of Otto Heinze & Co. Motions for dismissal of various counts of the indictment are pending, but Judge Hough indicated he would not hear argument on the motions until Heinze's counsel had cross-examined the government's expert accountants, who testified at last week's session of the trial.

FLED FROM PEST HOUSE

Two Smallpox Patients Exposed Many Citizens to the Disease.

One Claimed to Have Rubbed Hands on Faces of Passersby.

The most high handed and bare faced exposure of the public to smallpox came to light in the city Saturday.

Two men confined in the pest house with the disease, deliberately broke the quarantine, walked into the city from the poor farm, and mingled with people in saloons and restaurants, it is claimed. The actions of one of the them particularly were reprehensible to the highest degree, according to Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner.

In addition to their actions in the city they returned to the pest house of their own accord either in a hack or an automobile. The health department has been unable to locate the vehicle, and it is now running about the city.

Loafing on Fourth street, one of the men is said to have rubbed the palms of his hands, which were covered with marks from the disease, over the faces of several people. It is asserted that he would approach them with the remark, "You're a friend of mine. I've got something to give you." It is claimed that with the words he ran his hands over the person's face.

One of the two, Holland Esterly, a salesman 24 years of age, was arrested Saturday afternoon charged with violating the health ordinances. Arraigned in police court he entered a plea of not guilty. His trial was set for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The other man whose name is on the records as Ignatius Beyenka, is still at the pest house. He will not be re-

COMET NOT UP TO PROMISES

Celestial Visitor Is Not Fulfilling Expectations of Astronomers.

Duluth Astronomer Unable to See Tail and Doubts Its Existence.

Unless Halley's comet increases greatly in brilliance as it approaches nearer to the earth, the 1910 appearance of the periodic visitor will be a distinct disappointment to the public and astronomers as well. Astronomers are already expressing doubts of the fulfillment of their predictions that the comet would be a brilliant figure in the sky and are preparing the people for disappointment if the comet should not later come up to expectations.

Halley's comet on the occasion of some of its former appearances was an exceptionally brilliant object, particularly in 1066 and 1456, when its sudden appearance in the sky caused excitement, wonder and fear all through Europe. At other times it was not such a brilliant object. When it last appeared, it was not particularly brilliant and had only a moderate tail.

The fact that the comet was not very bright at some of its appearances may be explained by the fact that the relative positions of the earth and comet were not such to provide a favorable display of the visitor. This year, however, conditions for seeing the comet at its best could not be better, in the opinion of the astronomers, and yet it has not come up to the expectations.

Has Comet Lost Tail?

Has the comet lost its tail?

That is the question astronomers are asking themselves and each other. The Carlton college observatory at Northfield observed the comet April 20, through a 16-inch telescope and declared that no tail was visible. J. H. Darling, the Duluth astronomer, has not been able to discern the tail of the comet, if it has one.

Mr. Darling will not yet commit himself definitely on the subject. About a week ago, he observed the comet and was unable to see any tail. This morning, he took another observation, seeing the comet first with the naked eye, then with a field glass and lastly with a telescope, and he was unable to see the tail.

"People have told me that they saw the tail of the comet, and I do not like to dispute them, but I have been unable to see the tail," said Mr. Darling this morning. "I observed the comet at about 3:30 this morning, and I am certain that no tail was visible then. Perhaps if I had seen the comet when it was first visible I might have been able to see the tail, but I was not able at that time. I will be more careful in my observation tomorrow morning and then, perhaps, I may be able to say definitely whether, in my opinion, the comet has a tail.

"Certainly the comet is not the brilliant object that astronomers expected, and thus far the appearance is a disappointment. The come will undoubtedly become brighter as it approaches the earth, but I do not believe that it will at any time be as bright as predicted."

Halley's comet at present is visible to the naked eye, but is not very bright, and one must know just about where to look for it to find it. It appears nearly due east, somewhat to the south of the point where the sun rises, and well up over the horizon. It is a nebulous, luminous mass, with a nucleus brighter than the coma that surrounds it. Though some Duluth people say they have seen the tail of the comet through field glasses, Mr. Darling says that he has been unable to see it. The tail should reach south from the head of the comet at an upward angle from the horizon, the angle being somewhat less than 45 deg.

It is not only possible, but is considered highly probable that the gas, which forms the tail of a comet, has been exhausted in Halley's comet, and that the tail has disappeared, never to return. On every approach of the comet to the sun, a large amount of the gas has been exhausted, and it is not inconceivable that the entire supply has been driven off into space by the rays of the sun. Other comets have lost their tails, especially those which have frequently appeared, and have thus been frequently near the sun.

"The head of a comet is formed of a swarm of meteors," said Mr. Darling this morning. "These consist of particles of solid matter, which may be like grains of sand or pieces of rock, but widely separated from each other. They fill up a large bulk—in the case of Halley's comet, somewhat larger than the earth—but are so loose and so widely separated that light shines through and the stars can be seen through the bulk.

"In with this swarm of meteors is an exceedingly rarified gas, the substance of which is not very well known, although we know some of the elements which enter into it. But whatever its composition, it is acted upon by the sun and repelled by that action directly away from the sun. This gas, which is driven away is lighted by an electric glow so that it becomes visible and luminous. That is what forms the tail. This gas which forms the tail is driven off into space and becomes lost to the comet for all time.

"At each appearance in the neighborhood of the sun, this action takes place and the comet loses more and more of the substances which form the tail. Of course as the supply is drawn upon successively, it is bound to become exhausted in time.

"If Halley's comet has no tail on this appearance, that, I believe, is the explanation of it. The head of the comet consists of coarse materials and does not suffer any loss of that kind. It shines in great part by reflected sunlight and so far as its appearance depends upon the reflected light of the sun, it may never be lost to sight entirely, even if the tail disappears."

Halley's comet is now approaching the earth toward the point at which it will pass between the sun and the earth, May 18. It rises now about two hours before sunrise, or shortly before 3 a. m. and that interval will be less from day to day up to May 18. It should appear brighter each morning for a week or so on account of its approaching nearer the earth, although that will be offset somewhat by its nearer approach to the sun and the light from the sun offsetting the luminous glow of the comet.

May 18 the comet will pass between the sun and the earth and after that date, it will be an evening object in the west. It should be at its best for some time after May 18.

Seven accidental deaths were reported in the city last month, according to the figures compiled by Deputy Segal in the offices of the health department. Two were caused by drowning, one from carbolic acid, one by an automobile, one by falling from a porch, one from eating copper nitrate, and one by a railroad. Two non-residents died accidentally, one from a gunshot wound and the other as a result of a fall from a train. Altogether there were sixty-two resident and fifteen non-resident deaths, making a total of seventy-seven deaths in the city in April.

POLICE GET EVIDENCE

Detectives With Stop Watches Are Stationed on London Road.

The police are busy getting evidence against automobile speed fiends. Detectives Schulte and Irvine posted themselves on London road yesterday afternoon with stop watches and it is claimed that they secured enough evidence to convict several drivers. A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of Dr. William Goldsworthy for violating the speed regulations, and it is expected that others will follow. The authorities declare that they are determined to stop the reckless handling of the gasoline carriages, and that they will continue to make arrests until the owners of cars learn that they mean business. Many complaints have been made to the police by residents along London road from one end to the other. They state that their lives and those of their children are endangered by the speeders. In addition, they allege that the clouds of dust raised are extremely disagreeable.

PEDDLES CATS IN A DULUTH HOTEL

Chicago Traveling Man Has Odd Way of Amusing Himself.

Robert P. Payne, a Chicago commercial traveler, who has many friends in Duluth, has a penchant for selling things. That's why he's successful as a traveling salesman, of course. But he carries it farther than do most of his brothers of the grip. In his hours of leisure he can't resist the temptation to sell things. He puts up at the Lenox when in Duluth.

At the Lenox they have a number of cats and kittens. Mr. Payne likes the fellines. He likes to have them about him. Now, it would be bothersome to carry four kittens by their tails or by the skin of their necks. With characteristic resourcefulness Mr. Payne has devised a way to overcome this difficulty. Somewhere in the recesses of the Lenox basement he discovered a rat trap—one of those big contraptions capable of containing a rat population of a dozen or more. Into this wire basket go the cat and the kittens and Mr. Payne is ready for business. Into the lobby he sallies, presenting for inspection by all he encounters the wares he has for sale. The pets purr and "meow" softly. They like it.

It is not of record that "Cat" Payne has sold any of the pretty felines, but he is a consistent booster of cat merits and if any one wants a cat salesman and can offer sufficient inducements Mr. Payne should stand a good show of getting the job.

A. V. SNELL REMAINS HERE.

Laymen's Movement Secretary Will Make Duluth His Home.

A. V. Snell, who has been connected with the Laymen's Missionary Movement as executive secretary, both in Oklahoma City and Duluth, has decided to make his home in Duluth, and will be connected with the real estate department of the firm of Little & Nolte. Mr. Snell is a native of New York. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago and of the law department of George Washington university, Washington, D. C. For five years he had charge of the claim department of the inheritance taxes collected under the Spanish war revenue act of 1898, and subsequently practiced before the Court of Claims at the capital. Three years ago he moved to the city of Oklahoma, being largely interested in the real estate development of that city. He was connected with the chamber of commerce and other public interests.

At a preliminary meeting of the Laymen's movement he was elected secretary, and his work was so satisfactory that upon urgent request of the national officers he came to Duluth and took charge here, where he has made many friends.

Speaking of Duluth this morning, Mr. Snell said that in his opinion Duluth is destined in the near future to see an increase in real estate prices all along the line.

"With its splendid advantages over all other cities in the West and its enormous western territory, its great harbor and iron ranges, Duluth should be more than the 'Pittsburg of the West,'" said Mr. Snell. "The new steel plant alone will bring an additional population of 10,000 people to Duluth, and with this great industry will surely come a large number of minor industries, which will mean much for the city in every way."

FATHER NOT TOLD OF SON'S CRIME

Henry J. Schommer Dies, Not Knowing Son Is Under Arrest.

Kept ignorant of the fact that his son has a charge of attempted murder staring him in the face, Henry J. Schommer, an old resident of Billings Park died Saturday after a year's illness of tuberculosis. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Nicholas J. Schommer, 23 years old, his oldest son, shot Miss Effie Johnson, his 19-year-old sweetheart, four times and then attempted suicide. The attempted murder and suicide both failed. The girl is recovering at a Superior hospital and Schommer is under arrest for attempted murder.

The affair happened about ten days ago. Schommer's father was confined to his bed at the time. In fear that the news of the trouble of his son would hasten his death, it was kept from him and he died without knowing the plight of his son or learning the reason why his son had not visited him during his last days.

Schommer lived at 1813 Ohio avenue. He leaves a widow, two daughters and three sons.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Duluthians will be interested in the following social item from the San Francisco Call for Wednesday of last week, as George Joerns was formerly of this city and is well known here. The Call says:

"The navy set will be interested in the wedding this evening of Miss Constance Cummings and Ensign George Joerns of the Yorktown.

"While the ceremony will be celebrated with simplicity, it will be one of the prettiest affairs of the season. The officers will be in full dress uniforms, and the glitter of a service affair will be added to the picturesque home wedding. The officiating clergyman will be Rev. William Rader.

"The bride will be attended by her two sisters, Mrs. Harry Child and Mrs. George Alexander Knox. There will be two bridesmaids, Miss Madeline Cummings and Miss Louise Mooser. Shelby Cummings will be the best man.

"There will be an elaborate reception after the ceremony for about 100 friends of the couple.

"Ensign Joerns and his bride will go on a brief honeymoon trip and will return here. The bride is a charming girl of piquant type of demiblonde. She sings and dances cleverly and has taken an active part in society theatricals. She is a sister of Earl Cummings, the sculptor.

HOME CRAFTS

Are Being Encouraged By Minneapolis Women.

The Women's Club of Minneapolis is arranging for a handicraft art exhibit and sale for this week at Minneauolis, to present examples of the handicraf work among the people of the city and surrounding country and to encourage the crafts among the people. This feature of art work has received much encouragement by the State Art association and a local exhibit was held a few years ago and great effort made by the club women to secure an exhibit of such craft work as might be encouraged among the people of the city and nearby towns. Among the foreigners who have settled in Northern Minnesota, there are the beginning of many home crafts such as lace making, of the various sorts, rug weaving and metal working. The ideal toward which the society hoped to work was the securing of the services of a skilled craftman whose help and direction might be available to the humble workers and that these arts might not die out with the older generation.

There were no funds for securing the teacher and the exhibit was not held a second year. The Minneapolis women hope to open a store permanently for the display and sale of such work as is available if interest is shown in the work by the people who have learned one of the crafts and by the general public in the purchase of such work. Duluth club women who became rather discouraged in their own efforts will watch this endeavor of the Minneapolis women with interest.

DULUTHIAN WEDDED AT FRISCO

ENSIGN GEORGE JOERNS.

THE "SIDESTEP" IS FATAL

By CARA REESE

Providing there is no sidestep, sometimes a misstep can be retrieved. Sometimes a stumble and a tripping up and a fall are not particularly hurtful. A jarring due to taking two steps where only one stair is in the passage does not necessarily leave ill effects, nor vice versa; speed regulated to one stair and a bump on the nose, giving proof to two stairs in existence. But a sidestep is something different.

You are on the right track and at the right pace, providing there is no sidestep. That is, you are trying your pedestrian skill along the edge of a precipice. You will make the perilous walk in perfect safety unless you sidestep. One single sidestep toward the abyss and over you go, neck, heels and boasting. It all lies in refraining from, or guarding against, a sidestep. And you are standing firmly and uprightly at the end of a top stair, where there are no bannisters. You have all the room which your soleleather actually needs, and not a hairsbreadth left over as a margin of space. You may pose there for a lifetime, like Samuel Stylites on his post, and nothing ever happens to mar your repose. But a single sidestep and you are a mass of bruised flesh and broken bones.

It is all in the sidestep. As long as you follow the trail or stick to the bridge or keep a line of direction before you, then you will not lose yourself in the thicket, nor drown in the marsh, nor fail to reach your destination by meal time. There are risky experiments and adventures which are safely traversed by the sure-footed and daring, where a single sidestep would have meant instant death and undoing. You, as amateur, should think of all this when starting out to conquer without a margin either to the right or to the left.

And it is much the same with plans, purposes and pursuits. It were better not to boast of the goal that lies ahead. A single sidestep has brought the most promising expedition or hopes or ambitions to nothing. There is no foothold, as it were, when the emergency occurs. You are walking, standing, keeping your grip at the limit. You must remain at such exactness and tension through to the end, for a single sidestep hurls you from estate. It is all right to be venturesome, to put the best foot forward, as the saying goes; to present your capabilities in the best possible light, and even a bit of daring now and then is not amiss.

But when scaling the high wall it were better to inform yourself as to the width at the top and not take chances after your climb of finding no room for a seven-leagued boot and only a sidestep in view and a quagmire beyond.

And when, in the exigency of affairs, you are obliged to walk "goose file," with only a clacking and flapping to irritate your nerves, still remember that the "goose file" is in a certain straight and narrow walk and is bound to get somewhere in the course of time; while if you sidestep you are hopelessly lost. Do not sneer at the "goose file," for it eventually gets where it wants to get. And the "rank and file" generally reaches a happy hunting ground after the scant ration, meager elbow room and forced march through the vale of tribulations. Take in all the sights and sounds, clap your hands and shout and sing sometimes, but watch your feet—a sidestep is fatal.

TRY THIS DINNER

German Consomme.

This is a clear soup, garnished with the tiny button onions boiled and then fried in butter, and with German bread balls. For these, melt two ounces of butter and work into it three ounces of bread crumbs, moistening with a little cream till you have a smooth paste. When this is cool, work into it two egg yolks, a dust of sugar salt ceyenne and a teaspoon of grated l'armesan cheese. Test a piece by poaching it in a little boiling water. If the paste is too thin, add a little flour; if it is too thinck, add a little cream. Shape into tiny quenelles and poach in the soup.

Meat—Fried Pork Tenderloins.

Split the tenderloin and cut into small pieces. Fry in drippings. Dredge with flour, and when well blended with the fat, add a cup of milk. Serve with apple sauce.

Vegetables—Tomato Fritters.

To a pint of stewed potatoes, add a few sprigs of celery, a slice of onion, two cloves, and six peppercorns. Cook ten minutes, then rub through a sieve. Melt a fourth of a cup of butter, add a fourth of a cup of flour, gradually the tomatoes, stirring constantly, and seasoning with salt, pepper and sugar to taste. Cook the mixture till quite thick, then remove from the fire and add an egg slightly beaten. Pour on to a board dusted well with cracker crumbs. When cold, cut into strips. Roll in egg, then in crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Desert—Apples in Jelly.

Apples in jelly have much to recommend them, too. Make a lemon jelly in the usual way and let it cool without hardening. Peel the apples, cut them in quarters, after coring, and drop each quarter in a syrup made of white wine and loaf sugar. Let them cook without losing shape, take up and let cool. Line a mold with some of the lemon jelly, put in a layer of the apples, then more of the liquid jelly, then more apples and so on till the mold is full. Set away on ice to harden, and unmold whichever way you choose, when serving, garnishing with candied cherries.

PIONEER AMONG THE SUFFRAGISTS

MRS. D. B. MONTEFIORE.

Mrs. Dora B. Montefiore, the famous English suffragette, who says she is the "only militant grandmother suffragette in the world," arrived in New York very recently. She is here in the general interest of the suffrage movement and to study the American system of prisons and reformatories, which she says, are greatly superior to those of England. She will carry her investigations into the Middle West, as far as Chicago and St. Louis. Mrs. Montefiore admitted that she was one of the pioneers of the suffrage movement and that the first suffrage meeting held in Australia was held in her house in Sydney.

THE GIRL HOUSEKEEPER

By MARGARET HYLAND

When a girl reaches 13 her weekly dime should be increased to 25 cents. Many small items of attire, such as gloves, stockings and collars, she will be able to see to herself through this addition.

Now the mother, having taught her wise spending, will begin to delegate some of her own offices to the child She has to learn marketing properly. The mother takes the girl with her for some time on her buying expeditions, then she allows her to take the reins for a week or so, checking her where she goes a little wrong.

She learns inspection of goods so that she can discriminate between the different brands of groceries, meat, fish and the like. She learns how to buy and what to buy. Market tables she studies so as to find out beforehand what things are in or out of season, and what the prices are. Then she is ready to meet her overcharge with the right knowledge.

She learns food values, knows what foods give energy and vitality, which form flesh and build up the body. She learns when to buy in quantity, on account of certain things deteriorating, through keeping.

She learns the enormous difference which exists between a cash account and a credit account. The mother explains all this to her. Her own training, which her little weekly income of a dime for all those years will have prepared the ground of her mind to receive it all and she is an apt pupil, able, willing and ready to take her mother's place in the home at a minute's notice any time.

When she has the reins, she gets her requisitions ready for the week, and with her mother, checks the items before going out to buy. She knows how to get the most for her money at the grocer's, the butcher's or the baker's, and will not be cajoled into buying anything not arranged for.

She knows her income and its limitations, and has learned how to restrict her wants rigidly. She will not give in blindly, but will see everything before she buys it. Meat, vegetables, groceries, milk, butter, eggs, fish, poultry, she knows their weak points and reveals them. The tradespeople treat her right and respect her.

She is a good judge, and would get full weight in goods. She checks all her bills before paying them, so as to protect any mistake either for or against her. Thus she compels extra care in attendance on the tradespeople's part.

A girl like this is a treasure her mother is not very willing to part with. It is a treasure easily attained, because girls love this marketing and delight in doing it. And it is just as well to take a little trouble to know how to do it well. Later on some lucky man will delight in his housekeeping treasure, too, and still later another generation of girls and boys may arise to bless, not only their mother, but the grandmother, who was the source of all her knowledge.

It is a pretty sight to see the girl housekeeper doing her best with the income her mother has intrusted to her for a whole week. To see her gauging the age of rabbits by their ears and claws, of poultry by their scaly legs and their thick quills, of fish by lack-luster eyes and dull scales, of meat by its color, scent and skin; one knows she had lessons in the management of her money, and will not allow herself to be cheated.

She knows when sugar has received counter sweepings, when flour is mixed with cornmeal, when coffees are adulterated with chickory or dandelion root, when there is starch in cocoa or pepper, and turmeric in mustard, and meal in ground ginger, or bits of lead in tea. She will not lay her precious money out on such things, far less will she pay first-class prices for inferior goods. At a glance she can detect when the cheese is skim-milk made or whole-milk, or whether it has had extra cream added. She knows the virtues and the merits of can goods.

It is as much her province in managing income, whether her own or her mother's, in her teens, to know food values, as it is to know money values. For the one is really equivalent to the other. Wise mothers, recognizing this, will see that their growing girls understand it also.

YOUNG MEN AND MAIDENS

By MISS EXPERIENCE

Don't Be Too Easily Monopolized.

There would be fewer heart troubles if women refused to allow men to monopolize their attention and give a false impression concerning the relations between themselves and admirers. There are many men who like the good cheer of a comfortable home and the companionship of bright, clever girls, but they have no serious intentions, despite their constant attentions.

We should not jump at conclusions, but devotion seems to imply a heart interest, and it usually wins its way to a woman's affections.

More serious than that is the manner in which a devoted man keeps other admirers at bay. No gentleman will ever attempt to interfere in what looks like a settled affair, and so good matrimonial opportunities pass by those who are being monopolized.

Talk as we may of independence, down in our hearts we know that a true woman's destiny is wifehood and motherhood, and good chances are not to be despised.

When a Maid May Marry.

A girl should marry when she is capable of understanding and fulfilling the duties of a true wife and thorough housekeeper, and never before. No matter how old she may be, if she is not capable of managing a house, she is not old enough to get married.

When she promises to take the position of wife and homemaker, the man who holds her promise has every right to suppose that she knows herself competent or unwilling, he has good reason to consider himself cheated.

If girls would thoroughly fit themselves for the position of intelligent housekeepers before they marry, there would be fewer discontent, unhappy wives, and more happy homes.

THE EVENING STORY

CUPID'S GRAY-COATED ALLY

By Margaret Westrup.

George Norman had delivered mail on the same route for so many years that he had grown gray in the service since he began and had seen the uptown district fill up with residences and population. He was a typical New York letter carrier, and had a cheery word for the maids and men servants who came to the door in response to his ring and whistle. But this morning he grew impatient because the response was dilatory and he beguiled his time by reading the postal card in his hand addressed to "Miss Rosina Lily Smith." It read:

"My Darling Rose:—I'm working hard and hope soon to get a raise so as we can marry. Be true to your sweetheart, dear. BOB."

Norman was a confirmed bachelor, and he grunted with contempt when he had perused the few words.

"A pair of young fools!"

But Norman mentally revised his estimate when the little frail maid, whose white face and timid eyes were familiar to him, came to the door and brightened up on receiving the missive.

"O, thank you!" she said, and he felt recompensed for the delay she had caused him.

Every other morning he had a postal card for the girl, but he never read another.

"Such mawkishness makes me weary," he said to himself. But he could not help hoping that Bob would soon get his "raise."

One Sunday morning Norman saw her and her Bob. She looked very pretty and young and happy in her neat, best hat, and she was hanging on to his stalwart arm, proud and content. The letter carrier was behind them, and he followed them some way.

"Just to see what two young idiots in love look like," he told himself. He saw that Bob had a good, honest face, and was looking down into Rose's blue eyes with tenderness and pride as great as her own, and he gave a sigh of relief.

"They look as idiotic as I thought they would," he muttered; and just then Rose caught sight of him. She grew pink all over, and looked at him with a smile, which said as plainly as words: "Look at my Bob; isn't he wonderful!" Norman tried to hurry past them, but she stopped him, and the three stood talking for a little while. Then Norman moved abruptly, and he heard Bob say:

"Queer sort of a fellow, Rose; seems disagreeable."

He listened eagerly for the reply.

"Oh, no, Bob, dear; it's only his way. He's awfully kind, I think."

A few days later, when Norman called to deliver the inevitable postal card, Rose told him that Bob had got his raise.

"He wants to marry me now," she said shyly, and hurriedly shut the door on him after she had said it.

The next morning she came to the door pale, heavy-eyed and miserable. There was no postcard for her, and she asked gruffly: "Why haven't you written to her?"

"I'm not fit for her. I'm ashamed She's so pure and sweet and dainty. She was always too good for me, and now—"

He looked down and buried his face in his arms.

As Norman looked at that young head bowed down on the table, all the anger died out of his heart.

He rose, and putting his hand on the young fellow's shoulder, he said, in a strange, husky voice:

"She would have written to you, but she knew the folks you worked for had moved and she didn't know your address. She's worrying for you, and maybe thinking that you've gone to the bad."

"Not know my address? I never thought of that. We'd only moved that day, and I didn't put it on the postcard. Do you think there's any chance?"

"Indeed I do!" exclaimed Norman. "You write to her at once and see."

Norman smiled the next morning when, in assorting his mail, he saw a postal card bearing the old familiar address among his batch of letters.

"Not lost much time, anyway," he said.

Rose came to the door as of old. Such a changed Rose, that the tough old postman was almost guilty of a start when he saw her. She looked at him with shining, grateful eyes.

"I know, and I can't thank you properly," she began, with flushed, pink cheeks, and then she bolted.

"I'm as big a fool as they are," he said to himself as he wiped some moisture out of his eyes before ringing the bell at the next house.

A WORD ABOUT WORRY

By AMANDA MOORE

It is women who are most apt to worry without being aware of the fact. Men worry, too, of course, but they are always conscious of their worry and its cause. They are not so likely to be overwhelmed by responsibility in general as women are. They worry because something has gone wrong in business or at home, and once the matter is put right they are their old cheery selves.

But we women are often the victims of unconscious worry. That is, we worry when there is no definite cause for it. We take life too seriously, perhaps. We feel a tremendous anxiety and responsibility, even when there is no need. What is the result? Our work suffers, because we do not give our whole mind to it if we are depressed, oppressed by unconscious worry. One result is that we suffer because we worry in our sleep, and that is why we feel tired and unrested in the morning.

It is a good thing when a woman makes up her mind to conquer the habit of unconscious worry—to get into the way of doing her work and her duty to the very best of her ability, and then let Providence take care of the rest.

After all, it is wonderful how things generally turn out for the best in the end. Most of our worry, our fears and qualms about the future are unnecessary. Worse, still, it is demoralizing to the physical and nervous health to doubt and worry all the time. It hinders our spiritual growth also if we let the burden of life weigh heavily upon us; if we lose that sense and trust of the "Divinity that shapes our ends," and give way to useless worry.

A great deal of unnecessary sadness falls to the lot of people who are always worrying, always anticipating disasters which, in nine cases out of ten, never come.

Everybody has trouble, everybody has real worries. The art of happiness consists in realizing our blessings and appreciating them as we ought to do. It may require a big effort to conquer the habit of worry.

But what a difference it makes to our health, our capacity for work and our daily happiness.

FRED GOODING DEAD.

Former Duluth Resident Buried at Rochester, Minn., Sunday.

Rochester, Minn., May 9.—A private funeral was held here Sunday for Frederick A. Gooding, long a prominent resident of this city, who died Friday afternoon, aged 54. A native of New York state, he came here early in life with his parents and resided here much of the time since.

He had been ill for five weks previous, hope alternating with despair as his symptoms were favorable or otherwise. He suffered from septic endocarditis.

He was at one time connected with the G. W. Van Dusen company in Rochester. Later he was at Duluth, Red Lake Falls, and Casper, Wyo. In the conduct of his large sheep ranch, Mr. Gooding was unusually fortunate. He has had no small part in assisting his wife in the management of the large Cook estate. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. A. Gooding; four brothers, Frank E., and Arthur C., of Rochester, Will G., of Minneapolis, and Orlen L., of New York; one sister, Mrs. Charles N. Ainslie of Washington, D. C.; the wife, Mrs. May Cook Gooding, and the daughter and son, Frances and John Gooding.

TO HONOR MEMORY OF KING EDWARD

Special Services Will Be Held at St. Paul's Church Next Sunday.

Natives of England now living in Duluth have been deeply touched by the death of King Edward VII, who died Friday night. Numerous expressions of sorrow are heard and many flags are flying at half mast in mourning for the dead monarch.

Next Sunday evening at 7:30, memorial services for King Edward will be conducted in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Lake avenue and Second street. Former subjects of King Edward will attend to do honor to his memory. Dr. A. W. Ryan will preach the memorial sermon and an appropriate musical program will be arranged.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY.

May 22 Will Be Observed By the Churches Throughout the World.

Sundany, May 22, will be World's Sunday school day and, although little preparation has been made here, the day will be observed in Duluth. The day is observed on the Sunday during the world's Sunday school convention, which will be held this year at Washington, May 19 to 24.

Programs for the observance of the day are printed in all the different languages and mailed to the Sunday schools throughout the world. The pastors of all churches are requested to preach on the Sunday school work and the special programs are carried out in the Sunday schools.

NEW WOMAN NOT TYPICAL

Rev. George R. Gebauer Says Coming Woman Will Be Motherly.

Advises Honor to Fatherhood as Well as to Motherhood.

"Honor to Parents" was the subject of the sermon preached by Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church, First street and Eighth avenue East, yesterday. He said in part:

"This is Mothers' Sunday and the white carnation in honor of motherhood is much in evidence. But though no man can possibly have a higher regard for motherhood than I have, I sincerely wish that we might rather celebrate 'Parents' day.' No matter how much we may exalt motherhood, it remains a one-sided honor if we do not likewise pay our tribute to fatherhood. It must be sad, indeed, if only we see one face, that of the mother, beaming in love and devotion, while the picture of the father is but a blurr, a blot, a scar in our memory.

"I still believe in manhood; I believe that the father deserves no less love and respect than the mother. Sad were indeed the future of our land if the father should simply be considered a sort of biological and economic necessity, whose function ends with providing for the housing and dressing and feeding of his family. Unfortunately there is in our day a growing tendency to belittle fatherhood, and consequently it often becomes a very little thing. It is considered a smart thing to make sport of 'the old man.' But while fatherhood is often neglectful of its sacred duties and perhaps deserves censure, it generally is quite equal to motherly care and solicitude.

"How many fathers I have personally known who worked and toiled and sweated that their own might live in ease and comfort. How many an 'old man' I have known spending the hot months of the year working in the city while the family had a good time on the seashore. Have you ever considered that the greatest educators of the race have been and are men? Think of Comenius, and Rousseau, Pestalozzi and Herbart and Hagle and Stanley Hall and Froebel, just to mention a few. They represent the fatherly element in the education of the race and how wonderfully 'motherly' they look upon the duty of the father. They all alike recognize the important part the father has to perform. Indeed blessed are children who know in their father more than a provider, who find in him their friend and counsellor. Therefore honor your father.

"But honor also and no less your mother, and add to it, perhaps, a more tender note of affection. To a man certainly nothing seems more grand, more lovable than his mother. He will love father as much, but it is not just the same affection. When we think of our mother, then the ever-womanly in us responds with fervor. It can not be different. The sweetest, even the unconscious and forgotten experiences of life are filled with mother's sacred presence. Mother was our first love; she was the holy madonna whom we worshiped; there was no other so beautiful as she in her Sunday dress. When the boy forecasts his future, it is just such a woman as is his mother he wants for wife. Not only because she can bake better pancakes than any other woman, but because her presence altogether satisfies him. And above all as he grows into manhood, that mother becomes to him more and more the symbol of womanly purity. He may think vile thughts at times, but let mother's memory touch him and her pure presence will lift him out the ditch of low desires. Deep going indeed is the influence of motherhood; it is the earliest and most lasting. And so Froebel is right when he says: 'The destiny of nations lies far more in the hands of women—the mothers—than in the possessors of power. We must cultivate women, who are the educators of the race, else the new generation can not accomplish its task.'

Suffrage is Substitute.

"And because woman on the whole still instinctively feels that she as mother, is the keeper of human welfare and happiness, therefore the great mass of them are so indifferent to political life. Woman's soul is so absorbed in the fundamental things of life that she forgets other things also of importance. Those who want the franchise are generally the ones who have no natural share in the molding of human life. I can too well see how women would look for an avenue of influence, how to them their life appears fruitless and cramped, and how in politics they recognize this avenue. They should have this opportunity. But on the other hand, I can well understand why a woman may care more for wash day than for voting day. After all, the world will have them. Much as we may admire the so-called new woman, may realize that she, too, has a place in the world, we know that she does not represent the typical woman the world wants.

"The coming woman will be as she was in the past, the motherly woman, the woman who realizes her power in the home. The type of women who are unmotherly enough to despise motherhood, will eliminate itself and their barren philosophy will die with them. In the place of the unfit and unwilling will come the fit and the willing, those who are ready to bear the burdens of nature and the crown of life. Such her sons and daughters call blessed, and to such we pay our tribute of ceaseless love and gratitude."

FAIR

A light shower, just enough to turn the budding trees and shooting grass to brighter green, was the only occurrence to mar a beautiful spring day yesterday. Today is the kind that makes one think of vacations, babbling brooks, hammocks swung out of doors and all that sort of thing. The weather man promises frost again tonight.

A year ago today was a delightful spring day.

The sun rose this morning at 4:39 and it will set at 7:28, giving fourteen hours and forty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A disturbance of moderate intensity is central this morning all over the lake region. Light to copious rains resulted during Sunday or last night in most districts to the eastward of the Mississippi river. Other depressions are central over Arizona and Oregon, but as yet neither has developed very much precipitation. High pressure areas overlie Alberta and the lower Mississippi valley. The Alberta high pressure has caused somewhat colder weather throughout Western Canada and North Dakota, with freezing temperature in extreme northern North Dakota and Manitoba."

General Forecasts.

Upper Lakes: Moderate northwest winds; fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly cooler in north and west portions.

Chicago, May 9.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight in lowlands; colder in east portion tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Tuesday; colder in east portion tonight; light frost in lowlands of northeast portion.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight.

said, he had ever seen in Stockholm. The roofs of the houses and the shipping in the harbor were crowded, and a mighty shout went up when he appeared.

Later he received in the legation the Swedish members of the interparliamentary union. Senator Bockman, addressing Mr. Roosevelt, referred to his services to the cause of peace and the former president replied very briefly. Prof. Gunnar Anderson presented to him the first copy, just from the press, of the Norwegian Geological Survey, which had been specially bound.

The crown prince spent some time in the colonel's room in the forenoon and had tea with him in the afternoon, at which also the crown princess and other members of the royal family were present.

"Tissue of Absurdities."

A Stockholm paper published a statement that a messenger from President Taft has reached Mr. Roosevelt with a letter in which Mr. Taft says he does not intend to be the candidate for the presidency and invites Mr. Roosevelt to become secretary of state to succeed Mr. Knox. When he was shown this story Mr. Roosevelt said that it was worse than a nightmare, that it was a tissue of absurdities and that of course, no such messenger or message exists.

Kaiser Changes Plans.

Berlin, May 9.—The emperor has now decided to accept Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion regarding changes in the program for his reception in Berlin, and has notified the American ambassador that he will not meet the ex-president at the railway station, as planned, and will not be able to receive him as his guest in the Berlin castle.

The emperor also has explained to Ambassador Hill that he is so overwhelmed by the death of King Edward that he regards it as improper to attend any of the dinners, and therefore excuses himself, with cordial assurances of regrets, from being present at the dinner which the ambassador will give.

Nor will the emperor attend Chancellor von Bethmann - Hollweg's dinner, as he intended, but the chancellor and Herr von Schoen, secretary for foreign affairs, will be present at Ambassador Hill's dinner, although the ambassador must omit invitations to all persons of the court circle, the emperor having ordered four weeks of mourning.

Program in Berlin.

The program of Mr. Roosevelt's visit accordingly has been modified as follows:

Ambassador Hill with the embassy staff will meet the train on Tuesday and will accompany the former president, Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel to the embassy, where they will be guests during their stay in Berlin. Kermit will be the guest of the second secretary of the embassy, Joseph C. Crew. The party will proceed to Potsdam by automobile Tuesday and will lunch with the emperor and empress, returning to the embassy in the afternoon.

Ambassador Hill's dinner will be held Wednesday and Mr. Roosevelt will deliver his lecture on Thursay at the university, the emperor attending. The former president will dine with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg that evening.

The plans for Friday and Saturday have not been changed. These include a luncheon at the embassy, where Mr. Roosevelt will meet many German leaders of science, industry and finance; a reception to representative members of the American colony; a foregathering of big-game hunters and a reception to the diplomatic corps, the government officials and the university authorities.

Approved at London.

Ambassador Hill before deciding to carry out the entertainments at the embassy, requested the British ambassador to inquire as to the wishes of the government at London, and the government replied, expressing the hope that Mr. Hill would in no way disarrange his plans, in which nothing whatever inappropriate to the occasion could be found.

headquarters staff in full dress uniform, stood surrounded by a troop of horse guards in their red tunics and breast plates of polished steel. From the windows of Marlborough house immediately opposite, the duke of Cornwall, the young heir to the throne, the younger prince and Princess Mary watched the ceremony.

No Mourning Worn.

The heralds having concluded their duties, the officers of arms, chief of whom is the duke of Norfolk, the hereditary earl marshal and chief butler of England, took their places on the balcony, forming the great heraldic company. None wore mourning, this having been removed for the occasion.

Sir Alfred Scott Scott-Gatty, garter principal king of arms, with the duke of Norfolk and two officers bearing the staves of office, stepped to the front of the balcony, and in a voice which could be heard across the court and in the streets adjoining, read the proclamation while great throngs stood uncovered in a drizzling rain. The duke and Sir Alfred then called for three cheers for the king, and the people responded with fairly deafening hurrahs, which were silenced only by the reappearance of the heralds, who sounded another fanfare.

God Save the King.

The last note hardly had died away when the band of the Coldstream Guards, which had taken up a position in the square, struck up "God Save the King." The young princes from their point of vantage in the windows of Marlborough house stood with their hands at salute and the officers and troops stood at attention.

As the national anthem was concluded the first gun of the battery in St. James park belched forth a royal salute and the people in the square and streets at the same moment took up the refrain, "God Save the King."

This was probably the most impressive part of the ceremony, the fervent singing of the crowds growing in volume as more and more singers joined in, while at minute intervals the gun half drowned the chorus.

Meanwhile the royal standard had been hoisted over Marlborough house, indicating that the king was in the royal residence, and flags upon the public officers throughout the city were raised to the mastheads.

Flags All Day at Masthead.

The royal standard on Buckingham palace alone remained at half mast. The flags will remain at masthead until sunset this evening, and again will be lowered to half mast tomorrow.

The duke of Norgolk and Sir Alfred Scott Scott-Gatty, the officers of state and others of the distinguished company in friary court, continued in their position until the people, having concluded the singing of the national anthem, turned towards Marlborough house and renewed their cheers for the king, a glimpse of whom was caught as he stood at the window with Queen Mary at his side. A moment later his majesty lowered the blind.

Besides the heraldic officers, the members of the cabinet who had hurriedly returned from their holidays abroad, diplomats, including American Ambassador Reid and the embassy staff, and other notables, including J. P. Morgan, watched the proceedings from the balcony. The officials of the new king's household, Lords Roseberry Crewe and Morley and a few others at the invitation of King George witnessed the ceremony from Marlborough house, a scaffolding having been erected behind the wall which shuts out a view of the grounds from the streets which separates St James palace and the residence which the king occupied while he was the prince of Wales.

Proclaimed in the City.

The popular demonstration at an end, the earl marshal and his attendants proceeded to the ambassador's court, whence they drove to Charing Cross and then to the City of London to read the proclamation to the people at the designated points. The route to the city proper was lined with 7,000 troops, while at the places at which the procession stopped and repeated the ceremony troops and horse guards were stationed. The royal carriages of the duke of Norfolk, Sir Alfred Scott Scott-Gatty and he officers of arms followed by General French with the headquarters staff and a troop of cavalry drove briskly from St. James palace to Charing Cross.

Thousands upon thousands who had waited since early morning, silently watched the stately progress of the heraldic procession. At Charing Cross there was such a crush that the police and troops had great difficulty in keeping a space clear for the heralds.

The royal announcers again blew a fanfare and Sir Alfred once more read the proclamation. Again the people sang the national anthem, their voices being accomplished by the music of military bands.

Along the Strand the procession continued through lines of troops and people to Temple Bar, at the boundary of the city, where the lord mayor, the sheriffs, aldermen and officers of the City of London, all in their robes of office, awaited the coming of the early marshal.

Barred From City Land.

The ceremony here was of long duration and more elaborate, the City of London to this day retaining its ancient privilege of barring the entrance of the king's men to the square mile in which its officers rule. In place of the barred gates of olden times a red silken rope placed across the street halted the procession. Coming to a standstill, the trumpeters sounded three loud blasts, announcing the approach of the officers of arms. The city marshal, riding forward, challenged the approach of the procession with the cry:

"Halt! Who goes there?"

The reply was:

"The officer of arms, who demands entrance to the city to proclaim his royal majesty's accession."

Ceremonies Were Formal.

The lord mayor having been informed of the presence of the royal herald and having given his permission for entrance to the city, Rouge Dragon stepped across the boundary and handed the chief magistrate the privy council's order that the proclamation be made. The throng that crowded the narrow street stood in silence watching the proceedings.

The lord mayor then alighted from his carriage and read the proclamation and declared that "our high and mighty Prince George has now become our only lawful and righteous liege lord George V," following these words with the cry "God save the king:" The words were caught up by the crowd and swelled to a mighty chorus that filled the Strand and Fleet street.

The ceremony was repeated at Chancery lane.

was danger from throat complications.

Alexandra will, in the future, be styled the "Queen Mother," a title not used in England since the days of Henrietta, the consort of Charles I. Her dowager house will be Marlborough house, and she possibly will continue to use Sandringham house, besides residing for a portion of each year at her summer residence at Klaphborg bay which she shares with the dowager empress of Russia.

Will Be Prince of Wales.

Prince Edward, the heir to the throne, will for the present be styled the duke of Cornwall and Rothsay. Later he will be created prince of Wales. He succeeds to the duchy of Cornwall with a clear income of $400,000 yearly, which will accumulate until he becomes of age, giving him an independent fortune of $2,500,000. It was the income from this source which enabled the late king to purchase his Sandringham estate.

The artist, John Sargent, was among the few privileged visitors admitted to the death chamber, which is a moderate sized room, quietly furnished. This room the king had used in recent years. It is now draped with black, but the entrance is quite unchanged. The body of the dead king reclines under an ordinary white coverlet and a few white flowers and violets placed by Queen Aleandra on a low single wooden bed in the middle of the room, which stands where the sunshine falls upon it.

Body in Natural Position.

The king liked the head of his bed near a window, so that he got the outlook over Constitutional Hill. His hands lie in a perfectly natural position, and he still wears his rings. A cigar case lies on the table, just as the king left it, giving a natural look to the apartment, as though the king were only sleeping.

Many reminiscences are being published of the king. Once, on being asked what he would do if he were deposed, he replied:

"Doubtless I could support my family by lecturing in America on the constitution."

An impressive incident Sunday afternoon illustrated Dowager Queen Alexandra's desire to show consideration for British subjects of every class. Gen. Booth sent a message that the Salvation Army wished to show honor to King Edward VII by holding services, and she gave permission. At 4 o'clock a large band wearing jersies and carrying silver instruments and banners with scarfs of crepe, pushed through the crowd to the palace inclosure. The big iron gates were opened and the band formed a circle under the windows.

Salvation Army Service.

First they knelt while the leader prayed, and then they sang "Nearer, My God to Thee," "Abide with Me," and "Angels Every Bright and Fair."

Finally they marched out, singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The blinds were closely drawn, but the attendants say that Queen Alexandra left her apartments, with Princess Victoria and her ladies in waiting, and listened to the singing, from behind them.

GILBERT HIGH TO PRODUCE A PLAY

"The Missing Miss Miller" Will Be Given By Pupils and Teachers.

Gilbert, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The faculty of the high school, assisted by other teachers of School District No. 18, are rehearsing a three-act drama to be put on in the high schol auditorium here in the near future under the direction of the Gilbert Teachers' Dramatic club. The play is a bright, vivacious play of three acts, entitled, "The Missing Miss Miller," by Harold A. Clarke. The time for presentation is about two hours. The cast of characters is as follows: Dr. Rhinestone, Principal A. V. Jones; Scotty Buckskin, Prof. Thompson; Hymen Trouble, Frank A. Bowman; Col. Penuckle, Prof. C. L. Newberry; Peter D. Q. Wurdz, Raymond Nolan; Sheriaw Combs, Principal W. T. Newton; Gwendolyn Dashforth, Genevieve Tracy; Bostonia Joughnz, Miss Nydia Jones; Mrs. Losta Mann, Miss Maud Barr; Cassie Pauline Skidoo, Miss Eugene Kellogg; Tessie Tapp, Elizabeth Lively.

The play represents some ridiculous and laughable complications resulting from the manager of a marriage bureau getting things mixed up for some of his patrons some of whom are well acquainted with each other but who have patronized the bureau and meet under embarrassing circumstances, which makes the play laughable from beginning to end.

The club was organized for social as well as for practical purposes and will donate the proceeds of the entertainment to high school art fund.

FIRES DESTROY CAMPS.

Two Outfits of St. Croix Lumber Company Near Ely Destroyed.

Ely, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forest fires assumed rather alarming proportions about sixteen miles south of here Saturday afternoon, two camps of the St. Croix Lumber company and several settlers' cabins being destroyed.

The flames raged all day and it was with great difficulty that other buildings in that vicinity were saved. The long period of no rain has left the forest dry and the flames rushed through the timber with almost the speed of a tornado, making it almost impossible to make any headway in stopping it. Unless there is rain soon there will be great damage in this part of the county.

GILBERT BEATS VIRGINIA.

High School Nines From Two Towns Play Ball.

Gilbert, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Roosevelt high school of Virginia ball nine was defeated in a fine game of baseball here Saturday afternoon by the Gilbert high school team, by the score of 6 to 4. The game was a clean one and quite free from quibbling. The Gilbert high now feels that it has the better of "Teddy Boys," as this is the second game of the season with that school, the former score of 16 to 17 in favor of the visitors being a 2 to 1 score in favor of the local team until near the close of the game when a bunch of errors resulted in the near tie score. The Gilbert boys are all bona fide students of the high school and feel that they have bright prospects, athletically, for the future as the Gilbert high school is less than a year old and has as large a high school enrollment as the average range town had when ten years old. The boys have games with Eveleth, Chisholm and Hibbing.

MOTHER'S DAY WELL OBSERVED

Notable Services Were Held in Two Harbors on Sunday.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mothers' day was observed in most of the churches in the city, special programs being given. At the First M. E. church, in the morning, Rev. T. S. Oadams spoke on "Mothers," using as an example the relations of Jesus to His mother. In the evening, Rev. Oadams spoke on "Famous Brothers and Sisters," giving examples of the poets and other prominent men, and he showed that the relations of brothers and sisters were not as important as those of mother and children. The choir was composed of the Boys' choral club and a few of the girls, who rendered some excellent pieces.

At the First Presbyterian church, Rev. J. F. McLeod spoke on "Mothers" in the morning and the attitude of the children to their mother. In the evening, Rev. Mr. McLeod spoke on "Character in Making," showing the successive stages in the development of the character. A large choir furnished the music, both morning and evening.

At the Y. M. C. A., J. G. Hamaker, the new secretary, spoke to a large crowd of men; and at the boys' building, D. Y. Blood spoke on "Character" to a goodly number of boys. Miss Laura Stark and Mrs. J. A. Barton sang at the boys' building.

During the day a large number of people wore white carnations, and many more tried to secure them but could not, as the dealers ran short of them within an hour. At noon the automobiles lined up in front of the M. E. church and had their pictures taken. They rendered invaluable aid in bringing the old people from the outskirts of the city to the services.

Wolvins Beat Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the first ball game of the season, the Wolvins defeated the local team by a score of 5 to 4. The game was fast, the winner being in doubt until the last inning of the game. With a little more practice, Two Harbors will be able to play all the leading teams of the range and neighboring towns.

Eveleth High Memorial.

Eveleth, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class recently ordered the memorial they will present to the high school, which this year will be the Parthenon frieze, purchased at a cost of over $125, from a Minneapolis art firm. The memorial will arrive here June 1 and will be installed in the high school auditorium.

New Chisholm M. E. Church.

Chisholm, Minn., May 9.—The Methodists of Chisholm plan to erect a $5,000 church building with modern equipment. There will be a gymnasium and Sunday school room in the basement. Already a large part of the sum necessary for building has been secured through the efforts of the pastor, Rev. C. P. Keast, and others. A business meeting of the trustees will be held next week to take further action relative to the building.

Killed at Supper Table.

Two deaf and dumb sisters named Carrier were killed at their supper table, while their parents were not injured, by a half ton boulder which had traveled almost half a mile. Their parents, beside them, were uninjured.

One victim's head was cut clear off by a flying fragment.

The electric lighting system was damaged, adding to the difficulties of searching for victims.

The company states that the amount of the explosive was under ten tons, but as plate glass windows five miles away were broken by the shock this is considered an under-estimate. Practically every window in Hull was broken, and quite a few at Ottawa.

Windows were blown out of the Canadian parliament buildings, Rideau Hall, the official residence of the governor, which is two miles from the scene of the explosion, lost all its windows and two chimneys came down. Earl Grey and the entire household were so alarmed that they sought safety in the open.

Tried To Get It Removed.

Hull has twice sought orders from the court for the removal of this industry, but the company each time was able to convince the court that its methods provided absolute safety.

The Quebec law requires explosives to be made behind heavy walls instead of the flimsy structure ordinarily employed in such works, and this largely accounts for the loss of life.

The property damage is probably within $100,000.

The parish Church of the Holy Redeemer, half a mile away contained an unusual number of statutes. The head of every one of these was shaken off, while the bodies were left standing.

Huge volumes of heavy black smoke can be seen rolling over the lake in that vicinity, from the city. The flames are not visible, but the seriousness of the fire is apparent to the observer.

Woods Very Dry.

The woods are dry as tinder, affording excellent fuel for the onrushing fire demon. The settlers and land holders are praying for rain, but the prospects are not very encouraging. Yesterday's showers looked hopeful, but they soon cleared up. The only effect of the showers was to lay the dust.

The Iron Range passenger train had difficulty in getting through this morning. The flames were all about the train and the crew and passengers were very doubtful if the train would be able to run the gauntlet in safety. During a lull in the wind they opened the throttle wide and made it without serious damage. The superintendent at the pumping station stated over the telephone this noon that the fire is all about them, being only a few hundred feet away. He said that the wind was very changeable, shifting constantly from one direction to another. Should the pumping station go the city would be in a serious predicament. The supply of pure drinking water would be cut off. Water could be obtained from the old pumping station in the city, however, for fire protection in case of need.

Other Fires.

Forest fires on the range are assuming alarming proportions and the gravest fears are entertained for the safety of settlers in isolated sections.

In the vicinity of the Duluth & Iron Range road, beyond French river, the flames are making unopposed progress. There is practically no standing pine remaining in that section, but much valuable cedar and spruce is being destroyed.

The fires are even worse between Two Harbors and the Vermilion range. Along the Gooseberry river, twelve miles from Two Harbors, the flames have done considerable damage. Fishermen's camps are being wiped out and settlers' buildings are threatened with destruction. Yesterday a camp occupied by a number of sportsmen on the Gooseberry river was completely destroyed, the fishermen losing all their equipment and baggage.

The Duluth officials of the railroads which pass through the range country have no official reports on the spread of the fires, but from other sources it is learned that the situation is alarming. In the vicinity of Embarrass the flames have gained great headway and the residents of the village are fearful for their safety.

leased for several days as he is not yet fully recovered.

They left the pest house without the knowledge of the superintendent, who made his rounds at 10 o'clock Friday morning, the day the two came into town. It is thought that they left shortly after that, making their way on foot. They also managed to get back again without the knowledge of the man in charge of the place, but several of the other patients told him about it. Indignant citizens also notified the health department of the occurrance.

The men are said to have loafed about a saloon and restaurant on Fourth street, among other places. It is alleged that they ate and drank in both of them.

Thus far the health department has not learned of any smallpox resulting from the escapade of Esterly and Beyenka, but the authorities are fearful that some may show up. However, they are hoping that the consequences will not be serious. Particular attention is being paid to the locality in which they are said to have spent most of their time while in the city.

They are also trying to find the hack or automobile which took the two back to the pesthouse in order that it may be fumigated. They suppose that the man who drove them back was innocent of any intention of wrongdoing and that he didn't know they had smallpox. If the owner or the person in charge will notify them of the whereabouts of the vehicle an inspector will be sent out.

And can't digest what you eat,
Drop the usual heavy meats
And gravies, puddings and pies,

Great Reduction Sale of the Superior Store Stock Started With a Rush This Morning

As everybody knows, we have been conducting two stores—one in Superior, as well as the one here. Confident in the future of Duluth, we have given up the Superior store—and while we would have preferred to have sold the entire stock at sales prices in Superior, we were forced by our landlord to vacate by May 1st, or be held liable for a year's lease. This gives us the balance of the Superior store stock on our hands here, and this sale is the result.

To insure a speedy dwindling away of this surplus stock of Suits, Coats, Waists, Underwear, Corsets, Millinery, Dress Goods, Silks, Wash Goods, Gloves, Hosiery, Laces, Ribbons and Jewelry—value has not been taken into consideration whatever.

Every Surplus Dollar's Worth Must be Sold Regardless of Cost

Special Notice!

During this week (out of sympathy with the big sale of the Superior stock), special discounts will be allowed on every purchase made from the regular lines in our own stocks of from 10% to 25%

For instance, if your purchase be a Suit, Coat, Skirt, Waist, Millinery or other goods not specially reduced, you will be entitled to a discount from the regular selling price of at least 10 per cent, and in many cases much more, giving the greatest opportunity to buy Stylish Elegant Merchandise at prices that will appeal to the most casual observer.

F. B. KELLOGG GONE TO JOIN TEDDY

Trip to Europe Made in Response to Request By Roosevelt.

Washington, May 9. — Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, who is now on the water on his way to Europe, is making the trip at the special request of Theodore Roosevelt, and will join the former president possibly in London.

Mr. Kellogg, it is said, received a letter from Col. Roosevelt written from Egypt, just after he emerged from the jungle, asking him to meet him. Col. Roosevelt relies very strongly on the Minnesota man's judgment, and knows of his close relation to the Taft regime, through which relation he desires to get an accurate knowledge of conditions at Washington.

Mr. Kellogg informed friends here before leaving that he expected to remain with Col. Roosevelt a while, and return to America with him on the same ship.

White carnations were worn by thousands.

TAME MOOSE SENT TO CHICAGO

Lakeside Animals Will Be Placed in Lincoln Park Zoo.

The two tame moose which have haunted the vicinity of Lakeside and French river the last year were shipped to Chicago Saturday afternoon by express. They will be placed in the zoo at Lincoln park.

The animals were accompanied by C. B. De Vrey, the zoo superintendent. Frank W. Helmick, owner of the moose, tendered them to the city as a nucleus for a local zoo, but the offer was refused. The members of the park board say that the city could not afford the expense attendant upon the establishment of a zoo. The moose have become tame, being nearly as domesticated as a cow, but much more lively. They are fine specimens and the opportunity to get them was eagerly seized by the Chicago people. They can be recalled by the state at any time. The moose were captured about a year ago by an Indian near Grand Marais. When calves they were brought up on milk.

WARROAD DENIES REPORT.

Northern City Is Not Built Upon a Bog.

Warroad, Minn., May 9.—The reports printed in the daily press about the high water conditions here have been much exaggerated and may have led to the conclusion this place is built on a bog. As a matter of fact the water is not near as high as it was three years ago, and no suffering has been experienced here on account of high water, except where houses have been built so close to the shore on the muskeg the past year when the water was lower, as to put them under water now.

Work on Corporation Tax.

Washington, May 9.—Receipts from the corporation tax will exceed by nearly $1,000,000 Secretary MacVeagh's estimate of $25,000,000 made early in December, according to the latest calculation. When business closed last week, $25,319,715 had been assessed. Half a million more is expected.

FOOTHOLD IN COURTHOUSE

Duluth Telephone Company Succeeds in Installing Pay Station.

Company Wins Lengthy Skirmish With the County Officials.

A six months' skirmish between the county and the Duluth Telephone company came to an end Saturday, when, at the meeting of the county board, the company was given permission to install in the courthouse a pay station. For the present there will be but one telephone, and in what office it will be placed has not been determined.

About six months ago the old telephone was ousted from the courthouse because the officers refused to connect their lines with the Zenith company's switchboard. Both the company and the county commissioners were firm. It is against the rules of the telephone company to connect with any other company's board, and the commissioners wished to have but one board. The county commissioners refused to have any further business with the old telephone company, and ordered the instruments thrown out.

The throwing out of the old telephone has caused much inconvenience. The Zenith company has no lines to the range towns, and, as all the county officers have to do more or less talking to the range, they have had to leave their offices for the purpose of finding an old telephone. This was found to cause much trouble, and there has been much grumbling.

It was necessary to send messengers to the courthouse to call the men to the Duluth telephone when wanted by some one on the range, and it is said that the expense to the county has been much more than it would have been had the telephones been allowed to remain in the building. The elevators have not been running for some weeks, and on numerous occasions the county officials have had to make several trips up and down stairs on one telephone call.

The installation of the old telephone will be welcome news to those in the courthouse who have occasion to use it.

WANTS TO CALL MAN "HUSBAND"

Southern Methodist Seeks to Change Words in Marriage Ceremony.

Asheville, N. C., May 9.—New distinction was lent to the term "husband" by the conference of the Methodist-Episcopal church, South, today, when a resolution was introduced to change the formal pronouncement after the marriage ceremony: "I hereby pronounce you man and wife," to "I hereby pronounce you husband and wife."

The father of the resolution modestly withheld his name, but the unique differentiation of the title of the groom brought out some comment.

It was evidently the idea of the delegate who prepared the resolution to show by the pronouncement "that what has hitherto been a mere man is now clothed with a new dignity and eminence which distinguishes him from his former fellows of a general class," said one speaker who favored the change.

CHAMPION BALLOONIST MAY SAIL FROM FARGO.

Fargo, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. Holland Forbes, the holder of the championship belt for long distance ballooning, having won the Lahm cup, may come to Fargo this summer to get a start for another trial in which he hopes to break all worlds records for the longest time in the air.

Theodore Wetmore, his brother-in-law, has written here to see what arrangements can be made. It is possible Mr. Forbes may be induced to come here and make his start during the state fair week, the last of July. All he asks is a liberal supply of the proper kind of gas. He figures that North Dakota's long distance inland and the easterly breezes in the summer time, will be highly advantageous in breaking records.

BIG PANAMA LIBEL SUIT IS DOCKETED.

Washington, May 9.—The case of the United States vs. the Press Publishing company (New York World), alleging libel of President Theodore Roosevelt, Charles P. Taft and others in connection with the purchase by the government of title to the Panama canal, was docketed in the United States supreme court today. It comes to the higher court on a writ of error issued by Judge Hough of the circuit court of New York, who dismissed the complaint because of lack of jurisdiction. The government asked to have the case advanced for hearing at an early day of the fall meeting of the court.

North Dakota Child Killed.

Madock, N. D., May 9.—The 5-year-old son of Lage Lageson, a farmer living ten miles east of here, while out in the field with his father, in some way fell under the wagon in such a way that one of the wheels passed over him, killing him instantly.

MRS. HYDE IS WITNESS

Wife of Alleged Murderer Nearly Breaks Down on Stand.

Chemists Dispute Defense's Theory of Origin of Poison.

Kansas City, Mo., May 9.—From the lips of Mrs. B. C. Hyde, the jury in her husband's trial on a charge of murder today heard the story of the Swope tragedy.

Unused to the experience of testifying before a crowded court room, Mrs. Hyde was very nervous the first few minutes she was on the stand. The mention of the name of her cousin, Moss Hunton, brought tears to her eyes and she was unable to speak.

The court room became silent. Attorney Walsh ceased to question the witness. It was feared she might collapse, but after sobbing for a few minutes, Mrs. Hyde composed herself and was able to proceed with her testimony. Thereafter she spoke distinctly and followed the line of interrogation without difficulty.

Chief Points in Testimony.

The salient features of her testimony were her declarations as follows:

That Dr. Twyman adjusted the string which stopped the flow of blood from Mr. Hunton's body.

That she did not request her husband to stop the bleeding.

That Col. Thomas Swope never cried out on his death bed that he wished he had never taken the medicine Dr. Hyde gave him.

That the millionaire's symptoms were entirely different from those described by the nurses who testified for the state.

That Miss Keller, the nurse who swore Dr. Hyde asked her to use her influence with Col. Swope to have the physician made an administrator of the millionaire's estate, overheard the witness and Dr. Hyde discussing such a plan.

That the remedies of Jordan, the "yarb" man, were used by Chrisman Swope until a few days before his death.

Says She Ate Candy.

That she ate of the candy which Dr. Hyde gave the Swope children and it did not make her ill.

That she ordered the filtered water taken to the Swope house, and that the family is now using it.

Mention of Jordan's name provoked a storm of objections from the state.

"Didn't your mother once give you some of Jordan's medicines, and they made you very ill?" asked the attorney.

The court would not permit Mrs Hyde to answer the question.

"Chrisman made an attempt on the Friday before his death to get some of Jordan's remedies, didn't he?"

This was also overruled by Judge Latshaw.

Mrs. Hyde's direct examination was not finished at noon. The courtroom was ordered cleared that the jury might exercise.

Dispute Defense's Theory.

The amalgamation of formaldehyde and ammonia in a human body does not form hydrocyanic acid, say scientists who have been experimenting in behalf of the state to determine an important point at issue in the Hyde murder trial.

These scientists, who have been working at the University of Kansas laboratory, made this report to Prosecutor Virgil Conkling today. They will take the witness stand for the prosecution some day this week and testify to the result of their investigations.

It is the contention of the defense that the mingling of the natural ammonia in Col. Swope's body and the formaldehyde which was introduced into it in an embalming fluid formed hydrocyanic acid. This acid, it was further averred, responded to the test which the state's scientists asserted proved the presence of cyanide. Dr. Walter M. Cross and Dr. E. F. Smith swore they had mixed ammonia in the kind of embalming fluid used on the corpse and hydrocyanic acid formed.

The defense opened its testimony today by reading a deposition given by Mrs. John M. Cleary on Saturday.

SWEAR ALLEGIANCE TO KING GEORGE V

Law Makers and Court Officers Take Oaths---Ruler Says Theaters May Open.

London May 9.—The house of lords and the house of commons met today to permit their members to swear allegiance to King George. The attendance was large.

In the law courts the first business of the judges and other officers was to take the oath of allegiance.

The lord chamberlain, by King George's command, today notified the theater managers that in view of the number of people who would be thrown out of employment by the prolonged closing of the theaters, his majesty wished the playhouses to be opened except upon the day of his father's funeral.

GIVES TO STATES POWER ON LAKES

Senate Committee Favors Bill Already Passed By the House.

Washington, May 9.—Congress is very likely to give to the states bordering on Lake Michigan the assistance desired in breaking up gambling on specially chartered boats, which have successfully defied the states to prevent it.

A favorable report was ordered in the senate committee on judiciary on the Mann resolution, which has already passed the house, authorizing Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan to enter into a compact for the prosecution of crimes on the lakes, especially gambling aboard boats to evade the land laws.

Under this compact the officers of the state making arrests on the lake would conduct prosecutions and no other state could raise a question as to jurisdiction.

COURSES IN HIGH SCHOOL

Changes Proposed By Supt. R. E. Denfeld and Principal George Buck.

Board Will Hold a Special Meeting to Discuss the Subject.

The proposed changes in the courses of study at the Central high school are expected to cause considerable discussion before they are finally decided upon. The board of education will hold a special meeting in about two weeks, at which the courses will be fully discussed by board members, Supt. Denfeld, Principal Buck and others interested in the work of the school.

When a course is chosen it will be continued two years unless permission to change is given by the principal, which will usually be done only at the request of the parent.

Students choosing an ancient or modern language must continue it two years to secure credit, except in preparation for the college where only one year is required.

Students expecting to enter the University of Minnesota will elect solid geometry. In the third year and advanced algebra in the fourth; for the mining engineering course, chemistry also.

The course in French is two years. Provision, however, is made for an additional year, when needed for entrance to college.

The courses are so planned that any student deciding at the beginning of the third year what college or university he wishes to enter, can elect the studies required for entrance to that institution.

Those wishing to take three years of French may, with the permission of the principal, elect French in the Latin course the second year in place of a science.

IS KILLED DURING TUSSLE OVER GUN

Foster County Farmer May Have Been Slain By His Insane Son.

Carrington, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Believing that the death of E. D. J. Miller, a prominent farmer of Barlow, this county, was the result of a quarrel, and that his son, Lee Miller, may be guilty of patricide, officials of Foster county will thoroughly sift the case before taking any action against the young man, who is now held in the local jail. The affair occurred at the Miller farm, Lee Miller claiming that it was accidental.

Stories relating to the incident vary. During the day Lee Miller had been to Barlow, where he had a runaway experience. Returning home he was quite excited, and, entering the house, he frightened his mother and sister out of doors by securing possession of a gun. He then started outside again, but by this time his father arrived on the scene, attempting to secure possession of the gun. The shooting occurred during the struggle for the gun, the bullet entering the elder Miller's body and causing his death within twelve hours.

Mrs. Miller believes the young man is insane, and has asked for an examination into his mental condition.

MINER'S WIFE DECAMPS.

Takes Children and Money, and Husband Is Heart Broken.

Calumet, Mich., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The disappearance of a wife and children and a bank roll containing $700 has brought woe to the heart of John Gustovich, a Bulgarian miner employed in the mines of Calumet, and he has endeavored to invoke the aid of the police authorities in at least securing the return of his savings account.

When he told his story to the officers, big tear drops rolled from the orbs of Gustovich and between sobs he informed the authorities of his affliction. He entertains a suspicion that infelicity and an intruder are to blame for his misery, and, while an ember of love still burns within, he prefers the $700 to anything else that may be missing.

ALLEGED HORSE THIEF IS BEHIND THE BARS.

Dickinson, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with the theft of horses, Albert Albrecht, traced to Baker, Mont., and back here, was bound over to the district court under $1,000 bonds, which he was unable to secure. The stealing of two horses in this city a few days ago forms the basis for the complaint lodged against Albrecht.

The horses were located near Baker, Mont., and the description given by the purchasers of the man who sold them fallies exactly with that of Albrecht. It is claimed that the horses were stolen from Misses Currie and Alcott, being taken to Baker and sold to R. Helman and from Joseph Schmidt of Springvale, being sold to H. W. Sparks.

At about the time the horses disappeared, Albrecht also disappeared, but immediately upon his return here he was arrested. Officials have been engaged in making investigations with intent to fasten the guilt to him.

Drops Dead in Hospital.

Menominee, Mich., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Rutter, aged 73 years, and for a number of years an inmate of the Menominee county hospital, dropped dead of heart failure at the institution.

THE STATE AS A LANDLORD.

As The Herald often has said, if the lands held by the state of Minnesota were owned by a foreign landlord who handled them so stupidly and with so little consideration for the interests of the state as the state itself discloses by its present methods, it wouldn't be safe for that landlord to set foot within the borders of the commonwealth, and every citizen of Minnesota would sit up nights to hate him and get up early to curse him.

Judge Stanton, in his speech at the meeting of the Koochiching County Development association last week, expressed the indictment against the state's land policy vigorously.

"Why," he inquired, "are the hardy, courageous settlers who came here five years and more ago for the express purpose of acquiring homes, and who have since experienced the hardships of pioneers—why, I ask, are they now, one by one, locking their cabin doors and going with their families to seek livelihood elsewhere? There must be some good reason for such surprising action. Where is the fault? It is not in the soil, nor in the climate, nor in the citizenship, nor in the failure on the part of the people of the country to do and perform everything within their power to bring prosperity and contentment to the entire population.

"The answer is plain to one at all familiar with the situation: no roads, no schools, no churches, no society. Here lies the fault. They are deprived of these essential adjuncts of development because so much of the land surrounding is owned by the state, and the state refuses to join with the settlers in sharing the burdens of frontier development. In other words, because the state has adopted the policy of holding its lands until the settlers shall construct the roads, drain the wet lands, provide the needs of civilization, and thus make the lands valuable and salable, without cost or effort on the part of the state. The theory of the state seems to be to hold on to all it has and to part with nothing, in the hope and expectation that after a few generations this course will prove the most profitable."

What would the people of Minnesota—not of Northern Minnesota alone but of all Minnesota—think of an individual landlord who adopted this policy? In what execration would they hold the man who, owning the vast holdings of the state, refused to improve his holdings by doing his share in the building of roads and schools, and waited for the settlers to do it for him?

These lands will be settled, in time, even under the stupid and purblind policy of the state. The hunger for land, the need for food for the cities, would in time settle every acre. But the state has it in its power, by adopting a new and enlightened policy, to make its holdings much more valuable and salable and speedily to increase the number of its producing and taxpaying citizens, by investing some of its money in building roads and providing schools, so that it will be possible for the pioneers to establish homes.

It is not charity that Northern Minnesota asks of the state. It merely asks that the state adopt, toward its land business, the same sound business policy that any wise individual would use with a view to selling his land holdings as speedily as possible and at as good prices as possible. Every dollar put into making state lands available for settlement will return itself threefold in the increased value of its holdings.

Judge Stanton's indictment is a true one, and the sooner the state awakens to its own interests in this matter, the better for every citizen of Minnesota.

THE BALLINGER-PINCHOT INVESTIGATION.

Those who look for light from the report of the committee that has been investigating the dispute between Pinchot and Ballinger are too sanguine. There may be much heat in it, but there will be little light.

In point of fact, there will be at least two reports. The majority, headed by Senator Nelson, will report in Ballinger's favor. The minority will report against him. The division will be about as it has been on nearly every vote that has been taken, when all the Republicans except Madison of Kansas have voted to protect Ballinger from awkward inquiries, and all of the Democrats and Congressman Madison have voted to compel him and his department to give all the information likely to illuminate the controversy. The majority has voted to protect Ballinger and the department, so the inquiry lacks much of being fair and complete. The majority that has prevented a full and fair inquiry will report that the inquiry has shown Ballinger to be a faithful public servant. The minority that tried to make the inquiry full and fair will report that he is not a faithful public servant, but that his allegiance is held otherwhere than with the people.

Says the Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis News: "The committee probably could have reported weeks ago with as much intelligence as it will be able to display when it does submit its report. The hearings had not proceeded far until it became apparent that the Democratic members of the committee, and at least one Republican, Madison of Kansas, an insurgent, sympathized with the Pinchot side of the controversy, while the regular Republicans on the committee, constituting a majority, were friendly to the Ballinger outfit. Under the circumstances at least two reports, and possibly three, seem inevitable. The regular Republicans on the committee are expected to join in a statement fully exonerating Secretary Ballinger. The report they will make will not differ materially from the findings of President Taft in the case last September. The indications are that the Democratic members of the committee will criticize the secretary of the interior. There never has been any expectation that they would make a report reflecting in the slightest degree upon Ballinger's integrity. Indeed, the charges have never cast any reflection on his honesty. If the Democratic members carry out their present intention, they will argue in their report that as a result of the environment from which he came, Secretary Ballinger has pursued a policy inimical to the advancement of the cause of conservation."

No charge of criminality lodges against Ballinger. That he is not faithful to the people's interests, that he is unable even to perceive those interests, and that he believes in the old fashion of letting individuals grab what they wish of the people's wealth, has been proved time and time again not only in this inquiry, but by Ballinger's public attitude and utterances during its progress. His speech at St. Paul was a flat announcement of his lack of interest in the policy of real conservation in the interests of the people.

The country is greatly disappointed in the attitude of Senator Nelson of Minnesota, chairman of the committee, whose rulings have been uniformly friendly to Ballinger, and almost invariably, where the inquiry pressed closely to the quick of the controversy, unfriendly to the full and fair investigation that was needed to create public confidence in the committee's report.

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS OF THE MANY.

Something less than 10 per cent of the public school pupils of Duluth are attending the high school. Something less than 1 per cent of the pupils are members of the high school graduating class. Yet in a broad way nothing is completed, no pupil has been provided with a rounded equipment, unless the high school course has been completed; and even that, to a large degree, is merely a preparation for a university course.

In the report in The Herald Saturday evening of last week's meeting of the school board there were two items that give encouragement to those who hope to see the public schools of this country give more heed to the needs of the many who are compelled to quit school before the high school grades are finished. One related to a new commercial course in the high school, which is to be completed in two years, leaving the other two years for amplifying the studies of those who remain to be graduated. This, so far as it goes, is vastly better than a course which take four years to complete, and of which those who leave school in the early grades get but a smattering.

The other item was the criticism by Director Wilson G. Crosby of the arrangement of high school historical studies in chronological order which leaves English history to the junior class and United States history to the senior class, so that those who leave school in the freshman and sophomore years miss both. The point is well taken; and when practically the whole public school course is directed for the benefit of the 1 per cent of pupils who are able to complete the high school courses, there are many other items to which it applies.

ONE DIFFERENCE.

There are many differences between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt, but here is one conspicuous difference that must have struck everybody:

Roosevelt was president of the United States.

Taft is president of the Republican party.

Naturally, there is discontent with the change growing out of this difference. The people, you see, had grown to like having a president of the United States during seven years of Roosevelt. Now that they find they have only a president of the Republican party, naturally they are disappointed.

Puck expresses it vividly in the following paragraph:

> The oath that a president does not take: I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the Republican (or Democratic) organization, and will to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the Solidarity of my Party.

Then, too, the people don't like the board of directors of the Republican party that controls Taft by his own choice—Aldrich, Cannon, Payne, Lodge, Hale, Crane, Elkins, Smoot, Burrows and Kean.

BALLINGER'S "SNAKE-KILLING."

Secretary Ballinger, in the course of his examination Saturday in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation, announced blatantly that if he remains in charge of the interior department he proposes to continue his snake-killing until the last snake is dead.

Ballinger has a queer idea of snakes. What he means by snake-killing is driving out of the service of the people every servant who holds his duty to the public higher than his duty to the administration, to the Republican party, and to the powers of greed whose itching palms are stretched out to grasp the remaining wealth of the people. The snakes he has killed so far are Pinchot, Glavis, Price and Shaw—faithful public servants every one; too faithful to cringe at the beck of insolent greed, too faithful to remain silent when the predatory cows of Special Privilege were in the corn of the people's heritage.

It's a good thing Ballinger wasn't born St. Patrick. He would have chased all the good people out of Ireland, and left that fair isle to the exclusive possession of snakes.

DULUTH'S SPRING MUSIC FESTIVAL.

The program for the spring music festival of music, announced in The Herald Saturday evening, is enticing, and if the concerts to be held June 3 and 4 are not successful, it will be no fault of the music that will be provided.

Previous experiments with good music in Duluth have tended to create a spirit of pessimism. It is difficult indeed, on the financial side, to induce a comfortable balancing of receipts and expenditures. The financial loss involved, which usually is made up by a few public-spirited lovers of music, wouldn't be so depressing if it did not indicate that there are not nearly so many lovers of good music as there are people who profess to love it.

Still, a steady and comforting gain is noted. A great many people who don't do much professing are apt to find, if they are inveigled into attending good musical performances, that they like good music better than they had imagined.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

REPLIES TO THE BOYS' MINISTER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Last evening a gentleman from Stillwater quotes in a letter the letter of the "Boys' Minister Snyder" recently published in the Minneapolis Tribune.

Recently I had the pleasure to be in Minneapolis when Seaborn Wright of Atlanta, Ga., delivered an address on county option. He said in part: "This boys' preacher, Snyder, accuses the people of the South of hypocrisy. Maybe they are from his standpoint. He teaches that the way to make a boy good, strong and pure is to bring him into the saloon, let him associate with drunkards and the foul element within its doors and then he will become good, strong and pure. The way to make a girl strong and virtuous is to lead her into the wine rooms, to the dens and haunts of shame, subject her to temptation and she will become strong, pure and virtuous."

Think of it, level-headed fathers and mothers, of such a philosophy.

Would you want your sons and daughters to be under the guardianship of Snyder?

But the old-fashioned clergy of the South still hears the voice of the Master over 1,900 years ago: "Lead us not into temptation." Do you wonder why the churches of the South are closed to Snyder?

Think of the brewery agent, the whisky salesman or bartender as the apostle of liberty. They tell the men who drink to keep their liberty. Why, for years and years the liquor interests corrupted more aldermen, members of the legislature, members of congress and even governors than all other sources combined. They have taken away our liberty and don't want to give us a chance to vote on it.

ANOTHER BRICKBAT FOR THE BOYS' MINISTER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In an article in Thursday's Herald, entitled, "Prohibition, and the Youth of the South," which will apply as well to the youth of the North, A. T. L. quotes from a letter of the "Boys' Minister," denouncing Prohibition, and arguing that because he had seen drunkenness where prohibitory laws were in existence, that prohibition does not prohibit, but causes drunkenness and demoralization, fosters hypocrisy and invites evasion and deceit in the people.

He says, "And I do not approve a legislative guardianship which makes weaklings of her men, instead of having them unhampered and unfettered by onerous and sumptuary laws interfering with their personal rights and privileges."

I was almost led to think that the article was a prohibition satire on license and free liquor, but the same argument will apply as well to every criminal law on the statute books, and "A. T. L." could as justly argue that because murders, robberies, and other crimes are committed in violation of the laws that prohibit them, that the laws were wrong, and led to the commission of the very crimes prohibited.

Then like a fair minded man that looks at both sides of the question he goes on the other sides of the fence, and advocates license, for he writes, "I have seen many boys between the ages of fourteen and twenty under the influence of intoxicating liquor during my recent investigations of Southern Prohibition states."

These things are unheard of in states and communities where liquor is sold under restriction and supervision of law.

People take licenses in all professions where the welfare of the people depends on the skill and fitness of the licensed to perform their duties, and pay a moderate fee, provided that they prove their fitness in their examinations. But the saloon keeper stands on a higher plane than the professional man, and requires no examination, either of morals, intellect or acquirements, but to salve the public conscience, and fill the public coffers, he is required to pay a liberal fee.

If license is such an inestimable benefit that selling intoxicants is an innocent occupation, with a license, but a crime without it, his premises clearly and logically lead to the conclusion that the privilege of license should be extended to cover many other acts that are now considered to be crimes, thus fostering morality, preventing vice, and filling town and municipal coffers with license fees.

The Day of the Poor.

Edwin L Sabin in May Lippincott's: Disciples of unrest would have the world believe that this is the day of the rich; whereas, on the contrary, never in the history of the United States have the pood and those persons of restricted means been enabled to procure so much for so little.

The rich may speed in their automobiles, but for five cents the poor may ride royally from one side of a city like Chicago to the other, or be carried miles into the country. What an improvement over the days of our forefathers, when it was either own your private conveyance, or else journey by foot or in the expensive stage.

The rich may seclude themselves in spacious villas and country places, but the country-place of the poor is provided, absolutely free of expense to them, in extensive parks where grass, trees, fountains and music, flowers and statuary, are theirs to enjoy as if created by their pocketbooks.

For two cents a letter may be sent a distance which once would have demanded twenty-five cents. To the address of the poor as to the hall of the rich the carrier delivers the mail, and for the farmer whose labor will not permit him to go to town there is the rural service.

For five cents the poor man may talk over the telephone as far as the rich man; and into the cottage as into the mansion has been extended the electric light, at a reasonable rate.

Grand opera comes high, to be sure; but what does that matter when many, many amusement gardens, as well as the public parks, charge no admittance fee to their concerts?

The rich may have their private libraries; but much larger libraries, of literature as choice and choicer, are open in cities and even in villages to the knock of the common people.

It is not the day of the rich; it is the day of the poor, wherein especial attention is being paid to the person not with much, but with little, to spend.

The Sunrise Never Fails.

Upon the sadness of the sea
The sunset broods regretfully;
From the far, lonely spaces, slow
Withdraws the wistful afterglow.

So out of life the splendor dies;
So darken all the happy skies;
So gathers twilight, cold and stern;
But overhead the planets burn.

And up the East another day
Shall chase the bitter dark away;
What though your eyes with tears be wet?
The sunrise never failed us yet.

The blush of dawn may yet restore
Our light and hope and joy once more.
Sad soul take comfort, nor forget
That sunrise never failed us yet!

—Celia Thaxter.

The Dissolute Comet.

Newark Star: Considering the fact that Mr. Halley's comet has come from such a distance and is to be with us so short a time, the least we can do is to mention it every day or so. We have nothing in particular to say today, excepting that the comet would have a much larger following, including ourselves, if it kept better hours.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Illustrated Bits: George—Do you think that I'm good enough for you, darling?

Darling—No, George, but you're too good for any other girl.

"Tell me, sir, the secret of your success," the rich man was asked.

"I always looked after things before they got by me," was the somewhat paradoxical answer.

Washington Star: "So you think worry kills more people than work?"

"I'm sure of it," replied the sarcastic scientist.

"Why?"

"Because so many people find it easier than work and devote their time to it."

Woman's Home Companion: Little Doris could not count beyond four. One day, when she was showing me five berries that she had picked, I asked: "How many have you, Doris?" Her brows puckered a moment, then, dimpling with smiles, she answered: "Wait till I eat one, then I'll tell you."

Punch: Irish groom (to sportsman who has been mounted by his master)—You'll have to shtick to that mare, yer honor, or she might be lavin' ye.

Wifey (at the hotel office)—The clerk says they don't take pets, Algy, so I suppose Fido and you will have to put up in the basement."

Chicago News: Seldom Fedd (musingly)—Lemme see; what's dat old sayin' about half a loaf? "Half a loaf is better"—better dan what?

Soiled Spooner—Better dan a steady job, of course.

"Life size?" inquired the artist.

"Catalogue size," replied the seedman, with a significant smile.

Life: First Lady—Are you a suffragette, too?

Second Lady—O, dear no! I'm happily married.

Life: "Your honor, I don't see how I can pay so much alimony as that."

Judge—Why in the world didn't you think of that before you married.

Philadelphia Ledger: "Another man has shot his wife as a burglar. Strange?"

"Yes, and it's even stranger that if she had been a burglar he would have missed."

That Old Red Barn.

I've wandered to the homestead, Jim;
I've seen the old red barn.
Where you and I, in boyhood dim,
Once played with "Gee!" and "Darn!"

The loft, them times, was sweet with hay,
The sunbeams slanted through,
And from their stalls the white and bay
Would nicker, "How de do!"

There ain't no Prince nor Whitey, lad;
There ain't no bloomin' stalls;
There ain't no harness, good and bad,
A-hangin' on the walls.

There ain't no hay up in the mow;
There ain't no musty scent.
They keep their gasoline there now—
I'm sorry, Jim, I went.

There ain't no place to romp and hide;
It ain't a barn no more.
It's a ga-rage, all slicked inside,
With reg'lar ce-ment floor!

Them cobwebs soft that used to swing,
Them specks that used to float—
They're gone. There's not an old-time thing,
Not e'en a single oat!

Where Jed, the hired man, clumped round
With fork or broom or comb,
An lily, tinkr'in chap I found
Had made hisself to home.

He looked so strange, where Jed had been!
A leather suit he wore,
And curried off the blame machine
A-layin' on that floor!

It's changed, old pard. They've cleaned it up
Of cobwebs, hoss and hay.
It ain't a spot where boy nor pup
Nor yet a mouse can play!

I wonder how those kids who live
Where's such a bleak consarn
Can get along; and what they'd give
To have an old red barn.

German Cities as Landlords.

Frederic C. Howe in May Scribner's: German cities recognize the controlling influence of the land on the life of the community. And they have become great landlords. Frankfort, with a population of less than 400,000, owns 12,800 acres of land within its boundaries, and 23,800 acres without. Within the past ten years the city has expended $50,000,000 in the purchase of land alone. The land which it owns is almost exactly equal to the area occupied by the cities of Pittsburg or Baltimore each of which has a considerably greater population. Cologne owns fifteen and a half square miles, exclusive of many open spaces. The town of Breslau, with a population about the size of Cleveland, Ohio, owns twenty square miles of land, or 12,800 acres. But Berlin is the largest landlord of them all. That city owns 39,000 acres, mostly outside of the city, while Munich owns 13,600 acres and Strasburg 12,000 acres. German cities also possess great forests. They are constantly adding to their possessions. There are in fact, 1,500 smaller towns and villages in Germany which derive so much revenue from the lands which they own that they are free from all local taxes. Five hundred of these communities are not only free from all local taxes, but are able to declare a dividend of from $25 to $100 a year to each citizen as his share of the surplus earnings of the common lands.

The motive of all this beauty, harmony, business enterprise and foresight is so obvious to the German that he cannot comprehend why it should be questioned. "Why does a merchant erect a fine storeroom or build himself a mansion?" he asks. The German city thinks as an individual thinks about his business and his home. A finished city attracts people. It brings manufacturers and business. People choose a beautiful city as a place of residence. Visitors make pilgrimages to it. Well educated children make better citizens, better artisans. The street railways, gas works, docks and other enterprises pay their way. They even make money. But more than this, they are a necessary part of the city, and of course they should be owned by it.

A Strange Thing.

Did you ever think what a strange thing it is that men cannot find employment? Adam had no difficulty in finding employment, neither had Robinson Crusoe; the finding of employment was the last thing that troubled them. If men cannot find an employer, why cannot they employ themselves? Simply because they are shut out from the element on which human labor can alone be exerted. Men are compelled to compete with each other for the wages of an employer, because they have been robbed of the natural opportunities of employing themselves; because they cannot find a piece of God's world on which to work without paying some other human for the privilege.

New View of Americans Abroad.

Washington Star: Theodore Roosevelt has impressed Europe with the fact that the function of an American tourist is not necessarily limited to scattering small change.

Down in the Jungle.

Fact is, in July,
When the mercury's nigh,
I often make just my old skin do!"

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Joke on Nelson and Clapp.

Albert Lea Standard: Senator Nelson wickedly let daylight through the Taft-Wickersham-sham railroad bill and Clapp followed with a rebellious roast that was almost anarchistic with burning bitterness, and quite admirably Bryanesque. It is mighty good public service, we can all agree, but the joke of it is, Senators Nelson and Clapp both seem to think they are yet Republicans.

Thinks Roosevelt Approves Taft.

Winona Independent: President Taft denies that he has any letter of endorsement from Roosevelt; but he is liable to get one just the same. Teddy does a lot of shouting, but when it comes to a showdown he will be found sticking to party solidarity.

Another Pessimist On Roosevelt.

St. Cloud Times: When Teddy gets home? Yes, when Teddy gets home he will be a standpatter. Selfhedon't. He was a free trader in private life—a standpatter as president. Like his colossal successor, he is for "party solidarity" first—country next. Wait, watch and make your bets.

The Decennial Wail.

Hibbing Tribune: Now that the decennial census is completed—in the cities—we make expect the decennial wail that "we did not get a fair and complete count." If any town has not got a complete count, whose fault is it? Not the fault of the newspapers, that is certain; for the papers have published, free of cost to any one but themselves, for months, columns and columns of information concerning the census, and during the taking of the census they have been instant at all times in urging people to be counted in publishing blanks to be filled out by those who may not have been called on, and generally in giving out the widest possible publicity to the taking of the census to the end that every person may be counted. The town that really has a wail coming about its census will have it coming because it has not, itself, done its duty in the matter.

Good Advice.

Walker Pilot: "Fletcherize your opportunities," says the Cass Lake Times, which, by the way, is a piece of advice worth chewing on.

Call Will Not Be Loud.

Sauk Center Herald: Taft says he is willing to stand for the presidency again if the people call him. Chances are he'll have to use the biggest ear trumpet made or the latest electrical appliance for the faintest echo to reach his ears.

Insurgency Is Optimism.

Sauk Rapids Sentinel-Free Press: Differing slightly from an esteemed brother of the craft we venture a definition of "insurgent" as an optimist of the purest metal.

The Next Congress.

Buffalo Journal: Reports now state that the regular Republican congressmen would like to see the next house Democratic for spite against the progressives. We fail to see where the spite would come in, but all important legislation would be held up for a time. Congress is supposed to legislate for the benefit of the whole country, and not spend the time playing politics by embarrassing the majority party. The progressives have embarrassed their party, but it was to get results for the country they did so. From the recent election results the votes appear to be endorsing the progressives.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: You can't travel far on a lame excuse.

It takes an oculist to make some people open their eyes.

Farmers and washladies get their living from the soils.

The man who plants a ladder never knows what will come up.

A mustard plaster can always be depended upon to do something smart.

Some men get as much enjoyment out of a toothpick as others do out of a cigar.

Some people think they are good because they are not as bad as they might be.

It costs more to live now than it did a hundred years ago, but they had no baseball then.

Pity is akin to love, and if a young man has an obese bank balance it isn't difficult to find a girl to pity him.

There's no reason why a woman shouldn't take boarders if she wants to, but she shouldn't try to board a moving train.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Nobody can appreciate how much he wants a thing till he can't get it.

A man wants to buy his ticket for heaven with lots of stop-over privileges.

What seems particularly to please a crowd anywhere is what a lot of idiots it can be.

When anybody is beholden to one person he is just as likely as not to show it to another.

Ideals must spring from reason; they may be championed with the sword; they can be enshrined only in the heart.

Socialist Reforms.

New York Times: Those who are looking for the hoofs and horns of the new Socialist mayor of Milwaukee do not find them in evidence in his official acts thus far. His first order was surely a singular one—he directed that the city employes should work eight instead of six hours. Another order was that there should be gathered accurate and adequate knowledge of social, industrial and economic conditions, leading to specific and practical plans for social betterment." There can hardly be two minds about such ideas, unless it be whether they are Socialism. If Mayor Seidel will insist upon Milwaukee geting a dollar's worth of labor for a dollar, and will not press his reforms upon impracticable lines, adopted before he knows wher the reforms will lead, it will make little difference to Milwaukeeans whether or not he calls himself a Socialist. The name will not hurt if his acts are safe and sane.

No Use Wasting Oil.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Diogenes started anxiously at his lantern. The wick feebly sputtered and when he shook the vessel it gave forth no gurgling sound. The oil reservoir was empty—and the lantern was out.

"What place is this?" he anxiously asked a grimy native.

"This is Pittsburg."

The searcher for honest men looked relieved.

"There's no use lighting up here," he said. "I'll wait until I get outside."

TOO DECENT.

Kansas City Star: If Henry M. Hoyt, ex-attorney general for Porto Rico, formerly assistant United States attorney for Washington, has been willing to join President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham in testifying that Glavis was a victim of megalomania, he would be in the government service today. Instead, he said what he really believed, that Galvis was a patriotic public servant, who was trying to save the administration from what seemd likely to prove a national scandal. So he sacrificed his place.

In his testimony, Hoyt told how Glavis had come to him in Washington a year ago in great distress over a decision by the assistant secretary of the interior department, which would admit the Cunninghan claims to patent. Ballinger had refused to pass on the claims, on the ground that he had been employed as counsel by the Cunningham people. Glavis had then obtained his permission to take them before the attorney general. But a zealous assistant secretary had made the decision himself. It was at this point that Glavis appealed to his old friend, Hoyt, who has made a record in prosecuting land thieves in the Northwest. Here is the offending testimony that presumably cost Hoyt his position:

"I told the attorney general it was an important matter I wished to see him about, and I remember being very much disturbed about the matter myself, and very much agitated, because I realized I was in a delicate position myself; that in a way it was none of my business. I showed him the statute; I showed him the decision of Assistant Secretary Pierce, and I told him as briefly as I could the main facts. I stated:

"I have known this young man Glavis most intimately and have worked with him and I know what kind of a man he is. I will be entirely accountable to you for Mr. Glavis being an entirely honest, honorable and upright young man. I know him beyond any possible of doubt. • • • We both feel that the administration cannot afford to have the administration of these lands rest upon the decision of Assistant Secretary Pierce, right or wrong, because in the first place they are of such immense value; in the second place Mr. Secretary Ballinger was employed as the attorney in some of these claims; and in the third place Mr. Ballinger had decided to have the matter submitted to the attorney general and then for some reason the program was changed, and that presents a group of circumstances, which, in my judgment, will cause a very great scandal to this administration if the matter is now administered without the decision of the attorney general of the United States. I remember making this specific remark to him, that certain steps had already been taken which would be very difficult to retrace without a scandal; that if this next step of clear-listing the lands for patent is taken it will be, in my judgment, impossible to escape a scandal."

If Hoyt had wanted to play safe with his superiors he might have omitted his indorsement of Glavis. That was not necessarily involved in his testimony. But he was too decent to do it. So he was too decent to stay in service under an administration dominated by a Ballinger and a Wickersham.

Bill Never Complains.

"There's folks," says Bill, "who worry an' fret
About what they miss, or else what they get.
Now, I have luck that's simply a fright;
I lose, an' lose, from mornin' to night.
There's nothin' I do that isn't in vain—
But still,"
Says Bill,
"I never complain."

"There's folks that tell how awful they feel
With aches an' pains from forrud to heel.
Now, I hev suffered th' hull o' my life
With pains that nipped an' cut like a knife.
Yuo wouldn't believe how much I'm in pain,
But still,"
Says Bill,
"I never complain."

"There's folks that sighs of friends that ain't square,
An' think that you their sorrers must bear.
Now, I know folks you wouldn't believe
Would do the way they do to deceive,
I've favored the ones that give me disdain,
But still,"
Says Bill,
"I never complain."

"There's folks that growl when the weather is bad,
An' moan an' groan an' never feel glad,
Now, I just wish the sun would come out
So's I could walk an' ramble about.
But still,"
These missable days will drive me insane,
But still,"
Says Bill,
"I never complain."

"There's folks that grow when the weather is hot,
An' say that they'll melt an' they'll boil an' they'll rot.
Now, I know folks you wouldn't believe
Would do the way they do to deceive,
I've favored the ones that give me disdain,
But still,"
Says Bill,
"I never complain."

The Poet and the Name.

New York Times: "According to a writer in The Academy, Shakespeare's query, "What's in a name?" touches a very vital spot in the matter of literary reputation: "It is a theory which may seem ridiculous at first blush," we are told, "but which somehow seems surely a singular one—he directed that to work out very wonderfully—namely and to well, that persons with unfortunate names have never succeeded in poetry. You have Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Johnson, Dryden, Keats, Shelley, Arnold, Tennyson, and so forth. But where is the poet Baggs or Snooks or MacTavish or O'Rourke or MacLafferty? The fact is a curious one, but there it is."

MANY VIOLATIONS OF GAME LAWS

Game Warden Mattson Returns From Trip to Sturgeon Lake.

John Mattson of West Duluth, a state game warden, returned this morning from the vicinity of Sturgeon Lake, Pine county, where he has been active in the prosecution of violators of the state game laws

On Friday last he caused the arrest of S J. Boyce and Theodore Anderson for fishing with gill nets in Sturgeon lake. The men were arraigned before E. A. Upgren, a local justice, who fined each $35 and costs.

Mr. Mattson says that he found evidences of many violations in that vicinity and says that he has posted warnings there and at Moose lake. During May and June it is illegal to use lights to spear suckers, pickerel, bullheads and other fish. This is done for the protection of the bass.

Many fishermen, however, seem to disregard this and according to Mr. Mattson arrests will follow if any are caught within the next two months.

KILLED BY FALL DOWN STAIRS

Axel Anderson Meets Death After Carousal at Midway.

Following a drunken spree, Axel Anderson, 35 years old, relatives unknown, was instantly killed in a fall down a flight of stairs at the home of S. M Samuelson, a Midway farmer, last evening about 7 o'clock.

Dr. C. R. Keyes of West Duluth this morning performed an autopsy over the remains for Coroner McCuen. He found that Anderson had come to his death by a broken neck, the fourth vertebra having been snapped off. No inquest will be held.

Anderson, Samuelson and Johnson had been drinking during the afternoon. About 5 o'clock, Johnson and Samuelson repaired to their rooms to sleep off the effects and Anderson went upstairs

Johnson was awakened when he heard Anderson fall down the stairs. The coroner was notified and he ordered W. H Richter, a Central avenue undertaker, to take charge of the body. Anderson has no relatives in this country and it is probable that his body will be buried at the expense of the county.

WEST DULUTH OFFICER KILLS DOG AFTER SIX SHOTS ARE DISCHARGED.

A dog, owned by Carl Romanno, Central avenue and Main street, was shot once with a shot gun and six times with a revolver by Officer Brouliette of the West Duluth police department, before it was killed this morning.

Wounded by a discharge from the shot gun, the dog run to the corner of Central avenue and Bristol street, where Officer Brouliette emptied his gun into its body. None of the shots took effect.

The officer went to the nearest hardware store and reloaded his weapon. One more shell put the canine out of misery.

The incident occurred in the street in the presence of women and children.

REV. COLE PREACHES ON "MOTHERHOOD."

Rev. D. G. Cole, pastor of the People's Union church, delivered a sermon on "Motherhood" to the congregation at Harmony hall, 5615 Grand avenue West, last night. He used the words "Behold thy mother" as the basis of his remarks and said, in effect:

"This day has been wisely spent if it reminds us of the sacredness of motherhood. Our Lord's fine character was seen in his solicitude for his grief-stricken mother.

"This gave the finishing touch to a superbly beautiful and strong soul that could suffer in the darkness and yet exhibit the highest form of unselfishness. A very wealthy woman in New York gave up her fortune and became a sister in a hospital. All she received as an allowance was $5 a year for shoes and clothing. While she might have all sorts of luxuries she preferred rather to give her life to afflicted humanity.

"This was a beautiful and noble use to make of her life. And yet motherhood is more sacred still. A refuge from the world in the air of culture of a convent, surrounded by music and art, looks inviting to many, but the ever recurring cares of motherhood call for a devotion such as only a woman who loves can give with anything like an appreciation of its sacredness. Let us honor our mothers. If living, let us give them respect due their position as the noblest beings in all the world. If dead, let us recall their words of counsel and endeavor to attain their highest hopes in us, when as helpless infants they cared for us with a mother's love."

WHO IS POUNDMASTER?

Capt. J. W. Mann Claims Office By Virtue of State Law.

When the council meets this evening, it is probable that the question of the appointment of a poundmaster for West Duluth will be one of the matters to come up for consideration.

At the last meeting, Hans P. Johnson, a West Duluth man, was named for the office. This met with the disapproval of Capt. J. W. Mann, the former incumbent of the office.

Capt. Mann is a civil war veteran and claims that he has a right to the office by virtue of a state law which provides that war veterans cannot be removed from office except for incompetency.

Capt. Mann claims that he did not receive the appointment because of political reasons. The city attorney has been asked for his opinion on the matter.

COPPER MARKET SHOWS STRENGTH

Values Decline But Rally Sharply to Point Over Opening.

The copper market was strong today, although erratic. The opening was fairly firm and values slumped to rally later to a level higher than the opening. Values declined slightly and then became firm, becoming strong toward the close. The buying in Steel was of a good character and this caused a favorable impression that was communicated to the copper market.

On the other hand the report of the Copper Producers' association showed an increase in stocks of 18,159,285 pounds compared with stocks April 1. Stocks on hand May 1 were 141,984,-159 pounds and on April 1, 123,824,874 pounds. Production in April was 117,-477,639 pounds, a decrease of 2,589,828 pounds compared with March. This is a favorable item. Deliveries in April were 99,318,354 pounds, a decrease of 4,112,231 pounds copared with March. Of the total deliveries, 67,975,951 pounds were for domestic consumption and 31,332,403 pounds for export.

Domestic consumers are buying sparingly and close observers believe that heavy purchases can be stimulated only by reductions in the price of the metal. There is little tendency toward betterment except in the reduction of production. This reduction, however, seems to be at mines which cannot pay dividends on a 14@15c market. Exports are abnormally low.

Trading on the local exchange was active. Shattuck was the feature, 1,320 shares being traded in at from $25.87½ to $26.62½. The annual meeting will be held here tomorrow and a dividend is confidently expected, will be declared. Estimates range from 50 cents to $1. The dividend will be the first. Butte-Alex Scott, part paid, sold at $3 and the full paid at $6. Butte-Ballaklava sold at $10.12½ and $10.50, Copper Queen at 32 and 30c, Giroux at $7.25, Live Oak at $19, Red Warrior at $1.81¼ and $1.87½, Butte & Superior at $2, $2.06¾ and $1.93¾, Live Oak at 80c, 75c and 78c, Cliff at Carman at $1.50, Keating at $1.31¼ and $1.37½, National at 35c, San Antonio at $7.25, Tuolumne at $3.50 and North American at $3.12½.

Amalgamated sold at $67.25 to $66.75, $67.50, $66, $67½, $68 and off to $67.87½ at the close. North Butte sold at $32 to $31, to $32.25 and at $32 at the close. Steel common sold at $82.87½ to $81.75 to $82.87½ and at $82.75 at the close; Butte Coalition at $19 and up to $20. Giroux at $7.25, Greene at $8.37½ to $8.50, Superior & Pittsburg at $12, $11.87½ and back to $12 and Ojibway at $6.87½ to $7.

Walker's copper letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial said:

"Copper is dull and prices are sagging slightly. Lake is 12⅞ cents and electrolytic is 12¾ to 12⅞ cents per pound. The report of the Copper Producers' association for the month of April, which will probably appear as usual next Tuesday, the 10th, is expected to show a considerable increase in the surplus. Exports last month, 13,062 tons, were smaller than those of any preceding month since May, 1907. The total exports of the first four months this year, however, were 84,862 tons, compared with 82,233 tons in the corresponding period last year. Foreign advices state that German and British copper consumption are increasing, but indications are that in France there will be a slight decrease during the coming few months. The general business reaction, which appears to be under way in this country, probably means a slight decline in the American consumption also.

"Unless something happens soon to stimulate consumption the price of copper will probably be marked down to 12 cents. The history of the trade shows conclusively that whenever copper has been available at 12 cents or lower the consumption has enormously increased, both in this country and abroad. In only eight years out of the past thirty has the price of copper failed to average over 12 cents per pound, and the low prices occurred following the collapse of the Secretan syndicate in 1885 and 1886, and during the business panic extending from 1892 to 1897. The Amalgamated corner collapsed in 1901 with approximately as large a surplus of copper as there is at present, yet the average price in 1902 was about 12⅛ cents and 13¾ cents in 1903."

COPPER QUEEN CO. WILL BE BENEFITED BY THIS RAILROAD.

The track of the G. & P. railway is now in Salmon City, Idaho. On Tuesday afternoon the city limits were reached and crossed. The people of Salmon turned out almost to a man, woman and child, informally, to welcome the construction crew and the advent of the first locomotive within the corporate limits. The Salmon band went also with music to give the necessary air of rejoicing to the occasion, and a few thoughtful citizens hastily prepared and took along a barrel of lemonade and several boxes of cigars to solace the trackLayers and train crews. This witnesses the completion of one link in what is destined to be the most important transcontinental railway line on the continent.

The advent of the railroad in Salmon City is of much interest to the stockholders of the Copper Queen company of Idaho. The road is now within six miles of the company's property, and when the road is built through to Lewiston it will go very close to the mine.

FOREST FIRE AT LAKEWOOD SAID TO BE UNDER CONTROL

Trafic between the city and Lakewood has been stopped by the forest fire that has imperiled the city pumping station at that suburb today, a bridge having been destroyed.

Late this afternoon it was reported from Lakewood that the forest fire danger there had passed, so far as it threatened to destroy the depot and postoffice buildings. The Lakeside fire department got out the hose and gave the buildings at the pumping station a good drenching, and the fire does not now threaten them seriously.

In the stretch of ground now being burned over there was a big fire two years ago. The green trees that were killed but not destroyed at that time have now become ideal fuel for a forest fire and the flames made rapid headway.

At the head of Fortieth avenue, in the vicinity of the golf grounds, the fire is burning freely, but there is no danger of serious damage being done in that fire zone.

Along the south shore numerous lines of smoke indicate where flames have attacked the brush.

From the upper stories of the Alworth building the scene made by the fire was impressive. Tall walls of smoke ascended over the shoulder of the hill and moved slowly out over the lake. No flame was visible, and the color of the smoke varied during the day. There was much black smoke, but most of the time it was light in hue.

The many uses of Gold Dust

If you were to use for each kind of washing, cleaning, scouring and scrubbing, one of the so-called special preparations which are made, you would have an imposing and expensive array of chemicals, washing compounds, cleaning pastes, etc.

There is one cleaner that can take the place of them all, and without the need of borax, ammonia, kerosene or naphtha, and that is Gold Dust.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BANKS AFTER THE YEGGMEN

Plan to Put Stop to Burglaries in States in This Section.

From Lake Michigan to Montana Line War Declared Upon Bandits.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—All the vast country that extends from Lake Michigan to the Montana line and from the Canadian boundary to the southern line of Iowa, will soon be marked in crimson on the mental map of every bank robber and safe blower in the country, for the word has gone forth that the burglar must be eliminated, and newly strengthened agencies for his utter annihilation will soon be at work.

The richest, and in former years the safest long stretch of country picking, is to be made the rockiest and most dangerous. For years the bank robber has descended upon this territory in the spring and fall seasons and with occasional between-season operations, and many a safe has he dynamited and great the loot he has made away with. But the time for his extermination has arrived, and it is believed by prominent bankers who planned a campaign against him in Minneapolis, Saturday, that his days of successful operation in the Northwest are numbered.

Trouble for Yegg-Men.

To put the robber out of business, the Inter-State Protective association, in session here authorized the employment of additional special agents, the taking into association of more "cover" men, and the beginning of a war of extermination. Persistently and relentlessly the fight against the bank dynamiter will be carried on. No part of the country will be safe for him and no lapse of time after the "get away" from a successful robbery will lessen the activities of the pursuers. The association will carry on, at an increased expense which it is prepared to meet, this vigorous action, that the five states, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa, will become, it is expected, the least attractive part of the entire country and robbers will keep aloof from it as from dangerous ground

Charles D. Brown, special agent for the association, outlined for the assembled presidents and secretaries of the state associations the enlarged plan of action. Without dissent the greater sum necessary for the expense of the enlarged work was voted.

Good Getaway Starts.

Mr. Brown showed wherein Minnesota and Iowa are good "get away" states and wherein the difficulty of detection and capture is so much greater, this being true also of Wisconsin. The Dakotas offer opportunity for escap because of the prairies over which a long run on foot or in automobile without observation is difficult, and the absence in these states of many cities of considerable size in which a robber may drop for temporary hiding until the storm has blown over. Mr. Brown spoke of the employment of "cover" men as valuable. "Reformed bank burglars" was the way one prominent banker referred to the "cover" men.

"Not always reformed," said Mr. Brown. "Experienced, I think, would be a better word."

The necessity for their use and the good results obtained, in past instances were made clear.

In the Minneapolis meeting, the nature of which will be of wide interest to police magistrates, detective and preventative agencies the country over, were Edwin M. Wing, La Crosse, Wis.; J. D. Easton, Waterloo, Iowa; R. C. Kittle, Casselton, N. D.; S. Drew, Highmore, S. D., and W. I. Prince, Duluth, each the president of the bankers' association of his state. With them were George D. Bartlett, Milwaukee; J. M. Dinwiddie, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; W. C. McFadden, Fargo, and J. E. Platt, Clark, S. D., and Charles R. Frost, Minneapolis, each the secretary of the association in his state.

TWO DULUTH CUPS WILL BE OFFERED

The Herald and the Commercial Club Offer North Dakota Trophies.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Announcement is made by the officials of the North Dakota Fair association that silver loving cups have been offered by The Duluth Evening Herald and the Duluth Commercial club for butter competition events at the fair here in July. The announcement was received with interest and the two cups will doubtless prove an incentive to hot competition.

The cup presented by The Duluth Evening Herald, through Manager A. C. Weiss, is to be known as "The Duluth Evening Herald Trophy" and is offered for the winner in the forty-eighth-hour butter contest, a decidedly novel feature and a new one in North Dakota. It provides for a test of cows in a period of forty-eight hours, the animal showing the best producing ability winning the cup.

For the Duluth Commercial club trophy, creamery butter makers are allowed to compete, the highest scoring butter taking the cup.

Arrangements for the fair are progressing rapidly and it gives promise of being an exceedingly good one.

Carrington, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alone with three children, the youngest only 2 years old being ill with measles and pneumonia, Mrs. Henry Garrett had a strenuous time saving her own and their lives when their home burned. The sick child she rescued just in time, removing it to a granary near by where she had to leave the child in order to look after the safety of the other two.

The Garrett family resides a short distance from Carrington. It is a rather peculiar coincident that just twelve years ago they lost their home by fire also, this being the second experience of the kind.

The child had been out in the field in the afternoon, taking lunch to her father. She was not missed till evening, when search was instituted, being continued till 3 o'clock the next morning, when it was abandoned till daylight. It was then that the sad fate of the child was learned.

SHOOTING VICTIM DEAD.

"Texas Red" of North Dakota Will Face Charge of Murder.

Ellendale, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Richard A. Mock, a farmer living near Forbes who was shot by "Texas Red," Robert A Beatner, last Wednesday, died in a Minneapolis hospital, where he was taken for treatment. The body was brought to Forbes Friday for interment. The sheriff has taken "Texas Red" into custody charged with murder. The accused murderer had been employed by the dead farmer and the killing was the result of a row over wages.

Mrs. D. B. Joens, sister of the dead man in speaking of the tragedy said:

"My brother had discharged the farm hand several days before the shooting. The man, who is known as "Texas Red" Beatner, has a bad reputation in Forbes. He was discharged after a quarrel over wages. I think it was in a spirit of bravado that he returned and picked another quarrel with my brother. We do not know what either of them said, but "Red" suddenly drew a revolver and fired three shots, two of which took effect. My brother was unarmed.

"After the shooting, "Red" calmly rolled a cigarette and walked about the town until he was arrested by the sheriff. It was in a futile effort to save my brother's life that we sent him to Minneapolis."

CHILD MISSING; FEAR DROWNING

Little Daughter of Couple Living Along Red Lake River Disappears.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Helen, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry, who reside on the banks of the Red Lake river, east of the city, suddenly disappeared a few days ago and it is supposed she fell in the river and was drowned. Rigid search has been made for the child in the adjoining farm lands and along the river banks, but no trace of her can be found. As steamboats are continually passing up and down the river and there are also a great many logs floating down the stream, it is possible her body may not be recovered for several days. Search is still being made in the river and the river drivers and boat employes are striving to find the remains of the little girl.

Hillsboro, N. D., May 9.—The North Dakota battleship silver service commission met here as the guests of ex-Governor E. Y. Sarles. There were present Commissioners W. A. Scott of Fargo, George B. Winship of Grand Forks, ex-Governor Frank White of Valley City, Martin Jacobson of Minot and Secretary B. F. Brockhoff of Grand Forks. Col. W. H. McGraw of Grand Forks, was present as proxy for John Bruegger of Minot and ex-Governor Roger Allin of Park River was also represented by a proxy.

The main object of the meeting was to give the order for the service, but in this the commission was disappointed owing to the inability of the representatives of the manufacturing companies to give competitive bids.

According to the report of Secretary B. F. Brockhoff, there is $6,350 on hand and it is the desire of the commission to raise this to $10,000 if possible. Another urgent appeal will now be made to the various counties of the state to come forward with their apportionment. It will take some little extra effort, but the commission are of one opinion that when the service is ready North Dakota will come to the front with very nearly if not the full sum asked for.

SAVES SON'S LIFE.

Woman Near Janesville, Wis., Curbs Runaway Team.

Janesville, Wis., May 9.—By her presence of mind and almost superhuman effort, Mrs. Thomas Mehls, residing in the town of La Prairie, near here, saved the life of her son, who was in danger of being cut asunder by a plow dragged by frantic horses.

Fred Mehls, aged about 25 years, was plowing in the field guiding a span of horses hitched to the plow. Without warning the horses started to run away, throwing young Mehls forward so that the plow plied on top of him, the share resting between his shoulders.

The mother when she saw the mishap came on a run, grasped the reins, and though herself drawn along for about fifty feet, brought the frantic animals to a stop. She then lifted the plow from off her son's body and carried him into the house. She then ran, almost breathless, to the house of a neighbor half a mile distant and after arranging for medical aid collapsed.

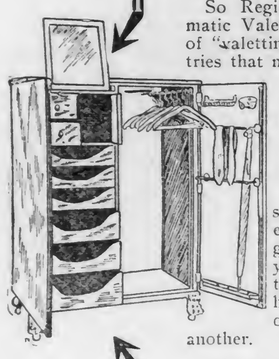
THE EVOLUTION OF A VALET

When Reginald Van Clip was so many years old, his father died, leaving him a family name and a list of creditors.

About that time the valet, who had laid out Reginald's shirts and collar buttons since he wore kilts, eloped with the second cook and the loose change which Reginald had left in his evening clothes.

So Reginald invented the "Automatic Valet," which put the business of "valetting" back among the industries that need tariff protection.



Here is One for You

Your coat slips on to a special hanger; your trousers fit into a convenient groove; your shirts lay flat; your ties hang in easy reach; there is a blessed drawer for buttons; your shoes slip in one drawer and your hats in another.

The "Automatic Valet" is a marvel of convenience and neatness, and when it is closed it looks like a rich, old-fashioned chest of drawers.

The price is a trifle.

SCENES WHEN COL. ROOSEVELT WAS IN VIENNA

Theodor Roosevelt in Wie

R. Lechner (Wien), Wien, I., Graben 31. Kaiser Franz Josef I. mit Lechner.

Paris, April 23.—The president of France gave a reception "to meet Mr. Theodore Roosevelt" on Friday night. It was preceded by a dinner. The reception began at 10 o'clock and ended a little after midnight.

I was very much interested in contrasting this official reception with the official receptions given at the White House in Washington. They are not very different in form, though the president of France has the advantage of the president of the United States in some respects. For one thing he has a finer suite of reception rooms and one in particular, the Salle des Fetes—which can be used as a miniature theater. But in many details the functions are very much alike.

The entrance to the Elysee palace is triple in form. There is a court yard with three gateways, opening on three streets. Through the main gateway drive the carriages of the more distinguished guests. This gateway faces the entrance to the building. On the left and rigtht are carriages of the less important guests, the other is the exit.

As one leaves his carriage he enters, through a small door, the coat room which is at the left of the main doorway. Here he leaves his hat and coat and receives a numbered wooden check. There is a long mirror in which he may see if his hair is smooth and his tie straight, but there are no dressing rooms.

Footmen and Soldiers.

From this court room he passes to the carpeted marble stairway, handing his invitation card to a footman at the door. On each side of this stairway is a line of helmeted soldiers. At the head of the stairway is an ante-room. Beyond it is the reception room, which is not much larger than the Blue parlor at the White House. I think the oval form and the simplicity of decoration of the Blue parlor are more effective as a setting. The reception room at the Elysee is in white and gold.

At the right of the entrance to the reception room stands a footman in livery. To the left, directly inside the doorway, is the receiving line. President Fallieres is at the head of it; next him stands Mme. Fallieres. Then there are a dozen persons whom no one, except their friends identifies and to whom no one is presented directly.

Traveling with President Harrison many years ago, I was amused to hear a man at one of the stations where he spoke, say:

"How much he looks like his photographs."

President Fallieres, too, "looks like his photographs." He has a very large head, covered with a mass of curling gray hair. His beard, too, is white, and hides what little neck he has, for his head sits rather closely and squarely on broad shoulders. He is not above medium height. His expression is without animation and his greeting is perfunctory. I should say it was not unlike that of President Harrison. He has none of the benignity of McKinley's expression or the cordiality of Roosevelt's or Taft's.

Mme. Fallieres's figure is less familiar to us than that of the president. She is a short, stout and rather shapeless woman with a plain face and no distinction of bearing. She carries herself with dignity, however.

Presidential Hand-Shaking.

As the footman announced me, the president extended his hand to take mine. It was not like the hearty hand-shake one receives at the White House.

It is regarded as the inalienable right of every American citizen to shake the hand of the president, if he can get near enough to him. When he does, he shakes hands with the cordiality natural to our people. In self-protection our president learns, before he has been in office long, to get the first grip on the hand of the American citizen. By doing this he protects himself from possible injury. A president who is new to the hand-shaking experience and who does not take this precaution has had his hand squeezed to a pulp at his first reception.

They evidently order these things differently in France. President Fallieres gave me his hand after the ordinary manner of a man greeting a perfunctory social acquaintance. Mme. Fallieres did the same. Then I passed down the receiving line and joined the group which was gathered about Mr. Roosevelt.

No White House "Crush."

The most noticeable feature of the company was the lack of the "crush" which is familiar at all the White House receptions. There were probably not 500 guests. The next was the absence of color. At a White House reception we are accustomed to see the Chinese minister in gorgeous robes of colored silks, the Austrian diplomats in brilliant uniforms with tasseled boots—in fact most of the members of the corps diplomatique in picturesque garb. But with the exception of a few military uniforms, chiefly American, the guests at the Elysee palace were all in conventional evening dress. Many ware jeweled stars suspended from broad ribbons about their necks, but all were in in the simple evening dress of conventional society.

Mr. Roosevelt, of course, wore no orders or decorations. Neither did Mr. Bacon, our ambassador, who stood beside him. Mrs. Roosevelt was in a becoming toilette of blue and her daughter, Ethel, looked extremely pretty in pink.

There was no formality about the introductions to Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Bacon presented some of the guests to him, some introduced themselves.

Beyond the reception room were two other rooms of about the same size, hung with tapestries and furnished appropriately.

The reception began at 10 o'clock, following a dinner given by President Fallieres in Mr. Roosevelt's honor. At about 10:30, most of the guests having arrived, President Fallieres gave his arm to Mrs. Roosevelt and Mr. Roosevelt to Mme. Fallieres and they led the way through two reception rooms to the Salle des Fetes.

This is an oblong room decorated in white and gold and hung with very beautiful tapestries. At one side is a small stage or platform, set in a recess. It also was hung with tapestries and furnished with chairs, tables and a screen which hid the entrance used by the artists. Before this stage was a line of big armchairs upholstered in crimson satin.

President Fallieres took his seat in the middle chair, with Mrs. Roosevelt on his left and Mrs. Fallieres on his right. Mr. Roosevelt sat on the right of Mme. Fallieres. Other distinguished guests sat to the right and left of them. There was no formality in seating any but these special guests. The others took seats at their convenience.

The program included singing and recitations. Those who contributed to included Mme. Fella Litvinne, the Russian soprano whom New York stood for one season at the Metropolitan opera house. She is a little stouter than she was then and her voice is, if possible, a little worse. She sang Gluck's "Divinites du Styx," from "Alceste." Marguerite Carre, a beauty from the Opera Comique with an unfortunate acidity of tone, rendered one of Schumann's songs. Delmas, who has a big bass voice but little refinement of style, sang the song from "Philemon et Baucis," which Plancon made a concert favorite for many years in New York. And our own Mary Garden, in a blonde wig, with the assistance of a throaty tenor from the opera, sang in a duet from Gounod's "Romeo et Juliet." Of all the singers Miss Garden and her associate alone appeared in costume.

But the most interesting feature of the evening's program was not the singing, for which the room was quite too small or the voices too big, but the recital of Mounet-Sully of a Victor Hugo sketch. It commanded silence as the singing had not always done and was rewarded with more than the conventional mood of applause.

When the program was finished every one stood and waited till the presidential party had left the salon. Then all the guests followed into another reception room, where a long table was spread with a buffet supper. There were sandwiches and little cakes and coffee and champagne. While the guests were being served with these the president and Mr. Roosevelt were shaking hands with the artists and thanking them for their contributions to the program. Even "Romeo" and "Juillet," in their stage costumes, mingled with the crowd for a few minutes.

A little before midnight the guests began to leave with no formal adieus and by 12:30 o'clock the reception was over.

Hughes Signs Bird Bill.

Albany, N. Y., May 9.—Governor Hughes signed the Audubon bill, which brings within the protection afforded the plumage of native wild birds, the plumage of birds of the same family from without the state. The bill was vigorously opposed by the millinery interests. It takes effect July 1, 1911.

Cut Flesh by Fasting.

Chicago, May 9.—Richard Fausel of this city has not eaten a meal for fifty days, and while he admits his belief that he could relish a "square" like any healthy man, his appetite by no means annoys him.

When Fausel began fasting he weighed 296 pounds, but he is down to 243 now. He expects to go without food, except water, until he has reached the 200-pound mark.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, May 9.—Since May 1 the steel companies have been inclined to lay stress upon the receipts of liberal specifications on old contracts for finished products, but the decrease in the volume of new business is being reflected in reduced output in steel ingots and pig iron. The railroads have placed few orders for equipment. Contracts for rails, including heavy and light sections, have aggregated only 18,000 tons, and bridge contracts have been confined to a few hundred-ton lots, the large Western contracts being still held in abeyance. Car orders aggregated 5,000, but locomotive orders were light.

Many additional bids have been submitted for structural work in all parts of the country, but contracts for only about 18,000 tons have been placed. Contracts are still pending for about 150,000 tons, which, sooner or later, will result in orders. In the next few months subway contracts will be let to contractors, but any direct benefit to the mills and fabricating shops is far in the future. Eventually, about 160,000 tons of steel will be required for this work.

The tendency of prices of pig iron has continued downward, and the volume of business has been light.

During the last few days there has been an increase in the number of orders for foundry iron in the East, and new inquiries have been encouraging, aggregating about 12,000 tons for shipment over the second half of the year.

FOR ROBBING LETTERS.

Crookston Young Man Gets Year and Half in Penitentiary.

Crookston, Minn., May 9.—P. J. Fearon, former clerk in the United States land office here, last week pleaded guilty to one of several counts in an indictment returned by the federal grand jury in Fergus Falls, and was sentenced by Judge Morris to a year and a half at hard labor in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

The news came as a painful surprise to many friends of the young man here. While it was known that he had been removed and that he was in trouble, the public did not know of the seriousness of his misdeeds.

He was authorized to get the land office mail and to sign for registered mail. He opened the mail and in several instances abstracted the money sent for transcripts, etc., forwarded the transcripts and retained the money which should have been turned over to the register.

To a firm of attorneys at Warren he forgot to forward the transcript desired and after some delay they reported the matter to the federal authorities and an investigation showed other instances of the same kind.

KENNEY WINS FOURTH GAME

Superior Team Held to Four Hits By Big Twirler.

Grumblers Able to Bunch Hits in Only One Inning.

Hurrah for us!

Yetserday the Sox took the fourth game of the series by the score of 7 to 2, thereby evening up the series and delighting the hearts of the goodly crowd that assembled to witness the contest.

Big Kenney was assigned to mound duty, and in all but one round he kept the hits of the hated wide apart. In the seventh the Grumblers got familiar with the hill habits of the big chap, clouting right merrily a triple, home run and a two-base hit. Two men came over, which was all the enemy gathered.

Aside from the seventh inning the Superior hitters could do very little with the benders of Kenney. He has quite a lot of stuff and used it with deserection, not to mention deadly effect.

Duluth started early to avoid any possible rush. Anderson walked to first. He went to third when Neelon hit to right. Taylor sent Anderson across with an outfield clout. Neelon being thrown out at the plate on the hit. Taylor fell a sleepy victim to the concealed ball trick and O'Brien skied out.

Three beautiful and cherished runs came in the fifth. Michael Dennis Sweeney put one out of reach of James Abbington Leighty. He was advanced when Louis Kozler, king of first, singled over the second sack, Michael going all the way to third.

Buzz singled, scoring the Irishman. McCulloch missed Daggett's pop-up and the paths were teeming with White Sox. Anderson grounded to Caldwell, who heaved with so much enthusiasm the ball traveled over the head of McCulloch, Kozler and Buzz coming over the pan.

Three more joyous jolts were delivered to the enemy in the last of the seventh. Mister Buzz got on when Kourick muffed his outfield offering. Daggett bunted and was safe when Leighty failed to get the toss from McCulloch. Kenney was passed. Anderson whiffled, but Buzz and Daggett scored on Smiling Pete Neelon's two-base hit. Thomas Zachery Taylor flew to Landry, Kenney beating the throw to the plate.

Superior's two lonesome runs came in the exciting and rather prolific seventh. McCulloch hit for three bases, Lizette hit for four and Bancroft hit for two, which by the way, was quite enough for several innings, let alone one.

The other hitters of the Superior team could do nothing, however, and the serious apprehensions of the fans were relieved.

In the eighth Leighty got on through Daggett's energetic heave to the automobiles. McGraw walked, both men dying through the futile efforts of their teammates.

Superior Took Third.

Arthur O'Dea's hired men took the third game of the series Saturday, humbling the White Sox by the score of 4 to 2. Each team secured seven hits, but the blows of the Grumblers were more sequential and to the point. Jaenicke was not in the best of form, being somewhat wild and erratic.

JOHNSON TO BEGIN TRAINING

Black Man Is Doing No Worrying About His Condition.

San Francisco, Cal., May 9.—Under orders from George Little, his manager, and at the suggestion of Kid Cotton, his sparring partner, Jack Johnson will begin training today. It will be the first real work that Johnson has tackled since he has been on the coast, and although it will be training of the lightest order, it will mean that the big fighter, at least, is making a serious attempt to get in condition.

Johnson laughs at the idea that he must get busy with the weight machines, the medicine ball and the four-round tilts with the human punching bags to be in fit fettle to meet Jeffries. He says he can reach the prime condition notch in three weeks, and local experts agree with him.

Johson does not seem a bit excited about the coming event, although he fully realizes he is about to engage in the supreme struggle of his career.

With George Little and a party of friends, Johnson rode down the peninsula highway in his machine yesterday to San Jose to see the automobile race.

Jeff Has Holiday.

Ben Lomond, Cal., May 9.—In adhering to his desire to make Sunday afternoon a regular half-holiday break in his training routine, Jeffries yesterday disappointed a large crowd of spectators who waited several hours at the gymnasium for a sparring match that did not materialize. With the exception of a short period in the gymnasiums in the morning, Jeffries spent the day without exercise, other than a tramp up the stream after fish.

The siutation regarding the choice of third man in the ring remains unchanged with Welch, Graney and Smith still favorites.

If a few more table guests would make it profitable for you to keep boarders, then you have business for a Herald want ad.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

When rank exposures of the rottenness of the fighting game are made, such as in the case of the Langford-Ketchel fiasco, one is impelled to ask the question: What is going to become of the boxing game?

Such fakes as the Philadelphia affair make even the most enthusiastic admirer of clean boxing disgusted and cause many to care not a rap whether the game is forever banished from every state in the Union.

In New York, under the old Horton law, twenty and twenty-five-round fights were permitted. The game was going fine. The New Yorkers liked the shows and patronized them liberally. There was good money for both the boxers and the promoters.

Then came the Maher-Morrissey fake. The latter was advertised as the champion of Ireland. He was in reality a truckman of New York city. He made a pitable and ludicrous showing against the not too good Maher.

Most followers of boxing remember the memorable Corbett-McCoy fake. Corbett needed the advertising, as he does today. He made the match with McCoy, but was not sure of his ability to defeat the great Hoosier. He entered into negotiations for the lying down of McCoy—Corbett thought it possible that Norman Selby might cross him out, so the Indiana product was compelled to put up a large bond—insuring his good behavior.

The exposing of that evil smelling deal put the hooks on boxing. The boxers were chased from the city and some of the promoters were so lacking in the sense of humor as to kick, and wonder why fighting was not permitted.

See what is happening in Philadelphia. The public pays about $25,000 to see a negro who is lucky to earn a decent living in the ring, and a man who narrowly escaped being sent to the penitentiary for sticking up a guy out West, fakes six short rounds. For this crooked performance Ketchel receives a small fortune.

Reports from Philadelphia state that the people there are growing heartily sick of the boxing game. Can you wonder? It is the case of the promoters and fighters killing the dear old golden goose. It is not the authorities that stop boxing; they simply call the crooked matches off when the people are heartily sick of being hoodwinked.

With a world's championship fight approaching, supposed to be the greatest fight of the century, there are already rumors of a fake. Nasty charges have been made. When anyone discusses the fight with you, he invariably asks whether you believe the fight is fixed. That is a fine young opinion to be walking around, a heathy like, even two months before the time for the battle.

If sections of the country have been shut against the boxing game, only the promoters and the fighters are responsible for it. They have not had the foresight to look ahead, but in their avariciousness and greed have wanted to make all the money possible in a very short time.

Unless some purifying steps are taken, and unless some assurance is furnished the public that future fights are not fixed, the game of boxing is doomed to speedy death.

The talk of fake will hurt the attendance of the Jeffries-Johnson fight. There are very few people who are going to travel across the country to see a fight, of which there is a growing suspicion of crookedness even at the present time.

There are a lot of nasty things in connection with the coming fight. It has looked peculiar from the secret signing of the articles. It looks like a case of getting the money, regardless of what the public gets. The Langford-Ketchel fiasco won't help the Jeffries-Johnson fight. Some one ought to get out and do some explaining. It would at least sound interesting.

The Wise Guy.

Concerning the near-nasty manner in which the calamity cries of the Superior sheet writes, the Eau Claire Leader hits the mark. This person has a grouch perpetual, and has an ill feeling for every team and every individual in the league. He can see nothing good in the league, and were his continual mutterings taken more seriously, would do real harm.

"The Superior pen artist, with a grudge against all other teams and fans and scribes, who will not enthusiastically fall in with his line of reasoning—if you may use the term—seems to have a mood and fancy as varying as the seasons. Not one week ago the melancholy wail of this same dopester would have made the funeral chant of an Ogulalee squaw sound sweet music in the ears of the most exacting tenorio, that ever sang in royal court. But the poor chance he may have partaken of too much terrapin or soft shelled lobster, thereby upsetting his digestion. Hence his unwonted propensity to crab. Oh; but things were looking gloomy then. It would have been bliss to have been wiped completely off this onery ball of ours by the fiery tail of Halley's comet.

"Never did things look more rosease to this Red Sox gallant than they do at the present writing. It's all kisses and smiles and love taps, now. Oh, you Red Legs, he says, oh, you Duke O'Dea, oh, you this, oh, you that. It's the milk toast cry, now. Beware. In two weeks time he will be back at the old starting point. If Superior were to drop a couple of games at the opening of the season, and there is no reason for thinking that the opposite will take place, this scribe would have a fit of the blues as hard to wash out as indigo. It's too bad that the Commissioners don't open the season at the up-lake town, in order to see just what truth there is in this bald statement. The time is coming. We will abide awee and see. Have patience, brother, it will not be so long, even though the moments intervening do drag apace."

Team Coming Along.

Yesterday the Sox secured revenge for the two drubbings administered by the Grumblers. The win of yesterday evens the series up. The games today and tomorrow, which will bring the series to an end, will decide the spring Head of the Lakes championship.

So far there has been little to choose between the two teams. Both teams have shown fast infielding and have as yet failed to demonstrate their hitting abilities. Some of the men on the local team, who are expected to hit hard and consistently the present season, have failed to dent the horsehide. Barby O'Brien and A. W. Kuehnow have the highest hopes that the team will show greater batting strength as the season becomes older.

Mr. Kuehnow is already on the lookout for a catcher. The in and outfields look good, and the pitching staff should rank with the very best in the league. Cummings is expected to return and the present season should be one of the stars of the league.

He was not strong last season, as he had not fully recovered from a long illness. Last winter Al fully recovered his old-time strength, and this summer should have everything that made hime the star of the old Northern league.

The team is coming along well and will be in good shape to open the season at Winona, next Wednesday. Kenney looks good, and with Klingebell, Thorsen, Jaenicke, Marlon, Dauss and Cummings, the hill workers should be very strong.

Questions Answered.

M. Me, Duluth—Fishing was very good yesterday. Many fishermen were out. One fisherman got two trout—perhaps he didn't have his mind on the fish. As a rule though, fishing in these parts is very good.

NEW PLAYERS ARE SECURED

Kuehnow Strengthening White Sox Where Weakness Has Been Shown.

A. W. Kuehnow has lines out for new players for the White Sox. He announced today that Fisher, a catcher, from the Rock Island club, has been secured and is expected to report for duty within two days. A catcher has also been secured from the Madison team, pennant winners of the Wisconsin-Illinois league. This man is expected to report today and may be used in one of the games against Superior.

F. E. Williams, a young player who held down the shortstop position in the Blue Grass league last year, a Class D organization, by the way, has been secured. Williams is a hustling youngster, according to the information that has come to Mr. Kuehnow, and is expected to make a good showing for the short-field position.

Carl Fryn, a first baseman, who has been tried out with Indianapolis, will also report here. Wilhelm, the fast little Dutchman who was with Winona and La Crosse last season, is the property of the local club and will be given a trial. He is a fast fielder, covering lots of territory.

Al Cummings is expected here the present week and will round out the pitching staff. The Duluth boy is reported to be in excellent condition. Before the expiration of the present week Darby O'Brien and Mr. Kuehnow expect to team to be going at a mid-season clip.

WINONA DEFEATS CONRADS IN ONE-SIDED GAME.

Winona, Minn., May 9.—The St. Paul Conrads gave Winona but little opposition yesterday. Ragged fielding and stupid fielding gave the locals many of their runs. Wagner, a pitcher secured by the local team from Ottumwa, Iowa, was in the box, and did good work. Score: R. H. E.

MAKES NEW RECORD DESPITE A MISHAP.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—Jake De Rossier yesterday on the Los Angeles motordrome track set a new record for 100 miles, making it in 1 hour 20 minutes, 14 3-5 seconds. He had to dismount and push his machine a quarter of a mile because he ran out of gasoline just as he was finishing.

SPORTSMEN GATHER FOR IOWA TOURNAMENT.

Burlington, Iowa, May 9.—The thirty-fourth annual tournament of the Iowa State Sportsmen's club will begin in Burlington tomorrow and continue for four days. Many important trophies will be contested for and all the leading professional trap shooters of the country will be present. More than a hundred of the leading amateur sportsmen of Iowa and Illinois expect to be here.

FANS WILL ACCOMPANY TEAM TO WINONA.

It is expected that a party of Duluth fans will accompany the team to Winona Tuesday night. Inquiries have been made at the baseball office regarding the trip and the time for the fans can return home. The local officials of the club have arranged for a special sleeper, and this car will be run if enough Duluth fans leave here Tuesday night.

It is believed that about forty faithful will journey down to Winona for the opening game. Preparations are being made at Winona for the greatest opening day ever known in Northwestern Class D baseball. Music, speeches, and other festivities will usher in the season.

Interest here is growing, and if all those who have made inquiries of the Duluth officials decide to go the opening game at Winona, the White Sox will not be without followers when they line up against Uncle Joe Killian's Pirates.

TRACK AND FIELD MEETS

Many College Athletes Compete for Honors on Cinder Path.

Wisconsin Beats Illinois, Yale Wins From Princeton.

Madison, Wis., May 9.—In a heart-breaking dual meet here Saturday, Wisconsin defeated Illinois, 65 to 61. The meet was undecided up to the last event, but by placing two men in the broad jump the Wisconsin team took the lead. The time in track events was slow, due to cold weather, but competition was keen. Wisconsin won every running event. The two-mile run was the prettiest race of the afternoon between Cleveland of Wisconsin and Fast of Illinois. Fast passed Cleveland on the last lap, but the gritty Badger came up from behind, breaking the tape three yards ahead of Fast. Richards was the star of the meet, taking first in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and quarter-mile run.

Yale Beats Princeton.

New Haven, Conn., May 9.—Yale won the annual track meet with Princeton here Saturday 59 5-6 points to 44 1-6. Both teams showed up well in the dashes and it was not until the field events were run off that the meet was assured to Yale.

In the mile run, Whitely of Princeton led all the way, winning by a good margin over Don, also of Princeton, who was second. The 220-yard low hurdles was the best event of the day, Chisholm, a sophomore of Yale, winning in 25 seconds.

In the field events, Yale won all three places in the broad jump, two places in the shot-put, two in the high jump and two in the hammer-throw. In the pole-vault, Yale won first and second and the third place was split with Princeton, three men being tied for the place.

Amherst Is Winner.

Amherst, Mass., May 9.—Amherst defeated Williams and Brown in their triangular track meet Saturday principally through the running and jumping of F. Marion Roberts of White Cottage, Ohio, a member of the junior class. He scored 16 points from Amherst. The final score was: Amherst, 50; Williams, 41; Brown, 35.

Penn Easy Winner.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 9.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell in the annual dual track meet here Saturday by 72 points to 42. Cornell's scoring was confined to the running events.

Taylor, the two-mile intercollegiate champion of last year, took the mile for Cornell. Ramsdell was the chief point winner for Pennsylvania.

Beats Northwestern Iowa.

Iowa City, May .—The track meet of Iowa and Northwestern universities took place here Saturday in inclement weather, but with a full quota of athletes in the contest. Iowa took a good lead early by winning the two-mile, shot-put and hammer throw. Northwestern captured the 100-yard dash and mile run.

Harvard Beats Dartmouth.

Cambridge, Mass., May 9.—Harvard easily defeated Dartmouth in the annual dual track and field meet held in the Stadium Saturday by a score of 91 5-6 to 25 1-6. The result was a great surprise, as a number of Hargreat vard's best performers are incapacitated by illness and injury. New men uncovered by the Crimson, however, helped materially in rolling up the great total of points. Prominent among these was W. F. Ryan, a junior, winner of the two-mile run who was a "dark horse" even to the Harvard coaches. No records were broken.

Chicago School Wins.

Beloit, Wis., May 9. — Twenty-one schools and 125 contestant competed in the annual interscholastic field meet here Saturday, under the direction of Beloit college. The meet was won on points by the University high school of Chicago. The grand total of schools was as follows: University high, 28; South Milwaukee, 15; Rochelle, 14; Oak Park, 12; West Milwaukee, 12; De Kalk, 11; Oshkosh, 11; Madison, 7; Englewood, 5; Oregon, 5; West Aurora, 3; Beloit, 1; North Chicago, 1; Elkhorn, 1. A banquet was given by the college to the visitors in the gymnasium.

STRONG FITWELLS WIN FROM CLOQUET TEAM.

Sunday the Fitwells defeated the Clouquet team by the score of 8 to 5. Talbot pitched for the Fitwells and held the Cloquet team down well, hits being bunched only in the second and fifth innings. The Fitwells showed up strong, both in the field and with the bat.

The game yesterday was the first real game the Duluth team has played the present season. The team is stronger than the aggregation of last season, it is believed, from the showing made yesterday.

Negotiations are on for a game Sunday with Two Harbors. A series of home and out-of-town games will be arranged for the season.

The feature of yesterday's game was the hitting of George Cullen, who got four hits in four times up. He drove two runs across the plate by a long two-base hit.

TEN TO RUN IN KENTUCKY DERBY

Fine Weather Predicted for Classic Event at Churchill Downs.

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—All of the eligibles that are probable starters in the Kentucky derby to be run tomorrow are now at their stable quarters at Churchill Downs. William Gerst's Camden handicap winner, Dona, reached the local track from Lexington early yesterday and the other derby candidates from the Blue Grass region, John Furlong, Joe Morris and Boola Boola, arrived yesterday afternoon.

It now seems a certainty that fully ten contestants for derby honors will face Starter Milton Tuesday afternoon.

Though the course received a thorough soaking Friday and Saturday, it dried rapidly yesterday and with no rain in the forecast for today or tomorrow it should be in excellent shape by the time for the greatest Kentucky turf event.

FARGO COLLEGE TEAM IS BEATEN BY UNIVERSITY.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota university ball team had no trouble handling the Fargo college team here Saturday afternoon, winning by a 14 to 4 score. The Flickertails bunched their hits in three innings, netting a total of twelve runs. Score: R. H. E.

GRAND FORKS PICKETTS WIN EASILY ON SUNDAY.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thief River Falls ball tossers did not have much of a look-in with the Grand Forks Picketts here Sunday afternoon, being defeated by a score of 4 to 0. The Picketts played errorless ball, and this, coupled with the Thief River Falls aggregation's inability to connect with the ball resulted in the defeat of the Minnesotans. Score: R. H. E.

TRUCE IN FIGHT ON RAILROAD BILL

Real Struggle in Senate Will Be Postponed Until Thursday.

Washington, May 9.—Under a flag of truce, hostilities between the conservative and progressive Republicans of the senate over the administration railroad bill have ceased temporarily. They will be renewed probably when Senators Cummins and Dolliver return from Iowa, where they have gone to open the campaign. They are not expected to arrive in Washington until Thursday. Senator Aldrich is expected to return from Rhode Island on Tuesday. If he should attempt to precipitate a vote on any important amendment, Senators La Follette and Clapp will undertake to hold the floor.

Meanwhile the White house will be the scene of the real activities. President Taft having undertaken to bring into line some of the so-called "near insurgents" whose attitude on the railroad bill has been a matter of doubt. That work was begun Saturday and it was claimed that Senators Gamble and Crawford of South Dakota would join the forty-five regular Republicans previously canvassed, making the necessary "all Republican majority" for the administration program.

Will Seek Re-Commission.

While an understanding was reached in the house that the vote on the bill would be taken Tuesday, it now seems certain that the Democrats will seek to have the bill recommitted with instructions that the sections for the creation of a court of commerce be eliminated. The vote, it is conceded, will be close.

In the senate the long and short haul provision is the immediate subject of

DRILL HOLE IN IRON ORE

Strike Made on Marquette & Vermilion Iron Company's Ground.

Duluth & Iron Range Extension to Section 30 Being Rushed.

The second drill hole on the Marquette & Vermilion Iron company's ground on the Vermilion range has cut about five feet of nearly clean iron ore. Assay returns have not been received, therefore authorative figures cannot be given as to exact values in iron.

Exploration with a diamond drill was started on the property over two months ago. The first hole was located so as to crosscut the formation at a depth of over 1,000 feet by the time the north line was reached. It was started in greenstone, and all went well until a depth of 200 feet was reached, when the core barrel was broken off about three inches above the diamond bit. After trying for five weeks to recover the bit and the hole, the contractors decided to leave their task until later and to start a second hole.

Hole No. 2 was located about 400 feet west of the east line of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 19, 62-14, and a short distance south of the line of lands belonging to the nited States Steel corporation.

The fir t fifteen feet were in surface material. The next five feet were in ore, not fully clean all the way, but nearly so, and that was followed by twenty-five feet of jasper, ochre and other material. Next came fifteen feet of jasper. Forty feet of soap rock were next encountered, and at a depth of 115 feet the drill was cutting mixed soap rock and greenstone.

General Manager R. J. Ryan, who inspected the work last Saturday, is highly pleased and encouraged over the results from Hole No. 2. "I believe that the drill has gone through the edge of an ore-body," he stated to The Herald. "The hole is at a flatter angle than I expected it would be drilled. I am of the opinion that a vertical hole at that point will show up a genuine ore-body, but, of course, to get one of magnitude and proper grade, much greater depth may be necessary.

Two District Formations.

"As experienced iron men know, there are two separate and distinct formations on the Vermilion iron range—the 'old formation' and the 'new formation.' In the former have been found all the shipping mines on the entire Vermilion range. So far, in thirty years' time, and after an expenditure of millions, not a single producing mine has been found in the 'young formation.' If that formation were more friendly to the existence of bodies of commercial ore, the Vermilion range would be the biggest on the continent.

"The property of the Marquette & Vermilion Iron company is in the very center of the 'old formation,' and bears all the earmarks of a big iron mine. I always have believed, as I now believe that thorough and practical exploration would prove a big iron mine in this property. The showing in this shallow hole No. 2, bears out and greatly strengthens my belief. If we have cut a finger of ore than by following that down we will find the main body of clean, merchantable ore. I am inclined to the opinion that several 'fingers' of ore exist on the property.

"Our first hole was ideally located for cross-cutting the formation and, at the same time, reaching great depth, but the drillmen were unfortunate with that. Later on we may continue that hole or start another near it."

Mr. Ryan was accompanied on his trip by Sam Simpson of Minneapolis; A. L. Hoffman of Brainerd; and H. T. Slack of Duluth.

E. C. Kennedy, president and general manager of the Vermilion-Mesaba iron company, came down from the Vermilion range Saturday night. He has started the construction of a road to the McCue property in section 10, 62-13, and will begin exploration there soon. He states that he has ore on the Erickson property, but has thrown up the Santry property.

Capt. Besson is installing machinery on the Central Vermilion property in section 15, 62-14. He recently moved his family to Ely.

Extension to Section 30.

The Duluth & Iron Range extension from Ely to Section 30 will be completed within a month, after which Messrs. St. Clair and Merritt will be in a position to start forward the 100,000 tons of ore they plan to ship from that mine this year.

There is no cessation in the activity around Tower Junction at the North American, Roy, La Chance and Nordstrom properties. Work at Pine Island is moving along as well as on the Rice Bay and Scott-Bevier-Holgate mines, in 63-15.

Some of the big mines of the Vermilion are expected to be found northeast of Ely. Duluth people seem to be neglecting all that region between Section 30 and Hunter's Island, and on to Gunflint lake. It is reported that the United States Steel corporation and Robert B. Whitesides are not losing any time or sparing any money in their efforts to pick up fees along that big belt, with all its virgin possibilities. There are properties beyond Section 30 that show most remarkable indications for big mines and when people gain enough experience to discriminate in formations, there is likely to be some feverish and exciting activity where now all is quiet and inactive.

The travel to the Vermilion range is very heavy and the seekers for meritorious properties are most numerous.

CORN WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

One Hundred Children Are Enrolled for Corn Growing Contest.

Boys and girls who are to take part in the corn growing contest being conducted by the Duluth Commercial club should begin at once to prepare the ground which they are to till, said A. B. Hostetter, who has charge of the contest, today.

The seed corn will be distributed early next week, and the prospective agriculturists of the city should be ready to plant it without delay. The ground must be spaded, the manure spread and spaded in and the soil warmed for the seed. One hundred contestants are enrolled, and the club would like to have another hundred enter the contest. Any boy or girl under eighteen years of age may enter it.

The seed sweet corn to be distributed is that which took the sweepstake prize at the national corn show at Omaha. It is Minnesota grown.

IS SIR ARTHUR BENNINGTON NOW

Former Duluth Reporter Is Knighted By the King of Italy.

Arthur Bennington of the Sunday staff of the New York World and formerly a reporter on the old Duluth Tribune when it was run by R. C. Mitchell, S. A. Phillips and F. L. Buell, has been knighted by the king of Italy in recognition of distinguished service to italian citizens in America and more especially because of his writings last year, proving that the italian discoverer, Verazzano, sailed into New York bay and found the Hudson river seventy years before Hudsom came in his Dutch ship.

The first intimation of royal recognition came to Mr. Bennington a few weeks ago, in a letter from Count Guicciardini, late Italian minister of foreign affairs, stating that his majesty the king of Italy had appointed Mr. Bennington a chevalier of the Order of the Crown of Italy, and that the insignia of the order would be immediately forwarded to him.

Later came a note from Acting Consul General Di Rossa at New York, notifying him that the cross of the order had been received from the king. Mr. Bennington went to the Italian consulate last week, and the consul general formally decorated him.

The jewel is a pattee cross pendant from a red and white ribbon. The four arms of the cross are of white enamel on gold. The center is a circle of blue enamel, and upon it is the crown of Italy in gold relief.

Mr. Bennington's name was first brought to the attention of the Italian government two years ago, when he "discovered"—as may be said—the Italian historian, Ferrero, and introduced him to Mr. Roosevelt, through whom the historian became known to the whole United States.

Last fall, during the Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York, Mr. Bennington wrote signed articles pointing to Verrazzano as the real discoverer of the Hudson river. These articles were widely copied and reprinted in America and Europe. An immediate result was the erection of a monument to Verrazzano, and, curiously enought, this is now the only statuary memorial of the Hudson-Fulton centennial in New York.

ISLE OF PINES

There are no everglades in the Isle of Pines, consequently no controversy as to the character of the lands or whether it is a fit place for white men.

The Isle of Pines has now about 3,500 white people, and new ones coming every day. They have grape fruit, orange and lemon groves; 900 feet above the sea and are clearing from $400 to $300 per acre.

It is no guess work, no experiment to what can be done, but what they are doing right now. You also can do it. Come and see us. Write us or telephone.

WEST END MADE TOUR OF WORLD

Former Herald Newsboy Home From Naval Service on Furlough.

Was on the American Fleet That Circled the Globe.

With many interesting tales to tell about his trip around the globe, Edward Le Neau, a sailor, in the United States navy, who is serving his third enlistment, is back home in the West end on a short furlough. He is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Le Neau of 2323 West Fifth street.

Mr. Le Neau, when a boy, ten years ago, was a Herald "newsie." He carried a route at the West end for a number of years. In 1900, he enlisted in the navy and was stationed on the U. S. S. New York. He served four years on this ship and then re-enlisted, after he had returned to Duluth for a visit.

Upon his return for the second time, he was placed on the U. S. S. Virginia, where he spent four more years. In 1908 he re-enlisted for the third time and was again consigned to the Virginia. The Virginia was one of the ships in the great Atlantic fleet which encircled the globe.

His trip was a most eventful one, he says. The fleet first went to South America. Ten days were allowed the sailors in each of the ports, and many of them would get leave to make excursons into the surrounding country. Other South American ports were visited and the fleet went "around the horn" and up the western coast to Magdelena bay, where it spent thirty-five days.

From Magdelena bay, the fleet proceeded along the western coast of California, stopping at some of the ports. At San Francisco, the fleet left the command of Admiral Evans and Admiral Speary took charge. Under the command of the new admiral, they sailed to Honolulu, visiting the Hawaiian Islands, New Zealand and a number of Australian ports.

Australia, according to Mr. Le Neau, is one of the most interesting countries in the world, and he says that his stay there gave him a favorable impression. A large percentage of the population is Americans and "nothing was too good for the United States sailors," he said. "They entertained us with dinner parties and balls every evening, even the street cars were free."

According to Mr. Le Neau, the sailors on the fleet had more or an opportunity to see the foreign ports while in Australia than elsewhere. The gold and diamond mines were visited and other scenic trips were taken. Among the Australian ports visited were Sidney, Melbourne and Albany.

Leaving Australia, the fleet proceeded to the Philippine Islands, China and Ceylon. The Indian ocean, with its typhoons was traversed and an interesting trip was made through the Suez canal. "The canal in places," said Mr. Le Neau, "is a mile wide and then again it is so narrow that one could step from the ship on to the beach. In many places for long stretches, it is not as wide as the ship canal into the local harbor."

The trip through the Suez required sixty-two hours as the Virginia and ships of her class cannot travel any faster than four knots or about four and one-half miles an hour.

The Virginia visited some of the different Turkish cities, and the fleet sailed into the harbor at Hampton roads on the morning of Feb 2, 1909.

Mr. Le Neau will leave Duluth for Norfolk, May 17, when his furlough is at an end. He has not yet decided whether he will re-enlist for a fourth time.

April Circulation.

The April circulation of the West end branch of the public library was 771 and the attendance was 1,566, showing the popularity of the institution which was located a few months ago in the Neighborhood house, 2423 West Superior street. The branch is open for three days a week, Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. During the past month forty-one cards were issued.

WOMAN'S BURNS PROVE FATAL

Mrs. Ole Johnson Dies as Result of Injuries Received in Explosion.

Fatally burned in an explosion of an alcohol stove as she was about to prepare some coffee for her husband at their home, 224 South Twenty-seventh avenue west, about 9 o'clock last evening, Mrs. Ole Johnson, 30 years old, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the Duluth hospital, West Duluth, where she had been taken after the accident.

Mr. Johnson had retired for the evening. He told his wife, however, that he would appreciate a cup of coffee before he went to sleep. In the kitchen Mrs. Johnson lighted an alcohol stove with a match. The alcohol had evidently leaked, for the stove exploded, throwing the burning alcohol all over her body.

Her clothes caught fire and she was horribly burned from head to foot. Dr. A. A. Giroux was called and he ordered the woman taken to the Duluth hospital. She suffered great agony from her injuries until death ended.

Mrs. Johnson was married about a year ago. She leaves no children.

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL HOLD MEETING.

J. W. Cummings, who has charge of the investigation of the liability of property-owners for assessment for the Twenty-seventh avenue storm sewer, has received the attorney's opinion and a meeting of those interested will be held tonight at the polling place, Twentieth avenue west and First street, to hear the opinion and discuss the matter. The sewer was laid before the adoption of the amendment to the charter providing for the payment of costs of storm sewers out of the general fund. The assessment for the sewer was made afterwards, however, and the property-owners do not believe they are liable for the assessment. They believe that the charter amendment applies and the attorney's opinion, which was not made public today, covers the point.

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO SWEDISH SINGERS.

Iver Holmberg and Helmer England, members of the Svea Glee club, who will leave this month for New York to join the American Union of Swedish Singers, which sings at the sangerfest in New York, May 28, 29 and 30, after which they will tour Europe, were guests of honor at a farewell reception and banquet last evening at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street.

The young men were presented with signet rings by members of the Svea Glee club. Speeches were made by Charles Forsell, Charles Helmer, Louis Lavine, Charles Sandberg, Gust Carlson and other members of the club.

West End Shortrails.

Waldemar Moe, formerly of the West end now of Fort Totten, N. D., is here on a visit with friends and relatives. He is the son of John J. Moe, former alderman of the Seventh ward, now touring Europe.

Mrs. John Thygeson of 127 North Twenty-sixth avenue west will entertain the Girl's Sewing Circle of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church at her home this evening.

Mrs. Charles W. Wilson gave a talk on Sunday school work, yesterday morning at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street.

The meeting of the West End Hillside Improvement club, which was to have been held Friday evening, has been postponed on account of the Sven Republican club banquet.

Paul Percham has purchased a lot and will build a residence on Devonshire street between Michigan and Winnipeg avenues.

Mr and Mrs. O. B. Johnson and daughter have returned from a visit to Dunsmore, Fla. After a week's stay in Duluth they will return to the South where they will make their future home.

The City Democratic club will meet Thursday evening at Sloan's hall. A good program has been arranged for the occasion. A sparring match was pulled off at the last meeting.

BIG DULUTHS WIN AT TWO HARBORS

Murphy Pitches Fine Game and Duluth Players Hit Well.

The Big Duluths defeated the fast Two Harbors team yesterday at Two Harbors by a score of 5 to 4. The game was fast and interesting and was not decided until the last man was out in the ninth inning, when Two Harbors had two men on bases and one man out, but the next two batters failed to score the necessary runs.

Roberts was knocked out of the box in the sixth, when the clothiers connected with his curves for four hits, including a double by Bennett and a home run by Wentlandt, netting three runs. He was replaced by Murray, formerly of the Duluth White Sox.

Murphy for the Big Duluths pitched a strong game, striking out twelve men and keeping the hits well scattered except in the sixth inning, when the Two Harbors players got to him for three successive hits. A beautiful one-handed catch of a hard line drive by Olson, completing a double play, ended the scoring for the up-lake team.

The clothiers won out in the eighth whn Sturm reached first on an error and scored on Huber's three-bagger to deep center field.

The feature of the game was the pitching of Murphy and Olson's catch of Murray's line drive.

Tea-Tasting.

The grading of teas for market is accomplished by tasting. Very few men have the delicacy of taste requisite for the purpose, and they are able to command big salaries. People with particular tastes drink Golden Grain Belt beer. Owing to its deliciousness, it has won a high stand in the American home. Get a case and be convinced. "ROUND UP" COMES BY SPECIAL TRAIN

Thirteen Cars Used to Transport Klaw & Erlanger's Big Production.

What is probably the largest theatrical special that ever entered Duluth arrived this morning from Winnipeg. It comprised thirteen cars, consisting of three sleepers, five sixty-foot baggage cars, two palace horse cars, a parlor car, a coach and a dining car. It carried Klaw & Erlanger's massive production, "The Round-Up," in which 134 people are regularly employed, besides many "supers," who are obtained in each city. "The Round-Up" opens a week's engagement at the Lyceum tonight.

The train left Winnipeg Sunday afternoon and arrived here shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. The train's schedule called only for stops necessary to operation. The scenery was taken to the Lyceum in drays which required twenty-eight teams and about 100 men to handle.

The Lyceum theater was crowded Saturday night with members of the Zenith Council, United Commercial Travelers, and their friends, who laughed and enjoyed themselves hugely. The show was given by the traveling men to obtain funds which will be expended in advertising the Zenith City at the state convention at Stillwater.

The cast comprised twenty-eight people and included the following: Thomas L. Chisholm, A. R. Hamilton, F. L. Levy, Orlando Olson, John Froman, P. E. McCormick, A. L. Taylor, George Mason, Stanley Lamb, Miss Marie Martel, Charles Vollner, James Dunn, W. P. Melberg, D. T. Shawhan, Guy Engels, Miss Hazel Dell Chandler, Harry Hall, E. N. Hagenson, Signor I. Phenlpl, P. N. Oss, Joe Sattler, P. B. Howard, William Nesbitt, J. E. Lawrence, Hance Wahl, Horace Diller and Bert Holcombe.

The specialties were excellent and the singing was tuneful. Miss Martel, and Messrs. Oss, Hagenson and Hall were the favorites, and the others did capable work which was highly appreciated.

THEATER OWNERS FORM ASSOCIATION.

Following the alliance of John Cort, the Shuberts and theatrical managers of the West and Northwest, the National Theater Owners' association has been formed. Among the members is the Copper and Iron circuit, managed by C. A. Marshall of Duluth. The association represents seventy-five well known theater owners, who control 1,200 theaters in the United States and Canada. The officers are: John Cort, president; Mose Reis, vice president; J. J. Coleman, secretary; Albert Weis, treasurer. Bookings for these theaters, which include the Lyceum of this city, will be independent hereafter.

OBJECTS TO SMOKE AND SUES $00 FOR DAMAGES.

Minot, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming that the fact that the Soo railroad has placed its tracks near his property has damaged it, J. H. Charlebois has commenced an action for $4,000 against the company. The damage, he contends, has been done through the prevalence of smoke from trains. The case will come up in the Ward county district court.

Merry Cannot be Found.

Dickinson, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although officials of Stark and Foster counties have been using their best efforts to locate C. F. Merry of this city they have been unsuccessful. He is wanted for alleged crookedness in connection with the promotion of a railroad in Hettinger and Adams counties, and it is claimed that he got more or less money out of certain Foster county residents.

STEIN-BLOCH
Smart Clothes represent the biggest values to be had in clothesdom.

It is true, Stein-Bloch clothes are tailored in Rochester—in the most highly developed tailor shops in America.

But Stein-Bloch style is not made in Rochester.

Your tailor copies from lithographed charts that come from some so-called "fashion authority."

Stein-Bloch style is a composite reflection of what the most fashionably dressed men of Europe and America wear and approve.

These details are sketched or noted in the fashionable clubs of London or Paris, or on the promenades of the Riviera, Palm Beach or Fifth avenue.

They are carefully adapted, then tailored into Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes by the most skilled, most finished tailors money can hire.

Finally by production according to the most modern methods they are brought here to Duluth and are within your reach at prices ranging from $20 to $35.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Madison Independent Press is moved to inquire into the motives that actuate Alvah Eastman, editor of the St. Cloud Journal-Press, in his role of critic in general to the politicians of Minnesota. The Journal-Press recently said that Frank Day would decide and execute all things in connection with the coming state convention of the Democratic party, and said it with a world of sarcasm. The Madison paper retorts:

Eastman as G. O. P. Chairman.

"Being a steel-ribbed and copper-bottomed Republican sheet, the query naturally arises what business is it of the Journal-Press who manages the Democratic campaign? Its editor had better devote his energies to the work of securing an equally astute political manager for the Republican party. And, by the way, Mr. Eastman ought to tell us who fixed things with the whisky crowd in the last Republican state convention? When it comes to this brewery, trust, corporation business it is a case of the pot calling the kettle black for the leaders of either party to say anything about the attitude of the other, and so far as bossing the job is concerned we wonder if the editor of the Journal-Press wouldn't like to handle the Republican side of the fight?"

A. L. Hanson of Ada has made formal announcement of his candidacy for renomination and re-election to the state senate. He says that at a later date he will make known his platform.

The Fergus Falls Free Press, which is very eager to have the Republicans nominate Dr. Cole for lieutenant governor, insists that it makes no difference how many nominees may live in any one congressional district.

Nominations and Geography.

Says the Free Press:

"The political writers of the Twin City papers seem to think it an impossibility to nominate two or more state officers from the same congressional district—unless it be the St. Paul or Minneapolis district. Hence they reason with great profundity that if Al Kaiser of Barley is named for state treasurer, Dr. Cole of Fergus Falls cannot be nominated for lieutenant governor, as both reside in the Ninth congressional district. How absurd, when you think about it. Let us suppose that Mr. Kaiser lived twenty miles to the south of Fergus Falls instead of about 150 miles to the north. Then, according to the sacred political custom, both he and Dr. Cole could be nominated, for then they would be in different congressional districts, although near neighbors compared to what they now are.

"It ought to make no difference whatever whether one or more men from the same district are nominated, if they are the best men, and we believe the sober, sensible voters would prefer a ticket of strong, able, honest men from one end of the state than an indifferent set of men from all over the state.

"Peanut politicians argue against a state-wide primary because it makes it impossible for them to distribute the offices geographically. That argument is on a par with the argument that you must be sure to pick a representative of every nationality, both being an insult to the intelligence and the patriotism of the people."

The Duluth Democratic club will meet Thursday evening, when an entertainment of some kind will be put on. The nature of the program has not been made known, but it is probable that wrestling will be a feature.

* * *

R. C. Dunn of Princeton is not one of those who believes that nationality no longer cuts much of a figure in Minnesota politics. He was in St. Paul the other day and talked of the coming campaign freely. The Princeton man said he has not decided to run for the legislature. As for opposing Eberhart for the gubernatorial nomination, he does not think that a desirable course for him to pursue. He is quoted as saying:

Bob Dunn and the Legislature.

"If a man like Brower or Lee or myself should beat him, it would only mean defeat at the polls. Eberhart is the first Swedish Republican governor, and if the party turns him down it would be only natural for his countrymen to vote Democratic, at least if Lind is nominated. Nationality still cuts a big figure in politics."

Ole E. Reiergard, editor of the Ulen Union, has been appointed postmaster. He has shown an inclination to boost the candidacy of H. O. Bjorge for congress against Halvor Steenerson, it is said, and is the second Ninth district man to be given a postmastership within two weeks. Comment is heard to the effect that "Insurgent" Steenerson has made peace with the Washington machine, or he wouldn't have the places at his disposal. Martin Widsten, one of the shrewdest maneuverers in the district, is now out "on the job" for Steenerson.

PAY TRIBUTE TO MOTHERS

Many Thousands of Carnations Worn Sunday By Duluth People.

Supply of White Flowers Exhausted Early and Colored Flowers Worn.

Mother's day was generally observed in Duluth.

Late Saturday afternoon there was not a carnation to be had at any one of the Zenith City flower stores. The demand was very great and increased Sunday. When the supply was exhausted, many bought and wore roses although it was impossible after 9 o'clock Sunday morning to get white ones.

A local florist said that it was the biggest flower wearing day in the history of the city. It is estimated that between 6,000 and 7,000 flowers were worn Sunday.

The pastors of the city assisted in the celebrating of Mother's day by preaching appropriate sermons. The churches were all well filled at both the morning and the evening services.

In the parks, on the streets, and in fact everywhere about the city, carnations and other flowers were worn. The wearing of the flowers was contagious and many people after seeing others wearing them went at once to the nearest florist's.

Sunday was made to order for those folks who like to get out of doors. The shower in the afternoon cooled the atmosphere and added to the comfort of the weather.

The parks were visited by hundreds and the woods near town were a favorite rendezvous for pleasure seekers and picnickers. Many people went to the boat club and a large crowd saw Duluth beat Superior at Athletic park.

The parks are beginning to take on their green dress of summer and the woods are losing the dull gray shades of winter. Rain is seriously needed as the woods are dry and susceptible to fires.

A good smoke—the Opulento.

GUARD ATTACKED BY ARMED MEN

Sheriff and Coroner Investigate Fatal Battle at Yukon, Pa.

Greensburg, Pa., May 9.—An investigation today by county authorities, including the sheriff and coroner, in unearthing many details of a battle waged yesterday between mine guards and miners employed in the Westmoreland Coal company's mines at Yukon.

The sheriff has learned, it is reported, that mine guards, escorting non-union miners to the mines shaft, were fired upon from ambush by a crowd of men armed with rifles, shotguns and revolvers. Over three hundred shots were fired.

As a result of the shooting, Paul Reno, a miner, is dead, Henry Ceci and George Wise, both miners, are probably fatally wounded and a score of others are in hospitals here suffering from lesser wounds.

Miss Annie Bartek, housekeeper for a Catholic priest at Yukon, was wounded twice in the left leg by bullets from revolvers while watching the rioting from her doorstep. W. O. Smith, the postmaster of Yukon, a bystander, was also shot twice in the legs. Anton Lauris received twelve wounds in the body and legs. The coroner says that many more persons were shot than have been located and are probably being taken care of in friends' homes.

MAKE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME

Supreme Court's Action May Begin New Era in Criminal Law.

Washington, May 9.—The supreme court of the United States has inaugurated what is designated as a new era in the punishment of criminals—that of requiring punishments to be proportionate to the offense. The court last Monday, for the first time in its history, set at liberty a person convicted of an offense, because there had been inflicted upon him "a cruel and unusual punishment." It was in the case of Paul Weems, an official in the lighthouse service in the Philippines.

It was admited that, in the musty precedents of the past, the English-speaking people had used this phrase only to prohibit the resort to inhuman methods for causing bodily torture. It had been used to prevent a return to the Roman custom of sewing a parricide into a leathern bag with a live dog, a cock, a viper and an ape, and casting it into the sea, and to the English custom of disemboweling traitors and burning alive females who committed treason.

Much speculation exists as to the effect of the decision. A flood of applications to release prisoners sent to the penitentiary by the federal courts on the ground that the punishment was not proportionate to the offense, may result.

CHECK UP THE CENSUS.

Big Force of Employes Begins Work at Washington.

Washington, May 9.—With 300 semi-automatic electrical punching machines and a force of 3,000 temporary employes besides the regular census clerks at work, the returns from the national census are being checked up by the department in this city.

In addition to the main building of the bureau, two others have been leased, giving a total floor space of 150,000 square feet.

The enumerators' schedules have begun to arrive, but it will be several weeks before official announcement is made of the total population of any city in the country. The population of the cities will be tabulated, after which the states and minor civil divisions will be completed. C. Dana Durand, director of the bureau announced today that "no preliminary official statement would be issued by the bureau until the established court for each of the different areas has been made." There will be no "rough counts" or "approximations," he added, and "no sacrifice of accuracy for haste." Work will be carried on nights as well as days.

Le Grand Powers, chief of the statistical division, does not expect to publish any information regarding the farm census of 1909 until Sept. 15, when he may issue the first preliminary bulletin giving for each state and territory the totals derived from the tabulation separately of general farm data, the principal crops and the livestock on farms and ranges.

J. W. MERRITT ELECTED TO PHI BETA KAPPA.

Evanston, Ill., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The names of the students elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholarship fraternity, have been made public by the members of the Northwestern University faculty. Twenty-five seniors are on the list. This is the smallest number chosen in the last five years. Among them are Mervyna Dalson of Elgin, Edwin F. Hirsch of Wauwatosa, Wis., and John W. Merritt, Duluth.

MEAT CUTTERS MEET IN LOUISVILLE, KY.

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—The National Meat Cutters' association, formally organized in convention this morning for its sessions here, which will continue through two days. Over a hundred delegates are present, among the last to arrive today being those from Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth and Springfield, Ill.

If a few more table guests would make it profitable for you to keep boarders, then you have business for a Herald want ad.

PETER REISS IS LAUNCHED

New Vessel Takes Its First Dip in Water at Superior.

Minor Accident Mars Festivities Connected With Christening.

Before a crowd of 3,000 people, the steamer Peter Reiss was launched today at the Superior shipyards, the big boat dipping into the slip at a few minutes after noon, amid the shrill whistles of a number of boats and the plaudits of the big crowd.

Miss Carita Reiss of Cheboygan, Mich., daughter of the man for whom the boat was named, christened the vessel. As the steamer slid down the skids, Miss Reiss raised high the bottle of champagne and struck the side of the fifty-sixth boat to be constructed at the Superior shipyards.

The new boat is of 7,500 tons capacity. It is 545 feet over all and has a beam of 54 feet. It is of steel and will enter the freight and ore carrying trade of the Great Lakes. The Peter Reiss was built by the North American Steamship Company of Cleveland, Ohio, and the manager of the company, Roy Williams, was up from Cleveland with a party of friends to witness the christening.

There were also a large number of Cheboygan people present, including Peter Reiss and a party of his friends.

The boat that was launched today is the second vessel built by the North American company. Saturday the A. M. Beyers was launched at Cleveland. The Peter Reiss is constructed of steel and is one of the big modern carriers of the Great Lakes.

A peculiar accident marred the festivities connected with the christening of the big vessel.

Bruno Schall, a laborer employed at the shipyards, was standing behind some planking near the rigging that was left. A huge wave, caused by the vessel dipping into the slip, struck the planking, knocked it back onto the laborer, breaking his arm and bruising him. The suction of the wave as it washed back into the slip nearly carried the injured man into the water.

Bystanders grabbed him and prevented him from being carried from shore. Aside from his broken arm, Schall is not seriously injured.

BLOCKADE AT SOO DUE TO LOW WATER

Stage of St. Mary's River Responsible for Congestion of Shipping.

Saulte Ste. Marie, Mich., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Navigation is being seriously retarded because of the low stage of water in St. Mary's river.

Both locks are in commission but nevertheless there is a blockade of forty-five vessels above the locks. They are loaded to the draft recommended last year, and consequently cannot get through the Poe lick which has only eighteen feet of water over the sill. In the future boats will not be loaded to the 19-foot draft.

As soon as the present blockade is broken there will be no further trouble, it is believed.

THIRTEEN WAS THE BOAT'S HOODOO.

Is it a wonder that the steamer F. A. Myer was lost? The boat was lost last December. She sailed from this port on Friday, the 13th of last August. The boat carried $13,000 insurance. She had a crew of thirteen men. Her cargo consisted of 1,200,000 feet of lumber. She had been in the port of Duluth just thirteen days. The boat finished the season and then came the offer to take a load of lumber from Lake Michigan to Lake Erie.

The same crew of thirteen took the boat out and she sank in seventy feet of water on Dec. 13.

FEW CHARTERS MADE FOR GRAIN

East Believes Prices Will Go Lower and Demand Is Light.

An inquiry among vessel agents today, brought out the fact that there is little immediate prospect of an increase in chartering for grain cargoes.

Down East there is an opinion that the price of grain is too high. As long as the price remains where it is at the present time, or until the time the Eastern buyers become convinced that the price is likely to remain at the present figure for some time, or even go nigher, there is little prospect for much grain chartering at the Head of the Lakes.

This is the opinion of several vessel agents. They state that there is an opinion prevalent in the East that the price will drop, and if such a thing does occur, there is likely to be an increased demand for grain charters.

As to the coal situation, there is practically no advance of hard coal on the docks of Duluth. There is practically no demand for hard coal at this time, however.

Coal men here say there will be a steady and increasing coal movement to the Head of the Lakes, as there is an immense amount of coal to be brought here, the docks being clear at the present time.

Estimates made by local coal men, indicate that the consumption of coal at the Head of the Lakes, which includes the consumption of the ranges, will be greater the present fiscal year than ever before in the history of industrial operations in this territory.

This estimate is based upon the increased consumption required by Duluth and the ranges the past year. Duluth is becoming the center of an active market, and for that reason coal men point out that the marine movement of coal to the port of Duluth will be a steady and increasingly heavy one from the present time until the close of navigation.

Some of the boats are coming light to the Head of the Lakes, which coal men believe will not be the case later in the season, when the coal movement shows an increase over the present movement.

MUCH SPAWN PLACED.

Gull Lake, Near Brainerd, Received Millions of Fish Eggs.

Brainerd, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gull lake, near here, has been stocked with pike spawn this spring and something like 10,000,000 fertilized eggs were placed by I. U. White of Brainerd, during the time the fish and game commission were getting their spawn for the fish hatcheries. Some criticism has been indulged in in former years regarding the taking of spawn from the lake, but when it is known that a plant of this kind equals all the spawn that would be deposited in the natural way in the lake during the season and that the results are one hundred fold greater, it can be understood why the commission does not damage the fishing in their spring campaign. The replacing of the spawn and the knowledge that it is done will be pleasing news to the Izaac Waltons of this locality.

PRESS GANG MEETING.

Interesting Time Is Expected at Walker June 3, 4 and 5.

Bemidji, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The preliminary arrangements for the annual outing of the members of the North-Central Minnesota Editorial association have been completed. The outing will be held June 3, 4 and 5, at "Glengarry," P. H. McGarry's summer resort on Leech Lake, near Walker. Mr. McGarry, P. A. Dare of the Walker Pilot, vice president of the association, Mayor Scribner, "Bert" Chase, proprietor of the Hotel Chase, and other Walker people are planning to give the visiting scribes a right royal reception.

Congressman Lindberg has agreed to be present. Governor Eberhart has agreed to be present at the banquet Saturday night, June 5, and deliver an address.

A. G. Rutledge of Bemidji, secretary-treasurer of the editorial association, has just issued and interesting circular relative to the coming outing.

DIES EXACTLY ONE YEAR FOLLOWING HIS FATHER.

Cloquet, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Hall, a pioneer resident of this city, died at his home here Saturday evening from a complication of pneumonia and tuberculosis after a lingering illness of several months. The deceased came to this city from New Carlyle, Quebec, Can., about twenty-seven years ago, and during his life here he has made a host of friends, who grieve his departure. A peculiar coincidence in his death is that exactly one year ago and at almost the same hour, his father died. He is survived by a wife and two children. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen and the United Workmen. The funeral took place this afternoon from the Episcopal church.

IS TESTING HORSES THAT ARE ABOUT TO BE SHIPPED.

Brainerd, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. C. A. Nelson has gone to Staples, Minn., to examine two carloads of horses destined for shipment to Montana and Canada. He will apply the mallein test, which is used to detect the presence of glanders. The state law of Montana as well as the laws of the Canadian provinces require all horses to be submitted to this test before their importation will be allowed.

New Montana Railroad.

Lewistown, Mont., May 9.—The Great Northern railroad has filed in the district court here condemnation suits against property owners for its proposed line from Hanekx, on the Billings & Northern near here, to Mondak on the North Dakota-Montana line. The new road will be 350 miles long and tap a rich section at present without railroad facilities.

BROTHER SHOOTS BROTHER FOLLOWING A QUARREL.

Bismarck, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Hambeck was brought to this city suffering from a bullet wound inflicted, it is alleged, by his brother, Charles. The two men became engaged in a quarrel on their farm near Coleharbor where they live and the shooting followed.

According to the story of Oscar he was the original offender and attacked his brother with an ax when Charles rushed into the house and securing a revolver fired at Oscar and the bullet went entirely through his body just above the left lung.

Oscar Hambeck, the injured man, has been an inmate of the state insane asylum and has been out only for a year.

LOUISIANA SOLONS TALK OF PROHIBITION.

Baton Rouge, La., May 9.—The Louisiana general assembly met here today. Among the questions discussed in a preliminary way by the attending representatives and senators was statewide prohibition and the possible repeal of the anti-race track measure adopted at the last session.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

U. S. REPORT WAS BEARISH

Wheat Declines Here Under Heavy Pressere After Noon Hour.

Little Stuff Bought on Decline---Flax Dull and Unchanged.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 9.—The government's bearish report at noon today came after the wheat market had advanced about 1c, the bulls discounting what they thought would be a bullish report. As soon as the report was made public there was a rush to sell although not much stuff was wanted until the market hit a bunch of resting orders. The market rallied as it became congested but the pressure was steady and insistent and values declined. Values were down about 1½c from the day's high level. May closed ⅝c under Saturday's close. July ¾c under and September 1⅝c under, this option reflecting the influence of effects of the report more than any of the others.

May wheat opened at $1.13⅛ bid, went to $1.13½ bid and sold at $1.13⅝, $1.12¾ bid, closed $1.12¼ bid. July opened at $1.12⅝ bid, sold at $1.13⅝, $1.13, $1.13⅛, $1.13⅝, $1.12 and closed $1.12 bid. September opened at $1.03¾, sold at $1.03⅝-¾ and $1.02, closing $1.02.

Flax was dull. May opened at $2.35 and sold at $2.35½, $2.35 and closed $2.35 bid. July was $2.32 bid. September opened $1.75 and sold ½c higher, closing $1.75½, October was $1.67 bid.

Cash equaled May. Oats closed ⅝c off, durum ½c off; barley and rye were unchanged.

Wheat opened strong and advanced about 1c, the bulls buying steadily especially in the distant months. When the government's report was issued the market broke and values declined about 1c but toward the close the market strengthened. The fluctuations were violent and the market was erratic.

The government estimated the condition of winter wheat on May 1 at 82.1 per cent compared with 90.8 in April and 83.5 per cent May 1 last year. The government's estimate is about 4 per cent higher than most people had expected. The trade thought the estimate would be about 75 per cent. The abandoned acreage was estimated by the government at 4,439,000 which suggests a crop of 417,000,000 bu based on the acreage of 31,013,000 sown last fall. The lowest May condition in recent years was in 1902 when it was estimated at 76.4 per cent. The largest loss in acreage was in 1904 when it was 4,891,000 acres. The area of winter wheat to be harvested is 29,044,000 acres or 714,000 more than the area harvested last year.

The government's report indicates that the condition of wheat has improved considerably since the April report was given out. It is somewhat at variance with the reports of several well known experts. However, many people looked for a bearish report basing their expectations on the Missouri report which came after the close Saturday. The Missouri report showed that the condition of wheat in that state had increased from 67 per cent in April to 70.5 per cent May 1.

The general rains that have fallen in the winter wheat belt in the last few days have been widespread and undoubtedly have been of great benefit to the growing plant. As market factors they have been ignored chiefly because the bear element has been afraid to sell the market. Several times this year they have essayed their role bravely and several times they have met with severe punishment. This has made them cautious. The bulls are disposed to carry the market along as fast as possible although at the opening today there was considerable profit taking by longs.

The bulge which followed today's opening was due to some extent to stop-loss buying. The congestion in Chicago May was apparent and it was the firmest option there. Shorts appear sufficiently anxious to make the option exceptionally strong. The deferred futures were buoyant, the bulls adding to their accumulations. There was a rush to sell after the government's report was made public and the market became quickly congested and rallied. Many longs endeavored to take profits while a few shorts thought it a good time to cover in the excitement. Their buying was of little importance, however.

The Liverpool market opened strong but declined. Pressure to sell from Russia was the leading bear factor. Foreign crop conditions are excellent.

Cash offerings in this market today were freer than for some time. The mills paid 1c over the current option, while the elevators maintained cash values on a parity with May.

Crop reports were bearish, mostly. Messages said that wheat in the lowlands of Missouri has improved wonderfully in the last few days. Reports from the Red river valley said that the new plant there had not been injured by the late freeze. The entire wheat belt, according to a government forecast, will have fair weather tomorrow.

Finley Barrell & Co. said: "The spring wheat farmers have seeded a record area and should harvest a greater crop than last year, which was the largest ever gathered. Given allowing for more deterioration than a year ago, the increased acreage should insure a yield fully as large, and on the whole the start has been earlier and favorable. Damage reports received from parts of Minnsota, South Dakota and the Red river valley claiming that low temperatures hurt the germinating seed. The season is still early enough to permit reseeding and the possible loss in the wheat area from this cause is not considered important. In contrast to the development of the plants in the Southwest, which have lacked vigor in the form of severe winter killing, the spring wheat should be well rooted and able to stand the ordinary vicissitudes of the growing period with good resisting power. There has been little or average rainfall the last month, but there has been sufficient moisture to develop the plants although warm rains will be needed soon to check apprehension even if it does not stay the progress of the crop."

Broomhall cabled: Wheat at opening displayed a firm undertone and prices were ½d to 1d higher than Friday's close. Offerings light, prompted by strength in America on Saturday and fears of a bullish American government report which started shorts covering. Following opening there was a further advance of ½d on light worlds shipments to United Kingdom, 3,808,000 bu versus 5,208,000 bu last week, and decrease in amount on passage. Later, profit taking developed and prices broke sharply, losing ¾d to ⅞d from opening. Selling was due to fact that Russian shippers are pressing at a decline and buyers believe Russia free arcline and buyers believe Russia free arcline and buyers believe Russia free arc

RAILROAD BILL GIVEN HOUSE O.K.

Measure Is Passed By the Representatives After Few Changes.

Fourteen Democrats Unite With Republicans on the Vote.

Mann Amendment on Acquiring Stock Last to Be Beaten.

Washington, May 10.—The administration railroad bill was passed by the house today by a vote of 200 to 126, all of the Republicans, including the "insurgents," being joined by fourteen Democrats in passing the measure.

The traffic agreement clause and the provision permitting railroads to purchase the stock of non-competing transportation companies were the chief features of the measure as reported to the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce that were stricken out by the house. In other respects the provisions of the measure, as drafted by Attorney-General Wickersham at the instigation of President Taft and later amended in committee, were but slightly changed during its passage through the house.

The sections to provide for the creation of a commerce court were retained with but few amendments, as were the paragraphs placing limitations upon issues of stocks.

"It is the best bill ever passed by the house," said Mr. Mann of Illinois, in charge of the measure, immediately after its passage today.

The last amendment to be acted upon was one presented to Representative Mann of Illinois, authorizing the acquisition by railroad companies of the stock of non-competing lines. It was voted down by 169 to 160.

BLOOD-STAINED AUTO IS FOUND

Chicago, May 10.—An automobile with bloodstains on the wheels, found abandoned in an alley here today, is believed to be the machine which caused the death of Mrs. Albert Behr last night.

Mrs. Behr and her husband, a carpenter, were about to cross the street when the car is said to have swerved and struck Mrs. Behr, who was almost decapitated before the eyes of her husband. The chauffeur did not stop, it is reported, and quickly disappeared into Linoln park. The alley in which the machine was found by detectives today is several miles from the scene of the accident.

A police captain whose son is believed to have been one of five men in the car is active in conducting the investigation. Three saloonkeepers and the driver are said to have been the other occupants.

BIG GUNS ON THE BATTLESHIP MICHIGAN.

THE MICHIGAN IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

New York, May 10.—The battleship Michigan, characterized as the strongest vessel in the United States navy outside of the new dreadnoughts, is in New York harbor for the first time. The Michigan is a vessel of 16,000 tons and was launched at the yard of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J., in May, 1908. The Michigan did not go into commission until November of last year. She is commanded by Capt. N. R. Usher, who was connected with the bureau of navigation. Besides her advantage of armament, the Michigan is one of the speeders of the battleship squadron.

MAKES STIR IN NORWAY

Col. Roosevelt Denies Statement Credited to Norse Ex-Premier.

Refuses to Be Drawn Into Discussion of Nation's Politics.

Christiania, May 10.—Mr. Roosevelt's visit here has been followed by an incident which is making a sensation in Norway. Mr. Roosevelt has severely censured ex-Premier Gunnar Knudsen, who is now vice president of the parliament, for using his name and quoting him as a partisan in Norwegian politics.

The ex-premier has been making a campaign and has introduced a bill in parliament for the conservation of the natural resources, chiefly the water power, and the opposition party has been fighting this scheme as an infringement on private rights. At the recent gala dinner at the castle Mr. Knudsen had a conversation with Mr. Roosevelt on this subject. The latter, in the belief that he was speaking on general principles, expressed warm sympathy in the work. Mr. Knudsen

CANADA IS ADVERTISING

Therefore the Dominion Gets Many People From United States.

Thirty-Three Per Cent of Recent Immigrants Merely Crossed Border.

Washington, May 10.—That systematic advertising of the country in the interests of immigration as carried on by Canada is shown by official reports received at the office of Daniel J. Keefe, commissioner general of immigration of the United States. The result is that the dominion gets a large number of farmers from the Western prairies. The farmer is followed by the merchant with whom he has done business; then by the manufacturer.

PERU IS GETTING READY FOR WAR

Active Preparations to Fight With Ecuador Are Made By Citizens.

Lima, Peru, May 10.—Active preparations for a possible war with Ecuador continue. Volunteers are enlisting daily and the war fund is being constantly increased by private donations. In this city and its immediate vicinity 24,000 soldiers are quartered, while 10,000 additional troops are stationed near the frontier.

The Peruvian government believes it has reliable information that an effort is being made by Ecuador to obtain an alliance with Bolivia as against Peru. To this end, it is asserted, a member of the Ecuadorian cabinet left Guayaquil today for La Paz, Bolivia, under instructions to negotiate with the Bolivian government and the Chilean minister at that capital.

TOFTE, MINN., IS HALF DESTROYED BY FOREST FIRE---MANY SMALLER BLAZES ABOUT HEAD OF THE LAKES

Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin Report Minor Outbreaks.

Cottages of Duluth People Are Said to Be in Path of Fire.

Michigan Town Is Threatened and People Are Leaving---Two Men Are Hurt.

With one town half wiped out and other places on the shore of Lake Superior in imminent danger, forest and brush fires that may be subdued by a heavy rain or that may be fanned by the wind into disastrous conflagrations, were reported to The Herald today throughout Northern Minnesota, Michigan and parts of Wisconsin.

As far as is known, no lives have been lost. The total damage done thus far is beyond any possibility of calculation. In several sections large forces of men are out fighting the flames. In others every possible precaution to prevent their spread has been taken, and all depends now on whether there is a heavy rain that will quench the fires, or a high wind that will give life to the element.

Homes Are Burned.

Judging from reports received in Duluth this morning, the entire northeastern part of Minnesota is smoldering and smoking, with here and there a forest fire blazing up and threatening some settler's home, or some little village.

From the Reservation river thirty miles beyond Grand Marais to points along the Northern Pacific fifty miles west of Duluth, come reports of forest fires, and from Ely to the lake shore the woods are smoking and crackling.

Tofte Half Destroyed.

REFUSES TO FREE HEINZE

Court Declines to Direct Acquittal or to Cancel Evidence.

Copper Magnate Gains Dismissal of Two More Indictments.

New York, May 10.—F. A. Heinze, former president of the Mercantile National bank, had only the events of one day—Oct. 14, 1907—to account for when his counsel today took up his defense on the government's charges of overcertification of checks and misapplication of the bank's funds.

All the other counts in the Heinze indictments have been thrown out from time to time by the court. The last, except those covering the happenings of Oct. 14, were dismissed by Judge Hough in the United States circuit court after the government closed its case yesterday.

The court ruled that the government had failed to connect Heinze with the operations of the United Copper pool managed by his brother's firm, Otto Heinze & Co., in the interest of which the prosecution alleged Heinze had misapplied the bank's cash and credit.

The trial now has narrowed down to the charge that Heinze overcertified fifteen checks of his brother's firm.

UNITE AGAINST MUTUAL HUSBAND

Wives Meet for First Time in Police Court at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 10.—"I wish all us wives could get together and surround that fellow and stick hatpins in him," said Edith Ebling Tetlow, when she confronted a woman who claimed to have married Mr. Tetlow previously.

"Wouldn't that be fine?" replied Clara Jordan Tetlow, whose heart had also been won by Tetlow, who is now missing with Clara Jordan's sister.

The two women met unexpectedly in police court when they appeared to complain against the recreant husband. They embraced and agreed to jointly prosecute Tetlow, who is said to be in New York.

Ex-President's Arrival in Berlin Marred By Mistake About Train.

Potsdam, May 10.—The much-discussed meeting of Emperor William and Thedore Roosevelt took place today.

The visit of the former president at the new palace was devoid of any spectacular feature inconsistent with the court mourning for King Edward, but the occasion lacked nothing from the view point of hospitality and the purpose to honor the distinguished American.

Mr. Roosevelt, who arrived in Berlin this morning and spent the forenoon at the American embassy, was escorted to Potsdam this afternoon by Gen. Alfred von Loewenfeld, personal representative of the emperor, who was to have met Mr. Roosevelt at the railway station in Berlin this morning but who, in common with American Ambassador Hill, misjudged the hour of the special's arrival. The general joined the party at the American embassy.

Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied here by Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Kermit, Mr. Hill and Mrs. Hill, Capt. Samuel G. Shartle, the military attache, and Lieut. Commander Reginald R. Belknap, the naval attache of the American embassy.

Met by the Emperor.

As their carriages drove up into the court yard, Emperor William appeared at the principal entrance of the new

MURDERERS ARE STILL AT LARGE

Burglars Who Killed Two Servants Elude New York Police.

New York, May 10.—The burglars who murdered Dr. Mott D. Cannon's housekeeper, Miss Margaret Meehan, and his Hindu butler, Charles Beman, yesterday, have slipped through the hands of the police for the time at least.

Police Capt. Arthur Carey said today he believed the robbers were known to both the housekeeper and the butler and that they committed the murders to cover their tracks. He thinks that they had gathered together the doctor's money and jewelry when they were discovered by the housekeeper, whom they shot. The sound of the shot evidently brought the butler running upstairs. His body was found at the foot of the basement stairs.

JUDGE CHAMBERS IS NAMED AS ARBITER.

Washington, May 10.—Judge William Lea Chambers of this city today was appointed as third arbiter of the controversy between forty-nine railroads operating in the territory west of Chicago and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

COMPLAINT IN FLOUR CASE OUT

Federal Ruling on Bleached Goods Is Upheld at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 10.—Judge Smith McPherson in the federal court, today dismissed the complaint of the Shawnee Milling company of Kansas and Updike Milling company of Omaha, brought in behalf of the Western Milling company, asking that United States District Attorney M. L. Temple of Iowa be enjoined from seizing bleached flour shipped into Iowa. The court upholds the federal ruling as regards bleached flour.

HUNTS GAMBLERS AND FINDS CORPSE

Policeman Makes Grisly Discovery in Abandoned Cemetery.

Washington, May 10.—While pursuing several crap shooters across a long-abandoned cemetery, now overgrown with bushes, John M. Horton, a policeman, found what he thought to be one of the negroes "playing possum" by lying on the ground. Horton shook the man vigorously and told him to get up and "come along." The figure on the ground, however, refused to obey, and the officer discovered on closer examination that the man was dead. He was about 20 years old and white, and by his side lay an empty carbolic acid bottle which told the tale.

The crap shooters made good their escape.

THINK EXPLOSION HALLEY'S COMET

Pennsylvanians Are Scared When Nitro-Glycerin Goes Off.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 10.—The explosion today of a large quantity of nitro-glycerin stored in a magazine at Burgettstown, fourteen miles from here, blew into atoms an oil well shooter, Frank McCullough, and caused many frightened countryside dwellers to rush out of their houses into the street shouting that Halley's comet had struck the earth. A negro walking across fields half a mile from the nitro-glycerine magazine was knocked to the ground.

At Greensburg, eighteen miles from the scene of the explosion, houses were rocked to their foundations. In Pittsburg a man flying carrier pigeons says his birds were stunned and fell to the ground by the "force wave" of the explosion. The explosion broke hundreds of windows at Burgettstown.

QUIET AGAIN IN LONDON

British Capital Is Assuming Something of Normal Aspect.

Changes Have Been Made in Plans for Funeral of Late King.

London, May 10.—The city is again assuming a comparatively normal aspect. Excepting for the appearance of mourning emblems along the streets, the fluttering of flags at half mast and the drawn blinds at the leading club houses and in the government offices, a stranger visiting London today would find little outward evidence of the mementous occurences which have attracted the attention of the world within the last three days.

Meantime, however, preparations are going forward for the imposing state funeral which will be given to the late monarch. Thus far little of the details have been made public.

Chief attention today was centered in the first meeting of the cabinet since the return of Premier Asquith following the death of King Edward. It does not appear, however, that the ministers gave any special consideration to the grave political questions now pending. They discussed the appointment of a committee to revise the civil list, as is necessitated by the change of sovereignty.

The question of the future policy of the government in regard to the constitutional issue was touched upon, but if any conclusion was reached no announcement to that effect was made.

Spectacle at Removal of Body.

Contrary to the original intention that the body of King Edward should be quietly and privately removed from the Buckingham palace to Westminster hall on next Tuesday, it has now been decided that the removal shall be accompanied with considerable ceremonial and the cortege will be an imposing military spectacle. The house of commons will assemble in the morning and repair in a body to Westminster hall to receive the body.

Following the three days during which the body will lie in state, it is possible that instead of the funeral procession direct to Paddington district the casket will be borne to Westminster Abbey for the reading there of the first part of the burial service. According to this plan the service would be completed later in the day at Windsor castle.

All the churches throughout the United Kingdom are arranging to hold memorial services upon the day of the state funeral.

Plan Soo Double Track.

Kenmare, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the present plans are carried out, the Soo railroad will have double tracks from Kenmare to Portal. Some work with that end in view has already been done. This plan is to be carried out as a portion of the scheme that the Soo railroad is putting into effect to make its wheat line a transcontinental line from the Canadian Pacific railroad.

TAFT WANTS TO NAME ROOSEVELT

Would Have Ex-President Represent America at King Edward's Funeral.

Washington, May 10.—President Taft may designate Theodore Roosevelt as a special ambassador to represent the United States government at the funeral of King Edward. The president is anxious to appoint Col. Roosevelt to represent this government. As yet he has taken no step in that direction, however, as no official notification had been received by the Washington government as to the date of the funeral.

The president is now conversant with the precedents as to such occasions, but if a special representative is called for by the proprieties and Mr. Roosevelt will accept the designation, he will be named by the president.

French Mission Selected.

Rambouiltt, France, May 10.—The cabinet today selected as the French mission to the funeral of King Edward, the following:

M. Pichon, minister of foreign affairs; Gen. Dalstein, military governor of Paris; Admiral Marquis Moliard, introducer of the diplomatic corps, and an officer personally representing President Fallieres.

Because of the death of the British monarch the inauguration of the French section of the Brussels exposition, which had been arranged for May 16, has been postponed.

EVANSTON, ILL., WOMAN DERANGED, HANGS SELF.

Marinette, Wis., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Victoria Hemenway, wife of Dr. Henry B. Hemenway of Evanston, Ill., hanged herself while temporarily insane at the residence of relatives in Marinette yesterday.

Was Mentally Deranged.

Evanston, Ill., May 10.—Friends here of Mrs. Victoria Hemenway, who killed herself at Marinette Monday, said Mrs. Hemenway was mentally deranged. According to these friends, Mrs. Hemenway had been ill with nervous disorders for some time.

PREMATURE EXPLOSION CLAIMS TWO HUMAN LIVES.

Redfield, S. D., May 10.—As the result of a dynamite explosion here yesterday afternoon, two men were fatally injured and three others crippled for life. The men were working on a wall, attempting to stop the flow of an artesian well. While they were preparing a charge of dynamite one of the cartridges exploded. Windows in business buildings about the town were broken by the blast.

JOHN GOING SUNDAY KILLS SWEETHEART.

Lynchburg, Va., May 10.—In a jealous rage, John Going Sunday shot and instantly killed his sweetheart, a Miss Banton, because he found her out driving with his brother. He then turned the revolver upon himself, and inflicted a wound which probably will prove fatal.

WILL FILE FOR CONGRESS IN THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

Judge Alfred Jaques Formally Enters Race Against Miller.

Issues Statement Giving His Reasons for the Step.

JUDGE ALFRED JAQUES.

Judge Alfred Jaques of this city will file for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Eighth district.

For some weeks he has been urged by many friends in all parts of the district to enter the field against Clarence Miller, who probably will not be opposed for the Republican nomination. Judge Jaques has been reluctant to become a candidate, although he has been confident that Mr. Miller can be defeated by a Democratic candidate who will make a determined and earnest fight for the place.

He has come to the conclusion that the voters of the district should be given an opportunity to choose between two candidates, rather than to be forced to accept the candidate offered by the Republicans.

Judge Jaques' wide acquaintance and thorough going ability insure that the campaign will be a lively one, with every reason for the confident expectation that he will be the victor when the votes are counted.

If any proof were needed of Mr. Jaques' fitness for the office, it is presented in the statement he has prepared of his views and principles. That statement is as follows:

MR. JAQUES' STATEMENT

The most important issue now before the country is the re-establishment at Washington of a really free and independent house of representatives. The present congress has been bound and gagged by a relentless and arbitrary machine which attempts to dictate its action. It has been controlled by leaders who are lost to all public considerations. If it continues to submit to this un-American system of dictatorship, it will cease to be a house of representatives in any true sense. Partyism, which interpreted by the leaders of the majority, with a very few exceptions, is standpatism, seems to have gone mad. I believe in parties, and within right limits, in party government. But I do not believe in party slavery. A representative should have the custody of his own conscience and should act freely upon his own judgment, untrammelled by blind partisanship or by a corrupt machine. He should be the representative, not of a party, but of a people. When a representative puts his conscience and patriotism into the keeping of leaders who are crazed by power and pelf, he ceases to be a representative and becomes a tool. Acquiescence in party despotism is not party loyalty. It is treason to party and to country. High above party is the republic and the public interest. It is true that some members of the majority have rebelled against this arbitrary system; but they have not been able to get relief from the majority party and its leaders, and have been compelled to join with the minority party and its leaders.

It must be remembered that the objection is not so much to the persons Cannon and Aldrich as to the system of which they are mere instruments. If the system is to continue, after them, others will take their places as its instruments and congress still be a mere mockery so far as being a place to register the will of the people is concerned.

We talk about the iniquity of the Payne-Aldrich law, the high cost of living, the desirability of the election of United States senators by the people, the evils of the trusts or monopolies, the inauguration of some system of direct or popular legislation, the control of the railroads, the establishment of an income tax, etc., but none of these evils can be abolished and none of these reforms can be accomplished until we have a free and independent legislative body at Washington that can and will formulate into law the will and wishes of the people and not the will and wishes of corrupt special interests. I think this question is vital and fundamental; that it rises above mere party questions; that the people should arouse themselves and rebuke emphatically the conditions that exist in congress. As a citizen I am willing to stand against such conditions.

I have been urged by a number of citizens to become a candidate for congress from this district and have concluded to file for the Democratic nomination at the coming primary election.

This is not a time for hesitation or acquiescence, but a time for sincere protest against unbearable conditions.

If I am nominated and elected I shall act freely and independently according to the dictates of my own conscience and judgment, and I shall keep the custody of both. I shall stand by and for the people of this great district without regard to the cabals and combinations at Washington. I shall not vote against any measure in the public interest for party reasons. The people can depend upon it that I will not "check in" my conscience and manhood at the speaker's desk when I take the oath of office; this, too, whether that speaker is Champ Clark, Joe Cannon or any other party leader.

ALFRED JAQUES.

Alfred Jaques is a native of Geneseo, Henry county, Ill., where he was born Feb. 9, 1857. He is a son of William Cowpen and Elizabeth Ann (Beers) Jaques. The prospective congressman was educated in the public schools of Geneseo and at the select school of Prof. S. H. Waldro.

Judge Jaques began the practice of law in 1882, and is now a member of the law firm of Jaques & Hudson. He was special judge of the municipal court from March, 1887, to March, 1889.

Judge Jaques' civic and business activities are diverse. He is a director and secretary and treasurer of the New Duluth Land company and a director of the Duluth Bar Library association.

FEW STUDENTS ARE BEING VACCINATED.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The vaccination order at the state university is proving to be a white elephant and a joke. For some time past the faculty have stated their intention of putting it up to the board of health to finally enforce the order, but this morning Dean F. Downey was notified by an official of the board of health that the faculty would have to enforce the order.

The board of regents, at their meeting Friday will take the matter up and Dean Downey believes that at the faculty meeting next Monday something will be done. The faculty of the academic college are setting a very bad example for their students in the matter of complying with the order, for only 21 out of about 150 have submitted to vaccination, and out of almost 1,400 students only 509 have turned in certificates. Dean Downey said this morning he did not know what would be done.

Dean W. S. Pattee of the law college this morning visited every class in the college and made a personal plea that the law students comply with the order of the board of health and submit to vaccination.

BRANDEIS VOTED DOWN ONCE MORE

Glavis' Attorney Seeks to Bring Senator Piles Into Land Office Probe.

Washington, May 10.—As a link in the chain which he is attempting to connect Secretary Ballinger with the so-called Morgan-Guggenheim interests Attorney Brandeis today brought the name of Senator Samuel P. Piles of Washington into the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation, as an instrument by means of which those interests, he seeks to show, brought about Ballinger's appointment as commissioner of the land office. The committee by a party vote sustained Senator Sutherland's protest against a senator being "dragged in."

Secretary Ballinger continued under cross-examination by Attorney Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Glavis and others, when the investigation was resumed today. The committee will meet on four days this week in the hope that the attorneys will conclude their questioning of the secretary of the interior by that time.

Commissioner Dennett of the general land office, and Chief of Field Division Schwartz will be the next witnesses to take the stand for the defense.

Forest fires are raging in at least four or five different localities in Northern Wisconsin, according to reports which came into Superior late this afternoon.

At Bruce, Barron county, forest fires today devasted a large lumber yard destroying several thousand feet of lumber and entailing a considerable loss.

Along the Brule river, the settlers are fighting back the fires, which are raging in that district. Many Superior and Duluth people own cottages in this vicinity and have left to protect their property.

Reports from Solon Springs today are that huge fires are sweeping westward near there. At Muskeg, Bayfield county, it is said that the settlers are fighting to save their homes from destruction.

As yet, no instances have been reported where setters have lost their homes.

Rostand's famous "Chanticleer" about whom Monsieur Papot told us in his High School Lecture last Friday, imagined the Sun's rise was caused by his crowing.

Did you ever notice how many advertising men delude themselves with the idea that things happen because they crow loud and chant clear?

Every day new goods arrive at this store.

Look at yesterday's arrivals mentioned in the right-hand box at the top of this advertisement.

If you get the habit of reading these arrivals in the Columbia Ads, you'll find out when supplies fresh from the makers are at your disposal.

WARNING ISSUED TO LAUNCH OWNERS.

Maj. Graham D. Fitch has issued a warning to the owners of launches and small boats in general against the dangers that are to be encountered at the site of the new Soo dock, on the south side of St. Louis bay.

In dredging, a large amount of dirt has been thrown up, making shoals. A number of piles have also been driven under the water. There are no lights to mark the obstructions at this point, and any launch coming along here in the evening or at night might run aground on the shoals or run into some of the sunken piling.

For that reason the warning requests that boats be careful at this point and keep well inside the harbor line.

Two Tugs Needed.

The high wind in the bay today has made it advisable to have two tugs to tow off any of the boats that are moved. One or two boats today found it urgent to move before they could secure two tugs and for that reason used only one. The office of the Union Tug company urged the employing of two tugs in the moving of boats.

LITTLE FREIGHT ON HAND FOR SHIPMENT EAST.

A trip through the freight houses here will give an idea of the scarcity of freight for eastbound business. The freight houses at the Head of the Lakes are almost empty at the present time, and until lake and rail freight begins coming to the Head of the Lakes for shipment East, there will probably be very little freight in the local dock warehouses. The scarcity of freight for Eastern shipment is rather unique, when it is considered there is a steady demand for westbound freight.

MACVEAGH SAYS TAFT IS UNDECIDED AS TO BANK.

Washington, May 10.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh made it clear to his callers yesterday that a statement credited to him to the effect that the president was not in favor of a central bank at the present time did not, so far as he was aware, reflect the administration's opinions.

The secretary pointed out that the only intimation he ever had given of the attitude of the president on the question was that, as he understood it, an open mind was being maintained by the administration; that the president, as yet, had not expressed himself either for or against the central bank proposition.

BIJOU—New Vaudeville Bill.

"THE ROUND UP" AT THE LYCEUM

Mammoth Klaw & Erlanger Production Opens a Week's Engagement.

Some of the story-book West and much of the life of the great ranges of Arizona as it really was, have been placed on the stage by Klaw & Erlanger in Edmund Day's "The Round-Up," which opened a week's engagement at the Lyceum last night.

"The Round-up" is a big production—big in scenery, big in plot, big in the wholesome characters of the West, and numerically big in cast. True, it is melodrama—almost melodrama as it was in the palmy days of that class of dramatic offerings—but it is melodrama so embellished by scenic effects, by fidelity of depiction, by immensity of production, that one forgets the melodrama, overlooks the theatrical and forgives the over-doing of commonplace situations in awe, wonder and enjoyment of the production.

One hardly has opportunity to be finely critical when "The Round-up" is on the stage. Events follow so closely after each other, and each is so impressive in itself, that one must give his whole attention to what is before him, as to a series of pictures. He turns from the wedding scene at the end of the first act, to the humorous presentation of the piano in the second, then quickly to the accusation and the tense situation that follows. He has hardly recovered until the most beautiful scene of the play is placed before him, with the parched desert stretching to the limits of vision and the silent Apaches descending the mountain pass on their sure-footed horses. Events come quickly then—the meeting of the two men in the desert, the fight with the Apaches, the arrival of the reinforcements, the sharp crack of a hundred rifles, the rapid bark of the machine gun mounted on the cliff and the defeat of the Indians. The fourth act presents the threatened clash between the cowboys and rustlers, the death of Buck McKee and the reconciliation—every situation with merit of its own, to hold the attention and keep the audience on edge.

Story of the Play.

At the time of the opening of the play, Dick Lane, a mining engineer, had been missing for two years and was thought to have died in a fight with the Apaches. His friend, Jack Payson, had waited for a year and had then made love to Echo Allen who had been engaged to Dick. She received his attentions and when the curtain goes up on the first act, preparations are being made for the wedding. It develops that a few days previously, Jack had received a letter from Dick with the information that he had been in a hospital in Mexico. A note was enclosed for Echo, but Jack decided not to give it to her and not to tell her that Dick was alive. Dick returns, meets Jack and pays him $3,000 he had borrowed previously and tries to enter the house just in time to hear the closing words of the ceremony. He goes back to the desert.

Jack pays off the mortgage on his ranch and questions are raised by Buck McKee, a quarter-breed Cherokee, as to where he got the money. An old man had been killed and robbed of about that sum by Buck McKee and a weak brother of Dick Lane on the day of the wedding. McKee succeeds in shifting the blame and Jack is forced to tell Echo where he got the money. She sends him out to find Dick and bring him back.

The third act shows Jack finding Dick dying of thirst in the desert. He sends Dick back and prepares to stay in the desert, without water, to die in atonement for his deception. Just as Dick starts, they are set upon by the Apaches and they are forced to fight. When seemingly about to be overcome, "Slim Hoover, the sheriff, arrives with a detachment of troops and a machine gun. The Apaches are repelled, but Dick is killed.

The fourth act shows the round up, the bucking broncbos, the cowboys threats to lynch a rustler, the death of Buck McKee at the hands of the rustlers, one of his followers, the exoneration of Bud Lane and the reconciliation between Jack and Echo, for she has found that she really loves him, not Dick.

The cowboys are real live cowboys, with infectious good humor and hearts that are big and open. Buck McKee is a villain, who shows good traits before he dies. The Indians are real Indians, silent, stealthy, repulsive in their wiliness. The characters are those of the West as they were.

The comedy is furnished largely by Macklyn Arbuckle as "Slim" Hoover. In the dejection that follows the rejection of his proposal, he exclaims with the vigor of pent-up disappointment, "Aw, hell, nobody loves a fat man," but "Slim," who explains that he is called so because he "ain't" is a likeable fellow withal. He is big, whole-hearted, good-humored and philosophical with a homely philosophy that seems to strike the spot. As sheriff of Pinal county, he shows handiness at the "draw" that one might expect in such a personage in a country where every man carries a gun.

Albert Phillips as Jack Payson shows ability and appreciation of the needs of the part. Joseph M. Lothian as Dick Lane, makes the most of a character that doesn't impress the audience. Grace Beham as Echo Allen is handicapped by the necessity of delivering several long speeches, but she does it well and handles the tense situations with ability. The other members of the cast are well chosen, Ogden Crane doing an especially fine bit of character work as Buck McKee.

It is in production that "The Round Up" can lay its greatest claim to popular favor. Klaw & Erlanger do not spare money or effort to secure adequate production of their own offerings. They have not in "The Round Up." The cast is large and capable. The descent of the Indians in the third act and the battle on the stage are impressive stage pictures. The horses are well trained and used to good effect.

"The Round Up" is worth seeing. It is a big play, with a wholesome air of the West as it was. It is impressive as a series of pictures and as a play. It gets across the footlights, holds the attention and merits the hearty applause last nights' audience gave it.

Incidentally, one doesn't very often see an American audience stand when "The Star Spangled Banner," is played. Last night's audience showed that patriotic spirit between the acts.

"The Round Up" will be at the Lyceum all week, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

NEW VAUDEVILLE AT THE BIJOU

Clever Bill Makes Decided Hit With the First Nighters.

At the Bijou this week there is variety in plenty. Good music, a fine asortment of moving pictures, some clever dancing, an imitator of well-known actresses, a Scotch act of high class, and the four Rio brothers who do an extraordinary gymnastic act, combined to make the program a most entertaining one.

The bill opens with moving pictures of more than ordinary interest. They tell the story of a man who bought a hat and his troubles in getting it home.

James Toney and Antoinette Norman have some clever talk. They introduce a sliding dance act that is a hit.

Miss Florence Forni was down on the program to sing "I Love My Wife But Oh Her Family," but she did not appear at last night's performance.

Murray K. Hill, who is styled on the program "the jolly songologist," both sings and talks. His songs are funny and so is his talk. For an encore last night he recited "The Prairie Bell."

The four Rio brothers present a gymnastic act that is seldom equalled. They do many very difficult stunts.

SMOKE FROM FOREST FIRES OBSCURES COMET.

While the forest fires are burning in the vicinity of Duluth people who disturb their slumbers in order to see the comet, will be doomed to disappointment. A soaking rain might clear the atmosphere, as well as extinguish the flames, but this morning the air was so heavily laden with smoke that nothing could be seen by those who looked for the comet.

Delbert McKelg of Harlan, Iowa, says of it: "My boy took whooping cough when 9 months old. He had it in the winter. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which proved good. I cannot recommend it too highly." For sale by all druggists.

SHOULD HAVE ART EXPERT

Chicago Man Says Duluth Needs Director of City's Art.

Commission Should Supervise All Beautification and Artistic Ventures.

J. W. Young, a Chicago art expert, told the Duluth Art ssociation last night in the assembly room of the Duluth Commercial club, that this town should have an art director, a person capable of advising the municipality upon the beautification of the city, who would be a member of an art commission which would put the final seal of approval or rejection on plans for improving the city or cultivating the artistic taste of its people.

The public, said Mr. Young, is interested in pictures and is not concerned with art. Appreciation of art can be developed through study of pictures so all is not hopeless. The public should know why it dislikes a picture or why it favors one. It should know if the fame of the picture it likes will be more than temporary.

At Duluth's art exhibit, declared the speaker, technical talks should be conspicuous by their absence. The public doesn't want technicalities. What the public wants to know is, "If I like this will it tend to culture and an appreciation of the true, the beautiful and the good?" It is easy to be deceived. Some pictures, said Mr. Young, are painted so folks will like them but they are not art, only tricks of the brush. Some pictures in this town, he indicated, are highly artistic yet they are not popular. To appreciate a picture one should view it with somebody who can divine the purpose and the motive of the painter, said the speaker.

"This city should have an art club of at least 2,600 members," declared Mr. Young. "Such an organization should work along well planned lines, under the direction of a capable director. Art here should be placed on a firm basis."

Mr. Young offered a rare etching for the best essay by a member of the club on "The Benefits to be Derived by Duluth from an Art Association," or "Is it Best for Art Development That We Study and Know the Art of Our Own Time and Country in Preference to That of Others?" Mr. Young was thanked by the association and a committee was appointed to judge the essays. The association will give $30 in prizes to school children for essays on "What Picture I Liked Best and Why." The children will be shown the exhibit in the court house, which will be held two weeks, beginning May 23.

Among the speakers who may be invited are Miss Harriett Monroe, art editor of the Chicago Tribune; Ralph Clarkson, an instructor in the Chicago Art Institute, and David Erieson of Duluth

DEMOCRAT TAKES A ROSEATE VIEW

Believes Next House Will Contain Only 45 Republicans.

Washington, May 10.—The Democrats will have a majority of 301 members in the next house if the percentage of gain shown in the special congressional elections, recently held, is maintained in the general elections of next November, according to the prediction of Gen. Sherwood, a representative from the Ninth Ohio district, who takes a roseate view of the situation.

Gen. Sherwood has examined the returns of the last congressional elections for every district in the country, and he finds that in only forty-five were the successful Republican candidates elected by majorities greater than 10,500.

On the other hand, he finds that the Democrats gained in the Sixth Missouri, the Fourteenth Massachusetts and the Thirty-second New York district, a total of 8,235 votes, or an average gain in each district of 12,700.

Of this showing, he predicts that the Republicans will have forty-five members of the next house and the Democrats 346 representatives, provided the gains shown in Missouri, Massachusetts and New York represent the swing of sentiment among all classes of people in the United States.

While Gen. Sherwood would make no prediction as to what would actually be the result of the November elections, he said: "Let every optimistic and pessimistic prophet of our political destiny take his consolation or condolence from the figures I have quoted. Figures do not lie."

CHICAGO OFFICIAL RESIGNS UNDER FIRE.

Chicago, May 10.—John J. Hanberg, Chicago's commissioner of public works, has resigned. Bernard J. Mullaney, secretary to Mayor Busse, was immediately appointed to the position, which pays $10,000 a year. The appointment of Mullaney was at once confirmed by the city council. Hanberg was criticized by the Merriam investigating commission for his administration of the commissioner's office.

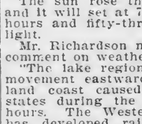
FAIR



By the grace of the weather man, "Ode to Spring" fiends are working off superfluous energy and turning out poetic bouquets that are doomed to waste their sweetness in desk drawers. Still it's nice to know that there's poetry in the air.

The weather man didn't send that frost along last night. The lowest he could drive the mercury was 44 deg. which isn't very low for Duluth. The dust is being blown around considerably today, but on the whole it's a pretty nice spring day.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:37 and it will set at 7:30, giving fourteen hours and fifty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The lake region disturbance in its movement eastward to the New England coast caused rains in Atlantic states during the past twenty-four hours. The Western storm condition has developed rain in Pacific coast states, Montana and portions of the Dakotas, besides warmer weather in Wyoming, Utah and Arizona, the center of the low pressure being over Idaho and Wyoming. The Alberta-Saskatchewan high pressure remained about tationary but it increased slightly in strength. It has caused temperatures to fall slightly below the freezing point in Manitoba, Northern North Dakota, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The barometer is also high over the lower Mississippi valley, but temperatures there and over the rest of the South are moderate."

General Forecasts.

Upper Lakes: Moderate west to northwest winds. Fair tonight and Wednesday. Cooler to night over north portions.

Chicago, May 10.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Upper Michigan—Fair and cooler tonight; Wednesday fair.

Wisconsin — Fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler in Southeast portion tonight; light frost in lowlands tonight.

Minnesota — Fair tonight and Wednesday; probably frost in lowlands tonight.

Montana—Rain tonight and probably Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa, North and South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

TOFTE, MINN., IS HALF DESTROYED BY FOREST FIRE

brought the report that the little settlement of Tofte was about half destroyed by the fires. Tofte is about twenty miles this side of Grand Marais. Two dwellings, the town hall, a church building and two large new barns were burned to the ground. The settlers succeeded in saving eight other dwellings.

All along the shore from the city pumping station at Lakewood to Reservation river, the smoke from the fires can be seen. The woods are dry as tinder, and cinders are frequently carried one or two miles by the wind, starting a new fire when they fall.

The danger to the city pumping station seems to be over, although the fires are still burning around Lakewood.

Railroad men reaching the city this morning from points along the Northern Pacific and Great Northern report fires all along the right-of-way of these two roads. At Cloquet Sunday, according to the statement of one of these men, the citizens were fighting fires back for several hours, on the outskirts of the town.

The Local Situation.

Locally the situation is much better than it was yesterday. The fire department was not called upon today to fight the flames as yesterday, when the Lakewood pumping station was threatened with destruction. That fire was practically extinguished last night, after it had consumed all the available fuel. As the same ground was burned over two years ago, there was much material for flames to feed upon.

Officials of the Missabe and Iron Range roads have received no advices from points along their lines that give any definite idea as to the extent of the brush fires reported in the territory tributary to these lines. At many places fires have broken out and considerable areas are being swept by the flames. No great damage has been reported there.

Above Highland, between mile posts 44 and 49, on the Iron Range road, fires have swept over a wide stretch of land, but the road's officials are not alarmed at the situation.

Along Northern Pacific.

Along the Northern Pacific there are numbers of fires, but the worst of them is on the Fond du Lac Indian reservation. The lower end of the reservation, near Sawyer, has been swept clean by the flames, but as there were no buildings there the damage is slight. The land is not wooded.

The local offices of the Northern Pacific have received no word from Cloquet that would indicate a dangerous situation there and the officials here doubt that the fires in that vicinity are as bad as they have been reported to be.

Along the north shore fires have been burning for three days, but last reports are that they have been controlled. In addition to the fire at Tofte the school house at Cross River was destroyed.

The fires are threatening the cottages on the Brule river.

Out Fighting Flames.

A. W. Hartman, who has a cottage at that place, is at the scene of the fire. It was impossible to get definite information as to the extent of the fire, as the long distance telephones were working badly today and all the people are out fighting the flames.

A number of Duluth people have cottages at the Brule, but they were unable to get word from there this morning.

Serious Fires in Michigan.

Houghton, Mich., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bad forest fires are raging in the south end of Houghton county at Alston and at Gay, in Keweenaw county. At Alston half a dozen buildings have been destroyed and considerable railroad property, including ties and road building equipment, has been burned. No lives have been lost and the total loss to date is about $25,000. Towns are threatened, as a high wind is blowing. Fire trains from Mass City, Houghton and Calumet are now on the scene and 200 men are fighting the flames and clearing the land immediately surrounding the town.

People Leave Town.

The station at South Shore was reported burned this morning, but it was only scorched. People are moving their furniture and household belongings out of town. The Dupont powder plant is endangered and section crews and others are fighting bush fires.

The stamp mills at Gay are protected by ploughed land.

Man's Shoes Burned Off.

Wyllis Seaman, an instructor at the Michigan College of Mines here, with a companion, Rod Burnham, was caught by forest fires early this week at Otter lake, south of here, where they were fishing and canoeing. Finding themselves surrounded, they attempted to break through the fire. Seaman's shoes were burned from his feet and both lost portions of their clothing. Seaman also was badly cut by stepping on a piece of glass. He is in a serious condition.

Small Fires in Wisconsin.

Ashland, Wis., May 10.—(Special to The Herald)—Heavy damage from forest fires near Grandview is reported. There are fires on each side of the Omaha railroad between Ashland and Spooner. A heavy smoke is rolling from back of Bayfield.

No big conflagration has been reported but there are hundreds of small fires. The smoke is very bad on the lakes.

asked permission to make the former president's remarks public.

"Tell it to any one you like," Mr. Roosevelt replied enthusiastically.

Wrote a Denial.

There was a considerable stir when the newspapers appeared quoting Mr. Roosevelt as a warm supporter of Knudsen's policy. Mr. Roosevelt summoned Knudsen and insisted emphatically that he issue a denial, and he himself wrote a letter to the same effect.

The opposition papers are now attacking the ex-premier. The Aftenposten says:

"From the denial which Mr. Gunnar Knudsen was compelled by Mr. Roosevelt to make, it appears that at the conversation in question, Mr. Roosevelt was thinking of his American policy, while Mr Knudsen was speaking of his Norwegian policy. We will not dwell upon the want of discretion shown by Mr. Knudsen in trying to involve a guest of the nation in our own internal disputes and trying to turn him to political account. This want of discretion rightly aroused a great deal of indignation. It is an absolutely unprecedented phenomenon that a man holding a position like Theodore Roosevelt should, during the visit he paid us, be compelled to issue a denial of what the late premier stated regarding his conversation with him."

Will Not Direct Acquittal.

Early in today's session Judge Hough denied a motion that the jury be directed to acquit Heinze on the third remaining count in the indictment, the defense urging that the firm of Otto Heinze & Co. was entitled to credit by virtue of the loan Heinze had taken out and signed over to them at the time the alleged over certification took place, and also that there was no evidence to show that Heinze directed or authorized the certification.

Judge Hough likewise denied a motion that the evidence concerning stock sales by the United Copper company be stricken from the record. Attorney Tomlinson opened the case for the defense.

palace and descended the steps to meet his guests. He extended his hand first to Mr. Roosevelt, then to Mrs. Roosevelt, and to Ethel and Kermit, greeting each most cordially. His majesty wore the uniform of the Grade du Corps, with a helmet.

Preceded by lord chamberlain, Count zu Eulenburg and Master of the Imperial Household Baron von Lyncker, the emperor, with Mr. Roosevelt at his right, entered the palace and, passing through the large apartment popularly known as the "shell room," showed his guests into the smaller salon beyond. Mrs. Roosevelt entered on the arm of Gen. Von Loewefeld, and in turn, followed by Ambassador and Mrs. Hill, Miss Roosevelt and Kermit, Capt. Shartle and Lieut. Commander Belknap and Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, with Prince Solms-Bareuth.

Received by Empress.

Within the salon the party was received by Empress Auguste Victoria, Crown Prince Frederick William, Crown Princess Cecelie, Princess Victoria Louise, Prince Joachim and Prince Oscar.

The luncheon that followed was attended by a large number, including many government officials and others prominent in public life There were six tables. At one of these were seated his majesty with Mrs. Roosevelt at his left, and the crown princess on his right; the chancellor, Gen. Loewefeld and Lieut. Commander Belknap.

Arrival Is Marred.

Berlin, May 10. —Former President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt and Kermit arrived here early today from Stockholm, Sweden. They are guests at the American embassy.

As is usual wherever Mr. Roosevelt stops, a popular crowd was at the railway station to give him a friendly greeting, but as has not been the case before during his European trip, the official receiving party was not complete. As a result of a series of misunderstandings American Ambassador Hill was late in reaching the station, while the royal carriages intended for the use of the party did not arrive until the Roosevelts had been driven in other conveyances to the embassy.

The representatives of the foreign office were greatly annoyed over the unfortunate mixup. In the first place, some one had told Mr. Hill that the special train carrying the Roosevelts would be a half hour late in reaching Berlin. This did not prove to be the case.

Met by Foreign Secretary.

In the absence of Emperor William, who but for the death of his uncle, King Edward, personally would have met the former president, the official party of recention was headed by Herr von Schoen, the secretary of foreign affairs, who represented his majesty.

The main stairway leading from the station to the street had been made beautiful with a wealth of potted plants, and as the Roosevelts passed down to their carriages they received frequent salutations from the gathered throng. The Roosevelts were driven at once to the American embassy.

The former president's voice is still bothering him slightly and one of his earliest appointments today was with a throat specialist.

Dressing Your Hair For the Evening

(From Style and Fashions Magazine.)

"Frequently, after the day's work or pleasure, there is little time to dress the hair for the evening. For occasions like this, it is well to be prepared with the ever-ready and convenient dry shampoo.

"A most excellent shampoo is made by mixing four ounces of therox with four ounces of orris root. Keep some of this in an old talcum box with sifter top, so that you can sprinkle it thinly and evenly through the hair. Brush the hair thoroughly and a clean scalp and beautiful lustrous hair can be achieved in less than twenty minutes.

"Nothing is so good as this mixture to quickly remove the day's dust. It should be remembered, too, that much water is not good for the hair and frequent washing takes out the life and color."

ON THE IRON RANGES

BAD FIRES AT GILBERT

Eveleth Department Turns Out and Helps Fight Blaze Monday.

Many Householders Alarmed and Packing Their Belongings to Leave.

Eveleth, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many Evelethians were yesterday attracted to Gilbert by the forest fires raging in that vicinity and aided materially in combatting with the blazes, the hose and nozzles sent over from the local fire department coming in very handy for the Gilbert fire department, who were without sufficient apparatus.

The forest fires have become noticeable in this vicinity the past few days, and late Sunday afternoon aided by rather strong winds approached Gilbert from the north. Yesterday morning under the direction of Fire Chief Harry Silver and Assistant P. R. Cosgrove, the members of the Gilbert volunteer fire department, assisted by the residents, commenced fighting the fires, and the new water tank at the end of Summit avenue in the immediate vicinity of the flames was filled to the top. Men were stationed in all directions to fight the fires that were approaching from the north, and by adequate water pressure have managed to keep the flames from reaching the north street residences.

Many Volunteers.

To the south and west of the village the forest fires have not assumed dangerous proportions and have caused no alarm, but the forest fires on the north end are the cause of much concern, and many volunteers last night kept watch in that vicinity and kept many streams of water at work. Throughout the city many fire brigades with a large water supply have been wetting the roofs of the stores and residences. Calls for fire aid to the Eveleth and Virginia departments have been made and many feet of hose were received from the Virginia department yesterday while Eveleth sent over 500 feet of hose and much other equipment.

The strong wind from the north which has been aiding the fires considerably has let down, and it is expected by this evening that the residents who yesterday packed up their belongings and went to Eveleth and nearby towns will be able to return to their homes. Nevertheless a steady watch is being made by the Gilbert residents over the fires, and they are prepared for the worst.

Forest fires of rather dangerous proportions have been raging in this vicinity for the past couple of days and yesterday became to some extent serious, the heavy clouds to the north and east of Eveleth causing some alarm to the local residents. In the vicinity of the ball park the fires are at their worst, but no fire aid has yet been deemed necessary. Many fires are to be seen raging near Wolf and along the Iron Range road to Biwabik and the surrounding towns, but no very dangerous results are anticipated here.

FOREST FIRES BURNING AROUND STONEY RIVER.

Ely, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The St. Croix Lumber company, operating southeast of here in the Stoney river country, have had some exciting experiences with forest fires. Two of their camps burned and yesterday two big lumber engines were barely saved. The Stoney river fires are about thirty miles southeast of here and appear to be the worst in this locality.

LIKES TO HEAR THOSE "AMENS"

Bishop Hughes Talks at Methodist Meeting in Chicago.

Chicago, May 10.—At the convention of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church here yesterday, Bishop Edwin Hughes of San Francisco said there is plenty of room in the church for the "amen" members; those, who, in their religious fervor, spontaneously give burst to their approval of sermon or prayer

"I never said 'amen' spontaneously in my life," stated Bishop Hughes. "I never could do it. But just because I can't do those things, I am not going to deny another man the right to express his sentiments in the manner that he deems best.

"It is hard for me to call fellow church members 'brother' and 'sister.' It isn't my nature to do it, and yet, I hate to see the church members drop the habit, and lodges and fraternities taking it up."

MORE THAN 1,000 DEAD TAKEN OUT

The Earth Tremors Continue Among Ruins of Costa Rican City.

San Jose, Costa Rica, May 10.—More than 1,000 dead have been taken from the ruins of Cartago. No one is allowed within the precincts of the devastated city except the Red Cross workers and gangs of soldiers and volunteers, employed in clearing away the debris, removing the bodies and dynamiting the dangerous buildings.

Most of the survivors of the earthquake are now at San Jose. Medicines and food supplies from the American warships are being rushed from Port Limon, but the condition of those who still remain around the city is such that extraordinary measures must be taken to provide assistance and shelter for them.

Even in San Jose the residents are for the most part living in tents and wooden structures, fearing to occupy their homes, as the earth tremors still continue.

AUTOS CAUSE OF RISE IN PRICE OF FOOTWEAR.

Boston, Mass., May 10.—The chief cause for the increase in price of boots and shoes has been the constant advance in the cost of materials, manufacture and distribution, according to the Massachusetts commission on the cost of living.

Figures given by the commission show that the increased production of automobiles has been responsible in no small degree for the higher prices of both leather and rubber boots and shoes. Recent estimates place the number of sides of leather used in the manufacture of automobiles last year at about 800,000, while the demand for rubber for automobile tires was enormous.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE DULUTH Y. W. C. A. HAS RESIGNED

Mrs. Wesley Peetham, for six years general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association of this city, presented her resignation to the board of directors of the association this morning at the regular May meeting. Although the resignation did not come as a surprise to the board members as Mrs. Peetham had told them individually that her service would have to end this summer, there was much regret at the necessary step. Her resignation was accepted with regret. Mrs. Peetham's family cares demand her attention and after Aug. 1, when the resignation will go into effect she will go West to spend the fall and winter in Montana with her brother and her own family of a son and a daughter.

Mrs. Peetham is closely identified with growth of the Y. W. C. A. movement in Duluth as her service has been practically the beginning of the work. During the two years previous to her secretaryship there were several workers in charge. She has served in almost every capacity, as lunch room director, as extension secretary, as religious instructor, has taken a hand in the educational classes and was active in every department during the days of growth and the later days when the association was in its crowded quarters before moving into the new building.

"The association greatly regrets Mrs. Peetham's departure," said Mrs. W. J. McCabe, president of the association, this morning after the board meeting. "Her services have been invaluable. She came to the work with years of practical experience in practical religious work in Duluth and her knowledge of the city and the confidence that business men of Duluth had in her have been a great help. It is with the sincerest regret that we receive her resignation."

The committee appointed to secure a new secretary was named and Mrs. W. H. Agnew, Mrs. W. A. McDonagle and Mrs. J. A. Watterworth will serve. The next few months will be devoted to a careful search for the new worker for it is felt that although the years of greatest effort are perhaps passed that much depends upon the hands into which the association will pass.

MRS. WESLEY FEETHAM.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Of Women's Label League Is Successful Event.

The second annual banquet of the Women's Union Label league was held last evening at the Kalamazoo block, and 100 of the members and their guests were present. The principal address of the evening was given by Mayor Cullum, who spoke with interest of the work of the league.

"I feel deeply, seriously and sincerely the things that the Women's Union Label league stands for," said Mayor Cullum. "Its motto, 'to benefit mankind,' is one that every public man should stand for, and I think that to be here this evening would be a fitting place for ministers and elders, though I do not see any of them present.

"The number of young men and women who do not have homes of their own is very large, for love in a cottage is no longer possible. This is partly due to extravagance and to the example of people in more fortunate circumstances, for every one wants to display just as much as his neighbor.

"The young man of today is rather slow about asking a girl to share his poverty and the girl is equally slow to accept, as she can earn a living herself. Pride and vanity stand in the way of both. The future outlook for home life which does so much to form character is discouraging. If the sweat shop continues and women and children are employed in men's labor what will become of the home? Under present conditions every one is out working, and what hope has a young man to start out with a family on $2.50 a day? What luxuries, what education even, can be given his children? It is injurious to the child to work in a sweat shop, and the result is disastrous to the race, morally and physically.

"I hold that no child should be permitted to do manual labor until he has at least a passable education. I know that the churches pretend to stand for these things, the government stands for them and so do all honest men."

The toastmistress was Dr. Mary McCoy; and the president of the league, Mrs. Mary Innes; P. G. Phillips, president of the trades assembly; and C. E. Johnson of Buffalo, labor organizer, were the other speakers.

There was also a program of musical numbers and a reading by Miss Mabel Poirier. An informal dance followed.

FADS IN FASHIONS

Among fashionable sleeves the most popular is the peasant sleeve that is cut in one with the bodice and reaches to the elbow. Usually it is finished with an undersleeve of sheer goods, terminating in a tight cuff or a little puff. For the dressier gown the bishop sleeve three-quarter length, finished with a turn backcuff, is much used. On these gowns one sees also the long tight sleeves of last season, tucked or sheered at will, or the "medieval" sleeve with tiers of puffs separated by bands of shirring or inserts of lace and embroidery.

Paris predicts that it will not be a white summer this year. Summer stuffs are very light and delicate, but there is no white among them.

White Irish crochet frogs of ornamental shape and design are an entirely new feature in trimmings shown in some of the New York stores.

A fad with which the fashionable women of Paris are amusing themselves this season is making for oneself at least one straw hat. First securing a frame that fits they fasten on fancy straw, which is on the market in packages containing four yards, which usually is sufficient for a small hat. It is sewed on with as few stitches as possible so that it may be light and almost fluffy.

Among the expensive fabrics shown in New York stores in gold cloth of a Parisian pattern, the price of which is in the vicinity of $4 per yard.

Sleeves favored in Paris again include the Japanese sleeve, which is especially favored for the house frock or afternoon dress.

WHEN YOU ARE SCORNED

By CARA REESE

You have only been "scorned," that is all; it stands out in every line. You recall the adage, do you not, "no fury like a woman scorned?"

That is the sore spot, and it is going to take time and courage to get over it. Some dispositions never get over a scorning treatment. It comes as a blast and kills love, withers interest, blights the joys of true living. Such people smile and live on. They do good in the world, their hearts are sympathetic and their hands are helpful, but the elasticity and buoyancy is gone forever, and that which might have been a glorius revelation in the uplift of mankind dies down to the root, never to find resurrection.

But you are one of the excitable kind and the scorn, while leaving you in a state of fury and frenzy, has yet not struck in very far. You will get over it. You will have your say and demand explanation and seek apology. You will refer again and again to the treatment and bubble over with virtuous wrath until the last day. Yet, in spite of all, you are not hurt very much. It looks as though your pride, or rather your vanity, was all that was injured. A hurt vanity is a disagreeable experience, but a repulsed affection is worse. A scorned intellect remembers and generally pays back with accrued interest. You have been scorned some way or other, and you are taking it out in a blaze of indignation.

Now keep quiet, cool down a bit and do not herald your grievance over all creation. In the first place, your affection is still intact; that phase stands out like rabbits' ears in your pouting screed. You are willing to "die" to prove your love. In other words, you will be the first to apply soothing lotions to the scorner's toothache, and there will be plasters of comfort and the right sort of medicinal drinks, and soft cushions, a comfortable fire, the easy chair, choice tidbits. The scorn is not vital. Your vanity has been wounded, and that is all there is to it. Folks never breathe about a real scorn. They simply shrivel up and fade away in due course of time into thin air. You do not know what scorn means, and it is to be hoped you will never know the full meaning.

There are any number of downright sensible women who make geese of themselves in cackling about the real or imagined scorn with which their endeavors or their gifts are treated. A rejected tapioca pudding, a repulsed onion-laden kiss, a disdainful sniff at attire or coiffure, a sneer due to nervousness and no other reason, have been made the miserable pretexts of destroying happiness. For pity sake overlook the accidental scorner, and laugh your rising temper into a quaff of nectar.

It is only in the case of the habitual scorner that you need to consider the experience at all. Even in the habitual case there is small cause for worry for you need not accept any of the scorning at all. It is the usual thing. Be a philosopher and let it rest at that. At any rate, never sit in the seat of the scornful yourself.

It is a serious business to show contempt to deride or to treat with disdain. It may be salutary, perhaps, to now and then prick the vanity of some overpuffed specimen, but in the main it does not pay. There is no fury like a person scorned. Be proof against a scorner, and be guarding in your own expressions of contempt.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Renovating Feather Beds.

After feather beds have been in use for some four or five years it is a point of good management to redress the feathers. This should be done in a room from which the furniture has been removed, as the feathers will scatter themselves in all directions. Here they can be turned from the ticks, and the clotted lumps broken to pieces, and the softness and elasticity of the whole thus restored. They should then be placed, a few handfuls at a time, in a fine wire or wicker sieve, the dust and other impurities sifted from them, and any stray quills which may happen to remain should be removed. The ticks should, of course, be washed, or new ones can, if necessary, be substituted. Pillows should be treated in the same way.

Packing Winter Clothes.

When packing away winter clothes sprinkle them with this mixture, which is a most delightful one; one ounce each of powdered cloves, caraway seeds, nutmegs mace, cinnamon and tonka beans; also to these add six ounces of powdered orris root.

To Get Rid of Flies.

Strong green tea, sweetened well, and set in saucers about the place where they are most numerous will attract and destroy them. This plan is much to be preferred to the use of fly-papers, which catch the insects alive torturing them while starving them to death.

Uses for Old Furniture.

In the garret will be found the old-fashioned camp chair with high back. It will make an excellent porch chair. When covered with tan crash or cotton rep it is pretty. The old-fashioned settee can be swung on chains and made an excellent hammock. The legs should be removed. The little spindle-legged tables are convenient to place in porch corners to hold jardiniers or pots of flowers.

THE EVENING STORY

A WATER CURE

By F. Morton Howard.

Mr. Charles Drake came to breakfast a vision of splendor. A suit, loud enough to break any silence, graced his body; his head moved stiffly above a tall rampart of linen collar; new yellow boots squeaked on his feet; beneath his chin there shone a dazzling necktie.

Mrs. Drake, although she had been aware of sundry smuggled parcels, stared in amaze at her lord and master.

"Look all right, don't I?" asserted Mr. Drake, complacently.

"Going nigger-minstreling?" she asked.

Mr. Drake, ignoring the question, propped up the newspaper, open at the sporting page, before him, and began to breakfast.

Mrs. Drake stole several glances at him. It was difficult for her to look on this loud young man opposite to her as being the quiet, steady fellow she had married scarce three years back. Indeed, the metamorphosis had been sudden, and dated from a month ago, when Mr. Drake had somehow become acquainted with a Mr. Herbert Ibbs."

"Nearly half-past; time you was off," observed Mrs. Drake presently.

"No 'urry," observed Mr. Drake, immersed in the racing columns.

"You're not going to take another day off?" exclaimed Mrs. Drake aghast.

Mr. Drake nodded.

"Going out with your friend, Mr Ibbs, I suppose?" she remarked, bitterly. "How does he get his living, I should like to know?"

"I've told you before he's what they call a racing expert. He picks out the winning gee-gees."

"Sometimes!" amended Mrs. Drake. "And who is going?"

"Mr. William Golding."

"Whats he do?"

"He's—he's a bit unlucky. He doesnt seem to be able to get any work to do."

Mrs. Drake sat silent for some while.

"Leave some money for the washing, Charles," she said at length. "It's 70 cents."

"You should learn to do your own washing," Drake grumbled.

"Wish I could. But I never had any one to show me," said Mrs. Drake meekly.

Her husband glanced at the clock. A brilliant idea had occurred to him.

"I've just half an hour to spare," he remarked. "I'll just teach you how to wash things yourself. It'll mean a big saving in the future."

He took off his coat and made his way to the kitchen, followed by his wife.

First, you fill a bath with water; then you soak the things; then you starch 'em—and there you are," he explained airily.

"And do you wash them with soap after you have starched them?" asked Mrs. Drake, with apparent innocence.

Mr. Drake favored her with a stare of disdain, and proceeded to fill a bath with hot water. Next Mr. Drake selected an article for cleansing from the heap his wife brought to him. His choice fell on the tablecloth, and he plunged it into the water.

"It seems quite simple so far," commented Mrs. Drake.

For answer, her husband lifted the soddened square of linen and spreading a corner across his arm, began to soap the fabric vigorously. Then he put it back in the water and soaped a fresh portion. Many times did he repeat this operation, but it seemed to him that there still remained plenty of unsoaped material. Moreover, the tablecloth seemed to have increased marvelously in weight and size.

"You're getting tired, Charles," said Mrs. Drake solicitously. "You see, it isn't so easy as you imagine."

"I forgot the soda and ammonia and—and turpentine," he explained stiffly.

Without a word Mrs. Drake procured from him the articels he had mentioned. Mr. Drake poured a liberal dose of each in the water, then glanced at his wife, who, however, made no answer.

He continued his labors for some minutes; than decided that the cloth was now clean enough to go on with.

"Starch now," murmured Mr. Drake, with an air of knowledge, and searched the cupboards till he found a bag of that commodity.

He put the starch on the table and gazed at it in perplexity. How much or how little? was the question that vexed Mr. Drake's soul. Ultimately he compromised on three cupfuls.

He allowed the cloth to soak in the starch, lighting his pipe in the meantime. Then, grasping it firmly, he lifted it from the tub and essayed to hang it on the line in the garden.

Now, a tablecloth soaked with soap and water and soda, and starched and turpentined and ammoniated is not an easy thing to suspend in the breeze. Thrice did Mr. Drake endeavor to suspend it to the line, thrice did it shed its pegs and drop over his head in an endeavor to suffocate him. Finally, he got it on the line, and turned his back gladly.

"Done at last," he breathed happily. But his joy was short-lived, for there before him lay the heap of other things he had forgotten.

"If I had time—" he began.

"That's all very well," Mrs. Drake crowed, "You've missed your appointment with your friends, and you're too late to go to work, you've got the rest of the day before you. But any excuse is better than none, I suppose"

To her unexpected joy, Mrs. Drake noted her husband prepare to return to the attack.

"I'll jolly soon show you!" he said heatedly. "I'll teach you how to do washing. And don't you ever ask me for a penny of laundry-money again."

"I suppose there's no fear of your friends coming round to call for you?" she said. "I expect you'd like to get out of it like that."

"There's no fear," he replied. "Fact is, they don't know where I live. Fact is," he added, with a grin, "they think I live at a hotel and have money to burn."

Mr. Drake returned to his self-imposed labors in the kitchen. Over his trials for the rest of the day we will mercifully draw a veil. At 5 o'clock he was still wearily splashing about with soap and water.

"You're doing it fine!" said Mrs. Drake, in encouragement. "But it is hard work, isn't it?"

"It is," assented Mr. Drake, with a groan. "I'm going to have a rest presently. We arranged yesterday—Ibbs and me and the others—that if any of us couldn't get away for the day, we'd meet this evening at the cafe on the corner three blocks away.

"All right," said Mrs. Drake, with apparent heartiness. Then she went into the adjoining room and carefully set the clock back half an hour. Next she wrote a note addresing it to Mr. Ibbs, which she dispatched to the cafe with a request that it be placed where that worthy would see and claim it. Then she went back to the weary Drake.

"I'm just going out a bit," she announced.

She hastened from the house, leaving the front door invitingly open. "Walk straight in," had been a sentence in her letter to Mr. Ibbs.

The truth cannot be concealed. Mrs. Drake was of the opinion that if her husband were caught by his friends at his new task, their ridicule would do much to lessen the friendship.

And so Mr. Drake, pounding away at the washtub, was considerably amazed to find Messrs. Ibbs and Golding gazing incredulously at him from the door.

The laughed consumedly at the unfortunate Drake; then contemptuously left him. It was plain that here was no young man with money, and had no further use for him.

And thus, when Mrs. Drake returned, rather nervously, an hour later, she found her husband gazing moodily out of the window.

"I've done with Ibbs and that lot; he told her fiercely. "I've been a fool; but it's all over now."

Then he drew two $5 bills from his pocket.

"That shows what a fool I've been," he said. "There's all that's left of our savings.

Mrs. Drake was a good woman; and her husband had had his lesson.

"Oh, no, it isn't," she told him quite brightly. She took a savings bank book from some secret place, and triumphantly pointed to a total of some $200.

"Why, that's nearly as much as we had before!" he mentioned in wonder. "How on earth—"

"Well, Charlie, I wanted to save, but, you know, you were rather—rather close with the housekeeping, don't you? I'm afraid I was very deceitful, but, you see, I did so want to save. So I used to do it while you were at work, and then charge for it and put it in the bank every week."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, there was no laundry book. I used to get odd change from you every week like that—it was the only way. Say you forgive me!"

"Why, of course I forgive you!" he said heartily. "But I don't quite see now—"

"Why, I have done every bit of the washing at home every week since we've been married!"

"Then you knew yesterday exactly how to do the things?"

"Why, of course I did!"

"I—I knew you did," said Mr. Drake with an attempt at ease. "I was only joking with you."

"Yes, I knew you knew," replied Mrs. Drake untruthfully, in order to save her husband's confusion.

The lesson proved effective, and Drake often declared to his wife that there was nothing in the world so effective for breaking up bad habits as the water cure.

SALVAGE FROM BAD HUSBANDS

By ALVA ARMSTRONG

It is a natural fact that the great majority of women not only want husbands, but are quite willing to take the risk of getting those they don't want. And, while I dare say it is true that few good husbands are quite as good as they profess to be, on the other hand they are probably a great deal better than many wives think they are. Between the greatest extremes—between the husbands who are very, very good and the husbands who are very, very bad—there are millions well worth marrying, some because their good qualities shine so brightly that their defects are only to be seen in shadow.

As to the others, it is amazing, when you come to think of it, what a deal of valuable salvage a very good wife can get out of a rather bad husband. For a while, say, before marriage and a little while after the honeymoon, he seems to sail the sea of marriage set fair for Port Happiness. Suddenly, or slowly, as the case may be, bang! goes something in the moral compass or rudder, and the current heads him straight for the rocks. Then, somehow, the little woman gets to work—it is really for life or death this—and patches up the old rudder and steers him away just in time.

I once knew an almost hopelessly bad husband saved in some such way as this. Alas! the day of wife's influence had passed; so she took the child into her confidence—a golden-haired, blue-eyed little lassie of 6, perhaps the one being in the world he loved. It was a long struggle, but between them they did make a man of him, the better for his haunting memories of the rocks which had all but sent him to moral perdition. I have often thought since that day what George Eliot says in "Silas Marner" about the angels who in old days used to take men by the hand and lead them from the city of destruction. "We see no white-winged angels now," she says, "but yet men are led away from the city; a hand is put into theirs which leads them forth gently towards a calm and bright land, so that they look no more backward. And the hand may be a little child's." I have often thought of it, because I know it is true.

MINOT MAN POSSESSES RIFLE 200 YEARS OF AGE.

Minot, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—James L. Nyatt of this city has just received a rifle which has been in the family for five generations, being handed down from father to son since 1776. The barrel of the gun was made in Jamestown, Va., about 200 years ago. The gun at that time was a full stock flint lock affair. It was purchased by James Hyatt's great-great-grandfather in the Revolutionary war, and he used it till he became too old to do any more shooting. James Hyatt's father, the last possessor prior to the present owner, used the gun extensively in Missouri, and for five years held the state record for off hand shooting, using this gun.

TAFT AND HIS BOSTON SPEECH.

The latest word on the central bank plan is that President Taft has authorized the secretary of the treasury to declare in his behalf that the plan is not now feasible, and that he was "misquoted" in his Boston speech when he was made to favor the Aldrich plan.

Aldrich wished to crown his career of service to Special Privilege by fastening upon the people of his country a central bank that would have riveted upon them more tightly than ever the chains of service to concentrated capital.

If the country is free, for the present, from that menace, it is much to be thankful for.

If the president, after having given the plan his approval, has changed his mind about it, that is to his credit and not to his discredit.

But when he tries to convey the impression, eight months after the event, that he did not approve Aldrich and his plan in the Boston speech, he is unworthily disingenuous.

When he spoke in Boston the president was about to begin his own tour of the country, and Aldrich was about to tour the West in advocacy of his central bank plan. The object of the reference to Aldrich in the Boston speech was to provide for Aldrich a presidential letter of recommendation that would insure him a hearing in the West, where opposition to the central bank was notable. That reference was as follows:

"Mr. Aldrich is the leader of the senate, and certainly one of the ablest statesmen in financial matters in either house. If, with his clean-cut ideas and simple but effective style of speaking, he makes apparent to the Western people what I believe to be his earnest desire to aid the people and to crown his political career by the preparation and passage of a bill which shall give us a sound and safe monetary and banking system, it would be a long step toward removing the political obstacles to a proper solution of the question."

The plan with which Aldrich was to "aid the people" and "crown his career" admittedly was the central bank plan. The "political obstacles" to which the president referred in the plural were really but one—the hostility in the West to a central bank that would be nothing but a Wall street convenience for draining the people's resources to New York to be used to exploit the people for further unearned profits. The "proper solution of the question," therefore, was the central bank, and though the president did not mention it by name in his Boston speech, there was no mistake about what he meant. He was urging the Western people to listen to Aldrich, to receive him as a pureminded patriot, and to let his arguments wash away their suspicion of any hostility to his central bank plan.

If the president was misquoted, he should have said so at the time. He should not have waited until eight months later, when he has found out that even his recommendation did not make Aldrich and his plan acceptable to the people of the country, and that opposition to a central bank plan, or to any plan devised by Aldrich, is more deep-seated than ever.

But if the plot to fasten a central bank upon this nation has fallen through, that is much to the good.

WESTON'S WALK AND YOURS.

The recent remarkable feat of Edward Payson Weston, the 72-year-old pedestrian who walked across the continent twice within a year, the last time at the rate of about forty-five miles a day, is a splendid example of the value of walking as a means of keeping physically fit.

Not that anybody should attempt to walk across the continent, or that anybody need try to walk forty-five miles in a day. There are few good things that cannot be abused, and walking is not one of them. There is danger in overdoing at any physical exercise, and for the ordinary man anything like forty-five miles a day would be overdoing.

But Weston's walk, in his seventy-second year, is proof of what walking as an exercise will do in the way of keeping the body in good trim. Weston has preached walking as a healthful exercise all his life, and his youthful vigor and bodily resilience at an age when most men are either buried and forgotten or old and decrepit, preach his doctrine more appealingly than any verbal argument.

Said Weston in New York the other day: "I didn't undertake this long walk for the money there might be in it, but for the purpose of showing my fellow-Americans of all ages the benefits which are to be derived from systematic walking in the open air. There is nothing like it to keep a man or woman in good physical condition, and if everybody would walk at least ten miles a day we should, in a few years, become a nation of healthy, vigorous people, the physical equals of any nation in the world. We Americans depend too much on trolley cars and other means of so-called rapid transit. We jump on a car if we want to go only a block or two, when we ought to walk, not to save the nickel but for the health and strength the exercise would give us. By using the word 'we' I do not mean to include myself, but to describe the American people as a whole. As for myself, I walk ten to fifteen miles every day simply for the exercise and pleasure it affords me, and I advise everybody old enough to walk to do the same thing."

That's very good advice. Perhaps, on the start, the distance suggested is too long. A walk of fifteen miles looks very different to a man who has been walking forty-five miles a day for nearly three months from the way it appears to a person who hasn't been walking more than a very few blocks a day.

A distance that is wholesome for one person might be too long for another and not long enough for still another. Your condition after the walk is the best test. You ought to get good and tired; that's good for you. But if you feel exhausted, and as though you had overdrawn your physical resources, you have walked too far. Better begin by taking a few miles a day, and increase it as your capacity increases, for it surely will increase. You can easily tell the difference between getting wholesomely tired, so deliciously tired that you sleep like a baby, and getting so exhausted that you don't sleep at all. That difference will be the test of what is good for you.

Weston's advice, if generally taken to heart, would be very bad for the doctors, but very good for the people. There isn't any reason for envying those who own automobiles. A person who has a good pair of legs and is willing to use them can get more fun and better health and spirits out of walking than anybody can get out of an automobile, which is simply a new device to tempt people into avoiding the use of their muscles, and thus to betray them pleasantly into physical decline.

THE POINT OF ROCKS.

Mayor Cullum spoke what is in the minds of many citizens when he told the council last night that it would be a good thing to buy a city rock crusher and put it at work eating away the Point of Rocks which divides Duluth into two cities.

Of course it would be a good thing, and beyond any question the time will come when that jagged peak will crumble away before the irresistible force of development. Its huge bulk will go into crushed rock for paving and other purposes, and into building stone.

Like many other things that Duluth needs and desires, this matter must hinge upon the state of city finances. Maybe the city can't afford, at this time, to buy a rock-crusher and put it at the work of destroying the Point of Rocks. Maybe it can be shown that such a purchase would be a profitable investment, and if that can be done the city should arrange to make the investment at its earliest convenience.

In the meantime, there can be no doubt that the destruction of the Point of Rocks is only a question of time and city finances. To destroy it is to tear down a division between two sections of the city that, though natural in one sense, is wholly unnatural in another. Also, it will make available property that will have large value for commercial purposes.

MR. HALLEY'S COMET.

Halley's comet, having drifted back through the night from the time you had to get up too early to see it to the time when you have to stay up too late to see it, isn't, as yet, much of a success as a popular spectacle. Nevertheless, there is much talk about it, and there is hope that later it will provide a better show, and one more convenient to the public.

At present, it is said, if you stay up until about 3:30 or get up at that time you can see the comet. Lacking its tail, however, it is no great sight except to those of astronomical bent, to whom it is a delight in any form.

Today the comet rose two and a quarter hours before the sun, according to the astronomers. May 16 it will rise an hour and a half before the sun, and should disappear in the eastern dawn. May 18 the comet passes across the face of the sun some time during the day, and thousands will watch the transit eagerly.

On May 19 the comet ought to be visible in strong twilight in the northwest, immediately after sunset, and from May 20 to 23 it ought to be at its brightest. It sets two hours after the sun May 21, three hours after the sun May 23, and four hours May 27. Shortly thereafter it will fade from the view of the naked eye.

If the tail is short or lacking, those who have been anticipating a blazing stream across the face of the heavens are going to be disappointed; and that seems a likely outcome of the performance.

AS TO USURPATION.

President Taft has sent more or less polite notice to the house of representatives that it must keep its hands off the investigation of the sugar frauds in the customs service. He intimates that congressional action, as it is proposed, would be usurpation of a flagrant kind.

There may be two sides to that question. Congress may think that to let the administration continue its investigation of itself is too much like letting an accused culprit examine and report upon his own case. If congress feels that way, it has a perfect right to investigate to its heart's content.

The president's ideas on "usurpation," however, seem to fluctuate with bewildering rapidity.

When congress was revising the tariff, he considered it not good form to interfere, even though congress was making a mockery of party promises and his own pledges.

When he sends congress a handful of prepared bills with the curt indorsement "Pass these just as they are," it is, in his view, a noble and highly admirable piece of exertion for the upholding of governmental principle on the part of the executive.

But when congress starts an inquiry into the way an executive department lets a predatory trust cheat the nation through bribery and corruption of employes of that department, it is a selfish and basely despicable bit of usurpation for the furtherance of temperamental antagonism.

The president's real view of just what constitutes usurpation is hard to discover in this maze of mixed motives.

This pleasant weather is very fine, Mr. Weatherman, but wouldn't it be possible to trade a day or two of it for a little rain?

Nine kings will gather in London shortly. There are circumstances in connection with a great American game wherein the juxtaposition of nine kings would cause a riot.

President Taft was for a central bank, and now he is against it. He has heard from the people on that point, and he is to be congratulated on this development of penetrability.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

PAYS HER RESPECTS TO BOYS' MINISTER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I feel greatly elated in reading in your paper a synopsis of Rev. Dr. Leonard W. Snyder, "The Boys' Minister," in the Devil's Hole in Cleveland, Tenn.

The high sounding titles of said minister indicates that he is a true citizen of the place mentioned, as St. John claims to have seen an animal coming out of that place full of blasphemous names written upon it. In my opinion those names represent the high sounding titles, and are relics of the Dark Ages, when the lower classes believed that their ministers were inducted with a higher and more Divine nature than the common herd.

As a resident of the Devil's Hole he, the "minister," certainly had occasion to observe the youths in that place, and of course, there were no laws to enforce against giving, selling, or treating intoxicating liquors to minors in that place. Oh! no, such laws were not even in existence in the South, because of the so-called prohibition movement.

Oh! how many boys have been ruined by reason of the prohibition is hard to say, but the "minister" seems dead sure that a great many have been saved by the use of intoxicating liquors. That such is a fact is certainly unheard of here in the North. Here we believe rather to the contrary. Now, after considerable thought upon the "minister's" remark that prohibition had demoralized a great many, I come to the conclusion that he is of triple-plated brass or else the conditions in the places or states to which he refers are very different from those I have noticed. It is not only the right, but the duty of society at large to try to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Let the "minister" kindly look at the duplicity and evasion of other laws, and then reason if we could easily do without them on that account. Kindly remember that every knock is a "boost," and let those that are so gifted with Divine foresight, as to the regulation of the liquor traffic, come to the limelight with their remedy. If it is a real prohibition, not hampered by onerous laws, all people interested in the movement, will gladly accept it as a means to help those who cannot withstand the temptation of liquor.

The "minister's" talk discloses his peculiar idea of distinguishment between yellow and blue; between county option and prohibition. The county option is good, but as long as Uncle Sam gives the common carriers a right to disregard the local law, it is in fact, the best argument for prohibition that can be made. County option is nothing more than an umbrella in stormy weather. You will keep your hat dry, but your feet are liable to get more wet than if you had no umbrella.

Prohibition is more aggressive, it puts it right up to Uncle Sam to stop the overflowing river of destructive drinks.

Let Uncle Sam be a prohibitionist towards white men as he is towards the Indians and their reservations.

Oh! how many virtues the coming generation will miss, if there should be prohibition. There would be no drunkards in the gutter, nor any brawls in the saloons, not so many promising young men looking for daylight through iron bars, and not so many wives dragged through all the torments of Hades, and then censured by a class of people who think they could have done better.

Yes, let's flood the world with intellectual light and intellectual liberty, let us vote prohibition, and let us be guided by a Divine law to send the ever-destroying liquor traffic to Hell's Hole in Cleveland, Tenn.

Also, let "we" that use all things in moderation, take note of the many thousands who do not. Yours respectfully. MAUDE CLARKE GARNER.

Duluth, May 9.

As It Often Happens.

I was cross to the child,
And I sent her to bed,
And now I regret
The harsh words that I said,
For she's sobbing up there
On her pillow, I know,
And her little heart aches
'Cause I treated her so.

I admit I was hasty.
Too hasty, I think,
But she had to be punished
For spilling the ink,
And I'd warned her before
Not to play with the stuff;
But perhaps, after all,
I was needlessly rough.

I'm sorry I spoke
Quite so sharp as I did,
But children must learn
To do as they're bid.
And she's sobbing up there
And her little hearyt's broken,
Because of my scolding
So hastily spoken.

I will go to her now,
And her cheeks I will kiss,
And I'll try to make peace
With the dear little miss.
Yes, this is her room,
To her bed I will creep;
* * *
Say! What do you think,
My young lady's asleep!

The Handsome Man.

Emporia Gazette: The citizen who has a face like an uprising in China may be possessed of all the virtues you ever heard of, but girls will shoo him away, in nine cases out of ten. Now and then a homely man appears in public with a beautiful wife, but the fact is so unusual that the people never get done commenting upon it, and they are always asking: "What was that woman thinking of when she married such a cataclysm?"

Sages and philosophers have always been trying to prove that beauty is only skin deep, and an undesirable thing generally, but the fact remains that a pretty girl has the right of way everywhere; she can have her choice of a gross of young men when she concludes that a husband would be a good asset, and she is pretty sure to choose the best-looking one in the bunch. The best-looking one may be a mollycoddle or an undesirable citizen, but she is willing to take the chances, rather than marry the unfashionable young man whose face isn't on straight, but who is so full of noble qualities that their smoke comes out of his ears. This fact—and it is a fact—accounts for a great deal of the business in the divorce courts. The girl who marries a beautiful young man, solely because of his beauty, is almost sure to get a gold brick, simply for the reason that such a young man is reasonably sure to be full of vanity, and the vain man is the most impossible creature on earth. A woman has a right to be vain, but a man hasn't.

A Human Choice.

May Lippincott's: A conscientious Sunday school teacher had been endeavoring to impress upon her pupil the ultimate triumph of goodness over beauty. At the close of a story in which she flattered herself that this point had been well established, she turned confidently to a 10-year-old pupil and inquired, "And now, Alice, which would you rather be, beautiful or good?"

"Well," replied Alice, after a moment's reflection, "I think I'd a great deal rather be beautiful—and repent."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Except for his faults man is a very dull creature.

Social friendships among women are mere rivalries.

It's so natural for a girl to pretend that she seems very strong when she hasn't a chance to.

The best thing to keep an argument going indefinitely is ignorance of the subject on both sides.

A reputation for being clever can make a person act more like a fool than anything else in the world.

THE INSURGENT STATES.

Clinton County (Mo.) Democrat: The twelve states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Iowa, contain more than half the farm property value of the United States. They have about one-fourth of the total area of the country and one-third of its population. In agriculture they are as important as all the rest of the country combined.

In 1908 these twelve states raised 451,521,000 bushels of wheat, or 69 per cent of the total yield of all the country; 1,644,649,000 bushels of corn, or 61.6 per cent of the entire crop; 608,237,000 bushels of oats, or 75 per cent of the whole, and 144,289,000 bushels of rye and barley, or 72 per cent, and more than half of the other farm products.

All the surplus foodstuff comes from these twelve states. All the agricultural exports, except cotton, come from these states. A failure of crops in these states would produce a famine. The balance of the states, under the most favorable circumstances, could not supply the people of the United States.

And yet, the people of these twelve states are asked to approve a tariff which does not protect a single farm product except wool, which taxes every article they buy, and in the enactment of which they were not consulted and had no voice. When the Aldrich-Cannon bill came back from the senate to the house the committee on rules appointed by Cannon, and of which he was a member, although the bill contained 4,000 items, brought in a rule that only three of these 4,000 items could be amended. The same committee further graciously permitted the house to amend the item on petroleum by saying they preferred a 25 per cent ad valorem duty on oil to a countervailing duty on that prime necessity, thus confining or limiting any amendment of this item.

That comprehends the full extent to which the house of representatives in congress, consisting of 391 members, were permitted to participate in the enactment of the tariff act under which we are living.

What a travesty on legislation—on government by the people!

Even Russia would not submit to such autocratic rule.

Think of it—let it soak in—the representatives of the people permitted to amend but three out of 4,000 items of a bill which taxes every man, woman and child in the United States! And one man did this monstrous act at the dictation of the protected trust interests.

Is it any wonder that these are "Insurgent states?"

As to the Fall Elections.

Saturday Evening Post: We are told by many able authorities that a momentous political event impends—the Republican party is coming in for an awful licking at the fall elections. Among the more important signs that forecast the revolution are the general disgust with the new tariff law and the partly successful revolt against Cannon.

This would mean that, after an interval of fourteen years' control, the house of representatives is to be turned over to that other grand old party, some of whose Southern senators voted for a protective duty on raw materials and some of whose New York congressmen valiantly flocked to Uncle Joe's support when Republican disaffection first threatened his power. It would mean, for example, that those members of the Illinois delegation who take instructions on partisan tactics from Hon. William Lorimer would be replaced by an equal number looking for instructions to Hon. Roger Sullivan, and that in Indiana, with respect to national politics, Thomas Taggart would assume about the same potentialities which formerly attached to Charles Warren Fairbanks. Also, it would mean a government so divided that both parties could handily escape responsibility for anything that happened.

Though there is much talk of this turning out of Republicans and turning in of Democrats, we wish to hold up, especially before younger voters, the basic fact that neither party name has the least significance. What fair men want is a government more truly democratic, and neither party is yet in a position to give a valid promise that it will forward that cause. By far the most hopeful political movement is that one, nominally within the ranks of the Republican party, which is called insurgency.

As both parties are now constituted, the particular virtue of either one lies in its usefulness as a rod with which to threaten the other. If you have a good insurgent Republican in congress, prepare to stick to him.

The Hunter and the Shepherd.

This remarkable poem appears in the May number of the American Magazine with no indication of its authorship:

I.

As when some mighty hunter leaves the land
Where he has waged a war on beasts of prey
That scourged the country, in a single day
The slinking creatures seem to understand,
And from their shelter, in a ravening band,
Draw round the habitations where they may
Surprise a man, or bear a child away.
Their cruel greed by long-felt hunger fanned.

So now when one who held the packs in awe
Does for a space to other wilds repair,
Already we can hear the stealthy tread
Of those who, once again to fill their maw,
Leave many a secret cave and jungle lair,
Along old trails that oft to booty led.

II.

Meanwhile, as if some simple shepherd set
To guard the herds and homes against surprise
By prowling beasts should say: "The tales are lies
Men tell of wolves. These creatures shall be met
By me in friendly spirit. I will get
Their trust and aid—for they are very wise:
The serpent's cunning and the lynx's eyes
Shall serve me and shall save the country yet."

Thus our stout shpherd, lately chosen chief,
Takes open counsel of our former foes,
Recalls the outlaw with a favoring smile,
Affirms to each his benefice or fief.
Surrounded by the jungle's pride he goes—
A man upright of life and free from guile.

A Father of the "Yellowback."

Boston Evening Transcript: Edward S. Ellis, a resident of Montclair, N. J., was 70 years old Monday. It was just fifty years ago this spring that young Ellis assisted at the birth of Beadle's dime novels by producing one of the classics of that amusing series "Seth Jones, or the Captive of the Frontier," a tale that won a circulation of more than 500,000 copies and was translated into eleven languages. Most of our modern best sellers would have to hide their diminished heads in the presence of this and other masterpieces of fiction that began to be created about that time by Mr. Ellis, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. M. V. Vidor, Mrs. Mary A. Denison Col. A. J. H. Duganne, Col. Prentiss Ingraham, Harry Cavendish and "Ned Buntline," and even today these works are current, though in a 5-cent reprint instead of as dime novels. In the '60's such narratives shocked the moralists, but in comparison with the stuff that has taken their place in youthful affections they seem entirely harmless, and Mr. Ellis, who has written some hundreds or thousands of other books, is under no need to sadden his birthday with reflections on the evil he has done. Rather he may recall with a certain pride that he is with one exception the last of the Mohicans, the original staff of Beadle writers, the only other survivor being Mrs. Mary A. Denison, who at the age of 84 resides in Baltimore.

•••At the annual meeting of the Duluth Home society the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. J. H. Smith, president; Mrs. George Spencer, vice president; Mrs. A. M. Miller, secretary; Mrs. G. A. Leland, assistant secretary; Mrs. B. F. Smith, treasurer. Mesdames W. T. Bailey, J. J. Costello; M. R. Baldwin, L. Freimuth, F. E. Kennedy, F. E. Holden, C. P. MacDougall, J. H. Triggs, Morris Thomas, C. M. Vance, W. C. Sherwood, J. B. Geggie, F. A. Gooding, Giles Gilbert, W. B. Phelps, Emil Hartmann, T. S. Nichols, Charles Millman, A. M. Morrison and the officers constitute the executive board. During the past year seventeen inmates per month, on the average, have been cared for; five children have been placed in good homes, and several expensive but necessary improvements have been made in the building.

•••The University of Minnesota alumni banquet recalls the fact that a general college club once existed here, but for the past three years nothing has been heard of it. Judge White was the president, and among the thirty or forty members were L. A. Barber, Rev. E. M. Noyes, Rev. A. W. Ringland, Luther Mendenhall, Judge Stearns, City Attorney Allen, Cashier Matter of the National Bank of Commerce, Z. D. Scott, C d'Autremont, Jr., County Surveyor Patton, Dr. Bowman, and others equally well known.

•••It now looks as though the Windsor hotel would become a thing of the past. At one time, not many years ago, this hostelry was one of the two best in the city, and at the time it was built it was thought to be quite an imposing structure. The familiar phrase, "another old landmark gone" contains an ounce of humor when applied to Duluth. Hardly a building antedates 1870, and many a man lives here who was middle-aged before Duluth had a place on the map.

•••There is a wail, a deep throated wail, going up from a little coterie of gamblers, who are minus their roll. Some of them ran foul of Dennis Hannifin from Bismarck, who is again in the city and they at once conceived the brilliant idea that they would work him. Denny perceived the business of his new found friends at a glance, and apparently fell into the trap. He won $3000 in cold cash, after playing a few hands and then washed the boys a good night and retired.

FOR NORTHERN MINNESOTA.

Things Will Be Done.

Cambridge Independent Press: The development association of Northern Minnesota will meet at Crookston on May 1, 2 and 3. A square deal for Northern Minnesota first, and all Minnesota second, is the primary object of the gathering. Delegates will be present from the thirty odd northern tier of counties and a monster convention will be the result. State development and reapportionment are two of the main questions that will be up for discussion at this meeting, and with that kind of backing ought to make a noise like doing things.

Should Be Enough To Go Around.

Mora Times: Present indications point to a large land movement in Northern Minnesota. As Kanabec county has natural advantages that are not excelled by any other county in the northern part of the state, we will undoubtedly get our share of the new settlers.

The "Big Noise."

Middle River Pioneer: The "big noise" is being made for Northern Minnesota, and it is going to become bigger and bigger until it is heard "even unto the uttermost parts of the earth," with the inevitable result that Northern Minnesota will in spirit and in truth "come into her own."

And the newspaper boys of the north appreciate the co-operation in this great work being extended to them by their brethern of Soutnern and Central Minnesota, and will in turn cooperate with them in any movement that like the development of Northern Minnesota is clearly in the interest of the state at large as well as in that of the territory immediately concerned.

St. Louis County Will Be There Strong.

Eveleth Star: The Duluth dailies are doing splendid service in their call "On to Crookston." If all the people of this county knew of the benefit that is likely to accrue from the convention which is to be held in Crookston on June 1, 2 and 3, there would be fully a thousand attend from this county.

In Other Words, Boost.

Cass Lake Times: Put us off at Crookston when the Northern Minnesota Development association will add another link to the—let us hope—endless chain of good work for the upbuilding of our north country. We demand proper recognition; we demand that only men pledged to work for reapportionment, good roads and drainage shall be permitted seats in the legislature, and to this end every shoulder should be put to the wheel. Let patriotism take the place of politics; loyalty the place of selfishness and indifference, and the reward of being a good citizen in the richest and most wonderful part of the greatest state in the Union will be ours. Could you ask for anything better?

The Work of the Press.

Hibbing Tribune: "On to Crookston," is the cry in all the newspapers of Northern Minnesota. The press of Northern Minnesota is doing a great work for the development of the state.

Better Try a New Legislature.

Foley Independent: It seems to us that the matter of reapportionment is not receiving that measure of attention from the papers of Northern Minnesota to which it should be entitled. Now is the time to act for if we do not get reapportionment before the life of the present legislature expires we must be content to quietly submit to the rank injustice which is being done in the northern half of the state for another four years. The governor should lose no time in convening the legislature before the primaries, for after that it will be too late. If he be the good friend of Northern Minnesota that he would have us believe that he is he will no longer close his ears to the urgent plea justice that is daily being made him.

Domestic Life.

From Churchill's "A Modern Chronicle": It was the poet Cowper who sang of domestic happiness as the only bliss that has survived the fall. One of the burning and unsolved questions of today is, Will it survive the twentieth century? Will it survive rapid transit and bridge and woman's rights, the modern novel and modern drama, automobiles, flying machines and intelligence offices? Hotel, apartment and surburban life, or four homes or none at all? Is it a weed that will grow anywhere in a crevice between two stones in the city? Or is it a plant that requires tender care and the water of self-sacrifice? Above all, is it desirable?

Discovered.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "What has become of 'Sunny Jim' Sherman?" asks the Philadelphia Press. Don't you remember? He retired to the vice presidency.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Cleveland Leader: "How did you enjoy your vacation?"

"Fine! It made a new man of me!"

"I congratulate your wife."

St. Paul Dispatch: "What's the matter, Bobby? What are you doing to the baby?"

"I ain't doing a thing ma. We're playin' museum, an' she's th' human pin cushion."

Judge: "My priceless landscape is ruined by sticks and leaves!"

"Brace up, old man; that's the first touch of nature I've ever seen in your pictures."

Chicago Tribune: "Algy, have you learned how to run your automobile?"

"Have I? Say, old chap, I can scare a pedestrian half to death and not touch a hair of him!"

New York Sun: Knicker—The census considers you a resident of a house if you sleep there regularly.

Bocker—Suppose the baby keeps you awake?

Chicago Tribune: "Maria," said Dr. Dorkins, "if you have any regard for the moral well being of the children you'd better send them over to the neighbors for the next hour or two."

"Why?" asked Mrs. Dorkins.

"Because," he answered, with a wild, maniacal gleam in his eye, "I am going to take down the storm doors and put up the screen doors and windows!"

Washington Star: "Abusin' yoh luck," said Uncle Eben, "is li'ble to git so tame dat it'll follow you around' like a yaller dog."

Puck: Lawyer—Am I to understand that your wife left your bed and board?

Uncle Ephraim—Not 'xactly, boss. She dun tak mah bed an' bo'd along wif her.

Washington Star: "De reason," said Uncle Eben, "dat some men walks de floor becauso of deir debts is becauso it's warmer an' mo cor'able dan gittin' out an' bullin' fences or shovelin' snow."

Atlanta Constitution: "You expect to wear a crown w'en you gits to glory?"

"No: I'm gwine dar fer rest, an' I know I'll be too tired to tote it."

CITY TIED ITS OWN HANDS

Cannot Give Itself Permit for the New Horse Hospital.

Building Inspector Says It Violates the Barn Ordinance.

The city council ran against a snag of its own making when it passed the barn ordinance forbidding the erection of stables in residence blocks several months ago.

Last Monday night the aldermen confirmed a contract for the erection of an addition to No. 3 fire hall at First avenue east and Third street. Last week when the city of Duluth, through Hugh Fawcett, the contractor, applied for a building permit, Deputy Building Inspector Adolph Anderson refused to grant it.

Asked for a reason, Mr. Fawcett was informed that it was against the city ordinance to grant permits for stables intended to house more than four heads of cattle or horses.

Last night, S. M. Kielley, building inspector, sent a communication to the council explaining the situation. He said that unless the ordinance is amended he has been informed by the city attorney that he cannot issue a permit for the horse hospital. The work will cost over $3,000. The improvement is one sadly needed by the department, as the present structure on the same location is falling to pieces and several horses have died because of the bad ventilation. The addition has been hanging fire the last two years, but has been delayed for one reason or another.

Those desiring to evade the spirit of the ordinance have also tried to secure permits for several barns at the same location. None of them was to be fitted for more than four heads of cattle or horses, but they were to be built one next to the other. Under the ordinance passed by the council, the building inspector has no authority to refuse permits for these individual barns.

He so informed the city fathers last night, advising them that he had been told by the city attorney that he would be required to issue those permits unless the ordinance was amended.

The communication was refered to the committee on offices and elections.

MORE LAND IS RESTORED.

President Signs Proclamations Affecting 177,246 Acres.

Washington, May 10.—The president has signed eight more proclamations restoring to the public domain 177,246 acres from the national forests of Washington, Idaho and Colorado. The action was taken in accordance with the agreement recently reached by the departments of the interior and agriculture as to lands which should be eliminated from or added to the forest reserves, in order to establish their boundaries more accurately. This agreement finally will result in approximately 4,000,000 acres being restored to the public domain.

CONCESSION TO FIREMEN

Council Votes to Give Them One Day Off in Seven.

Will Not Begin Until Oct. 1---"Rubber Finance Methods."

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Gave firemen one day off in seven, beginning Oct. 1.

Bought site for fire hall at Fifth avenue east and Eighth street.

Ordered paving of Garfield avenue.

Received communications from Mayor Cullum relative to the Point of Rocks, street car extensions and owl street car service.

Laid over appointment of poundmaster in Seventh district, where Capt. Mann has held the place.

Refused to transfer saloon license from 130 to 306 Central avenue.

Introduced amendment to the peddlers' ordinance.

Received notices of personal injury suits.

Received several petitions for improvements.

Approved library board appointments.

The city council last evening voted to give the city firemen one day off in every seven, beginning Oct. 1.

The $2,000 appropriated for that purpose last fall will be transferred to the fire department fund. The intention was to inaugurate the plan July 1, but the sum was insufficient. When the conference committee meets in the fall it is expected that provision will be made to continue giving the men one day off in every seven.

The board of fire commissioners sent in a communication explaining that the vacations had been increased from ten to fourteen days, three additional men having been hired for that purpose. This will likely have to be discontinued as the use of the $2,000 for the day off in seven, leaves no funds with which to pay the three extra men.

The purchase of the site for a fire hall at Fifth avenue east and Eighth street was confirmed by a vote of twelve to two. Alderman Getchell strenuously objected to the purchase at this time, declaring that he was opposed to "this rubber finance business." He said that the money is not available and that it is against the spirit of the charter to spend the city's money a year ahead of time. It will be impossible to erect the fire hall for two or three years.

The application for the transfer of the saloon license of Henry Beauleau from 130 to 306 Central avenue, was turned down by a vote of 7 to 7. Fifteen business men in the vicinity claimed that the block already has three saloons and that it is in the proximity of the Pilgrim Congregational church.

The mayor sent in a communication relative to the Point of Rocks. He explained that as it now stands the cliff cuts the city in two, congesting traffic and destroying the value of the property. He believed that at the present prices for crushed rock and building rock, the cost of the project could be reduced to a minimum. The matter was referred to the council committee on streets, alleys and sidewalks, the city engineer and the board of public works.

In another communication he told the aldermen of his efforts to secure the street car extension in the Second ward. The line would run up Fifth avenue east from Fourth street to Fifth street, on Fifth street to Sixth avenue east, up Sixth street, on Sixth street to Seventh avenue east and up Seventh avenue east to Eleventh street, joining the Sundby and Farrel roads. The plan also calls for a branch on Ninth street to Chester park. The mayor said further that he had asked the street car company to inaugurate an owl car service. The matter was referred to the committee on railroads.

The board of water and light commissioners informed the council that the $150,000 worth of bonds authorized at the last election are still unsold. They explained that it is unfortunate, as many improvements will be delayed. About forty extensions have already been ordered and it is estimated that about the same number will shortly come up for action. The only bid received was on a 4½ per cent basis, which was refused.

The mayor's appointments for poundmasters were confirmed with the exception of Capt. Jacob W. Mann in West Duluth. He claims that under the law he should be retained, as he is a Civil war veteran. The city attorney said that he has been too busy to investigate the case and on his request it was laid over for one week.

The board of public works was directed to advertise for bids for the improvement of Garfield avenue. The paving will be extended three blocks, bringing it up to the approach of the interstate bridge. The city authorities hope to have the work started May 20. It is believed that the necessary funds will be available on that date.

An amendment to the peddlers' ordinance was introduced by Alderman Curren. The amendment makes all licenses good for one year, all to expire April 30. In the past licenses have been taken out for six months and considerable confusion has been caused because they ran out at all times. The amendment also calls for a brass license tag to be displayed on the wagons, similar to those on drays.

The park board was granted permission to use the salvage of the condemned bridge over Lester river for repairing the bridge on the Snively road and other small bridges in the city which need to be fixed up.

Notice of personal injury suits against the city were filed by D. W. Cavanaugh and Melvina Cavanaugh. The latter wants $1,500 for injuries alleged to have been sustained because of a defective sidewalk and her husband wants $500 for the loss of her services. John Ludes filed notice of a claim for $2,500 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by falling into a hole in front of 530 West Superior street.

The appointments of F. D. Adams, C. M. Everett and J. J. Daniels as members of the library board were confirmed.

A petition was received for a rough stone gutter on West Third street between Seventh and Ninth avenues.

A petition was received for the improvement of Glenwood street between Fifty-fourth and Sixtieth avenues with crushed rock macadam.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS HAVE BACK PAY COMING.

Washington, May 10.—An interesting situation has developed as to the fourteen enlisted men of the Twenty-Fifth United States infantry who were summarily discharged with the other members of the negro regiment in 1906 in connection with the shooting up of Brownsville, Texas. By the findings of the military board of inquiry these fourteen men were declared eligible for re-enlistment, their status being defined as the same as though they had never been discharged. Under this finding each of the fourteen soldiers is entitled under the law to back pay and emoluments amounting to approximately $1,000.

Any soldier may purchase his discharge by the payment of a sum ranging from $30 to $120. It therefore follows that any of these fourteen soldiers can draw their $1,000 from the government and immediately afterwards purchase their discharge, which would leave them, on an average, a balance of about $900 each.

SAYS PAPERS EXAGGERATE

Taft Declares Railroad Bill Is Not So Badly Hashed Up.

Makes an Optimistic Address Before Passaic Business Men.

Passaic, N. J., May 10.—In a speech before the Passaic board of trade here last night in which he discussed the legislative situation at Washington, President Taft declared with a great deal of emphasis and amid an outburst of applause that the railroad bill had not been emasculated in any vital way, and predicted that a satisfactory law would be passed.

"The bill," said the president, "still retains its important features, and I am hopeful that within the next few weeks we shall see the passage of the bill in both houses, the adjustment of the differences between the two houses and its final enactment."

Says Reports Are Exaggerated.

The president declared that the newspaper reports of the crippling of the railroad bill had been greatly exaggerated, and he set out in detail the provisions of the measure as it now stands.

In his review of pending legislation Mr. Taft expressed the belief that the following measures would be enacted into law:

Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico; postal savings banks; anti-injunction; the so-called validating bill of the conservation measures; the publicity of campaign expenditures, and the railroad bill.

In his comment on the delay in passing the statehood bill, the president acknowledged that there was a "hesitation" on the part of the Republicans in the senate to pass a bill which is "so likely to add four Democrats to the senate."

"Out of Sympathy."

"Or if not Democrats," he added, "Republicans of that radical type that is entirely out of sympathy with the more conservative notions of the East."

Governor Fort of New Jersey aroused a great deal of enthusiasm by a speech in which he denounced the criticism of an executive on the ground that he was responsible for legislation and "everything else."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

COURT HEARS 'PHONE FIGHT

Northwestern Would Keep the Tri-State Company Out of East Grand Forks.

Judge Watts Asked to Enjoin City Officials From Granting a Franchise.

Crookston, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The application for a temporary injunction made by George K. Chambers restraining the mayor and city officials of East Grand Forks and the Valley View Publishing Co., from permitting the final publication of the ordinance granting a franchise to the Tri-State Telephone Co., to operate a local exchange in East Grand Forks was argued before Judge Watts Monday afternoon by Tracy R. Bangs of Grand Forks for the relator and W. P. Roberts of Minneapolis for the Tri-State Co., and the city officials. The court gave the attorneys until Saturday to file additional briefs covering certain points in dispute after which a decision will be rendered. Mr. Bangs is general counsel for the Northwestern Telephone Co., for the Northwest, which indicates that he is making the fight for that company.

May Be No Appeal.

The court gave no intimation in any way as to the outcome or the probable outcome, but it has been intimated that no appeal will be taken by the Northwestern, or by Mr. Chambers if the temporary writ is denied. The grounds upon which the application for an injunction are asked are all technical, alleging irregularities in the introduction, readings, etc., of the ordinance granting the franchise which the applicant for the injunction claims are fatal while the Tri-State claim that the alleged irregularities alleged are inconsequential, with no fraudulent intent and worked no hardship or injustice to any one and that portions of the claims made are not founded upon fact.

FIVE DISEASES THAT AFFECT WHEAT

Result of Experiments Conducted By North Dakota Agricultural College.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wheat wilt, or wheat sickness, is a more serious proposition than flax wilt and soil sickness, according to Prof. H. L. Bolley of the North Dakota Agricultural college. He is famous through his discoveries of potato scab and its treatment, his development of the formaldehyde treatment for smutty wheat, of flax wilt and other plant diseases. Having developed immune flax he turned his attention to wheat wilt and wheat soil sickness.

His experiments so far indicate there are five diseases affecting the plant and the soil. He does not know yet that all five are equally serious and is carrying on a line of experiments to differentiate these, which may show that possibly only two or three are really serious.

The worst phase of the investigation is that while flax wilt and flax sick soil affects only flax, the wheat wilt effects not only wheat but barley and oats as well as this feature makes the disease a grave affair. It causes more widespread damage and materially interferes with the old system of crop rotation for eradication.

Will Innoculate New Soil.

Prof. Bolley insists that the infected grain, even when seeded on uninfected land will innoculate the new soil, and good grain, when seeded on infected land, results in a damaged crop, so there is a double danger.

He urges proper treatment of the seed with formaldehyde for the grain and rotation of crops, especially a cultivated crop, with cultivation and aeration of the soil as the only way to free the state from the danger that threatens the wheat growers.

His investigations are attracting a lot of attention all over the Northwest and he is now preparing photographs of his tests for a bulletin, which will be issued by the station.

Should his present theories work out they may contradict to a great degree the idea of the exhaustion of soil fertility and may also be a blow to the belief that farm fertilizers are of great value.

Woman Describes Cure for Eczema

(From the Boston American.)

Here is a simple treatment for skin diseases, such as salt rheum, eczema, tetter, etc., that is so good that I feel I ought to make it public in your columns. Dissolve a teaspoonful of pure powdered citrox in two tablespoons of hot water and bathe the diseased skin with the warm solution 20 minutes at a time twice a day. The only precaution is to be sure to get the pure drug, just as it comes from the chemical works, in small sealed packages, and make the solution fresh each time it is to be used. It must be applied fresh and warm. Any good drug store has this well-known chemical.

It seems almost too simple, but the best things are always simple. I cured my husband of a very bad case of eczema on the leg, and my little boy's ringworm with it; also a very dear friend who had tetter on her hand. It dries up the eruption in a few days and stops the itching at once. A friend of mine who got the prescription from a famous skin specialist gave it to me. It is a priceless discovery, and I hope you will publish this.

MINNESOTA LANDS ARE SELLING WELL

State Auditor Iverson Holding Sales in Northern Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Auditor Iverson returned Sunday from a trip through Northern Minnesota on which he conducted seven sales of state lands. While he did not have exact figures, he said that during the week nearly 10,000 acres of land were sold at prices averaging about $7 or a little over. Some pieces of land went as high as $16 and $17 and many tracts at $12 and $14. Mr. Iverson was well satisfied with the prices and the amount of land sold.

At the sale at Wadena, Saturday, 3,000 acres were sold; at Little Falls, 940 acres; at Detroit, 2,450; at Fergus Falls, 1,900; at Glenwood and Long Prairie, about 500 acres.

There were many buyers from other states, especially from South Dakota, Iowa and Illinois, a couple from North Dakota and one man from Ohio, who bought a 160-acre tract. Mr. Iverson also said there were a number of buyers from the Twin Cities, many of them mechanics who bought the land either for homes at once or for future development.

Many From Other States.

"I noticed that a large number of people from other states who had been attracted by the state's advertising, had looked around and bought improved farms from private parties," said the auditor "These were people who had a little more capital than is needed to buy land sold by the state."

Mr. Iverson left Monday again and will conduct a sale today at International Falls, Wednesday at Park Rapids, Thursday at Walker, Friday at Bemidji, and Saturday at Grand Rapids. At Walker and Grand Rapids he will offer 30,000 acres each, and smaller amounts at the other places. For the next two weeks after this week he will conduct sales at other places in the state.

MANY HEAR MISS HENDRIX.

State President of W. C. T. U. Speaks at Sandstone.

Sandstone, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herld.)—A large audience gathered in the village hall Sunday evening, at the union services, to hear Miss Rozette Hendrix deliver a lecture on temperance The program opened with a song, and a prayer by Rev. W. Stegeman, after which Miss Hendrix addressed the audience for over an hour on "The Errors and Evils of Mankind." She proved herself an able speaker and held the audience spellbound and was given a hearty applause at the conclusion of her address.

Rev. W. S. Middlemass gave benediction and the choir and male chorus rendered some excellent singing. Mrs. A. Anderson, as president of the local W. C. T. U., had charge and spoke briefly of the good work accomplished here by that organization during its short existence.

On account of the banquet to be given by the different temperance societies next Friday evening, the regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was postponed until Wednesday afternoon, May 18, at the M. E. church. With Mrs. A. Anderson, as president, and Mrs. H. Madison, as secretary, the society has made splendid progress and will continue to do so as long as they remain at the helm.

Mothers' day was observed at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, by Rev. W. R. Middlemass delivering an appropriate sermon.

Sawyer, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Editor Willis of the Clipper was a participant in what was probably the last Buffalo hunt in this state It was in 1884. He had been over here only a short time from England, when he saw a buffalo on the prairie one day and borrowing a rifle from a neighbor gave chase on horseback through coulees and over hills. The body was found yesterday by John Jaeger, a railroad man. The dead man, about 50 years old, was last seen on the streets here with a gray haired companion. When found he had 30 cents in his trousers, but his vest pockets were turned inside out. Signs of a terrific struggle were apparent.

Ishpeming—Jacob Locher and wife, pioneer residents of Ishpeming celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. A jubilee mass was celebrated at St. John's church by Rev. J. A. Keul at 9 o'clock and a feast was served at the Locher home at noon. A large number of Mr. and Mrs. Locher's relatives helped them celebrate the event.

Escanaba—The popularity of Mrs. Frederick Spence, wife of the pastor of the First M. E. church of Escanaba, was eloquently shown when the members of the ladies' aid society gathered at her home and presented her with a purse of $200. The gift will allow Mrs. Spence and the children to accompany Mr. Spence on a trip to England, their old home.

Marquette—Thomas Ryan, an old and very well konwn resident of Ishpeming, died Saturday morning at St. Mary's hospital here, where he had been a patient for fourteen weeks. Tuberculosis was the cause of his demise. The deceased was 40 years of age. He worked at the Cliffs shafts mine for a number of years before his health failed him.

Houghton—Cards have been received here from Mr. and Mrs. John Senter, now at West Palm Beach, Fla., announcing the marriage on May 3 of their neice Miss Olive Louise Porter to Roger Sherman Baldwin of St. Augustine. The ceremony took place at West Palm Beach in Holy Trinity church.

Nature Tells You.

As Many a Duluth Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.
Duluth people testify to this.

L. P. Schneider, 210 W. Fourteenth St., Duluth, Minn. says: "Acute pains in the small of my back made it hard for me to stoop or lift and at night I was in such great misery that I could not sleep. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and often contained a sediment. After other medicines and treatments had failed, Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health."

The above statement was given on Oct. 20, 1904, and was confirmed by Mr. Schneider on Nov. 1908. He said: "I willingly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again and reiterate all I have previously said in their favor. My cure has been a lasting one, proving that Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy of merit."

DISCRIMINATION WINS !!!

In every walk in life discrimination between the true and the false wins and enjoys success. In questions of form, of style and of values, whether financial, commercial or medicinal, the judgement of the men and women who select and appreciate and utilize the true and genuine product, proves most profitable and most satisfactory to themselves and to all who follow them.

Therefore, in connection with so important a subject as the physical well-being of the people, the most eminent physicians insist on full information as to the wholesome nature and truly beneficial character of the component parts of the remedies used and prescribed by them, and the wise manufacturer not only supplies them with the knowledge desired, but also combines for them in proper proportions the very substances most approved by them and omits every objectionable substance. The world-wide acceptance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna by physicians and the well-informed of the world, as the best of family laxatives, is due to the universal satisfaction which it has given for more than a quarter of a century and also to the fact that it is a remedy of known quality and known component parts and to the further fact that the California Fig Syrup Co. presents it to the world simply as the ideal strengthening personal laxative to cleanse and sweeten the system gently, yet effectually, and to dispel colds and headaches and to assist in overcoming constipation. To get its beneficial effects — always buy the original and genuine, for sale by all leading druggists. "SHAKING HANDS WITH THE CROWD," AS THE TRAIN STARTED

—Copyright, 1910, by George Grantham Bain

ONE ENTHUSIASTIC WOMAN MOUNTED THE CAR STEPS TO SPEAK TO HIM.

Paris, April 25.—Mr. Roosevelt is a very busy man. While he was in Europe he began to receive so much mail that he was obliged to press into service his one time first assistant secretary of state, O'Laughlin, to help him answer it. Now he keeps a secretary busy all the time. I called on him Sunday morning on a special mission, and while he was talking with me he pointed to a heap of letters which had just come. (They have mail deliveries on Sunday in Paris.) In spite of the many demands on his time, however, he received a little girl who came on a charitable mission and put his autograph on a big portrait of him which she wanted to sell at a hospital fair. This morning Mr. Roosevelt drove to the city hall (Hotel de Ville) to attend the reception and luncheon given him by the city of Paris.

One illustration of the local interest in his visit stared at me from a shop window as I made my way through the Rue de Rivoli to the city hall. In a shop called the "Infants' Paradise," was displayed under the American flag, a big box labeled "Les chasses de Teddy Roosevelt en Afrique."

Teddy As a Toy.

The box was not less than three feet square, and in it were a figure of the ex-president, about nine inches high—glasses, teeth and all dressed in a khaki suit and helmet; a bearded African in semi-military dress and turban, carrying a gun; two African bearers in no dress to speak of; miniature tents; articulated elephants, tigers and lions; spears, and an assortment of forest trees. This wonderful toy was priced at $19, so only the children of the very rich can familiarize themselves in this way with the doings of our mighty hunter.

At the city hall a large crowd awaited the coming of the distinguished guest. The police kept them at a reasonable distance. This is the first real crowd that has greeted Mr. Roosevelt in Paris. The approaches to the municipal council chamber were decorated with flowers and plants, and Cuirassiers guarded the marble stairway. Within the council chamber gilded chairs upholstered in rich silks had been placed just in front of the members' desks, facing the rostrum of the president. Other chairs had been placed at each side of the chamber for guests.

Rose As Roosevelt Entered.

The reception was set for 11:30, but it was just noon when the president struck his little bell to call the council to order. A minute later all stood as ex-President Roosevelt entered. He was accompanied by M. Millerand of the cabinet and by Mr. Bacon, the American ambassador, M. Jusserand and others. He was greeted with liberal applause.

The president of the council began his speech almost immediately, speaking slowly and articulating with great distinctness. I sat where I could see Mr. Roosevelt's face and I saw his lips unconsciously repeating the words of the president. Occasionally he nodded acquiescence in what was said by the president and the speakers who followed him. When one of them spoke of race suicide, Mr. Roosevelt laughed very heartily. When another spoke of license as leading to anarchy, Mr. Roosevelt turned and made some vigorous comments to Mr. Millerand. Occasionally he joined in the applause which greeted some speaker's words.

Not Strong in French.

When he arose to answer it was quickly evident why Mr. Roosevelt does not make public speeches in French. His accent is execrable. Though he had his remarks written on a scrap of paper to which he frequently referred, he stumbled and mixed his genders and altogether made a lingual mess. One has imagined Mr. Roosevelt speaking fluently with the French president and the German emperor in their own tongues. If he knows no more German than French he will have some difficulty making Emperor William understand.

The members of the assembly, however, received the ex-president's brief remarks with kindly indulgence and applauded them liberally. They crowded around him and shook his hand until he was led away to the luncheon given in his honor in the Salle des Fetes. On his way to this building he was led through a series of magnificent salons, decorated with panels by Francois Flameing and other celebrated artists, and lighted by crystal chandeliers. The city hall of Paris is like a palace.

The invitations to this city hall function, by the way, stated that it was given to "M. le President Roosevelt," and all the speakers addressed him as "M. le President."

Roosevelt in Belgium.

April 28, Theodore Roosevelt's last day in Paris, was fully of incident. In the morning he attended a military review at Vincennes. It is a fact which needs no comment that the special guardian of the Dove of Peace has shown a special interest in military matters wherever he has been on this continent, whose people are taxed so enormously to maintain military establishments. In Rome, Vienna and Paris he has been taken to view military maneuvers.

Mr. Roosevelt also visited the palace at Versailles on his last day, and made a hurried trip through the Luxembourg gallery.

The newspapers seem to have given the people of Paris a mistaken impression concerning the local excitement over our ex-president. A tradesman, who had agreed to deliver a parcel to me before the departure of the train from Paris this morning, refused to send it to the station because, he said, the crowd would be so great that his messenger could not find me.

Police at the Station.

The local police department evidently expected a crowd, for a big squad of policemen had been sent to keep order. They were not needed. No one appeared at the station except the officials who had come to bid Mr. Roosevelt good-bye. They included the members of the American embassy and M. Jusserand and about twenty-five friends of Mr. Roosevelt and representatives of the French government.

Mr. Roosevelt stood among them on the platform, conversing earnestly, until the train had been delayed several minutes beyond its time of departure. Then he got into the special salon carriage, which had been attached to the train for his accommodation, and, with his soft hat, waved a good-bye to the group on the platform. The engineer blew his little tin whistle, and the train pulled out.

It was a fast train. It made stops only at St. Quentin and Aulnay and the frontier, and it averaged fifty miles an hour all the way to Brussels. Mr. Roosevelt did not leave his carriage during the journey. There was a small group at Aulnay, which stared at him while the train stopped and raised its hats in salute as the train moved on its way.

Welcomed at Brussels.

But at Brussels we received a really lively welcome. It was a good American mob which greeted the ex-president here—good-natured and warmly enthusiastic. When the train pulled into the station and a band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner," every porter on duty ran away from the passenger whose luggage he was supposed to be carrying and joined the crowd around the special car. All the passengers gathered around the car, and there was cheering and a good-natured crush as Mr. Roosevelt and his party descended. Ambassador Bryan met them and escorted them down the platform and through the station.

Outside there was a big crowd—probably a thousand men and women and boys, crowding around Mr. Roosevelt's automobile and the escort of mounted police. It cheerfully disregarded all authority, and jostled the distinguished guest of the city and hustled the members of his party in good American style. It cheered, too, and Mr. Roosevelt must have felt quite at home as he took off his hat and bowed right and left. Mrs. Roosevelt and the children followed in an open carriage, and the faithful Abbot, who makes schedules and looks after the ex-presidential luggage, came in another carriage.

Quite a Procession.

It was quite a procession which moved toward the American embassy, where Mr. Roosevelt was to be Mr. Bryan's guest. One must interpret this demonstration in the light of the fact that there is an international exposition here just now. It isn't much of an exposition. It looks smaller than the one at Buffalo, and, having been opened less than a week ago, it is in the state of incompleteness peculiar to international expositions in the opening days. But the people of Brussels are very much interested in this exposition, and Mr. Roosevelt's coming is regarded as an excellent advertisement for it. This may account for a certain degree of their enthusiasm.

To associate Mr. Roosevelt with the exposition, it had been arranged that his official receptions should be in the Salles des Fetes at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and cards of invitation had been issued to the elite of Brussels. The audience that gathered justified the claim of Brussels to be called the "Little Paris" of Europe. It was composed, in large part, of very beautiful women, gowned after the latest Paris styles, and of men in frock coats and top hats. In fact, the reception looked in all respects the official affair which the government intended it should be.

Group of Teddy Bears.

Every seat in the great Salles des Fetes was filled when at 4 o'clock Mr. Roosevelt arrived in an automobile. There was a generous crowd outside which cheered him heartily as he entered the building. Then it laughed at a group of "Teddy Bears," life size, which the Canadian Pacific railroad had put in front of its pavilion, just opposite. It is not likely Mr. Roosevelt saw that official greeting. Nor did he witness the earnest efforts of two Sioux Indians in full regalia to make their way into the building in the interest of publicity. These Indians belong to a Wild West show, which is a feature of the exposition.

Only a few minutes after Mr. Roosevelt's arrival King Albert came in his automobile. There were a few cries of "Vive le roi" from the crowd, but for the most part it was struggling breathlessly in its efforts to pass the line of police and get nearer his majesty. A worse managed crowd I have seldom seen. But what can you expect in a country where every man who speaks to a policeman takes off his hat to him and every policeman salutes the citizen as though he were some one? It is beautiful—but is it discipline?

"English as She is Spoke."

"Ouch! what a squash!" said an English girl, who stood beside me as the police rushed at the crowd and pushed them back in vain endeavor to make a clear passage for the king.

I have always understood that in England a squash was a lemonade. It seems the term has a wider application.

One American man in a "topper," accompanied by two women, was a little too insistant on getting into the hall when it was full, and a bad tempered little policeman shoved one of the women into the crowd with a force that showed temper and indiscretion. It was like a glimpse of old Broadway to see it. The Brussels police could learn a great deal from those of London and Paris.

Within the hall Mr. Roosevelt was delivering his address. Soon after he began some of the audience came out. 'En Anglais,' said one of those departing, with a shrug of his shoulders. A discourse in English had no charms for him.

Again Mr. Roosevelt had dodged an opportunity to speak in French—that language we all thought he knew so well.

It was 5 o'clock when the tall figure of the king appeared in the doorway, followed by the shorter figure of Mr. Roosevelt. While the police fought back the crowd, the king escorted Mr. Roosevelt to his automobile and together they drove to his palace at Laeken, where the ex-president is being entertained tonight.

In the Netherlands.

The Hague, April 29.—Theodore Roosevelt is in the land of his forefathers, but his reception here has not equalled the reception in Belgium. It is odd that a mere geographical line should make such a difference. He left Brussels this morning amid the cheers of a crowd of several hundred. At Antwerp a big crowd gathered in the station and he had to come out on the step of his private car and give what the Brussels papers call a "vigorous shake-hand" to his welcomers. One woman climbed on the step of the car to say something to him.

He entered Holland without attracting more than passing attention. His car was switched off at the frontier and run to Arnheim, where he was taken in the royal automobile to the queen's palace at Het Loo. There he had a chance to congratulate Wilmelmina on what the French cartoonists call "Prince Henry's chef doeuvre," the Princess Juliana. And later he went by automobile to Amsterdam, returning tonight.

This is the sixth of a series of illustrated letters Mr. Bain is writing for The Herald while accompanying Col. Roosevelt on his European tour. The next will appear at an early date.

TAFT STANDS UPON A CHAIR

Makes Sympathetic Address at Actors' Fund Fair in New York.

New York, May 10.—President Taft dared disaster yesterday afternoon when he climbed upon a chair, the better to make himself heard and seen at the Actors' Fund fair, which he formally opened at the Seventy-first regiment armory. But the chair held. The presidents' brief response to the address of welcome was loudly cheered by the player folk. He said, in part:

"I should be wanting in gratitude if I did not seize this opportunity to come here and give my thanks to a profession which personally I owe so much to. I do not like to compare you either with lawyers or politicians, but there is one respect at least in which you are alike—the money you make seems to come easy and go easy.

"You are different from lawyers and politicians in that, out of the generosity of your hearts, you take care of those who have played their parts in your profession and have reached the time when they are dependent on others.

Owe Much to Actors.

"It was no meaningless phrase when I said to you that I owed much to your profession. There is nothing that I know of in a nerve-straining life that equals the relaxation of a good play, well mounted and well played, and you put nature under obligation by holding up the mirror to nature."

The speeches over, President Taft made a tour of the booths and looked in on the stage and society circus, stopping frequently to shake hands with actors and actresses. To Miss Grace Keating, a blind stenographer, he dictated the following message, which she took down on the machine:

"To the New York Association for the Blind:

"I have a great deal of interest in furnishing to the blind the means of enjoying life and forgetting the deprivations which are theirs."

It was apaprent that the president was enjoying himself hugely. He beamed upon the pretty leading women who hung about him as a reception committee and flushed with embarrassment and pleasure when twelve of the handsomest show girls the country could furnish scattered roses at his feet as he entered the court of honor.

President Taft was greeted on his arrival by William H. Crane, who pinned a gold medal of welcome on the presidents' coat.

The president spent little more than an hour at the fair and then was whisked off to Passaic to address a dinner of the Passaic board of trade.

FOURTH MAY BE OBSERVED

Central Avenue Business Men Plan Celebration of Independence Day.

West Duluth Has Not Had Big Celebration for Ten Years.

If the plan of some of the business men along Central avenue materialize West Duluth will have an elaborate celebration on the Fourth of July. A quiet canvass, has found many of the merchants enthusiastic over the idea and it is expected that there will be a subscription taken for a fund to insure the success of the undertaking.

Ten years ago, West Duluth had a big celebration but nothing except a quiet observance of the day has taken place since. At the last celebration the program of the day included a parade athletic sports and a display of fireworks in the evening. A committee will probably be organized to work this year's affair out along these lines.

The matter will probably be brought up at a meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club in the near future and then it will be put up to the citizens. A balance of $100 is on hand from the last celebration and this will give a good start. This money is in the hands of Alexander Hendrickson, who was appointed treasurer at the time of the last observance.

A special feature will probably be the parade. It is planned to have all civic societies in the western end of the city interest themselves in the matter and take part in the parade. With the help of the various lodges, the business men feel that the success of the affair is already assured. Bands will be asked to join the parade and a number of other interesting features are being suggested.

CRUSHED BY HEAVY LOG.

Fellow Workman Thought William McGraw Had Been Killed.

While helping lift some timbers William McGraw, 23 years old, employed by the Interstate Dredge & Dock company at the steel site, New Duluth, slipped and was crushed to insensibility when a heavy log rolled upon him.

He was picked up by fellow workmen, one of whom thinking that he was dedeceased sent for the West Duluth undertaker. Another man telephoned for Dr. Keyes. Before the undertaker or the physician arrived McGraw recovered.

He was put on a train and taken to the Duluth hosital at West Duluth, where his injuries were found to consist of a broken nose and a badly bruised body. His injuries are not serious.

All during the morning, the street sprinkler was conspicuous by its absence. Clouds of dust were blown into open doors and it was also disagreeable for pedestrians.

THREE INJURED MEN IMPROVING

None of Monday's Accidents Is Expected to Prove Fatal.

The three men who were injured in various parts of the city yesterday afternoon are reported to be doing well at St. Mary's hospital. All of them were seriously hurt, but it is not thought that the injuries will be fatal in any case. While rushing Richard Harney, who fell down the hatch of a steamer at the docks of the Northwestern Fuel company, to the hospital, the ambulance struck Angus Gillies at Lake avenue and Second street. A passing automobile took him to the hospital. Gillies is the engineer of the Whittier school across the canal and was on his way to the high school to get his last month's check. He is rather hard of hearing, which is said to account for the accident.

Later in the day Andrew Nyoski fell down an ore chute at the Missabe docks. He was badly bruised.

HYDE GLAD TO TESTIFY

Accused Doctor Does Not Mind Being Called as Witness.

Denies Everything and Explains Why He Bought the Poison.

Kansas City, Mo., May 10.—Emphatically denying that he ever poisoned any member of the Swope family, or any other person, Dr. B. C. Hyde today completed his direct testimony in his trial for murder. His cross examination was not completed at noon.

Dr. Hyde's dealings with cyanide of potassium formed the subject of the larger part of his examination. The physician acknowledged his purchases of the poison. He said he used the drug to kill insects, to clean nitrate of silver stains from his hands and to disinfect towels.

On cross-examination Dr. Hyde said while he had used cyanide for several years he could not recall any place he ever purchased it except at Brecklein's drug store here, where he bought 100 grains of the drug last fall.

Read it in Pamphlet.

The physician testified he learned from a pamphlet that cyanide would kill bugs. Government scientists, he said, had also recommended the use of the drug for this purpose.

Some of the cyanide, the witness averred, disappeared at the time that Dr. Hyde Stewart took germs from the office. In this connection, Dr. Hyde also averred, he planned as early as August, 1908, to experiment with various kinds of germs.

Prosecutor Conkling introduced on cross-examination several patent bug powders and asked Dr. Hyde why he did not use them. Dr. Hyde said he used so much bug powder that proved ineffective that he finaly gave up experimenting with it and began the use of cyanide.

Frequently during the morning Prosecutor Conkling and the defendant exchanged remarks, the witness expressing his opinion that the examination was improper.

Doesn't Make Him Nervous.

The physician smiled as he came out of his cell this morning and skipped up the stairs that led into the court room. Mrs. Hyde was waiting for him.

"Testifying doesn't make me nervous," he said. "I'm glad to have an opportunity to tell my story."

"Did you ever, after Oct. 2, have anything to do with the capsule you gave the nurse for Col. Swope?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"No, sir," replied Dr. Hyde.

"Did Miss Keller ever say to you that she would dislike to be held responsible for Col. Swope's illness if he got well, or held the medicine responsible for his attack?"

"She did not."

Dr. Hyde testified he gave Margaret Swope a hypodermic injection of camphorated oil and nothing else. He said on the morning following the giving of the hypodermic, Margaret's arm was swollen.

The physician denied he ever put any germs in drinking water he is said to have given Lucy Lee Swope. Dr. Hyde said he did not recall having given her a drink.

AVIATION MEET AT BIG FAIR ASSURED

Curtiss, Hamilton and Willard to Do Air Stunts at the State Fair.

There is no trouble about the money. COPPERS FIRM IN ACTIVE MARKET

Prices Advance With Shattuck Feature in the Duluth Market.

In an active market today coppers advanced in good order. The opening was only moderately firm and values then declined but support was forthcoming and values rallied and marched steadily forward to the close. The upturn was not pronounced but the action of the market seemed healthy and there was no pressure after the first two or three hours.

Large sales of electrolytic have been made at 13c, an advance of ½c on quotations recently made on small lots. Other large sales have been made at lower figures. Sentiment in the metal market appears to have undergone a change and this opinion is reflected in the action of the stock market. The market is said to be fairly well cleaned up. An independent company is said to have sold a large block at 12½c, which assisted to clearing the atmosphere. General Electric is credited with having purchased 15,000,000 pounds today.

It was rumored today that Senator Clark's mining interests in Butte have been acquired by the Anaconda. The report has not been confirmed.

Shattuck declared its first quarterly dividend of $1 today which places the stock upon a basis of 4 per cent. The annual meeting was held this afternoon in the company's offices in the Sellwood building. Directors were elected as follows: L. W. Hill, Alex Guthrie, A. M. Chisholm, Thomas Bardon and L. C. Shattuck.

The feature of the local market was Shattuck which advanced from 26.75 to $28.75, sold also at $28.25 and at $28.37½ at the close. Trading here was exceptionally broad and moderately heavy. The tone of the market was excellent. Butte-Alex Scott, part paid, sold at $3, the full paid at $6. Copper Queen at 30c, Giroux at $7.55¾. Red Warrior at $1.06¼. Butte & Superior at $2.12½ to $2, Calumet & Montana at $1.12½ to 98c to $1.37½, $1.31¼, and at $1.38½ at the close. Calumet & Corbin sold at 79 to 76c, Elenita at $6.50, $6.87½ and $6.62½. Keating at $1.25 and North American at $3.

Amalgamated sold at $68.37½ to $67.75 to $70.12½, Butte Coalition at $20 to $19.75 to $20.50, Calumet & Arizona at $60, $61.50 and $61. Cinaux at 7, 8 and $7.87½. Greene from $8.62½ to $9 and then at $8.87½, Lake at $53.50 to $56.25 to $56, North Butte at $32.25 to $33.87½ to $33.50, Superior & Pittsburg at $12 to $12.25.

Capt. J. W. Dawson of Butte, Mont., is in Duluth on business. He said the Butte-Ballaklava was preparing to operate its new hoist when he left Butte, that the steel bins are full of high grade ore and the mine is shipping steadily. Last Sunday two cars of ore were sent to the smelter. He said the ore was the best he ever saw in transit to a smelter at Butte. The stuff came from the 500-foot level. The shaft has reached a depth of 1,400 feet.

The shaft of the Butte-Alex Scott, said Capt. Dawson, is 1,555 feet deep. Last month all Montana records for shaft sinking below the 1,400 level were broken when the shaft was put down 106 feet. It will reach the 1,600 level by June 1. On the 1,600-foot level the management expects to cut the same large ore bodies that have been encountered in the workings on the 1,200 and 1,400-foot levels. The ore is high grade bornite and copper glance. In a distance of seventeen feet Capt. Dawson took three samples which assayed 8, 9 and 10½ per cent copper.

"The last time I was at the property," he said, "the raise from the 1,400 to 1,200-foot level was 75 feet in commercial ore of high grade. On the big vein on the 1,400-foot level a drift has been driven 106 feet Work was stopepd temporarily so that the sinking of the shaft could continue. When the 1,600-foot level is reached and the attention of the management is devoted to opening up the ore bodies the mine should be able to send out easily from 300 to 500 tons a day. The hoist has a capacity of 3,000 feet and the equipment is such that heavy shipments can be made as soon as the shaft reaches the 1,600 level and the work of developing and opening up the ore bodies begins. The mine has commercial ore on every level from the 200 to the 1,400."

ACTORS IN CHINA.

Japan Mail: "The social standing of actors in China is very low. In the eighteen grades of China's social caste they are placed at the twelfth, which is lower than the position immoral women or thieves occupy. This is the natural outcome of their being ignorant and leading a questionable life." A Pekin contemporary writes: "But there is a class of actors called yu hsi tzu (imperial actors). These are kept on salaries like ordinary officials and act in the presence of his majesty on the 4th of every month.

"They have great influence and often defy even the command of the highest mandarins. At present there are about ten of them in Pekin, the oldest among them being 65 years old and the youngest 30."

It is a curious fact that so far as we know no satisfactory reason has ever been assigned for the exceedingly low place to which actors and actresses are condemned in Chinese society. In Japan much the same state of affairs used to exist, but the cause has always been tolerably well known. Another interesting feature is that in both countries alike the drama had its origin in a kind of operatic performance with music and song.

The Chinese histrionic art has been much more conservative than the Japanese, for the former has remained always a singing representation, whereas the latter, even before it was reached by foreign influence, developed all the characteristics of the theater proper.

THE TALE OF A HARROW

But Not Regarded as a Harrowing Tale to Duluthians.

How the Farm Machinery Dealers Have Had Awakening.

Three years ago a farmer drove into Duluth—and in those days farmers were as scarce as dodos—and tried to buy a harrow—just a plain, common, steel tooth harrow of the common or garden variety such as every country boy has stubbed his toes on in the days back on the farm. But there was nothing doing in the harrow line. He could buy dynamite, or cant hooks, or steam shovels, or sewing machines, or grand pianos, but there was not a trace of a harrow in Duluth. Most of the men of whom he inquired looked at him questioningly, as though they doubted his sanity. What could a sane man want with a harrow in St. Louis county?

So the farmer went home harrowless, and went out behind the barn and threw stones at Old Dobbin to express his feelings on the subject of country towns, like Duluth, where they didn't even keep harrows. This is a true tale, vouched for by A. B. Hostetter of the Duluth Commercial club.

But now cometh the part that is not harrowing. Next week a Duluth hardware firm is going out to the poor farm to give a demonstration of a new, patent potato planter. The farmer just sits on the fence, "sics" the planter on to a ten-acre field of stubble, and smokes his pipe while the planter does the work—if the agent can be believed. That isn't the point, however. The point is that the company is voluntarily making a demonstration of a far more complicated piece of farming machinery than a harrow. Three years ago a farmer was looking for a chance to buy a harrow. Today the dealers are out drumming up trade among the farmers.

Question: Is the importance of St. Louis county as a farming community growing?

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Representative Leonard Virtue of Blooming Prairie, Steele county, is in the city today, on the way to Bemidji, where he will look at some land which he may purchase. Mr. Virtue is deeply interested in the possibilities and future of Northern Minnesota, although a resident of one of the southern counties. His vision is wide, however, and as a member of the legislature he looks at all propositions with the idea in mind that he is helping to make laws for the whole state and not merely his own district.

Legislator Visits Zenith City.

Mr. Virtue is a Democrat who stands high in the esteem of his home people. He was mayor of Owatonna, where he was born, for three terms, and also has been an alderman and member of the library board, besides serving as a member of the local board of the state school at Owatonna.

LEONARD VIRTUE

The Blooming Prairie man will be a candidate for renomination and re-election, and it is a foregone conclusion that he will be returned to the legislature, where he has been of such good service to the state.

In this district, now represented in the upper house by Senator Thomas E. Cashman, John R. Morley lives. He is secretary of the Minnesota Agricultural society and an aspirant to the senate. It is expected that he will be nominated by the Republicans and will fight hard to beat Cashman.

A. L. Thompson of Mahnomen has recently made a trip through Beltrami, Clearwater and Red Lake counties with the purpose of getting a good line on the legislative situation in the Sixty-first district. He probably will be a candidate for the senate. If he doesn't try for the senate, where A. L. Hanson of Ada now represents the district, it is possible that he will be a candidate for the house from the Mahnomen-Norman counties part of the district.

"The time of the gentleman from the First Minnesota district is up, and he knows it," remarks the Wabasha Herald, and information drifting in from the south indicates that the Herald has the situation correctly sized up. Mr. Tawney's friends have been diligent in spreading the story that he is the farmer's friend because of his oleomargerine activities, but somehow that dope doesn't take with the First district. The plea advanced in his behalf that the "interests" are determined to beat him is received with impoliteness,—it is derisively hooted, as might have been expected. All along the line, Tawney's defenses are being cut away and with each day the Democracy's prospects are brightening in the district.

From Bad to Worse for James A. Tawney.

The Red Wing Free Press puts the case in an interesting light when it says: "It is claimed that the insurgent Republicans of the First congressional district are not as enthusiastic in their efforts to secure a candidate to beat Tawney for the nomination as might have been expected. The fact of the matter is that while the people of the First district are determined to prevent Tawney from going back to congress they are in doubt about being able to defeat him for the nomination. Also, they are not so sure about the future course of anyone whom they might nominate in his place—in case they should succeed. They therefore consider it the better course to save their strength until election time and then join with the Democrats in electing their man. By so doing they figure that success will be certain. And it will."

Recently, when ex-Mayor Reigard of Owatonna offered to become the insurgent sacrifice and go against Mr. Tawney, there was a brief spasm of enthusiasm, but it petered out. The First district idea seems to be simply that Tawney must be eliminated. The rank and file of the insurgents, whether Republican or Democratic, is looking forward so steadfastly to the ultimate aim that preliminary brushes lack interest. The insurgents refuse to become parties to any attempt on the part of ambition-impelled party men to grab off Tawney's honors. They want an insurgent in congress from the First district, and apparently, like their neighbors of the Second district, have decided that the only way to get what they want is to elect a Democrat.

Farmer Ben, who is just as interesting as he is insurgent, has this to say in the Austin Transcript:

"I'm mity glad that the insurgents in this First deestrick are determined to clean out Tawney body and britches. He's scared to death and has good reason to be. He's stood in with Cannon and the interests and nobody denies he's got good positions for hisself by so doin'. But as the system is broken up and Ahlrich and Hale and Cannon and Payne and the rest are to be kicked out at the end of their present terms poor leetle Tawney wouldn't amount to a snuff of wind among the new leaders that are to take control. Tawney is a wise guy in lookin' up good things for hisself but like gang he's sucked around is down and will soon be out and he with 'em. The bitter feelin' agenst him in this deestrick is gettin' stronger and more determined every day and he'll be skinned rite in the Repub primaries by outraged constituents who see how he's been driftin' away from their interests for the past decade. Who, but his post-offis whiffets, pretend to support him longer?"

James W. Falk of Eveleth is boomed by the Gilbert Herald as a candidate for the legislature from the Forty-ninth district. "Jim is independent in his views, is somewhat of an insurgent, but would make as good a representative as the district could send down to St. Paul," says the Herald.

May Run for Sheriff as Independent.

The Gilbert Herald declares that the cards are being stacked on Sheriff William Bates, alleging that John E. Meining has evolved a scheme by which he can get Bates' official scalp without coming out into the open as a candidate until after the primaries. Says the Herald: "It is reported Meining will not be a candidate at the primary election but will run independent. Meining has an idea he can trim Bates if he gets him alone. At the primary election nearly every legal voter in the county is usually a candidate for the sheriff's office, and Bates usually gets more votes than the other fellows. Well, they can stack the cards all they please, but they will have to hold a royal flush if they beat Billy Bates."

Just why such a game should be called "stacking the cards" is not especially clear, but the conclusion at which the Herald arrives seems to be reasonably plausible.

Sheriff Bates will be in much the same case as the pugilist who is called upon to down two men in one day. With Ed Woolway as his opponent in the primaries and Meining as an independent contender in the election, the autumn months should be interesting for him.

The Roseau Times calls upon Governor Eberhart to "sacrifice his ambition for the good of the party" and permit the Republican party to pick out a candidate who can be elected. That's bad enough, but to accentuate the snub, the Times spells it "Eberhard."

ITCHING OF SCALP INTOLERABLE

Nearly Wild with Painful, Burning Eruption—Half Her Hair Fell Out and Combing It Was Torture—Feared She Would be Bald.

IN DESPAIR UNTIL CURED BY CUTICURA

"Just about two years ago, some form of humor appeared on my scalp. The beginning was a slight itching but it grew steadily worse until, when I combed my hair, the scalp became raw and the ends of the comb-teeth would be wet with blood. Most of the time there was an intolerable itching, in a painful, burning way, very much as a bad, raw burn, if deep, will itch and smart when first beginning to heal. Combing my hair was positive torture. My hair was long and tangled terribly because of the blood and scabs. This continued growing worse and over half my hair fell out. I was in despair, really afraid of becoming totally bald.

"Sometimes the pain was so great that, when partially awake, I would scratch the worst places so that my finger-tips would be bloody. I could not sleep well and, after being asleep a short time, that awful stinging pain would commence and then I would wake up nearly wild with the torture. A neighbor said it must be salt rheum. Having used Cuticura Soap merely as a toilet soap before, I now decided to order a set of the Cuticura Remedies—Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills. I used them according to directions for perhaps six weeks, then left off, as the disease seemed to be eradicated. But toward spring, eighteen months ago, there was a slight return of the scalp humor. I commenced the Cuticura treatment at once, so had very little trouble. On my scalp I used about one half a cake of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment in all. The first time I took six or seven bottles of Cuticura Pills and the last time three bottles—neither an expensive or tedious treatment. Since then I have had no scalp trouble of any kind. Standing up, with my hair unbound, it comes to my knees and had it not been for Cuticura I should doubtless be wholly bald.

"This is a voluntary, unsolicited testimonial and I take pleasure in writing it, hoping my experience may help someone else. Miss Lillian Brown, R. F. D. 1, Liberty, Me., Oct. 29, 1909."

COST OF LIVING HAS EFFECT ON ATHLETICS.

Cambridge, Mass., May 10.—Increased cost of living has seriously affected college athletics and a slump of nearly 90 per cent in the athletic balance at Harvard for the year 1908-9 over the preceding year is revealed by the report of Graduate Treasurer Gacelon.

The balance this year is only $2,786; for 1907-8 it was $26,031. The decrease apparently is due to increased expenses, as the receipts were approximately similar for the two years.

Football, which in 1907-8 brought in $82,546 in 1908-9, returned $78,897, while the expenses jumped from $19,894 to $21,067.

ANOTHER CREAMERY HAS BEEN LAUNCHED

Started at Orleans, Marshall County, Making Many in Rich Valley.

Crookston, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dairy Inspector C. A. Storvick recently superintended the installation of the machinery for the new co-operative creamery at Orleans, Marshall county, this making over 1,000 creameries and cheese factories in Minnesota, the installation of the machinery having been started on the twentieth anniversary of the opening of the first creamery in Minnesota, at Clark's Grove, Freeborn county, May 5, 1890. There are more than a score of new creameries in course of erection or in process of organization in this section at the present time, and the Red river valley has outstripped all other portions of Minnesota and every other section of the entire United States in the development of the creamery industry in the past five years and the process of further development is still in full swing. The successful raising of clover in the Red river valley and practically all portions of Northern Minnesota, coupled with the successful raising of corn, is the chief inducement for increased dairying.

RAILROADS TO OPERATE SOUTH SHORE

Rumor Revived That Soo Will Take Over Duluth Road.

President W. F. Fitch Said to Be About to Retire.

There is a persistent rumor going the rounds of Duluth railroad circles that in the not very distant future the operation of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will be taken over by the Soo.

In connection with the rumor is an unofficial report that W. F. Fitch, president and general manager of the South Shore, will step down from the active management of that road some time next fall and retire from active railroad life.

Efforts have been made to confirm this rumor at the Duluth office of the South Shore, but without success. Nobody here apparently knows whether there is any truth to the story or not.

Mr. Fitch, in addition to being president and general manager of the South Shore, is also a heavy stockholder in the company. The South Shore, as it is commonly known here, is a subsidiary company of the Canadian Pacific.

It is equally well known that the Soo is also a subsidiary company of the Canadian Pacific system. At the present time these companies, aside from following the broad general policy of the Canadian Pacific, are operated as independent lines.

When the Wisconsin Central was absorbed by the Soo and became the Chicago division of the Soo, it was generally predicted here that the South Shore would also be taken under the management of the Soo and the road operated by the officials of the Soo.

The rumor is again current, although there has been no official confirmation of the story, which recently has cropped up. It is stated that the increased activities of the Canadian Northern in the Head of the Lakes district, and the even more ambitious plans of that company for the Duluth district for the future, will hasten the construction of the Soo short line to Winnipeg, via Thief River Falls, giving this city another short line to Winnipeg, and will also result in the increasing of the facilities of the South Shore as a common carrier between Duluth and Eastern Canada.

Here, the story is believed to have some foundation.

SHAUGHNESSY CHOSEN BY CANADIAN PACIFIC.

Montreal, May 10.—At the meeting of the Canadian Pacific directors yesterday A. R. Creelman, general counsel for the company, was elected to the board of directors, replacing the late Sir George Drummond. The resignation of Sir William Van Horn as chairman of the board was accepted and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy appointed to the position.

SAYS ROADS CAN AGREE ON RATES DESPITE LAW.

Little Rock, Ark., May 10.—That the anti-trust act passed in 1905 does not prevent railroads agreeing on freight and passenger rates is held by the state supreme court.

The opinion was announced in dismissing the case of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad company in which Garland county's prosecuting attorney had sued the road, charging it with being in trust with the Hot Springs Western and Iron Mountain roads in fixing a 2-cent passenger rate, and in which penalties aggregating $720,000 were asked of each road with a forfeiture of charter.

LIQUOR IS SMUGGLED IN Health Commissioner Will Investigate Reports From Pesthouse.

Rolland Esterly Had Recovered When He Broke Quarantine.

Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, will investigate reports of whisky being used by patients at the pesthouse.

Following the arrest of Rolland Esterly Saturday, for breaking quarantine and coming into the city before he had been discharged, several stories have been told of some of the patients getting drunk. It is claimed that quite a considerable quantity of distilled liquor has been smuggled to the patients by friends on the outside, who have gone out to visit with them at a distance.

Esterly is fully recovered from the disease. He was about to be discharged when he broke quarantine. Had he waited another day he would have been released. The night he and Ignatius Beyenka are claimed to have come into the city his brother started out after him in his automobile, but it broke down and he was obliged to return to the city. Esterly said this morning that he was intoxicated and doesn't remember whether he was in town or not the night in question. Beyenka is still at the institution. Superintendent Nell McDougall had retired for the night when the two left the place. No one is attaching blame to him. All who have returned from the isolation hospital have always had a good word for the superintendent, who has been there several years. They say he cannot act as jailer to all the patients all the time.

WORTHINGTON'S CLAIM REJECTED

Duluth Man Wants Reward for Capture of Michigan Criminal.

Houghton, Mich., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The claim of A. M. Worthington, a Duluth detective, against Houghton county for $3,000, the reward offered for the capture of George Hamilton, who was convicted of sending an infernal machine to Sheriff August Beck of Houghton county two years ago, was turned down by the county board of supervisors today.

Worthington, who has retained a Calumet attorney to push his claim, alleges that his efforts were responsible for the capture of Hamilton at Virginia, Minn. Mr. Beck, who personally conducted the search for the sender of the infernal machine, denies that Worthington's services were of any value in the case.

It is probable that Worthington will go into court in an effort to collect the reward.

Hamilton, who is serving ten years in the state prison at Marquette for the crime, was arrested at his home in Virginia and was convicted in circuit court here. He formerly lived at Calumet in this county and had a fancied grievance against Mr. Beck. The box containing the infernal machine was expressed at Iron River, Wis., and witnesses identified Hamilton as the man who sent it. The sheriff became suspicious on receipt of the box and did not open it according to directions. It was found to contain enough dynamite to demolish the jail. Hamilton was arrested several month after the box was sent, and Worthington claims that he was active in securing the evidence on which he was convicted.

Devils Lake's New Hotel.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—With construction work on Devils Lake's new $125,000 hotel in progress, this city will soon possess one of the finest hostelries in North Dakota. Delay in the receipt of building material has occasioned considerable inconvenience, but it is anticipated that there will be no further trouble on that score.

SERIES GOES TO SUPERIOR

Grumblers Take Fifth Game By the Score of 7 to 6.

Managers Call Off the Last Game---New Men in Lineup.

Honors galore are heaped upon the shoulders of the members of the Superior baseball team. The spring Head of the Lakes championship was yesterday annexed by the O'Dea tribe, the Grumblers taking the fifth game of the series by the score of 7 to 6.

The winning of the game yesterday gives Superior three out of five games. The original plan called for a game this afternoon. This has been called off, as both O'Brien and O'Dea want their men to be up on their toes when the bell rings tomorrow afternoon.

Both teams seemed to be off color in the game of yesterday. Of the two new men played by Duluth, Heldenson behind the bat, and Frynn at the initial corner, little can be judged from the play yesterday. Neither did much, but neither player was in condition to show at his best.

Duluth scored first in the second inning, when Patriot O'Brien hit to right for three bases. Jensen's wild heave permitted the leader to walk. The three following batters failed to emulate the shining example, going out in order.

McGraw walked in Superior's half. McCulloch sacrificing. On Sweeney's fumble of Chaffee's ground drive, McGraw crossed the plate.

Thorsen singled after one was down in the third, giving A. W. Kuehnow a near touch of heart disease. The game was stopped while the fans congratulated Richard. Anderson drew four untamed ones. Neelon was hit and Taylor strolled. Michael Dennis Sweeney flew out.

Duluth scored one in the fourth. Frynn hit over the paling for two, advanced down the hope line on Daggett's out and scored on Heldenson's sacrifice fly.

Frynn failed to stop the progress of McCulloch's grounder in the fourth and the red topped first baseman went to second on Maddox's hit, then deciding to try for third, Sweeney dropping the throw from Anderson. Bancroft hit for three, sending two across. A passed ball, of wild and mean disposition, permitted Bancroft to register in the third of the inning.

In the fifth Anderson walked, went to second on a passed ball, and scored on Neelon's single to right. Neelon went to second on the throw in and was injured sliding. Jaenicke taking his place. Taylor sacrificed and Jaenicke registered when O'Brien went out at first.

Superior tied things up in the seventh. Irwin was permitted to live through Daggett's fumble, Landry drew four foolish ones, the two runners were sacrificed by Leighty, and two runs came across when Kourick hit a sizzler to left.

Jaenicke mounted the mound in the eighth, Bancroft hit for two, after one was down, and scored on Landry's hit. Duluth could do nothing in its half and the game went to the enemy.

Interest in Opening.

Now that the opening of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league season for 1910 is just one day away, interest in this important event is growing and the fans all over the circuit are eagerly awaiting the outcome of the first games.

Duluth will open the season with the Winona Pirates Never before in the history of baseball in this section of the country has so much interest been taken in the opening of a series of games, as is being shown by the citizens of Winona.

Business will be declared off for the day. The mayor will heave the first ball in the general direction of the plate; there will be a parade, led by all the bands in Winona, and other festivities of a kindred nature will mark the ushering in of what promises to be the greatest season in the history of baseball in this part of the country.

Superior will show first at Red Wing, in that center of commercial and manufacturing activity preparations have also been completed for a most fitting celebration of the entry of Red Wing into organized baseball. As in Winona, business will be forgotten Wednesday afternoon, and it is expected that the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a game in the Southern part of the state, will cheer the Malley pets on to victory.

Rochester will open at Rochester and Tommy Schoonmon will take his charges to the German village of La Crosse, to give battle to the rather unknown team that Silent Joe Safford has gathered.

The fans around the circuit are beginning to wake up to the fact, that here, where we have been used to rather lax baseball methods in the past, there is a real, live league, governed by strict and sound business methods, and presided over by officials who have the best interests of the game at heart.

Duluth like every other town in the league, should enjoy the best season in the history of baseball in this part of the Northwest. Kuehnow is out to give the fans of this city the best baseball that money can provide. Darby O'Brien has already proved that he is a shrewd judge of baseball players, and also a capable and live manager. Unless the opinion expressed around the circuit by men well qualified to know whereof they speak is wrong, we are going to see some classy baseball here. It looks, just as the barrier is about to be lifted, as if every team in the league has been improved upon in some way. Especially does this seem true of Superior and Wausau, the hanagback cousins of last season's race.

The officials have also benefited by the experience of last season. It was the first year of the new league, and naturally the league was more or less of an experiment. Now it is about to enter onto its second season, made stronger by the lessons that were learned in last season's exciting and well contested race.

Other games have had the charge of dishonesty thrown at them. Baseball has remained through the years the great national game, simply because its honesty has never been questioned. It is a great and clean game loved by a great and sport-loving race. There is no greater game than baseball, for it is a game that requires the best of every man who partcipates in it, and also a game that is both a mental and physical stimulant to the observers.

Baseball has kept its unique place along the years of the history of sports in this country. The present season finds the game more popular than ever before. It has become a business, conducted along business lines. When a manager or owner fails to conduct baseball along honest and up to date methods, it falls into bad ways, just as any other business would, under like conditions.

The officials of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league are fully aware of this very patent fact. They have done everything possible to provide good baseball for the lovers of the game in this part of the country, and in looking the situation over before the start of the season, it looks as if their efforts would be rewarded by success.

Duluth likes good baseball. That is just what Mr. Kuehnow and Darby O'Brien are endeavoring to give to the public of this city. A good team is a fine advertisement for a city. The fact that Duluth won the Minnesota-Wisconsin league pennant in 1909, is a fine advertisement, for it has resulted in the mention of Duluth in baseball circles all over the country.

With the season about to open, the wishes of good baseball lovers, are that the 1910 season will prove the most successful in the history of baseball in this and every other city of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league.

The Odds Vanishing.

One of the most significant indications that the fight fans of the Pacific coast realize that Johnson is at least going to give Jeffries a merry fight when they meet, is the fact of the odds gradually being lessened.

Not so very long ago you could write your ticket on Johnson and get almost any old odds for your short-end money. The coming of Johnson to the coast has resulted in the money being quoted at 10 to 7, with the indications that even money will be hung on the boards when the senegambian gets into training.

Those fellows who got some of the 2 to 1 money may consider they have picked up something rather soft.

Looking back over some of the great fights, it will be seen that the favorite has not always won.

When Corbett whipped poor old John Lawrence Sullivan, the odds were prohibitive almost for the men who fancied the Sullivan end. The Sullivan followers were forced to put up 3 to 1, and yet they fell over themselves to do this.

When Corbett fought Fitzsimmons, the odds were on the man with the pompadour. Yet you will remember that the short enders cleaned. When Fitzsimmons fought the first fight with Jeffries, the odds were on the Cornishman to win. You will recall without effort the result of that fight.

Then there was the more recent fight between Burns and Johnson. In Australia Burns was actually the favorite. They believed many of the things Tommy said, and were led into plunging their money on the chances of the little white man.

In the coming fight the odds promise to be slightly in favor of Jeffries. Yet there is a bundle of wise money that will be plunged on the cinder at the last moment.

But the very fact that the odds are vanishing, points to the moral of caution. A man often forgets sentiment when his money is at stake. Therefore the odds on a big fight are often the truest indication of the real status of the case.

Chesty John R.

Have you read the article declaring the Jeff fight is to be framed?

The letter written originally for a Washington newspaper, which has been copied in various papers throughout the country, was written by John R. Robinson, who was at one time employed on the old St. Paul Globe.

There are few newspaper men in St. Paul or Minneapolis who will not remember Robinson, though he did not go by the name of Robinson while sojourning in the fair city of recent political change of heart.

It was while in St. Paul that Robinson, or whatever his name was at that time, had the run in with J. Alee Sloan, at that time sporting editor of the St. Paul Daily News.

The trouble occurred over a fight. Robinson criticized Sloan and the two scribes determined to settle the matter with gloves. The sheriff of Ramsey county became Joseph to the journalistic wrath and refused to allow the boys to quarrel within the county confines.

They took a train and shagged outside the county, with two of the sheriff's deputies dogging their footsteps until they hopped the rattler.

The two boys hired a little hall over a grocery store, somewhere in the vicinity of Stillwater, on the Wisconsin side of the line. Then they got busy—particularly Sloan.

He just naturally smote John R. Robinson on the maxillae and that agent allowed as how he had enough. Then the party adjourned and went to Stillwater—voluntarily. The scribes shook hands, looked long and lovingly into each other's eyes and swore eternal friendship.

Since leaving St. Paul, John R. has had a strenuous career. He has engaged in newspaper work in various parts of the country and finally loomed up as the manager of Battling Nelson. John always was a very good publicity agent—for himself.

He is a very clever newspaper man, at that, and there may be something in the story that at the present time is causing people to ask: "Do you think, Will, that there is any possibility that the fight between Mr. Jeffries and that Johnson person, is fixed?"

Berger hasn't filed notice of a suit against Robinson as yet.

AROUND THE CIRCUIT

Outfielder Callahan, formerly with the Toledo team of the American association, has been sold to the Eau Claire team. It is said that Callahan is a very fast fielder, but lacking in the brisk and energetic smashes to the fence. Callahan came to Toledo from the Kewanee Central association team. Toledo has strings on the player.

Kuehn, the outfielder, who has taken Malloy's place in the La Crosse outfield, i said to be a dark. The scribes and fans of La Crosse are ever saying that the boy has something on Malloy. and so, you see, how quickly fame flits or fleets.

Mique Malloy, manager of the Red Wing team, has refused to pay the $100 fine plastered upon him by the national commission for his invasion of the territory of the Chicago teams, without securing the permission of Chubby Murphy. It is very probable that the somewhat impulsive manager of the Indians wil come through with the fine, all right, all right.

Pitcher Jim Boyle, who made a great record in the semi-professional league of Chicago, has been secured by the Red Wing team. If the prediction of Malloy comes true, this man will prove a stumbling block to many hitters of the Minny league.

Carter, a baseball gardener, secured from Quincy, has reported at Eau Claire. It is very probable that Carter and Callahan will have a merry fight for a place in the Eau Claire outfield. If the new men prove as good as they have been touted, Schoonhoven will have a mighty sweet outfield.

Kelly, playing first base for the Red Wing team, is said to be one of the most promising guardians in the league. The boy was secured from Chicago and has already won the praises of the down state fans.

Carl Bond, manager of the Wausau team, has reduced his squad to fourteen players. Nelson, a pitcher, is the latest recruit signed by the Teuton. The new man comes from Chicago and makes a squad of six hill hurlers signed by Bond. Dolan will probably be seen at first, while Bond will hold down third. Wallister looks good for the shortstop position. Bourgeois, Cahill and Duchien look like permanent fixtures in the garden. Johnson has the backstop position salted.

Midget Kick is holding down left field for the Eau Claire commissioners. Many fans here will remember when the ball took a bounce and hit the little one in the face, nearly tearing a portion of his cuteness away. The bounding spheroid would have hit an ordinary man in the knee. There are a few disadvantages about being short

Eau Claire defeated the Giants, a team of that city, by the score of 22 to 1, Sunday. Callahan, the new outfielder, and Kading hit the pellet for home runs. It was a day of rejoicing and jubilation, for the regulars. Several members of the amateur team were were carried from the field, completely worn out chasing flies.

Arthur O'Dea, the chap with the beautiful and illuminating smile, will begin the distasteful task of weeding out his team. There are several members of the Superior squad who will not do. The fans on this side of the bay are idly wondering what Josie Krick will be able to do with the duke's team. Maybe he has improved over the form shown last spring

When any one says Caldwell of Superior is a grand third baseman, the fans in Eau Claire will smile. Down there they say Caddy will blow up at the first critical moment. The playing he has done for O'Dea the present season has been of the best. It remains to be seen just what he will do in some of the hard fought games.

Those who have been watching the development of the Red Wing team, are of the opinion that Mique Malloy will have to have another outfielder. The men playing the garden at the present time have not been hitting the ball any too hard. A hard-hitting outfielder would help the chances of the team a lot. Demmer, Swanson and Malloy are playing the outfield at the present time.

JOE MORRIS IS FAVORITE

Fine Weather and a Good Track for Churchill Downs Classic.

Louisville, Ky., May 10.—The thirty-sixth running of the Kentucky Derby, the oldest racing classic in America, will be contested today over a track not more than two seconds slow, and by a field of probably eight crack 3-year-olds, at Churchill Downs. The withdrawal yesterday of Waldo, the favorite, in the big event, has made the race a very open one, with the Kentucky-owned horse, Joe Morris, now first choice in the betting. Donau is next liked, with Fighting Bob and Boola Boola held in high favor. The owner of any eligible has the right to enter his horse up to within forty-five minutes of post time.

The eight starters officially announced yesterday with their jockeys and prevailing odds:

Donau, 117 pounds, (Herbert) 3 to 1.

Fighting Bob, 117 pounds, (Page) 4 to 1.

Topland, 114 pounds, (Austin) 8 to 1.

Eye White, 114 pounds, (Lovell) 25 to 1.

The day opened clear and warm with the promise of a perfect afternoon for racing.

The city council a week ago declared the customary holiday for Derby day and consequently no business was transacted after noon. For the first time in fifteen years the officials of the Jockey club authorized a free field. This permitted entrance to the oval within the race course proper, free of charge. The horses are expected to go to the post at 4:10 p. m.

WILHELM HAS JOINED TEAM

German Will Be Used in Opening Game---Daggett Released.

The White Sox will leave Duluth some time this afternoon for Winona. The leaving this afternoon will give the players a night's rest before the opening game of tomorrow. The desire to leave this afternoon was the reason for the calling off of the game scheduled for today.

Wilhelm, the player who was with Winona and La Crosse last season, reported to the team this morning. It was announced this morning that Daggett, the little fellow who has been playing short, has been let go. While a very fast man and covering a lot of ground, Daggett was weak with the willow, and was also shy on some of the fine points of the game.

Kenney, who has shown up the best of the Duluth pitchers, will, in all probability be the selection of O'Brien for mound duty tomorrow. The big fellow has gone along well in the games played so far and should make the Pirates hit some to get very familiar with his shoots.

There will also be some other changes in the team. Just what these changes will be is not known at the present time. Several deals are under way, which, if completed, will mean that some of the men will be shifted.

 A HOODOO FOLLOWS ***
 THE DULUTH CREW. ***

A hoodoo followed the crews of the Duluth Boat club, in their practice work last evening.

First a seat was broken in the second eight at the start of the evening. The accident necessitated the taking of the shell into the bonthouse and the pairing of the men into fours. Then the four stroked by Ver Welbe was tipped over, owing to the fact that one of the oar locks was broken.

Next the first eight shell run into a pier light stand, breaking the rigger, and nearly doing serious damage to the shell.

The first eight enjoyed a good row. The boat is practically decided upon, the coaches feeling confident that they have an eight that will not only win at Kenora, but also take some honors at the national, which will be held at Washington.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Boat club will be held this evening at the main house. The election of officers will be held and an informal smoker and entertainment will follow. It is not believed that there will be any change in the present officers of the club.

JEFF NURSES BLACK EYE

Johnson's Friends Are Pleased With Showing in First Day's Training.

Ben Lomond, Cal., May 10.—Jim Jeffries is nursing a black eye today as a result of his unsatisfactory mill with Bob Armstrong yesterday. Twice his negro opponent's glove marked the fighter's face. An uppercut scraped skin from Jeffries' forehead in a spot which had been discolored by a blow from Billy Papke's mitt last Saturday. His lip was also slightly split and bled continually while he and his black sparring partner were pummeling each other.

It was a rough bout throughout, and none of the cleverness the big fellow displayed in his boxing with Choynski and Papke Saturday was revealed. The trainers say that Jeffries' unusually hard road work in the morning was partly responsible for the lack of ginger in his sparring, the fighter having fatigued himself by a steady run of four miles.

John Shows Up Well.

San Francisco, Cal., May 10.—Jack Johnson's followers are well pleased with the showing made by the fighter in his opening workout yesterday. They saw him stripped, following his twelve-mile road jog, and many professed to be agreeably surprised over his condition.

Johnson says that his road exercise yesterday was the first real work he has done in preparation for his meeting with Jeffries. What he did at Chicago, he declares, was more for the benefit of photographers than for himself.

A tentative program has been outlined for Johnson's preliminary training. For the first two weeks he proposes to put on the gloves three days a week—Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays. Later he will increase this to four days a week, appearing in the gymnasium on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

No boxing will be done until next Sunday, it is said. After posing for pictures yesterday afternoon, Johnson wandered back to his quarters, accompanied by a crowd of fans. Wine was uncorked, but the pugilist shied away from the bubbling beverage and called for buttermilk.

"Buttermilk is good for you," he remarked. "It don't put on any weight, and it keeps you in good condition."

CENTRAL WILL MEET BLAINE AT BASEBALL.

Central and Blaine will meet on the diamond at Athletic park tomorrow afternoon.

Blaine has defeated the Superior normal team, which has also been defeated by the Duluth high school, so the game tomorrow promises to be close and exciting one.

Central would rather achieve a victory over Blaine than any other team in this part of the country. Therefore the game of tomorrow is exciting a great deal of interest.

Larry Boyle has been saved for the game and promises to be in great form. Both teams will place their strongest batteries in the game. At the present time Central is leading the interscholastic league, and a victory tomorrow means that they will have an excellent chance for the pennant.

SANDSTONE WILL PLAY DULUTH ANOTHER GAME.

Sandstone, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local association football team, which played at Duluth last Friday, will play a return game with the Duluth team here Memorial day at 3:30 p. m.

Negotiations are also under way with other good teams in the state and the local club will also be a contestant for the Shaw cup. The line-up: Vestl, goal; Martin and Peters, backs; Hallam, Dimmock and Thomson (captain), half backs; R. Thomson, Midlemass, Mason and Barlow, forward.

JEFFRIES CANNOT SPARE FARMER BURNS.

Chicago, May 10.—In a letter received yesterday by Emil Klank, manager of Frank Gotch, world's heavyweight champion wrestler, from James Jeffries, the big fighter refused to release Farmer Burns, who was to have conditioned Gotch for his $25,000 bout with Zbyszko, the Polish giant, May 30.

Writing from his training camp at Ben Lomond, Cal., Jeffries says: "Burns is needed here. He is one of the best conditioners in the world, and as I am eager to be as fit as I ever was in my life to step into the ring against the colored man July 4, I cannot spare Burns. If Gotch were to be able to come on here in a few days to take the place of Burns, it would be different. I must have Burns—Gotch must spare him."

CAMPAIGN HELPED BY USE OF FRANKS

Senator Stone Says Matter Not Official Is Sent in Mails.

Washington, May 10.—The senate is in a fair way to enter upon an investigation of abuses of franking privileges. Declaring that a book of 480 pages in defense of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, which is being circulated under the franks senators and members of the house, contains much matter that has not appeared in the Congressional Record, Senator Stone introduced a resolution directing the senate committee on postoffices and post roads to determine whether the pamphlet is entitled to franking through the mails. He said he had been informed that the book had been prepared by the American Protective Tariff league.

Speaking on the resolution, Mr. Stone said that the book was purely and essentially a compaign document.

Mr. La Follette moved to amend so as to include an inquiry into the circulation of a letter from the protective league, which he stated also was circulated under congressional franks. The amendment was agreed to.

MEETS CANADIAN EXPORT ORDER

Government Removes Countervailing Duty on Print Paper From Quebec.

Washington, May 10.—To meet the new conditions imposed May 1 by the province of Quebec on exports of pulpwood, the treasury department has made a decision removing the countervailing duty of 35 cents a ton on print paper made from pulpwood cut from the crown lands in that province.

Quebec was the one Canadian province which imposed an export tax of 25 cents a cord on pulpwood cut from crown lands The recent action of the province in prohibiting exports of pulpwood naturally annulled the tax on such exports. The treasury department's decision simply meets the new situation and removes the countervailing duty of 35 cents a ton on print paper, and leaves pulpwood, wood pulp and print paper in the same situation in Quebec as has been prevailing in the province of Ontario, which also prohibits the exports of pulpwood.

Effect of Decision.

This decision means in effect that from both provinces print paper made from pulpwood cut from crown lands pays a tax of $3.75 per ton, the regular duty, plus the additional duty provided, by the tariff bill, bringing the total duty on a ton of print paper from Canada to $5.75. The same restrictions exist in importations of wood pulp as have existed before from both provinces. Wood pulp and pulpwood cut from private lands can be imported into the United States entirely free of duty, but the tariff on print paper made from pulpwood cut from private lands in Canada remains at the Payne law level of $3.75 a ton.

MRS. MORSE ASKS FOR NAMES TO FREE HUSBAND.

Washington, May 10.—Dressed in a modest gray suit and black hat, a sad-faced, gray-haired little woman stood nearly all afternoon at the main entrances of the house and senate today and quietly importuned members of congress to sign a petition to the president to pardon her husband from the penitentiary. The woman was Mrs. Charles W. Morse, wife of the New York financier, now in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

Many members, both of the house and senate, signed the petition. Some declined abruptly and others expressed their unacquaintance with the facts in the case, and did not sign. Most of the New York members of the house signed, although there were some who declined.

DULUTH TO HAVE KIOSK

Weather Recording Instruments to Be Placed on Courthouse Grounds.

H. W. Richardson Completes Negotiations With Department at Washington.

H. W. Richardson, local forecaster of the weather bureau, has completed negotiations whereby Duluth will be given the weather kiosk, which has been under discussion for some time. It is ready for shipment at Washington now and will be delivered in a short time. It will be set up on the court house grounds as soon as the foundation can be provided.

The kiosk is a small structure housing instruments for recording for the information of the public, all facts in regard to the weather, which the public is usually anxious to know. A thermograph records the temperature for every minute of the day and other thermometers will show temperature facts. Another instrument shows the percentage of humidity in the atmosphere and another will show the rainfall.

The kiosk will be placed on the courthouse grounds about 160 feet northeast of the southeast corner of the courthouse, just below Second street. It will be at the inter-section of two walks and will be easily accessible to the public.

The matter of securing a kiosk for Duluth was first taken up at the suggestion of A. C. Pearson and it was proposed to erect it at the corner of Third avenue west and First street. It was found that too much space would be used and the negotiations were dropped for a time. At the suggestion of Bishop McGolrick, Mr. Richardson revived the matter, a site being secured on the courthouse grounds.

The kiosk is an ornamental structure, which will harmonize well with the architecture of the courthouse. It will be an ornament to the grounds and will be of valuable service to people interested in weather statistics.

SAYS PORTLAND IS COMING CITY

E. M. Patterson Returns From Visit to Pacific Coast.

E. M. Patterson, formerly chairman of the board of county commissioners of St. Louis county, has returned from the Pacific coast, where he spent the last seven months for his health. He was at Portland, Or., most of the time, but he also spent considerable time in other coast cities and in the fruit growing districts of Washington and Oregon.

Portland is the coming city of the district, in Mr. Patterson's opinion. Seattle, he believes, has reached its zenith. It has grown too rapidly, and he believes the abnormal growth will be followed by a reaction. On the other hand, Portland has been going steadily ahead, normally and substantially, and he believes it will be a great city when the present prosperity of Seattle will be but a memory.

Mr. Patterson believes that the fruit growing possibilities of the Northwest have been overdone. People have become hysterical in their anxiety to secure and cultivate fruit lands, and some lands have brought as high as $2,300 an acre, which Mr. Patterson believes is a fictitious value created by speculation. He says that in five years people will be able to buy cultivated fruit lands for little more than the prices that are now being paid for wild lands.

The climate in the Washington fruit country, Mr. Patterson says, is not ideal, and there is the same danger of frost as in the Michigan fruit district. Owners of orchards find it necessary to keep pots stationed through their orchards to burn oil in case of frost—and continued frost is an expensive occurrence.

Mr. Patterson is greatly benefited in health by his trip, but is glad to be back in Duluth.

WHEAT HAS SHARP DROP

Decline Extends to All Options But Is Heaviest in May.

Flax Dull With Prices About Stationary During Session.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 10.—A singular market condition caused a severe decline in wheat today, the loss being most pronounced in the current option. May here lost 1⅛c, July declined 1c and September slumped ¾c. The loss was heaviest in Chicago May, which closed 3⅞c under yesterday. Chicago May at yesterday's close was 2⅝c over Duluth May. At today's close Duluth May was ⅜c over Chicago.

May wheat opened at $1.12½ asked and sold up to $1.13. The buying was steady and the market became top-heavy around the higher levels. Longs began to take profits moderately and there was some selling on account of the weakness in Winnipeg. The liquidation was augmented by stop-loss orders, which sent the market down like a dead weight. In a few minutes Chicago May lost 4c from $1.15, and the May option in other markets slumped heavily but not in such proportion. On the decline very little stuff was bought, and the market rallied and advanced fractionally, but under heavy pressure it slumped again to the bottom levels of the day.

The flurry in the current option induced heavy liquidation in the deferred months, although these were relatively stronger than the current option, the decline not being so severe. The support in the distant months was fairly good on the downturn. At the close the trade was demoralized. The prospects of rain in the Northwest added to the excitement.

May wheat, after reaching $1.13, slumped to $1.11¼ and was offered at that price at the close. July opened at $1.12 bid and sold at $1.13, $1.12⅞. $1.13 and declined to $1.11, closing at $1.11 asked. September opened at $1.02 bid, sold 1c higher and at $1.01¾, closing at $1.01¾ asked.

Flax was dull except in the September option, which was moderately active. May opened at $2.35 bid and sold ⅛c higher, closing $2.35 bid. July opened $2.32 bid and sold at $2.32¼, and $2.32, closing $2.31½ bid. September opened at $1.67 bid and went to $1.68½ bid without trading. It then sold at $1.69½, $1.68½, $1.69 and closed $1.68½ bid.

Cash equalled May, although the mills offered 1c over for choice No. 1 northern. Oats closed ¼c p. durum was ⅛c off and barley and rye closed without change.

The mixed situation in the May option is a factor of considerable importance and some concern to those traders bearishly inclined. Specifically this applies to the Chicago May option although to some extent the situation is general. Trading in May has been light. There is a large short interest out and the long holdings are closely held. The shorts are somewhat worried and may be forced to do the bidding of the longs. The possibility of a squeeze is always a disturbing element and many bulls believe that the shorts will be forced to take their medicine. Cash stocks of wheat are small and if any corner develops it will arise from natural causes.

There is little doubt that the shorts will endeavor to deliver as much stuff as possible and will go to extremes to make the "corpse" as lively as the available supply of cash wheat will permit. It is said that the No. 1 northern purchased here, four cargoes, will eventually be delivered to Waterman at Chicago. This stuff was bought at 2¼ to 2½c over Chicago May. Elevators have been taking wheat for some time for the purpose of delivery. If there should be a revival of the flour and milling trade, the cash situation would become more critical as the supply of cash grain would be lessened.

While the long interest is not as large as that last year, yet the situation is probably as tight as when Patten was in control a year ago. The May option has assumed a speculative aspect that entitles it to the chief attention of the trade.

In the September option a large long interest is accumulating. The little traders are keeping out of May and are letting the heavy interests fight it out among themselves. Trailers were shaken out some time ago. The bears hesitate to enter the market as they have been seriously punished on several occasions this year. While sentiment among a majority seems to be bearish yet they prefer to wait until the May option becomes history before expressing their opinion in the market. The government report, they believe, confirmed their views but they are loathe to make immediate capital out of it.

The hulls maintain that proof of a big winter wheat shortage has been determined and that the eventual values of the September option will confirm their view of the situation. They are watching eagerly for the first opportunity to send out bullish reports about the spring wheat crop, but nothing has yet materialized to favor them. The recent cold weather was a boon to the growing plant as it checked its too rapid growth and permitted it to root more deeply. While the plant is not suffering from lack of moisture, yet rain would be acceptable in many portions of the Northwest. Early estimates of an increase in acreage of about 10 per cent are generally accepted as fact.

Flour stocks are being reduced but on the other hand wheat stocks abroad show a heavy increase. The flour trade is enjoying neither a healthy domestic demand nor a foreign trade. There is no export demand for wheat and while the increase in population in this country has augmented the consumptive demand yet a majority of traders maintain that values must decline to an export basis or the proof of a heavy shortage in the winter wheat crop must be definitely established. The demand for the new crop when it bgins to move will be lessened by the presence of large supplies of flour unless a sudden and unexpected demand appears in the immediate future.

Despite favorable prices the interior movement of wheat is small. Receipts at primary points have been running less than last year. Shipments, also, have been slightly under last year's statistics. There is no pressure of cash wheat and stocks in the Northwest and Southwest have been decreasing although the tide turned here yesterday, stores showing a slight increase in two days. Expectations that the receipts from the country would improve as the farmer completed initial field work have not been realized.

Broomhall cabled: Wheat opened weak under pressure of heavy offerings and profit taking, stimulated by lower American cables and bearish construction placed upon government report in America. Following opening prices further declined ¼d to ½d with a very poor inquiry for parcels and weakness in spot markets. Just before midday a steadier undertone developed and prices reacted from the extreme decline. Support at this time was due to fears of overselling owing to less favorable European crop weather and heavy decrease in European visible. At midday market was ¼d to ½d higher than the low and 1d to 1¼d lower than yesterday. Corn featuress.- European visible wheat decrease 4,880,000 qr, amounts to 88,144,000 qr, against 92,024,000 qr last week. Last week there was decrease of 984,000 bu and last year ago decrease 5,300,000 bu when total was 62,800,000 bu. Wheat cargoes arrived off coast three and awaiting orders five. Wheat cargoes in distant positions easy and offered at 3d decline. Corn cargoes dull with limited demand. Spot marked wheat easy; amounts to 88,144,000 qr, against 92,024,000 bu

THEODORE ROOSEVELT AMERICA'S ENVOY AT FUNERAL OF KING

Cables Acceptance of President Taft's Appointment to That Office.

Relatives of Late Monarch Arriving in London for Last Rites.

Parliament Meets to Welcome George V---Receives Message From Throne.

Washington, May 11.—Theodore Roosevelt today accepted by cable the appointment by President Taft to be special Ambassador to represent the United States at the funeral of King Edward in London May 20. The cablegrams exchanged between the president and Col. Roosevelt were not made public.

Royal Mourners Arriving.

London, May 11.—The kin of the British royal family are arriving here to attend the funeral of King Edward.

Empress Dowager Marie of Russia, a sister of Queen Mother Alexandra, reached here today accompanied by Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, younger brother of Emperor Nicholas, who will be the official representative of the Russian government at the obsequies.

The empress dowager and the grand duke were met at the railroad station by King George and Queen Mary, who drove with them to Buckingham palace.

Congratulates King George.

Parliament met this afternoon to pay a national tribute to the memory of King Edward and to welcome his successor, King George.

A message from the new monarch, in which he announced the death of his father and his own succession, was read in both houses, which subsequently adopted addresses of condolence and congratulations to the king.

While it will be impossible to carry out to completion the elaborate program arranged for Mr. Roosevelt's visit to the ancient city of London, it is probable that, subject to the con-

President Taft and Others Take Part in Exercises at Capital.

Monuments to Pulaski and Kosciuszko Unveiled in Washington.

Washington, May 11.—Two monuments to the memory and deeds of Pulaski and Kosciuszko, the Polish heroes, both of whom fought and one of whom died that liberty in America might live, were dedicated here today. The time of the dedications was so arranged that President Taft could attend each.

While the president made the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Pulaski, which stands in the triangle at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Secretary of War Dickinson was making the principal address at the Kosciuszko statue in Lafayette park, opposite the White House, and J. F. Smulski of the Polish National alliance made an address in Polish.

The monument to Pulaski was erected by an act of congress, but the statue to Kosciuszko is a gift to the nation from the Polish National alliance and other organizations of Poles who have made their homes in the free republic for which their distinguished countrymen fought.

Marks Gathering of Poles.

There was a double significance to the unveiling of the monument to Kosciuszko, for it marked the opening here tomorrow of the First Polish National congress to attend which thousands of Poles have come from all over the United States. The purpose of the congress is to discuss in all its phases the condition of the Polish

WILL COST THE GOVERNMENT HIGH

Trial of Five Men Brings Witnesses From Maine and Wisconsin.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 11.—The most costly case in the history of the federal court was put on trial today before Judge Tayler when the government began prosecution of five Clevelanders for alleged abuse of the mails. The defendants—Jacob Hecht, Jacob V. Weiss, Samuel Newman, Julius J. Klein and Joseph Harris—are accused of attempting to defraud shoe and clothing factories the country over.

Fifty witnesses will be summoned from twelve states, as far north as Maine, south as far as Tennessee and west to Wisconsin. Each of these witnesses will be paid 10 cents a mile for the distance he comes. In all, the government will pay witnesses more than $5,000.

SOCIETY WOMEN LIKE FASTING

Young New Yorkers Claim They Are Better for Water Diet.

New York, May 11.—Three young New York society women who are fasting to improve their health are succeeding in their task at Garden City, L. I. The fast started Monday, and today not one of the trio, comprising Mrs. Keith Trask, Miss Marion MacKellar and Miss Anne Townsend, would admit that there was the least bit of weakening on her part. All the young women were in excellent condition to start with, seasoned by a life of much riding and golf and healthful outdoor exercise. It was just a general bracing up they wanted on the recently much-touted theory that fasting brings surcease of headache and weariness and fortifies the system against most bodily ills.

The weights of the young ladies when they were weighed Monday night were found to be: Miss MacKellar, 102 pounds; Miss Townsend, 126 pounds, and Mrs. Trask, 125 pounds. After the three days of absolute fasting are over they will again go upon the scales. Plenty of water to drink has been all they have allowed themselves since the fast started. All insist that the fast so far has been beneficial.

STEAMER MINNEHAHA IS FLOATED AGAIN.

Hughtown, St. Marys, Scilly Islands, May 11.—The Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha was floated today and proceeded under her own steam to Crow Sound, to the south of this island, where she anchored. The steamer will be examined by divers. She went ashore near Bishop Rock during the night of April 17. Her passengers and crew escaped, but much of the cargo was lost and for a time it was feared that the steamer would be a total loss.

TALKS ABOUT TRAFFIC BILL

Adamson of Georgia Says Part of It Is Not Constitutional.

Declares Taft Must Take What He Can Get in That Law.

Washington, May 11.—Looming out of the aftermath of gossip about the administration railroad bill, which the action of the house yesterday puts squarely up to the senate, and to the conferees of the two houses later, is the flat-footed declaration of the interstate commerce committee's minority leader that the courts "will attend to the rest" and that President Taft must "take what he gets" in the way of railroad legislation.

Representative Adamson of Georgia, who had charge of the Democratic side in the fight on the bill, said today that the worst feature of the railroad bill was the stock and bond provision.

"Fortunately, however," he added, "that could not be enforced even if the senate should leave it in. The courts will knock it out. I fought that part of the measure because of its unconstitutionality, but I am not at all alarmed about it for the very reason that the court would immediately pronounce it a violation of the Constitution.

Got All It Expected.

"The Democratic minority accomplished all that it expected. We have got rid of the pooling and merger clauses, which are the next two features to the worst of them all. We eliminated the proposed control by the attorney general of all litigation and restored that control to the interstate commerce commission. I would have been glad to get rid of the commerce court, but that is really the least of the evils and one largely offset by other advantages that we gained.

"The president says he will not stand for our long and short-haul and physical valuation provisions, but he cannot get them out. What is he going to do about it?"

Washington, Pa., May 11.—Fred Delester, a druggist of this city was convicted of violating the liquor laws, but when called for sentence he failed to appear. Court officers searched the neighborhood, but were unable to find him. Four hours later Delester walked into court and told the judge that while on his way to lunch he had fallen asleep in a street car and had been carried almost to Pittsburg.

AERONAUTS ARE INJURED

A. Holland Forbes and J. C. Yates in Serious Accident ---Yates May Die.

Both Men Are Conscious Only at Intervals and Cannot Tell of Flight.

Glasgow, Ky., May 11.—Physicians in attendance upon A. Holland Forbes and J. C. Yates, who were injured in a balloon accident near Center, Ky., returned this morning from a call to Center and report that Forbes' injuries are not serious. They were uncertain about Yates' injuries though they believed there was a chance for him to recover. Both men are conscious only at intervals.

Later it was announced that Mr. Yates is injured internally and it is feared fatally.

Forbes, during conscious moments, made disconnected statements declaring that the balloon had passed over portions of Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky. He said they were over Illinois yesterday morning

Leakage of Gas.

He failed to say what happened to the baloon, but an incoherent statement about a leakage of gas furnished a plausible clue. His statements about the gas caused some of the country people who heard about them to declare that the aeronauts had been over-

FOREST FIRE IS CHECKED

The Wireless Operator Is Heard From Shortly Before Noon.

Dangerous Fires Are Reported Near Spring Garden and Colbyville.

No Prospect of Rain for at Least Thirty-Six Hours.

NO PROSPECT OF RAIN.

Though the people of Northeastern Minnesota as a whole are hoping, and some of them praying for rain, there is no prospect of a downpour tonight or tomorrow, according to the United States weather bureau. The local forecaster is unable to predict what may come after tomorrow evening.

The woods are as dry as tinder, the slight rainfall of .01 inch Sunday serving hardly to wet the ground. The last heavy rain Duluth had was on April 16, when .6 inch fell and since then an appreciable amount has fallen on only one day, April 23.

The early spring caused the brush to dry up during March and since that time, winds and sunshine have dispelled almost every semblance of moisture. A heavy, soaking rain that would extinguish the fires and wet the brush all through the northern woods, would be welcome, but at least for the next thirty-six hours the settlers and residents of the small towns in the vicinity of Duluth will be forced to battle with the devouring flames to save themselves and their homes.

The rumor that Grand Marais has been wiped out by the forest fires raging along the north shore has proved to be without foundation in fact, although the town has been and still is, in danger.

Last night the wireless operator at that point sent a message to Duluth to the effect that he would have to quit his post to fight the fire and that if Duluth heard no more from him it would mean that the wireless plant had been destroyed. As the operator did not again call up the Duluth station and could not be reached this morning, and as the Grand Marais station is located in the middle of the town, it was inferred that the operator's fears had been realized and that the town was wiped out.

This morning a few minutes before noon word came direct from Grand Marais by wireless to The Herald, that the town is still safe and that everyone is out fighting the flames which threaten the community. With the

STATE'S CHIEF WITNESS GONE

Girl Who Accused Doctor, Said to Have Dynamited Tent, Has Disappeared.

San Francisco, Cal., May 11.—Luetta Smith, chief witness against Dr. Willard Burke, the aged sanitarium proprietor who is to stand trial at Santa Rosa on a charge of dynamiting a tent-house in which the Smith woman and her infant child were sleeping, is said to have disappeared, and Sheriff John Smith of Sonoma county has come to San Francisco to organize a state-wide search for her.

Miss Smith, who accuses Dr. Burke of being the father of her child, left the home of William F. Flie in Berkeley, where she went following a postponement of the trial of Burke a week ago.

WOMAN IS TORN BY BULLDOGS

Aged Chicagoan Attacked By Brutes While Carrying Bottle of Milk.

Chicago, May 11.—With her face, throat, arms and body lacerated by the bites of two bulldogs, Mrs. Mary Ryan, 72 years old, is reported dying at Grace hospital today.

Mrs. Ryan, carrying a bottle of milk and returning to her home last night, had reached a point in front of the home of Albert Bixby, owner of the two dogs. The animals, which have been dieted recently on fresh milk, rushed out and attacked her. The contents of the bottle carried by Mrs. Ryan is supposed to account for the attack.

When neighbors reached the scene, one dog was tearing at the aged woman's throat while the fangs of the other were buried in her arm.

NURSE ASKS BIG DAMAGES

Miss Effie Lewis Wants $20,000 From Duluth, Missabe & Northern.

Ole Berland Sues Duluth Brewing & Malting Company for $20,000.

Two personal injury actions are on trial today in district court.

Effie Lewis, a nurse is suing the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company for $20,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when she fell from the train in an attempt to alight at Fifty-seventh avenue west.

In her complaint she states that there was no platform at the West Duluth station and that a stool had been set down on the gravel. She declares that the stool was insecure and that when she stepped upon it the loose gravel beneath it gave way and she was thrown to the ground.

As a result of the accident she claims that she suffered fractures to the bones in her back and hips. She says also that she has not been able to work since.

She asks $20,000 with $170 special damages. The case is being tried before Judge Cant.

Ole Berland wants $20,000 from the Duluth Brewing & Malting company for injuries received when his hand became entangled in the cables of the freight elevator. He claims that the company was negligent in that the cables were not encased in a box. One hand, he says, was made useless as a result of the accident. He also asks $260 special damages. The case is on before Judge Dibell.

SAY PEDDLERS SWAP LICENSES

Peddlers have been in the habit of exchanging their licenses in order to get the best of the authorities, according to the police. When David Goldfald was arraigned in police court this morning, Capt. Toney Fiskett reported that he had another's license and that the peddlers have been making a practice of leanding licenses to one another for some time. Goldfald was charged with peddling without a license. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried tomorrow morning.

SALVAGE IN OLD BRIDGES

City Will Save $15,000 in Purchase of New Material.

The city will save $15,000 by making use of the two condemned steel bridges near Lakeside, the salvage of which was given to the park board by the council, according to estimates of Henry Cleveland, secretary of the park board.

The material is being used to restore between twenty and thirty bridges which have been sadly in need of repair. In some instances the bridges have been completely restored. The old steel is in good condition and is said to be fully as strong as new material.

The structures are being greatly improved in appearance, but at the same time care is being taken to see that they are strong enough for the heaviest automobile which may have occasion to cross it. At the upper end of Lester Park one bridge was put across the stream for a trifle more than $160. Most of the expense was for planking and labor. It is stated that had the work been done by a contractor compelled to buy new material it would have cost $800.

RAILROAD BILL TO GO TO CONFERENCE

Senate Will Substitute Its Own Measure for That Already Passed.

Washington, May 11.—A few minutes before taking up the senate railroad bill today the senate was notified officially of the house having passed a similar measure yesterday.

The house bill was referred to the committee on interstate commerce. The senate bill will be substituted for it and the differences settled in conference.

When the senate railroad bill was taken up Senator Simmons took the floor in support of the long and short haul amendment. He said the experience of the last twenty-three years had taught the country that the existing law was ineffectual so today the railroads were unhindered in their discriminations in favor of one community as against another.

DENY STORY OF MRS. HYDE

Witnesses Contradict Statements of Wife of the Alleged Poisoner.

Nurses in the Swope Murder Case Will Be Recalled to Stand.

Kansas City, Mo., May 11.—Determined attacks were made by the state in the Swope poisoning case today upon Mrs. B. C. Hyde's story regarding the whereabouts of her brother Thomas on the night of Dec. 18, and the testimony of Dr. Hyde's chemists in relation to the formation of hydrocyanic gas in a corpse.

Mrs. James H. Clinton of Independence swore that Mr. Swope telephoned Dr. Twyman from her residence on Dec. 18, at a time when Mrs. Hyde had testified he was at Mrs. Swope's residence with her. Mrs. Clinton said that Mr. Swope held something in his hand while telephoning. Mr. Swops then testified it was capsules said to have contained cyanide, which were dropped by Dr. Hyde, that he held in his hand.

Scientists Are Witnesses.

Two scientists, Prof. Schweitzer and Prof. H. F. Cady, swore it was impossible for the amalgamation of formaldehyde and ammonia to produce hydrocyanic acid in the body of a dead person.

More than a dozen witnesses appeared at the criminal court building today to give rebuttal testimany for the state in the trial of Dr. C. B. Hyde for murder. Dr. Hyde finished his testimony yesterday.

Every nurse that gave direct testimony for the prosecution was present to again take the stand. In the stories of Dr. and Mrs. Hyde there were frequent contradictions of the nurses' narrative Prosecutor Conkling is determined that these shall not go unchallenged.

Trial May End Saturday.

The state does not know now just how long it will take to present its rebuttal testimony. The general impression is that the rebuttal testimony, arguments of counsel and the judge's questions will be completed Saturday.

Dr. Hyde is confident he is to be freed, and with this end in view he is making plans for the future.

"I'm going to continue to practice medicine right here in Kansas City," he said in discussing his case. "I'll show the people I am not as bad as I have been painted."

MEETING WILL BE HELD MONDAY

Dr. Ryan to Address Associated Charities on Humane Work.

The postponed meeting of the Associated Charities will take place at Memorial hall at the courthouse Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The meeting was to have taken place Monday of last week, but a number of the members of the society were out of the city and those that gathered decided to postpone the meeting until after their return.

The time of the meetings have been changed. Heretofore the gatherings have taken place in the morning, but as the majority of the members seem to prefer that they be held in the afternoon the change was made.

Dr. Ryan will be at the Monday meeting and deliver an address on the work being done by the humane society, after which special cases will be discussed. So far as is known at this time there is nothing but the regular routine business to come up for discussion.

If a few more table guests would make it profitable for you to keep boarders, then you have business for a Herald want ad.

CHINAMAN EXAMINED

Shew Chong Claims He Is a Merchant, Not a Laborer.

Government Asks Deportation of Five Celestials Arrested at Hibbing.

Claiming that Shew Chong, Wei Tuck Tong, Hom Yuk, Neon Hin Han and Tom Yuen are illegally in the United States without certificates of registration, showing their right to be here, United States Immigration Inspector Harry Edsell of Montreal has taken the five Chinamen before United States Commissioner T. H. Pressnell and asked that they be deported.

The five men were taken in laundries at Hibbing and were brought to Duluth yesterday afternoon. Each will be examined individually and will be given an opportunity to establish his right of residence if he has it.

Shew Chong was examined this morning and he sought to establish that at the time of the registration of Chinese laborers under the exclusion act and up to two or three years ago, he was a Chinese merchant in Chicago and was not amenable to the provisions of the act. He said he is 38 years old and has been in this country thirty-two years, having been brought here by his father when he was 6 years old. He said he was a member of a Chinese mercantile firm at 319 South Clark street, Chicago, in 1893 and 1894, when Chinese laborers were required to register under the exclusion act. Two or three years ago, he said, the firm failed and since that time he has done nothing, moving around the country in search of a suitable location He claimed exemption under the exclusion act.

The government attorneys claimed that Chong did not show that he was anything more than an employe of the Chicago firm and a laborer. Commissioner Pressnell took the matter under advisement.

The next case, which will be taken up this afternoon, is that of Wei Tuck Tong. The other men will be examined in order.

Inspector Edsell and United States District Attorney J. M. Dickey are appearing for the government, and Attorney Hugh J. McClearn has been retained by the Chinamen. T. W. G. Wallace of Malone, N. Y., is acting as interpreter. The arrests were made by Mr. Edsell and United States Immigration Inspector Frank M. Jewell of Sault Ste. Marie.

HATFUL OF GOLD.

Church Family Newspaper: One of the most remote churches in Great Britain was reopened after restoration on Thursday last by the archdeacon of Brecon. It stands (Partishow by name) on the southern slopes of the Black mountains in Breconshire. The font dates from 1060, and a rood screen of singular beauty from about the year 1500.

There are three stone altars within the old church and a little western chapel built against it, while in the churchyard stands a preaching cross, and the remains of a stone ledge or bench run along the south wall of the church, on which the congregation could seat themselves. Out of the stem of an anacient yew tree grows a rowan and a holly tree.

Tradition says the church was originally built by a foreigner who was cured of leprosy by the waters of an adjacent well and who left "a hatful of gold" to build a church as a thankoffering.

ESCAPE WAS A THRILLER

Prisoner Makes Spectacular Getaway From the Chain Gang.

Plunged Down Bank, Through Swamp, and "Jumped a Freight."

Malko Romanich, sent to the county jail from Eveleth for carrying concealed weapons, made a safe getaway from the chain gang this morning after a desperate chase in which the guards fired several shots at him.

Romanich risked long chances, finally taking a flying leap for a string of box cars pulling down the local railroad yards out of the city. He landed safely and was out of sight and reach in a few minutes.

The chain gang was being worked near Eleventh avenue west when the prisoner made his break for safety. Awaiting a favorable moment when the guard was some distance away he darted at full speed. He dashed down the cliff with great leaps, crossed the street and landed at the foot of the embankment in one jump. Uninjured he picked himself up and plunged into the swamp. He sank in to his waist and two or three times it was thought that he would be stuck in the mire, possibly sinking out of sight before he could be pulled out. But he floundered through without serious mishap and struck into the yards.

When an outgoing freight train passed a short distance from him, he made for it at top speed and managed to climb on board. It is thought that one of the shot of the guard nearly "winged" him, as he grabbed his coat and looked at it, evidently to examine the hole made by the bullet. Romanich's escape was the most spectacular that has come to the attention of the authorities for some time. People in the vicinity notified the police that some one was being murdered and a detail was sent out of headquarters at top speed, but the policemen were too late to aid in the chase.

Ensley of Superior, Wis. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Ensley, sister of the groom, while Mr. Stephen Cronin, brother of the bride, was best man. The young couple will take a wedding trip to Portland, Or., after which they will be at home at Superior, Wis.

TO BEAUTIFY RIGHT-OF-WAY

Iron Range Road Will Cooperate With the Park Board.

The Duluth & Iron Range railroad has agreed to act with the city park board in its movement to beautify the city by parking and improving its right-of-way between Forty-fourth and Fifty-first avenues east.

The old wooden fence now in use will be replaced by a handsome steel fence. The stretch, which is 100 feet wide, will be sodded and numerous shrubs and trees will be planted to improve the appearance. The railroad parallels the street car tracks in this vicinity and the improvement will do much to help the appearance of the suburb. The matter was laid before President F. E. House by John Jenswold, Jr., of the park board, and he agreed to do all in his power to help the movement. The plans will be furnished by the park board.

OLD LANDMARK GOING.

The H. M. Peyton house, one of the oldest in the city, and a landmark known to the older Duluthians, is being torn down today.

It is located at Fifth avenue west and First street and the property on which it stands was purchased by the government for the purpose of erecting a new federal building.

The house is associated with many memories of days gone by and many of the old-timers stopped this morning to watch the workmen as the building was being razed.

STABBED BECAUSE HE HAD NO MATCH.

New York, May 11.—Salvador Cremo was found lying unconscious on the sidewalk this morning with bullet wounds in the thigh and the back. Fifteen minutes later Nuncio Scomio was discovered as he was staggering along the street bleeding from a stab wound in the side.

Scomio told the police he had been stopped by a man who asked him for a match and who stabbed him when he said he had none. He shot the man in self defense, he said. He was taken to Cremo's bedside but refused to identify him as the man who had stabbed him. Cremo is not expected to recover.

Privates Callahan, McCarthy, Stansberry and Sleder were shot from ambush. Later in the day, when a quarter of a mile off the reservation, Privates Quidley and McNally were attacked and wounded by men with shot guns.

All the soldiers will recover.

POLICE SAY HE USED LIGHTED LAMP FOR WEAPON.

Joseph Kyle, colored, went on a drunken rampage in the alley between Superior and First streets near Fifth avenue last night, according to the police. It is claimed that he threw a lighted lamp at some people in a house in the alley, nearly setting it afire. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried this afternoon.

LITTLE ORE IS SHIPPED

Season of Navigation Is Disappointment to Vesselmen Thus Far.

Dullness of Iron Market Said to Have Effect on Shipping.

So far as the ore shipping goes, the present season of navigation has been up to this time disappointing. Boats are arriving light at the local port without orders and the delays are sometimes long. Coal cargoes are scarce even for this period of the year and just at this time things are not rushing.

Some weeks ago the 1910 season of navigation opened with a rush. Men high in the business predicted as great if not a greater season than that of 1907. The boats got started and the only thing that was holding up the trade was the blockade at the Soo At this time the boats are poking along, lying up here and there and now and then making a trip. Vesselmen are at a loss for an explanation other than that the iron market is very dull.

It is no uncommon sight these days to see as many as ten boats anchored in the harbor awaiting orders. This morning a number of boats arrived on which there were no orders at the offices of the local agents.

While the ore business is slow in comparison with some other years, the package freight business westbound is rushing. The several lines running in and out of Duluth report all the business they can care for and the vessels are kept coming and going at a merry clip, although the eastbound cargoes are lighter.

A vesselman said this morning in speaking of the dullness in the ore shipping trade: "Thirty days ago it looked a whole lot better to us than it does now. Very few of us are able to understand the dullness at this time of the year. There is no immediate need to look for a change and we now expect the dull season to drag along for some time. I know of no other reason than that the iron market is poor."

NEW BOAT IS IN COMMISSION

Booth Company Gasoline Boat Will Visit Shallow Harbors.

The C. W. Turner, the new gasoline boat built for the Booth company at the Grignon shipyards, went into commission this morning.

The boat was ordered some time ago by the Booth people for the accommodation of some of the fishermen of the north shore, who are located at points where it is impossible for the larger boats to land. These people were forced to row out to the boats with their fish and they had some trying experiences when the weather was rough. The new boat will make all these shallow ports and attend to the wants of the fishermen. The Turner will carry provisions and merchandise of various kinds and bring back fish.

The new boat is 60 fet long and has a beam of 11½ feet. She is equipped with a 45-horse power engine and is capable of a fair rate of speed. She was named after C. W. Turner, the general manager of the company.

She has cabin accommodations for a crew of three men and is fully equipped in every way. She was made after special plans of what the officials of the company thought to be a model fishing boat for use on Lake Superior.

This morning she was tried out on the bay and her work pleased those who looked her over. She will shortly go into regular commission between Duluth and the north shore points.

The putting on of the smaller boat will make the trips of the larger boats shorter, as much time was consumed in loading fish from small boats into the steamers.

BOATS AGROUND ON STAG ISLAND

Tug Favorite Fails to Release Scranton After a Day's Effort.

Port Huron, Mich., May 11.—The steamer Scranton, downbound, ran hard aground at the head of Stag Island early Tuesday morning. The bow of the boat is high out of the water. The tug Favorite worked all day yesterday on the stranded boat but was unable to release her. Edward Smith of Cleveland is the owner. The Scranton is a steel boat and has a gross tonnage of 2,015 tons.

The wooden steamer Wasago is also aground on Stag Island. She went hard on at an early hour this morning. She was bound for Lake Erie and had grain which had been loaded at Duluth.

BARTOW BREAKS GRAIN RECORD

Takes Out 340,000 Bushels of Oats and 127,000 of Barley.

All records on the Great Lakes for grain cargoes were broken when the J. H. Bartow left this port with 340,000 bu of oats and 127,000 bu of barley. The previous record was held by the W. B. Kerr, with 462,273 bu.

The Bartow got out of the local port about 7 o'clock last night. She was bound for Buffalo.

Work Far From Completed.

The United States engineers announce that the work at the Superior entry will not be completed until a year from the coming fall. There is much rip-rap and rock work yet to be done.

WILL MAKE ONE TRIP EACH WEEK

Steamer Northwest Will Reach Duluth on First Trip, June 28.

The steamer North West of the Northern Steamship company will poke her nose through the canal piers for the first time in 1910 on June 28. She will leave the same day on the return trip.

As last year, the big white ship will make eleven trips to the Head of the Lakes. She will arrive every Tuesday and leave again on the same day.

Efforts have been made to have the ship remain longer at the Head of the Lakes that the tourists might have more of a chance to see the city, but the steamship officials after a consideration of the matter have announced that this would be impossible.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The formal announcement by Judge Alfred Jaques that he will file as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Eighth district has been received with the heartiest commendation in Duluth. Republicans joining with Democrats in wishing him success. Since the beginning of the talk of getting an able and popular Democrat to enter the field against Representative Miller, there has been a decided increase in popular dissatisfaction with the course pursued by the present congressman at Washington, and voters who had seemed to be reconciled to the apparent necessity of permitting the re-election of Mr. Miller have shown a disposition to take another view of the situation.

Pleased to Have Jaques In the Race

It is a foregone conclusion that Judge Jaques enters the lists with the intention of making a strong and unrelenting fight for victory at the polls. He is a good speaker, an ardent campaigner and as a mixer he is the equal of any of them. The district is not an appendage of the Aldrich-Cannon regime; quite the contrary. Although there has been no tendency toward a heedless outcry, all through the district are found unmistakable evidences of a thoughtful, determined insurgency—the kind that counts for the people at the polls.

Conditions are deemed favorable for Democratic success in this district this year. Of course, it will be no snap for Judge Jaques. It's a big district, and in becoming a candidate he assumes a heavy burden and a man-size task for his party and the people of the district.

Andrew Nelson, the Duluth attorney who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination but who was reluctant to enter the race, said today that the announcement of Judge Jaques' candidacy pleased him.

"I am glad," said Mr. Nelson, "that Judge Jaques has decided to file for the nomination. I have always felt that should I consent to run I would be sacrificing my professional interests to a considerable extent.

"It pleases me to learn that some other man has been induced to make the run against Mr. Miller. Mr. Jaques is an able man and qualified for the place."

Commenting on a recent statement in these columns about Duluth's disposition to see the range more adequately represented on the county ticket, the Eveleth News says: "Four county offices would be acceptable to the range and deemed equitable, we believe, though primary nominations are difficult to engineer ahead. Could there be a prearrangement between range and Duluth leaders as to what particular offices shall be assigned to each, it would clarify things and the division of offices made fairly certain."

The latest on the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor is of much interest to Duluth. D. M. Neill of Red Wing, president of the federation of commercial clubs of the state, is the man whose name has been brought forward for this honor. Mr. Neill has been a temporary resident of Duluth for several months and is widely known throughout the Northern part of the state, particularly in connection with the Minnesota conservation movement. He is acting president of the Zenith Telephone company (independent) and is a man of prominence in many lines of activity in the state. Just how strong a likelihood there is of his becoming an avowed candidate has not developed. It is believed that he would be a receptive candidate. He left last evening for St. Paul.

Neill of Red Wing Is Boomed.

Sam Y. Gordon of Brown's Valley, who was in Duluth some weeks ago, when was in Duluth some weeks ago, engaged in missionary work in his own behalf as a candidate for this place, has not been especially in evidence of late, but it is not probable that he is tamely "laying down." Rather, he probably is doing some extensive gum-shoe work, and when the convention date comes near he is likely to loom up as a contender to be reckoned with.

The "pair-o'-docks"—Dr. A. B. Cole and Dr. J. A. Gates—both seem satisfied with the outlook. Dr. Cole is said to be encountering some trouble at home, but expects to handle it successfully, and Dr. Gates is one of the most active of the aspirants.

He has it figured out that the treasurer will be a northern man, in which case he will be properly situated on the map. He says he's on no slate and doesn't want to be. He counts on the elimination of John Sheehy of Montgomery, who wants to be treasurer.

"Only one man will be nominated, and I will be that man," said C. M. Sprague of Sauk Center the other day at St. Paul.

Which tends to suggest the question: Didn't one Nolan intimate that he would like to be lieutenant governor?

The Walker Pioneer makes this cheerful observation: "Remember, fellow statemen, the first puff of today may be used in the obituary of tomorrow."

M. N. Koll, who starts things in "Koll's Kollum," published on the editorial page of the Cass Lake Times, and is sometimes sarcastically referred to by editors of neighboring journals as "the personal pronoun editor," takes a lively interest in politics and politicians, besides boosting for Northern Minnesota and denying that he is a candidate for state auditor. Mr. Koll has no abiding love for Sam G. Iverson, however, as the following from his "kollum" will attest:

Sam Iverson Would Wear a Toga?

"When a fellow travels he meets people and sometimes learns some strange things. I always had a notion that the principal reason why Sam Iverson was so anxious for re-election was the salary. It appears now that I was mistaken. Sam isn't losing so much thought on the salary as I thought he was, although it may be hard for him to think of a change after twenty-five or thirty years of drawing salary from such a good paymaster as the state. It seems that Sam has his eye on the United States senatorship. If I got it straight, Sam has it figured out that in either the event of Governor Eberhart's election or defeat, in case Sam gets the auditorship again he will be looked to as the logical candidate for governor two years hence. In the event that he should succeed in landing the governorship then, being a Norwegian, as Senator Nelson is, he has it figured out that he can use the patronage of the governor's office to boost himself immediately into the senatorial job. He has in mind the way his illustrious countryman succeeded in landing the same position, and Sam was around all the time it was happening, drawing his salary and learning how these things are done. He knows the whole game as the other fellows know it, and play it, and has a few patents of his own to throw in to clinch the proposition. As Alvah Eastman says: 'Wait and see.'"

Ramsey county Republicans, serenely unmindful of the savage tone of the state press comment on St. Paul's alleged "hogging" of state jobs, are already beginning to boom Herbart P. Keller, the lately elected Republican mayor of the capitol city, for the governorship two or four years from now. Of course, the further inflation of this boom is dependent upon the result of the next municipal election.

If it be true that Frank B. Kellogg has gone to Europe for the specific purpose of meeting Theodore Roosevelt on the invitation of that distinguished lion hunter, Minnesota politicians will have reason to watch the progress of Mr. Kellogg in American public affairs with deep interest. Presidents don't send men abroad to confer with ex-presidents unless they consider such men about the best article of fixer that is available. Everyone in Minnesota knows that Mr. Kellogg possesses merit as a fixer and a mixer, too, when he so pleases. The Republican national committeeman has been close to President Taft since the administration began and he is an old and well-liked associate of the former president. While it is said that he has gone abroad on the invitation of Mr. Roosevelt, it seems a reasonable surmise that he also has gone as a representative of the present occupant of the White House. When Roosevelt gets back and joins hands with Taft to make good on the Taftian game, Kellogg may be expected to be placed well up in the foreground of the political picture. Just how it will be done is merely a matter of detail, but a man who is as useful to the firm of Taft & Roosevelt as is Mr. Kellogg should be given something good.

County Auditor Odin Halden's candidacy for re-election is mentioned by the Minneapolis Journal with this comment: "To have satisfied the big county of St. Louis for that length of time (twenty years) is no mean achievement. It may be remembered that Auditor Halden instituted the first big raise in the assessment of the iron properties."

Chairman W. E. Culkin of the Republican county committee has called a meeting of the committee for Friday evening at Mr. Culkin's office in the Providence building for the purpose of issuing the call for the county convention June 17 at Hibbing.

sent of the former president, an informal reception will be held at Guild hall at which the honorary freedom of the city will be presented to the guest, the address being contained in a gold casket.

The matter is now under consideration by a committee of the corporation, which has communicated with Mr. Roosevelt.

Sees Army Maneuvers.

Berlin, May 11.—Col. Roosevelt, in the company of Emperor William today witnessed a mimic battle in which 12,000 men of the German military engaged in the vicinity of Doerberitz.

It had been feared that the former president would be obliged to forego this part of the entertainment planned for him because of the condition of his throat, which is still somewhat sensitive, but this morning Prof. Fraenkel, the throat specialist, made a further examination and decided that Mr. Roosevelt would suffer no inconvenience through being for a few hours in the open air.

Immediately after breakfast Mr. Roosevelt, attended by Lieut. Col. von Koerner, motored to Doeberitz, where at 9 o'clock he was joined by the emperor. The colonel wore a riding costume and was provided with a superb thoroughbred from the imperial stables. His majesty also took a mount, and together they rode over the maneuvering field of some twenty square miles and observed the working out of the army problem. The scene of the evolutions was admirably adapted to bring out the resources of officers and men. The topography was varied, open tracts being skirted with thick forests and broken by streams, rough elevations and swamps.

nation, to acquire familiarity with the needs of the Polish national life and find ways and means of fulfilling them.

The ceremonies which preceded the dedication of the statues were long planned and very elaborate. A military parade in which all the regular troops stationed at Fort Myer as well as the National Guard of the District of Columbia marched, was one of the features. Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A., was in command.

Statue of Pulaski.

In the heart of the busier section of the city the monument to Pulaski stands fourteen feet from the sidewalk in a triangular green. In the saddle of a charger is mounted the figure of the hero in the Polish Hussar uniform in which he won command of a brigade of Washington's cavalry for his gallant conduct at the Brandywine. Pulaski always wore the uniform of his beloved fatherland, and it clothed his breast throught three years of valiant fighting on American soil until he fell at the siege of Savannah in 1779 and died on the United States brig-of-war Wasp in the harbor, two days after.

The sculptor, Chodzinski, gathered material for his work in Paris, Berlin and parts of Poland, and secured from the descendants of Pulaski a life size painting of the hero mounted on a horse, done by Pulaski's sister.

Across From White House.

In Lafayette park, a beautiful shaded square across Pennsylvania avenue from the White House, is the monument to Kosciuszko, with the exception of one, completes the set of five planned there. The others are to Gen. Lafayette and Count Rochambeau, who commanded the French allies at Yorktown. On the remaining corner will be erected the statue of Baron von Steuben. An immense statute of Gen. Andrew Jackson is in the center of the park.

Kosciuszko is represented in the figure as the hero of two hemispheres, as his countrymen love to refr to him. A map of the United States, with the American eagle on guard, is on the front of the pedestal. On the other side is the outline of Europe and Asia attacked by the snake of despotism, with the Polish eagle fighting in defense. A Polish soldier, wounded, and falling, is being defended by a Polish farmer with a scythe. Opposite, an American soldier is cutting the schackles of an American farmer which bind him to the foreign yoke. Mounted on the pedestal is the statute of Kosctuszko, a map of West Point in one hand, the other on his sword.

Inscription Tells of Deeds.

The valliant deeds of the man who fought consistently for liberty in an old world and a new, so consistently that he refused to lend himself to the plans of Napoleon for the restoration of Poland—are recalled by the inscriptions on the monument.

Driven to this country by an unhappy love affair, he saw the new republic established and did not return to his native Poland until 1786. When Russia attacked Poland in 1792, Kosciusczko with 4,000 men, held Dubienka against 18,000 Russians in a famous battle. After the second participation of Poland in 1794, he put himself at the head of a national movement and was proclaimed dictator and commander in chief. Covered with wounds, he fell into the hands of his enemies and was restored to liberty by the Emperor Paul two yeaors later.

Alexander, in 1814, refused to grant an amnesty to Poles in foreign lands and to make Kosciuszko constitutional king of Poland, and for the remainder of his life he lay aside his sword and lived the peaceful life of a farmer in France until he was killed when his horse plunged over a precipice. The Emperor Alexander later moved the body to Crawcow and had it laid beside that of John Sobieski.

townspeople holding their own for so long a time, it is expected there that they will win the fight and escape destruction.

The American left for Grand Marais this morning at 10 o'clock.

At the Country Club.

The fire that has been threatening at times in the vicinity of the Country club has practically burned itself out today and there is no longer any real danger in that direction. The blaze was rather alarming yesterday beyond the golf links, but today there is little of it left.

At the Lakewood pumping station, also, all danger has ceased. Manager L. N. Case of the water and light commission received a report this morning from Wilson Palmer, chief engineer in charge of the station, in which Mr. Palmer said that "the property surrounding the pumping station has been made a desolate waste" and that the Iron Range property was saved from destruction by a bucket brigade composed of men and women.

The fire burned itself out in this quarter and there is now no danger to the plant, the surrounding area having been swept clean of food for the flames.

Fire at Spring Garden.

W. M. Prindle & Co., owners of property in the vicinity of the Snively farm between Spring Garden and Colbyville, called upon the Duluth fire department today for the services of a company captain to take charge of a force of sixteen men sent to the scene of the fire that is threatening the Prindle company's property, on which there are a number of buildings. The men and Capt. Dunbar were taken out in automobiles.

Two small dwellings were destroyed near Spring Garden yesterday. The local authorities have no exact information about their value and size.

The force employed at Howard's mill was taken to the farm of William C. Sawyer yesterday to fight the fire there. No damage was caused by the flames. The Sawyer farm is about a mile and a half north of the Prindle property.

The fire between Colbyville and Spring Garden has followed the course of the small stream that empties into Lester creek.

A company of Duluth firemen spent yesterday at Woodland, where the residents had become greatly alarmed, but there was little danger and no damage was done.

Mr. Worthington, an official of the Duluth & Northeastern road, with headquarters at Cloquet, was in the city today and said that the situation in the neighborhood of Cloquet is not dangerous at this time. There are a few brush fires near the town, but they have not caused much alarm, he said.

Roy Smith, a Minneapolis traveling man, who is at the Lenox, says that along the road from the Twin Cities to Duluth there are many small fires, and apparently no effort is being made to put them out. All through that region the need of rain is acute.

Mosinee Destroyed.

Not alone in Northeastern Minnesota, but in Northern Wisconsin and Northern Michigan as well, fires are raging over wide stretches of territory, and Mosinee, a Wisconsin village in Marathon county, has been destroyed in part, the flames leveling the south half of the town. Mosinee is ten miles south of Wausau. Ten residences, four general stores, one drug store, two saloons, a sawmill and the postoffice had been destroyed when wire communication was cut off early today, but at that time it was believed that the fire was under control. An engine and crew was sent by special train from Wausau to help fight the flames at 2 o'clock this morning. At noon the fire was reported as being under control. The total loss will exceed $25,000.

As at Mosinee, every resident of Knowlton is out fighting the fire, which is threatening that place.

Smoke Very Dense.

All through the forest-fire zone great clouds of smoke are being formed which, gradually drifting south, are covering the country with a dull, oppressive pall for many miles. Over the lake the cloud is spreading, threatening to interfere with navigation, the smoke being much worse to contend with than fog. From the woods the wild things are emerging, seeking relief and safety from the smoke and flames. In the cities and environs the beasts of burden and domestic animals are feeling the effects of the fires in the north. The birds of the forest are flocking to the haunts of men for safe haven, and in Duluth large numbers of them have been observed.

Between Two Harbors and Knife River the fires are especially threatening, and at Mud Hen, fourteen miles south of Eveleth, on the Miller Trunk road, the flames raged with terrific force yesterday. A settler there named Latzala lost all his property, and he and his wife and six children were made homeless. They narrowly escaped death in the flames.

Several homesteaders' homes southwest of the village of Cass Lake have been destroyed. It is reported that seven settlers lost all their property, being forced to seek safety in flight, leaving all their possessions to be burned. Mayor Dumas of Cass Lake yesterday called for volunteers, and the response was speedy and general. The men worked all last night. This morning a dispatch from Cass Lake said that it was expected the fire would be under control within a few hours, as the wind had gone down. However, the fires were still raging, and it was not certain that the danger was over.

The flames approached within five miles of Ely, in which vicinity many settlers' cabins have been razed. The St. Croix lumber camps on the Stoney river have been destroyed. Hibbing is believed to be safe, but throughout the night the glare of the forest fires in the neighborhood shone over the town. Goodland, ten miles south of Hibbing, was isolated yesterday, the telephone line having been cut off. It is not known how great the danger is at that point.

Near Washburn, Wis., the Hines Lumber company's men are fighting to save from destruction the largest tract of standing timber in the state, while in every direction about Washburn the flames are sweeping over the country. Settlers in the vicinity of Bayfield have lost farm buildings and near Ladysmith much danger of similar losses exists.

Late reports are that the fire between Chisholm and Buhl, which is northeast of Chisholm, has been raging fiercely since Monday night, but no settlers are known to be in the path of the flames and, aside from the destruction of timber, there is small chance of danger to life or property. Another big blaze is sweeping over the bush to the north of this fire. No alarm is felt in Chisholm for the safety of that town. Chisholm was completely wiped out in the forest fires of two years ago.

In the vicinity of Eveleth and Gilbert the situation today is greatly improved, largely on account of a shift in the wind. At Gilbert, where all business was suspended yesterday and Monday, the merchants have begun to resume trading and conditions are approaching the normal.

There seems to have been a fortunate change in weather conditions throughout the greater part of the forest fire zone. Although no rain has fallen, the wind has died out at many points heard from and the flames are no longer being driven so fiercely onward.

In the Marquette region of Upper Michigan there are no fires, but to the west many small blazes have made their appearance. From Calumet word is received that Alston has been saved. This village was isolated from the rest of the world yesterday and seemed doomed to destruction, but desperate fighting by hundreds of men held off the fire until the dying out of the wind brought safety to the community.

WRIGHTS WILL TRY TO BEAT PAULHAN'S FLIGHT.

Dayton, Ohio, May 11.—Announcement is made here that the Wright brothers will attempt to better Paulhan's long distance aeroplane feat by flying from Dayton to Chicago. A date has not been definitely set for the trial, beyond the statement that it will be within the next few weeks. The distance is approximately 250 miles.

Canadian Coal Strike Over.

Frank, Alta., May 11.—The six weeks strike of the coal miners at the collieries of the Canadian Consolidated Coal company ended in an advance of wages for the men.

Indictments Drawn Up.

Chicago, May 11.—Three new indictments are said to have been drawn up at the state attorney's office today in connection with the legislative bribery.

Anti-Saloon Forces Win.

Bellingham, Wash., May 11.—The anti-saloon forces carried the local option election at Friday Harbor, an Juan county, yesterday by a majority of 51.

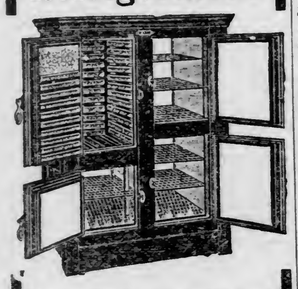
McCray Refrigerators



Are in use in all the Pure Food Laboratories in the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

This fact is of interest to thoughtful people who are considering the purchase of a refrigerator.

The officals who determined the choice after close study of all makes, decided on the McCray on account of the exclusive sanitary features of the McCray System.

Save Food
Save Ice
Save Work

The active circulation of pure, cold, dry air in the McCray Refrigerator preserves the freshness and flavor of foods, the nine layers of insulating material in the walls of a McCray keep the cold air in and the warm air out. This saves ice and reduces ice bills. The linings of

McCray Refrigerators

—opal glass, porcelain-tile, or odorless white wood, are so easy to clean. With the dry air constantly circulating through the compartments, cleaning is seldom necessary. Then, the McCray can be arranged to ice from the back porch. This keeps the ice man, with his muddy feet and dripping ice out of your clean kitchen and saves work.

There are McCray Refrigerators suited for every purpose, come in and see them.

GOPHER LAND IS OPENED

Total of 232,295 Acres in Minnesota Restored to Public Domain.

Washington, May 11.—Land, aggregating 232,295 acres, located in Cedar Chippewa Indian reservations in Minnesota, which were withheld from a settlement a little more than a year ago, have been restored to the public domain by the interior department. They will be subject to homestead entry on June 20.

The restoration includes 26,635 acres in the former Chippewa of the Mississippi, Leach Lake and Winnebiggoshish Indian reservations, which are subject at once to settlement under existing laws. The remaining lands, which are located for the greater part in the former Red Lake reservation, will not be subject to settlement until June 20.

WHITE MAN SOUGHT FOR NEGRO'S MURDER.

Utica, N. Y., May 11.—George Burton, a negro, aged 33, was killed while he slept in a barn two miles from this city early today, and Joseph Shultz, a white man of the same age, is being sought by the sheriff. Morris Theobold, 17 years old, claims he saw Shultz pick up a sharp-edged shovel and strike Burton twice over the head, causing instant death.

GREAT MEXICAN RANCHMAN.

Kansas City Star: Gen. Luis Terrazas is Mexico's wealthiest man. Gen. Terrazas is 79 years old—the same age as President Dias. The lives of both men have been full of stirring adventure. It was in reward for daring military service that Gen. Terrazas obtained from the government large gifts of land which placed him upon the road to the great fortune which he now possesses.

It is conservatively estimated that Gen. Terrazas is worth not less than $200,000,000. His property holdings are chiefly in the state of Chihuahua, but he also has large investments in other parts of the republic.

Gen. Terrazas is the greatest land and livestock baron in the world, it is said. He owns fifteen ranches in the state of Chihuahua. The ranches embrace an aggregate area of more than 5,000,000 acres. For many years special attention has been given to raising horses upon these ranches. More than 5,000,000 head of horses are grazing upon the Terrazas land.

The mule supply for most of Mexico comes from the Terrazas ranches. These animals now number more than 1,000,000 head and are scattered over the different properties. Gen. Terrazas' cattle holdings number more than 1,000,000 head. Several hundred thousand head of goats and sheep graze upon his land. It is said that the choicest grass lands in Northern Mexico are embraced in the Terrazas estate. Streams of running water pass through them and the grass grows luxuriantly the greater part of the year.

Some idea of the vastness of these landed possessions may be had when it is known that more than 10,000 men are kept constantly employed looking after the livestock. The services of 1,000 men are required to "ride the fences." It is the duty of these fence riders to see that the wires are kept intact so that the livestock cannot escape from the pastures. Many thousand miles of wire were used in constructing the boundary fences. More than a score of towns, some of them of considerable size, are upon the ranches.

WOODPECKERS FORESIGHT.

Cleveland Leader: In California the woodpecker stores acorns away, although he never eats them. He bores several holes, differing slightly in size, at the fall of the year, invariably in a pine tree. Then he finds an acorn, which he adjusts to one of the holes prepared for its reception.

But he does not eat the acorn, for as a rule he is not a vegetarian. His object in storing away the acorns exhibits foresight and a knowledge of results more akin to reason than to instinct. The succeeding winter the acorns remain intact, but becoming saturated are predisposed to decay when they are attacked by maggots, which seem to delight in this special food.

It is then that the woodpecker reaps the harvest his wisdom has provided, at a time when the ground, being covered with snow, he would experience difficulty otherwise in obtaining suitable or palatable food.

ANOTHER TARIFF FIGHT BREWING

Payne and Others May Fight Appropriation for Tariff Board Work.

Washington, May 11.—President Taft is facing a new party complication. In his effort to secure an appropriation of $250,000 to enable the new tariff board to ascertain the difference in the cost of production here and abroad and thus lay the foundation for another tariff revision based upon accurate and scientific information, it is said today that the president will have the opposition of Representatives Payne, Dalzell, Fordney and high protectionists of the house.

The insurgents are backing the president up in his demand for the appropriation, and Republicans generally are looking to this appropriation and the promise of another revision which it carries with it as one of the brightest elements of hope in the coming congressional campaign.

Insurgents Are Wondering.

The insurgents are wondering today if, in the event of opposition from Payne, Dalzell and others, their Republicanism will be called into question by the "powers that be."

The plan of the ultra-protectionists, it is said, is to rest their opposition on a point of order when the provision for the $250,000 appropriation is reached in the sundry civil bill. The entire debate is expected to be taken up with the tariff question. Speaker Cannon will not pass upon the point of order, as it will come up in committee of the whole with some one else in the chair at the time.

Chairman Tawney of the appropriations committee declared today he did not believe a point of order would lie against the appropriation, but if it should, an effort would be made to get the appropriation in some other way. Messrs. Payne and Dalzell and Mr. Tawney, together with Senators Crane and Aldrich, were at the White House today.

POLICE HUNT MURDERER.

New Developments Are Found in Double Tragedy.

New York, May 11.—An air of expectancy about police headquarters today was expected to presage announcement of an important discovery in the double murder uncovered Monday, when William Benam, the young Hindu butler, and Margaret Meehner, the aged housekeeper of Dr. Mott D. Cannon, a well known physician, were found shot to death in the doctor's residence in West One Hundred and Twenty-second street.

A bloodstained piece of linen, with finger prints upon it and a German newspaper in which, apparently, a jimmy or iron bar had been wrapped, are the only tangible clues the detectives have to work upon.

Instead of the three shots which were supposed to have been fired, four shots in all took effect in the bodies of the victims. Three of the bullets lodged in the body of the housekeeper, while one struck the head of the Hindu butler and killed him. Only three chambers of the old revolver found beside the dead body of the butler had been fired. No other weapon has turned up.

TAFT APPROVES POSTAL BANK BILL

Tentative Measure Is Presented to Him By House Committee Men.

Washington, May 11.—President Taft practically has approved the postal savings bank bill as presented to him in tentative form last night by Chairman Weeks and other members of the house committee on postoffices and post roads. It is understood the president approved of issuing United States bonds in $24 denominations and multiples thereof, bearing 2½ per cent interest, to be sold to postal savings depositors.

The bill will provide that the board of trustees shall establish postal savings banks wherever, in their judgment, they should be created. A postal bank bill already has passed the senate.

BROWARD LEADS IN FLORIDA PRIMARIES.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 11.—Returns today from the Democratic primary election held throughout the state yesterday indicate that Former Governor Broward will lead United States Senator James Taliferro in the race for the senate, and that the two candidates must run the race over again. The primary system was indorsed in every county.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS PAPER MILL STARTS.

International Falls, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The paper mill that has been in course of erection here for a year or so, has been given a trial run and everything moves satisfactorily.

W. F. Backus of the Backus Brooks Lumber company of Minneapolis, a head man in the paper plant, came here this week to be on hand when the mill started.

ENGLISH GOLF STORIES.

Some of the Yarns Told in Britain's 1,500 Clubhouse.

There are nearly 1,500 gold clubhouses in Great Britain, and the Strand Magazine is trying to discover the funniest of the golf stories which are told in these haunts. Andrew Lang offers the following as his contribution:

"A determined player got into a sand pit and for a long time all that his opponent saw of him was only distinguishable through the dense clouds of guishable made by the violent action of a niblick.

"At last the resolute veteran emerged from the pit, and his opponent, without expressing any surprise or condolence or annoyance at the delay, merely asked him how many he had played. Evidently the other was not in a revealing mood.

"'I went into that place,' he replied icily, 'at a quarter past 12 o'clock. It is now a quarter to 1. You are at liberty, sir, to form your own estimate.'"

The scene of another yarn was the links at Westward Ho, where two players were driving off from the fifteenth hole. One of them was possessed of a quiet, pawky kind of humor, while the other was of the hit-'em-high-and-often order.

Not knowing the course, the slasher asked his partner for the line of the hole, and was told to play on to Dr. S——'s house, which was perched on the skyline. The slasher let out, and his ball was skied to an enormous height.

"You mistook me," said the quiet one. "I meant his earthly, not his heavenly habitation."

On the course at Biarritz there is a certain hole which can be reached in one shot from the tee. The green, however, is blind, lying over the crest of a hill. It is therefore customary to send a caddie forward to mark the ball.

On one occasion a golfer hit a good straight shot over the hill, the ball dropping dead on the line for the hole. Great was his rejoicing when coming up the hill to hear his caddie shouting that the ball was in the hole; indeed, the player was so pleased (never having performed the feat before) that he made the caddie a present of 5 francs.

The sequel to this event is remarkable. The story goes that on the following day no fewer than seven players on reaching this particular green found they had holed out from the tee!

The occasionally enlivening effect of golf was demonstrated in the case of an elderly Indian colonel whose boast it was that he had a very tranquil disposition which nothing could ruffle. He took up golf, and for a long time his friends failed to notice any disturbance of the colonel's outward calm, but one day when playing a foursome he got into a notorious devil's punchbowl bunker and spent a terrible fifteen minutes trying first to find his ball and then to play it out.

He tried every club in vain, and at last, glaring like a demon, he smashed them one after another across a jagged rock.

"What are you doing?" cried out the party above.

"It's all right," he snorted. "Its—Its better to—break your clubs than to—lose your temper!"

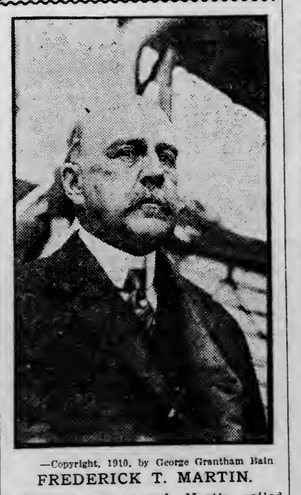
SOCIAL ARBITER SAILS FOR EUROPE



—Copyright, 1910, by George Grantham Bain

FREDERICK T. MARTIN.

Frederick Townsend Martin sailed May 4 on the Arlatic for England, to pass the summer as usual in London and Paris. He will go to Scotland in the autumn to visit his brother, Bradley Martin. Mr. Martin has been a conspicuous figure in New York society in recent years. He has been compared to the late Ward McAllister, who as Mrs. Paran Steven's lieutenant, dominated the set of sets two decades ago. Mr. Martin differs essentially from that much vaunted arbiter and there are fey points in common. Mr. Martin works along the lines of broad-mindedness, whereas Mr. McAllister leaned to exclusiveness. Mr. Martin divides his time carefully between his office in Wall street and the drawing rooms of society.

ATTRACTIONS COMPARED

Independent Stars Outnumber Those of Trust Two to One.

The Shuberts Also Have Many More Big Musical Productions.

When C. A. Marshall, John Cort, Julius Cahn, Moses Reis and C. P. Walker deserted the Klaw & Erlanger syndicate that power in the theatrical world was seriously crippled. C. A. Marshall controls forty theaters and John Cort rules the destinies of 103. Cahn controls even more theaters than Cort. Reis and Walker are powers in the Eastern and Southern theatrical world.

It is not difficult to understand why these managers should desert the Klaw & Erlanger syndicate when the attractions offered by K. & E. and the Shuberts are compared. The following will be under the so-called independent management next year: Sothern-Marlowe, Maxine Elliott, Mary Mannering, Nazimova, Marietta Olly, Bertha Kalich, Bertha Galland, Florence Roberts, Forbes-Robertson, John Mason, George Fawcett, Grace George, Viola Allen, Wilton Lackaye, William Hodge, Dustin Farnum, William Farnum, Walker Whiteside, William Faversham, Mrs. Fiske, George Arliss, Thomas Wise, Douglas Fairbanks, Cyril Scott, Wright Lorimer, Robert Mantell, Mabel Barrison, Harry Conor, Irving-Hackney.

These players may be compared with the following who will be booked by Klaw & Erlanger: J. E. Dodson, Maude Adams, Ethel Barrymore, John Barrymore, John Drew, William H. Crane, Mabel Tolliaferro, Blanche Bates, Frances Starr, Rose Stahl, Robert Edeson, David Warfield, Francis Wilson, Blllie Burke, Marie Tempest, Otis Skinner.

In the musical world the Shuberts will book the following:

Fritzi Scheff, Marguerite Clark, Louise Gunning, Lulu Glaser, Lew Fields, Sam Bernard, James T. Powers, Edwin Foy, Blanche Ring, Marie Dressler, Jefferson De Angelis, De Wolf Hooper, Marie Cahill.

The following will be booked by Klaw & Erlanger:

Hattie Williams, Adeline Genee, George Cohan, Victor Moore, Montgomery and Stone, Elsie Janis.

The fact that some stars are under the control of Klaw & Erlanger will not prevent them from playing in independent houses so far as the independent theaters are concerned. The independent houses will not be compelled, however, to take what Klaw & Erlanger have rammed down the throats of Western theatergoers in the past, laboring under the delusion that intelligence in the United States had not succeeded in getting past the Alleghenies.

He has been a resident of the county for forty-nine years and was born in Lake county fifty-one years ago. Several years ago he was offered the nomination, but refused to accept. Since succeeding his late brother he has become interested in the work and is confident that he will be nominated and elected.

"An Opportunity" is the subject of the toast assigned to Glen Merritt.

Milk and Butter Insurance

Nothing absorbs impurities so quickly as milk. To insure healthful milk and butter, absolute cleanliness is necessary. All milk buckets, strainers, etc., should first be rinsed with cold water to remove the new milk which would curdle in hot water. Then wash in warm water to which a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder has been added, rinse and scald thoroughly with hot water, then leave in the air and sun for at least twelve hours before they are used again. Have plenty of cloths, specially for the dairy, and wash in the same way as the utensils.

USED GASOLINE TO START FIRE

Fatal Mistake of North Dakotan Costing His Life and Home.

Hazelton, N. D., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Using gasoline instead of kerosene to liven up the fire in the kitchen stove in his home, near here, John Hoock caused an explosion and fire that cost his life and destroyed the home. He had arisen early in the morning to prepare some food for his wife, who was caring for a newly-born child, and is supposed to have taken hold of the wrong can. There was a terrible explosion. In a minute the kitchen was ablaze, and the fire spread rapidly to other portions of the house.

Mrs. Hoock succeeded in making her escape from the house with her baby, but was severely burned. Her maid, Mary Butler, was also burned in trying to rescue Mr. Hoock, but had to abandon the effort and narrowly escaped herself.

Mr. Hoock's body was found burned to a crisp in the ashes of the house, which was completely destroyed.

Inspecting Reservation Indians.

Cloquet, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. J. Cary, United States veterinarian, is at work on the Fond du Lac Indian reservation inspecting all horses owned by Indians to detect any symptoms of glanders. This disease is very contagious, and all horses that belong to the wards of the government that are so infected will be shot.

INSPECTS STATION

To Be Established Near Cloquet for Reforestry Work.

Cloquet, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. Green of the agricultural department of the University of Minnesota has been in the city for the past two days on business connected with the establishment of the reforestry experimental station, on the tract of land south of here. With a party of local business men, Prof. Green visited a tract of land adjoining the proposed farm, with a view of acquiring it for the same purpose. There are a number of Indian allotments yet to be relinquished, but it is expected that this matter will be settled within a short time.

Temporary buildings have been erected by Forester D. P. Tierney, who will have charge of the station, and the work of clearing the land of underbrush and the like, is progressing rapidly.

ALCOHOL IN MEDICINES.

Alcohol is the best known preservative of medical compounds, and the average proprietary medicine contains from 1 per cent to 22 percent, which is the smallest possible amount to preserve the ingredients, while the average doctor's prescription contains from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

Such standard preparations as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contain but 18 per cent, and they even put the Compound up in tablet form, which the over-scrupulous woman, who objects to alcohol in any degree, may use.

DR. E. W. FAHEY IS ADVOCATE

Duluthian Is Honored By State Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Winona, Minn., May 11.—The state council of the Knights of Columbus in session here elected officers as follows:

John E. Barry, St. Paul, deputy; William Reaue, Minneapolis, secretary; P. J. Earth, Winona, treasurer; Dr. E. W. Fahey, Duluth, advocate; H. J. Kennedy, Faribault, warden.

The delegates to the national council at Quebec in August are: John E. Barry, J. N. Nightingale, Minneapolis; Leo Ball, Duluth, and C. F. Ladner, St. Cloud.

Every council in the state was represented, about 100 delegates being present.

Great Growth in Minnesota.

The advancement of the order in the state was well shown in the annual reports of State Deputy J. H. Nightingale of Minneapolis and State Secretary E. F. Kelly of Faribault. Their figures were to a large extent similar, Mr. Nightingale reported that the present membership of the order in Minnesota was 4,500, a gain of 1,200 in the past year. This is a good showing, especially in view of the fact that all members come in voluntarily, that there is no solicitation to bring new members in and no organizers at work. Three new councils have been instituted during the year, these being located at Spring Valley, Brainerd and Bemidji.

Membership About 250,000.

In the country at large Mr. Nightingale stated that the membership of the order was upwards of 250,000. The Knights of Columbus as a body voted to give an endowment of 500,000 to the Catholic university at Washington. Of this amount $2,500 has been contributed by the Knights from Minnesota.

All over the state the councils are establishing homes for their order, these being fitted up in a most convenient and comfortable manner. Minneapolis and St. Paul are both getting fine buildings. Rochester is having a building fitted up and in Winona the new quarters in the Hirsch block have just been fitted up.

The death claims paid in this county in 1909 amounted to $515,191.67.

Northern Michigan Reserve.

Houghton, Mich., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative H. Olin Young of this district has asked congress to create in Northern Michigan a national forest reserve. The bill provides that the government accept the relinquishment to lands by the state on which its claims have been unperfected and that the state select, in lieu of these lands, any other lands of equal area and value from any part of the unoccupied lands of the state.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The second of the cotillions of the year at which the younger married people will be the guests will be held Friday evening of this week. The affair will be danced at the Country club and the figure for the evening will be lead by James McLennan. The series of cotillions which have been arranged by this little group of people during the last few seasons have been among the delightful events, socially, and this week's affair promises to be more than ordinarily delightful coming in a season of few social interests.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Bishop's Club Completes Work for Year.

The annual election of officers for the Bishops' club was held last evening at the last meeting for the year. Mrs. F. R. Kennedy was re-elected president of the club for the ensuing year and the other officers are to be: Mrs. F. A. Barber, first vice president; Miss Fiebiger, second vice president; Miss Lillian Kenny, third vice president; Miss Early, secretary; Mrs. Fred Sermon, treasurer; Mrs. W. Craig, historian and Miss Katherine Bilin, librarian. A program of Italian music followed the business session and the work for the year was closed with an informal social hour which followed the musicale.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Duluth Women at Meeting of Eastern Star.

A number of Duluth women are in St. Paul to attend the annual convention of the Eastern Star, the women's auxiliary of the Masonic order which is in session today and will continue tomorrow. The delegates were entertained at a reception last evening at the Commercial club of St. Paul by the St. Paul chapters. Reports of the grand officers was the order of business today. Tomorrow the regular election and installation of officers will be held.

Among the Duluth women in attendance are: Mrs. Ella F. Gearhart, Mrs. W. J. Bates, Mrs. F. N. Allen, Mrs. J. N. McGindley, Mrs. Minnie Keeler, Mrs. J. T. Armstead and Mrs. A. M. Fenton.

DULUTH WOMAN

Spoken of for National Federation Office.

A large number of Minnesota women are in attendance at the biennial meeting at Cincinnati. One of the questions of first importance at the business sessions will be the discussion of the raising of dues, to which the Minnesota women are strongly opposed.

If the amendment to double the dues to the Federation of Women's clubs is passed, the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs will consider the question of withdrawing from the General Federation at the next state meeting in October. The Minnesota state delegation, and Mrs. C. G. Higbee of St. Paul, the state president, are opposed to the raise. At present state clubs pay on an average 25 cents annually. It is doubtful whether the amendment will be approved of by even a majority vote at the convention. Mrs. Higbee does not approve of it and Mrs. Conant of Wells, the state federation secretary, opposes it strongly.

Should Mrs. Philip N. Moore desire re-election, she will find a contestant in Mrs. Philip Carpenter of New York. Mrs. Carpenter's name has been suggested to the Minnesota delegation and she is looked upon with approval. Mrs. Carpenter is a Californian by birth, was educated at Mills college, California, and was graduated from the New York university law school. She is a former president of the New York State Federation of Women's clubs. She is first vice president of the Women Lawyers' club of New York, former president of the National Society of New England Women. She was the second woman lawyer to appear in the New York court of appeals and the first to win a case.

Mrs. J. L. Washburn of this city, former president of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, is already in Cincinnati, and her name is mentioned for the office of vice president of the general federation.

HAS ABANDONED MUSICAL COMEDY FOR "THE LEGITIMATE"

MAY DE SOUSA.

May de Sousa, who last year appeared in New York as the prima donna in "A Skylark," has deserted comic opera for the legitimate. Miss De Sousa will appear as Hetty Brice in "The Commuters," in Atlantic City. She gives as her reason for making this radical change that prima donnas are no longer the feature of comic operas. She says that in the musical show of today everything is given way to gigantic proportions, huge armies of chorus and snow thing is given way to gigantic proportions, huge armies of chorus and snow thing is given way to gigantic proportions, huge armies of chorus and snow girls, surrounding vaudeville acts. Besides the music that made the comic opera of the past endure, no longer appeals to the public taste. To the prima donna with ability as an actress, there are more opportunities for success in the legitimate and for that reason Miss De Sousa has taken this step.

Annual Breakfast.

The annual May morning breakfast of the Young Women's Christian association will be served Tuesday morning, May 31, at the association. This spring entertainment is one of the annual affairs of the association and this year it has been postponed until the latter part of the month to insure milder weather and a larger number of spring blossoms for the decorations. Breakfast will be served from 11 to 2 o'clock.

Supper at Trinity.

Supper will be served tomorrow evening at Trinity hall of the Pro-Cathedral by the men of the parish, being a reversal of the usual custom of church suppers. The meal will be served at 6:30 and the attendants at the table will be well-known business and professional men of the parish. The supper is for the members of the parish and their friends. The menu is as follows:

Rolls. Creamed potatoes.
Tomato and cucumber salad.
Ice cream. Strawberries.
Coffee. Cakes.

YOUNG MEN AND MAIDENS

By MISS EXPERIENCE

Writing Love Letters.

Having a sweetheart who wants her to write to him every day, although they meet several times each week, Emma C. asks if it is advisable to gratify him. That depends upon what you write, Emma. Your sweetheart's wish may be an exaction or it may be a compliment. But it would be sensible on his part to be satisfied with seeing you several times in a week unless sometimes there is anything you want him to know at once. If a girl writes every day and tells her lover all that is happening there can be nothing to tell him and talk about when they meet.

Troubled By the Fashions.

It may be a real grievance that prompts Horace D. to write, but it looks as if he wants to poke fun when he says, "Don't you think the modern fashionably dressed girl is a hard proposition to make love to? I want to propose to Alice, and if she says 'Yes,' of course I shall want to put my arm around her and kiss her. But how can I tell where her waist is in an empire gown? We walk along together, and I look down, hoping to see her sweet face, but all I can see is a large area of dead grass with feathers and roosters' heads or great bunches of flowers or fruits. I can't make love to a hat." Really, Horace, you are to be pitied

Love Signs in France.

Luckless lovers in France often learn their fate in a curious way. In one province a lover, after declaring his passion, may receive, while sitting at dinner at the house of his beloved, from her hands a plate of pea soup into which she has grated some cheese. He relishes that soup, for the grated cheese means that he has been accepted. If his address to the young woman is not welcome he finds that someone has placed a stinging nettle and some oats in his pocket. Another unmistakable sign is when the young woman turns the blackened end of a poker toward him.

Personal Advice.

Heart Broken—You certainly must not marry a man whom you do not love. Will the American man be a good provider? If so, arrange for a meeting with your parents whereby he can plead his cause.

Attached—Marked attention to any one person when there are three or more persons present is not the proper thing. She is right. It is perfectly proper that a man should wield a fan for one of the opposite sex, it being an act of courtesy. You do not come within the scope of the article referred to.

A Reformer—While the word "fellows" has changed slightly from its former meaning and should really be classed with so-called "slang" expressions, there is nothing so awfully dreadful in its being used. Hardly a sentence is spoken where some slangy word does not appear. The word gentleman at present means, speaking broadly, a person who does not have to work. You must be closely associated with a man for some time before you know whether he is a "gentleman" and then he may be such only from a standpoint of common courtesy. Don't be jealous if she speaks of the other men as "fellows." If you desire it she might probably call you by a nearer and dearer name.

THE LOST BOY

By J. WILLIAM POPE

IN years gone by, nigh unto Jerusalem,
A boy was lost, his parents had not kept
Their eyes upon him, he was twelve years old,
And at such an age boys are apt to wander,
Therefore it behooveth parents to watch,
To teach them and keep them within call.
Among their kin and acquaintances they Sought for him and finding him not, they went Back to where they last saw him, and found him
Talking to the wise men in the temple.
He excused himself as attending to
His father's business, but nevertheless
He went home and was subject unto his Parents, as is the duty of children.
If it was the duty of those parents
To seek for their boy, how much more is it
The duty of parents today, but where
Would parents of today most likely find
Their boys; not in temples. Where think you?
Alas! alas! in some poolroom, saloon,
At a ball game or a horse race, maybe
In the lockup, and whose fault is all this?
The parents, they did not keep watch, nor teach their boys their duty, nor teach them of the Boy who was lost once at Jerusalem
While attending to his father's business.
Be yet watchful, parents, nor go too far
Without seeing where your boys are, lest you
Seek them sorrowing and never find them
Even though you go back to where you last Saw them. And, dear boys, be you subject to
Your parents when they would have you walk in
The paths which the lost boy in after years walked.

DON'T SPOIL THE CHILD

By VIRGINIA HARLAN

How many mothers realize the extreme selfishness of spoiling a child? They comfort themselves with the idea that it is love of their child which prompts them to deny him nothing, but as a matter of fact, it is really a form of selfishness on the mother's part.

And then, too, the spoiled child, with the strangely unerring instinct of childhood soon develops a species of contempt for the person who spoils him. The only proper way to treat a child is with uniform kindness and firmness.

On occasions, of course, it is wiser to evade an open conflict with a child. It is degrading to lose your temper with a child. If you cannot control your temper, how can you expect him to try to control his? His sense of justice tells him that you have no right to demand more of him than you are equal to yourself.

You should not treat a child in the same manner on a very warm day as on a cool one. The heat is just as trying to him as it is to you.

It is not fair to a child to allow him to make himself objectionable to other people. You may look upon him as your petted darling, but remember that the world does not hold the same view, and does not consider his wilfulness the least bit amusing or clever.

Let him learn early in life that it is his duty to make himself agreeable, that if he is selfish and bad tempered he will be unpopular.

Do not try to make him a "model boy," for that sometimes results in him becoming a "prig." Just teach him to be a straightforward, honest, everyday boy, and make him see that it is silly and unmanly to be a "show off."

If you allow him to interrupt you and to show you no respect, you are heaping up trouble for him in the future.

Teach him to be obedient, but do not scold if he is slow in obeying, for some children's brains and bodies move more slowly than others. The main point is that he must obey you.

Children are born imitators, and if you speak or correct your little ones in loud and harsh and impatient tones, your children will adopt the same method.

Always give a child a reason for anything unusual required of him; remember that he is a reasoning, thinking human being, and should be treated as such.

Win his confidence and teach him to have no fear of you, and he will always look on you as his best friend, as well as his mother.

All this holds good with your girls as well as with your boys.

No one loves a spoiled child, and yet half the time the poor little thing is the victim of some doting mother's selfish weakness.

THE EVENING STORY

THE SCHEME THAT WENT AWRY

By Mabel Alvord.

"I can't ask him to marry me, can I?" Gertrude Walker snapped out, glancing defiantly around the family circle.

"No," her mother replied, "but you can lead him up to it."

"What you ought to do," said Mr. Walker, crossing his legs and placing the tips of his fingers together with a majestic air, "is to broach the subject."

That made Gertrude laugh and her sister Nelly joined in her merriment.

Then there was an angry explosion from Mr. Walker which caused his wife to remark:

"For goodness sake, don't let us get to quarreling again. It's no wonder young Phillips hangs back when he sees us all nagging at each other."

"If it hadn't been for father's temper I might have been married a dozen times over," said Nelly, who never missed an opportunity to be smart at her elder sister's expense.

"Come, come, girls," Mrs. Walker exclaimed, "drop that. What we've go to think about now is Herbert Phillips. If he hasn't got the courage to propose he ought to be helped."

"Perhaps he doesn't want to propose," suggested Nelly.

"And perhaps he does," Gertrude retorted. "He got so far as to tell me when you were all out the other evening that there was something he wanted to ask me."

"What was it?" Mrs. Walker inquired in an eager tone.

"I don't know," Gertrude replied with a coquettish laugh "When I asked him he got frightfully red and said it would do some other time."

"You should have flung yourself into his arms with a glad cry of 'Take me, Herbert! I am thine!" suggested Nelly.

"It wouldn't have been the first time she'd thrown herself at a fellow's head," the father remarked with a spiteful chuckle. "The worst of it is she's such a bad shot she never seems to hit them."

"I've hit Bertie Phillips anyhow," Gertrude replied.

"Not hard enough to make him keen about you," said Mr. Walker.

"Oh, yes I have," said the girl. "It's only his nervousness that keeps him from speaking out."

"Couldn't you help him out by making him jealous?" Mrs. Walker asked.

"Make him jealous!" Gertrude echoed. "How do I ever get a chance? Nobody ever comes here now and even away from home the fellows seem to avoid me."

"Well, I'll tell you what you can do," said the mother. "You might address an envelope to that Walter Stevens and leave it lying around. Then when Phillips is here Nelly might pick it up as if by accident and say, 'Hello here's Gertrude writing to Walter Stevens again. There'll be wedding bells ringing if this keeps on!' Then Gertrude might snatch the letter away and tell Nelly to mind her own business and all that sort of thing. If that didn't work I'm a Dutchman!"

"That would be quite a lark anyway," said Gertrude, "and I guess I'll try it."

But when she came to address the envelope she did not know the street or number.

"Oh, it's 498 West Sixty-fourth street," said Nelly.

"Indeed! Gertrude exclaimed and Nelly realized that she had given away the secret of her unsuspected correspondence with Mr. Stevens.

But the plan was not abandoned. The envelope was addressed, sealed and placed on the mantel as if to await mailing. It was there when Herbert Phillips at his usual hour made his appearance.

"Thought I'd just drop in and see how you all are," he exclaimed.

"We're much the same as last night," Mr. Walker replied. "And how is the tailoring business?"

"Capital," said Phillips; "but it would pay me better if I handn't so many customers that stand me up for their bills."

"What you want," Mr. Walker suggested, fixing the young man with the stern eye of a prospective father-in-law "is a wife to help you look after affairs—one, to whom you could go for advice."

With a moist blush suffusing his features Mr. Phillips admitted that such an idea had already taken possession of him.

Just at this point Nelly emitted a playful squeal.

"A-ha! What have I found?" cried the sprightly young woman, facing the company with her left hand behind her back.

"What is it?" demanded Gertrude, jumping up and making a dart at her in well-assumed confusion.

"It's a letter!" laughed Nelly, fending her off with one hand, and holding the envelope on high with the other. "Mr. Walter Stevens, 498 West Sixty-fourth street, New York city," she read aloud, "That's about the fourth this week. I wonder what's inside it."

She made as if to open the envelope, but Gertrude closing with her, snatched it away.

"How dare you," began the elder girl, and then noting a look of surprise on her sister's face, she turned quickly 'round.

Mr. Phillips was hurriedly scribbling something in a notebook.

"Did you say 498 West Sixty-fourth street?" he asked, addressing the wondering Nelly.

"That's what it says here," she answered, making a pretense of examining the address again.

"Ah," said Mr. Phillips, with something that sounded like a sigh of relief.

He slipped the book into his pocket and looked around apologetically.

"I hope you don't mind my making a note of it," he said. "Fact is I've been hunting for young Stevens' address for weeks past. He owes me a matter of $35, and I have not been able to trace him. I knew he used to be a friend of yours and I thought you'd very likely know where he was. Didn't like to put the question to you straight for you might have felt as though you were giving a friend away, but now that its slipped out innocent-like you have nothing to reproach yourself with. I want to get in all the money I can as I am going to be married a fortnight from next Tuesday, and the new furniture and things are costing a dickens of a lot."

THE BOY PROBLEM

By JOHN WATSON WHYTE

The world is not all roses for young men who have to make their way. Probably you do not know how hard it is. Do not blame your son if he seems to sulk sometimes and appears utterly disheartened. Try to make him tell you his troubles, and, above all, make him feel that you believe in him, even if no one else does.

Many lose their chance because they become discouraged early and have lost heart when the real opportunity comes knocking at the door.

If you are a mother you can help your son much by encouraging him to face the dark times.

Some day, perhaps, another woman will be able to give him those little words of encouragement that mean so much; but in early life he ought to be able to look to his mother, knowing that even when his prospects look blackest she will restore his confidence in himself and make him ready to face another day.

More difficult to help than the faint-hearted young man is the one who grows cynical.

Every one has met the cynical young man who goes through the world with a sneer. He will tell you that it is impossible for any one to succeed honestly in the business world.

This type of young man is certainly a problem. It is hard to reason with him and harder to spur him into enthusiasm.

But I think even a young man of this sort can be won to sweeter and healthier views by the right home influence.

After all, it is the greatest duty of women to make young men believe in the natural goodness of human nature. If a mother allows her sons to grow up believing that the world is ruled entirely by the bad and the dishonest, she must expect them to get a warped and distorted view of life, which will check their progress. The world is not all bad. Bad men there are, without a doubt. But there are masses of business men who keep their consciences clean. A young man who thinks otherwise has missed something that should have been part of his education.

KITCHEN LORE

Braised Veal.

Remove the bone from a piece of shoulder of veal weighing about five pounds and tie up in good shape. Put a piece of butter the size of half an egg, together with a few shavings of onions into a kettle and let it get hot. Salt and popper the veal and put it into the butter. Cover and put over a medium fire, turning occasionally until the meat is brown on both sides. Then set the kettle back where it can simmer slowly for about two and one-half hours. If the juice of the meat together with the butter do not make sufficient gravy to cook it in, add one or two tablespoonfuls of hot water from time to time.

Canary Pudding.

To make a canary pudding take the weight of three eggs in sugar and butter, the weight of two eggs in flour, the rind of one small lemon and two eggs. Melt the butter, stir into this the sugar and the finely minced peel of the lemon, and gradually dredge in the flour, keeping the mixture well stirred. Whisk the eggs and add them to the pudding, mix thoroughly and put into a buttered basin. Steam three hours or boil two hours.

Mock Oysters.

Scrape and wash well some parsnips and boil in salted water until tender. Strain and leave until cold and then cut into slices and lay in a glass dish with salt and pepper. Pour vinegar over to cover. They may then be eaten and will be found delicious and just like oysters.

Light Currant Buns.

Take two cupfuls of flour and a cupful of ground rice, rub in about two ounces of lard or butter, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of baking powder, one and a half cupfuls of currants, two well-beaten eggs and sufficient milk to mix into a paste, not too smooth. Place in greased patty-tins and bake about fifteen minutes.

Nice Dish for Supper.

Cold meat and potatoes left over from dinner can be made up again as a tasty supper dish. Mince the meat fine, cover with potatoes and roll into balls. Fry in boiling fat until brown.

SECOND AVENUE EAST DULUTH, MINN.

DOLLIVER AND CUMMINS BERATE NEW TARIFF LAW

Iowa Senators Make Insurgent Addresses at Meeting in Des Moines.

Score Aldrich and Cannon and Back Garst for Governor of State.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 11.—Ringing denunciations of the tariff bill and the men who passed it characterized the speeches of Senators J. P. Dolliver and Albert B. Cummins, who opened the progressive campaign here last night at the Coliseum. Over 10,000 progressives attended the meeting, which followed district conferences held throughout the day, at which steps were taken to reconstruct the old Cummins organization and to organize the state by counties and precincts.

Even President Taft did not escape the sarcastic shafts of the two Iowa solons, while Senator Aldrich was named as the leader of corporate greed and avarice. Senator Dolliver referred to the president as the "titular leader" of the Republican party, which meant, he said, "a good man surrounded by people who knew exactly what they wanted."

Both senators declared that if the Republican party continued the policy advocated by the reactionary leaders, it would spell ruin to the party.

Aldrich Frequently Named.

Among these leaders, Senator Aldrich was frequently mentioned as the man "allied with the Guggenheims and the railroads and Paul Morton in a mammoth trust incorporated as a rubber company, which is allowed by the articles of incorporation to participate in any kind of business, anywhere on the face of the earth, and which is one of the holding companies in the Guggenheim syndicate for the control of wealth in Alaska."

These are the men who are responsible for the tariff bill during the extraordinary session, declared Senator Dolliver.

"The bill is only a scheme to rob the people and to increase the holdings of such gigantic trusts as I have mentioned.

"The troubles in the Republican party have come, not because of what has been said, but because of what has been done. It has been said that the tariff bill is a good law. In fact we have it on high authority that it is the best tariff bill ever passed. But not only do I denounce such tariff legislation, but I am particularly hostile against those who passed it.

"Status of Such Pirates."

"If a man protests against such a bill and is derided and ridiculed, what can be the moral status of such pirates who threaten congress and who have become a nucleus around which the Republican party is supposed to rally to preserve its solidarity?

"The fight against such unfaithful leadership in the Republican party is as hot in Massachusetts as it is in Iowa.

"I am not here to criticise the president or to say unkind words against him, but I count it no reflection on him to state that I find it sometimes necessary to disagree with him and those surrounding him. Men have crowded to the front in his administration who have not had the welfare of the party or of the country at heart."

Ovation for Cummins.

Senator Cummins was given a tremendous ovation when he arose to speak. He seconded the speech of Senator Dolliver and urged the progressive Republicans to return progressive congressmen to Washington and to support Warren Garst for governor.

After explaining that an extraordinary condition now exists and this alone is excuse for his being in the state at this time to plead for the insurgent candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, Senator Cummins traced the development of corporations in the United States and declared that the present Republican leaders are in league with these corporations, he said:

"Most of them have been brought up with these influences all around them, and therefore, whenever a law is proposed that restricts or reduces corporate power, their first inquiry is not, 'will this measure bring help to the people,' but 'is it recommended by the corporations, the masters of high finance, the directors of mighty affairs, the managers of our railway systems.'

"As I have just suggested, these leaders of ours always find themselves so busy hearing what these princes of the earth have to say about proposed legislation that they have scant time to consider the wants, desires and needs of the great masses of humanity made up of millions whose voices are usually faint and distant, but who now and then are heard in tones that shake the whole structure of organized society.

Aldrich and Cannon.

"I have no hesitancy in naming the present leaders of the Republican party in the congress of the United States. In the senate one man stands solitary and hitherto his words have been law to that august tribunal. Senator Aldrich is one of the men of whom I have been speaking. In the house, Mr. Cannon, the speaker, has exercised a dominating control, and after him come Payne, Dalzell and a few others of the same type.

"They look at these vital problems from the corporate standpoint, and they are always fearful that any step in the further and greater reduction of these over-mastering forces in our commercial life will destroy business—will take away some of the profits with which the multi-millionaires have been enriching themselves. Every session of congress will develop just such differences; and can you wonder that we who are marked for the disfavor of the powerful influences at Washington should want a governor who is in sympathy with what we are trying to do—should want the whole state government to be in harmony with the progressive movement for better laws?

Wants Garst for Governor.

"You will understand, I am sure, that I have given you the reason why I want to see Warren Garst nominated for governor. In addition to the work that he would do so splendidly at home, it would be comforting at Washington to know that the governor of the state was lifting up his voice to aid us in the struggle in which we are constantly engaged.

"The present members of the house from this district and from the Ninth congressional district and the First district are devoted followers of Aldrich and Cannon, of Payne and Dalzell, and they have voted and will vote in the future, if they are returned to congress, just as the Aldrich-Cannon organization determines they ought to vote.

"Is it strange that Senator Dolliver and myself, who are in the midst of one of the fiercest conflicts ever seen in the national congress for principles that we believe to be vital to the welfare of the party as well as of the country, should want Prouty and Byers and Darrah and Brookhart in the house of representatives instead of Hull, Smith, Towner or Kennedy?

Nothing Personal Involved.

"There is nothing personal in the situation. I covet the support and confidence of every man in Iowa, but it is in the highest degree illogical for any man to help me to a seat in the senate of the United States or to believe that I ought to remain there, to stand for the nomination of Hull, of Smith, of Towner, or of Kennedy. The sooner we realize that this division in the ranks of the Republican party is not ephemereal, the sooner we appreciate that it is a movement of the people and not merely to gratify personal ambitions, the sooner we will become conscious of a great and everlasting truth."

The New Spring Fever Treatment

Best Spring Treatment Costing But a Few Cents Produces Astonishing Results.

Robinson Drugless Treatment Proves Revelation in Treatment of Many Diseases.

One Robinson Thermal or Turkish Bath for those of weakened vitality will do more good in a half hour as a spring medicine than can be expected from any drug in the world.

Many startling results have been produced by the use of the Robinson Thermal Bath. It is revolutionizing the treatment of disease. Prominent physicians are abandoning drugs in many cases for this new treatment. Those who have tried them, are astonished at the change in their condition.

The intense exquisite feeling of happiness, strength and mental clearness which results are impossible to express in words.

Read this letter from Mr. Frank A. Thurston of New York and then judge for yourself.

I only regret that I have delayed this necessity and luxury so long. The cabinet is all you claim for it; a preserver and restorer to health. I use your cabinet with great satisfaction as it gives new life and vigor to the entire system. The feature of breathing pure air is a great advantage over the Turkish bath. Another feature is being able to take a bath in one's own home before retiring. I do not believe that any intelligent man or woman would live without the cabinet after giving it a thorough test.

Open up the pores and the change seems almost miraculous; nerves are strengthened at once, kidneys get well; eczema, pimples and skin diseases vanish; bad colds, lumbago, rheumatism, throat and lung trouble, insomnia and constipation disappear as though some wonderful force had lifted them away.

Every man or woman can now have a Robinson Thermal Bath at home, at a cost of but a few cents, and without trouble.

The Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinets are now being exhibited, and are on sale in Duluth at A. E. Swedberg, White Swan Drug Co., Lyceum Pharmacy and Lenox Drug store—two stores. W. A. Abbett—three stores, A. C. Le Richeux—three stores, Holmberg Drug Co., Superior; H. J. Cameron, Superior; A. J. Lindgren, West Duluth; Red Cross Pharmacy, Superior, Wis.

WANTS BIG SUM FROM ATTORNEY

Rossi Says William Marx Negligently Conducted Case and Asks $10,000.

Michael Rossi, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Antonio De Meo and now in the county jail pending the fixing of the date for his death by Governor Eberhart, demands $10,000 from William Marx, the attorney who defended him, for alleged negligent handling of the case which resulted in his conviction.

Marx filed suit in municipal court for $450 alleged to be due as attorney's fees for his services in the action. Yesterday afternoon Rossi, through his attorney, Alexander Marshall, filed an answer and counter claim for $10,000, which will bring the suit to the district court, as actions involving more than $500 are not triable in the lower court.

Rossi states that Marx "importuned" him to let him conduct the case for him on the grounds that he possessed "superior ability, knowledge and skill in the defense of murder trials." He asserts that he agreed to pay Marx $500 if acquitted, and that no charge was to be made if Marx failed to get him off.

Application for a new trial will shortly be made in the district court, and it is stated that if the motion is denied it will be carried to the state supreme court with funds now being raised by Rossi's friends.

NEW MEXICO LAND HELD UP.

Temporary Withdrawal of 419,901 Acres Made.

Washington, May 11.—A temporary withdrawal from the public domain, from all forms of disposition, of 419,901 acres in New Mexico, has been made by Secretary of the Interior Ballinger in aid of proposed legislation affecting the use and disposition of petroleum deposits on the public domain. The withdrawal was based upon field investigations which have just been completed.

Pending examination and classification, the secretary has withdrawn from coal entry 179,561 acres of land in Utah, believed to contain valuable deposits of coal.

Asks About Wheat Pool.

Mr. Craig opposes the investigation of the alleged pool to advance the price of cotton.

Boyle Appeal Postponed.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 11.—Refusing to quash the appeal of Mrs. Helen Boyle, now serving sentence for her complicity in the kidnaping of Billy Whittle of Sharon, Pa., over a year ago, for a new trial, Presiding Judge Rice in the state superior court here has postponed the hearing of the appeal until the first Monday in October, when the case will be heard in Philadelphia.

Use Salubrin

It Quickly Makes Sick People Well.

Just try taking Salubrin this Spring and see how much better you feel. Perhaps you haven't any faith in Spring medicine. Maybe, even if you do know that people need cleaning up in Spring just as much as a house needs cleaning, you don't think there is any medicine that will do it. Just forget about all the so-called "blood-purifiers," the "tonics" and nerve compounds" you may have tried and been disappointed with, and use Salubrin.

There is no mystery about it or its action. No guess work about what it does to the accumulation of germs and toxins in the system during the cold, sluggish winter months. Salubrin is a germ killer, an anti-toxic which is sure death to all germs, but unlike other germ destroyers it does not injure the human system, being a neutral compound as far as human tissue is concerned. It drives germs out of the blood out of the vital organs, out of every nook and corner of your whole system and makes you feel strong and good all over because it helps nature to do her duty. Salubrin is sold by druggists, price 50 cents per bottle. It's fine for coughs and colds and catarrh, because it kills the germs. If you can't find Salubrin, write us and we will tell you where to get it. Salubrin Laboratory, Dept. 26, Grand Crossing, Chicago, Ill.

Justice.

Justice is itself the great standing of civil society; and any eminent departure from it, under any circumstances lies under the suspicion of being of no policy at all. The policy of having a case of Golden Grain Belt beer on hand that it may be served regularly with your meals is one that every one should adhere to. Owing to its nutritive food values it has attained a high stand in the American home. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company.

REPAIRS TO WIRING IN CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL.

By repairing defective insulation, changing drop lights, and making some minor changes, the Central high school will be rendered free from immediate danger of fire on account of the defective wiring, which was exposed in a communication to the board by City Electrician F. E. Hough at the meeting last Friday night.

After the close of the present school term, the board will undoubtedly follow Mr. Hough's advice and have the building entirely rewired. The defects in the present wiring system are so numerous that a rewiring is the only course that can be followed in placing the building entirely out of danger from fire. The rewiring of the building, the removal of the chemical laboratory to a room over the boiler room and the removal of the mnual training department to the new building will secure for the district a reduction of more than 50 per cent in the insurance rates.

FARRELL ROAD IS DISCUSSED

Hillside Improvement Club Also Talks of Seventh Street Grading.

The East End Hillside Improvement club met in the Polish hall, Fourth avenue east and Fourth street last night and discussed the proposed Farrell road, which will extend over the hill by way of the ski club neighborhood to Villa Scholastica. County Commissioner Tischer said that the county board would give $2,000 toward the work. The improvement would cost about $6,000. The grading of Seventh street was also discussed.

The paving of East Fourth street between Sixth and Fourteenth avenues east will be discussed fully at a future meting. The street will not be graded between Twenty-third and Twenty-seventh avenues east on account of the excessive cost, which would amount to about $700 a lot.

SLAVERY ABOLISHED BY PEKIN GOVERNMENT.

Washington, May 11.—The Chinese government by imperial rescript has abolished slavery throughout the empire and has prohibited henceforth the purchase and sale of human beings under any pretext. The reform, however, is not altogether complete, as by the rescript certain forms of slavery will still be tolerated. The rescript eventually will give freedom to millions of human beings.

Says His Beer Was Drugged.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 11.—Thomas Phillips, a leading Iowa Democrat, whose removal as mayor of Ottumwa is being sought on the charge that he was intoxicated while in office, has told Governor Carroll that his political enemies drugged some beer which he was drinking and that this caused his condition.

"Yarb Man" No Perjurer.

Kansas City, Mo., May 11.—Dr. Chessing Hatred Chase Jordan, the "yarb man" whose name figured in the Swope investigation here, was acquitted yesterday on a charge of perjury growing out of a suit for divorce filed against him by Mrs. Jordan. A charge of practicing medicine without a license is still pending against Jordan.

A New Market.

The Public Meat Market at No. 6 Lake avenue south, corner Superior street, will open its doors for business Saturday morning. For some days the new location has been undergoing a renovating and remodeling and all is in readiness for the first-class market that is to be established. It is the policy of The Public Meat Market to sell meats and dairy products at the very lowest prices consistent with best quality and it will pay every economical housekeeper in Duluth to read the new market's advertisement in The Herald's Market Basket next Friday afternoon.

Washington, May 11.—Mrs. Charles Morse has announced that she had procured the signatures of nearly 200 senators and representatives to her petition for a pardon for her husband.

AUTOIST LOSES HIS TEETH.

Several Molars Knocked Out By His Automobile Crank.

Marquette, Mich., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. Powell sustained a fracture of a wrist at Ishpeming Monday, while engaged in cranking an automobile. He was brought home, after the injury had received attention, in another car. Director Heughens of the Guild hall, was the victim of a similar accident while cranking Bishop Williams' runabout. Six of his teeth, three in the lower and three in the upper jaw, were shattered by a powerful blow of the crank.

Gain in Internal Revenue.

JAQUES FOR CONGRESS.

The Herald last night announced that Judge Alfred Jaques, for many years a prominent and respected citizen of Duluth, had decided to become a candidate for congress from the Eighth district, and that he will shortly file for the Democratic nomination for that office. It is highly improbable that he will have any opposition for the nomination, and as Congressman Miller is not likely to be opposed in the Republican primaries, the fight will settle down to a contest between these two, in which there will be but the single issue of which of the two is closer in harmony with the wishes of the people, and which is better fitted to serve the district in congress.

Judge Jaques, while he has been no seeker for office, has always taken a prominent part in the public affairs of his state, district and city, and is well and widely known for the rugged manliness of his personality, for the soundness of his convictions, and for the staunchness of his courage. In putting himself in accord with the prevailing sentiment among the people he is making no change in his well-known views of political and economic subjects What he stands for now he always has stood for. What he says now he always has said. Though a Democrat, he always has placed principle higher than party, patriotism higher than partisanship; and in the statement which he made to the voters through The Herald last night the substance of his inmost convictions rings hard and true, like well-tempered metal.

His statement is like the man himself—clear, true, emphatic, unequivocal and to the point. It cannot fail to appeal to that wide circle of citizens who are learning to put country above party, people above privilege, and government by and for the people above government of the many by the bosses for the few.

"The most important issue now before the country is the re-establishment at Washington of a really free and independent house of representatives," says Judge Jaques in his statement; and he is absolutely right. No issue of tariff reform, of postal savings banks, of parcels post, of income tax or of any other specific reform, however important, is so weighty as the fundamental issue of recreating a national congress that shall respond to the people's will, and not to the will of the privileged few who prey upon the people. Until government by and for the people is established at Washington, there is no hope of real legislation for the people. When the vice regents of ptivilege are driven out of the temple of the people's laws, and the servants of the people take their place, then tariff reform and all the rest will come in spontaneous response to the demand of the people, and not before.

Judge Jaques, unlike many others, is under no illusions as to the importance of the individuals who rule congress, and he does not underestimate the power of the system that keeps them in the rulership. "It must be remembered," he says, "that the objection is not so much to the persons Cannon and Aldrich as to the system of which they are mere instruments. If the system is to continue, after them others will take their places as its instruments, and congress will still be a mere mockery so far as being a place to register the will of the people concerned. * * * None of these evils can be abolished and none of these reforms can be accomplished until we have a free and independent legislative body at Washington that can and will formulate into law the will and wishes of the people, and not the will and wishes of corrupt special interests."

The foundation of the system that rules congress is party tyranny. The weapon that shall destroy the system is the untrammeled consciences of representatives of the people, wisely chosen by the people. "I believe in parties, and within right limits, in party government," says Judge Jaques on this point. "But I do not believe in party slavery. A representative should have the custody of his own conscience and should act freely upon his own judgment, untrammeled by blind partisanship or by a corrupt machine. He should be the representative, not of a party, but of a people. When a representative puts his conscience and patriotism into the keeping of leaders who are crazed by power and peli, he ceases to be a representative and becomes a tool. Acquiescence in party despotism is not party loyalty. It is treason to party and to country. High above party is the republic and the public interest."

This is the way the people want their representatives to think, to talk and to act. Such doctrine harmonizes with the rising flood of public sentiment which is about to sweep party tyrants and party serfs together into the scrapheap. It is characteristic of the man who announces it, and so is this ringing declaration with which his statemen concludes: "If I am nominated and elected I shall act freely and independently according to the dictates of my own conscience and judgment, and I shall keep the custody of both. I shall stand by and for the people of this great district without regard to the cabals and combinations at Washington. I shall not vote against any measure in the public interest for party reasons. The people can depend upon it that I will not 'check in' my conscience at the speaker's desk when I take the oath of office; this, too, whether the speaker is Champ Clark, Joe Cannon or any other party leader."

This rings true, and if we mistake not, it is the sort of talk the people of this district have been waiting to hear from a candidate for congress.

EDITORIAL ACTIVITIES.

At least one good thing about being an editor is that as a rule the editor can keep his name out of the papers, providing he behaves himself with a decent appreciation of the demands of public peace.

Of late there has been a small outburst of news about editors, showing them engaged in activities wholly unlike the peaceable pursuits habitual with them.

Out in North Dakota, according to a dispatch to The Herald the other day, an editor said something about a bank cashier that displeased him, and the cashier set forth to lick the editor. The dispatch gives few details of the encounter, further than to state that the cashier discovered that he had made a mistake, and that his attempt to chastise the editor was unsuccessful. What fistic prowess on the part of the editor this meager account withholds one can only guess.

Also, in Winamac, Ind., where everybody who is not a poet or a novelist is in politics, a political feud of long standing between the editor of the Republican newspaper and the editor of the Democratic newspaper finally was aggravated to the point where the Republican editor sallied forth to wipe up the earth with his loathed contemporary. He said that the Democratic newspaper had been libelling him for eleven years, and he was tired of it. What happened is not fully disclosed, but at last accounts the Democratic editor had been taken home by his friends, and the Republican editor was strutting about hoping somebody would arrest him. This incident is most discreditable and disconcerting. Even though he licked his Democratic opponent, it is not creditable to the Republican editor. If he had been libelled by the opposition sheet, why didn't he libel back? To resort to the device of assault and battery is a confession that in the editorial duel the Democrat had been getting the better of it; otherwise the Republican wouldn't have changed the weapons from pens to fists.

Still more affecting is a story from Quitman, Miss., where Editor R. L. Page several days ago published a scathing editorial about a dance given by "prominent society folks," in which he called the dancing "public hugging," and intimated that perfectly nice people wouldn't indulge in it. Whether the editor had been overlooked in making up the invitation list does not appear, but at any rate it was a very effective editorial. After publishing it Page went away for a day or two, and when he came back he found himself the center of a public reception that was marked for warmth and enthusiasm. A delegation of "prominent citizens" met him at the depot and made him eat a clipping of the editorial in which he gave his ideas about dancing. Managing to escape from the reception committee, and fearing from numerous threats that there might be more of the entertainment program in store for him, Editor Page speedily left town again, and hasn't been seen since.

All of which shows that being an editor is not all beer and skittles; neither is it invariably an occupation of peace and quiet and humdrum monotony.

THE PRESIDENT'S RAILROAD BILL.

In a form satisfactory enough to all of the Republicans in the house and a few of the Democrats to induce them to vote for it, the administration's railroad bill was adopted by the house yesterday by a vote of 200 to 126.

In several respects, thanks to the work of the Democrats and insurgent Republicans, the bill is greatly improved since it left the president's hands. The clause permitting railroads to make traffic agreements without the supervision of the interstate commerce commission was stricken out, greatly to the presidents regret, and so was the clause letting railroads buy up other railroads. A clause providing for a physical valuation of the railroads, an essential to a sound readjustment of freight rates, was added, and while he does not greet this manifest improvement with enthusiasm, the president tries to make the best of it by saying that the commission had that power already.

The commerce court provision, which is the president's pet scheme, and with which the railroads seem pleased, is left in the bill in spite of widespread suspicion that the only purpose of such a court will be to delay and complicate proceedings for redress from railroads.

"It is the best bill ever passed by the house," said Congressman Mann, who had charge of the measure. His comment is singularly like that of President Taft on the tariff law, and its truth is as doubtful. The senate is likely to take action soon, and if the standpatters perfect the cabal they are seeking to organize the bill will come forth in a form that will please the president, the railroads and the reactionaries, and that will set the cause of public regulation of railroads in this country back ten years.

"LORIMER IN NO DANGER!"

Senator Dolliver, interviewed in Chicago in the Lorimer case, said that Lorimer is in no danger at present, meaning that there is no likelihood that the senate will take action on his case.

Lorimer was elected to the senate from Illinois by a combination of the Republican and Democratic machine elements in the legislature, an alliance that reeked of scandal and that smelled as strongly of commercial politics as does the political career of Lorimer himself.

Within a few days several members of the Illinois legislature have confessed that they were paid to vote for Lorimer, so much down and so much out of a "pot" distributed at the close of the session. The man who distributed the money and some of those who took it are known.

Yet Lorimer's seat in the senate is in no danger! What a commentary upon the morals of the United States senate!

"THEY ADVERTISE."

Seeking to discover why Canada is attracting a very desirable class of immigrants, many of them from the United States, the United States commissioner of immigration has found the answer: Canada advertises, copiously and systematically.

A merchant whose business had been going to pieces sought to find out why a competitor was flourishing. This was the report of his investigator: The other fellow advertises.

States like Minnesota with idle acres to offer should be able to find a moral in this parallel.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE FIRST STEP IN FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

On reading your paper I find an earnest appeal is made to the citizens of Duluth to contribute to the fund now being raised for the eradication of the dreaded white plague allow me to draw the attention of your many readers to the following ordinance which is strictly enforced in the city of Milwaukee, Wis. An ordinance was passed by the municipal authorities, that any individual caught expectorating on any of the sidewalks or on the floors of any of the public buildings belonging to Milwaukee would be immediately arrested. Commence right and the city will end right in trying to eradicate this fearful disease which is leaving its death mark throughtout the entire world. I certainly would recommend that your health officer should meet with the municipal authorities of the city of Duluth and thoroughly explain to them the vital importance of having an ordinance passed without delay, to prevent the danger of this dreaded disease spreading further amongst the many families in Duluth.

Every educated person is fully aware of the danger of expectorating on a city's sidewalk or in any of the public buildings by persons who are suffering with syphillitis, scrofullis or catarrhal diseases. It is dangerous in the extreme. The spit from such persons left on the sidewalks dries and is more or less mixed with the dust, which accumulates, then it is carried by the wind over exposed fruit, fish and vegetables which are for sale. But that is not all, the deadly germ is carried through the air into homes, stores, churches, theaters, street cars and inhaled by the people. The first step to take is to stop expectorating on the city's sidewalks, etc. Let me ask your readers what can be more disgusting than for one to see a group of men smoking and chewing tobacco and expectorating on the sidewalk. Probably some of the men were afflicted with some dangerous disease.

I would like to hear the feelings of the citizens in Duluth on this important matter. Yours very truly,

JOHN CHARLES SMITH.

A MENACE TO CHILDREN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

If it is within the province of the Open Court to guard the children of our city, will you in that column enter our protest against the two strands of barbed wire stretched across the corner of the public library lawn, corner of Second street and First avenue west? These wires have nothing to warn a person of their presence for forty feet more. An innocent child playing near there at dusk might easily dash against them, have eyes put out and be otherwise permanently disfigured, or any one running for a car in the evening would receive most serious injury.

We appreciate the janitor's pride in his fine lawn, but the risk is too great. No resident would think of stringing barbed wires across his private lawn at such a risk.

A FRIEND OF THE KIDS.

Duluth, May 10.

THE COUNTY AND THE TELEPHONE COMPANY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In one of the local papers, I don't know which, and I think both, there appeared an article some few days ago relative to the fact that the Duluth Telephone company had won the first round in the fight to get into the court house with its lines. Now I wish to state that there never was a big fight between the county commissioners and the telephone company. They refused to connect with our switchboard and when that refusal was made we determined to get along with the one telephone. The old telephone sent representatives before our commissioners and asked that they might be allowed to put in a pay station. There was no objection to this and the permission was granted. It is not a big victory for the telephone company. They simply asked to come in this way and there was no objection. The range people will find it a convenience, and as the range must be considered, the commissioners had no objection to the installation of the telephone. We were not forced to use the older telephone company's wires and the company has not won the first round in the long fight scheduled. I just wanted to set you right and choose to take the open court column to do it. Many thanks for the space.

A COUNTY OFICER.

Duluth, May 11.

Dr. Sangrado's Conservatism.

Boston Transcript: When Gil Blas finished his medical education with Spain's most brilliant physician, Dr. Sangrado, he started out devotedly and loyally to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious preceptor. That course of instruction started out with the simple proposition that all diseases had the same essential character, and therefore could be successfully and scientifically treated with the same remedies. And the remedies were as simple as the theory. All patients were to be profusely bled and filled with warm water. Every disease, from corns to a cataract, received the same important treatment. After a few weeks' use of this comprehensive method the puzzled pupil said: "Doctor, I have conscientiously and even religiously followed your system. I have spared neither water nor blood, but I rarely get beyond two visits. On my third visit I usually meet the undertaker! Nobody seems glad to see me except legal heirs!" "Gil," replied the anxious master, "I must confess that my experience duplicates your own. I would modify my system, but I have published a book upon the efficacy of this system, and if I now retract the public will think I am inconsistent." "In that case," replied the pupil, "we must go on enriching the undertakers and reducing the census." But one day they met an "insurgent" son who was not anxious to inherit that paternal estate, and he swore that no more blood should be drawn from his father's veins while he had a sword to defend the parent from the beneficent lancet! Consistency was facing a "condition, not a theory." "Who hath ears to hear let him hear!"

Is this not a parable? The "standpatters," the "home-marketers" and the "Cannonists" have adopted one system of political treatment for all our public ills. They have fixed it in text books, and repeated it in political platforms. Use freely the lancet of exportation. Draw generously the blood of forest, field and workshop for the foreign market. Buy everything here, and sell everything abroad, enrich the impoverished system of the proletariat with the warm water of protective philosophy! "But, doctor," exclaims the modern Gil Blas, "our patients are suffering from alarming febrile conditions. There is an epidemic of high prices." "Well, we have but the one remedy; the superheated atmosphere of a protective policy. What your patients need is less blood and more warm water! If you call in these Democratic quacks," says Doctors Hale and Aldrich, "we will quit the case!" And the poor, puzzled proletariat who does not want to leave the party which has been his protecting angel against "pauper labor," but whose humble roof covers six little open-mouthed "mythological consumers," reluctantly opens the door to the Democratic undertaker!

Elder Bryan's New Job.

Providence Journal: It is not understood that Mr. Bryan's election as a Presbyterian elder will interfere with his running for president of the United States again if his party calls him.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Did We Notice It? Well!

Crookston Times: Did you ever notice that if a newspaper published an editorial that exactly meets with the approval of a certain faction it is received as a matter of course—in strict silence? If one appears that hurts their mental corns the same men will put on their tennis shoes, if they haven't an automobile, and race to the office to tell the editor what a rumdum he is and try to discover what it cost the other fellow to buy the paper's editorial opinion.

They're Getting Fewer, Though.

Madison Independent Press: The statement is made that Mr. Taft will not recognize the railroad bill that will come back to him for his signature. Well, what of it? He will merely have to sign it and call it the best ever to have a lot of echoes "pointing with pride" to it. This country is so full of political sycophants that they are sleeping three in a bed.

This Is Goods News, But—

Montevideo Leader: It is said that the progressives are practically in control in both houses of congress and that the stalwarts have lost their controlling power. We are not shedding any tears over such news. The stalwarts are not worthy of the power they have used so unscrpulously in the past.

But Will They?

Winona Independent: Yes, indeed, it will be a pleasure to see Killian's team wipe the earth with Darby O-Bri-ens White Sox. But will they do it?

Right!

Middle River Pioneer: The best advertisement any section or country can have is good roads. Good roads on section lines also mean good drainage. Every mile of good grade with its accompanying excavation adds to the productiveness of the land and hence is money in the pockets of the settlers.

A Timely Question.

Warroad Commonwealth: What is the legislature of Minnesota going to do with the income tax federal constitutional amendment?

Bad Business Elsewhere.

Princeton Union: Mayor-elect Keller of St. Paul is under no obligations to Governor Eberhart. "Important business" in Mankato prevented the governor saying a word in Mr. Keller's behalf.

How Bob Loves Adolph.

Perham Enterprise: Twin City papers recently reported that Bob Dunn would support Governor Eberhart if he secures the Republican nomination. It will not be a labor of love on Bob's part, if we may judge from the following item taken from his paper, the Princeton Union:

"Some of the little hireling newspaper editors are working overtime to convince the bosses that they, the little hirelings, are earning their hire by damning Bob Dunn and other Republicans who do not worship at the shrine of the accidental governor."

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: Being sorry for others is often a mild form of boasting.

Free lunch is usually the most expensive kind of board.

Charity is never satisfactory. The best way is not to need it.

A lazy man can't see why others shoud be foolish enough to work.

We are a good deal happier because of a lot of things we don't know.

Many a man who has the courage of his convictions makes a fool of himself.

The charity that begins at home doesn't make many acquaintances abroad.

If we could see ourselves as others see us, we wouldn't believe quite all we see.

Our idea of a padded-cell candidate is a woman who fondles a dog for the purpose of trying to arouse a man's jealousy.

Time Checks.

William Wallace Whitlock in Life: In the systems of the old-fashioned Socialists and Communists it was customary to substitute so-called "time checks" for money. These checks were supposed to represent the number of hours of actual work done by the holder, and, of course, were not transferable. Modern reformers have abandoned the checks, mistakingly, it would seem. Were they in vogue at present how quickly would the high prices cease.

"How much is that steak?" we can imagine Mr. Morgan or Mr. Carnegie inquiring, pointing to a luscious tenderloin and smacking his lips in expectation.

"That is worth thirty-seven minutes a pound," would be the disconcerting reply, and the poor "millionaire's" face would fall. But five hours having been spent in coupon-clipping and like work it would palpably be folly to spend such a large percentage of one's entire capital on a single piece of beef.

"Well, give me a pound of pork chops for thirteen minutes," would be the modest compromise, and with gratitude in his heart and the chops in his hand the financier would proceed homeward to his mansion. The next day the price of beef would tumble.

All men are equal.

Decidedly, let us have time checks.

Mr. Payne Brags of His Bill.

Life: Mr. Payne says that from every standpoint his tariff bill is "the most successful bill this country has ever had."

From the standpoint of high prices, at least, Mr. Payne is right. We don't charge more than a fair share of the lift in prices to his bill, but it has done its part in that as certainly as it has in "the uplifting of American business at home and abroad."

The trouble with your bill, Mr. Payne, is that comparatively few of us are in a position to find a profit in the industries and trade that it fosters, whereas every mother's son of us has to pay the prices which it helps to boost.

A "Dry" Sunday in Bovey.

Bovey Iron News: It was a dry Bovey on Sunday. Many a door knob failed to respond and the thirsty went down to Trout lake, gaged a couple of times and then layed the dust in their necks with the strange stuff that some use to boil p'taties in or to soften the ozone of a corn in. It was a reminder that it is best to provide in advance for irrigation and "dry farming."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Society people of Duluth were shocked yesterday to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Grace Taussig, wife of Richard A. Taussig. She had been sick only a few days, and so terrible an ending to her illness was unexpected. Mr. and Mrs. Taussig came here a few months ago from Philadelphia and since then have lived at the Spalding. Mrs. Taussig was a daughter of the well-known Cortland H. Davis of Philadelphia and was related to the Cramps, the great shipbuilders. She leaves one child, a son.

The Duluth-Superior Regatta association has sent $2,500 to the Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing association. This insures the great amateur event for the Head of the Lakes.

In the list of patents during the past week are several of interest to Duluth. Ed. England has patented a saw handle; Andrew Mueller, manager of the Imperial mill cooper shop, a machine for bending wood; D. Clint Prescott of the Marinette Iron works, a guide for band sawmills, and E. V. Phillips of the Phillips Striking Machine company, a patent "nickel-in-the-slot" contrivance.

The Iron Car company of New York is in the sheriff's hands on an attachment for $80,000 and is said to be indebted to Alfred Sully to the amount of $800,000. The Minnesota Car company has been garnisheed for all funds and material in its possession belonging to the New York concern. What effect the troubles of the latter will have on the Duluth company is unknown.

The much prophesied Northern Pacific city ticket office will, within three days, be located in the Chamber of Commerce building. Frank Green, treasurer of the Union depot, has received his commission as city ticket agent. General Agent A. W. Hartman will have his office at the new quarters. The Lake Superior Transit company will also occupy part of the office.

Brandy and Soda.

(After Swinebume.)

Mine eyes to mine eyelids cling thickly;
My tongue feels a mouthful and more;
My senses are sluggish and sickly;
To live and to breathe is a bore.
My head weighs a ton and a quarter,
By palms and by pangs ever split.
Which manifold washings with water
Relieve not a bit.

My longings of thirst are unlawful,
And vain to console or control;
The aroma of coffee is awful!
Repulsive the sight of the roll!
I take my matutinal journal
And strive my dull wits to engage,
But cannot endure the infernal,
Sharp crack of its page.

What bad luck my soul has bedeviled,
What demon of spleen and of spite,
That I rashly went forth—that I revelled
In riotous living last night?
Had the fumes of the goblet no odor
That well might repulse or restrain?
Oh! Insidious Brandy-and-Soda—
Our Lady of Pain.

Thou art golden of gleam as the Summer
That smile o'er a tropical sod,
Oh! Daughter of Bacchus the bummer—
A foamer of volatile tod!
But thy froth is a serpent that hisses,
And thy bold as a balefire doth shine;
And the lovers that rise from thy kisses
Can't walk a straight line!

I recall with a flush and a flutter
That orgie whose end is unknown,
Did they bear me to bed on a shutter?
Or did I reel home all alone?
Was I frequent in screams and in screeches?
Did I swear with a forced affright?
Did I perpetrate innumerable speeches?
Did I get in a fight?

Of the secrets I treasure and prize most
Did I empty my bacchanal breast?
Did I button-hole men I despise most?
And frown upon those I like best?
Did I play the low fawner and flunky
With people I always ignore?
Did I caracole 'round like a monkey?
Did I sit on the floor?

Oh longing no research may satiate—
No arm to exhume what is hid!
For falsehood were fain to expatiate
On deeds more depraved than I did!
And though friendly faith I would flout not,
On this it were rash to rely,
Since the friends who believe me, I doubt not,
Were drunker than I!

Thou hast lured me to passionate pastime,
Dread goddess, whose smile is a snare;
Yet I swear thou hast tempted me the last time—
I swear it! (I mean what I swear!)
And thy beaker shall always forbode a
Disgust it were wise to disdain.
Oh! luxurious Brandy-and-Soda—
Our Lady of Pain!

Dear Ladies, Take Warning.

Puck: President Taft gave some good straight talk to the suffragettes when he rebuked a portion of them for hissing. "My dear ladies," he said, "you must show yourselves equal to self-government by exercising in listening to opposing arguments, that degree of restraint without which successful self-government is impossible." True and well merited! Let the "dear ladies" but attend a political meeting of males, and they will note at once "that restraint" of which the president spoke. No disrespect "in listening to opposing arguments." No interruptions. No cat-calls. Above all, no hissing. Never a hiss! Such perfect decorum, in short, prevails that were it not for a brass band one might almost imagine oneself at church. It is by such exemplary behavior in the face of opposing arguments that men show themselves "equal to self-government." The "dear ladies" have a lot to learn.

The Awakening.

Cometh a whisper of waking,
Cometh a quiver of birth;
The wonder primeval is taking
It's way with the earth.

There's a stirring of sap in the bushes,
A flicker of gnats in the air,
A marvel of bud-life that pushes
From branches still bare.

Busied are birds with the mating;
Woodlands no longer are dumb;
Primroses, violets awaiting
A message to come.

Here mid the din and the aching.
Here in the fog and the doubt,
Cometh a whisper of waking,
Calling me out.

Out from the struggle that wages,
Out from the sterile and sore,
Forth where the wonder of ages
Worketh once more.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Lippincott's: Prue—Do you think he was sincere when he said he loved you?

Dolly—I'm sure of it. He looked too foolish to be making believe.

Cornell Widow: "Do you know, Imogen, your hair reminds me of Syracuse?"

"Pray why?"

"Because it's so near Auburn."

Pittsburg Post: "Got an automobile to sell for $10?"

"Not yet," answered the good-natured dealer, "but you can get into the game for that money. Why not buy a tire to carry around?"

Boston Transcript: Griggs—Hickson wants to borrow some money of me. Do you know anything about him?

Briggs—I know him as well as I do you. I wouldn't let him have a cent.

Louisville Courier-Journal: I don't like to go to a play and be kept in suspense all the time."

"Neither do I. Last night I thought the woman in front of me wasn't going to take off her hat, but she finally did."

Life: "The vermiform appendix is of absolutely no value to any one."

"Mine was worth $500 to my doctor."

Brooklyn Life: Murphy—Poor O'Reilly is dead. And a good old soul he was.

Casey—Yis, and a thoughtful wan, too. Shure, before he died he called his creditors to him, and told thim where they could borrow enough to cover what he owed thim.

Chicago Post: "I endeavor not to make any distinction as to my servants," says the new mistress. "My rule is to treat each of them as one of the family."

"Yes, mum," replies the new girl, "but if it's all the same to you I'd rather be treated with respect."

Washington Star: "Why do you insist on reading that newspaper? It always seems to offend you."

"Because," answered Mr. Sirius Barker, "I believe it is always looking at both sides of a question. I rely on that publication for arguments on the wrong side."

Chicago Tribune: Macduff had amputated Macbeth's head. "I didn't mind his talking to me as if I were an old hen," explained Macduff, "but I could not stand his hideous profanity. There's already too much of it on the stage!" Feeling that he had done his duty, he then took a layoff.

Human Rights Higher Than Property Rights.

From Roosevelt's Paris Address: While not merely acknowledging, but insisting upon, the fact that there must be a basis of material well-being for the individual as for the nation, let us with equal emphasis insist that this material well-being represents nothing but the foundation, and that foundation, though indispensable, is worthless unless upon it is raised the superstructure of higher life.

That is why I decline to recognize the mere multi-millionaire, the man of mere wealth, as an asset of value to any country; and especially is not an asset to my own country. If he has earned or uses his wealth in a way that makes him of real benefit, of real use—and such is often the case—why, then he does become an asset of worth. But it is the way in which it has been earned or used, and not the mere fact of wealth, that entitles him to the credit. * * *

It is a bad thing for a nation to raise and admire a false standard of success; and there can be no falser standard than that set by the deification of material well-being in and for itself.

My position as regards the moneyed interests can be put in a few words. In every civilized society property rights must be carefully safeguarded. Ordinarily, and in the great majority of cases human rights and property rights are fundamentally and in the long run identical; but when it clearly appears that there is a real conflict between them, human rights must have the upper hand, for property belongs to man and not man to property.

VICTIM OF LOCKJAW.

Dread Tetanus Claims Young Girl Near St. Cloud.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald)—Funeral services were held at the Polish Catholic church this morning followed by burial in Calvary cemetery, of Magdalene Tomczyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tomczyk, of Waite park, who died Sunday from lockjaw after suffering a succession of most violent and painful attacks of tetanus for three days.

About six days ago the girl sustained a slight injury on one of her elbows, to which little attention was paid at the time. Friday the symptoms of the dread disease began to develop and a physician was called, but failed to arrest the progress of the poison. The girl was sitting on her mother's lap Sunday evening when she suffered another attack and passed away. What the injury was is not known; it is presumed that the child struck her elbow on a rusty nail.

FAIR

A heavy rain that would extinguish the forest fires that are burning throughout Northeastern Minnesota would be welcome, but the fair, dry weather continues and the same conditions are predicted for the next thirty-six hours. The chilly touch remains in the air, as shown by a low temperature of 28 deg last night. A heavy frost is promised tonight.

A year ago today was cloudy, with rain in the evening.

The sun rose this morning at 4:36 and it will set at 7:31, giving fourteen hours and fifty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A trough of low pressure extends from Arizona east and northward to the New England states. During the past twenty-four hours it has caused scattered rains in the upper Rocky mountains, upper Missouri valley and eastern lake region. Yellowstone Park reported a rainfall of 1.08 inches. Freezing temperatures occurred this morning in North Dakota, Northern Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin, while light to killing frosts were quite general from the upper Rocky mountains eastward to the western lake region."

General Forecasts.

Upper Lakes—Moderate north winds, possibly brisk tonight on south Huron and south Michigan. Cool and possibly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Showers tonight over south portion.

Chicago, May 11.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Upper Michigan—Fair and continued cool tonight and Thursday; heavy frost tonight.

Wisconsin and Minnesota—Fair tonight and Thursday; heavy frost tonight.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; colder tonight in east portion and frost in northeast portion.

North and South Dakota—Fair tonight and Thursday; frost tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably light frost tonight.

WEST END NORWEGIANS MAY BUILD

Societies and Clubs May Jointly Erect a Hall in the West End.

Committee Is Expected to Report Favorably on the Plan.

A Norwegian hall, supported by the four principal Norwegian orders of Duluth, may be built in the West end within the next year.

A committee of members of the different Norwegian societies in the city, is working on the proposition, and although no plans have been formulated, most of the members of the committee are of the opinion that the West end would be the best location for the proposed structure, as it is central between the up-town district and West Duluth.

The orders interested in the proposition are the Sons of Norway, the Normanna Singing society, the Varde club of the West end and the Lysglimt lodge of Good Templars, West Duluth. The Sons of Norway and the Normanna society have large membership rolls and now meet in uptown halls. The Varde club was recently organized at the West end and already has a large number of members. The West Duluth order is the largest Good Templar organization in the state, its membership being over 200.

L. A. Simonson of 2102 West Superior street, a member of the Sons of Norway order and the Good Templar lodge of West Duluth, is one of the committee which is working on the plan. The committee will probably report in favor of organizing a stock company, which would control the building. Each of the lodges, through its members, would take a block of the shares. In this way, Mr. Simonson says, the proposition could be put on a paying basis. If the lodges could not afford to buy the stock outright, the members could purchase it and the lodge buy it back from the members later.

The proposed structure would be of modern construction with two or three stories. The upper floors would be used for lodge purposes, while the lower story would bring in a revenue from rentals. It is the plan of the committee to get the different bodies interested together on the proposition as soon as possible.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—"The Round Up."

MANY DANGEROUS FEATS SHOWN IN "THE ROUND UP."

Hairbreath escapes and marvels of physical endurance have made the fortunes of many plays. One recalls the swing across a chasm "In Old Kentucky," the human bridge in "The Span of Life," the drop from a balloon in "The Great Ruby," "Coupeau's" fall in "Drink," Annie Russell's flight through the air as Puck in "The Midsummer Night's Dream," and a number of similar bits of business illustrating the point.

Just now there is an especially brilliant example of this sort of thing in "The Round Up." In fact, there are two or three dangerous bits of work in that Western drama, but the one which creates most talk and has been made the subject of endless conversation is the fall of the Indian over the cliff in the third act.

This fellow has crept to the edge of a winding pathway up the lava rocks and taking position there, has fired at one of the two white men who are battling for life in the canyon below him. Quick as a flash one of the men, Dick Lane, shoots and kills the Apache, who falls over the side of the rock, his body hanging suspended there throughout the rest of the act. Soldiers in reckless, daring rush by him on the narrow path in pursuit of his companions, but he stirs not. The limp and lifeless body is poised on the rocks, a fearsome thing to watch.

Usually a "dummy" is used for these hazardous bits of business, but in the case of the Apache there is no opportunity to substitute a lay figure for the man and he has to take the chance of balancing himself safely throughout the ten minutes he has to hang over the cliff.

Besides the feat of the Indian in "The Round Up," there are a number of other men who imperil their lives at each performance of the play. The Indian riders who make the defile of the mountain pathway are running risk all the time. The pathway is narrow, the ponies frisky and the path circuitous. Should one of the horses misstep, it would mean broken limbs or death.

The bucking broncho act in the last act is a dangerous exhibition for men engaged therein, for the space in which the curveting and bucking is done is scarcely more than forty feet square. When this feat is done in the great wild West shows of Buffalo Bill and others of like character there is an immense space to work in, but on a stage a false step or an extra run would carry the horse and rider over the footlights.

There are many other plays that have perilous feats set into their action and right rarely and bravely the players perform their tasks, but those mentioned are among the most dangerous of the lot.

Motion Pictures.

Lyman H. Howe's moving pictures to be seen at the Lyceum week May 15 are entirely different from the rest. In subject matter the new program takes the audience to Russia, Egypt, France, Cornwall and the Andes; shows the amazing performances of a common fly; the fearless horsemanship of Italian cavalrymen; Wilbur Wright's aeroplane flights, the great flood in Moscow, and numerous other features of extraordinary interest.

BALKS AT 75 CENTS.

Uncle Sam Declines to Pay Little Milwaukee Bill.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 11.—Because the government apparently refuses to pay a bill of 75 cents for water used on the premises purchased for a custom warehouse at 190 Michigan street, the water tax may be canceled by the common council. The water registrar sent a communication on Monday in which he says that J. E. Eldred, who negotiated the sale, refused to pay. The bill was sent to Postmaster D. C. Owen, who sent it to officials at Washington. Attempts to collect have been futile.

TAFT IS PLEASED

House's Action on Railroad Bill Meets With His Approval.

Measure Makes Many Changes in the Present Statutes.

Washington, May 11.—President Taft is deeply gratified over the passage of the railroad measure by the house yesterday. He is especially pleased at the comfortable margin by which the commerce court feature was kept in the bill, for he regards this court as probably the most important forward step in the proposed law.

As to the amendments and additional provisions added in the house, the president said he did not feel that this was the time to discuss them. Referring to the claims providing for the physical valuation of railroads, Mr. Taft pointed out that the power practically now rests with the interstate commerce commission, and that the difficulty in carrying out such a plan always has been found in the enormous cost of the undertaking.

Changes Existing Law.

The bill makes many changes in the existing law that, if accepted by the senate, will greatly affect interstate commerce. The court of commerce is created to adjudicate cases on appeal from the interstate commerce commission. It is provided that this court shall be organized by the justices of the supreme court of the United States, future appointments to membership on the court to be made by them.

Stock and bond issues of railroads are controlled by the bill. Under this clause a railroad, before issuing any additional stock, must obtain an order from the commission which must, among other things, fix the price at which the securities of the road may be sold. A similar provision is carried in respect to railroads which are reorganized through the courts. A provision is made that upon the reorganization of a railroad through court proceedings, stocks and bonds cannot be issued for more than a fair value of the property.

Long and Short Haul Clause.

The long and short haul clause of the measure provides that a railroad cannot, without first gaining permission, charge more for a short than for a long haul over the same line. The interstate commerce commission also is given authority, whenever a new rate is proposed, to suspend the rate for a period of four months so that the commission shall have an opportunity to consider its reasonableness.

As amended the bill proposes to bring the telephone and telegraph companies under the control of the interstate commerce commission.

It provides for the valuation of railroad property as an aid to the commission in the consideration of railroad rates.

The bill gives to the commission authority over classifications, regulations and practices of railroads, its authority at the present being limited to rates and matters affected by rates.

Right to Route Freight.

Under its terms a railroad company must quote a freight rate accurately upon demand of a shipper and the shipper is given the right to route his freight whenever it passes over more than one railroad. The commission itself is authorized to establish through routes by combining different railroad systems at its discretion, whereas, under the present law, it cannot make a new through route if such a route is already established.

Severe penalties are provided against shippers who, through false claims for damages, or loss of property, obtain secret rebates.

Champ Clark, leader of the Democratic minority, explaining the Democratic course in opposing the bill on final vote, said:

"The Democrats who voted against the bill did so because they considered that there were more bad features in the bill than there were good ones. When it was first brought into the house, it was a railroad bill, pure and simple. It was drawn in their interests. Not a railroad lobbyist appeared around the halls of congress in opposition to this bill, which speaks more eloquently than many volumes could do that the railroads were in favor of this legislation.

"Every amendment that was adopted in the house helped the bill, but there were not enough of them. Had the court of commerce feature and some parts of Sections 13, 14 and 15 been stricken out, I would have voted for the bill."

HOSPITAL IS FLOURISHING

Reports of Officials of St. Luke's Show Good Condition of Institution.

The reports of the secretary, treasurer and superintendent of St. Luke's hospital association show the institution to be in excellent condition after a most successful year.

The balance in the hospital fund May 1 was $4,316.49 while the bank balance of the building fund was $8,852.61. The donations to the special fund in 1909 and 1910 were $9,505.25, and an additional sum of $450 has been promised. The total assets, including real estate, buildings and several mortgages, amount to $148,210.02.

During the year 1,389 patients were admitted, according to the report of Miss Frances Smith, the superintendent. The highest number occupying beds in one day was 78 and the lowest number was 37, on last Christmas day. The training school was shown to be getting along nicely with twenty-two nurses in training. The maternity home received sixty-one cases. The interior of the nurses' house has been improved with hardwood floors and the installation of new furniture.

MAY UNITE ON TARIFF BOARD

Insurgents and Regulars May Yet Make Peace, Say the Gossips.

Washington, May 11.—Following a visit of Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, one of the insurgents of the house, to President Taft's office, the report gained currency that through the proposed increase in the powers of the new tariff board some of the most serious differences between the Republican regulars and insurgents may be healed.

It is said that President Taft is bringing all the pressure he can to bear in support of the appropriation of $250,000 asked for to widen the scope of the tariff board, and to permit that board to make the necessary investigations abroad to determine the difference in the cost of production in European countries and the United States. The insurgents have promised the president their support on this appropriation.

It was reported also that a strong factor in the Republican congressional campaign this fall may be declarations by the president that if the investigations of the tariff board show that further reductions in the tariff are possible and compatible with a fair profit to the American manufacturer, he will strongly urge further revision by congress.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

LOST PAPERS ARE LOCATED

Wife of Convicted Crookston Federal Official Makes an Important Find.

Their Discovery May Result in Fearon Being Released From Prison.

Crookston, Minn., May 11.—While packing her household goods preparatory to moving to St. Cloud, Mrs. P. J. Fearon, wife of the former clerk in the United States land office here, who last week was sentenced to one year and a half in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., discovered the five sets of homestead filing papers which Fearon was accused of destroying and for which the court particularly scored the accused in passing sentence.

Fearon had maintained stoutly that he had never destroyed the filing papers, but claimed that he had misplaced them and had they been discovered before his indictment or before sentence was passed, he would probably have been let off with a nominal fine.

He had evidently forgotten where he put them or he would have produced them for his attorneys before he was arraigned and it is possible now that they have been found, steps will be taken to have the sentence reconsidered by the federal court with a view to having the prison sentence revoked and a fine imposed instead. It is believed that Fearon probably placed the papers in the drawer, where they were found after being out a little too late at night and then never remembered where he had left them.

PAVING MATTER STARTS TROUBLE

Crookston City Council Is Confronted By Differences of Opinion.

Crookston, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald)—The beginning of what appears to be a paving war of no small dimensions, developed at the meeting of the city council last evening when a petition signed by sixty-four owners of 7,282 feet frontage, about 95 per cent of the property owners affected, was presented, asking that creosote block paving be laid, and that new water mains be laid prior to the paving.

J. W. Wheeler, A. A. Miller and C. C Strander spoke in favor of the petition, and Capt. M. R. Brown acquiesced because he wanted paving of some kind laid, although he preferred asphalt. Hiram A. Cool, representing the Kettel River company, manufacturers of creosote block paving, also spoke. He was questioned by the city engineer regarding the difference in cost between the sixteen-pound and the twenty-pound treatment, the percentage of absorption, etc., and was unable to give concise replies, and was also questioned by Aldermen W. F. Murphy and President of the Council M. W. Hussey, the latter firing a broadside of questions which showed his antagonism to creosote block, and there followed some vigorous parrying.

Arthur J. Leahy, representing the asphalt company which laid the pavement now in use in the city, also spoke and after replying to the statements of Mr. Cool, got into a debate with Attorney A. A Miller which grew so warm that Alderman Murphy arose and requested some one to get a pair of boxing gloves, while President Hussey pounded in vain for order.

The petition was finally referred to the street and bridge committee, with instructions to report a week from last night. The council without doubt favors asphalt, but their action finally is problematical, though there is no question but what paving of some kind will be ordered at the earliest possible date.

FACING BIG FORFEIT.

Fargo Contractor May Have to Pay Minot Large Sum.

Minot, N. D., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—It looks as though James Kennedy of Fargo will have to pay this city several thousand dollars for the privilege of constructing its waterworks system. On the completion of the pumping station, he was obliged to pay a penalty of $1,180 for failure to finish it in time, while on the filtration plant a daily penalty of $50, the city commissioners declare, will be exacted. In all, this all may amount to about $10,000, and the members of the city commission claim that they will not retreat from their present position in the matter.

BEST SPRING TONIC

Every one should take a tonic in the Spring; our systems require it. The change in the seasons produces a like change in our bodies, and more is required of the blood, from which source we receive physical nourishment and strength, at this particular time than at any other.

Almost every one feels bad in the Spring. Some have no particular sickness, but are debilitated, run-down and weak, and their systems are in a general state of disorder. This deranged condition of the health is due to weak, anaemic blood; the circulation is infected with impurities which have diminished its natural nourishing powers, and the body is suffering from deficient blood nutriment. The refuse and impurities which naturally accumulate in our systems are not properly expelled in Winter, because those members whose duty it is to perform this work of drainage do not receive sufficient stimulation from outdoor exercise, and therefore grow dull and sluggish in their action; nor is the skin as active in eliminating waste maters in cold weather because the pores are not so open as in warm seasons.

These Winter accumulations pollute the blood and largely destroy its nutritive qualities, and when Spring comes, and everything takes on new life, and we change our method of living, the circulation is so weakened that it is unable to supply the increased demands of the system. Then we suffer from weakness, nervousness, loss of appetite, lassitude, etc. There is a constant worn-out feeling, sleep is not refreshing, and we do not feel able to perform the ordinary duties of daily life. This disordered condition demands the use of a tonic, and it should be one which has the additional qualities of a first class blood purifier, for to restore health and strength the blood must be pure.

The healthful botanical ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, and the method of combining and preparing them so that they build up and strengthen every portion of the body, make it the best of all Spring tonics. S. S. S. is Nature's medicine, free from strong mineral mixtures and made entirely of the healing, cleansing juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks; a safe and pleasant tonic for persons of any age.

S. S. S. is not only the best Spring tonic, but its ability and worth as a genuine blood purifier is universally recognized. It builds up the depleted system in the true way, by purifying the blood and supplying an increased amount of nourishment to every portion of the body. S. S. S. removes all accumulations from the circulation, enriches and purifies the blood and overcomes the unpleasant physical ailments that always come with Spring. It rids the body of that tired feeling, improves the appetite, reinvigorates every fibre and tissue of the body, and imparts healthful energy to all who are run-down. The body cannot be strong and well if the blood is weak or impure, and no tonic should be used which does not thoroughly cleanse the circulation. If you select S. S. S. as your tonic this Spring you will experience better results and more vigorous health than ever before, because it will make your blood "just right." Insist on getting S. S. S., there is no other "just as good."

PRETTY GOOD EVIDENCE.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. From 139 pounds to 165 is pretty good evidence of merit on the part of S. S. S., and as to my appetite, it is superb. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I do not hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it.

The season of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league opens today.

Duluth is playing at Winona, Wausau at Rochester, Eau Claire at La Crosse and Superior at Red Wing.

The managers are all ready for the opening games which have been looked forward to for some time by the fans of all about the circuit who are anxious to get a line on the several teams.

On paper the clubs seem to be very evenly matched, although each manager has no trouble whatever in telling just where his team excels any other in the league.

What Darby Says.

"I do not expect to come back in first position after this trip around the circuit," said Darby O'Brien yesterday afternoon, before starting for Winona with the White Sox, "but I do expect to have the team in first place when the season closes next fall and that is what counts. I have it figured so closely that I think I can make a pretty good guess in just what positions Duluth and Superior will return to the Head of the Lakes after the first swing around the circuit. We may get a rather slow start because of the fact that I will have to keep changing the lineup from game to game in order to give all of my recruits a fair chance to show what they are worth. Once I get the team picked, however, the Duluth fans will see their team steadily forging to the front and I do not expect to see the White Sox out of the first division after the season is well started."

KENNEY,
Who Was Chosen to Pitch Opening Game for Duluth.

Two Are Released.

A. W. Kuehnow, secretary and treasurer of the local club, with the members of the team, The Herald sporting editor, and a few fans left last night at 11:15 for Winona, where the opening game takes place today. First Baseman Kosier did not make the trip with the others, Pitcher Pete Jaenecke and Daggett, who have been playing the shortstop position in the exhibition games, were both released yesterday. Neither one of the men filled them up particularly well in the opinion of the manager. Daggett will play second base for Artie Odea's team.

Dauss and Marion are both rounding into mid-season form and it is probable that both may hurl a game before the team leaves Winona. After having a man as good as Otto Mueller behind the bat last year, it will be a hard job to satisfy the fans. All of the Duluth catchers are fairly fast, but they do not seem to be in Mueller's class. Kosier did good work behind the bat the other day and his throwing to bases made a hit. Darby may shift him from first to the catching position.

The opening game will be a gala one all around the circuit. The weather man says the sun is shining. The bands will play and everybody will hie themselves to the various ball parks. At Winona and Rochester the streets have been decorated for the occasion and business this afternoon is practically at a standstill. The city fathers in each city will ride in carriages and the mayors will throw the customary first ball and declare the season open.

Rochester Looks Weak.

At this time the Rochester club, with which the Wausau team plays the first game, looks to be the weakest team in the league. Jack Corrigan can be depended upon to strengthen up, however, if he finds that he needs it.

Superior should get away well. In the game at Red Wing today they will have to hurry if all reports from the camp of the training school town is true. The only position that seems to be weak on the O'Dea's team is at second base. Daggett will cover this position and that may help some.

Eau Claire and La Crosse are having it out. Tommy Schoonhoven has "Slats" Morrow back this season and the fact is a source of much satisfaction ot the Eau Claire fans. Both La Crosse and Eau Claire look strong and they should have a royal battle in trying to get a foothold on the ladder.

Duluth will not be at home until May 26. It will be an anxious wait for the loyal fans of the city.

STREET DOES ALL THE CATCHING FOR THE WASHINGTON TEAM

STREET OF THE WASHINGTON AMERICANS.

Charlie Street is doing all the backstop work for the Washington Americans. He is a good catcher, a fine thrower and is as good as the average catcher at the bat. He is famous for having caught the first ball thrown from the Washington monument. This has been tried a number of times, but Street was the first to catch the ball.

To Consider Protests.

Two protests will be considered at the meeting of the directors of the Duluth-Superior league to be held tonight at the store of the Northern Hardware company.

BARNES IS RE-ELECTED

Is Given Gold Watch By Members---Other Officers Named.

Julius H. Barnes was elected president of the Duluth Boat club for the seventh time at the annual meeting last night. The members gave him a gold watch. On the case was engraved the words, "From the members of the Duluth Boat club to Julius H. Barnes, creator of the greatest water sports club in America." J. D. Mahoney was elected captain for the tenth time.

Judge Page Morris presented the watch to Mr. Barnes. When Mr. Barnes became president six years ago the club had a membership of 193, compared with 1,400 now. The value of the club's property was $6,000. It is now worth about $86,000.

All officers and directors whose terms expired were re-elected. The officers are: Julius H. Barnes, president; Chester A. Congdon, W. J. Olcott and J. L. Washburn, vice presidents; A. S. Ames, secretary; I. S. Moore, treasurer. Directors elected for two years are: B. M. Peyton, A. B. Wolvin, G. G. Hartley and W. S. Telford.

Captains were appointed by the president as follows: Charles D. Brewer, sailing; R. W. Marshall, motor boat; John E. MacGregor, rowing; W. H. Klichli, field sports. The captains are ex-officio members of the committees which will have charge of events in their departments. The committees follow: Sailing, A. C. LeDuc, O. L. Mather, E. A. Pierce, Joseph Roth; rowing, B. M. Peyton, H. H. Peyton, A. W. Puck, J. D. Mahoney; motor boat, Dr. D. H. Day, George A. Burns, G. A. Tayton, A. S. Ames; field sports, C. E. Dewitt, J. D. Becher, C. F. Graff and A. P. Barnes. Ensigns were named as follows: Sailing, Sibbald MacDonald and Joseph Roth; motor boat, George A. Burns and William D. Jones; rowing, William L'Estrange and Simon Forgette; field sports, A. P. Barnes and Guy E. Warren.

At the smoker, which followed the business session, M. F. Jamar sang a stein song. Arthur Meagher and John C. Tresise gave a Yiddish dialogue, and Mr. Tresise sang one of Harry Lauder's songs. Dr. D. H. Day and Peter Oos gave humorous monologues, and Charles Cargill sang a song made famous by Chauncey Olcott. John Doran gave an original sketch, "Sights About Town." Harry Howell sang a popular song.

JEFFRIES SHOWS BETTER SPIRIT

Fights Six Fast Rounds With Bob Armstrong and Joe Choynski.

Ben Lomond, May 11.—With Mrs. Jeffries applauding, Jeffries roughed it for six rounds with Joe Choynski and Bob Armstrong in his gymnasium yesterday.

With his eye still blackened from the rap which he received Monday, he seemed anxious to give a good account of himself and his two sparring partners were glad when the hour was over. He was faster than at any other time since he began training and after three miles of short sprinting on the road, announced that he had taken off about twenty-five pounds since beginning training, and now weighs 225.

Nothing was done during the hours of the afternoon, but shortly before evening the fighter indulged in a little fast baseball practice. Jeffries' workout was decidedly reassuring after his lumbering exhibition Monday afternoon. He romped through the two clouting matches as if he enjoyed it, and in one of the mix-ups, playfully set Armstrong on his back as if he were a small boy.

A PROMISING FEATHERWEIGHT

MONTE ATTEL.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

They are having a great discussion about the referee, are they not, George?

There are five men in this country, who are perfectly capable of being the third man in the ring the afternoon of the so-called great contest. Berger and George Little, the person, for he can't properly be called a man, who is managing the interests of Johnson, know this.

The advertising that is being given the referee question at the present time, is advertising for the fight, pure and simple.

Charley White, Eddie Smith, Eddie Graney, Jack Welsh or Bat Masterson are capable of officiating. Johnson may object to a Californian being the judge of the fight, for the reason that the native son element has been known to make a lot of difference in the official opinion of the referee.

There was the Young Corbett-Jimmy Britt contest. The worst that Corbett should have ever received was a draw; yet he was handed the short end. This fact may lead the big cinder to hold out for the selection of an Eastern man.

However, all of the five men have officiated in big fights. They know the ring game thoroughly and are competent. There is really no need for so much fuss about the referee. The big fight needs advertising, even more than most people realize, for it is generally believed that the ticket sale will be depended upon to supply the last deposit of the $101,000 purse.

From now until the Fourth of July columns will be written about the training of the two fighters. The reality in the case, judging from the reports that have come through to date, is that more news cannot be sent out.

The public has been entertained by the fishing of Jeff. We have very good fishing in this part of the Northwest. Elaborate stories have also been sent out, concerning the work Jeff expected to accomplish on the morrow. He has also been interviewed on his splendid condition and has often expressed the fervent hope that the battle were but a few weeks away.

Those who have followed training and the methods of conditioning, realize that James J. Jeffries is far from condition. He showed that in his work of the day before yesterday. Occasionally the truth comes out.

The New York Sun is a paper that is not afraid to tell the truth. That paper has made some startling assertions concerning the present condition of Jeffries. It goes as far as to say that the retired champion can never hope to get into condition. The story comes from a man who made it a business to investigate before he wrote.

It is believed generally that Jeffries is trying to get into condition. Many believe he has a stupendous task ahead of him. The public is charitable enough to give the one great fighter all the chance in the world to make good.

What the public has a right to expect is, that the truth be sent forth and not so much foolish primer stuff about pleasant hours on the trout streams and on the front porch of the Jeffries' cottage.

So far there has been no news of any importance sent from Ben Lomond; the future may hold more of interest for the public.

Who Looks Best?

In the National league, Pittsburg, to date.

Those same old boys, the heart breaking trio—Wagner, Clarke and Leach, not to mention Young Miller, seem to be as good today as when they started playing baseball—quite a few years back.

The finishing ability of the Pirates won the pennant for Pittsburg last season. It was admitted on all sides, generally speaking, that the Cubs played the more advanced inside baseball and had the more finished fielding team.

But you could never tell when the Wagner, Clarke, Miller or Leach bats were going to break up a game. Lots of times the Pirates started the eighth or ninth innings in the ruck. Then came the hitting of the husky batsmen and the game was placed on the Pittsburg side of the column. The present season the team has not missed Vic Willis, nor has there been any indication of a falling off of the wonderful finishing ability of the team.

The effect of Kling's presence upon the Chicago team cannot be even estimated as yet. Two weeks from now and the public will be in a better position to judge.

As far as the race in the National league has progressed, the Pirates look the strongest. New York seems to be playing ahead of its game. From the Duluth far away view, it looks as if a man who has a bet down on the Pirates or Cubs, would surely get a good run for his money.

Real Money, Too.

There is a little story going the rounds of the followers of motor boats. It concerns the statement by Dick Schell, that he would back his Dingle Capitol for $1,000 in real money against any boat that subscribed to certain conditions, as to engine power and other mechanism.

Mr. Schell and several other men interested in motor boats were gathered around the dinner board, the story goes, when the discussion led to the $1,000 challenge, which was published in The Herald last winter.

One member of the party doubted the sincerity of the owner of the Dingle Capitol. Whereupon, if the story is correct in all its various details, Mr. Schell took $900 of real money from his pocket and offered to deposit it as earnest money.

In connection with the story, it is said that the Eard, a very fast Michigan boat will be brought here with the express purpose of racing the Schell boat. The man who told the story, says Mr. Schell offered to let the challenge forfeit, go as a wager that his boat would defeat the Eard.

So far, it has not come to light that any one has accepted the tentative wager-tentative in the sense that it is not known definitely whether the Eard will come here—offered by the owner of the Dingle Capitol.

Right here it might be said that Mr. Schell should be given credit for the fame he has brought upon the motor boat interests of this city.

He has taken his boat to races outside this city and he has won. In all of these races the pennant of the Duluth Boat club was carried at the bow of the Dingle Capitol. Mr. Schell has what he believes is a very fast boat, and so far he has shown the true sporting spirit, in that he is willing to pit his boat against any that may be brought to the Head of the Lakes.

Muscle Building Difficult.

One of those statisticians of Harvard, and they have many there, declares the cost of living is taking many athletes from the track, baseball and rowing squads.

No wonder, Percival!

When beefsteak is as high as it is at the present time, it requires a boy with father's kind permission and open pocketbook, to stand the price of those steaks.

The cost of living is making the boys get out and hustle; they have really little time for the love of athletics. It is horrid, too, when a chap is crazy about athletics, isn't it, now?

Washington, May 11.—President Taft has sent to the senate the nomination of William H. Davis, to be postmaster at Pittsburg.

NEW MOTOR BOAT BILL

Owners of Crafts Are Satisfied With the Regulations Proposed.

Bill Has Passed Senate and Will Pass House This Week.

The new motor boat bill, which has passed the senate and which will probably pass the house this week, is attracting considerable attention from motor boat owners all through the United States.

The new bill is considered by motor boat owners as an improvement on the regulations which formerly governed their craft. It divides the boats into classes and takes them out of the scope of the general navigation laws, some of which did not properly apply to motor boats, but had to be applied to them on account of the lack of any others.

The new bill divides all boats of this kind into three classes, as follows: Class one, less than twenty-six feet in length; class two, twenty-six feet or over and not more than forty feet in length; class three, forty feet or over length; and not more than sixty-five feet in length. Every motor boat that is more than sixty-five feet in length is not a motor boat according to this proposed law, but will come under the general laws of navigation covering all steamers. A motor boat is described in the bill as any vessel not more than sixty-five feet in length and driven by machinery, thus taking in steamers within the prescribed size, as well as boats driven by gasoline engines.

The bill provides that class one shall carry a white light aft to be visible all around the horizon, and a red and green light forward, showing green to starboard and red to port and to be visible to two points abaft the beam, each on its own side.

Classes two and three are to carry a white light forward, constructed to throw an unbroken light over twenty points of the compass, ten on each side; also a white light aft to show all around the horizon; also on the starboard side a green light to show unbroken light over an arc of ten points of the compass, and on the port side a red light to show the same on that side.

Every motor boat must have a whistle or other sound-producing mechanical contrivance capable of producing a blast of two seconds or more in duration. Every motor boat of classes two and three must likewise carry a fog horn, and class three must carry a bell not less than eight inches across the mouth.

Every motor boat must carry life preservers, life belts, buoyant cushions or ring buoys sufficient to sustain afloat every person on board and so placed as to be readily accessible.

All motor boats carrying passengers for hire must be run by a person duly licensed for such service.

Every motor boat is required to carry fire fighting equipment, and this also applies to gasoline boats more than sixty-five feet long. A fine of $100 may be inflicted for any violation of the law, collectors of customs being made responsible for the execution of the law.

DONAU WINS THE DERBY

Bay Colt Takes the Kentucky Classic After Hard Ride By Herbert.

Joe Morris Is Close Second With Fighting Bob Third.

Louisville, Ky., May 11. — Leading throughout the entire route of one mile and a quarter, but compelled to fight for his vantage over every inch of ground Donau, a bay colt owned by William Gerst of Nashville, yesterday won the thirty-sixth Kentucky derby. But three-quarters of a length separated the winner from Joe Morris, which horse in turn was a neck in front of Fighting Bob. The time, 2:06 2-5, was but 3-20 of a second slower than the record for the race.

Donau carried the public's money and 25,000 people acclaimed the winner. The Pari-Mutuel machines paid $13.25 on a $5 ticket on Donau, making als price about 8 to 5. The guaranteed value of the race was $6,000.

The derby was a gruelling contest from start to finish. They were sent away quickly to a fair start for all except Fighting Bob, the latter being shouldered to the outside.

At the quarter pole, Joe Morris was only a quarter of a length behind Donau and as they got well straightened out into the stretch, he made his effort in a fashion which woke bedlam in the stands. He managed to work up to even terms with the leader for a stride or two with Fighting Bob's head laid along his own flank and all three running without a falter. All through the stretch they battled on almost equal terms, but Donau still had just a trifle in reserve and fiercely ridden by Herbert, slowly pushed his nose in front.

INTERESTED IN COMING FIGHT

Attempt to Stop the Papke-Thomas Go Watched By Johnson.

San Francisco, Cal., May 11.—Interest of local fans in Jack Johnson's training operations is partly eclipsed by the approaching fight between Billy Papke, the "Illinois Thunderbolt," and Joe Thomas, the California middleweight. Johnson himself is showing much interest in that contest and particularly in Thomas, who is training in the same gymnasium the negro is using. The negro, his manager and the promoters of the big Emeryville battle are anxiously watching a movement that has originated in San Mateo county to stop the Thomas-Papke go.

Johnson finished his long road run yesterday, perspiring freely, but in better trim than after his Monday jaunt. His road work and light gymnasium exercise will be continued by Johnson throughout the week and is expected to put him in shape for his first boxing bout next Sunday.

The most important phrase at Johnson's camp yesterday was the weighing of the colored figher. Jack had not been on the scales since he arrived in California, and there was no surprise on his part as well as his trainers when the beam tilted at 220 pounds.

"I must have been way off in my calculations," declared Johnson, who previously had estimated he would strip at 226. "I guess the two days on the road have taken off some weight."

Johnson was accompanied on the road yesterday by Sig. Hart, Tom Little, George Cotton, Barney Furey, and Martin Cutler. The same course was taken as the first day, and as an early start was made, Johnson was through before 1 o'clock.

"I have been with Johnson a great deal," said Hart, "and I never saw him in better shape. He has been taking long runs and but for the rest of us, he would have stayed out longer. People don't need to worry about Johnson's condition."

Foresty Service Employe Perishes When His Canoe Is Swamped.

Ely, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alex Cumimngs, aged 24, single, living at Cass Lake and employed in the forestry service here, was drowned last Sunday in Knife lake, sixty miles north of here, near the Canadian line, when the canoe in which he was traveling with John Mulligan was swamped. His body has not been recovered.

Mr. Mulligan arrived here last night and told of the tragedy. A brother of the deceased heads a party that has left to search for the body. According to Mr. Mulligan, the two were paddling along the lake when their canoe capsized. The two men struggled in the water for an hour trying to right the boat, but Cummings was finally overcome and sank. Mulligan managed to reach the shore and came here as soon as he could.

An older brother of the deceased, also working for the government, was promptly notified and hopes to find the body.

If the body is recovered it will be taken to Cass Lake for interment.

The water works superintendent was instructed to install a public fountain on the northwest corner of Douglas avenue and Jones street.

The "great white way" improvement for Grant avenue, which had been referred to the light and water committee, was brought up, and estimates for the installation of an incandescent 48-lamp system submitted, but the council wished to secure the voice of the property owners on the matter, and accordingly instructed the city clerk to write the Commercial club, and ascertain how much the business men will pay for the expense of installing and maintaining the system.

A petition from Jacob Skerjons, injured in a shooting, and thereby physically disabled, asking that he be granted a license free of charge to peddle jewelry was placed on file.

Favor Municipal Ownership.

A. W. Norton, R. C. Pickering and J. W. Murphy of the Commercial club recommended that the gas franchise asked for some time ago by a Cleveland, Ohio, concern be refused because the company's charge of $1.65 per 1,000 feet for illuminating gas was exorbitant. The committee suggested municipal ownership if a plant of this character is to be installed in the city. The communication was referred to Aldermen, Heritage, Mollan and Weber.

The appointment of W. J. Schulze by Mayor Hawkinson to succeed John Costin, Jr., who resigned as a member of the park board, was confirmed. It has been known for some time past that Mr. Costin had contemplated resigning from the board owing to his dissatisfaction with the city officials in not turning over the full amount of the purchase price received from the county for the sale of block 43 for a court-house site. Mr. Costin has served as president of the park board for several years. Mr. Schulze is a pioneer resident of Virginia and has charge of the fee interests in several mines on the Mesaba range.

FIRES LOOK SUSPICIOUS.

Recent Blazes in Sawmill Addition to Chisholm Alarming.

Chisholm, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—There has been an unusual number of fires in the sawmill addition to Chisholm, the nature of which leads the authorities to believe there are firebugs at work.

The latest occurred Monday afternoon, when houses or shacks belonging to Paul Haudik, worth about $400, and to Yeka Lezansishak, worth about $700 were destroyed. How they caught fire is not known. The only water available was in a well, and when Fire Chief O'Connor called on two owners of adjoining property to aid in forming a bucket brigade and help put out the fire it is said they declined. As their property is insured, the inference is they did not care if it burned. There have been five fires in this locality of late and the affair is causing some alarm. A rigid investigation will be made.

There are no forest fires in this immediate section, although fires are burning quite a distance away. No alarm over the fate of Chisholm is felt.

come by escaping gas from the baloon, but the supposition was hardly borne out by anything Mr. Forbes said.

What appears certain is that control of the baloon was lost in some manner and that it drifted until its buoyancy was so far spent that a gust of wind or a sudden loss of gas sent it downward with great force.

Is Adventurous Aeronaut.

New York, May 11.—A Holland Forbes has had a long and adventureous career as a balloonist He is vice president of the Aero Club of America. SPENT NIGHT ON THE RIVER

Members of Motor Boat Party Have Prize Hard Luck Story.

Stranded Twice and Then the Engine Refused to Work.

Drenched to the skin and chilled to the marrow from an all-night exposure to a cold wind, Fred Rene, Bert Collins and Emil Hubert, all of West Duluth, this morning told a story which, for genuine hard-luck features, has outdone any previous experience of motor boat enthusiasts this season.

The men claimed that they were stranded twice while coming down the river from a trip to New Duluth late yesterday afternoon. The first time that the launch hit a sandbar, the occupants got out of the boat and pushed it off. Hardly before the boat had a good start, it was driven hard onto another sand bar.

This time the men found their attempts to move the launch from the bar unsuccessful. After standing in the cold water for several minutes, they hailed a passing launch, which assisted them. The boat was pulled off the bar. This was at Zenith island, they said.

After the other boat had gone, the men tried to start the engine of their launch, but it failed to work. A fruitless half hour was spent in trying to make it go, after which the craft was allowed to drift into shallow water, where they walked to shore and cut some poles.

Handicapped by darkness and unprotected from the cold wind by wet clothes, the three men spent a sleepless night and one which, they say, they will not forget for some time. Hugging the shore, progress was made by pushing the craft along by poles. The trio arrived in West Duluth about 9 o'clock this morning.

The boat was owned by Fred Rene, and was out on its maiden trip. He recently purchased the craft and installed a 20-horse power engine.

The men are brought to West Duluth by Rev. D. G. Cole, organizer of the new church. They recently held successful meetings at the Second Church of Christ, Vincennes, Ind., and at Shawnee, Okla. They will probably conduct meetings here for a month.

C. W. Ramshaw was appointed chairman of a committee to ask the village council to require that all houses be numbered and that names be placed on street corners. H. G. Gilberman heads another committee to confer with the council with the view of securing a permanent dumping ground for the village.

DAVID JAYNE HILL, United States Ambassador to Germany.

Minnesota state university," said President Cyrus Northrop this morning. "The board has not communicated with Ambassador Hill," said Dr. Northrop, "and we do not know whether he would accept, even if he should be chosen."

Dr. Northrop could not say just what status had been reached by the regents in the deliberations upon the presidency other than to mention Mr. Hill and Dean Reed.

TELEPHONE RENTALS RETURNED TO CITY.

Following the unsuccessful attempt of the Wisconsin Telephone company to make the city pay for certain instruments, in accordance with a ruling of the state rate commission, telephone rentals amounting to $384 were yesterday returned to City Comptroller John Erickson.

This amount had been paid in by the city during the litigation. The matter was first submitted to the rate commission which in effect decided that the city must pay for the service the same as an individual, regardless of previous agreements.

The action was carried to the supreme court when the decision of the rate commission was overruled and the city's contentions upheld. In the case of the People's Telephone, the company did not receive pay during the litigation.

Gregg, former superintendent of the farmer's institute in Minnesota and at present a practical dairyman and agricultural writer, spoke last evening at a general meeting of the Superior Commercial club. MAN IS IDENTICAL WITH KAVANAUGH

Has Same Features, Scars and Handwriting as Alleged Wife Deserter.

Chicago, May 11.—Julius Moyce, brought here from St. Louis on a forgery charge, has the same features, the same scars under the chin, the same small shot wounds in his back and the same style of handwriting as Harry V. Kavanaugh, but he is not Kavanaugh.

This statement was made here today when Paul Bamberger, brother of Florence Bamberger, called to identify Moyce as the man Kavanaugh, who married Miss Bamberger two years ago and then deserted her.

"The features and the marks, even the style of penmanship, are wonderfully similar," said Mr. Bamberger at the bureau of identification today, "but Moyce is not the man."

CROOKSTON MAN DIES OUT WEST

Harry R. Phillips, Old Resident of Minnesota, Expires in Montana.

Helena, Mont., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Henry R. Phillips, an old resident of Crookston, Minn., who died at Sunnyside, this state Sunday, was brought here to be prepared for shipment and has left for Crookston, escorted by his brother, James, and another brother living in Spokane.

Mr. Phillips, who had resided in Crookston since 1887, came to Sunnyside about three weeks ago in the hope that the change of climate and the water would benefit him in his fight with Bright's disease. He was carefully nursed by his brother, James, who lovingly cared for him to the end. The waters of the place first helped the Minnesotan, but soon there came a change for the worse and he steadily grew weaker until the end. It was a fight against great odds and death finally won, but the people of Sunnyside are loud in their praise of the fortitude of the unfortunate man and sympathy for his brother, who worked night and day trying to save his life.

NEW FACES ON THE COMMITTEE

Many Changes Expected on the Public Affairs Committee.

At the annual meeting Friday night of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club the members of the committee for the ensuing year will be announced, and Chairman T. W. Hugo of the committee will read his annual report.

President C. A. Luster of the club is said to be of the opinion that best results can be obtained by rotation among the club members of assignments to the public affairs committee, as in that manner a more varied representation of the club at large will be secured on the committee. Because of President Luster's belief the appointments which will be announced at Friday's meeting are being awaited with considerable interest.

The public affairs committee has such a large part in the effective work of the club for the development and betterment of Duluth that its personnel is of more than passing interest to the club members. It is rumored that sweeping changes will be made, not with the idea of retiring present committeemen, but rather for the purpose of giving other members who have served on the committee a chance to do what they may be capable of doing for the club and the city, as committeemen.

The committee as reconstructed by President Luster will hold its first meeting some time next week, when it is probable that important work for the season will be planned.

Chairman Hugo's report on the work done by the committee in the past year is expected to be, as it has been in the past, an interesting and instructive one.

SUPERIOR

LABORER KILLED AT NEW DOCK

Geoffrey Peterson's Skull Is Fractured By a Falling Piece of Iron.

Geoffrey Peterson, 26 years old, a laborer employed by the Heyl-Patterson company, was yesterday struck by a piece of falling iron, sustaining injuries from which he died a few hours late at St Mary's hospital, Superior.

Peterson was employed on construction work at the Pittsburg & Reading coal dock on Connor's Point. A large piece of iron fell, striking him on the head and fracturing his skull. He was taken to the hospital, where death came about 6 o'clock.

Peterson leaves no relatives in this country, but he is survived by a wife and three children in Norway. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Le Sage undertaking rooms. Burial will be at Graceland cemetery.

PAVING MATTER POSTPONED.

Council Divided on Question of Improving Belknap This Year.

At a meeting last evening, the council deferred action on the paving of Belknap street for a week. There seemed to be a difference of opinion among the aldermen as to whether the improvement should be undertaken this year, as the laying of water and gas mains may cause the earth to settle.

Mayor Crumpton's appointment of Charles Flagstad to the unexpired term of T. J. Oyaas as a member of the school board, was confirmed. John Brantmeier was appointed poundmaster of the Eighth ward.

A resolution that the city make a public park in the First ward along the east side of Robertson avenue from Granger to West Ninth streets and between Seventh and Eighth streets, was passed.

A number of other routine matters were taken up.

OBITUARY

Rear Admiral Andrew J. Kierstead, United States navy, (retired), is dead at his home in Philadelphia, following a stroke of apoplexy. He was 77 years old. Admiral Kierstead was a graduate of Annapolis and served with Farragut throughout the war. He continued in the navy as a chief engineer and was retired in 1894 with the rank of rear admiral. He is survived by a widow and two sons.

Thomas E. Byrnes, formerly superintendent of police of the city of New York, but more famous for his work in the detective bureau as inspector, is dead from chronic indigestion. He was 66 years old.

Byrnes was born in Ireland, but came to this country young. He broke up a notorious gang of burglars who had looted the Manhattan Savings bank of $3,000,000.

On the day of his appointment he announced the dead line at Fulton street, just above the offices of Jay Gould, who later became his close friend, and with other shrewd advisers helped him to make a fortune in Wall street, which he testified before the Lexow committee had in 1894 reached $350,000. Only a week ago he transferred to his wife real estate valued at $550,000.

Llewellyn Shaver, who for the last fourteen years had represented the interstate commerce commission in all of its important cases, died at Washington of acute indigestion, aged 76 years. He had been ill a year.

FORBES TELLS OF THE ACCIDENT TO BALLOON.

Glasgow, Ky., May 11.—A. Holland Forbes and J. C. Yates, who were injured late yesterday in the fall of their balloon, the Viking, recovered consciousness about noon today, and Mr. Forbes was able to tell briefly his adventures of yesterday. Mr. Yates is in a serious condition, and physicians decline to permit him to talk.

Mr. Forbes says he lost control of the balloon during the afternoon, and, seeing a favorable position, pulled the rip cord to effect a landing. He gave it too much of a tug, it appears, and the entire side of the balloon near the apex was ripped open. The balloon therefore descended with great rapidity.

Mr. Forbes dictated a few telegrams to be sent to friends and relatives, and said he probably would make a full statement tonight or tomorrow. The men are being well cared for at the home of Tilden Boston, a farmer, near Center, Ky.

Special Display of Barker Collars

We are sole agents at the Head of the Lakes of the Barker (2 for 25c) Collars.

There are many good two-for-a-quarter collars in the land, some of them heavily and cleverly advertised, but there is but one "BARKER," and it's a collar a store can afford to bark about and loud.

BARKER COLLARS ARE FOUR-PLY LINEN, stamped so, and there is a pure-collar law in New York that allows no manufacturer to stamp linen on a cotton or cotton-mixed collar. So you'll find that most collars are not stamped at all.

IT'S THE LAUNDRY that crushes the life out of your collars, not the wear you give them. Give Barker Collars a test and you'll find that they stand more visits to the Laundry than any other collar you ever wore.

Watch the demonstration in our show window this week.

NO IMMEDIATE DANGER AT GRAND MARAIS

Several Settlers Near the Village Lose All Their Belongings.

Refugees From Lutsen and Tofte Reaching Grand Marais.

Grand Marais, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald by United Wireless.)—Grand Marais this afternoon is in no immediate danger from the flames, although nothing but a drenching rain will remove the menace entirely.

Monday and Tuesday the fires swept through the territory six miles west of here, destroying several large tracts of cut and standing timber and also wiped out Steve Murphy's house, barn and all his belongings and the members of his family barely escaped with their lives. Joseph Mason's house and all his belongings were also burned.

The fires raged between Grand Marais and F. R. Beane's place all day yesterday and last night, at times threatening the village. Reports have been received that Beans' residence and belongings burned today.

The sawmill and Belang lumber yards were completely wiped out at Tofte yesterday. Great fires at Lutsen are reported by refugees who are drifting into Grand Marais. There are also fires east of here in the vicinity of Chicago bay.

The fires are spreading very rapidly and should a southwest wind come up this village would be in great danger. The people here are very uneasy as to the direction of the coming wind. Should a strong east wind arrive it would drive the fires away from here. A half dozen tugs with fire-fighting equipment and men left here this morning to fight the fires. Thera is believed to be no chance of extinguishing the fires unless a heavy rain should come soon.

Steve Murphy was in town this morning and he said the fire was the worst he had ever seen. When the flames descended on his house he had not even time to run in and grab a coat and everything in the house was destroyed. Other people in the vicinity had the same experience. The fire was watched very closely last night and is still burning this morning.

The fires had died down a little owing to the quieting down of the wind last night, but volumes of smoke are again arising.

People say that the fire is worse than that of two years ago when the village was also threatened.

Every boat landing between here and Tofte has been wiped out, along with all buildings along the shoot. Logs along the shore waiting to be rafted have been destroyed.

E. M. SOMMERS,
Operator at Wireless Station.

Fire Refugee Breaks Leg.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless a heavy wind should spring up the fires here will not give much trouble. Yesterday afternoon telephone and telegraph communication with points north of the city was cut off but now communication is restored. Barrels for water have been sent to all the block stations, affording the block operators some protection. The Duluth & Iron Range railway officials are doing all possible to prevent the spread of the fire. There was no delay in the passenger trains yesterday on account of the fire.

The fire north of the city is dying out, but men watched it yesterday and during the night. It was feared for a time that the fire would cross the county road, but so far it has not. The only buildings lost so far as is known are Charles Rosen's barn and outbuildings.

Mrs. Kahler, wife of a farmer living near the city, broke her leg in two places while attempting to get away from the fire. She slipped from the wagon in which household goods were being taken away.

Most of the settlers near the fires spent a sleepless night, watching for the fire, and keeping wet the grass and buildings on their premises.

Farmers Pack for Flight.

Cloquet, Minn., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fires north and south of here are still raging and there is no sign of abatement. Farmers in certain localities have their household effects packed, and are ready to move at any time.

A number of houses have been burned. Fires on the reservation were checked yesterday, but started anew this morning. There is no immediate danger to the lumber yards.

Buildings Are Razed.

Iron River, Wis., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The forest fires around Cousiere caused considerable damage at that place Sunday.

About twenty loads of logs owned by the Hines Lumber company, also the residence of the foreman, Clarence Lock, part of the camps, the oilhouse and coal docks were destroyed, and the fires are still raging.

The Hines company has stopped operations and put men at work fighting the fire.

Fire is also raging south of Iron River.

Brule Clubhouses Saved.

Ashland, Wis., May 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is less wind today, and no specific cases of damage are reported. Standing timber on the Brule river has been burned. After a hard fight, costly clubhouses on the Brule were saved.

Bad Fire at Hawthorne.

A brush fire near Hawthorne was communicated to outlying buildings last night and seven were burned according to a report which reached Superior today.

LITTLE TREND TO COPPER MARKET

Market Declines at Opening But Rallies Before the Close.

The trend of copper values was without significance today. The market did not display much promise at the opening and declined when scattered holders began to peddle out small lots. This pressure was remove later in the day and the market rallied and closed about on a level with the opening after advancing above the opening on the upturn. The slight decline at the close brought values back to opening levels.

A few of the specialties were erratic, some advancing and others declining. A feature of the local market was the weakness of Shattuck after the declaration of the first quarterly dividend. The liquidation was fairly large, 1,620 shares being traded in here at from $30.50 to $28.87½, the closing sales being at $29. Some people bought this stock before the dividend, thinking that it would advance sharply. Evidently they were hard pressed to carry the stock and they sold as soon as it was evident that the dividend declared would not have much influence immediately on the speculative aspect of the issue.

Trading here was moderate and broad and the character of the market was excellent. Butte-Alex Scott displayed strength, the part paid selling at $3.06¼ and $3 and the full paid being traded in at $6 and $6.12½ to $6. Butte Ballaklava was one of the strongest stocks on the board, selling at $11.87½ to $12.75. Copper Queen sold at 32c; Gironx at $7.87½ to $8.25; Greene at $8.87½; Live Oak at $20.50; Red Warrior at $2.06¼ to $2.12½; Warrior at $9.50; Butte & Superior at $2 and $2.06¼; Calumet & Montana at $1.12½ to $1.18¾; Calumet & Corbin at 75c and 76c; Chief at $1.75 and Sierra at $3.50.

Amalgamated sold at $70 to $69.62½ to $71.12½ and then at $70.12½. Steel common sold at $82.75 to $83.25 to $82.75; Butte Coalition at $21 to $21.12½; Calumet & Arizona at $61 to $65 and off to $63; Giroux in Boston at $8 to $8.12½; Greene at $9 to $8.87½ to $9.50 to $9.25; Lake at $56.25 to $54.75; North Butte at $34 to $33.50; Superior & Pittsburg at $12 to $12.50.

HEINZE CASE MAY CLOSE THURSDAY

Defense Will Finish Introduction of Evidence at Noon That Day.

New York, May 11.—The Heinze case may go to the jury by tomorrow night, John C. Tomlinson, of counsel for the Montana copper man and former president of the Mercantile National bank, said before the trial was resumed today in the United States circuit court that the defense expected to finish with its witnesses by Thursday noon, provided the prosecution did not take up too much time in cross-examination.

RALLIED AT THE CLOSE

Wheat Has Stronger Tone During Last Hour of Trading.

Flax Was Dull and Weak With But Scattered Offerings.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 11.—After the slump around noon values rallied and the May option closed 1⅛c under yesterday after having dropped to 1⅝c under. July closed on a parity with yesterday's close, rallying after the slight decline. September closed ¼c up. Chicago May, which dropped 1½c in the final hours from the day's high point, rallied quickly and closed 1c higher than the day's low point and 1c up from yesterday. Values firmed with pressure was withdrawn. Buying was scattered. Immediate delivery was offered on much of the stuff sold here on the break.

May wheat opened at $1.11⅛ asked, sold at $1.11¼, $1.11 and $1.09½ and at $1.10 toward the close which was $1.10 asked. July opened $1.11 bid, sold at $1.11¼, $1.11⅛, $1.10¾, $1.11⅛, $1.10½ and $1.11, closing $1.11 bid. September opened $1.01¼ bid and sold at $1.01⅝, $1.01½, $1.01⅜, $1.01⅝ and closed $1.01⅝ bid.

Flax was dull and weak from scattered small offerings. May was $2.35 bid at the opening and closed with offerings at $2.35. July opened at $2.31⅝ asked and sold at $2.30, closing $2.30 asked. September sold at $1.77 and $1.73⅛, closing $1.73½ bid. October sold at $1.69, $1.68¾, $1.65½, $1.65¾ and closed $1.65½ asked.

Cash equaled May; oats closed ⅜c up; durum was ⅜c off; barley was 1c up and the cash trade was active. Cash sales of oats were larger than for some time. Rye closed unchanged.

The severe decline in wheat was accompanied by the working out of conditions which have been evolved from the cash situation and the May option within the last few days. About 750,000 bu of No. 1 northern had been purchased in this market in the last week for delivery on Chicago May contracts at Chicago and Buffalo. Of this amount 162,000 bu has already left this port for Chicago. Values showed a spread of considerable import between Chicago and Duluth May options shortly after the opening today, Chicago remaining steady to strong, while Duluth declined under slight pressure and lack of support.

Toward noon the decline here was accentuated by heavy offerings which appeared to come chiefly from Chicago. In some instances delivery of wheat was offered immediately after the option was sold in the pit. This peculiar situation appeared to indicate that some sort of settlement had been made between the Chicago shorts and the long interests, who did not want to handle a cumbersome "corpse," and some of the grain that was bought by Chicago shorts was being unloaded here. One of the leading bears on the local market sold heavily, apparently for outside interests, and appeared ready to make immediate delivery.

The severe break in Chicago May yesterday was attributed in part to a sudden realization by Chicago professionals that about 750,000 bu of Duluth No. 1 northern had been purchased here for Chicago delivery. It was rumored that a fifth cargo had been sold here, but this was denied today. Nothing was sold to Chicago today, the markets being out of line in the early part of the session, and incidents which transpired in the latter part made such a possibility exceedingly remote.

Covering by shorts held the Chicago May option at a firm level until toward noon, when it eased off, but rallied. The downturn caused slight liquidation in the deferred months. There was moderate support elsewhere from shorts, but in this market the pressure was so insistent and sudden and values yielded without protest.

The weather in the Northwest is becoming a market factor of some import. Rain would be welcome, and in some places it is seriously needed. The roots of the plant are deep, however, and this is in its favor. Fair weather with probable frost is predicted for tonight in Minnesota, North and South Dakota. Several reports from South Dakota, claiming damage by frost were not credited.

Weather conditions in the winter wheat belt are more favorable, but the bulls are beginning to send in more reports of damage by the Hessian fly. Messages regarding the condition of the plant were mixed.

Foreign markets were weaker. Liverpool was subjected to heavy pressure to sell from Russia.

Cash Sales Wednesday.

Broomhall cabled: "Wheat was weak and very heavy at the opening, under the influence of larger and cheaper offerings, and declined ⅝@⅞d and following the opening the market further declined ⅜@⅝d, with the undertone weak. Selling was in the way of realizing, induced by the break in America yesterday and the continued pressure of Russian offerings for which there is a poor demand. The failure in Russian banking circles, and the fact that banks generally are forcing shipments to assist financially, caused depression in all European markets and particularly in London and Hull. At midday the market was weak an 1@1¼d lower than yesterday, with cargoes pressed for sale at 3d to 6d decline. Corn was weak and lower, cargoes arrived off coast, nil, and awaiting orders 4d. Wheat cargoes in distant positions weak and offered at 3d to 6d decline. Corn slow with no bidding.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

May Wheat Promptly Advances a Cent and Rally Extends.

Chicago, May 11.—Stubbornness and fighting spirit on the part of leading bulls showed itself today in a prompt advance of a cent in the price of May wheat. The rally was extended to the deferred futures after a weak opening. Freezing temperatures in the Northwest an absence of rain in that section barring scattered showers were cited as arguments against the bears. Offerings were light, speculators seeming to fear that the trade was not yet out of the woods in regard to the growing crops, an that sales were risky. May wheat went to $1.12 as against $1.11 at the close last night. September started ⅛ to ¼c lower at $1.00½ to 1.00⅝, advanced to $1.01 and reacted to $1.00¾.

After much nervous fluctuation the market sagged under continued heavy selling, accompanied by reports of rain in the Canadian Northwest. Duluth dispatches asserted that the cash market there was weak and that more cash wheat for Chicago could be picked up there without trouble. It developed, however, that a Chicago firm was selling wheat there and delivering it immediately. The net result was a firm close here with September ¼@⅜c up at $1.01@1.01⅛.

Corn was firm on purchases by a leading local house with pit operators trailing. September opened in shade to ⅛@¼c up at 63½@63⅝c, and clung to the higher figure.

Steadiness characterized the market during the final dealings and the September option finished at 63½, a shade above last night's figures.

There was a liberal demand in oats from the same crowd that bought yesterday. September started ¼c lower to ⅛c higher, at 38⅝@39c, and advanced to 39⅛c.

The tone of the provision market was easy because of lack of any important demand from outside. Prices remained within small fractions of last night's quotations.

DECLINES IN IN STOCKS

After Early Advance, Selling to Realize Causes Sharp Setback.

Close Irregular and Dull Near Low Prices of the Day.

New York, May 11.—The opening price movement today was directed downward in the most influential stocks by the pressure of selling orders, but there were enough prominent exceptions showing small gains to make the tone irregular. Union Pacific and Consolidated Gas declined 1 point and Southern Pacific, Kansas & Texas and United States Steel large fractions.

There was on absence of any decisive tone to the trading, and prices were inclined to sag until aggressive buying of Brooklyn Transit stimulated the market. The stock moved up 1⅝ points and there was a material recovery in the stocks that had been weak, Reading and Consolidated Gas rallying a point. Erie second preferred advanced 1 point, Illinois Central, 1¼; United States Rubber, 2, and Chicago & Alton, 2¾. Prices were yielding again at 11 o'clock.

The sharp upward movement in progress yesterday when the stock market closed, necessitated the absorption of profit-taking sales. With this accomplished prices showed an advancing tendency. Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha gained 3¼, Brooklyn, Union Gas, 2¾, Rock Island preferred 2, Louisville & Nashville 1¼ and Missouri Pacific, Delaware Hudson, Electric, Tennessee Copper, Colorado Fuel, Republic Steel preferred and American Agricultural Chemical 1. Selling pressure forced prices back a fraction at noon. Bonds were steadyv.

The market closed irregular and dull. Selling to realize caused a sharp setback. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific touched low prices for the day. The latter fell 1⅞ below Atchison last night and Atchison 1.

GREATEST DANGER FROM FOREST FIRES APPARENTLY OVER

Capt. Smith of the America Sends Authentic Review of Conditions.

Many Conflicting Reports Are Sent Out---Lutsen Probably Safe.

Settlers Forced By Fire to Spend Night in Stream.

Steamship America, Off the North Shore, May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gooosberry river has a big fire and all through the woods to Beaver Bay there is a fierce fire, but there is no danger to Beaver Bay village yet.

Pulesedge has been burning. Capt. McClation lost his home, and all his logs, which were banked on the beach, are gone, together with ties and poles.

There is very little fire between Baptism river and Port Bay. From Port Bay down to Tofte the fire is very bad, all along the shore.

The town of Tofte lost the church, the town hall, the sawmill and all the lumber, also several houses, and all the logs were burned. Between Tofte and Good Harbor 400,000 logs burned, 25,000 poles and 35,000 ties.

There are conflicting reports concerning Lutsen.

A fire on the Brule river burned about two sections of land, but is now under control.

There is no fire east of Grand Marais, so far as we can see.

CAPT. SMITH, S. S. America.

The above wireless message to The Herald from the commander of the Booth line steamer America is the first direct and authentic information to reach Duluth from any one who has had an opportunity to observe the general situation along the fire-swept north shore.

The forest fire situation in Northern Minnesota apparently is much improved, latest reports indicating that the most critical stage of danger at many points has been passed.

Because of the interruption of means of communication with the remoter points in the fire zone, it has been difficult to obtain accurate information as to the real extent of the damage that has been done. While in some instances, as in the cases of Rosebush and Tofte, apparently authentic advices tell of complete, or nearly complete, losses being suffered by small communities, it seems to be the fact that most of the actual improved property damage has been sustained by settlers here and there, and there has been no loss of life.

As the north shore region was burned over by a terrific fire two years ago, the loss there in standing timber destroyed will probably be comparatively small.

On the ranges there seems to be but little danger from the bush fires now.

HEINZE CASE NEARLY OVER

Counsel for Copper Magnate Is Confident of His Acquittal.

Jury May Return Verdict Early on Friday Morning.

New York, May 12.—Fritz Augustus Heinze, Montana copper man and former banker, may know tonight whether the government's long fight to convict him of crimes against the banking laws is to result in making him share the fate of his former associate, Charles W. Morse, or whether the verdict of a jury will proclaim his innocence.

Heinze let his counsel do all the fighting for him throughout the long trial that he had misapplied funds of the Mercantile National bank while he was its president in 1907 in an effort to prop up the markets for United Copper stock. In this connection he was charged with overcertification of checks of his brother's firm, Otto Heinze & Co., who had the United Copper market operations in charge.

Counsel Is Confident.

There was every apparent confidence in the ranks of the Heinze counsel before the summing up began today that the government had failed to make out a case of criminal intent on Heinze's part.

The prosecutor had seen the court throw out many of the indictments returned against Heinze, but there were enough left, District Attorney Wise believed, to go before the jury and ask Heinze's conviction for alleged juggling of the bank's funds.

The taking of testimony came to a close late yesterday. The big surprise sprung by the defense was in resting its case without calling Heinze to the stand. It had been expected he would testify in his own behalf.

Summing up of the attorneys was expected to occupy pretty much of the entire day, with the prospect that the jury would be charged and retire for its deliberations in the late afternoon or early evening.

UNIVERSITY OF BERLIN.

ROOSEVELT LECTURES ON "THE WORLD MOVEMENT" AT UNIVERSITY OF BERLIN

Is Given Degree By Institution---Emperor Attends the Exercises.

Ex-President Compares Today With Conditions Before Fall of Rome.

Berlin, May 12.—Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, delivered a lecture today on the topic, "The World Movement," at the University of Berlin, and received from the university he honorary degree of doctor of philosophy.

Emperor William honored the occasion with his presence. It was the first time his majesty had graced a conforment, and the courtesy was significant in view of the fact that the German court is in mourning for the monarch's uncle, King Edward.

The ceremony of conferring the degree was staged and conducted with impressive simplicity. There were no flags or emblems of royalty and the government, and the walls of the Aula were bare save for the rows of busts of Germany's famous scholars and scientists.

The only touch of color was furnished by the senators of the university with their robes of scarlet and blue

Estimate on Immigration Is Made By Officials at Washington.

Washington, May 12.—That the United States will receive 1,000,000 immigrants during the fiscal year ending June 30 is the prediction of the officials here. During April, 133,276 arrived, making a total of 801,225 thus far this year. The last million immigrant year was in 1907.

Figures received at the immigration bureau show that 4,246 Chinese entered Canada from July 1, 1906 to Dec. 31, 1909, the revenue from which on account of the head tax was $2,123,000

DUTCH PRINCESS PERFECTLY WELL

Reports That Queen Wilhelmina's Child Is Sick Are Denied.

Amsterdam, May 12.—Princess Juliana is perfectly well. The reports published in Paris and elsewhere yesterday that the little princess was seriously ill are without foundation in fact.

It will be recalled that when Mr. Roosevelt visited Holland he was not able to see Juliana for the reason that she had been vaccinated recently and had not fully recovered from the effects. Since then she has been restored to her normal health.

On Tuesday Queen Wilhelmina took the princess for a long drive in an open carriage.

DISASTER IN BRITISH MINE

One Hundred and Thirty-Six Men Caught in Explosion of Gas.

Fumes Drive Out Rescue Party and Fire May Have Broken Out.

Manchester, Eng., May 12.—An explosion in the Wellington coal mine at Whitchaven dring last night cut off the exit from the 136 miners who were working below the surface.

Rescue parties succeeded early today in saving four men who had been working at the bottom of the shaft, but were prevented by the gas from penetrating to a point where the main body of men is imprisoned.

Up to 1:30 o'clock this afternoon no further rescues had been accomplished.

Every indication was that the inner workings of the mine were afire and Tenants in New York Tenement Use Candle to Find the Open Pipe.

New York, May 12.—Escaping gas caused an explosion on the fourth floor of a tenement house in East One Hundred and Thirteenth street today by which seven persons, two of them children, were injured. The explosion occurred when a party of tenants, trying to locate the source of escaping gas, entered a vacant flat on the fourth floor carrying a lighted candle.

Letter From Attorney General Supports Charge By Brandeis.

Secretary Ballinger Reads Epistle During Land Office Inquiry.

Only Two Witnesses to Follow the Cabinet Member.

Washington, May 12.—In a letter to Chairman Parker of the house judiciary committee, read by Secretary Ballinger to the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee today, Attorney General Wickersham admits that his summary to the president of the Glavis charges was antedated, as charged by Attorney Brandeis.

It was expected that Secretary Ballinger would be excused from the stand before the end of the day when the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation was resumed this morning. Attorney Brandeis indicated that he had about concluded his cross-examination of Mr. Ballinger and that he would turn him over to Attorney Pepper, counsel for Gifford Pinchot, in a short time. Mr. Pepper said that his cross-examination of the secretary of the interior would be brief.

FLORIDA IS LAUNCHED

Fighting Monster Is Product of Government Yard and Costs $6,000,000.

New York, May 12.—The biggest ship in the American navy slid off the ways at 11:15 a. m. today at the New York navy yard, when the battleship Florida dropped into the water. Later on, when the Arkansas and the Wyoming, now under construction, are afloat, they will exceed the Florida in size by 3,000 tons, a difference sufficient to make a pretty good little liner in itself.

The Florida herself is by no means finished, for as she went off the ways today she was only about 60 per cent advanced towards completion, which means that she was not much more than a vast empty hull, and still awaits all of the 1,000 boilers and main and secondary engines and armor and equipment that go to make up the ship ready for commission.

Probably there is not a battleship afloat that could tackle the Florida on even terms, when her commander's flag flies from the ungraceful but formidable skeleton masts which will be placed upon her—that is, provided the naval designers do not

PINE CITY BOY PASSES THE TEST

Defect of Eyes Is the Only Hindrance to West Point Appointment.

Washington, May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Miller has been advised that William J. Lahadny of Pine City, Minn., whom he nominated as principal for the examination for entrance to West Point, has passed the mental examination and all phases of the physical test except that a defect was found in his sight. Mr. Miller says that he confidently believes that the defect of the eyes is merely of a temporary character due to excessive study to accomplish a successful passage of the mental examination.

This morning Senator Clapp and Representative Miller called upon the secretary of war and presented the case to him with the result that Secretary Dickinson has agreed to allow Mr. Lahadny to again undergo examination of his eyes at any time he may elect between now and June 1.

ARGUE THE HYDE CASE

Lawyers Are Given Twenty Hours to Address the Jurors.

Special Instructions Given Regarding Testimony of Mrs. Hyde.

Kansas City, Mo., May 12.—When the jurymen who are trying Dr. B. C. Hyde on a charge of slaying Col. Thomas H. Swope stepped into their box today they faced eighteen hours of oratory. Assistant Prosecutor Henry L. Jost used two hours of the state's allotted time last night. Each side was to have ten hours.

Attorneys alternated in addressing the jury today. For Dr. Hyde, Frank P. Walsh, R. R. Brewster and John M. Lucas were scheduled to speak. The remaining orators for the state at the opening of court were James A. Reed, John M. Atwood and Prosecutor Virgil S. Conkling.

Mr. Jost's address last night was caustic. He characterized Mr. Hyde as a poisoner and a plotter who was willing to kill his wife's relatives in order to get their money for himself.

Judge Latshaw instructed the jury that it must either find Dr. Hyde guilty of murder in the first degree or innocent. First degree murder is punishable by death or life imprisonment in Missouri.

Indications are the jury will retire to consider its verdict Friday night or Saturday morning.

Given Special Instructions.

Special instructions were given the jury regarding the testimony of Mrs. Hyde. In this connection the court said:

"The wife of the defendant is a competent witness in this case, and you must consider her testimony in arriving at your verdict but in determining what weight and credibility you will give to her testimony in making up

DEFECTIVE PAGE

TAX MUST BE PAID IN JUNE

Corporations Notiffed of the Amounts Due Under Excise Tax Law.

Payment Will Be Under Protest Pending Outcome of Test Cases.

Notices are being sent out to the officers of the different corporations throughout the United States of the amount of the tax due under the excise tax provision of the new tariff law. Some of the Duluth corporations have already received their notices.

The law requires that notices shall be sent to the corporations before June 1 and that all taxes must be paid by June 30. To delinquent taxes 5 per cent will be added with 1 per cent a month for the time they remain unpaid.

The excise tax is computed on the basis of statements required of all corporations as to their income for the preceding year. The statements must be filed before March 1 each year and the tax to be paid amount to 1 per cent of the net income over $5,000.

Although numerous test cases attacking the constitutionality of the law have been filed, corporations are showing a disposition to comply with the law, and a very small percentage of failures to return statements were reported after March 1. Heavy penalties are provided for failure, refusal or neglect to return statement or pay the taxes levied and officials of corporations are not taking any chances on becoming amenable to the penalties. It is expected that the corporations in general will pay the taxes this year under protest and if the law should be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, the amounts paid will be refunded by the government.

Mrs. A. Hopkins, 225 East Ragle St., East Boston, Mass, writes: "Years ago I learned what a good medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla is. When spring came on I was thoroughly exhausted and obliged to take to my bed. I thought I would rather die than be so tired. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before long was perfectly well. Since then, spring has never come without my having Hood's Sarsaparilla."

HAS ANNUAL SPRING OPENING

Bayha & Co.'s Big Store the Mecca of Visitors.

This is the annual spring opening day at Bayha & Co.'s housefurnishing establishment. Throngs of visitors filled the big store this afternoon to inspect the splendid array of the season's newest things in the furniture and housefurnishing lines and enjoy the excellent musical program by Deslaurier's orchestra.

The main crowd was on the first floor, where the orchestra was stationed on a raised platform, but hundreds of women were scattered on the several floors looking at the array of things that most interested them.

While the approach of the summer season would seem to make the porch furniture, rugs, etc., the chief attraction, interest seemed about as heavily centered in the display of household furniture, of which the store has a splendid showing. The exclusive lines handled include L. & J. G. Stickley's handcraft furniture, Kimball and Chappell brass beds, "Old Hickory" porch furniture, French willow-craft furniture, Hasting's dining room tables, Englander couches, Rhinelander refrigerators, Ideal gas ranges, etc.

Special demonstrations of the Daven-O sofa bed, the Standard sewing machine and the Hoosier cabinet held the attention of many, as did the splendid display of artistic furniture of the Flanders period.

Every lady visiting the store this afternoon was presented with a handsome pres-cut glass handled nappie. These will be given away this evening. Another delightful musical program will also be rendered. The crowd this evening is likely to exceed that of this afternoon.

FALLS ONLY FEW FEET.

Marquette, Mich., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Standing on a boiler which he was helping to transport to a sawmill, Joseph La Toar, was thrown to the ground when the wagon struck a rough stretch of road. He fell only a few feet, but was instantly killed, his neck being broken. The deceased was a farmer, aged 74, and lived at Greenwood, Marquette county, near which settlement, the fatality took place late yesterday afternoon.

Jud Escapes Prairie Fire.

Jud, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only the fact that there was but little wind prevented any great amount of damage by a prairie fire near this city. It burned over considerable hay land, but was placed under control before it reached any of the farms surrounding the city.

PAYNE LAUDS TARIFF BILL

House Meets Early to Discuss the Sundry Civil Measure.

Author of New Customs Schedules Defends Them in Speech.

Washington, May 12.—The house met at 11 o'clock, an hour earlier than usual, in order to forward consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. Representative Garrett of Tennessee promptly raised the point of order that no quorum was present and practically all of the additional time was consumed in bringing members into the house.

Speaker Cannon put the motion of Mr. Crumpacker of Indiana for a call of the house, and hearing the small response, hammered his desk and remarked:

"There are two yeas and one nay."

Then smiling upon the house, the speaker added:

"The 'nay' was the loudest, but there were two 'yeas.' The roll will be called."

When debate was opened Representative Payne secured the floor.

Sereno E. Payne, author of the tariff law which bears his name, entered into a vigorous defense of that measure. He declared that the Republican party's pledge to revise the tariff downward had been fulfilled and that from whatever viewpoint you look at it the law shows a reduction in rates; there were some increases for which no apologies are made; they were necessary for the revenue; the commodities on which the rates were reduced represent ten times the values of the luxuries on which the rates were increased.

It was a true downward revision, but the law has been misrepresented, he said, by politicians with campaign capital to make, and by tradesmen grasping for pelf.

Cost of Living and Gold.

The high cost of living, he declared, is due to over-production of gold, and is not common to the United States, but is consistently paralleled in Europe.

This, briefly, was the defense of the tariff law made today by Mr. Payne during the debate in the house of representatives.

"Misrepresentation began," declared Mr. Payne, "when the conference report came in. Now and then it started from the tradesman who wanted to increase the price of his goods and give the tariff as the reason. In 99 cases out of 10 the assertion was false, as the tariff had reduced the duty on the goods he was selling.

"Before the bill was passed retailers of woolen goods started the story that an increase in the tariff had increased the price of their goods. Not a single increase was made in a single rate of duty in the whole woolen schedule.

"The first requisite of a good tariff," he continued, "is that it must meet the expenditures of the government. From the day this bill went into effect it has accomplished all that was predicted for it.

Too Much Gold.

"The prices of commodities has been increasing for ten years the world over. One reason for the advance is not only the great increase in the production of gold, but the cheaper methods of producing it. The supply is greater than the demand and is obtained with less cost. As gold is the measure of all values, the commodities are higher because of its decrease in value. This accounts, in part, for the general increase in prices.

"The increases in price are upon articles upon which the duty has been lowered by the present law or else remain where they were under the Dingley law. All kinds of farm products, meats, butter, eggs, poultry, all foods, hides, leather, shoes and raw cotton show reductions in duty and increases in price.

"It is hardly possible to take a single item in the tariff and show a direct increase from the rates of duty. Investigations into food prices show this conclusively. The increases in price are fully paralleled by increases in the same articles abroad. If the tariff has increased cost of living, how is it that on April 21 newspapers from Maine to California published tables showing that the cost of living is decreasing all along the line?"

Critized the Press.

The press of the country Mr. Payne criticised for its attitude on the pulp situation with Canada. He referred to the duty of $3.75 a ton imposed by the new law on print paper and declared:

"We are criticized because we did not fix the duty of $2 a ton and close our paper mills in the vain hope that Canada might remove her embargoes on exports of wood pulp. Now she is extending her embargo, and with the great many of our mills closed by strikes, there is a scarcity of paper. It is evident that the situation can be relieved only by some agreement made between the executive and the Canadian authorities to be ratified by congress.

"We have a tariff law that fulfills the platform, that produces sufficient revenue to meet expenditures, that has discarded in the various schedules that it revised all the duties which have been unnecesary because of changed conditions; we corrected the errors and loopholes through which many articles of high value escaped the duty intended and came in under a nominal duty which carries out the measure of protection enunciated in the Republican platform; which, by its maximum and minimum provision, has opened the gates of the world to our merchants and to our manufacturers; and which above all, shuts up no factory, puts out no furnace fires, stops no wheels of industry and deprives no man of his daily wage.

"The law has brought prosperity to the farmer, who never in his history has enjoyed the prosperity he enjoys today. It has brought prosperity to the factory and prosperity to the merchant. It is a tariff for the whole country, and under it the people of the whole country are enjoying prosperity beyond their dreams."

REPUBLICAN IS PUT UNDER QUIZ

Charles F. Black Called as Witness in Lorimor Bribery Inquiry.

Chicago, May 12.—The first Republican state representative to be called in the Lorimer bribery investigation entered the grand jury room today in the person of Charles F. Black of Peoria.

Representative Thomas N. Gorman of Peoria, a Democrat who voted for Lorimer, and State Senator John Dailey, a Republican, also of Peoria, are expected to testify later.

Upon leaving the criminal court building, Senator Dailey said he had assured Mr. Wayman that he had no knowledge of any irregularity in securing votes for Lorimer, and that he did not expect to be called before the grand jury.

Senator Dailey was chairman of the forces of Senator Hopkins, who was defeated for re-election by Senator Lorimer, and made a vigorous speech at that time denouncing the combination which sent Lorimer to the upper house at Washington.

Burke In St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—State's Attorney Burke of Springfield, Ill., conferred with Circuit Attorney Jones of St. Louis today relative to the alleged bribery of members of the Illinois legislature in connection with Senator Lorimer's election. Burke said the circuit attorney had supplied him with the names of the members of the legislature who are said to have stopped at the Southern hotel at the time the money is said to have been paid.

LAUNCH TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER

Navy Puts the Commodore Andrew Sterrett Into the Water.

Quincy, Mass., May 12.—That grim sea-fighter, Commodore Andrew Sterrett, would have swept the Mediterranean clean of Barbary pirates if he had had under his feet so speedy, yet so frail a craft as the torpedo boat destroyer which was given his name as she plunged down the launching ways today.

But Commodore Sterrett died 107 years ago, in the days of the wooden frigate and the muzzle loaders, and the navy department had difficulty in finding a direct descendant to smash the wine bottle and christen the boat with his name. This honor was given to Miss Dorothy Rosalie Gittings of Baltimore.

The Sterrett is expected to make 29 knots an hour from the 600 revolutions each minute of her two turbine-driven screws.

The Sterrett and her sisters are notable pioneers of new and enlarged types of ocean-going destroyers, planned to keep the sea with the battle fleet under all conditions.

The launching of the Sterrett at the yards of the Fore River Ship-building company was accompanied by the usual formalities and proved successful in every way.

HAND CARS MAY BE CROWDED OFF

Motor Trucks for Section Crews Being Tried Out By Omaha.

The Omaha Railroad company may furnish its section hands with motor cars instead of the old hand cars.

All along the line of the road this side of Eau Claire the motor cars are being tried out and if they are satisfactory, they will be installed. It is thought that if they prove satisfactory, two section crews out of each three can be done away with as one crew can then care for a greater length of track.

The little motor cars will save both time and money for the company if they prove as successful as the expert operator says they will.

A number of the other lines running into Duluth are said to have the plan under consideration.

Foley Kidney Pills are antiseptic, tonic and restorative and a prompt corrective of all urinary irregularities. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists.

TO FIX OFFICIAL CLEANING DAY

Mayor Cullum and Health Commissioner Webster Will Set a Date.

Health Commissioner Webster and Mayor Cullum will get together tomorrow to determine upon a cleaning day. At that time everybody will be expected to turn out to put the finishing touches upon the campaign which will make Duluth a "spotless town."

The sanitary inspectors have been busy the last six weeks visiting all parts of the city, directing the house holders to clean up their premises. Hundreds of loads of garbage and refuse have been hauled to the city dump. If the citizens as well as the children will aid the health department on cleaning day Dr. Webster is confident that Duluth will be in better sanitary condition than ever before.

If a few more table guests would make it profitable for you to keep boarders, then you have business for a Herald want ad.

FIRES CLOSE TO THE CITY

Engine Crew Is Sent to Protect Lester Park From Flames.

Settlers Along Sucker River Burned Out---Horses Lost in Camp.

Eight men and an engine crew of the Duluth fire department were sent to Lester park this afternoon to prevent the bush fire that has been burning in that vicinity today from invading the precincts of the pleasure ground.

The fire has been threatening the Richards farm, about a mile from the park and showed a tendency to spread in the direction of the park, but the fire department authorities did not consider the situation dangerous late this morning. This afternoon, however, it was decided it would be better to take the precaution of guarding Lester park and the men and equipment were sent to the park.

Reports which reached the city today state that several families along the rivers close to the city have been burned out. One named Kirk and another whose name could not be learned were left homeless along Sucker river. One of the camps of the St. Croix Lumber company on Stony river was destroyed by the flames, according to men who came in yesterday. Two other camps along the same stream were saved after a hard fight. It is said that considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the horses and cattle out of the first two camps, while all in the first camp burned to death. No lives were reported lost.

A wireless message to The Herald late this afternoon was to the effect that Lutsen and Rossbush are reported safe as yet. Tofte is practically burned out, but Grand Marais is safe under present conditions.

SUPERIOR NON-UNION MEN ARE ASSAULTED

Boat Officials Ask Police to Protect Their Sailors.

Officers on the steamers Heffelfinger and Wolfe this morning complained to the Superior police that the strikers were getting active in the levee district, and reported that two assaults had been made on the non-union sailors last evening.

The first assault is alleged to have occurred at Third street and Tower avenue near the Union Seamen's hall. The second time that the men were attacked, they were near the Hanna docks. It is claimed that the strikers jumped on to the non-unionists. Some of the sailors were badly pounded.

No arrests have been made, but the police will keep an eye on the strikers in the future.

Labor unions will, it is announced, come to the aid of the Socialists in case banking interests are unwilling to risk money in bonds issued by the new administration.

Big Eastern bankers will not, it is feared here, aid in selling municipal bonds if the Socialists cause a depreciation in the bonds of local public service corporations.

The annuoncement was made at the mayor's office, however, that the International Bakers' union has decided to purchase $100,000 worth of bonds, and will sell that amount of United States bonds now held in its treasury to make the new investment possible.

ON THE WRONG WIRE.

New York Sun: "Occasionally," said the man as he left the telephone booth red-faced and angry, "folks do things out of a perversity that cannot be explained. I just now had an experience with a woman over the telephone that would puzzle any one.

"A man I know had a telephone at his home, but none in his office. I dropped my nickel in the box, called his home number and presently a woman's voice answered with the usual 'Hello.' I asked if this were Mr. So-and-so's house and the voice came back, 'You've got the wrong number.' I was about to ask what number I had when the woman rang off.

"I dropped another nickel in the slot and told Central she had given me the wrong number, and so she tried again. After some waiting the same woman got on the wire again. Again she told me I had the wrong number and at once rang off. Ten cents to the bad.

"Once more I got Central and this time I went after her strong. She said she certainly had given me the number I asked for, and I was just as sure that she hadn't. Well, anyway, she promised to get it for me this time.

"Much to my surprise, when I heard a voice at the other end next time it was that of the woman I had had twice before. I began differently this time. 'Is this number so-and-so?' I asked. 'Yes,' the woman replied. 'Isn't that Mr. Blank's number?' I demanded. 'No, it isn't,' she came back with. 'I told you that twice before.'

"I thought I detected signs that she was about to hang up again, and I got in hastily. I asked how it was that this number was in the book for the man I asked for, and I asked her whether the house number was not a certain street in the Bronx.

"'No,' she answered, 'that isn't the street number at all. This telephone number used to belong to the man you speak of, but he has no house telephone now and we got it. We live a couple of miles from where he did.'

"Then she rang off once more. Just think of that. She made me pay 15 cents when she might have told me that the first time."

TO MEET KING GEORGE SOON

Roosevelt Will Be Received By Monarch on Monday Morning.

New Ruler Makes Special Request of Ambassador Reid.

London, May 12.—Theodore Roosevelt will be presented to King George V soon after his arrival in London early next Monday morning. Arrangements to this end have been made at the wish of his majesty, who expressed the desire, through American Ambassador Reid, to see the former president at the earliest opportunity.

Upon his arrival here Mr. Roosevelt will proceed to Dorchester house, where he will remain until after the funeral of King Edward. It is expected he will spend the week-end at Wrest Park, although the invitations to meet Mr. Roosevelt at that place which had been issued by Mr. Reid have been cancelled.

Official notification of Mr. Roosevelt's appointment as special American ambassador to the funeral of the late monarch was received at the foreign office this morning. If precedent is followed, Mr. Roosevelt will ride with visiting monarchs and other special ambassadors behind the funeral car.

Will Attend Windsor Services.

Mr. Roosevelt will also attend the funeral at Windsor. The regular diplomatic corps will join the procession at the railway station at Windsor and accompany the funeral party to St. George's chapel, being present at the services there.

One of the last acts of King Edward was to approve the arrangements for the dinner which was to have been given for the Roosevelts at Buckingham palace May 20, the day subsequently selected for the monarch's funeral.

The foreign office today received a copy of the resolutions adopted by congress upon the death of King Edward and the new accession.

Worry Hastened King's Death.

That King Edward's death was partly due to worry over the political situation is officially declared in a statement regarding his illness which his physicians, Sir Francis Laking, Sir James Reed and Sir Richard Douglas Powell, have published over their signatures in the Lancet.

WALSH PETITIONS ARE NEARLY READY

Largest of Them Are Those Sent in By People From Indiana.

Washington, May 12.—A petition for the pardon of John R. Walsh, now serving a term in the Leavenworth penitentiary for violation of the national banking laws, soon will be forwarded to the department of justice. Word from Mr. Walsh's attorney at Chicago, was received at the department today saying that the firm of which he is a member had been autnorized to formulate a properly prepared petition to be sent to Washington in a short time.

The letter said the petitions for clemency were filed without prior knowledge on Mr. Walsh's part. The largest of the petitions have come from Indiana.

WRINGS TEARS FROM TWO JURORS

Hyde's Attorney Makes First Address for the Defense.

Knsas City, Mo., May 12.—Jurors wept today when Attorney Frank P. Walsh delivered the first closing address in behalf of Dr. B. C. Hyde, on trial for the alleged poisoning of Col. Thomas H. Swope. Ttears unchecked rolled down the cheeks of Jurors W. C. Cron and William Beebe.

Much of the first hour of Mr. Walsh's speech was devoted to denouncing the state for intimating that Mrs. Hyde lied on the witness stand in order to save her husband's life. This statement, he said, practically painted the defendant's wife as an accomplice of her husband in crimes the state avers he committed. The attorney spoke several times of the awfulness of taking the doctor from his wife's side to "choke him like a dog on the gallows."

"If Dr. Hyde is hanged," continued the attorney, "it will be upon the word of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, the only witness who testified that the physician knew of the residuary portion of the Swope estate, the explanation the state gives as the physician's reason for wanting to get rid of the millionaire."

Mr. Walsh had not concluded his speech at noon.

ANOTHER ESCAPE FROM CHAIN GANG

Jacob Jackson, Serving Time for Larceny, Gets Away From Guards.

Jacob Jackson, serving time at the county jail for petty larceny, made his escape from the chain gang today after a five-block chase. Two men started away at the same time, and the guards were puzzled for a moment. They got one, but Jackson was too fleet-footed. His term expires June 18. He lives in the city.

Madison, Wis., May 12. — Assistant Attorney General A. C. Titus has left for Washington where he will bring suit against the state of Minnesota in the United States court to determine the boundary line between that state and Wisconsin in the Mississippi river and Lake Pepin. Whooping Cough.
This is a more dangerous disease than is generally presumed. It will be a surprise to many to learn that more deaths result from it than from scarlet fever. Pneumonia often results from it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, and always with the best results. Delbert McKelg of Harlan, Iowa, says of it: "My boy took whooping cough when 9 months old. He had it in the winter. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which proved good. I cannot recommend it too highly." For sale by all druggists.

Courts at Irving school grounds.

With Harry W. Lanners as president, the West Duluth Tennis club reorganized last evening, after four years of inactivity. A meeting of the enthusiasts was held at the office of S. A. Foster, principal at the Irving school, and officers were elected and other business transacted.

The membership of the new club will be limited to twenty and most of that number have already become affiliated with the organization. The membership fee is $2, and every member has the right to bring a woman friend to the tournaments, which will be held from time to time.

It was decided to equip two courts on the east side grounds at the Duluth Industrial high school. The material will be furnished by the club, which will completely equip the place, making a double court. The tennis grounds will be used by the children of the Irving and Industrial high schools in the afternoon, and the club will use them in the evening. If this arrangement meets with the approval of the school board, the work of putting the courts in shape will commence at once.

West Duluth people are taking an interest in the sport. Recently at Oneota, a club of boys of the Merritt Memorial church put up a court and have already played a number of games there.

As soon as the West Duluth Tennis club gets its courts in shape, arrangements will be made for a tournament with up-town clubs.

"ANYBODY HERE SEEN KELLEY?"

Charles Kelley, a former West Duluth man, who assumed the role of Sherlock Holmes, at the time that the police were searching for the Central avenue burglar last summer, and left suddenly on the trail of the supposed fugitive, has shown up at Deerwood, Minn.

A West Duluth man, who returned this week from Deerwood claims to have seen Kelley. While in West Duluth, Kelley was instrumental in organizing the proposed West Duluth Athletic association. Before his sudden departure, he had promised to donate a gymnasium to the cause.

While in Duluth, he lived at 123 South Central avenue.

MIKE ROSSI IS LEGALLY DEAD

Lawyer Says It Is Impossible for Him to Bring Suit.

"Mike Rossi is as dead, at least, legally, as though he was at this moment buried under six feet of sod and the idea of him suing any one is ridiculous," is the opinion of a Duluth attorney.

The statement lately made that Rossi would enter a counter claim to the suit brought by his former attorney, William Marx, for $10,000 for poor advice and lax methods at the trial, led a number of attorneys to discuss the affair.

The only way that Rossi could get at the matter would be to have an administrator appointed and have him sue the attorney, they agreed. Lawyers say that when a man is sentenced to state prison for life or sentenced to die, he at that moment becomes dead in the eyes of the law.

SOLD LIQUOR WITHOUT LICENSE.

Nathaniel Travers, colored, was fined $100 this afternoon in police court for selling liquor without a license at the Jefferson club at First avenue west and First street.

ORIGIN OF THE ROD.

Builders Journal: The origin of the rod, pole or perch as a lineal and superficial measure has been traced to the rod, pole or goad used to urge and direct a team of oxen pulling a plow. So it came about it was used as a convenient and handy land measure in feudal times by the lords in allotting plots of land for agricultural purposes to the villeins and others.

One rod wide and forty long (i. e., one furrow long, deep) built up a quarter of an acre. The furlong, or four poles wide and same depth—i. e., forty poles, one acre—was a convenient length for a furrow before turning the plow. Of course these lengths somewhat varied in different parts of the country where soils and agriculture varied, but gradually the slight variations grew less and finally the present accepted statutory acre was evolved.

Gunter's chain of sixty-six feet (ten square chains to the acre) was invented by the Rev. Edmund Gunter (1581-1626). He was a professor of astronomy at Gresham college, London, and ingeniously adapted it to facilitate decimal calculations in land measurements. The use of the rod in superficial measurements of brick work and lineally in hedges, ditches and fences followed as a convenient existing measure.

STRENGTH OF THE GORILLA.

How It Kills Human Beings—Its Attacks on Other Animals.

London Times: Of all the existing man apes the gorilla is beyond question the most formidable, a large male standing not infrequently over 5 feet 6 inches in height, and bones being known of one which apparently measured in life no less than 6 feet 2 inches. It is not, we now know from experience in the gardens and elsewhere, always when young quite so "utterly untamable a beast" and "so "entirely and constantly an enemy of man" as Du Chaillu represented; but it is savage and morose enough.

It is still uncertain whether in a wild state, except in the immediate moment of attack, it ever actually walks erect without either resting its knuckles on the ground or supporting itself by a branch overhead, but that it does beat its fists upon its breast when enraged (Du Chaillu says that he heard the noise "like a great bass drum" at a distance of a mile) is established; and when the male gorilla turns, as seemingly it does, to confront man fearlessly when attacked, with its huge size, its great hairy limbs, and hideous head set almost down to its shoulders, we can believe that "no description can exceed the horror of its appearance." And that the gorilla usually lives in the depth of forests where the light is so dim that it is difficult to see any object clearly at a distance of more than a few yards, and it is not to be wondered at that the natives have invested it with attributes even more horrific than those which it possesses.

Many believe the gorilla to be human; others hold that, though itself a beast, it is often informed with the transmigrated spirits of the human dead. It is said to lie in wait crouched on the lower branches of trees overhanging a path, and when a human being passes to drop one of its long hind limbs and, clutching the victim by the throat so suddenly and in so terrible a grip that hardly a sob is heard, to drag it—man or woman—up to its lurking place. It is credited with capturing and stealing women and carrying them off to keep them in forests, and armed with clubs, is said to attack and beat off elephants. The formidableness of the great apes as compared with other beasts, however, is not an easy matter to pass upon. In Africa it is noteworthy that the lion and the gorilla do not occur together, and it has been conjectured both that the lion has exterminated the gorilla within its territory and that the gorilla has driven out the lion.

In Borneo the most serious neighbors of the orang are the python and the crocodile, and the natives say that the ape overcomes them both, the python by seizing and biting it, and the crocodile by leaping on its back, clutching it by the upper jaw and by sheer main strength, tearing it open. The name 'orang' is in itself a title of honor, meaning roughly "wise one," the Malays giving it alike to their chiefs, to elephants and to the 'wild men." Perhaps, however, no native myth or story eclipses in wonder the statement of Emin Pasha, made seriously, that in the Mbongwe forest the chimpanzees used to rob the banana plantations in troops, bearing torches to light them on their way. "Had I not witnessed this extraordinary spectacle personally," he is reported as saying, "I should not have believed that any of the simians understood the art of making fire." Unhappily we personally did not witness it.

UNLUCKY MAN.

Chicago News: "See that man over there?" repeated the passenger on the suburban train. "That's Unlucky Johnson. At least, that is what he calls himself. He happens to live out my way.

"Johnson says he used to be a carpenter and that once he came near falling from the roof of a tall building. He was at work nailing on shingles when the support gave way and he began to slide toward the edge.

"Beneath the spot where he would have fallen was a pile of jagged rocks, left there by the workmen when they built the foundation.

"While Johnson was slipping toward the rocks and certain death the other workmen on the building held their breath, unable to go to his rescue. Johnson still held in his hand the hatchet with which he had been driving nails, and as he slid down the roof he picked up a spike that had been dropped.

"Johnson made a mighty effort to save his life just as he was going over the edge of the roof. Holding the spike in his left hand he aimed a quick blow at it with the hatchet and drove it into the roof. He held to it with the blow and the spike kept him there, dangling over the edge of the roof. The other workmen rescued him, but Johnson contended that he was unlucky because the nail hurt his hand. If he'd been given time to put on a pair of gloves, he said, it would not have been so bad.

"Another time Johnson was visiting a friend in the country and a cyclone came along. It lifted the house and carried it into the next county, where it was distributed impartially over the landscape. Johnson was not even slightly injured, but he complained bitterly about it because he had to walk three miles to the railroad station.

"That same summer he was standing under a tree when it was struck by lightning, but he suffered no injury. I remarked that he was lucky to have escaped with his life, but he scorned to look at it in that way. He said there was such a hard rain immediately afterward that his absolutely new suit was totally ruined by getting wet.

"Another time he was on a railroad train when it went into a ditch, overturned and many of the passengers were seriously hurt.

"He escaped without a scratch. There was suffering all about him, but Johnson thinks now that he was the unluckiest man on the train. He says the other passengers sued the railroad company because of their injuries and recovered heavy damages.

"Last summer a dog stopped at Johnson's house and after looking over the premises decided to remain. While Johnson was away the dog developed hydrophobia and was about to bite one of his children when a neighbor shot and killed the rabid animal. Johnson mourned over that dog nearly a week and contemplated a suit against the neighbor. He wanted to make the neighbor prove that the dog had hydrophobia.

"An uncle of Johnson's died several years ago and left him a fortune. Everybody in the neighborhood said that now he would admit that he had been lucky for once, but of course we said nothing about it to Johnson.

"However, Johnson brought up the subject himself the next time I saw him, declaring that he was the unluckiest man that ever lived. If his uncle had left him twice as much money, he said, instead of dividing the rest among other relations he would have been able to live in Europe half the time."

NOT THE USUAL ROMANCE.

Muscotah Record: Recently one of the most fastidious young men bought a pair of overalls and found in them the name of the sewing girl who made them.

He very promptly wrote her a letter with all the effusiveness necessary in such a case and in due time received a reply, which, however, was void of the romance usual in such cases. Here it is: "I am a working girl, it is true, but I make a good living and I do not care to support a husband, as I would do if I married some silly poodle who gets mashed on a girl he never saw. Permit me to say that I do not know how my card got in that pair of overalls, and that when I do marry, if ever, it will be some fellow who can afford something better than a 47-cent pair of breeches."

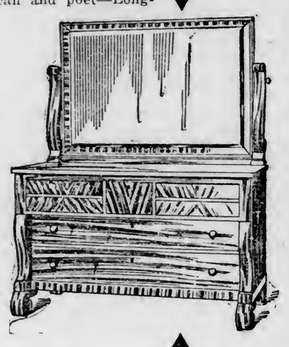
Many Changes

Have taken place since the above lines were first composed by the great American and poet—Longfellow. The growth of the country, and that dominating spirit — hustle — that is in every true American, necessitated changes in our ways of living. It became necessary to forget for a time the real home comforts and instead to work and build for the future, but today finds us going back as far as we can to the "Old Colonial Days" and we are furnishing our homes with that substantial, restful style of furniture.



Special Attention is called to our Bedroom Furniture. Every pattern has been carefully designed and many of them are reproductions from exclusive collections of historical pieces, made by Colonial carpenters, in detail the same as the originals—these patterns being reproduced from original antiques, not from photographs. Every pattern in the line is properly constructed and finished, a large part of the work being hand work. We invite inspection and comparison of this line as well as every line we carry.

BOY SCOUTS FOR DULUTH?

Movement Which Promises to Be National Starts in New York.

Organization Similar to One Formed By Col. Baden Powell.

A Duluth organization of boy scouts may be formed as a part of the national body, which was founded a few days ago in New York city. Boy Scouts are being organized in many cities and the movement appears national.

The desire of the movement is to discipline the American boy, mentally, morally and physically, basing the work upon the boy's innate love of the military, and through it engendering in him a generous patriotism and chivalry, a love of nature through outdoor and athletic exercises and inculcating in him a higher morality and honor, through love of country, obedience to his superiors and fealty to the Constitution and flag.

Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles says of the organization:

"Any measure that tends to benefit the boys, youth and young men of our country, is a national benefaction. The very salvation of the mightiest of republics depends upon the character, integrity and patriotism of its citizens. It will endure just so long as the high standard of our fathers who founded the government and all those who have helped to maintain it since is revered and perpetuated.

"In the Boer war Great Britain realized its want of individuality in the men that composed its armies. Lieut. Gen. Baden-Powell has done much to overcome this defect and to bring about an interest in promoting manly qualities of youth and inspiring them with a spirit of self-reliance, independence of thought and action, and cultivating in them a manly, heroic spirit, with an honorable, noble purpose actuating their daily lives.

"Knights of Honor."

"In England they are termed the boy scouts. 'Knights of Honor' I think would be more suitable in our country, and the knightly qualities would highly adorn a man from earliest boyhood to old age. To do good, to be kind, polite and generous and honorable are the ruling traits that should govern the lives of boys and men.

"In an article written by Benjamin Franklin more than 160 years ago he says that no people are so savage or degraded but what they have some traits of civility, and no people are so highly educated and enlightened but what we see some evidences of rudeness.

"In San Francisco some years ago I saw a man and a boy collide. The man, a workman, and the boy, with books under his arm, hurrying to school. That was an occasion when rudeness might have occurred, but the reverse was the result. The boy said, 'Beg your pardon,' and the man said, 'Excuse me,' both with the politeness of Chesterfields, as they passed on. As I went down the street I said to myself, 'Two gentlemen met that time.'

"So it is in life. We need not go to the gilded drawing rooms to find civility and polished manners. We should find it in every home, and on every avenue. What is needed is to instill into the minds of youth the importance of making their lives more useful, most beneficial and most enjoyable to themselves and the community in which they live. This necessitates good habits, strong constitutions, pure lives, noble purposes, honorable ambition, absoluto honesty and sterling integrity.

"And the more time the young man can spend in the country, communing with nature and enjoying its blessings, the stronger men and better citizens they should be, thereby rendering their lives most satisfactory to themselves and country."

INDIAN SUPPLY WAREHOUSES GO

House Directs Purchase of Supplies in the Open Market.

Washington, May 12.—The house yesterday passed the Indian appropriation bill, which contains a provision which directs the commissioner of Indian affairs to make his purchases of Indian supplies in the open market. This is a victory for Representative C. B. Miller in his fight against the Indian supply warehouses at New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and San Francisco.

In explaining the section of the bill, Mr. Miller pointed out that it was a useless as well as an expensive proposition to maintain five Indian warehouses simply because that policy had been established years ago. He showed that money could be saved to the government by buying supplies at points near Indian reservations, and shipping direct to the agencies, instead of sending them to a storehouse. Mr. Miller hopes that his provision will be maintained in senate.

WOMAN PHYSICIAN IS HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Chicago, May 12.—Dr. Elizabeth Burns, a practicing physician, has been held to the grand jury on the charge of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Sarah Goodkin. On her deathbed, Mrs. Goodkin said she had undergone an illegal operation performed by the woman physician.

Hitchcock for Senator.

Lincoln, Neb., May 12.—Gilbert M. Hitchcock, representative in congress from the Second Nebraska district, has filed nomination papers with the secretary of state as a candidate for United States senator. Congressman Hitchcock said he was satisfied that W. J. Bryan would not be a Democratic candidate for senator. Mr. Hitchcock is editor and publisher of the Omaha World-Herald.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Local interest in politics of the home brand has been comparatively slight, but the announcement of Judge Jaques' candidacy for congress has given it a decided fillip in the Eighth district, while in the state field Smith of Eveleth has enlivened things very creditably. Tomorrow evening the Svea Republican club will contribute whatever may develop at its banquet to the list of live political topics.

Politicians Will Dine and Talk.

It is understood that politics will not be barred on this occasion.

It had been planned by the club members to have State Treasurer Dinehart present as one of the speakers, but he is too busy in the Second district experimenting with congressional fence building, to come to Duluth at this stage of the game. Unless the Democrats nominate a Northeastern Minnesota man, or some one just as good, for state treasurer, however, the man who will succeed Mr. Dinehart will probably be among the banquet guests, Mayor Smith of Eveleth having said the other day that he expected to be here for it.

Governor Eberhart, Attorney General Simpson and Railroad Commissioner Elmquist will come up from St. Paul, and Prof. Frank Nelson from Minneapolis, to take part in the program of addresses. Oscar J. Larson of Duluth will speak, and so will James P. Boyle of Eveleth, assistant county attorney. Dr. J. J. Eklund will be toastmaster.

The banquet, which will be held in the St. Louis hotel, promises to be one of the most successful ever given by the club. There will be 300 guests.

According to a Moorhead dispatch to the Minneapolis Journal, Henry O. Bjorge is likely to become persuaded that he might as well withdraw from the race for the congressional nomination in the Ninth. Ole O. Sageng also, according to the same source of information, probably will not remain even tentatively in the field, either as a Populist or a Democrat. M. J. Daly of Perham, who was a member of the senate from the Fifty-ninth district in the legislatures of 1899 and 1901, is mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate to oppose Halvor Steenerson.

Alvah Eastman of the St. Cloud Journal Press is getting a lot of fun out of the pre-convention campaign. Some time ago the Hibbing Tribune read him into the Democratic party, and he grinned an editorial grin over that. Now comes the Madison Independent Press and gravely reads him back into the Republican party, "because the Journal Press casually referred to Frank A. Day as the boss of the Democratic party," comments Editor Eastman, who adds that he awaits with expectant calmness for some other paper to call him an "insurgent, prohibitionist, organ of the brewery trust, and a few other things."

Alvah Eastman and his Divertisements

Then, just to see, apparently, if he can't start something in another direction, he gravely discusses the alleged "latest rumor," to the effect that John Lind, being slated for president of the university, will refuse to accept the Democratic nomination for governor, Hammond thus becoming the inevitable candidate.

Mr. Eastman began his fun-getting by saying and reiterating that the Republicans are going to nominate a candidate for governor who cannot be elected. The situation has not changed in the slightest degree since that time, when the Second district congressman was just as much a possibility as he is now, but the St. Cloud editor serenly remarks that Governor Eberhart "could probably be elected over Hammond." It is a very good Republican scheme, says Mr. Eastman, and worthy of Ed. Smith.

"It is also said that the genial Edward will be the chairman of the Republican committee and will manage the campaign, and that in case of success he will succeed Wheelock as private secretary to the governor. The Republican party will have a machine that will put Frank Day out of business p. d. q."

All of which goes to show that Alvah Eastman must have his fun. He is certain that Eberhart cannot be elected and he is equally certain that he will be nominated. Also, he is a friend of Eberhart's, for he intimated as much himself when he said that it is a friendly act to try to save a man from humiliating defeat by warning him against courting that fate in accepting a useless nomination.

However, it is not likely that the governor's friends will consider it the act of a friend for Mr. Eastman to suggest that Ed. Smith has been selected to serve as the godfather of Eberhart's candidacy. The people of Minnesota are "wise" to Senator Smith.

However that may be, Eastman is getting his fun out of the mix.

In another number of his interesting journal, Mr. Eastman quotes the Minneapolis Journal as saying that "it will be determined in a few days whether John Lind will be the Democratic candidate for governor, and adds: "There is a somewhat general opinion that it has been settled. By the way, did you ever hear of a man who declined the nomination of his party for governor even when he absolutely refused to be a candidate before the convention? John Lind has the ordinary amount of common clay in his make-up."

Eric L. Winje of Detroit, who formerly was municipal judge of Duluth for a period of three years, has announced himself a candidate for county attorney of Becker county. When he left Duluth he took up his residence in Renville county. Later he went to Becker county, where he has lived for the last four years. He has practiced law and served as municipal court judge at Detroit.

Judge Jaques will not let the grass grow under his feet as a candidate for congress. He will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Democratic club in Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, tonight. There will be two or three other speakers, and the club probably will indorse the candidacy of Mr. Jaques.

Whether the North Dakota voter shall vote for three or for six candidates for the supreme court has been a puzzling question for many persons who have given the provisions of the law only casual consideration. Under the primary law as it stands, the judiciary is, at least in theory, taken out of politics. To insure non-partisan selections the statute says there may be twice as many nominees as there are vacancies on the bench, so that no matter how many candidates enter the lists before the primaries, there will be two sets of candidates in the November election. Thus the voters have an opportunity to register their preferences on two occasions, just as they do when voting in the primaries and later at the election for candidates nominated under party designations.

Nominate Six, Not Three, for Bench.

That is the latest and most generally accepted interpretation of the law.

Another view is that at the primaries the three aspirants for judicial honors who receive the highest vote will be placed on the ticket for confirmatory election in November, no other names being permitted to appear in the judicial column. Many voters are said to accept to this interpretation of the law, but it seems to be in error.

There are ten avowed candidates in the field, including the present Justices Elsworth, Carmody and Fisk and United States District Attorney Rourke, District Judges Burke, Kneeshaw and Goss, Attorney Anderson and Scougaard of Devils Lake and Cooley of Grand Forks.

E. J. Taylor, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for superintendent. He had expetced to support Fred E. Smith of Wahpeton for the nomination, but the Wahpeton man decided not to repeat his attempt of two years ago to capture the prize, so Mr. Taylor took the plunge.

"I am unable to spend any considerable amount of money in politics and hence cannot make a very extensive campaign—either in the way of newspaper announcements or in meeting very many of the people in person. I shall have to depend very largely upon the unsolicited support of the people." That is a part of Usher L. Burdick's announcement that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

High Cost of Campaigning.

Mr. Burdick is being roundly scored by the stalwart press for becoming a candidate for the gubernatorial lieutenancy. He is taunted as an "easy mark," who fell victim to a transparent trick of the eliminators—otherwise the progressives. It is alleged that Burdick, after withdrawing from the field as a candidate for congress, was guilefully set upon by the insurgents with many letters as their weapons, who overcome his aversion to staking his time and what money he may be able to spare against the chance of being defeated by the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor in a Democratic year. That's not quite the way the stalwarts put it. They want the presiding officer of the upper house to be a man of their own clan, and if Burdick is nominated by the progressives on the Republican ticket, with another progressive named for the same office by the Democrats, the stalwarts will probably be up against a square deal, no matter which of the two is elected. The progressives say the stalwarts are not eager to have a square deal in the senate; they'd rather be in control.

Speaking of Burdick's candidacy, the Fargo News makes some observations that apply in any state:

"The qualities which he exhibited in his course as speaker are exactly the qualities which are needed in the office of lieutenant governor, as that officer presides over the senate as the speaker does over the house. A corrupt or weak man is a dangerous person to place in this position, as either is readily made use of by designing persons with axes to grind, and there are a score of ways in which the president of the senate can play into the hands of unscrupulous men by his handling of committees and his parliamentary rulings. There is needed in that office a man who is clean and square, and one in whom the people have confidence."

The almost tearful bewailings of the stalwart press over Burdick's decision to make the run lead to a growing belief that he is very likely to be nominated, even though he has no bar'l.

The Minot Democrat has decided views on the probability or improbability that a Minot aspirant will become governor, saying: "Halley's comet will reach its nearest point to the earth on May 18, 1910, and there is one chance out of 400,000,000—grasp that!—that there will be a collision. This is about the same chance C. A. Johnson stands of being elected governor of North Dakota."

Edward Engerud, stalwart candidate for United States senator, said, in a recent Bismarck interview, that in his opinion the people generally throughout the state are inclined to the belief that the tariff bill was about "the best it was possible to get under all the circumstances. Considering that Aldrich and McCumber and Cannon and Hanna might be classed as "circumstances," possibly the aspirant for such honors as McCumber wears may be right.

Engerud and the Tariff Makers

Not only does Mr. Engerud make general assertions as to wherein the new tariff law is, as he says, beneficial, but he gives figures. For instance, he recently published a letter, in which he says, among other things:

"Harness and saddlery, formerly dutiable at 45 per cent, were reduced to 20 per cent."

Taylor Crum of Fargo came back at him with this:

"This statement is not true. Section 447 of the tariff law of 1897 is as follows: 'Harness, saddles and saddlery, or parts of either, in sets or in parts, finished or unfinished, 45 per centum ad valorem.' Section 461 of the tariff law of 1909 is as follows: 'Harness, saddles, saddlery, in sets or in parts, finished or unfinished, 35 per centum ad valorem.' So the reduction is only to 35 per cent instead of to 20 per cent. He mistates the fact by 15 per cent. Mr. Engerud had nothing to do with making this tariff. We do not blame him for what others did; but I, for one, do object to having a man who aspires to the high office of a senator of the Unitd States, publish over his own signature statements of fact concerning this law which I know are not true."

Chamberlain's Liniment.

This is a new preparation and a good one. It is especially valuable as a cure for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and for the relief from pain which it affords in acute inflammatory rheumatism. Those who have used it have invariably spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Lame back, lame shoulder and stiff neck are due to rheumatism of the muscles, usually brought on by exposure to cold or damp, and are quickly cured by applying this liniment freely and massaging the affected parts. Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is allayed by this liniment. For sale by all druggists.

NEILL COMMENTS ON STEEL LABOR

Says South Bethlehem Conditions Are More or Less Common Everywhere.

Washington, May 12.—The conditions of labor existing at the Bethlehem Steel works at South Bethlehem, Pa., as set forth in a recent report of the bureau of labor, are more or less common throughout the entire steel industry, according to a statement issued by Dr. Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor. He referred to the conditions in the blast furnaces as shocking.

This announcement was brought forth by a protest by President Charles M. Schwab regarding the summary issued by the bureau of labor of the report of its agents on wages and working conditions at the steel plant. Mr. Schwab complained that the summary was unfair to his company.

The commissioner said the report of the agents at the Bethlehem plant showed that of the employes having a working day of 10 hours and 25 minutes, practically all, or about 3,200 men worked only 5 1-3 hours on Saturday.

Neill Makes Comments.

Commissioner Neill said it is "perfectly true that in some departments work for the entire seven days of the week, month in and month out, has been the practice throughout the entire steel industry." Continuing Dr. Neill said:

"The annual report of the bureau of labor on wages and hours shows that in the blast furnaces, for example, eighty-four hours a week has been the regular working time in every section of the country; this means practically a 12 hour day every day in the week. In cases where the day shift and the night shift periodically exchange every week or second week, one shift works six days of twelve hours one week, while the other shift works six days of twelve hours and on the seventh day remains on duty continuously for twenty-four hours, in order to effect the exchange.

"These are conditions of labor which may well be termed shocking."

Would Have Three Shifts.

Dr. Neill added that blast furnace work was necessarily a continued process and that three shifts of eight hours each offered the only plan of relief.

"Mr. Schwab concedes," Dr. Neill continues, "that the present hours of labor in the blast furnace industry are excessive; but says that competitive conditions impose these hours upon his plant so long as they are common to the steel industry."

The commissioner stated that in other departments of the stlel industry, a twelve-hour day for six days a week is not uncommon and is not confined to the Bethlehem Steel works. In many instances, he said these hours have been lengthened into a seven day week of twelve hours per day.

JUDGE'S PLAN FAILS.

Separation of One Year Fails to Reconcile Husband and Wife.

An affidavit asking that she be granted a separation from her husband has been filed by Mrs. Annie Benson. A year ago Judge Dibell of the district court ordered Mr. and Mrs. Benson to separate for a period of one year. Instead of bringing them closer, the separation has made the breach greater, according to the affidavit filed by Mrs. Benson. She alleges that her husband, Alfred Benson, has called repeatedly at her home and threatened to kill her. She also alleges that he has failed to contribute to her support.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The state organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution has been presented with the Governor Sibley house at Mendotta. The gift has come from Archbishop Ireland. The house has been desired by many state societies for many many years, and the Minnesota Daughters are delighted at the gift. The property was given by Archbishop Ireland to the St. Paul chapter, but the members felt that the expense of keeping it up in a befitting manner was too much for the one chapter, and it has been turned over to the state organization, and the nineteen chapters of the state will each do its share toward the upkeep of the house.

Henry Hastings Sibley was the first governor of Minnesota, serving from May 24, 1858, to Jan. 21, 1860. In the "Lives of the Governors of Minnesota," published by the Minnesota Historical society, Governor Sibley's life is summed up as follows: "As Washington stands for the infant nation, so Sibley stands for our infant state. He is the bright consummate flower of our earlier days, and the Muse of History in her final decrees, ever loyal to truth and justice, will write the name of Henry Hastings Sibley, the pioneer, the statesman and the soldier, far up in that pantheon which will preserve the fame of those who have best served the state."

Governor Sibley served gallantly in the Indian wars, and his famous message to Washington after finding the mill which he had been sent to protect from the Indians, burned before his arrival, is remembered by those who lived through those stirring days. Sibley, the fighter, telegraphed: "I found a dam by a mill site, but no mill by a damn sight."

The Sibley house will be used as a musuem for interesting mementoes of Minnesota's history and of D. A. R. memorials. The first gift has come form a St. Paul woman, being a pair of field glasses used by Gen. Custer in the Indian wars. The state D. A. R. is planning an excursion to the house at Mendotta for Flag day, June 12, and many Duluthians, as well as people from all over the state, will go to the little town to visit the house where Minnesota's first governor lived for many years.

The pupils who appeared played their numbers in an interesting manner with much taste and nice style and the audience of parents and friends was delighted.

Friday, May 13, at 8:15 P. M.

TRY THIS DINNER

Soup—Green Pea and Tomato (Without Meat.)

Boil together in a quart of water a pint of peas, a half can of tomatoes and half an onion. When these vegetables are very soft rub through a colander and return them, with the liquid in which they were boiled, to the fire. Rub together two tablespoonfuls of butter and one of flour and stir into the boiling soup until it thickens. Add a scant teaspoon of sugar and pepper and salt to taste. Serve with toasted crackers.

Meat—Mutton Sausages.

A delicate sausage is made from the remains of an underdone leg of roast mutton or lamb. Chop one leg of lean mutton and six ounces of beef suet separately. Mix them with four ounces of bread crumbs and put them into a bowl with a pint of oysters and two anchovies, also minced, a seasoning of thyme, powdered mace, marjoram and some pepper and salt. Moisten with two beaten eggs and a little of the anchovy liquor if required. Make into balls and fry seven or eight minutes.

Vegetables—Baked Peppers.

Cold rice and stewed tomatoes can be made into a delicious filling by seasoning highly with spices and a little onion. These can either be baked directly or can first be fried in hot butter or olive oil and then put in a baking dish covered with a cupful of white stock and baked for half an hour or more. All baked peppers are better when cooked in stock.

Desert—Amber Pudding.

Peel six apples, cut out the core and cut into slices. Put them into a stewpan with three ounces of sugar, two ounces of butter and the peel and juice of one lemon. Stew the apples till they are quite tender. Pass them through a sieve into a large bowl, and stir into the puree the yolks of three eggs. Line a pie dish with puff paste, pour in the mixture and bake for twenty minutes. Make a meringue of the whites of the eggs, spread over the apples and put in the oven to set, not brown.

See for Yourself,

Then you'll know why careful dressers are buying suits at Gray-Tallant's as nowhere else.

THE EVENING STORY

HIS GUARDIAN ANGEL

By George A. Wade.

The Rev. William Vincent found it difficult to keep his thoughts upon the topic he had selected for the next Sunday's sermon. That morning he had received a notice from the bank in the city informing him that his account was overdrawn, and he had just mailed to Chicago a check for $100 which was to be added to a fund for the young widow and child of a former classmate.

Mr. Vincent had a charge in one of the suburbs of New York, where he was very popular, but where he was paid a salary that was scarcely equal to his proper support after subjection to the inroads made upon it under the prompting of a disposition that made the sorrows of others his own. Mr. Vincent's charities were sometimes almost beyond his means.

He finally had brought upon himself a financial crisis, for he could see no way of making his account good at the bank in time to meet that check. Even the remembrance of charming Winnie Waterfield could not remove the clouds from his brow. She was one of the most beautiful girls in Westchester county and the only daughter of William Waterfield, a rich manufacturer.

And between lovely Winnie Waterfield and the Rev. William Vincent there was something more than mutual admiration, more than common sympathy. Though he was thirty whilst she was but twenty-two; though the rector was poor whilst she was fairly wealthy; though the rector had never actually proposed to her, nor she shown him too clearly her heart; yet these two, the man and the woman, knew as well what were their feelings for each other as any two folks ever did.

How well he recalled this morning her words only the last time he spoke to her, a few days previously:

"Yes, Mr. Vincent," she had said, laughingly, alluding to some difficulty she had mentioned, "I always think it's the best thing to do what one knows to be right, however dark the prospect seems. I like our family motto, 'Honor clear!' We must live up to that, you know, whatever happens. I'm sure the most precious possession of any man or woman is to have 'Honor clear,' to have an unstained conscience. Don't you agree?"

Thoughts of Miss Waterfield suggested the idea of seeking from her father the means he needed, but his heart rebelled strongly against such a thing, and his pride told him that the very last man he should make his creditor in that way was surely the father of the woman he loved.

No; he felt he could not apply to Mr. Waterfield in this emergency. And, failing that, he saw no other way. His mind was in a whirl; his thoughts seemed dazed.

He went through the service on Sunday, but he could put little real life and heart either into the prayers, the lessons or the sermon. The congregation felt instinctively that there was something wrong with the minister, but they could not determine what it was.

After the services were over and he was in the vestry preparing to go home, Mr. Waterfield, who was treasurer of the congregation, entered and handed him an envelope.

"It was handed to me by a stranger from New York who had been visiting her and asked me to give it to you," he said, and at once bowed himself out.

Mr. Vincent opened the envelope, within which he found a $100 bill and a note which read:

"From one who liked your sermon; to be used for the good of the church."

His breath came and went in gasps. One hundred dollars! Just the sum needed to put that banking account right, with the little that he could add to it from his little store of cash at home.

"What a relief it will be to put that sum in the bank tomorrow," he said to himself. "It is not quite right, but I can repay it to the church by degrees. And it will make unnecessary the exposure of my financial troubles. What a relief to know that Mr. Waterfield and Winifred—" He suddenly stopped. With the whisper of that loved name there floated across his mind certain words which the charming girl herself had said to him not more than a week ago. Words that now seemed to burn into his very brain.

"Yes, Mr. Vincent, I always think it's the best thing to do what one knows to be right in these matters, however dark the prospect seems. 'Honor clear!' Don't you agree?"

He had heartily acquiesced at the time.

"Good heavens!" he murmered to himself, as he recalled them one by one; "and I am thinking of doing this thing—I, who love her, who think her the sweetest and best of women, was about to do this thing which she would so have scorned! God forgive me!"

And forgiveness came to him in the satisfaction he felt on determining that the $100 bill should be banked over to the church treasury in the morning.

"Darling Winnie," he said to himself, "you have proved my guardian angel, indeed. But for your words, for the remembrance of your pure and innocent beauty, the glory of your unstained family name, I should perhaps have sinned, have shown myself unfit for such a woman. Thank God, at any rate, I've saved myself that sorrow. My dearest, sweetest, guardian angle!"

As if to reward him for his thoughts of her so much, that same afternoon he saw Winnie and her father coming towards the parsonage. How delightful a picture she looked; what a beautiful smile welcomed him as he put out his hand.

"I thought I'd just run over for an hour, Vincent,' said the manufacturer, 'as I wanted to have a word or two with you about different parish matters. But Winnie would come with me for the walk, thought I half intimated that our affairs were private."

"You can get on with your private chat, dear," said she, carelessly.

Mr. Vincent will kindly allow me, I'd like to look round the dear old rectory garden whilst you're so busy."

The pastor expressed his delight at her request and led her to the French window that opened on the lawn.

"Now, I shall give you a quarter of an hour for your private talk," she said, as she stepped out and closed the window. "That's quite long enough."

"Vincent," said Mr. Waterfield, "I'm sure you'll pardon me if I seem to intrude. But something you said in your sermon this morning about the duties of the rich stuck in my mind, and I felt impelled somehow to come to you this afternoon. I fear I've not done as much as I ought to have done from my position in the parish. So I want to make amends. Now let me begin with yourself. I don't think we are paying you what your are worth to us, and I know how many ways you have of doing good with your money. But I don't feel like asking the congregation to do more, so I am going to do my part of it in a quiet way. Here is my check for $100, which sum I shall give you quarterly."

Mr. Vincent grasped the manufacturer's hand with a hearty "God bless you."

"Tut, tut!" ejaculated the other. "Bless me, why, I might be an angel! Tut, tut!"

"You don't know. Perhaps you are to one or two in the parish today, with those gifts," replied the pastor with a sweet smile.

Then entered again the vision of beauty from the garden.

"I hope you've done that private chat now," she said.

Mr. Westerfield laughed as he replied, "Here's a good joke, Winnie. Vincent's just been calling me an angel."

"So you are, dear old dad," she replied. "I'm delighted to find that Mr. Vincent thinks as I do."

"I notice he generally does," murmured her father.

"It's true, sir," said the pastor. "And whilst you are so good to the village, let us not forget that Miss Winifred is counted by everybody, and not least by myself, as the true guardian angel of the parish.

"Oh, Mr. Vincent!" said she, blushing deeply.

And the next June there was a big wedding at the Waterfield mansion, for its rich owner was proud to bestow upon this pastor for life the companionship of his guardian angel.

YOUNG MEN AND MAIDENS

By MISS EXPERIENCE

Comradeship Versus Matrimony.

There is a growing comradeship between the sexes, and some people are inclined to blame it for the decreasing demand for orange blossoms. Does it really act as a deterrent to matrimony?

Men of the present day are able to indulge in the sympathy and companionship of a woman without being either expected or obliged to make her a life partner in a very limited concern. Men are liable to have as many girl chums as they care to take out to dinner, and so the necessary female element is supplied; and given in small doses is more appreciated by the man.

Women listen patiently to their men chums as they talk solely about themselves, and who, after a delightful evening, return to their bachelor quarters, glad to bid an revoir and know that their responsibilities are at an end.

"Such a bore to get married when we can so easily spend a jolly evening with some nice little girl." And the other fellow nods appreciatively as he yawns and congratulates himself on not having to ascertain if doors are fastened and silver safely stowed away.

Years ago a man had to marry a girl before they could become chums.

Now, when the companionship of a girl can be so readily obtained man does not find it so irksome to remain a solitary bachelor. In fact, the knowledge that he has not, paid for the cuantecler nat and the charming dress, adds greatly to his enjoyment of both, and gives a rosy tint to his lonely fireside.

Girls boast and glory in what they call their freedom, and what their grandmothers termed fast. Freedom is a great and beautiful thing at 19 but when viewed from the wrinkled eyes of the spirister of 40 it is not quite so alluring. Freedom and intimacy have resulted in droves—there is no other expression so applicable—of women who rejoice in an easy friendship with men, but who are never asked to join in a life comradeship.

THROUGH A LANE OF FIRE

Minneapolis Motorist Has a Thrilling Trip to Head of Lakes.

Drove Eight Miles Through Flames and Dense Smoke.

Harold Vorse drove his Courier car from Minneapolis to Duluth yesterday, running a gauntlet of fire.

Mr. Vorse, who is vice president of the Northland Motor Car company of Minneapolis, left his office at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He expected to arrive here about 4 o'clock in the afternoon but his struggle to get through the many brush fires which he encountered without being blown up by his gasoline tank, lengthened his trip by three hours and he did not arrive here until about 7.

Mr. Vorse said that the first fires he encountered were near Sturgeon Lake. The sawdust that had been dumped into the depressions in the road was smoldering and Mr. Vorse was compelled to drive blindly through the smoke, unable to see where he was going. Between Mahtowa and Barnum he ran between two lines of fire that flanked the road for about eight miles. He pulled the throttle open and dashed along the fire-bordered lane. The machine went into a ditch where it was forced by a farmer's wagon which failed to yield the road. It stayed there for nearly three-quarters of an hour and was in danger of being destroyed by the flames which crept near to the gasoline tank.

After fighting back the fire and getting the machine into working order again Mr. Vorse continued to Duluth without mishap. He will return to Minneapolis Saturday.

SETTLERS MAY BE ARRESTED

Claimed to Have Started Forest Fires Near Black River Falls.

Following an investigation yesterday as to the origin of some of the forest fires that have been raging in Douglas county and vicinity, Deputy Fire Warden Charles J. Good of Ashland may cause the arrest today of several settlers near Black River Falls.

It is said that the deputy warden, who was yesterday in Superior, had obtained information that some of the settlers had purposely set fires to clear their land of brush, without any thought of the danger to their neighbors and the forests of the county.

If Warden Good is able today to justify his suspicions, many of the settlers will be arrested.

CARUSO THREATENER GUILTY.

Black Hand Conspirator to Be Sentenced Monday.

New York, May 12.—A verdict of guilty was found yesterday in the Caruso "Black Hand" case in Brooklyn. The man on trial was Antonio Miziana, accused of attempting to extort $15,000 from the famous tenor. Miziana will be sentenced on Monday.

your verdict you may take into consideration, as affecting her credibility, her interest in the result of the case, and that she is the wife of the accused party on trial, testifying in his behalf."

Attention was also introduced by the court to the fact that all evidence against Dr. Hyde was circumstantial.

By virtue of the law in this state, the instructions to the jury were read before the attorneys began their arguments.

Aisles Filled by Crowd.

Every door of the courtroom was thrown open this morning and spectators surged in, filling the seats and the aisles. Judge Latshaw said that at noon he would send out the spectators of the morning through a side door and admit a new crowd by another entrance.

Attorney Frank P. Walsh made the first address for the defense. Before the attorney spoke of any of the evidence in the case he scathingly attacked Mr. Jost for the nature of his address last night in which Dr. Hyde was referred to as "this fellow," and Mrs. Hyde upbraided as a falsifier, for the testimony she had given in behalf of her husband. The charge of the state, said the speaker, was equivalent to the statement that Mrs. Hyde was a conniver in the alleged murder of her brother.

Mr. J. Pluvius has an unpleasant habit of turning on the sprinkler at inopportune times and withholding it when a little moisture would be welcome, not to say received with joy. Now, when Northeastern Minnesota is praying for rain to extinguish the forest fires, Mr. Pluvius is slumbering, while O. Sol, J. Frost and O. Boreas are working overtime. If somebody will explode a bomb under Mr. Pluvius' left ear perhaps he will awaken and get busy. The fair, cool weather continues and more of the same is promised for tonight and tomorrow with a heavy frost tonight.

Cool weather prevailed a year ago today with a northeaster threatened.

The sun rose this morning at 4:35 and it will set at 7:32, giving fourteen hours and fifty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Saskatchewan high pressure area has moved southeastward since Wednesday morning and is now central over the Dakotas. It is causing a much cooler weather throughout the North Central states, with freezing ten peratures in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Montana, the Dakotas, Northern Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin. Langdon, Minn. reported a minimum temperature of 14 deg. this morning. The Eastern disturbance is passing off to sea over Virginia, attended by light to heavy rains in the Ohio valley and the Southeastern states. Light rains also fell in British Columbia due to the movement of a small depression in that province.

Losses there, it is said, will be confined mostly to the destruction of cedar and pulpwood, with some lumber companies losing more or less through the burning of their camps and equipment. Here and there settlers have been driven from their homes, abandoning them to the onrushing flames.

From Cass Lake comes word that the forest fires are under control. A fire line has been thrown around the flames and it seems impossible for them to leap the artificial barriers.

TOOK REFUGE IN STREAM.

Settlers Near Grand Marias Forced to Take to the Water.

Bareheaded, with clothing scorched, and their hair and eyebrows singed, a number of refugees reached Grand Marais this morning after spending the night in the bed of the stream, according to a special wireless dispatch received by The Herald this morning.

The fires were raging about a mile west of Grand Marais last night, and about $40,000 worth of timber, posts and ties owned by the Schroeder Lumber company, Chris Johnson, J. T. Murphy and S. C. Murphy was destroyed. The landings owned by all of these persons or companies were destroyed and all the buildings at the landings. The owners and occupants of the buildings were forced to lie all night in the bed of the stream, at times submerging themselves under the water to keep from being burned to death. They reached the village this morning, bareheaded, and with scarcely enough clothing to cover them.

The houses of Ole Allan, John Murphy and Charles Murphy, on the outskirts of the village, are in danger, and the fire department and private citizens are out helping the owners fight back the fire.

A big fire is burning on Stump river.

The village of Lutsen was reported to have been added to the list of those destroyed by the forest fires on the north shore, together with Rosebush and Tofte, and Chippewa, an Indian settlement near Grand Marais. This morning, however, it was denied that Lutsen was burned.

The most detailed information about Grand Marais' fight up to that time, came last night by wireless from the steamer America, which left Duluth yesterday morning and reached Grand Marais at about 10 o'clock last night. The operator on the America in reporting conditions along the north shore, said that all the region surrounding Grand Marais was practically deserted by settlers and logging camp employes, the few settlers remaining fighting desperately to save their property from destruction by the fires that are raging all along the shore line. The logging camps have been wiped out.

The people of Grand Marais have turned out to a man to fight the fire there, which is now a mile or more from the town. Apparently the Grand Marais people have won their fight.

Situation Serious.

L. B. Holstead, local manager for Booth & Co., who came down from the north shore several days ago, does not take an optimistic view of the situation at Grand Marais.

"Even though the forest fire is more than a mile away from the town," said Mr. Holstead, "the danger has not passed. So long as the blaze is raging, there will be the ever present possibility that a high wind will carry big firebrands across the intervening space and communicate to the village buildings a fire that may wipe out the place. Of course, this is only a possibility. I don't mean to predict any such result. But the danger will not cease until the fires are extinguished or burned out."

When Mr. Holstead was in the vicinity of Grand Marais, he said, the smoke hung over the lake like a pall, and the heat was so intense and the danger to the boat so acute that streams of water were played on the craft all the time she was in shore. The smoke extends over the lake, making navigation difficult.

Lake traffic men say that the north shore fires are likey to have the effect of hurting tourist business for some time, but they believe that this condition will not last long.

Although the situation presents encouraging aspects, woodsmen shake their heads and say it is no certainty that the greatest danger is gone by. With rainfall wanting and the possibility of a strong wind arising at any time, they fear that the fires may bring up with renewed violence at any time.

Conditions At Gilbert.

At Gilbert, near Eveleth, the fire invaded the city limits yesterday and threatened the high school. Roofs of the north end residences were drenched by volunteer firemen under Chiefs Silver and Cosgrove, who were joined by merchants and clerks from the stores, which suspended business. Residents on Minnesota avenue, whose houses were imperilled, moved their household goods to Eveleth. The flames were carried forward rapidly by a strong wind, but the breeze subsided toward evening and the fighters gained the upper hand. In the Mud Hen district the schoolhouse of District No. 16 was destroyed. Settlers have lost much cordwood. Relief has been sent from Eveleth to the settlers and surrounding towns where needed.

Fire At Lester Park.

There is a bush fire back of Lester park that may develop into a serious menace to the park if a high wind springs up.

Just at present there is no particular danger, except to the Richards farm, which is about a mile from the edge of the fire. The local fire department has not been called upon to fight the blaze, but is holding itself in readiness to respond immediately if summoned.

No other danger spots in the vicinity of Duluth have been called to the attention of the fire department today. It is believed that the fire at Hawthorne yesterday was started by a spark from a locomotive. The Bunnell mill, the residence of its owner, W. H. Bunnell, and practically all of the buildings on the west side of the railroad tracks were destroyed, entailing a loss of between $20,000 and $30,000. The bridge across Middle river was badly damaged.

DISASTER IN BRITISH MINE

there was the gravest apprehension regarding the entombed men.

Distracted crowds of relatives surrounded the pithead and the scene was distressing.

Extends Under the Sea.

The colliery is owned by the Earl of Lonsdale and its workings extend four or five miles beneath the sea.

The spot where the eighty-five hewers and some fifty odd shiftmen, still imprisoned, were working at the time of the explosion is about three miles from the shaft exit. The rescuers directed their efforts to tunnelling a road through the accumulations blocking the passageway, and by midafternoon had reached a point within a mile of the goal. Their progress, however, was slow, as dangerous fumes filled the workings.

THIRTEEN LOSE LIVES IN WRECK OF STEAMER

sengers, most of whom were women and children, and a crew of thirty. She left St. Louis at 7 o'clock with a heavy cargo, including a number of cattle and other livestock. The voyage was considered precarious because of the great amount of driftwood floating in the river, due to the annual spring rise.

Two of the dead were the wife and daughter of Isaac T. Rhea, president of the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet company, owners of the boat. Mrs. Rhea was dragged from the water alive, but died within an hour. The body of Miss Anna Rhea was not recovered. Miss Louise Rhea, another daughter, escaped. They were en route to their home in Nashville after visiting friends in St. Louis.

One Body Recovered.

Only one body, that of Mrs. Rhea, was recovered. The river is being dragged by the crew of the wrecked boat.

Some of the survivors of the wreck arrived here this morning by train. They were without baggage and some had few clothes. They were sent to hotels and their homes.

Miss Louise Rhea who lost her mother and sister, could not walk unsupported.

Coroner Hensley of Pevely, Mo., began an inquest into Mrs. Rhea's death today. Several of the survivors remained at Glenn Park to testify.

The younger set of passengers were dancing when the boat struck the rock.

Glen Park, the scene of the accident, is a river landing, the chief buildings of which are a general store, a boarding house and a cement plant. The place is almost inaccessible to telegraph lines and the news of the disaster came to St. Louis in a roundabout way from Kimmswick and Sulphur springs.

Could Not Control Boat.

Shortly before reaching Glen Park, the Saltillo encountered a shoreward draw, which was fought frantically by the pilots. The engines were reversed but the efforts to prevent the collision were unavailing. As the big boat swung from the current inshore despite the reversed engines and the rudder thrown hard over, she was driven with increasing speed toward land and turned completely around.

With the noise of rending timbers and the shrieks of women and children passengers, the cries of the crew and the bellowing of the cattle, the vessel struck a hidden rock and sank almost in reach of land, at a point where the water was twenty feet deep.

Passengers and members of the crew clung to the timbers, while those more fortunate lent their aid immediately to the rescue of the helpless. The majority of the passengers were in their staterooms. The collision came so suddenly they were plunged into the water before they knew what had happened.

Rescue trains with physicians and relief supplies were sent to the scene this morning.

The City of Saltillo was built at Jeffersonville, Ind., in 1892, and was 200 feet long, 37 feet wide and drew 6½ feet of water. The tonnage was 372. The vessel is entered in the government bureau of navigation as a passenger boat. It was bound for Waterloo, Ala., on the Tennessee river.

ment, also may be called to explain the part he played in the preparation of the president's letter, exonerating Ballinger and dismissing Glavis.

Unless more time than is anticipated is consumed in the cross-examination of Dennett and Schwartz the investigation will be completed before the end of the present month and the committee will make its report to congress during the present session.

Attorney General Wickersham probably will be called as a witness in the investigation to testify in regard to a conversation he had with Henry M. Hoyt regarding Assistant Secretary Pierce's construction of the coal land law of May 28, 1908.

Plies Denies It.

In a personal explanation to the senate yesterday, Senator Plies of Washington disavowed any responsibility for the appointment of Richard A. Ballinger as commissioner of the general land office or later as secretary of the interior. This action resulted from intimations in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation that Mr. Plies had influenced the appointment in the interest of the Cunningham coal claimants.

CASS COUNTY LAND SALE.

State Auditor Iverson Selling Much Northern Minnesota Land.

Walker, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Auditor Iverson and E. H. Walden, chief land clerk, are here today conducting a sale of state lands in Cass county. About 30,000 acres are to be offered. About 12,500 acres were offered for sale at Park Rapids yesterday and much sold. Tomorrow about 9,000 acres in Beltrami county will be offered at Bemidji.

Four thousand acres were sold at International Falls early in the week. An island located in the Rainy river was sold at International Falls for average price per acre of $53, there being a keen contest for this piece of land because of its very advantageous location for a summer resort. The average price obtained for all the land sold was between $7.50 and $8, and there seemed much interest in the lands all over the county. Some tracts were sold to parties residing in the southern part of the state.

ON THE IRON RANGES

GATHER HERE ON SATURDAY

Practical Mining Captains Institute Will Meet This Week in Duluth.

At Least Fifty Members of Organization Expected to Attend This Meeting.

Aurora, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Practical Mining Captains' Institute of the Mesaba range will be held at Duluth Saturday next. The institute will be just one year old on that date and the meet will be made a notable occasion.

In the year that the institute has been in existence much good has been accomplished, and the organization promises to become a power for good and for the bettering of conditions among the vast army of men employed in the iron mining industry.

It is expected that about fifty members will be present at this meeting and a program of exceptional interest has been arranged. The mining captains of the Cuyuna district will be present at this meeting and unite with the organization.

Banquet at Spalding.

After the meeting the institute will adjourn to the Spalding hotel, where a banquet will be held, which will be attended by a large number of mining men other than mining captains.

The institute takes up the work in a field not covered by any other organization of men and is constantly dealing with problems that are of vital interest. One of the many important subjects taken up during the past year was that of "First Aid to the Injured." The captains are constantly in contact with those who are engaged in work of the most hazardous class and are constantly endeavoring to lessen their risks and to provide for speedy and practical assistance in time of need.

BOTTLE AND BRICK WERE WEAPONS USED

By Couple Sent to Penitentiary for Assaulting Another at Buhl.

Virginia, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roda Ibasich, indicted for killing a fellow workman at Gilbert some few weeks ago, was brought from Duluth last night, and his trial is set for next Monday. Frank Grenlund and John Hautala were also brought from Duluth. These men, together with Isaac Aho, the latter charged with having committed an assault upon John Chisholm March 12. Aho's case is now on trial and is expected to go to the jury today. The jurors on the case are John R. Harrington, Adolph Kellar, A. W. Hubbard, C. C. Butler, George E. Lindberg, Matthew Ettinger, Charles Johnson, John Byrne, Daniel Perry, Charles A. Brown, J. H. Hillyer and J. H. Robinson.

John Knustila was sentenced to serve two years, and Frank Hill one year in the state penitentiary at Stillwater by Judge Hughes after being found guilty of an assault in the second degree upon the person of Alpin Vilhonen at the Kinny mine, near Buhl, March 25. Vilhonen was pretty badly beaten and still shows the marks of ill treatment, carrying a scar on the side of his nose and chin. The neck of a beer bottle and a brick were the weapons used in the assault. Hill was given the lighter sentence because the testimony showed he did not use any weapon other than his hands.

CHISHOLM LOTS SELLING RAPIDLY

Eight Sales Daily in Various Additions to Growing Town Reported.

Chisholm, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Chisholm was wiped off the map by the disastrous forest fires two years ago next September, few imagined that at this early date a new town would be in evidence or that property would be in such a demand, but it is nevertheless a fact. There is much building going on in addition to what has already been done toward making a new Chisholm, while inquiries for property and realty sales are daily surprising the keenest sleeper. Ten lots were sold yesterday in the Northern addition while real estate men report an average sale of eight lots daily in the various additions. Nick Mutteinen is erecting a two-story business building on Maple street while about $14,000 is being spent in sewer work and eight blocks of cement sidewalks are being laid on Central avenue and First and Second avenues.

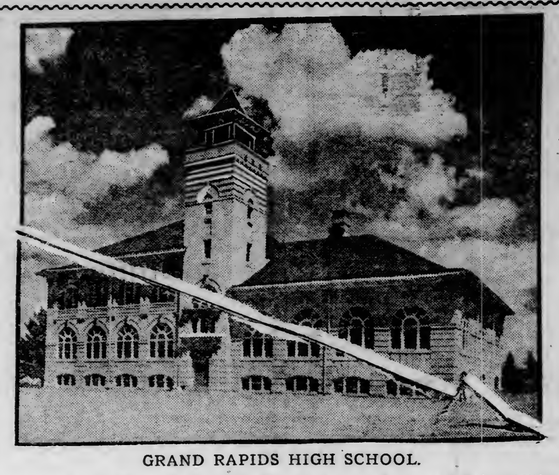
A post mortem examination was made of the body of John Julas, who was found dead Tuesday morning in the rear of Valch's saloon. Death was found to be due to a rupture of the aorta and a blood clot in the heart.

SEEK FRANCHISE ON NEXT TUESDAY

Hibbing Street Car Promoters Elect Officers Meaning Business.

Hibbing, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The promoters of the Hibbing Street Railway mean business and are laying their plans to secure a charter and proceed with the construction of the plant. Next Tuesday evening the council will be asked for a franchise. As it will unquestionably be granted, it is proposed to proceed with the work this year. All of the men interested are Hibbing residents making it a purely local affair. The stockholders held a meeting and elected the following officers: H. C. Imas, president; Dr. G. M. Butchart, vice president; J. A. Redfern, secretary; Frank Lavell, treasurer; P. J. Somers, Frank Dear, H. P. Reed, A. H. Hayes, W. N. Brown, Frank Ansley, J. Sheehy and Henry Breen, directors. The company has already been incorporated.

VOTE TO ENLARGE SCHOOLS



GRAND RAPIDS HIGH SCHOOL.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The special school election to decide upon the proposition of enlarging the high school building by making an additional tax levy of $15,000 resulted in a favorable vote, almost two to one. Plans are on foot to begin the work at once.

GOVERNMENT MAN AFTER POINTERS

Ascertaining Whether Price Placed on Virginia Building Site Is Normal.

Virginia, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Special Government Inspector Brackett of Washington is looking over the site selected for the new federal building. The department recently declared the price asked for the site too high and it is presumed that Mr. Brackett was sent here for the purpose of ascertaining if other property values are in conformity with the price demanded for this site. The site selected is at the northeast corner of Maple street and Wyoming avenue and the price asked is $17,750 for a 145-foot frontage. Mr. Brackett expressed the opinion that this site was well selected, but further than this he was non-committal.

ACCIDENT AT STRIPPING.

Jones Brothers' Cars Leave Dump, Brakeman Being Injured.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Jones Bros.' Stripping company had a bad smashup Tuesday afternoon. A train of six loaded dirt cars slid off the dump a distance of sixty feet, entirely demolishing the cars. A brakeman was slightly injured while jumping from the cars, receiving several slight bruises which are not thought to be serious.

Forest Fires Do Damage.

Forest fires are again busy destroying piles of timber and wood near town. The smoke from the fires is so dense that traffic on the county road between here and Hibbing is completely stopped. Several teams had to turn back on their way to this village on account of the dense smoke.

IN NASHWAUK SCHOOLS.

Picture Exhibit and Program Prove to Be Interesting.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The picture exhibit and program given by the school children and teachers of the Nashwauk school proved a success. The children played their parts well and credit must be given the teachers for their excellent training. The school also secured for the event Harrington Beard of Minneapolis to exhibit his large collection of the world's best pictures for the school and home, which were very attractive. A large crowd attended the event. The school has also secured their new entertaining numbers, which will be played at the school the coming term.

COOK SCHOOL HAS A CLOSING EVENT

Pupils Give Entertainment While Adults Present a Comedy.

Cook, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Ella Carey closed a successful term of school last Friday, returning to her home in Cloquet Tuesday. On Friday afternoon she was surprised by patrons and friends marching into the school room with ice cream, cakes and presents. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all present.

Saturday night Miss Carey's pupils gave an entertainment which was above the average, followed by the comedy, "The Old Maids' Club," given by fourteen adult people of Cook. Ella Carey as president of the club displayed unusual dramatic ability. Nannie Pearson in a gray wig made an excellent "Martha." Mrs. Ferguson as "Sally" kept the crowd convulsed with her drollery. In "Gushing Susan," with her cork-screw curls, it was hard to recognize Mrs. Ellsworth. Little Christenson alias "Lucretia," made a hit with her dancing stunt. Mrs. J. Wilkinson, though suffering with a bad cold, made a very creditable "Dora Doolittle." Selma Ardin, as "Maud, who still hopes on," sustained this difficult part with great credit to herself. Minnie Pearson, as "Bashful Matilda, afraid of being kissed," and Hazel Pearson as "Faith," played their parts well. Gust Ardin, in the role of "Mr. James," reporter for The Duluth Herald, was excellent, improving on the author's conception of this character. Floran Ellsworth as "Tommy," the old maids' darling, was all that could be desired. "Viola" with her cat was impersonated by John Miller, who created much amusement by his treble voice and snappish manner. Floyd Deweese in the role of "Lucy" made a very grotesque bit of femininity. Steve Hughs was right in his element as "Mary," who was guilty of peeling onions for the beau who would not propose. Eddie Ericson completely lost his identity in a tall maen lady with a squeaky voice, known as "Maria." Herbert Ellsworth made a very mirth-provoking "Betsey Bobinett."

An ice cream festival and dance wound up the exercises.

The site for the co-operative creamery here is being cut into condition and men are hauling rock and sand for the foundation.

Anderson Bros. are also building the foundation for a large store.

EVELETH SCHOOL PLAY TO BE GIVEN MAY 21.

Eveleth, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The eighth grade students composing the cast of the one-act comedy playlet, "The Obstinate Family," who have been rehearsing steadily the past few weeks, under the direction of Miss Margaret Denfeld and Miss Polly Bullard of the faculty, will give the play in the high school auditorium, Saturday evening, May 21.

IT SLUGS HARD.

Coffee a Sure and Powerful Bruiser.

"Let your coffee slave be denied his cup at its appointed time! Headache—sick stomach—fatigue like unto death. I know it all in myself, and have seen it in others. Strange that thinking, reasoning beings will persist in its use," says a Topeka, Kan., man.

He says further that he did not begin drinking coffee until after he was twenty years old, and that slowly it began to poison him, and affect his hearing through his nervous system.

"Finally, I quit coffee and the conditions slowly disappeared, but one cold morning the smell of my wife's coffee was too much for me and I took a cup. Soon I was drinking my regular allowance, tearing down brain and nerves by the daily dose of the nefarious concoction.

"Later I found my breath coming hard and frequent fits of nausea, and then I was taken down with bilious fever.

"Common sense came to me and I quit coffee for good and went back to Postum. I at once began to gain and have had no returns of my bilious symptoms, headache, dizziness, or vertigo.

"I now have health, bright thoughts, and added weight, where before there was invalidism, the blues, and a skeleton-like condition of the body.

"My brother quit coffee because of its effect on his health and now uses Postum. He could not stand the nervous strain while using coffee, but keeps well on Postum.

"Miss F., I know personally, was incapable of doing a day's work while she was using coffee. She quit it and took up Postum and is now well and has perfectly steady nerves."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR COMET DOING HARM

Two Harbors Instructor Sets at Rest Fears of a Dire Calamity.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wednesday evening, at the boys' Y. M. C. A., Prof. W. C. Lord of the local high school delivered a lecture to a large audience of boys, men and women on "Halley's Comet." He first gave the early career of Halley and then Halley's discovery of the comet. He explained the planet system and the comet. He said that there was one chance in 281,000,000 of the comet hitting the earth, and that the comet's tail would have the same effect upon us as a barrel of sugar dropped into Lake Superior, and then trying to taste sugar in the water. After the lecture he answered a number of questions for the audience. Prof. Lord will deliver this lecture to the high school the coming week.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the First M. E. church held a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. H. Clark and had a very profitable time.

Over 35,000 Tons Being Received Daily at the Two Harbors Docks.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ore business continues to show an increase over the business of last year. The receipts to May 10, 1909, were 228,544 tons, compared with 644,000 tons for the same period this year. The receipts for May of last year were 160,094 tons and for May this year they are 251,060 tons, showing an increase of 90,966 tons. The average per day for this period last year was 20,011 tons and for this year they are 35,865 tons. The forest fires have slightly kept business down, but now business will be increasing daily.

FOR GREATER AURORA.

Aurora, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—At an enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of Aurora at the new village hall last night, the Aurora Commercial club was organized, officers elected and the movement for a larger and greater Aurora started.

The officers elected were: W. H. Guinn, president; Judge Louis Tillmans, first vice president; John McGrath, second vice president; Dr. Connors, third vice president; P. M. Johnson, secreary; A. G. Schmidt, treasurer.

The club will meet twice a month, on the first and third Thursdays of the month. The first matter taken up by the club was the Fourth of July celebration, which is in charge of the executive committee. Other matters to be taken up at once are the securing of a hotel and a public park.

The enthusiasm shown at the meeting was intense and the club promises to be one of the most active bodies on the range.

change their minds as to the utility of this novel feature of marine architecture within the next eighteen months, by which time the Florida should be in commission.

Built in Government Yard.

The ship is the first of any real importance to be constructed in a government navy yard for a number of years, and naturally her performance will be watched with keen interest by the private shipbuilders, who are now building her sister ship, the Utah, in Camden, N. J. As a matter of fact, the North Dakota, built by the Fore River Shipbuilding company, and the Delaware, constructed at Newport News, with the Florida and Utah, will make what is described as a unit in naval parlance, meaning that these vessels are practically of the same type and may be expected to operate together in naval warfare. The North Dakota and the Delaware are nearly 2,000 tons smaller than the other two vessels, though the armament is practically the same, and the smaller vessels, indeed, are rated at about a quarter of a knot faster.

Dimensions of the Florida.

The Florida is 521 feet 6 inches long, nearly as long as a city block. Her beam is 88 feet 2½ inches; she draws 28½ feet of water and displaces 21,825 tons in light order, while when fully loaded with her supplies and ammunition she will measure up to 23,033 tons. Her estimated speed is 20¾ knot per hour, which would have been regarded a few years ago as the top notch for a swift unarmored cruiser. She will carry 2,500 tons of coal in her bunkers, which should enable her to make the round trip across the Atlantic at half speed. Parsons turbine engines, built in the New York navy yard, of the enormous power of 28,000-horse power, will maintain the high speed of this big ship, and the steam will be supplied by sectional boilers.

The main battery of the ship will consist of ten 12-inch rifles arranged in pairs in turrets. Looking at her bow—one would think that the Florida had what is called superposed or double-decked turrets like the Kearsarge and the Kentucky, but as a matter of fact there are only two guns in each of the five turrets and the second turret in the forepart of the ship is necessarily elevated on a superstructure so as to be able to fire freely over the top of the foremost turret.

Carries Torpedo Tubes.

There is a very formidable secondary battery composed of sixteen 5-inch rapid firers four 3-pounders, two 1-pounders and a number of machine guns. There are also two 21-inch submerged tubes for torpedoes.

Just what the armor is to be on these ships the naval designers will not tell. That marks the adoption of a new policy in the American navy, where heretofore it has been customary to set out in smallest detail in the chief constructor's annual reports the thickness of every inch of armor on the ship. It is believed, though, that the side armor will average about twelve inches and that it will be extended over a length of the ship heretofore uncovered and will be much wider than the ordinary armor belt so as not to expose the under body of the ship when she rolls in a sea wave.

More than 1,000 Men.

It will take more than 1,000 men to manage this great fighting machine; the minimum requirement is sixty officers and 954 enlisted men. The estimated cost of the ship complete is $6,000,000 as fixed in the act of May 13th, 1908. Her keel was laid March 8, 1909, so that the naval constructors have reason to be proud of the rapidity with which they have carried on their work.

and the five heads of the student corps, who wore blue jackets, white breeches, jackboots and particolored sashes.

Accompanied the Emperor.

Four hundred guests of the university who held cards of admission, were seated when Emperor William, accompanied by Mr. Roosevelt, entered from a side door of the hall. As they appeared the university choir chanted "Heil dir em Sirgerkranz" ("Hail to the Conqueror"), the Prussian national hymn to the strains of "America."

The two were followed by Empress Auguste Victoria, Princess Victoria Louise, Prince and Princess Eitel Frederick, Prince and Princess August Wilhelm, Prince Adalbert, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt and Kermit Roosevelt. This party took seats which had been reserved for them on the platform.

Surrounding them were seated American Ambassador Hill and Mrs. Hill, the other ambassadors and their wives; Henry White, formerly American ambassador to France, and Mrs. White; Seth Low and Mrs. Low; American Consul General Thackara; T. St. John Gaffney, American consul general at Dresden; Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg; Foreign Minister von Schoen and the members of the von Schoen cabinet. On either side of this block of chairs were the senators of the university.

Guard From Student Corps.

Mr. Roosevelt occupied the seat at the reading desk and at his side stood the heads of the student corps, with drawn swords. This striking guard of honor remained standing and almost immovable for the three hours of the lecture and ceremony.

The auditorium was filled to its capacity of 1,200 persons by the faculty of the university, students and guests.

Rector Erick Schmidt opened the program by giving an outline of the life of Mr. Roosevelt from the time that he was a delicate child until he became an African nimrod. When he had finished this sketch he introduced the former president, who was received most sympathetically.

Mr. Roosevelt appeared rugged and in the pink of condition. His voice, husky at first, gained steadily in clearness as he proceeded, and he was able to deliver his complete written thesis of 9,000 words, to which he added extemporaneously from time to time by way of emphasis and explanation.

"Today I am in Berlin university," began the speaker. "Yesterday I was in the open air university of the German army and sat at the feet of the great master of that university."

Col. Roosevelt's Lecture.

Speaking before the University of Berlin, Col. Roosevelt took as the subject matter of his lecture "The World Movement." He said:

"The play of new forces is as evident in the moral and spiritual world as in the world of the mind and the body. Forces for good and forces for evil are everywhere evident, each acting with a hundred or a thousandfold the intensity with which it acted in former ages. Over the whole earth the swing of the pendulum grows more and more rapid, the mainspring coils and spreads at a rate constantly quickening—the whole world movement is of constantly accelerating velocity.

"In this movement there are signs of much that bodes ill. The machinery is so highly geared, the tension and strain are so great, the effort and the output have alike so increased, that there is cause to dread the ruin that would come from any great accident, from any breakdown, and also the ruin that may come from the mere wearing out of the machine itself."

Compared With Greece and Rome.

"The only previous civilization with which our modern civilization can be in any way compared is that period of Greco-Roman civilization extending say, from the Athens of Themistocles to the Rome of Marcus Aurelius. Many of the forces and tendencies which were then at work are at work now. Knowledge, luxury, and refinement, wide material conquests, territorial administration on a vast scale, an increase in the mastery of mechanical appliances and in applied science—all these mark our civilization as they marked the wonderful civilization that flourished in the Mediterranean lands twenty centuries ago; and they preceded the downfall of the older civilization.

"Yet the differences are many, and some of them are quite as striking as the similarities. The single fact that the old civilization was based upon slavery shows the chasm that separates the two. Let me point out one further and very significant difference in the development of the two civilizations, a difference so obvious that it is astonishing that it has not been dwelt upon by men of letters.

Danger of Civilization.

"One of the prime dangers of civilization has always been its tendency to cause the loss of the virile fighting virtues, of the fighting edge. When men get too comfortable and lead too luxurious lives there is always danger lest the softness eat like an acid into their manliness of fiber. The barbarian, because of the very conditions of his life, is forced to keep and develop certain hardy qualities which the man of civilization tends to lose, whether he be clerk, factory hand, merchant, or even a certain type of farmer.

"Now I will not assert that in modern civilized society these tendencies have been wholly overcome; but there has been a much more successful effort to overcome them than was the case in the early civilizations.

"What is the lesson to us today? Are we to go the way of the older civilizations? The immense increase in the area of civilized activity today, so that it is nearly coterminous with the world's surface; the immense increase in the multitudinous variety of its activities; the immense increase in the velocity of the world movement—are all these to mean merely that the crash will be all the more complete and terrible? We cannot be certain that the answer will be in the negative.

Ruin and Desert.

But of this we can be certain, that we shall not go down in ruin unless we deserve and earn our end. There is no necessity for us to fail; we can hew out our destiny for ourselves, if only we have the wit and the courage and the honesty.

"Personally, I do not believe that our civilization will fail. I think that on the whole we have grown better and not worse. I think that on the whole the future holds more for us than even the great past has held. But assuredly, the dreams of golden glory in the future will not come true unless, high of heart and strong of hand, by our own mighty deeds we make them come true. We cannot afford to develop any one set of qualities, any one set of activities, at the cost of seeing others, equally necessary, atrophied. Neither the military efficiency of the Mongol, the extraordinary business ability of the Phoenician, nor the subtle and polished intellect of the Greek availed to avert destruction.

Qualities We Need.

"We, the men of today and of the future, need many qualities if we are to do our work well. We need, first of all and most important of all, the qualities which stand at the base of individual, of family life, the fundamental and essential qualities — the homely, every-day, all-important virtues. If the average man will not work, if he have not in him the will and the power to be a good husband and father; if the average woman is not a good housewife, a good mother of many healthy children, then the state will topple, will go down, no matter what may be its brilliancy or artistic development or material achievement.

"But these homely qualities are not enough. There must, in addition, be that power of organization, that power of working in common for a common end, which the German people have shown in such signal fashion during the last half century. Moreover, the things of the spirit are even more important than the things of the body. We can well do without the hard intolerance and arid intellectual barrenness of what was worst in the theological systems of the past, but there has never been greater need of a high and fine religious spirit than at the present time.

Need of Intellect.

"So, while we can laugh good-humoredly at some of the pretensions of modern philosophy in its various branches, it would be worse than folly on our part to ignore our need of intellectual leadership.

"Your own great Frederick once said that if he wished to punish a province he would leave it to be governed by philosophers; the sneer had in it an element of justice; and yet no one better than the great Frederick knew the value of philosophers, the value of men of science, men of letters, men of art. It would be a bad thing indeed to accept Tolstoi as a guide in social and moral matters; but it would also be a sad thing not to have Tolstoi, not to profit by the lofty side of his teachings.

"There are plenty of scientific men whose hard arrogance, whose cynical materialism, whose dogmatic intolerance put them on a level with the bigoted medieval ecclesiastician whom they denounce. Yet our debt to scientific men is incalculable, and our civilization of today would have left from it all that which most highly distinguishes it if the work of the great masters of sciences during the past four centuries were now undone or forgotten.

What to Beware Of.

"Never has philanthropy, humanitarianism, seen such development as now; and though we must all beware of the folly and the viciousness no worse than folly, which marks the believer in the perfectibility of man when his heart runs away with his head, or when vanity usurps the place of conscience, yet we much remember also that it is only by working along the lines laid down by the philanthropists, by the lovers of mankind, that we can be sure of lifting our civilization to a higher and more permanent plane of well-being than was ever attained by any preceding civilization. Unjust war is to be abhorred; but woe to the nation that does not make ready to hold its own in time of need against all who would harm it; for woe thrice over to the nation in which the average man loses the fighting edge, loses the power to serve as a soldier if the day of need should arise.

"It is no impossible dream to build up a civilization in which morality, ethical development, and a true feeling of brotherhood shall all alike be divorced from false sentimentality and from the rancorous and evil passions which, curiously enough, so often accompany professions of sentimental attachment to the rights of man, in which a high material development in the things of the body shall be achieved without subordination of the things of the soul, in which there shall be a genuine desire for peace and justice without loss of those virile qualities without which no love of peace or justice shall avail any race; in which the fullest development of scientific research, the great distinguishing feature of our present civilization, shall yet not imply a belief that intellect can ever take the place of character, for from the standpoint of the nation as of the individual, it is character that is the one vital possession.

Bind the Nations Together.

"Finally, this world movement of civilization, this movement which is now felt throbbing in every corner of the globe, should bind the nations of the world together, while yet leaving unimpaired that love of country in the individual citizen which in the present stage of the world's progress is essential to the world's well being.

"You, my hearers, and I who speak to you, belong to different nations. Under modern conditions the books we read, the news sent by telegraph to our newspapers, the strangers we meet, half of the things we hear and do each day, all tend to bring us into touch with other peoples. Each people can do justice to itself only if it does justice to others, but each people can do its part in the world movement for all, only if it first does its duty within its own household.

"The good citizen must be a good citizen of his own country first before he can, with advantage, be a citizen of the world at large. I wish you well. I believe in you and your future. I admire and wonder at the extraordinary greatness and variety of your achievements in so many and such widely different fields, and my admiration and regard are all the greater, and not the less, because I am so profound a believer in the institutions and the people of my own land."

TO EDUCATE WORKING MEN

Old Washington Building May Be Used for Night School.

Four Rooms in Central High School Now Used for the Purpose.

It is expected that at the next meeting of the board of education or at a meeting soon after the end of the current school term, the disposition of the old Washington school will be discussed. Judging from expressions by members of the board, there may be some difference of opinion among the members as to whether the building and the lots on which it stands should be sold or should be retained for school purposes.

It is certain that the building will not be used for anything but school purposes unless it is sold. A. L. Brocklehurst, owner of a business college, appeared before the board last Friday and asked for a lease on the building for five years, but the request was refused.

If his expression last Friday night is an indication of what his attitude will be in the future, Wilson G. Crosby believes the building should be retained by the board for night school purposes. He was supported in his attitude by Supt. Denfeld, who said that a night school and a school for delinquent and backward scholars should be maintained by the district.

"The time is coming when this board will have to maintain night schools," said Mr. Crosby. "One has a subject for thought when he thinks of the number of opportunities thrown away by parents and children in this country and then goes into a night school and sees the men who have worked all day and are giving their evenings to earnest effort to secure the rudiments of an education. Night schools are coming and I believe that the time will come when we will want to use the Washington building for that purpose. I don't believe it should be either leased or sold."

"There are a great many backward pupils who need help and a number of habitual truants who should have outside instruction that the board might well fit up the Washington school for a detention school and a school for backward pupils, as well as for a night school," said Supt. Denfeld. "Four rooms in the high school building are now in use for a night school and the building should not be used for that purpose. The Washington school would be just the sort of a building needed."

"I think that when we purchased the Mendenhall property for the new school, it was the understanding that we were to sell the old school property," said F. A. Brewer. "I believe we have ample room in the district for all the night schools the district wants to support."

ROOSEVELT AND TAFT BLAMED

Are Included in Civil Service Report on Customs Service Frauds.

New York, May 12.—Neither President Taft nor Former President Roosevelt escaped criticism in the report of the executive committee of the Civil Service Reform association made public at the annual meeting of the association last night. The committee is of the opinion that responsibility for the customs frauds here rests upon the executive officers of the customs department, who under Roosevelt, it charged, were products of the spoils system. Instances cited are the appointments of Surveyor Clarkson (now resigned), and of Deputy Surveyors Vail and Bishop, both of whom, it is said, were appointed by General Clarkson through waiver by President Roosevelt of civil service rules and both of whom have since been dismissed by Collector Loeb.

"Where the spoils system in the selection of officers thus dominates the service," says the report, "the failure of subordinates to remain honest and efficient cannot be fairly charged to the merit system."

Taft Gets Criticised.

Taft appointments of which the association complains are those of Edmund Voorhees, as postmaster of Brooklyn, Dr. Nathan Warren as postmaster at Yonkers and William J. Maxwell as collector of internal revenue.

The committee finds that "the average citizen in trying to engage in party affairs is met by the fact that the party machinery is run almost entirely by office holders,' and it believes that the growing demand of the people to be represented in party management, cannot be met until office holders are prohibited by law from all share in partisan activity.

PASSION PLAY REHEARSED.

Oberammergau Theater Filled at Public Rehearsal.

Oberammergau, Upper Bavaria, May 12.—The passion play season opened yesterday with a public rehearsal. The perfected performance will be given next Monday. The rehearsal moved smoothly and made a deep impression upon an audience that filled the outdoor theater to its capacity. Anton Lang again impersonated Christ, but there have been a number of changes in other roles since the production of 1900.

A Tree House.

By the ravages of dry rot and fire, the giant firs and cedars of the Pacific Northwest are frequently hollowed out and left standing like huge chimneys. Perhaps the most elaborate one is located in Snohomish county, Wash., which consists of a huge stump, sawed off about ten feet from the ground, roofed over, and fitted with floor, door and windows. Lest you forget we wish to remind you that Golden Grain Belt beer is the best table beverage on the market. To the daily user it brings health, strength and happiness. DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—"The Round Up."

"ROUND UP" HORSES NOT "REPEATERS."

"Oh, that's easy enough. They use the same horses over and over again. Just as soon as one gets off the stage it takes its place at the rear of the procession and so on until they have had enough." So expounded one of the men who always "knows," after the last of the Apaches had disappeared in "The Round Up" at the Lyceum theater on Monday night.

But, they do not. Just watch the markings and the Western brandings on the bronchos and you will see that there is not a repeat in the whole procession. There could not be. The arrangements for the mountain pass are such that it would be impossible for a horse to get hauled up in the air so as to fall along in line behind the rest. There is a verttable mountain chain built up behind the scenes of the Lyceum theater, and all of the horses have to be away up in the flies in readiness by the time that the curtain rises on the scene.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: MAY 15. Matt. xii, 22-32. 38-42: Growing Hatred to Jesus.

THE CONNECTION.

The fact to be noted is that His enemies had their committees following Him everywhere, determined to put Him out of the way, and watching His every word and move for an opportunity to bring a criminal charge against Him. His free and authoritative manner of handling the questions of Sabbath observance, fasting and ablutions scandalized them and brought on controversy from which they always retired limping. Their hatred is growing beyond all control, and, in this lesson, we see them assail Him with the venomous but pointless charge of being in league with Satan himself, and they then demand of Him some sign or credentials of His Messiahship.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Charge of Satanic Agency. 22-24.

"Then was brought unto Him one possessed with a demon, blind and dumb: and He healed him, insomuch that the dumb man spake and saw. And all the multitudes were amazed, and said, Can this be the son of David? But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man doth not cast out demons, but by Beelzebub, the prince of demons."

1. OCCASION—It was when He cast the demon out of the poor unfortunate man that they brought the charge. The cure was evident and undeniable. The physical signs of the demoniacal possession were blindness, dumbness and presumably deafness. Now there he stood looking at them, hearing every word they said, speaking normally, and entirely free from his former insane and revolting expression of countenance.

But the cure itself might not have proven the occasion for the blasphemous charge had it not stirred the multitudes to such ardent admiration of Him for doing it. The people saw it, saw that it meant something, began to reach a conclusion and to give it quite frank and emotional expression. That conclusion was that He was the Messiah, and that is what they meant when they said "son of David." They were no longer to be followers of these Pharisees if they thus thought of Jesus.

2. CAUSE—The cause was within them. It was black hatred of Him. That hatred was due to the fact that He was good and true, while they were vicious and false. His goodness and His treatment of them exposed them to the popular contempt, robbed them of their influence over their dupes, who now turned to Jesus, and, in many cases, their money making, by extortion, was interfered with.

3. BLASPHEMY—They did not deny the reality of the miracle, for they could not. There the man stood, seeing and talking and hearing. The only possible way they might dampen the ardor of the enthusiastic people was to accuse Him of being in league with Satan, the ruler of the demons, whom they called by the name of Beelzebub. They tried it, foolish as the charge was. Anger and jealousy are always foolish. They got into still further trouble, for it brought on them a very humiliating exposure.

II.

Their Humiliating Exposure, 25-32.

"And knowing their thoughts He said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand; and if Satan casteth out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand? And if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore shall they be your judges. But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then is the kingdom of God come upon you. Or how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? And then he will spoil his house. He that is not with Me is against Me; and he that gathereth not with Me scattereth. Therefore I say unto you, Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Spirit shall not be forgiven. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him; neither in this world nor in that which is to come."

1. ABSURDITY—It is really not thinkable that the ruler of the demons, whose business it has always been to get people demonized as thoroughly as possible, should be willing to give Jesus power to defeat him. It is not his nature, nor interest nor habit to do so. Jesus came to destroy the work of the devil. Absurd as it was, the people might be affected by the explanation, for it came from men whom they had always honored as teachers and followed as leaders. Besides, they knew that Satan is ingenious and past finding out, that he might serve an ultimate purpose by seeming to have become good. He does that way now. He reverses an old maxim, and does good that evil may come. Jesus shows the absurdity with resistless logic and then with an argumentum ad hominem. Many Jews claimed to exorcise demons, and these leaders believed they did. Without saying that they did, Jesus simply showed that their logic put their own friends also in league with Satan. The point of it is that only a power greater than that of Satan can defeat one of his demons.

2. UNPARDONABLE SIN—There is only one unpardonable sin, and this was it: Calling the Holy Spirit, who worked in Jesus, Satan. Do anything with Jesus in person, but when you say that He who gave Him power is the devil himself, that is sin's limit. Whether any one can sin that sin today is another question. Sorrow for sin is an indication that one has not committed the unpardonable sin.

III.

A Malicious Demand, 38-42.

"Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, Teacher, we would see a sign from thee. But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah the prophet; for as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the whale; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here."

1. SIGN—They asked for a proof that He was really the Messiah. After seeing the proofs He had already given so profusely, they would be incapable of appreciating any thing further. Many expected that remarkable portents in the sky would attend the coming of the Messiah and they but voiced that thought by making it a vicious demand. Spiritual things are spiritually discerned and they did not discern. There are signs now of His marvelous workings, if men had eyes to see.

2. TRUE SIGN—His resurrection would be the convincing proof, as Jonah was three days in the great fish. Their spiritual perception was far lower than that of heathen, even of the Ninevites and the Queen of Sheba. Not only His resurrection, but His own character towering above Jonah and Solomon and all the old prophets and priests, and kings, is final proof. His claim for Himself is insane egotism or it is perfect divinity.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

From very early times Orientals have demanded signs, exhibitions of superhuman power, from those who claimed to address them with divine authority. An Arab preacher referred to in the Koran was met by his unbelieving hearers with the challenge: "Thou are but a man like us, and we deem thee a liar. Make now a part of the heaven to fall down upon us if thou art a man of truth." Mohammed himself was again and again, in the early part of his career as a religious teacher, called on to prove his claim to a divine commission by a miracle. "Let him come to us with a sign," they said, "as the prophets of old were sent."—W. T. Smith.

Some men become so blind that they do not know God from Beelzebub. "Unbelief," as one well says, "blunts the moral faculties, atrophies the finer sensibilities of the soul, and produces moral color blindness. 'Woe unto them,' says the prophet, 'that call evil good and good evil, that put darkness for light and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter.' That was the delusion that destroyed Balaam. He wanted Balak's gold, but knew he could not secure it by honest means. How to seize the prize and keep his character? That was the problem. Instead of dismissing it as impossible, he determined to solve the riddle; so, like the boy who cribbed, he worked the sum wrongly but put down the correct answer and said 'I've done it.' 'I've done it,' said Balaam in his heart, 'I can get the gold and keep my integrity both!' Poor fool! and he became so blind at last that the ass he rode on could see the angel and he could not.—Pollard.

DECREASE IN EXPORTS.

Bureau of Statistics Gives Figures on Commodities.

Washington, May 12.—Decreases in exports of breadstuffs, meats, food animals, cotton and mineral oils from the United States, both for the month of April last and for the first ten months of the current fiscal year are shown practically all along the line, according to the figures furnished by the bureau of statistics. The only increase was in the wheat exports for April, although the exports of this commodity for the last ten months were less by 33 per cent than for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

The total value of the exports of all these materials for April, 1910, was $46,503,729 as compared with $53,195,513 for April last year, and for the ten months ending with April, 1910, their total value was $700,033,252 as compared with $740,989,641 for the corresponding period of the fiscal year 1909, a decrease of 6.5 per cent.

Care of the Hair In Summer Time

(From Southern Style Book.)

"It is impracticable to wash the hair every day to remove the ubiquitous dust. Indeed, even if possible, it would be unwise—for too much water ruins the hair and there are many who believe once in three months is, often enough for the soap and water shampoo.

"Dry shampooing is the right idea, but do not place too much confidence in orris root alone. The perfect shampoo powder is made by mixing four ounces of therox with four ounces of orris root. This mixture cleanses immaculately, and the therox tones up the scalp and gives the hair a glossy and beautiful lustre.

"When you want to dress your hair in a hurry, just sprinkle a little of this mixture through the hair (don't use too much and sift it evenly), then brush the hair thoroughly. You will be delighted with the result."

"ON TO CROOKSTON!"

It is a pleasure to note the stir of enthusiastic preparation for the Crookston meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association which is going on all over Northern Minnesota.

Crookston is busy getting ready to receive visitors, and in every county in Northern Minnesota representatives of the various counties and communities are getting ready to visit Crookston.

St. Louis county and Duluth are doing their part in these preparations, and Crookston may depend upon it that the largest county in the state will be proportionately represented among those who partake of its hospitality. Duluth long has realized its responsibility to the rich territory of Northern Minnesota from which it buys and to which it sells, and it has hailed with enthusiasm the opportunity afforded by the organization of the Northern Minnesota Development association to get into the game of the common good, and to put its shoulder to the wheel for all parts of the northern two-thirds of the state.

As the commercial capital of this rich empire, as chief commercial beneficiary of the growth to come, in the making of which these meetings at Bemidji and Crookston will play a vital part. Duluth is glad to recognize its duty and to do it.

But enthusiasm and activity are not confined to Duluth or St. Louis county. Present advices are that every county of the thirty will be largely represented at Crookston, and that some of the border counties to the south will ask for admission to the association. All of the Eighth and Ninth congressional districts are included in the present membership, and the northern part of the Sixth district as well. There is no reason whatever why the entire Sixth district should not be included, and it is to be hoped that every county in that district will be represented at Crookston.

And at Crookston, as it was at Bemidji, reapportionment of legislative representation should be the keynote. Northern Minnesota wants many things, but first of all it must get its just representation in the legislature, and its fair share in the making of laws. Without fair representation, its influence must be limited and its needs neglected. With fair representation, it will be in a position to demand its rights rather than to beg for them.

The chief duty of the Northern Minnesota Development association at its Crookston meeting will be again to voice the demand of Northern Minnesota for a just reapportionment, and to make that demand so emphatic that the political parties will see the necessity of putting it in their platforms, and that candidates for the legislature will see the need of subordinating every other consideration to the one vital, fundamental issue of fair representation.

To make that demand so ringing that there will be no mistake about its sincerity and purpose, it is necessary that every county shall be properly represented, so that when word goes forth that Northern Minnesota demands a reapportionment law, it will come from Northern Minnesota and from every part of it.

SHIP SUBSIDY EXPOSED.

The plan to pilfer from the public treasury to provide a bonus for ship-owners at the people's expense seems to have failed again. At least there seems no present prospect of its getting through congress at this session, the ruling powers being too busy protecting the railroads and holding back progressive legislation to carry through the plan at this time.

It is just as well that this is so, though the interests which in covetous dreams still cherish the thought of tapping the barrel of public bounty are not likely to relinquish their hope of a ship subsidy bill so easily.

Apparently the ship subsidy advocates have chosen to ignore a circular letter sent out recently by six prominent New York merchants engaged in the trade between this country and South America. Such evasion is a confession of weakness, for the charges made in that letter go straight to the heart of the question.

Senator Gallinger in his ship subsidy bill declares that it will give this country direct communication with South America, thereby greatly increasing the trade of the United States, and that if his bill passes it will no longer be necessary for American merchants and manufacturers to send their commodities to South America by way of Europe. Representative Humphries, house champion of ship subsidies, makes about the same argument, and says that passengers and freight from North to South America must go by way of Europe and that ocean freights to South America are the highest ocean rates in the world, twice those charged European competitors for the same distance.

To these arguments the six New York merchants who sign their names to their circular reply that there are now five lines going direct to Brazil, that the departures are regular and the vessels as numerous and as speedy as the traffic requires; that there are seven lines to Argentina, furnishing more than ample accommodations; that to both Brazil and Argentina the freight rates are below those available to European competitors; that no cargo is shipped by way of Europe to either Brazil or Argentina; and that northbound, from both countries, the freight asked to the United States is lower than to any other country.

"These," says these merchants, "are statements of fact which the public should understand, and while as American citizens we would heartily welcome any measure that would develop the American mercantile marine, it cannot be developed if false statements are used to bring about this result."

This statement, which so far as we have noticed has not been denied, seems to puncture the absurd claims of the ship subsidists, and to leave the administration, which advocated ship subsidy on grounds thus proved unstable, in the position of having taken up a cause without understanding it.

The whole propaganda for ship subsidy was conceived in greed, founded on false theories, and built with false statements.

THE FOREST FIRES.

No rainfall in sufficient quantity to make the forests safe from fire has fallen in the Northwest for several weeks, and though the cities are enjoying exceptionally fine weather, the pleasure in it is spoiled by thoughts of the settlers who are fighting night and day to save their homes and possessions from destruction through a wide area in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Countless fires are spreading through the timber country, and somebody started every one of them. In each case a careless camper, a fisherman thoughtlessly flinging down the match with which he has lighted his pipe, or a spark from a locomotive not equipped with spark-arresting apparatus, has been the original cause of the wide-sweeping plague of fire.

The man who is used to the woods, who knows what forest fires mean, and who has thought for the safety of others, takes no chances with his camp fire or with his matches. His fire is carefully put out before he moves on to another camping place. The match that lights his pipe is extinguished before he throws it away. The settlers and the communities in the woods are in no danger from such men.

But the green hand in the woods and the man who is thoughtless or careless are dreaded by every dweller among the trees. Their camp fires are abandoned, still burning. Their lighted matches are tossed recklessly into any inflammable brush heap. They forget and pass on, and the damage is done.

Fires in the woods would be less frequent, perhaps, if it were possible to get hold of one of these reckless starters of forest fires and make an example of him.

THE PLAYGROUND MOVEMENT.

A few years ago Duluth had practically no playgrounds for the children except the street and vacant lots.

Now, while there are not nearly so many facilities as there should be for giving the childhood of the city safe and wholesome play places, there are evidences that the playground movement has come to stay, and that it is getting on admirably.

For instance, last night The Herald told about how the free skating rink which was provided by the park board for the children of the West end at Thirtieth avenue west, between Second and Third streets, is to be fitted up as a ball park. The space provided, summer and winter uses are found for it. In winter it is a skating rink, where the children may get the pleasure and physical benefit of an excellent sport without the perils of lake and bay skating. In the summer it will be a ball park and playground. Surely no piece of ground in Duluth is doing better service for the community than this.

The lots are to be leveled off for a baseball diamond, where the lads of the vicinity may play ball after school and on holidays, and the park board promises that the work will be completed this week.

This is good work, and it is especially good because it is a sign that Duluth has grasped the importance of the playground movement, and has made it part of its community life.

MINNESOTA AND THE CORPORATION TAX.

While the corporation tax proposed by President Taft as a substitute for an income tax is a very doubtful makeshift, whether the viewpoint is that of legality or practicality, it has served one useful purpose in showing that Minnesota is pretty well toward the top in the amount of business done by corporations.

According to figures from Washington published in The Herald last evening only two revenue districts in the United States have returned more corporation taxes than the district of Minnesota. One of these districts is in New York city and the other includes Chicago, while Minnesota is third in the list. The total taxes levied amount to nearly $26,000,000, and Minnesota's return is $1,122,480.

As the tax is levied on net incomes, the showing is creditable to Minnesota, if costly. That is, it will be costly if the tax sticks. As to that, the supreme court is shortly to decide, and if some of the best lawyers in the country are not mistaken that tribunal is likely to rule against the tax. The people will suffer no harm if it does, for the real objective of fair taxation is the personal income tax, which will hit stockholders in corporations instead of the corporations themselves. Stockholders can't pass the burden on to the people. Corporations can and will.

PULASKI AND KOSCIUSZKO.

It is good that statues to the memory of Pulaski and Kosciuszko, the gallant Polish patriots who gave themselves without reserve to the cause of the struggling colonists in the American Revolution, are now standing in Washington. Both were unveiled yesterday, Pulaski's statue being the gift of congress and Kosciuszko's the gift of the Polish societies of this country.

No names of Revolutionary heroes are dearer to the American people than those of the brave young men who came from France, Germany and Poland to dedicate their lives and swords to the cause of liberty. On the altar of American liberties fires burn as brightly to the memories of La Fayette, Rochambeau, Steuben, De Kalb, Pulaski and Kosciuszko as to the glorious names of Washington and Greene. Indeed, there is a peculiar brilliancy about the careers of these young Europeans who came over the sea, inspired purely by an unselfish love of liberty that made the heritage of their fame a precious and undying possession of mankind; and among them no figures stand out more conspicuously than those of Pulaski and Kosciuszko, the Poles.

Not the least of death's terrors for a ruling English monarch is the thought of what Poet Austin will have to say when the deceased cannot protest.

If Theodore Roosevelt has the courage to face the threatened tribute from Alfred Austin he will earn a place in the world's history such as he never yet has dared dream of.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest.—Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

REPLIES TO MR. WIELAND.

To the Editor of The Herald:

If you find space in the Open Court column please publish this article in answer to Mr. Wieland and his opinion of the Everglades. Now to begin with, I am not going to tire the reader with a lot of useless talk, but I cannot help writing a few lines to defend my first statement about the Florida Everglades. Now, if Mr. Wieland only spent three months in the South and that during the winter months, he of course, was bound to see the bright side of it, if there was any to be seen. He admitted that at times the land overflows, especially after heavy rainfalls and these are liable to come any time of the year. I have seen for myself and my opinion could not be changed with dynamite and I do not consider myself narrow-minded at that. I notice he did not invite or advise any one to go down and see for themselves, but simply take a chance and go into the proposition blindfolded. He was not informed of the malarial climate I suppose while there, and as I said, only saw the bright side of it. It is so malarial during the spring and summer months that there is little wonder the insects he speaks about cannot exist. Let the parties interested make a note of this statement and in the future if ever they have occasion see for themselves.

As to the northern part of Florida, it is certainly a nice country and a very nice climate, but excuse me from the southern part. So bidding farewell to Mr. Wieland and the Open Court on this subject, and thanking you for past favors I beg to remain, yours very respectfully.

Boston Woman at the Game.

I took a Boston woman to the Polo Grounds today,
To mingle in society and watch the Giants play.
But I'll never take another—here and now my word I pledge—
For that female's observations fairly set my teeth on edge!

"The specimen that gyrates in the center," she began,
"Shows the atavistic status of anthropologic man.
His method of imparting such inertia to the sphere
Is ante-gravitation, if my reasoning is clear.

That type of Genus Home genuflecting at the plate
From an ethnologic standpoint, is a trifle out of date;
In ages prehistoric none would notice his defect,
But the well-developed human should by all means stand erect."

Then her eye fell on the Umpire and I dreaded what was next,
For she gazed on him with yearning and an attitude perplexed;
And the fat man at my elbow said a word I cannot quote
As my Boston girl's shrill diction once again began to float:

"That ambiguous descendant of some old Darwinian tree,
With the triple spinal bugles and the muzzle, carries me
To things paleontologic, somewhere round the pliocene,
For three words and three words only from his primal lips I glean.

"And the member Lipocerci, with the cudgel in his hand,
Takes me back to primal methods and the early jungle land,
While the one you call the Coacher seems, in point of voice and shape,
Half a Troglodyte Gorilla and one-half a Singing Ape."

Then she called the mighty Giants, Anthropley if you please,
And she took them all to pieces, elbows, vertebrae, and knees,
And before she left the grandstand every kid around arose
And made verbal observations on her comments and her clothes.

Now I'm loyal to the Giants, but the game they played today,
From my keen appreciation seemed somehow to get away;
And although I claim descendance from no Cercopithicae,
That confounded Boston woman made a monkey out of me!

—Lurana W. Sheldon in the New York Times.

Sit Tight, G. A. R.!

Life: Forty G. A. R. posts in Massachusetts have protested, through Senator Lodge, against the acceptance by congress of the statue of Gen. Lee in Statuary hall.

All right! The Massachusetts pensioners should not be denied the chance to speak their minds. But how many of them realize that Lee was a far better Union man than Wendall Phillips or William Lloyd Garrison, neither of whom cared a rush whether the Union held together or not if only slavery perished. Lee loved the Union though he left it. Charles Francis Adams holds that his extreme reluctance to leave it delayed Virginia's secession so long that the South lost its best chance of success in the Civil war.

But neither in Massachusetts nor in any other Northern state do the G. A. R. posts represent the prevailing Northern sentiment about Gen. Lee. To the general mind of the North he stands not for secession, but merely for history. Not one Northern voter in ten is concerned one way or the other about the placing of the Lee statue in Statuary hall, or finds any considerable significance in its presence there. The prevailing sentiment on that subject hereabouts is that Statuary hall is getting to be a good deal of a hornet's nest and might better be put out of business. When it isn't making mischief it is exciting derision.

No Wonder.

The ancients thought the world was flat.
I'm really not surprised at that.
We'd find it flat, I dare say,
If we were living in this day.
Just think, they had no autos then,
No show girls to delight the men,
No pipes to smoke and no cigars,
No cocktails served at handsome bars,
No bridge to play no pink teas,
No liners speeding o'er the seas,
No yellow journals and no flats,
No women's monstrous picture hats,
No tariff problem to attack,
No gowns that button up the back,
No end seat hogs with manners rude,
No monkeying with the price of food,
No ice bills, no cold storage eggs,
No bunco steerers and no yeggs,
No trolley cars with clang and whirr,
No Teddy to keep things astir—
Say, is it any wonder that
The ancients thought the world was flat?

Conservation.

Life: Conservation is a tremendously big job. To make it do the most good at the least waste of money, harm and hardship requires extremely competent handling. In the April North American Magazine there is a piece on "The Other Side of Conservation," which, if you don't happen to be an expert, makes you feel that government conservation of power sites and forests is the next worst thing to waste. Perhaps that is the best thing that can be said for it as yet, but that is something. No doubt a system by which we can have our cake and eat it takes some time to shape. So much the more important it is that the secretary of the interior should be a man of sense and integrity who has the confidence of the people. We have got to trust him. We can't all be experts in these matters.

Secretary Ballinger may be an expert, but when it comes to confidence the best the people are likely to do is to give him the benefit of their doubts.

Socialism and Atheism in College.

The Survey: A prominent business man who has a son in an Eastern university happened to be sitting at dinner by a university instructor in philosophy. The former was complaining loudly of the Socialistic doctrines taught to his son on economics department and declared that he meant to protest to the president of the university or to the board of trustees against the outrage of permitting such teaching. The teacher suggested that possibly his colleague in the economics department had been giving merely a history of economic theories and systems and trying to state them clearly and dispassionately. "For example," he added, "I myself teach a course in the history of philosophy and I am accustomed to present as clearly as I can all important philosophical views and doctrines. On the grounds which you have taken you might as well call me an atheist because I have included in my course some account of atheism." "But," returned the business man quickly, "that would not be nearly so bad."

The question arises whether this is a typical example of the new pluto-cratic morality. Certainly it is one which gives food for reflection. Atheism is "not so bad" and Socialism is the new undefined terror. Students of economics will continue to desire some acquaintance with historical Socialism even if their fathers feel that any discussion is more outrageous than the "blasting at the Rock of Ages," which a particularly enterprising yellow journalist has recently unearthed; but it would seem as if instructors in economics must cast about for some other analogy since the minds of those who are obsessed by the new terror no longer have room for the old distrust of atheism. After all the main problem of the university instructor remains what it has been, to inculcate a sense of social responsibility and to develop the power of clear sight, straight thinking and sound reasoning both in economics or in philosophy.

The Flower of Liberty.

What flower is this that greets the morn,
Its hues from heaven so freshly born?
With buring star and flaming band
It kindles all the sunset land;
Oh, tell us what its name may be—
Is this the flower of Liberty?
It is the banner of the free!
The starry Flower of Liberty!

In savage Nature's far abode
Its tender seeds our fathers sowed;
The storm-winds rocked its swelling bud,
Its opening leaves were streaked with blood.
Till, lo! earth's tyrants shook to see
The full-grown flower of Liberty!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

Behold its streaming eyes unite
One mingling flood of braided light—
The red that fires the Southern rose
With spotless white from Northern snows
And, spangled o'er its azure, see
The sister stars of Liberty!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

The blades of heroes fence it round;
Where'er it springs is holy ground;
From tower and dome its glories spread;
It waves where lonely sentries tread,
It makes the land as ocean free,
And plants an empire on the sea!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

Thy sacred leaves, fair freedom's flower,
Shall ever float on dome and tower,
To all their heavenly colors true,
In blackening frost or crimson dew—
And God love us as we love thee,
Thrice holy Flower of Liberty!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Exclusiveness.

Life: Is not Dr. Woodrow Wilson a bit sweeping when he says that "the American people will tolerate nothing that savors of exclusiveness?"

They have tolerated and still tolerate the high protective tariff and the Chinese exclusion law, both of which have the savor that Dr. Wilson mentions.

They are now inclined to abate the tariff, not because it excludes foreign products, not because it excludes too large a proportion of the Americans from its benefits.

A large proportion of the Americans, including most of them, from Dr. Wilson's native state, would cheerfully tolerate the exclusion of negroes from the polls.

Almost every newspaper in the country chronicles the weekly doings of a lot of people whose chief recommendation to the notice of the public is that they can pose in the most exclusive society in the towns they live in, and especially in New York.

There is a lot of exclusiveness in human nature. We suspect that something that borders very close on it is one of the laws of nature and finds its justification in the survival of the fittest. Selection implies exclusion, and selection is indispensable to human progress.

Heaven help us, we are all snobs! Some of us know it, and some don't, and that is one of the chief differences between folks. Some of us find amusement in our own instinct of exclusiveness, and other take it solemnly and are impaled by it. A temperate exclusiveness, fitting loose, tempered by the sense of hunior and based on a just estimation of human qualities, is not so bad. It is instructive to the excluded, and impels them to cultivate powers and manners that will bring them inside of the palings.

The Thoughts of a Thinker.

The difference between a great humorist and a great fanatic is slight. The humorist has only one more quality—patience.

Man could commit every vice with impunity if it did not affect his health; it follows from this that morality is only the ability to take care of one's self.

No two people see the same things alike; memory is the recollection of certain combinations of events that have now ceased to be. From this it will be seen that there is in reality no past, but only a belief peculiar to every person that it once existed. That is why history is only an illusion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

The Pilgrim Congregational church has undertaken the support of a missionary family in West Africa, at Ballundu, and has raised nearly $1,000 for that purpose this year. Mr. and Mrs. Stover are the missionaries. As the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Pilgrim church have for several years supported a pupil in a training school at Osaka, Japan, the church is now well represented in the mission field.

E. J. Duffies has resigned his position in the city engineering department to accept a position with Patton & Frank. The vacancy has been filled by the appointment of Harvey Cruikshank, a former employe of the department.

Sheriff Sharvy received a letter today from a lady in Galesburg, Ill., enclosing a clipping containing the information that Mrs. Kate W. S. Howe was wanted by the police in Duluth, and asking what offense Mrs. Howe was wanted for. She stated that Mrs. Howe had left Galesburg two weeks before, after cancelling an engagement for one of her "Kirmess" entertainments. They have, however, a partial engagement with her to return later in the season and give the entertainment and the Galesburg ladies were anxious to learn something about her.

The Mayflower has been bought by the owners of the Bruno, and will run as a ferry from Twenty-first avenue west to Tower Bay slip, touching at Rice's Point going and coming.

Raeder & Coffin have completed plans for Miss Hardy's school. A more beautiful structure has not yet been erected in Duluth. The building will be three stories high, main dimensions of 162 by 42 feet, with a wing 78 by 38 feet. The cost will be about $40,000. Tulloch Bros. will build the foundation and the superstructure will be completed by Oct. 1.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Well Reasoned.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: Governor Eberhart is said to doubt whether it would be constitutional to appoint women on the state board of visitors. Women are the best visitors in the world, and the governor ought to know it, and their constitution will stand more of it than any man's. Moreover, common sense, if not the constitution, approves of feminine inspection.

Guilty Conscience.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: The nearer Teddy gets to home the more worried the administration bunch at Washington seems to be getting.

Candidates Should be Respectable.

Warren Register: A peculiar thing about the recent congressional election in the Rochester, N. Y., district is the fact that the Democrat who was elected was a law partner of his Republican predecessor at the time the latter's death caused the vacancy the election was called to fill. The Republican candidate who was defeated merely got what was coming to him, and no sympathy will be wasted on him or on the political machine that insulted the district by permitting his name to appear upon the Republican ticket. No party deserves to win, whatever be the issue, that does not put up respectable candidates.

A Subterfuge.

Rush City Post: A tariff commission is a scheme to bury a live and burning question that belongs to congress to settle. It is a shifting of responsibility to avoid an issue. It is a dilatory deferment of a question that should be settled now. A tariff commission now, is only a subterfuge, to popularize a congressman or two, in districts where the people are ripe for repudiation. A proper tariff law needs no defense, nor no commission, to consider and consider, and never act.

A Great Many, Truly.

Foley Independent: Party regularity! How many crimes are committed in thy name.

Here's a Joke.

Warren Register: Don't overlook this fact: The great magazines and daily newspapers that are making constant warfare upon Cannon, Taft, Payne and the "regulars" are owned by millionaires and great corporations.

And Here's Wisdom.

Roseau Region: Those who are laboring so hard in attempting to lead the country to view the present political situation as the standpatters see it, will do well to study history a little and learn the fact, experienced in every country, that it is easier to remove an administration than to reform a people.

Worthy of Their Hire.

Walker Pilot: During the past few months, newspaper editors with strings tied to them have been busy combing the wings of their bosses, and hanging editorial halos over their heads, in a manner that shows them up as truly worthy of their hire.

The Children's Charter.

The Survey: This is the children's charter as drawn up by the Social Settlement of Rochester:

1. No child should be compelled to live in an institution; every child has a right to a home.

2. No child should be compelled to play on the streets; every child has a right to a garden of its own.

3. No child should be compelled to be a breadwinner; every child has a right to at least eighteen years of childhood.

4. No child should be compelled to play and be amused all the time; every child has a right to share in the chores.

5. No child should be compelled to live in a house built for its parents; every child has a right to a house adapted to its needs.

6. No child should be compelled to live in tenements in congested districts; every child has a right to space, light and fresh air.

7. No child should be compelled to be ill-nourished; every child, however poor its parents, has a right to proper food.

8. No child should be compelled to have children's diseases; every child has a right to be always healthy and strong.

9. No child should be compelled to be an angel; every child has a right to be a real boy or a real girl.

10. No child should be compelled by disease, work or neglect, to die; every child has a right to live and be always happy.

Auf Wiedersehen.

"John Carter," the Stillwater prison poet, has been released, and so has this, which appeared in the Mirror, published in the prison:

(An ode to Angleus by another Prison Poet of marked ability.)

"The bars are raised; and open wide
Are portals of thy prison flung!
Then forth, Arion, breast the tide—
The benison is sung:

"Adieu, sweet singer, fare thee well!
The best of wishes take with thee!
May ye and fortune henceforth dwell
In sweeter harmony!

"A note of praise, I too, might speak,
For many a kindness done by thee,
But that I fear to rouse the pique
Of those who love not P-o-e-t-r-y!

—"D. M."

By Mr. Taft.

Collier's: Carl Rasch is an able man who knows the law. This must be taken to be the president's reason for putting him on the federal bench. There would be no excuse for fighting his confirmation on the ground that the appointment was a reward for Mr. Rasch's services as counsel for Mr. Ballinger. For these services he will, doubtless, be paid in the proper manner. If Mr. Taft should put Louis D. Brandeis on the supreme court of the United States, which much needs a lawyer whose wide learning and preeminent abilities are combined with radical political beliefs, nobody would be so unfair as to charge the president with having selected Mr. Brandeis because he acted as counsel for Mr. Glavis.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Preaching doesn't seem to cure even those who do it.

Imagination is a man's pastime; a woman's life occupation.

A man just loves to explain how near he came to going into public life.

What makes a scandal so reasonable is one's suspicion that probably it isn't true.

No matter how honest a man is he has hard work to give up his street car fare when the conductor doesn't ask for it.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Pittsburg Post: "Before marriage we used to hunt for arbutus in springtime."

"And now?"

"Now we hunt a flat."

Everybody's: "What's this I hear about Casey?" asked McGinnis.

"He's been trying to asphyxiate himself," said O'Reilly.

"G'wan. What did he do?"

"He lit every gas jet in the house and sat down and waited."

St. Louis Star: Black—I buy all of my wife's dresses.

Brown—So do I, but I never pick them out.

Washington Star: "What was the riddle of the Sphinx?"

"I don't know. But judging by a Sphinx's facial expression I don't believe it was very funny."

Chicago Record-Herald: "Do you believe it is more blessed to give than to receive?"

"Well, it depends on whether you are giving the cook a raise or receiving one yourself."

The Tattler: "So your son in London is a director at the stores. That's a very responsible position."

"Yessir; 'e 'as to direct the customers what 'get lost.'"

Lippincott's Magazine: Brooke—Cheeplee doesn't think it's proper to wear a watch with a dress suit.

Lynne—He never has both at the same time.

Ellengende Elaetter: "Well, what do you think of my son-in-law's new portrait?"

"It's a speaking likeness. He looks exactly as if he was going to borrow $10 off you."

Washington Star: "If the comet hits the earth—" began the apprehensive man.

"I'm tired of hearing about that," replied Mr. Growcher. "There couldn't be more extensive and useless conversation on that subject if the comet and the earth were professional pugilists."

The Sketch: Cabby—No, times ain't wot they was—the dignity of the perfession's gone. Everybody wants a blooming taxi; and when they've blowed 'emselves 'oarse and can't get one they 'aves you as a hapology.

The Standard: This beautiful gem appeared the other day as a headline in the Chicago Tribune: "Make City Heads Toe Mark." What a somersault this must have been!

Have Patience.

Chicago Tribune: No one understands better than do the makers of newspapers that the continued relation of unpleasant facts is distasteful to the readers. The popularity of a good-natured newspaper is almost a matter of axiom. A "sensation" now and then has its value if it presents the extraordinary, but the majority of readers do not like to have their optimism disturbed when they are taking their morning coffee.

The so-called muckraking magazines have come to such an acute appreciation of this attitude toward unpleasant facts that they are endeavoring to play the disagreeable with a soft pedal, the business office being the critic which first observed the signs of restlessness in the audience.

This is not said by way of apology, but as a preface to a plea for patience. This is house cleaning time, and as such is bound to be disagreeable. The householder has every domestic feeling outraged, his nose filled with dust, his sense of order put on the rack, his comfort scattered to the four winds, his world turned topsy-turvy. But out of it all come a clean house and a healthy renewal of the peace and serenity which he enjoys.

Contentment in a dirty house is too dearly purchased. Too much disease is hidden under the rugs, in the closets and in the corners. It may be disagreeable, but it is a case of necessity that we let in the cleaners.

Shortcake.

Collier's: Ready-made dinners never are so savorless as in these latter weeks of spring, when we read "strawberry shortcake" on the menus, but know that the words stand for little more than a taunt. Behold! A pale yellow material in two layers, topped with a lonely strawberry, stuck into an uninviting white substance that might be either a discouraged charlotte russe or a "frosting" of whipped cream solidified by some secret chemical process. And dry—! We have seen a city man eat away all around one of these lonely berries until it stood like a cap at the top of a thin column of the yellow material; and it is no exaggeration to say that he gasped and turned pale when the column toppled and the berry rolled off. If that precious fruit had dropped to the floor after all his pains to conserve it for a last mouthful, the whole day would have turned black. An honest, old-fashioned strawberry shortcake never contains such potentialities for tragedy; it is simply a delicious crust and plenty of juicy red berries. No gasps and white faces and ruined days go with this recipe! This platter is as full of joy as one that bears the Thanksgiving day turkey or the Christmas plum pudding. Here is a topic for James Whitcomb Riley. Will he write for us a song of shortcake—strawberry shortcake, country style, with Jersey cream?

Uncle Joe's Sense of Humor.

Atlanta Constitution: Mark Twain thought that Uncle Joe Cannon had a streak of humor in him. Uncle Joe must have told Mark that he intended to resign—some day.

The Main Question.

Florida Times-Union: Baseball is said to be interfering with the work of congress, but the fans will not kick so long as congress doesn't interfere with baseball.

MAN KILLED BY GLANCING SHOT

Philadelphian Dies in Hospital of Wound From Policeman's Revolver.

Philadelphia, May 12.—A victim of unfortunate circumstances, John Gallon, 16 years old, died in a hospital here today from a bullet wound inflicted unknowingly by a policeman who was pursuing thieves in West Philadelphia. The policeman shot several times at the robbers and one of the bullets struck a trolley pole, glanced off and entered the breast of Gallon, who stood nearby.

Later another policeman found Gallon on the sidewalk unconscious and sent him to a hospital. The physicians were about to place the man in the alcoholic ward when he regained consciousness and told the doctors that he had been shot.

BUSY SEASON PREDICTED

The Passenger Boats Will Soon Start on Summer's Run.

Tourist Season Will Begin About the Middle of June.

The passenger business is soon to begin on Lake Superior.

Both the Anchor line and Northern Navigation company will start their boats during the week of June 11. Soon after that date the steamer North West of the Northern Steamship company will start her run of eleven weeks.

The steamer Tionesta of the Anchor line will make her first trip on June 6 After that date the Juniata, Octorara and the Tionesta will make regular weekly trips during the months of June, July and August. These boats run from Duluth to Buffalo.

The Octorara is the new boat that is now being completed at Detroit. She will be ready on time and will make her first trip to the Head of the Lakes on June 14. She is a sister ship to the Tionesta and Juniata.

The steamer Hamonic of the Northern Navigation company will make her first trip to Duluth on June 11. She will continue until the end of the season which comes on Sept. 24.

The Hamonic and the Huronic are of the same line. They will each make one trip a week between Duluth and Sarnia. The Hamonic will leave Duluth every Saturday at 3 p. m. and the Huronic will leave the Zenith City each Tuesday. The Saronic makes two trips during the month of May. One will be on May 15 and the other on May 24.

The Lakeland, which belongs to the Port Huron & Duluth Transportation company and is handled from the office of the Northern Navigation company of this city is a new boat in the local harbor. She has cabin accommodations for 120 people.

Just at present prospects for a prosperous passenger business are good. There is much inquiry at the offices of the local agents and some bookings have already been made for the first trips.

WILL GIVE AID TO INJURED SAILORS

The Pittsburg Steamship Company Announces Death and Accident Relief Plan.

Cleveland, Ohio May 12.—President Harry Coulby of the Pittsburg Steamship company, known as the United States Steel corporation's Great Lakes subsidiary in handling ore and coal, has announced a voluntary relief plan by which to reimburse employes for injuries and pay their families lump sums in case of death. In this plan, the steamship company follows in the footsteps of the parent concern.

Under it, single men injured on duty are to receive as high as $1.50 daily, married men as high as $2 daily, in case of temporary hurts, while for permanent disablement receive six months' to a year's wages depending on the extent of the injuries, the circumstances and length of service.

In case of death, benefits to the family of a victim range as high as $3,000, benefits to the family of an employe of five years or less, being eighteen months' wages and 10 per cent additional for each child, under 16 years.

Three per cent is to be added for each year of service of the employe above five years. Benefit for the injury of death of an employe due to the use of intoxicants is barred. The plan goes into effect at once and is to be continued as an experiment for one year.

TO APPEAR IN CONCERT.

Madame Gagne and J. S. Osterberg to Give Program.

Under the auspices of the Swedish United Sons of America, Order of Vasa, a West end organization, Madame Hilda Hellstrom Gagne, and J. S. Osterberg will appear at Columbia hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street next Tuesday evening in a concert.

Madam Gagne of Stockholm, Sweden, appeared in a recital of folklore interpretations, about a week ago. At that time, the West end hall was overcrowded and many people did not have an opportunity to hear her. A new program will be given.

Mr Osterberg is a tenor from Providence R. I. and will assist Madam Gagne in her work.

GIVES ADVERSE OPINION.

Attorney Says Property Owners Must Pay Storm Sewer Assessment.

In spite of the fact the work of laying a storm sewer on Twenty-seventh avenue west was finished and assessments levied on the property owners after the passage of a charter amendment which provides that the expense of such improvements shall be borne by the city, property-owners along this avenue will be obliged to pay the assessment.

That is the opinion given by William J. Stevenson, an attorney engaged by the property owners who organized to protest against the assessment. Mr. Stevenson in his opinion states that in view of the fact that the sewer was petitioned for and the work let to a contractor before the amendment was passed, property owners are not released from their liability.

The assessment amounts from $20 to $50 a lot.

JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN IS MUCH IMPROVED.

Cannes, France, May 12.—Joseph Chamberlain, the British statesman, appears to be much improved in health. He may be seen almost daily promenading the boulevards.

Mr. Chamberlain, who had been in ill health for a long time, came here on Feb. 21 to recuperate. A rumor originating in London and cabled to the United States and France last night had it that Mr. Chamberlain had died suddenly at his home in Birmingham.

The veteran statesman took the oath as a member of the new parliament on Feb. 16, and soon afterwards left the country.

ORDERS TWO DEPORTED

Commissioner Pressnell Gives Decision in Chinese Exclusion Cases.

Cases of Two of the Men Are Continued for One Week.

Unless an appeal is taken to the United States court and the decision of United States Commissioner T. H. Pressnell is reversed, Neon Hin Han and Shew Chong, who claim to have lived in the United States for twenty-nine and thirty-two years, respectively, will be deported to China, as not properly residents of the United States. After a hearing before Mr. Pressnell last night, Neon Hin Han was immediately ordered deported and the decision in Shew Chong's case, which was heard yesterday morning, was rendered this morning.

Wai Tuck Tong, who was given a hearing yesterday afternoon, claims that he was born in San Francisco, and his case was continued until May 26 to give him an opportunity to secure a certificate of birth. At the solicitation of Hum Bang, a Chinese leader in St. Paul, who came to Duluth this morning, the cases of Hom Yuk and Tom Yuen were continued until next Thursday, May 19. Hum Bang said he had engaged a St. Paul attorney to appear for the two men and he asked a week in order to secure witnesses and prepare for the hearing.

Attorney Hugh J. McClearn attempted, on behalf of Shew Chong, to secure a reopening of the case this morning for the introduction of further evidence in corroboration of Shew Chong's contention that he was a merchant in Chicago at the time of the registration under the exclusion act and was consequently within the exceptions provided for in the act. The motion was denied and Mr. Pressnell ordered the man deported, holding that he had not established the fact that he was a bona fide merchant and not a laborer.

Conflicting Statements.

Shew Chong said he is 38 years old and was born in China, but came to this country with his father when he was 6 years old. He said he went to China when he was 22 years old and returned when he was 24, but a paper which he said was executed before he left was dated 1896, conflicting with his statements.

Neon Inn Han said he is 42 years old and had been in the United States twenty-nine years. He was at Bessemer, Mich., at the time of the registration under the exclusion act, he said, but did not know about it. He also claimed exemption on the ground that he was a merchant at Munising, Mich., for three years, but that was after the registration period and did not make him exempt.

Wei Tuck Tong, who was given a hearing yesterday afternoon, said that he was born in California, but that his father died when he was 5 years old and his mother took him back to China. He said he returned to the United States in 1896 and was passed by the commissioner at St. Alvans, Vt. If the fact of his birth in San Francisco can be substantiated, he cannot be deported.

Leak at the Soo.

The arrest of the five Chinamen at Hibbing is the result of a continuation of the crusade which was begun in Northern Michigan. In December, last year, the department of commerce and labor became satisfied that there was a leak at the Soo and that Chinamen were being smuggled into the United States in great numbers.

A special set of officers was sent into Northern Michigan and, acting on information obtained, they conducted raids in various towns in northern Michigan, chiefly in the Copper country. Twenty-seven arrests were made.

It was found that some Chinamen who had escaped the drag-net thrown out at that time came in this direction and some who had come to Minnesota were believed to have been smuggled through the Soo by Feilx Wagner, the man under arrest and bound over to the next grand jury to meet at Marquette next month.

The department ordered the officers to follow the cases up to the Iron range country, West end, Minnesota, where those who escaped were supposed to be. Of the five men arrested at Hibbing at least three are believed to have been smuggled through the Soo.

In not all instances were the men handled at the Soo original entrees, but a great many, who could not submit to all requirements of the United States government in order to make a trip to China, were smuggled into Canada, established a residence there, passed through the port of Vancouver, going to China and returning and were again smuggled into the United States. For his services the smuggler is said to have received $150 to $175 for each and the government officials say that they have evidence that he reaped a rich harvest.

SAWMILL IN JERUSALEM.

American Concern to Embark in Lumbering in Holy Land.

Chippewa Falls, Minn., May 12.—An American owned sawmill in Jerusalem ripping up timber cut in the Lebanon mountains on the upper Jordan river, is a possibility of the near future if the plans of the West Moreland Lumber company of West Virginia are carried out.

W. E. Backus, a local timber cruiser, accompanied by his son, W. C. Backus and James Lavell, a cook, expect soon to depart for the Holy land to look over the timber in the Lebanon mountains in the interest of the West Virginia corporation, which has secured a concession from the Turkish government to cut and saw timber in that faraway land.

The company will build a modern sawmill at the city of Jerusalem and the timber will be floated down the River Jordan to the mill. The West Moreland Lumber company figure that there is enough cedar and spruce along the head waters of the Jordan to run the mill for thirty years, allowing a big cut each year.

TWO MEN HOLD UP TRAIN NEAR PHOENIX, ARIZ.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 12.—Two bandits, without masks, held up Train No. 16 of the Arizona Eastern railroad, a mile from here last night and, after robbing the passengers, escaped to the desert. One passenger was almost scalped by a blow from a revolver butt.

BIG MEETING AT CROOKSTON

Much Interest in Gathering of Northern Development Association.

Everything Indicates That Next Month's Meet Will Be Well Attended.

Crookston, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—As June 1, the date for the summer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association approaches, indications point with increasing emphasis to a larger and more successful gathering than was at first dreamed of.

Secretary Brown of the Polk County Development association is daily receiving assurances of the attendance of large delegations from all sections of Northern Minnesota and specially large delegations from Brainerd, Bemidji, Duluth, Hibbing, Virginia, Eveleth, and other commercial centers of Northern Minnesota.

The interest shown by these cities in their efforts to make the convention a success, aided by their papers is arousing a feeling of friendliness toward them for this section, which means closer relations than ever before. The interest they are taking in the betterment of Northern Minnesota has been an eye-opener to many, who now realize that the commercial centers of Northern Minnesota are looking to this section, not with an eye single to their own profits by increased volume of business, but with a genuine desire to assist in the development of this section along comprehensive and substantial lines, with purely commercial interest as a secondary consideration.

Page, Park Rapids; B. A. Wagner, Nevis.

On May 17 the Grand Forks lodge of the Sons of Norway will hold a big celebration, Congressman A. J. Gronna having accepted an invitation to speak here then.

STUDENT STRUCK BY A HEAVY SHOT

Crookston Youth Is Knocked Unconscious Through Unfortunate Accident.

Crooksten, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—An accident that may terminate fatally took place yesterday afternoon, when Charley Lindell, Jr., a high school student, was struck a terrific blow in the head, and knocked unconscious by a heavy shot weighing sixteen pounds, hurled by Physical Director Larkin, who was practicing putting the shot for the benefit of the students who will represent the school here at the field meet of the Red River Valley High School Athletic association, May 28.

Lindell had been out of range, but noticing what Director Larkin was doing, ran into line with the ball, and the shouts of warning only served to make him turn his head so as to be struck by the ball just back of the ear. But for this warning the iron ball would have missed him entirely. He was hurried to St. Vincent's hospital, where he later partially regained consciousness, but is still in a precarious condition. Director Larkin is prostrated over the outcome as is the entire student body with whom the unfortunate young man is extremely popular.

CITY OFFICIALS WIN

First Round in Controversy With East Grand Forks Commission.

Crookston, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council of East Grand Forks drew first blood in the controversy between that body and the water and light commission, when the application of the commission for a temporary injunction restraining the city officials from interfering with the commission in the discharge of its prescribed duties was denied yesterday afternoon by Judge Watts of the district court. The case will now come up for trial on its merits at the June term of the district court. The power of the commission to control the water works and electric light plant have been ignored by the council and City Treasurer McIlraith has taken no cognizance of the power of the commission to issue warrants in connection with the operation of the plants. The arguments were made by Attorney Finlayson for the commission, and Attorneys Masse of East Grand Forks and Loring of Crookston, for the council and city officials.

LARGE COLONY OF BELGIANS

Coming to Red River Valley to Locate in Marshall County.

Crookston, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Within a few days a large colony of Belgians, who are now en route from the fatherland, will arrive in the United States and head for the Red river valley, their destination being east of Argyle, and between that city and Radium on the Soo, where they will establish a colony. This promises to be one of the most substantial colonies ever induced to come to this section of Minnesota. They are all practical and thrifty farmers and will engage in diversified farming, paying special attention to dairying.

They will locate in a very fertile section of Marshall county, one particularly adapted to dairying, and they will start in with the very best breeds of dairy cattle which will have a marked effect in raising the standard of the dairy herds not only in that section but throughout the valley.

Since the Red river valley has become advertised throughout the United States and in many of the foreign countries as one of the most rapidly developing sections of the country in the dairying line, with corn and clover among the successful crops, the big land companies have been in a position to send representatives to the old countries and get the very best class of practical farmers, substantial men of means, who do not come here to be taught how to farm, many of them being more advanced than the experienced farmers here and all that is necessary is for them to become acclimated and adjust themselves to the new and better conditions which they become a most desirable class of citizens.

The immigration to this section this spring has been in a large measure of this desirable class.

BREED WOMAN ACCUSED

Of Killing Her Mother-in-Law While She Was Drunk.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Annie Hitack, a half-breed woman, accused of the murder of her mother-in-law, Min-de-Musge, the latter aged 90 years, now languishes in jail at Madison awaiting the term of the grand jury which assembles in Eau Claire in the near future.

Deputy United States Marshal Appleby made the arrest at Hayward the latter part of last week. He took her the same day before a court commissioner at Ashland where a preliminary hearing was held.

Marshal Appleby drove twenty-six miles to make the arrest. After taking the woman before the Ashland court commissioner he took her to Madison where she was lodged in jail.

The grand jury meets in Eau Claire on June 7, when that body will be called upon to indict the accused woman.

The young squaw is a Chippewa breed, residing on the Lac du Flambeau reservation. It is asserted the alleged victim's death was caused by Mrs. Hitack kicking her and inflicting such injuries that she soon died. The woman's love for drink was said to be the reason.

BOYS STILL MISSING.

Begins to Look as Though Ashland Youths Were Drowned.

Ashland, Wis., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nothing has developed further regarding the fate of Louis Schaetzle and Delos Martin. Young Schaetzle's coat was found floating in the water east of the Central ore dock and as the boat was found on the shore a mile or two east, there is considerable uncertainty as to where the tragedy occurred. The bay has been somewhat rough. As soon as it quiets down search will be made in the vicinity of the docks.

LAY THERE ALL NIGHT.

Two Ashland Men Fall Through Trestle, Being Badly Hurt.

Ashland, Wis., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two men, Joe Drosseau and Fred La Flam, fell through the street car trestle on Twenty-third avenue east Monday night a distance of about twenty-five feet, receiving severe injuries. They were seen lying under the trestle Monday night, but the parties that saw them, supposed that they were drunk, and paid no attention to them. Tuesday morning they were seen again, and on investigation, it was found that both men were quite severely injured. They were removed to St. Joseph's hospital. Drosseau goes by the name of "the American Bucko." He is said to be an old soldier, but his name is not on the roster of the local G. A. R.

DULUTH WINS FROM WINONA

Pitcher Dauss Is Wild, But Tightens Up at Critical Stages.

Despite Chilly Weather Very Large Crowd Witnesses the Opening Contest.

Winona, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The score was 4 to 3 and Duluth was on the long end after the first Minnesota-Wisconsin league baseball game had been played here yesterday between the Winona and Zenith City teams.

George Dauss was on the mound for Duluth, and while he was wilder than a hawk and passed seven men, hitting three and allowing four tickets, he tightened up at critical moments and the members of the Winona team were unable to hit where hits meant runs.

Prater started to work for Winona, but weakened in the fourth round and Pitcher Baillies took his place.

Otto Koepping, the diminutive infielder who formerly belonged to Superior and over whom there was so much trouble, was easily the star of the game. In the first he was hit by a pitched ball. He stole second, third and home, much to the joy of the very large crowd in attendance at the game.

GEORGE DAUSS.
Who Won First Game for the Sox.

Crangle missed an easy third out in the fourth inning and two Duluth players scored. The Sox's third tally came in the sixth on clean hitting and O'Brien came in with the winning run when a wild pitch was made.

Despite the fact that the weather was very chilly there was a very large crowd out to witness the first baseball contest of the year. Before the game the players paraded the streets with a band leading and the city officials rode to the ball grounds in carriages.

It is probable that Kenney will be on the rubber for Duluth in today's game.

OUTCASTS TAKE OPENER ON THEIR HOME GROUNDS.

La Crosse, Wis., May 12.—La Crosse defeated Eau Claire in the opening game of the season yesterday, principally because Whittaker outpitched Morrow and the Outcasts bunched their hits. Morrow was wild and forced in one run with four passes, after two were out. In the fifth in the eighth two passes were followed by three singles and a double.

The game was preceded by a parade of the downtown streets and a speech at the grounds, Mayor Sorenson pitched the first ball to President John Elliott of the Minny league.

Cold weather kept the attendance down to about 1,500. Manager Safford and Eddie Klein started with the stick, the latter driving in half of La Crosse's runs. Score: R. H. E.

ROCHESTER LOSES IN THE THIRTEENTH.

Rochester, Minn., May 12.—The first game of the Minny league to be played in this city, resulted in a defeat to Rochester by the fast Wausau team yesterday by a score of 3 to 1, after thirteen innings of terrific slugging.

McNeil and Johnson did the box work for the Queen City, and Lakoff for Wausau. Rochester secured the first run in the fourth inning, and in the eighth Wausau tied. From that time until the first half of the thirteenth there was nothing doing on either side. At this stage of the game Manager Corrigan sent Rube Johnson in to pitch, and the big boy allowed two runs, while the locals were unable to overcome the lead in the last half. Score: R. H. E.

SUPERIOR WINS FROM RED WING

Pitcher Currie Holds Malloy's Men Down in Great Shape.

Red Wing, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before more than 2,000 enthusiastic spectators the Red Wing team of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league was humbled by the Superior team yesterday. The score was: Superior, 5; Red Wing, 2.

Currie worked for the visitors and he had the home players guessing at every stage of the game. He had a beautiful change of pace that bewildered the batsmen that faced him and at no time was the Superior man in danger.

Red Wing's only scores came in the eighth and ninth inning after Superior had the game practically tied up.

Manager O'Dea of the Wisconsin team was ejected from the grounds in the fourth inning when he attempted to tell Umpire Ollie Anderson how rotten he was.

BOTH BOXERS WERE VERY SLOW

Mike Brown Gets Decision Over Superior Man After a Tame Contest.

Mike Brown of Duluth outboxed Mike O'Malley of Superior at the Duluth gymnasium club last night. The match was about as slow an exhibition of the manly art as has been seen here in some time.

The bout was of ten rounds' duration and only in flashes did the boxers show any suspicion of form. Both men were shy on science and both fought on the defensive. Referee Jack Dougherty of Milwaukee gave Brown the decision.

In the preliminaries Jack Dougherty sparred four rounds with "Scraps" Costello. "Kid" Joyce of Superior and "Young" Walsh of Duluth boxed six rounds as did "Billy" Thatcher and "Kid" Hemstead.

There is some talk of a match between Jack Dougherty of Milwaukee and Jimmy Potts, the Minneapolis welterweight. The bout, if pulled off, will take place in Itasca county. Duluth fans are anxious to have Dougherty and Curley Ulrich matched. This may be arranged for after the Dougherty-Potts match.

PAPKE-THOMAS FIGHT GOES TO SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Cal., May 12.—The fight between Joe Thomas and Billy Papke, which was to have been staged in Colma, May 14, has been postponed until May 19. The mill will take place at Dreamland rink in San Francisco and the distance has been cut from twenty-five to twenty rounds.

The changes in the plans for the fight were made on account of the opposition encountered in San Mateo county.

MOORE CALLS OFF MATCH WITH CONLEY.

Los Angeles, May 12.—Pat Moore, the New York Bantam, who was to have fought Champion Frank Conley twenty-five rounds for the title at Vernon on June 4, has telegraphed Promoter McCarey virtually calling off the match, it was announced yesterday. Moore says that he wants to fight Jem Driscoll in New York before coming West. It is possible Danny Webster will be substituted for Moore.

OLDFIELD BREAKS TWO RECORDS

Famous Driver Gives People of Cheyenne, Wyo., a Treat.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 12.—Barney Oldfield driving his 200-horse power Benz, clipped a fraction of a second from two world's speedway records over the Cheyenne Motor club course yesterday.

After one unsuccessful attempt in each time, Oldfield drove a mile in :36 flat and a half-mile in :17. The former mile record was 36:22 and the half mile :17.76.

The course is a four-mile circular dirt track and as the timing was done by electricity and the meet properly sanctioned, the records will stand.

B F Kirscher in a Darracq also attempted to break the mile record but was unable to do better than :43.

Harold Brinker in an American 60 won the 25-mile stock car handicap in 27:38.

The course was patrolled by 2,000 troops from Fort D. A. Russell.

GOTCH TO MEET CHRIS PERSON

Champion Wrestler Leaves for Houghton to Go On With Duluthian.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—Wrestling Champion Frank Gotch has given up all hope of securing Farmer Burns to help him train for the coming match with Zbyszko, which is to be held at Chicago, May 30. Announcement was made last night that there was no chance to get Burns away from Jeffries' training camp and that Fred Beel of Marshfield, Wis., would act as Gotch's chief trainer during his preparation for the match.

Gotch leaves today for Houghton, Mich., where he meets Chris Person of Duluth, Friday night, in a handicap match. Gotch last night threw Con O'Kelly of Ireland in straight falls in 17½ and 15½ minutes.

The baseball team representing the Duluth Central high school was defeated at Athletic park yesterday afternoon by its old rival, Blaine, of Superior. The score was 6 to 5.

BEMIDJI STATE SHOOT.

Contest of Gun Experts Next Month Promises to Be Success.

Bemidji, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual shoot of the Minnesota gun clubs, to be held here June 17 and 18, promises to be one of the most successful and interesting meets of shooters. The Bemidji Rod and Gun club is putting forth every effort to make the event a success.

The grounds of the Bemidji Rod and Gun club are located on the banks of Lake Irving, overlooking a beautiful stretch of land and water and making most excellent shooting quarters. The new trap is working beautifully.

Correspondence with several of the crack shots of the country has brought assurances that Harry Stair of Crookston, Charles Guptill of Aitkin, state champion, and others will attend the shoot and there is a possibility that Fred Gilbert, the great shooter of Spirit Lake, will also be present.

Pathfinder in Iowa.

Iowa City, May 12.—The Glidden tour pathfinder reached Iowa City last night after a 159-mile run from Des Moines via Colfax, Newton, Grinnel, Marengo and Cedar Rapids. The car was escorted by from six to twenty cars all the distance. An early start was made today, and on Friday it is expected the pathfinding trip will be brought to its finish in Chicago.

WILL OFFICERS PREVENT BIG BATTLE JULY 4?

San Francisco, Cal., May 12.—What effect will the enforced switch of the Papke-Thomas bout from Colma to San Francisco have on the Jeffries-Johnson fight?

Fandom is framing many answers to that question, but the rank and file of the sporting fraternity take a generally hopeful view of things and the majority inclines to the opinion that the action of the San Mateo county officials in calling a halt on the middleweight mill will exercise no sinister influence on the holding of the big battle at Emeryville, July 4.

CHARGES AGAINST MORAN DISMISSED.

San Francisco, Cal., May 12.—Charges of manslaughter against Owen Moran and others preferred on account of the death of Tommy McCarthy, following a knockout blow struck by Moran in a glove contest, were dismissed yesterday by Police Judge Conlan. The judge held that as all the conditions imposed by law on such contests had been complied with and as the coroner's jury had pronounced McCarthy's death as an accident, there was no ground whereby to hold the defendants.

JEFFRIES SAYS HE IS IN SHAPE

White Fighter Believes He Will Be Fit for the Big Contest.

Ben Lomond, Cal., May 12.—Jim Jeffries is not a grouch. It cropped out in a chat with correspondents yesterday that Jeffries resents being characterized as a bear, gorilla and other representatives of the faunal kingdom reputed surly.

Following his fast and shifty workout in the ring, Jeffries shared with his trainers their elation over his imposing showing.

"I am around the bend in the road now," he declared. "I am thoroughly limbered up, and my stomach is all right again. I have taken off the extra weight, and from now on road work won't figure so much in my schedule. If I ever had a doubt about being able to get into condition—and I don't say I had—that doubt is gone. I know that I'll be ready to fight when the time comes, and I want my friends to know that I never remember feeling better than I do right now."

Henceforth, Sam Berger announces, Jeffries will take his weekly half-holiday on Wendesday instead of Sunday, in order not to disappoint the Sabbath excursionists to his camp.

Jeffries and Sam Berger engaged in a conference yesterday, which caused some speculation. Later Berger admitted the list of Eastern eligibles for referee had been cut down considerably. Aside from the list of California candidates for the position, Berger is now willing to accept three Easterners—Buck Cornelius of Pittsburg, Charlie White of New York and Otto Floto of Denver.

No Argument in Referee.

San Francisco, Cal., May 12.—The Johnson training program was not changed yesterday. Shortly after 8 o'clock, he called together Tom Little, Cotton, Cutler and Barney Furey for a twelve-mile run over the boulevards and hills.

He sprinted for short distances and then fell back into a jog, occasionally stopping for a short rest to give his trainers a chance to get their breath. The champion's wind, which it was thought might need a little nursing, has shown up well and the trainers are chuckling at the ease with which Johnson takes his work.

"Next week," said Johnson, when he had come in off the road, "I will increase the morning road work except on the days I am to box. I don't want to start this thing too hurriedly."

Tex Richard, who has returned from a trip to Ben Lomond, where he talked over the referee question with Jeffries, had a conference yesterday with George Little, manager for Johnson. Rickard admits the prospects are that the promoters will have to do their own selecting.

"Little told me," said Rickard, "Johnson would stick out for either Jack Welch or Eddie Graney. I don't believe there is a chance Jeffries would accept Welch and I am not certain whether Graney would be satisfactory, but one thing is certain—if the men cannot reach an agreement Monday, Gleason and I will take the matter into our own hands."

PONIES WILL NOT RUN IN LOUISIANA.

New Orleans, La., May 12.—Racing will not be re-established in Louisiana at this session of the legislature. Governor Sanders announced yesterday that he would veto any measure repealing the Locke law. This makes the case of the race promoters practically hopeless.

Pitchers Suspended.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 12.—Pitchers Earl Moore and McQuillen of the Philadelphia National league team were suspended and sent home by the joint orders of President Horace Fogel and Manager Charles Dooin yesterday. The club officials announced that the action was taken because the men failed to keep in condition and had broken club rules.

BOOKER WASHINGTON GUEST OF MRS. GOULD.

Lynchburg, Va., May 12.—Booker T. Washington, head of Tuskegee Institue for Colored Youths, has been the guest of Mrs. Katherine Gould at her estate near here for several days. Coupled with this visit comes a statement by a friend that Mrs. Gould stated recently that the incorporation of the Katherine Gould industrial farm in Norwich and the establishment of an industrial training school of negro Catholics at Blue Gap farm was assured. Mrs. Gould, however, has not talked for publication about her plans.

MONTREAL MEN OPPOSE RECIPROCITY.

Montreal, Que., May 12.—Acting upon the carefully-considered report of a sub-committee, the council of the Montreal board of trade has declared unequivocally against a reciprocity treaty with the United States. Such an arrangement, the resolution declared, would hinder the progress of Canadian industry and tend to weaken the ties binding Canada to the motherland.

Total of 14,974.63 Acres in Duluth District Is Included.

The Duluth land office has been notified of the opening for homestead entry of 233,295.29 acres of Indian lands in the Duluth, Cass Lake and Crookston land districts, which was announced in a dispatch to The Herald from Washington yesterday. The lands will be opened for entry simultaneously at 9 o'clock on the morning of June 20 at the Duluth, Cass Lake and Crookston offices.

Of the total acreage, 185,310.89 acres are in the Crookston district, 33,009.77 in the Cass Lake district, and 14,974.63 in the Duluth district. The land to be opened includes eight entire townships in the Red Lake reservation, towns 157-158, north of ranges 32-35 west inclusive; Garden and Oak islands, which were formerly claimed by the Canadian Indians; 47,783.52 acres of cut-over lands and 1,192.95 acres of relinquished lands in the Leech Lake reservation.

The land will be disposed of to actual settlers only, under the provisions of the homestead laws. Squatters occupying lands within the limits of the former forest reservation near Cass Lake can, if they have occupied lands that have been cut over, have a preference when it comes to filing, but in the Fond du Lac, Deer Creek, Pigeon River, White Earth and Red Lake reservations no preference will be given to squatters.

The lands to be opened in the Duluth district are in the following subdivisions—Pigeon river reservation, 840 acres; 64-5, 1,151.15 acres; Fond du Lac reservation, 643 acres; 49-18, 149.36 acres; 50-18, 3,575.82 acres; 51-18, 1,660.76 acres; 50-19, 4,800 acres; 51-19, 2,153.90 acres. Of those lands 1,991.15 acres are in the Pigeon river reservation and 12,983.48 acres in the Fond du Lac reservation.

The Pigeon river reservation is in Cook county just below the Canadian border. Several towns were opened in that district three or four years ago and only a few entries were made.

The lands in the Cass Lake district are divided as follows: Deer Creek reservation, 6,374.47 acres; Chippewas of Minnesota reservation, 22,366.83; Leech Lake reservation, 4,175.72 acres; Winnibigoshish reservation, 92.75 acres. In the Crookston district, 184,910.89 acres are in the Red Lake reservation and 400 acres in the White Earth reservation.

SENATE GETS DOWN TO WORK

Passes Two Bills and Agrees on Time to Vote on Long and Short Haul Clause.

Washington, May 12.—Today was a busy one for the senate. A house bill to prevent the dumping of refuse in Lake Michigan at or near Chicago was passed by the senate today. It goes now to the president for his approval.

With Senators Dolliver and Cummins once more in their seats after their political pilgrimage to Des Moines, the railroad bill today took on renewed interest. The bill was taken up early and the discussion proceeded without delay.

The omnibus lighthouse bill, which makes provision for aids to navigation on practically every coast of the United States, was passed. As amended in the committee on commerce it carries items aggregating about $2,500,000. The senate added more than $1,000,000 to the house bill.

Senators Dolliver and Cummins were greatly pleased with the Des Moines meeting, which they say was the biggest political meeting ever held in Iowa. Senator Cummins predicted the nomination of Warren Garst, the progressive candidate for governor.

Just before the noon hour the senate agreed to begin voting at 4 p m. tomorrow on the amendments to the long and short haul provisions of the railroad bill and to conclude before the end of the legislative day.

WANDERING IN WOODS.

Man Missing From Steamer Tomlinson Believed to Be Insane.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the recent blockade a man entered the city pumping station up the river and stayed in the boiler room all night. He was dripping wet and said he had fallen off a boat, swimming ashore. He departed in the morning, saying nothing more. Now the police are looking for Alfred Worthy, who is believed to be the same man. A report from the steamer Tomlinson says he was confined to the boiler room and escaped during a fit of insanity. It is now feared he is roaming through the woods hereabouts. His family lives in Marine City.

UNDERTONE TO COPPERS WEAK

Values Decline Slightly in a Dull and Apathetic Market.

The copper market was apathetic today and trading was light. The close generally was lower than the opening and yesterday's close. Values marked time and there was little trend. The undertone was weak, although there was no pronounced pressure. Some of the specialties acted fairly well. None made significant gains.

There was more disposition on the part of the public to sell than to buy, although the public was interested only slightly. The professionals were not active.

Trade conditions are easier than some time ago and in financial circles there is a disposition to let the market alone until after the members of congress adjourn. This, at least, is the hope that is being held out to investors who got in the market at high levels. With the copper situation not especially strong and other conditions insignificant from a market standpoint those people who are bullishly inclined can find little of favor in current affairs, commercial and political.

Trading here was fair and of a moderately good character, the bulk being confined to the low priced issues. Butte-Alex Scott sold at $3.12½ to $3.06¼; the full paid Scott at $6 to $6.37½; Butte-Ballaklava at $12.25 to $12.37½; Greene at $9; Red Warrior at $2.12½; Shattuck at $28.37½ to $29 after selling down to $28.12½; Warrior at $9.25 to $9.43¾; Zenith Lead & Zinc at 85c; Butte & Superior at $2; Calumet & Montana at $1.06¼; Calumet & Sonora at $18; Carman at 79c; National at 30c and 29c; St. Mary's at 16c; North American at $2.93¾ and $3; and Amazon at $3.

Amalgamated sold at $70 to $69.50, $69.75, $68.87½ and at $69.62½, a rally at the close carrying values upward slightly. Steel common sold at $82.62½ at $82, $82.87½, $82.62½ and at $82.87½ at the close. Calumet & Arizona sold at $63.50 to $62.50 and back to $63; Giroux at $8, $7.75, $7.87½ and $7.75; Greene at $9.25 to $8.75; North Butte at 133 to $33.25, $32, $33 and at the close at $33.50. Butte Coalition sold at $21, $21.50 and back to the opening; Superior & Pittsburg at $12.50 to $12.12½ and then at $12.25.

WOMEN AT CORNELL

Occasionally Snubbed but Not Actually Ostracized.

"The statement that at Cornell the young women are ostracized is a pure fiction which a perusal of the list of married alumnae would probably refute," says a writer in the Independent. "Two hundred callers on a Sunday afternoon is not an unusual number for Sage college, the principal woman's dormitory. This is almost one apiece, although I presume they are not evenly distributed. At any rate, it does not look like ostracism.

"On the whole I think the women in Cornell get as much masculine attention as is good for them and I know that some of them get more than they desire. As for social recognition, that is something which the coeds may hope for but cannot rightfully demand. In the state universities they get altogether too much social recognition.

"The class of young men who object to the presence of the young women is, however, small at Cornell—smaller than in the other Eastern universities, though larger than in the Western. But as they are leaders in the fraternities, which here as everywhere dominate the society life of the university, they make themselves unpleasantly conspicuous at times.

"One episode will have to be mentioned, although it is rather sickening, for it is a part of Cornell's social history. The leader of the sophomore cotillion, not long ago asked a university girl, his fiancee, to take part in that function with him. His associates thought this an undue recognition of the existence of the coeds and prevailed upon him to break or get released from his engagement—the dance engagement—and take an outside girl instead.

"The incident was unfortunate, because it caused some natural resentment even among those who were far from aspiring to the honor of leading a sophomore cotillion, and more because it misrepresented the spirit of Cornell young men as a whole. They are not as a rule unfair or even ungallant toward their feminine colleagues. For example, when Miss Cook won the Woodford, a prize fraternity which has always been highly esteemed, it called out admiration rather than resentment. She also secured a position on the debating team, and when the Columbia boys objected to her appearance on the platform as one of their opponents there was no thought of yielding on the part of Cornell.

"Such an incident, in my opinion, outweighs a hundred cotillions, though perhaps not all young ladies will agree with me. The enthusiastic advocates of co-education in Cornell probably equal in number the bitter opponents.

"Some of the finest young men in the university have chosen Cornell partly because they believed in co-education. The great majority of the students are altogether indifferent on the subject, and it is not to be regarded as a serious question."

CO-OPERATION AT ROCHDALE.

About sixty years ago a few poor workmen in Rochdale, Eng., formed a little co-operative society and started a store which was kept open evenings by the members, who took turns in serving as store keepers.

They were earnest, hard-headed and practical idealists, says the Twentieth Century Magazine.

Yet it is doubtful if the most sanguine of their number in those early days conceived how great would be the movement that should materialize out of what was inaugurated in so humble a way.

From that little beginning has grown one of the most successful enterprises of its kind. Great wholesale societies, enormous warehouses, stores, factories and shops and a fleet of ocean steamers are but a few visible results and valuable assets of this great fraternal federation of workers.

In the presidential inaugural address delivered by W. R. Rae at the last congress of the Co-operative union the speaker, after referring to the fact that the last year had been a very trying one throughout England owing to the extreme business depression that prevailed throughout the realm, continued:

"But even in the face of the natural shrinkage in trade the figures for the year, so far as co-operative trading is concerned, are very favorable. During the year 1908 the business done by our societies exceeds that of 1907 by nearly two million pounds, having risen from £105,717,699 to £107,550,654, and the membership by nearly one hundred thousand, from 2,434,085 to 2,516,194."

Mr. Rae also held that the co-operators "have an entry into and some influence on the life of nearly two million homes, or between one-fourth and one-fifth the whole community."

SALMON ROUNDED UP BY SEAL.

The Scotsman: While sitting on the shore of Inverness Firth the other day a correspondent of the Scotsman observed about half a dozen seals, each at a short distance from the other, moving in a kind of semicircle toward a small bay.

Curiosity made him follow their movements as the seals slowly made for the shoe. Each kept his place well, through occasionally disappearing and reappearing. To his great surprise he saw that a shoal of salmon were being herded toward the shore, where there was little chance of escape, and where they ultimately fell victims to the seals. What struck the correspondent most was the intelligent way in which the salmon were chased into the bay, reminding him of the manner in which a collie dog brings sheep to a fold.

If a few more table guests would make it profitable for you to keep boarders, then you have business for a Herald want ad.

ALL CREATION WORKS

By HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD

Even if work comes not as a blessing per se, and has to be considered as part of the primal course in which man was bidden to earn his bread in the sweat of his brow, and which the minority of mankind senses to think did not include themselves, what right has any created thing to wish to evade it?

If there is such a thing known as absolute rest among all the powers and agencies of the cosmic universe, the very names of power and agency implying action?

Are not the four elements constant at their never ceasing, never resting, always interchanging labor? Does one drop of water pause in the roll of the ocean, one tongue of flame hang suspended in the fire, one cloud stay motionless in the wide heavens, one atom of the brown earth cease to disintegrate, to moulder, to crumble and change for its new state?

Is not the seed ever germinating, the flower ever blooming, the fruit ever ripening, the wind ever blowing, vapor rising, sunshine falling, rivers running? Do the planets rest in their courses, the earth in its revolution, the tides in their great swinging? All the atoms and impulses of nature are constantly rendering their tithe of service; and why, then, should any one of us, as much an atom of nature as stock or stone is, and moved by nature's quickening as much as tide or sap—why should we halt at our work and bemoan our fate that we have our share of work to do?

Even while we bemoan ourselves the work of the universe goes on unceasingly in our own bodies and the changes that bring on old age daily within us and about us. There is something marvelously strange in view of the industry of all the natural forces that the human race, or any portion of it, should be the only thing to rebel at the necessity of labor, in some degree at least.

But apart from all fancies of the kind, it is a fact that there has been nothing of moment in the world accomplished without work. What an immensity of it must have been done to complete those conquests over the raw material of the earth in the ancient desert ruins, temples and aqueducts in the model tunneling of mountains and stretching of railroads across continents!

"The money that you pay us for our labor we send home," said the Chinese to some agitator against them, "but the work remains for you." And so the work remains in its effect the act of work remains in its effect upon the character of the worker.

He is up and doing when others sleep, and not only winning his measure of success thereby, but keeping himself from rusting out, polishing every faculty, stretching every nerve, bright and alert for the next thing, whatever it be, the business of this world or that of the other—the other upon which he may some morning wake surprised—surprised to find work waiting for him in the new horizons, and himself all the better fitted for it that he did no shirking here.

It often seems a regrettable matter of concern when we observe the manner in which a large number of suborners—we can hardly call them dinates—we can hardly avoid any workers, since they would avoid any reason for being called so—complain of the necessity that compels them to their daily tasks.

One thing of their future is certain; no individual of those complaining is a person who will ever, as a vernacular goes, "amount to anything." For look at their chiefs and employers; there is no clerk in any leading business of the country who works as indefatigably as the head of his house does, so long as he remains in the business; up betimes in the morning it may be while the clerk is still stretching and yawning and hesitating on his pillow; and the last, perhaps, to leave the counting room at night.

It is quite possible that in such an employer's case there is too much business done out of the superabundance of activity; but it is done, the profit and reward of it is reaped, and while he bemoans himself that he must work, the subordinate will never be reaping any other profit or reward than his meager salary, which he evidently works hard to get without work.

SUPERSTITIONS OF WEDDINGS

By AMANDA MOORE

Every bride, be she old or young, has her superstitions. She may be a native born American, or she may have been born in the far east, the North or the South, yet the same notion about certain things bearing good or bad omens seem to be part of her.

The ancient Greeks regarded January as the bridal month, and if the bride wanted to be sure that her marriage day would be particularly propitious she was careful to select one that fell on the full of the moon. Can you imagine any American girl doing such a "foolish thing? And should a pair of turtle doves appear in sight during the marriage ceremony the Greek bride considered it a sure sign of great happiness.

An old rhyme says the best day in the week is Monday for health, Tuesday for wealth;
Wednesday the best day of all,
Thursday for crosses, Friday for losses;
Saturday no luck at all.

In the Orkney islands the bride has no faith in this rhyme, for she chooses Friday for her bridal day, taking Thursday as next best, providing the moon is waxing towards full. But she considers it very unlucky to change the day once it has been selected. Most brides are of the same opinion on this point, however.

"Happy is the bride the sun shines on" is a prophecy that came to us from the coast of Wales many years ago. There the mists blow in from the sea and make days of sunshine rare events. Thus the bride on whom the sun shines considers herself specially blessed.

"Happy is the wooing that is not long a-doing" says an old proverb, and a courtship extending over a year before culminating in marriage is considered a particularly bad omen for the future happiness of the bride.

The bride who is at all superstitious will not dress herself entirely until the time for the ceremony, and she will not allow a maid to assist in pinning on the bridal veil. This service must be performed by the bridesmaid and mother.

To avoid being ruled with a rod of iron by her future husband the bride must put on her right shoe first when dressing for the wedding.

To be first in her husband's affections she must put her right glove on first.

Considerate brides wear as many pairs of garters as they have bridesmaids, as it is considered very lucky for a maid to receive as a gift a garter that was worn by a bride.

The cautious bride remembers also that she must not allow her future husband to see her in her bridal attire until she meets him before the altar. To do this is supposed to invite all sorts of bad luck.

Very few brides could be persuaded to go to the altar without complying with the old proverb about "wearing something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue."

There is an old rhyme that tells what a bride ought to wear:

Married in white, you have chose all right;
Married in gray, you will go far away;
Married in black, you will wish yourself back;
Married in red, you'd better be dead;
Married in green, ashamed to be seen;
Married in blue, you'll always be true;
Married in pearl, you'll live in a whirl.
Married in yellow, ashamed of the fellow;
Married in brown, you'll live out of town;
Married in pink, your spirits will sink.

Some brides observe the custom of flinging the bouquet among her bridesmaids. She who catches it is destined to be the next bride.

The wedding ring must not be tried on before the ceremony, neither must it ever be taken off afterwards.

Italians, as well as many other nationalities, permit no wedding gifts that are sharp or pointed. In this connection is another superstition with almost universal observance, the custom that the bride must not accept a gift of a knife or a pair of scissors or anything sharp from her lover without giving a pin or some other article in exchange, lest their love be cut asunder.

Showering the bridal couple with rice is an ancient custom and is observed in most countries. Tying an old shoe to the carriage or train on which the pair depart is considered essential to the good luck of the couple.

KINDLY ADVICE.

Chicago News: Having critically studied the diffident and well-dressed young man who had been turned over to him that morning by the general manager, with instructions to "show him the ropes," the shipping clerk started in to teach him the business.

"Ever work anywhere before?" he asked.

"No," admitted the beginner, "I've just left college."

"I thought so," said the shipping clerk, with just a suspicion of a sniff. "You don't look like the workin' kind—your hands are too soft. But we'll soon fix that for you," he added, with a bright smile.

"I expect so," said the diffident youth. "That's one of the things I'm figuring on."

The shipping clerk made a few entries in his freight receipt book before returning to his new task as instructor.

"College, eh?" he said with an interested inflection. "Well, I suppose college is all right in its way, but I ain't never seen where it did a fellow any good in business. They learn you too much Greek and Latin there, when you ought to be studyin' what your work is goin' to be."

"I have often thought the curriculum is not strictly utilitarian," admitted the business recruit, modestly.

The shipping clerk opened his mouth, closed it again and put his pen into the mucilage bottle in his excitement. "One of the first things any young fellow wants to learn around here," he said when he grew calmer, "is about the different bosses, and who's who and all that. Some of 'em you can jolly and some of 'em are on the job all the time, so you can't get by them with anything. You know how that is, eh?"

"I understand what you mean," said the newcomer, with interest, "and I'll be very glad to learn all I can about them."

"Well, there's that old geezer that brought you out here this morning," said the shipping clerk, confidentially. "He's a brother of the old man, and that's why he's the general manager. I think he's a big hunk of cheese when it comes to runnin' this business, but he's there with the drag upstairs, and you'd better kowtow."

"I see," said the student. "Pretty strong, is he?"

"He sure is," declared the shipping clerk. "One of them family arrangements, you know. This place is full of family connections of the old man. I don't know where he digs 'em all up, but he can find more brothers-in-law and cousins and one thing or another to slip into all the good jobs than you could crowd into the Coliseum. That old guy we was talkin' about is a brother, you remember, and there's a brother-in-law holdin' down the job of sales manager—I don't know if he ever sold anything in his life before he came in here, but he don't look good to me. More of that family stuff, you know. Keep an eye out for him, kid. He butts into things out here once in awhile."

"I'll watch out for him," said the diffident youth. "I suppose we must jump when he says the word?"

"High and hard, son," said the shipping clerk, earnestly. "High and hard. It jollies these old gold bricks to see the men that do the real work pretendin' to listen to what they say, as if they were the wise works. I always string 'em along as if I thought they knew what they were talkin' about. If you get into the stockroom upstairs you'll probably bump against Jaggers, the city buyer. He's another relation. I guess his wife is a cousin of the old man's wife or something like that."

"He married into the business?" suggested the beginner.

"Nothin' else," assented the instructor, "and he's in pretty close to headquarters, so you want to be careful what you say and do when he's around. No shilling goes with him—he's a ferret is Jaggers is. The old man himself ain't so bad—the trouble is he's always hikin' away to New York or somewhere and don't know half that's goin' on here. He leaves it all to this pack of relatives, and, believe me, they're robbin' him blind. Did you ever see the old man?" he asked, as an afterthought.

"Oh, yes; I've seen him," admitted the recruit. "He's my father."

TRANSFORMATION OF THE EEL.

J. T. Cunningham in Knowledge: After centuries of mystery the natural history of the eel has been clearly determined. As soon as the eel becomes sexually mature it leaves the fresh water and travels long distances in the sea. To accomplish this those who have lived in isolated ponds and ditches must actually leave the water and cross the fields till they reach a stream. The old eels never return, but at certain seasons immense number of elvers, or young eels, ascend the rivers.

The history between remained a blank. Yet the larval form of the eel was known as long ago as 1763, when a curious little fish about four inches long was discovered on the coast of Wales. It had a small head and transparent ribbon shaped body. From the former peculiarity it received the name of leptocephalus. Other species were found, and they were thought to represent a new genus of fishes.

In 1861, however, Prof. Carus of Leipsic suggested that these might be the larval forms of other fish. And in 1864 Gill came to the conclusion that they were the larval form of eels. While in 1886 M. Yves Delage observed the transformation of a leptocephalus into a young conger eel.

It would appear that the eels from our rivers may go to spawn beyond the 500 fathom line to the west of Ireland or to the Bay of Biscay. To reach these spawning grounds the eels from our east coast rivers pass through the English channel. The change of the ribbon like leptocephalus into the perfect eel is accompanied by a considerable decrease in size. It is found that the larval form loses 77 per cent of its weight in the transformation. And during the course of the metamorphosis, which lasts eight or nine months, it takes no food whatever.

A FRESH AIR FALLACY.

Outing: If you want to purify your blood it is of little value to inflate your chest pouter pigeon fashion. The blood in your lungs takes up just as much oxygen as your muscles call for, and no more. Exercise your legs instead of your diaphragm and chest. Even the inhalation of pure oxygen in diseases of the lungs has yielded disappointing results and is gravely questioned as to its theoretical basis.

FLAX ON THE TOBOGGAN

May Option Slumps Eighteen Cents, Rallying Slightly at Close.

No Short Interest to Support Prices---Wheat Is Unchanged.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 12.—Wheat was steady today and May closed unchanged while Chicago May advanced 1⅝c. No stuff was reported sold to Chicago. Flax slumped severely, May losing 18c from yesterday to the day's low point and rallying 1¾c, closing 16¾c off. July closed 18c off after losing 20c earlier in the day. September and October suffered only slightly. The former option lost 1c and October closed 1¾c lower than yesterday.

May wheat opened at $1.10⅝ asked and sold at $1.10⅞ and $1.10, closing sold at $1.10 bid. July opened at $1.11⅜ bid, sold at $1.11⅜, $1.11⅜-¾, $1.11⅞, $1.11⅜, $1.11⅝, $1.11¼, $1.10⅞, $1.11¼, ⅜ and closed $1.11¼ bid, 1¼c up from yesterday. September opened $1.01⅜ bid, sold at $1.02⅜, $1.02⅛, $1.01⅞ and closed $1.02 bid, ⅛c up from yesterday.

May flax opened at $2.34¾ and sold at $2.33½ then down to $2.25, $2.17, $2.16½, $2.16⅝ and closed $2.18¼ bid. July opened with offers at $2.30, sold at $2.28, off to $2.19, $2.12, $2.11½, $2.12, $2.10½ and closed $2.12 bid. September opened with offers at $1.74 and sold at $1.71, $1.71½ and closed $1.71½ bid. October opened $1.65 bid and sold at $1.66, $1.64 and closed with offers at $1.64.

Cash wheat equaled May Oats closed ⅛c up, barley 1c up and durum was unchanged from yesterday. Rye was unchanged.

The break in flax was one of the sharpest fluctuations in the history of the market. The decline of 17c was violent, but was not accompanied by any unusual or extraordinary conditions. Not more than 8,000 to 10,000 bu changed hands on the slump in May but changed hands on the slump in May and July. There was moderate buying in the deferred months, which were not especially affected by the break in the May and July options.

When the May and July options were offered at sharp declines the market did not uncover any stop-loss orders and other support was not forthcoming. On the break there was little demand and no disposition to buy. Of the stuff sold a small amount was taken at the beginning of the break by a Minneapolis house. Most of the rest went into the hands of shorts, apparently. If the purpose of the manipulation was to ascertain the exact state of the market it was successful. The short interest is believed to be about cleaned up and the market received practically no support from that quarter, there being no disposition to take advantage of the decline. The bottom simply dropped out.

With the approach of the completion of initial field work some people think the receipts of flax will increase. Others are of the opinion that there is very little stuff in the country beyond seeding requirements and that receipts will not show a marked increase. Supplies here, counting shipments not reported, are about 92,000 bu and practically all of this has been sold and will be taken from the Head of the Lakes. The crushers have been shipping almost daily. Some reports from the interior indicate that good seed is difficult to obtain and that in some parts of North Dakota the acreage will not be as large as expected on account of a lack of seed.

The wheat market was steady and trading was only moderate. The Chicago May option was strong in the early part of the day and, toward noon it declined slightly and this market was not off sufficiently to permit of sales being made to Chicago. No stuff was reported as having been sold to that market. About 550,000 bu has been disposed of thus far for shipment to Chicago. Most of the lot, it is said, is being taken there by an elevator interest for delivery on May contracts. There is a big short interest in Chicago May and a large holding that will require considerable cash wheat in settlement. Of the 550,000 bu sold, 294,000 bu has left this port for Chicago and 220,000 bu is being loaded for immediate shipment, leaving about 350,000 bu to go.

Wheat opened firm on reports of cold weather in the Northwest. The messages had more effect in other markets than in the Northwest, however, which do not credit the damage rumors. The weather for tonight promises to be fair in the Northwest with heavy frosts.

Bears have made little headway in the last two or three days and they made no effort today to depress values which, however, appeared heavy. The buying in the deferred months was a potent factor of support. The bulls are watching the Northwestern situation closely but the bears say their opponents can derive no comfort from it. Reports of bugs and the Hessian fly came from Illinois, Indiana and Texas and the bulls pointed out that the government's report showed that the most serious damage was in the surplus states and that only moderate crops were promised in the others. The fact that damage reports are now coming from the latter class of states, the bulls maintained, was worthy of serious consideration and tended to confirm their position on the distant months.

The foreign situation is distinctly bearish. Although Indian and Australian shipments are small yet Russian offers are extremely heavy and at lower values. The Russian crop will be unusually large. The foreign markets were unable to stand up under the pressure of Russian offers and the outlook for increased shipments. Russian banks have been forcing liquidation and this has caused increased offerings at a decline.

MARKET GOSSIP

H. V. Waldron of Donnybrook, N. D., was a visitor at the office of Ely-Salyards.

L. M. Pugh, Peavey's representative at Winnipeg, was a guest of A. D. Goodman today. He was a visitor on the floor. Canadian crop conditions, he said, are excellent.

William Grettum of Grettum & Swanston, returned this morning from an extensive trip through Southern and Northwestern North Dakota. He visited the country south of Steel and the northwestern counties. In the south, he said, the growing wheat is in excellent condition, and while rains would be welcome, yet moisture is not seriously needed. The roots of the plant are seeking the water line, and the present weather, he thinks, could not be better for the future growth and vitality of the wheat. If the plant gets rain in the latter part of May or ten days, and rainfall in the immediate future is not necessary for the welfare of the plant. During the recent cold weather the ground froze to a depth of three or four inches, and in some places the growth above ground was frozen, but the seed was not injured. In this territory Mr. Grettum saw wheat more than an inch above ground.

A large amount of ground is being broken for flax. Supplies of flaxseed and wheat, he said, are at a minimum.

W. O. Timmerman of Minneapolis, of the firm of Stair, Christensen & Timmerman, was a visitor on the floor today.

Vessels loading: Wade, 90,000 bu spring wheat; North Wind, 75,000 bu barley; Oliver, 220,000 bu barley. Shipments not reported: North Wave, 57,000 bu barley; Oliver, 27,000 bu spring wheat; Davidson, 75,000 bu bonded wheat; railroad, 22,000 bu flax.

Flax stores are reduced to an exceedingly low level. Stocks amount to 14,000 bu, having been reduced 15,000 bu in the last four days. Receipts are at a minimum. In the month of May flax receipts usually are at a low ebb. An exception was in 1907, when receipts were unusually heavy. In that month, however, prices were much higher than at any other time in the crop year and the favorable values attracted considerable stuff which was being held in the country. Practically all of the stuff in store here has been sold for shipment and crushers are taking out carload lots almost daily.

Wheat stores decreased 229,000 bu in four days to 5,199,000 bu.

Price Current said: "Considerable needed rain past week. Cool temperatures retarding corn planting and unfavorably affecting early planted with considerable re-planted. Any changes in wheat situation generally favorable."

A wire to Baker from Lewis said: "The crop in the Northwest will need rain for ten days or two weeks, according to William T. Kern of Washington, D. C., special agent of the agricultural department. Mr. Kern has just returned from a trip through Dakota investigating the crop condition and is on his way to South Dakota."

Broomhall cabled: Wheat—The later strength in America yesterday together with the forecast of light shipments from Argentine and expectations of small Indian shipments caused the light offerings at the opening and shorts covered which resulted in an advance of ¼d to ½d. Following the opening the market developed a heavy undertone and prices declined ¼d to ⅜d from the opening. Realizing was induced by the bearish feeling both here and in all European markets prompted by the continued pressure of Russian offerings at 6d decline and the poor demand for cargoes which are offered at 3d to 5d decline. At midday market was easy anad ⅜d lower than yesterday and unchanged to ⅛d higher than yesterday. Corn market neglected and unquoted. A London cable said: "Russian wheat demoralized, 4½c lower."

A loss of 62,000,000 bu of winter wheat is made in a crop report issued by the Western Grain Dealer and Crop Reporter. In the eight leading states they estimate the crop at 194,000,000 bu against 256,000,000 bu last year. The loss a month ago was only 47,000,000 bu.

Duluth car inspection: Wheat, No. 1 hard, 1; No. 2 northern, 7. Durum wheat, No. 1, 1; No. 2, 11; total durum 12; mixed, 1; total wheat, 21, last year 2; flax, 3, last year 2; oats, 17; rye, 2; barley, 12, last year 2. Total, 55; on track, 40.

Van Dusen-Harrington said: "Our reports all say no damage to small grains in Minnesota or the Dakotas by lack of moisture or frost, except possibly small damage to oats in certain districts. Soil conditions continue good."

The final estimated yield by the Argentine ministry is as follows: Corn, 174,190,500 bu; exportable surplus, corn, 97,750,000 bu.

Primaries: Wheat, receipts 287,000 bu, last year 391,000 bu; shipments, 370,000 bu, last year 451,000 bu. Corn, seven days, and rainfall in the immediate future is not necessary for the welfare of the plant. During the recent cold weather the ground froze to a depth of three or four inches, and in some places the growth above ground was frozen, but the seed was not injured. In this territory Mr. Grettum saw wheat more than an inch above ground.

A large amount of ground is being broken for flax. Supplies of flaxseed and wheat, he said, are at a minimum.

W. O. Timmerman of Minneapolis, of the firm of Stair, Christensen & Timmerman, was a visitor on the floor today.

Vessels loading: Wade, 90,000 bu spring wheat; North Wind, 75,000 bu barley; Oliver, 220,000 bu barley. Shipments not reported: North Wave, 57,000 bu barley; Oliver, 27,000 bu spring wheat; Davidson, 75,000 bu bonded wheat; railroad, 22,000 bu flax.

Flax stores are reduced to an exceedingly low level. Stocks amount to 14,000 bu, having been reduced 15,000 bu in the last four days. Receipts are at a minimum. In the month of May flax receipts usually are at a low ebb. An exception was in 1907, when receipts were unusually heavy. In that month, however, prices were much higher than at any other time in the crop year and the favorable values attracted considerable stuff which was being held in the country. Practically all of the stuff in store here has been sold for shipment and crushers are taking out carload lots almost daily.

Wheat stores decreased 229,000 bu in four days to 5,199,000 bu.

Price Current said: "Considerable needed rain past week. Cool temperatures retarding corn planting and unfavorably affecting early planted with considerable re-planted. Any changes in wheat situation generally favorable."

A wire to Baker from Lewis said: "The crop in the Northwest will need rain for ten days or two weeks, according to William T. Kern of Washington, D. C., special agent of the agricultural department. Mr. Kern has just returned from a trip through Dakota investigating the crop condition and is on his way to South Dakota."

Broomhall cabled: Wheat—The later strength in America yesterday together with the forecast of light shipments from Argentine and expectations of small Indian shipments caused the light offerings at the opening and shorts covered which resulted in an advance of ¼d to ½d. Following the opening the market developed a heavy undertone and prices declined ¼d to ⅜d from the opening. Realizing was induced by the bearish feeling both here and in all European markets prompted by the continued pressure of Russian offerings at 6d decline and the poor demand for cargoes which are offered at 3d to 5d decline. At midday market was easy anad ⅜d lower than yesterday and unchanged to ⅛d higher than yesterday. Corn market neglected and unquoted. THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Decided Lifting of Wheat Prices Follows Cold Weather.

Chicago, May 12.—With temperatures below freezing in the spring wheat country and frost predicted for tonight, there was a decided lifting of prices here today. More mills were reported in operation in the Northwest and probabilities of others starting before the end of the week. It was still dry also over the greater part of that section, where the lack of rain has caused considerable apprehension as a source of danger to the growing grain.

Much of the hope of the bulls was asserted to be based on the chances of severe losses to the spring wheat crop. May delivery repeated its recent daily performance of advancing a full cent a bushel, and sold at $1.13. September opened ⅛@⅛c up at $1.01⅛@1.01½, and went to $1.01⅜.

Reports of further demoralization in the Russian trade acted as a counterirritant. So did reports that the Northwest damage was light. Prices went off ½c in consequence, but rallied because of dispatches telling of damage by bugs in Texas, and closed was as steady at $1.01½ for September, a net gain of ⅛@¼c.

Corn was sharply higher on the cold weather and the outlook that some replanting would be necessary. The market opened ⅛@⅜c up at 63⅝@63¾c for September and sold at 64c.

On free purchases by leading longs from the wheat pit the corn market remained comparatively firm. The close was steady at 63¾@63⅞c, a net gain of ¼@⅜c.

Active buying on the part of commission houses made the feeling strong in the oats pit. September opened ⅛c up at 39¼c and advanced to 39½c.

Provisions eased off because of a heavier run of hogs than expected. The market opened 2½@12½c down and quickly went off 5c in addition.

Market Apathetic and Little Response to Any Development.

Strength of Pennsylvania Chief Is Feature of the Session.

New York, May 12.—Opening prices of stocks today sagged a small fraction, with a small volume of transactions. The only important exception was Pennsylvania, with a rise of a point. Pullman decline 3½.

Operations were insignificant and fluctuations were in keeping with the restricted dealings. Amalgamated Copper was weak, losing ⅝. Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg dropped 10 points. Louisville & Nashville and Rock Island preferred were repressed 1, and Chicago, Great Western preferred, 1¼.

The market was extremely apathetic and unresponsive to any development. The increase in Brooklyn Transit dividend was received with indifference, the stock losing its early advance. The general tone became heavy in sympathy. Pittsburg Coal preferred lost 2¾. Chicago Great Western preferred 2¾. Brooklyn Union Gas 2¼. Hocking Coal and Colorado Southern 1½. American Smelting and American Steel Foundries 1. Mackay companies rose 1¼ and American Linseed preferred 1¾. Bonds were steady.

The market closed firm. The strength of Pennsylvania at an advance of 2⅛ had some effect in raising prices, but the movement was listless. St. Louis Southwestern gained 1.

New York stock quotations furnished The Herald by Piper, Johnson & Case.

DR. HYDE IS NOT AFRAID OF HOODOO

Does Not Mind His Case Going to Jury on Friday, the 13th.

Night Session Held to Let Counsel for the State Argue.

Attorney for Defense Pleads for Client for His Wife's Sake.

Kansas City, Mo., May 13.—By tonight the jury which is to decide the fate of Dr. B. C. Hyde, accused of murder and poisoning in connection with the monumental Swope mystery, will have retired to consider its verdict.

Attorneys believe that the final four arguments—two by the state and two by the defense—will be delivered within the regular court hours today. If this is not accomplished, a night session will be held.

When someone suggested to the accused physician this morning that today was Friday the 13th, he said he was not in the least superstitious.

"I shall be acquitted," he said quietly.

A session of court was held last night to permit attorney John H. Atwood to speak for the state. His painting of Dr. Hyde was that of a scientific poisoner, "wisely criminal and criminally wise."

Attorney R. R. Brewster, representing Mr. Hyde, began his address to the jury at the opening of court this morning. He pictured the home life of the accused physician.

ICE ON YUKON AT DAWSON BREAKS UP

Big Sums Change Hands in Wagers on Time of the Event.

Dawson, Yukon Territory, May 13.—The ice on the Yukon river broke up in front of Dawson yesterday afternoon and thousands of dollars wagered on the time of this event changed hands. One hundred tons of supplies were caught on Lake Labarge, and as the ice is too soft to permit the use of horses, dog teams are being used to carry them off before all the ice goes out.

The first steamers from the Upper Yukon for Dawson will start Saturday. The first of the small boats bringing the advance guard rushing in for spring work passed Hootaliqua yesterday.

The Dawson provision market is depleted except for potatoes, onions, eggs, lemons oranges, a little ham, bacon and sugar.

WILL INQUIRE INTO WRECK

Government Will Investigate Fatal Disaster on the Mississippi.

Captain Admits Error of Judgment in Ordering People Ashore.

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—Orders for a federal investigation of the sinking of the river packet City of Saltillo, in which twelve lives were lost Wednesday night, were issued today. The crew of the wrecked steamer will be brought here from Glen Park for examination as soon as they can be spared from the boat.

Ten of the drowned are still in the water. Nets have been placed around the half-submerged boat to prevent the bodies from being carried down the river.

That the loss of the lives was due to the mistake of ordering the passengers to hurry from the sinking boat when she was near the shore, was the assertion of Harry N. Crane.

Captain Admits Mistake.

"It was a bad mistake," he said. "Had we caused the passengers to wait a minute before trying to cross the gang plank, none would have been drowned. At the time the order was given, however, no human power could tell that the boat was not going to roll over into the river and drown every soul on board. It is easy to look back and see what we might have done."

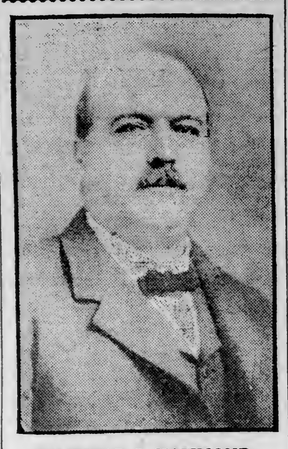
Testimony at the inquest showed that the chivalry of the men, who permitted the women passengers to start across the gang plank first, cost the lives of five women and a baby.

Cry of "Fire" Raised.

D. J. Caraghen, second mate, said the alarm on the boat was greatly increased by the cry of fire. Flames were seen to shoot up from the furnace, but the fire was extinguished by the water when the vessel listed.

Smoke from the lime kiln on the river bank and the high water prevented the pilot from keeping in the channel. The boat struck a rock concealed by the water. In backing off the vessel turned completely around.

POSSIBLE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP



WINFIELD S. HAMMOND, Who May Head Democratic State Ticket.

HAMMOND DISCUSSED

Second District Congressman May Be Candidate for Governor.

Senator Works, in That Event, Will Run for Congress.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—The Dispatch today says: "W. S. Hammond will be the nominee of the Democratic party for governor.

"This was the rumor current yesterday, following a conference between Senator S. D. Works, Frank A. Day and Mr. Hammond's law partner, Mr. Burke or St. James.

"Senator Works and Mr. Burke, who came to St. Paul Wednesday evening, are reported to have been closeted with Mr. Day for several hours. It is known that Mr. Burke has been feeling out the sentiment in the Second district relative to Hammond as the head of the ticket. Several men have been approached by him and sounded as to what they thought Mr. Hammond's chances would be at the polls against Mr. Eberhart.

"That he received considerable encouragement is proved by the result of the conference in St. Paul.

"It is considered doubly significant that another man who has been widely spoken of as the possible head of the Democratic ticket, Judge Stanton, was in St. Paul yesterday and met the leaders of his party. This is taken to mean that the choice of Hammond as the standard bearer meets with the approval of all those most deeply interested in Democratic success.

"It is evident that the matter of choosing Hammond is to be kept quiet for a time, as Senator Works is reported as having said yesterday that John Lind would head the party. In spite of this statement, it is known that Senator Works has been doing considerable work in the Second district for the Democratic nomination for congress. It is being confidently predicted that he will lead the Democratic hosts in the Second next fall."

MANY JEWS TO BE EXPELLED

Russian Order Will Go Into Effect at Kiev on Saturday.

Kiev, Russia, May 13.—The expulsion of Jews residing illegally in Kiev will be resumed tomorrow. In some instances a delay has been granted to permit a settlement of their affairs, but all of those marked for expulsion must leave the city before June 14.

The expulsion order was issued as a result of an agitation which began in the duma and originally provided that the expulsion should take place on April 28 last. Subsequently the order was suspended by Premier Stolypin to permit a further examination of Jewish claims of residence.

The order applied to other cities and towns where Jews are residing without the pale, and local commissions were appointed to revise the list of those affected by the order with the expectation that a large proportion would be allowed to remain undisturbed.

Will Expel 700.

The Kiev commission has considered thus far about 1,000 cases, of which 550 have been found to be subject to expulsion. The governor general has reviewed the decisions of the commission and confirmed the expulsion of 700 of those listed.

The Jews remaining in Kiev will be allowed to occupy summer villas outside the city only through special permission granted in individual cases

ROOSEVELT TROPHY FOR POSTOFFICE CLERKS.

FIRES STILL BURNING ON NORTH SHORE

Passengers on Steamer America Tell of Damage By Flames.

Fires Now at Their Worst in the Gunflint Region.

All Timber Between Split Rock and Grand Marais Destroyed.

GOVERNOR GOES TO THE RANGE.

Governor Eberhart, who will be in Duluth this evening, arriving at 7 o'clock, may make a trip of inspection over the Northern Minnesota forest fire zone after he has attended tonight's banquet of the Sven Republican club.

A dispatch from St. Paul says that he is considering the advisability of investigating the extent and cause of the fires. If he makes the trip, it is expected that he will first go to the ranges and then north into the timber country.

Governor Eberhart was elected an honorary member of the Minnesota Forestry association in St. Paul yesterday, and this, in connection with his official duties, may influence him to decide that an investigation of the causes of the devastating fires is necessary.

Passengers who came down on the steamer America of the Booth line from the North Shore today tell of much damage done by the forest fires that have been, and still are, raging in that section.

Every bit of timber between Split Rock and Grand Marais has been burned, excepting two runways. The timber destroyed was pine, spruce and balsam, for the most part.

At Pallisades, McLaughlin's camp and farm buildings were razed, many thousand feet of logs being destroyed by the flames. The Red Cliff Lumber company's camp at McLaughlin's landing was wiped out and Murphy Bros. suffered a total loss at the same place.

The fire traveled at a tremendous rate of speed from Cross river south, leaping over spaces as wide as two city blocks in many places. The flames rushed along with devastating fury, passing over stretches of territory twenty miles in extent, in an hour. Not a stick was left standing in the wake of the fire.

The ground was soaked with tar and pitch and the fire literally burned up the soil to bedrock.

Grand Marais is safe now, say the America's passengers. On Maple Hill the flames are raging with undiminished fury. The beach in the vicinity of Grand Marais is thoroughly cleaned up.

With a wind from the south the

VAST TRACT BURNED OVER

Nearly 100 Square Miles on the Brule Swept By Flames.

Capt. McDougall Returns for More Help After Fighting Fires.

Capt. Alexander McDougall, who has been on the Brule river directing the fight against forest fires for the past few days, came to Duluth today to get more men for the work. He will return this evening to continue the fight.

All of the cottages and lodges on the Brule have been saved, but a territory of about 100 square miles of land has been burned over and valuable standing timber and small pines with great possibilities for the future have been burned. The value of the timber destroyed is not estimated so much in a material way by the owners as on the basis of the beauty of the Brule valley, which has been considered one of the most beautiful spots in this part of the country, and which is sadly damaged by the devastating flames.

Capt. McDougall was successful in saving his own cottage and some of the standing timber in the immediate vicinity of the cottage, but he lost heavily in more remote tracts. The Cedar Island lodge, which is owned by H. Clay Pierce of St. Louis and New York and other New Yorkers, have fifty men fighting the fires and has been saved. Owners of other lodges and individual cottages on the river have men fighting the flames, and Capt. McDougall will take a number of men back with him to assist in the work.

For the past three days the fires

WIRE MERGER IS BEING ADVANCED

Companies From Minnesota to California to Be Joined, It Is Said.

San Francisco, Cal., May 13.—The Call today says:

Negotations looking to the merging of the Western interests of the American Telephone & Telegraph company have been in progress here for the last two days. It is understood that the preliminary steps have been taken toward the absorption of a number of small independent companies in the Western and Northwestern states, with the ultimate idea of consolidating the great companies that operate from Minnesota to California.

Attended the Conference.

At the conference here there were present P. B. Thayer of New York, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company; H. V. Lane of Salt Lake, president of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company; F. C. Nelson of St. Paul, vice president of the Tri-State Telephone & Telegraph company, and Henry T. Scott of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

The visiting magnates will return later in the week when they will be joined by Belvidere Brooks, of New York, general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company.

EMULATING EXAMPLE OF CAPT. KIDD

Seven West End Boys Claimed to Have Organized "Pirate" Band.

Used Large Row Boat in Expeditions After Boxcar Plunder.

Were Successful in Eluding Railroad Watchman for Some Time.

With a boat captured along the shore one dark night, an organized gang of West end boys has been systematically robbing box cars in the local yards, according to Special Officer Williams of the Northern Pacific.

Sailing from the rendezvous among the lumber piles of a saw mill under cover of darkness, he states that they have been in the habit of pulling into shore adjacent to a car which had been previously "spotted." One bold "pirate" was left on guard at the boat while two or three others were stationed at good vantage points to keep a lookout for "jiggers," the youthful crews' designation for railroad watchmen.

Breaking the seals it is stated that they have loaded their vessel with spoils. These are claimed to have included whisky, cigars, clothing, candy and merchandise of all kinds. They are said to have imitated the daring free booters of the high seas by taking their regular measures of "rum," and chewing tobacco and conversing in a lingo only intelligible to the initiated.

So cleverly did they cover their excursions that the officers were unable to lay hands on them or catch them

SAYS JAPAN IS TO ANNEX KOREA

Consul General Scidmore Declares Reports Are Premature, However.

Victoria, B. C., May 13.—George M. Scidmore of Wisconsin, consul general at Seoul, Korea, arrived yesterday on the Kamura Maru from Yokohama. He says the reports of the annexation of Korea by Japan were premature, although events certainly tend in that direction. The insurrection is not serious, being nothing more than scattered brigandage.

Viscount Scone, the resident general, is expected to resign, owing to ill health, and Japanese newspapers state the choice of his successor will likely fall between Gen. Viscount Terauchi and Admiral Count Yamamoto.

Dines With Hill and Meets Count Zeppelin and Other Noted Men.

Berlin, May 13.—Col. Roosevelt, in company with Burgomaster Kirshner, motored this morning to Busch, a suburb, where a colony of 1,500 wornout workers, men and women, are maintained in relative comfort at the expense of the City of Berlin. The subject of public dependents is being pursued by the former president, who while in Denmark investigated a similar institution.

The public charges at Busch are made up of the aged, the infirm and those temporarily incapacitated for work. They are not only supported reasonably, but in cases of sickness receive thorough medical treatment.

Guest of Ambassador.

Returning to this city Mr. Roosevelt was the guest at luncheon of Ambassador Hill at the American embassy. The luncheon party was a large one. Other guests of Mr. Hill were Count Zeppelin, Bernhard Dernburg, secretary of state for the colonies; Paul Bretienbach, minister of state and public works; Reinhold Sydow, minister of

ANTIQUE JEWELS SEIZED FOR DUTY

Nicaraguan Fails to Declare Ten to Twenty Thousand Dollars Worth.

New York, May 13.—A bagful of antique Spanish jewelry valued at between $10,000 and $20,000 is in the hands of the customs authorities here today as the result of a seizure made by a deputy surveyor from Nicholas Morales, a Nicaraguan ranch owner.

Signor Morales and his wife came into port yesterday on the steamer Colon. They declared about $3,000 worth of jewelry, most of which Mrs. Morales wore. The customs man discovered a little package which contained a large gold cross set with a big diamond and eleven small ones, a collar-like necklace containing twenty-eight large and eighty-seven small diamonds, two bracelets with twenty-three stones, a medallion brooch with fifty-one diamonds, and a pair of diamond earringe.

Signor Morales explained he was taking the jewelry to Paris for a friend.

NICARAGUANS NOT READY FOR BATTLE

Madriz Forces Are Waiting for the Arrival of the Venus.

New Orleans, La., May 13.—The threatened battle between Estrada and Madriz forces in Nicaragua may not occur for several days, according to a dispatch received here. It is reported that the largest division of the Madriz forces is now encamped at a point about eight miles south of Bluefields.

A portion of the invading army has been left at Rama to flank the opposing army of insurgents.

Wait for the Venus.

It is believed that Madriz forces are awaiting the arrival of the steamer Venus. That the Venus has put into a port of Central or South America to change its register is not denied by the Madriz representatives at New Orleans, and the belief is strong that the vessel sailed to one of the nearest South American ports.

According to a proclamation of Estrada, each volunteer in the insurgent army will receive 125 acres of land for his services, the same to revert to the government of the east coast if it it not in cultivation within six years.

SHOWS CARR ADVERTISED FOR TROUBLE

Pepper Takes Hand in Ballinger Quiz at Land Office Inquiry.

Presents Published Request for Complaints of Forest Service.

Ballinger's Private Secretary Is Drawn Into Hearing---Letters Sent to Nelson.

Washington, May 13.—In concluding his cross-examination of Secretary Ballinger today, Attorney Pepper, counsel for Gifford Pinchot, introduced a letter written by Don M. Carr, Mr. Ballinger's private secretary, and printed as an advertisement in the Montgomery Times of Mount Ida, Ark., reading as follows:

"It is suggested that as congress probably will at an early date make an examination of the management of the forest reserve, you might with propriety secure some affidavits of the character referred to in your editorial, and submit them both to the committee having charge of the investigation, of which Hon. Knute Nelson, United States senator, will probably be chairman."

Letter From Ballinger.

Mr. Pepper also offered the following from the same paper:

"We would call the homesteaders' attention to the letter from the department of the interior published in the upper right-hand corner of our editorial page. This letter is from an under-secretary. In addition, we have a personal letter from Secretary Bal-

TEN INJURED BY DYNAMITE BLAST

Hundreds Imperilled at Stone Quarry Near Logansport, Ind.

Logansport, Ind., May 13.—The count today of the laborers employed by the Casparis Stone company at the quarry colony called Trimmer, which was torn by an explosion of 300 pounds of dynamite last night, revealed that two, Emile Ferrer and Liguel Matazzo, were seriously injured and eight others were painfully cut by flying glass.

Most of the houses were shattered by the blast, and had it not been for one heavy building, which acted as a buffer between the "thawing house," where the dynamite that exploded was kept, and the main magazine, where five tons of the explosive were stored, all of the several hundred men asleep in the community would have been blown to bits.

The cause of the explosion has not been discovered.

FIND HEINZE NOT GUILTY

Jurors Free Copper Magnate of Charge of Breaking Bank Laws.

Uproar Breaks Out in Courtroom When Verdict Is Announced.

New York, May 13.—F. Augustus Heinze's friends kept him busy today receiving congratulations of his victory in his two and a half years' battle with the government won last night through his acquittal, amid one of the most sensational scenes ever witnessed in the federal courts here. Heinze told friends the contest had cost him between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 in damage to his credit and in legal expenses.

The mining man and former banker says he intends to return shortly to Montana, where he made a fortune in mining operations.

Found "Not Guilty."

F. Augustus Heinze was acquitted last night of charges of misapplying the funds of the Mercantile National bank while he was president of the institution in 1907, and he was cleared of the charge of over-certifying the checks of his brother's firm, Otto Heinze & Co.

Thus failed the federal government's attempt to hold Heinze responsible for financing during the panic of three years ago, alleged to be in violation of the national banking laws.

Statement by Heinze.

"I am naturally pleased with the verdict, but not at all surprised. The thing I most regret is the long delay in bringing the case to trial. I have been ready for trial ever since the first indictment was returned two and a half years ago. Possibly some persons, who were very anxious to see me convicted will be almost as well satisfied with this as though I had been found guilty, for the ruination of my credit seems to have been one of the objects viciously aimed at.

"However, as has been brought out in the evidence, I still have some of

SIX MONTHS TO LEARN HOW TO ROLL CIGARETTE WITH ONE HAND

"Slim Hoover, sheriff of Pina county, Arizona, who is at the Lyceum, is distinctly recognizable in Macklyn Arbuckle, who is at the Spalding. Mr. Arbuckle doesn't complain, as does Sheriff Hoover, that "nobody loves a fat man." At least, he should not, for his personality is so genially attractive that he is likable on sight.

Mr. Arbuckle once ran for justice of peace in Texas. He didn't win in his race for the office of dignity and power.

"It wasn't a fat man's year," said the hero of "The Round Up." "Grover Cleveland was beaten, too."

"Thought you ran for county attorney, not justice of the peace?"

"Don't believe it," he said. "Justice of the peace was the only big office in those days. Yes, I recited Shakespeare during that campaign. But my platform of free Shakespeare for the people didn't prove as effective as the other fellow's free chuck and whisky. So I wasn't elected."

When the actor was asked if he would please show the reporter how to roll a cigarette with one hand, he smiled and said:

"Some time when I've got about six months to spare and you have, too, I'll teach you that trick. It took me that long to get onto it. They had that business in the play and I simply had to learn how to get away with it. Same way with the gun drawing."

RAILROADS

OUTLOOK FOR HEAVY SUMMER TRAVEL.

Frank M. Rugg, Northwestern agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, is here today looking for passenger business. Mr. Rugg views the passenger situation through optimistic eyes. He does not believe that the reports of stringency will have any serious effect upon the passenger business of the country. On the contrary, he stated today that there was a very good outlook for a heavy travel from the East to the West, and also a heavy European travel from this country.

Passenger Agent Here.

Fred L. Lyon, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island, is in the city today. According to his statement, there is the promise of a very heavy travel from the Head of the Lakes to various points in the East.

GRADING HAS COMMENCED

Many Men and Teams Are Working on County Property.

Work Is Being Done Under Direction of County Commissioners.

The first work of improving the grounds at Fourth avenue west and First street was begun yesterday when a number of men started the grading. There are several teams at work and good progress is being made.

The land is owned by the county and for some time the commissioners have been urged to improve and make a sort of central park on the site until the city is ready to take it and erect the new city hall.

At the last meeting of the county commissioners the mater was taken up but as there was only one bid made on the work, the county determined to do the work itself. Commissioners Fraser and Cummings are overseeing the job.

The grading is being done in accordance with the beautification plans submitted to the county some time ago by Architect Morrell of Minneapolis. Terraces will be made near First street and also on Fourth avenue. The land will be seeded and the gravel paths will be laid. This will constitute about all the improving to be done on the property this year. Each year the county will do a certain amount of improving until finally the corner will be a breathing spot that every Duluthian will be proud of.

The kiosk, which was presented to the city by the United States government some time ago will be set up at the cross paths in this vacant lot.

The government will tear down the high board fence which now separates the government from the county property and the intervening space will be graded up to meet the county line. The old Peyton place has been torn down and that property will be cleared so that a better view than ever, can be secured on the courthouse from Superior street.

The work of improving the courthouse grounds proper which was considered in the original plan for the building of the county structure is going on nicely. The sod has been removed from the steep banks at the rear of the building and small evergreen trees, shrubs and bushes have been planted.

When the work is finally completed, the improvements will add greatly to the appearance of the central portion of the city.

ALL READY FOR THE GONG

Fast Horses Are Ready for the Start in Metropolitan Handicap.

The Track Is Fast and Day Is Perfect for Racing.

New York, May 13—All was in readiness today for the nineteenth running of the Metropolitan handicap and the field as announced tentatively several weeks ago was intact except as to Fitzherbert, last year's great 3-year-old, who, it was announced early, would not be at the post.

James R. Keene's Maskette was an even money favorite in the early betting. The entries, with weights, probable jockers, owners and probable odds, for the race, are:

Horse—	Weight.	Jockey.	Owner.	Odds.
King James	123.	Butwell.	J. R. Keene.	1 to 2, 2-5
Maskette	129.	Shilling.	S. C. Hildreth	8 to 5, 3-5
Restigouche	119.	Taplin.	S. C. Hildreth	8 to 5, 3-5
Firestone	119.	———	S. C. Hildreth	8 to 5, 3-5
Jack Atkin	129.	Nicol.	B. Schreiber.	3 to 1, 2-1
Priscillian	118.	Dugan.	A. Belmont	10 to 1, 4-1
Stanley Fay	110.	J. Relf.	Wm. Walker.	20 to 1, 8-1
Fashion Plate	105.	McGee.	Oneck Stable.	7 to 1, 5-2

Note—In list of entries the odds, 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, against Hildreth's three horses, is the betting against the stable.

The track was fast and the day was perfect for racing. Betting on the races today will not likely be interfered with, and will be conducted on the same plan as last year. Those known to the book makers will be able to get down their bets.

Sam Hildredth starts three horses but pins his hopes on King James. The fast filly Priscillian will carry the colors of August Belmont, who, with his bride, formerly Miss Eleanor Robson, reached here early today from Europe.

Other contenders have their friends and the contest is filled with racing possibilities.

NO WRESTLING DECORATION DAY

Chicago, May 13.—Mayor Busse announced today that no permit would be granted for the Zbyszko-Gotch championship wrestling match, which was to have taken place in the American league baseball park, May 30.

"Decoration day is sacred to the dead heroes of the war," said Mayor Busse in explanation, "and I will not permit professional sports of this type to desecrate it."

Ball Team Organized.

Benjamin Friedman of Friedman Bros. was last night elected business manager of the baseball team of the Independent Order of B'nai Brith. Mr. Friedman is an all-round athlete having played football, basket ball and baseball in St. Paul. He is a promising twirler and will probably do some of the pitching for the team. The material at hand is good and it is expected that some games with other city teams will soon be scheduled.

FAST MOTOR CARS IN A LONG RACE

Noted Drivers Entered in Season's First Event at Brighton Beach.

New York, May 13.—Twelve fast cars, manned by noted drivers, will start at 8 o'clock tonight in the first twenty-four hours' race of the season at the Brighton Beach motordrome here. It will be the first speed contest in New York this year.

The contesting cars with their crews are as follows:

Stearns No. 1, Ralph Mulford and Cyrus Patschke.
Stearns No. 2, Frank Dearborn and Ray Howard.
Buick No. 1, Louis Chevrolet and Arthur Chevrolet.
Buick No. 2, Robert Burman and George Dewitt.
Marion, Lewis Stranage and J. Anderson.
Cole, W. Endicott and L. Edmonds.
Hopt-Rockwell, Montague Roberts and Stanley Martin.
Simplex, George Robertson and Al Poole.
Platt, Ralph De Palma and A. H. Parker.
Selden, George Mack and Thomas McMahon.
Rainier, Louis Disbrow and Wally Owen.
Croxton-Keeton, W. C. Spiney and C. H. Lund.

Seven of the cars entered have appeared in previous twenty-four hour races, and the other five are comparatively newcomers in long distance racing. The Cole, Seldon and Croxton-Keeton have never been seen in track competition, and two, the Hopt-Rockwell and the Marion, are trying their speed in competition for the first time.

ROSSMAN WILL GO ON THE BENCH

Manager Friel Is Making a Skakeup on the Columbus Team.

Columbus, Ohio, May 13.—Manager Friel of the Columbus American association team made a decided shift in the lineup of the club today at Milwaukee, in hopes of breaking up the losing streak of the team. Claude Rossman, whom the senators secured from the St. Louis Browns, and a former first baseman of the Detroit world's champions, will be benched. Odwell will be shifted from center to first. Hinchman will move over to left field, Reilley going to center and Congallon, who has been on the bench, will take Hinchman's place in right.

AROUND THE CIRCUIT

Nothing but good words have been heard around the circuit for Kaiser Wilhelm, the man playing the shortfield for Duluth. Why both La Crosse and Winona let the player go is a mystery that has not been explained as yet. Joe Killian believes the boy is a fast player or he is basely deceiving Darby.

• • •

Uncle Joe is getting gray. He says it is in the family. Others say that the worry of managing a team has something to do with the white that is showing around the temples of the Winona leader. Joe says he has not worried greatly over the Koepping affair, which is relieving.

• • •

Winona players have nice white suits the present season. They will travel in their gray suits, according to Killian. In the opening game one of the Winona players was chased from the coaching lines for the reason that he had one of the old gray uniforms on while the regulars were bedecked in the snowy white suits.

• • •

Two umpires were used in the opening game at Winona, and the system worked very well. Both Arundel and Billman worked well and they look as if they are the kind of lads to keep turbulent players in the shade of the bench covering.

• • •

In Stark, Killian has evidently picked up a good catcher. The boy has a mighty whip and keeps the runners watching the sacks mighty closely.

• • •

McNutt in left field for Winona hardly looks up to the standard of the other two gardeners, Graves and Crangle. It is stated that Killian is on the lookout for another outfielder.

• • •

Kuehn, left fielder for the La Crosse team, is being touted as a wonder by the fans of the German burg. He is said to be strong with the willow, and also to be able to cover a lot of territory.

• • •

A. W. Kuehnow will go from Winona to La Crosse for a conference with John A. Elliott. Mr. Kuehnow desires the president of the league to be here when the flag is raised at Athletic park. There are also several business matters that the local official has to discuss with John A.

• • •

Reports from Wausau indicate that Biddy Dolan is playing like a youth of a few summers. The veteran is said to be as frisky as a colt. When Dolan dear is in a hitting mood, there are few in this league who have anything on the fence-splitting ability of the old boy.

Both Malloy of Red Wing and Bond of Wausau are on the trail of new players. Players are very hard to get, as many of the Minny league managers are finding out.

• • •

Jimmy Calahan, the once famous pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, has been in La Crosse, watching the Cubans play Safford's team. Calahan went there to sign the Cubans for a series of games with his Chicago Logan Squares.

To Decide Ties.

Brookline, Mass., May 13.—Before the first round of match play in the country club's spring tournament could begin today three ties in yesterday's qualifying round had to be decided. In addition to two rounds of match play today for the country club cup, there was an all-day bogy handicap as a consolation event.

"DEAD" MAN IS ALIVE.

Minneapolis War Veteran Is More Alive Than Thought.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thought dead by his family and his motionless body indicating by every test that life was extinct, William Schelley, 73 years old, a veteran of the G. A. R., awoke Wednesday on the undertaker's cooling board. The seeming resurrection occurred at the veteran's home, 115 Second street southeast, in the presence of Mrs. Schelley, Harry Hurlburt of the undertaking firm of J. M. Gleason, and several neighbors.

Schelley, upon showing signs of returning life, was hurried back to his bed and placed between warm blankets. His heart action, which had been imperceptible, soon returned and grew stronger and stronger, until the man's eyelids fluttered and he returned almost to complete consciousness. At present his condition is extremely low.

The undertaker was called by Mrs. Schelley, who found the body of her husband, cold and comparatively lifeless in the bed. The veteran had been sick for some time and it was thought that he had succumbed to old age.

FIRM TALK ON MORALS

Remarkable Letter By Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo.

Every Phase of Modern Municipal Life Is Analyzed.

Toledo, Ohio, May 13.—Answering a communication sent him by the Federation of Churches, in which it was stated that certain violations of law existed in Toledo, menacing particularly the morality and decency of the public at large, Mayor Brand Whitlock has written the most exhaustive review of modern morals yet to find expression on the printed records of a municipality.

Every phase of modern municipal life suggested in the federation's letter has been analyzed by the mayor and then treated with special reference to Toledo. The law violations alleged by the federation include every offense at all prominent in the existence of cities.

The reply of Mayor Whitlock to the charges of the federation will be read with interest in most cities of America. Mayor Gaynor of New York is one of the municipal executives of the country, who has asked that a copy of Mayor Whitlock's reply be sent to him.

Hits Privileged Interests.

Declaring that "privilege is the detractor and slanderer of the city," Mayor Whitlock claims in his opening paragraphs that "privileged interests" are responsible for both immoral conditions in Toledo and the exaggerated reports of such conditions.

The mayor calls attention to the fact that the lack of unanimity manifested by the people of Toledo, as of every city, as regards creed, interest, need, tradition, ideals and views necessitates a government that shall meet all requirements, rather than curry the favor of one fraction of the common mass which constitutes the public.

Agreeing upon every point with the representatives of the church federation as to the evils of such places as saloons and wine rooms, so-called, the mayor calls attention to the fact that the state licenses the liquor traffic, and that the statute does not deny to woman the privilege of drinking where men drink and the same liquors that men drink.

Wine Rooms Suppressed.

In spite of this, the mayor claims that Toledo has suppressed the wine room in its worst phases, and has so restricted this legal, though evil, institution, that its harmful effect is rendered practically nil in Toledo.

Speaking of his successful efforts in the line of law enforcement against women of the streets, the mayor states that driving these women from the streets did not in any way constitute a solution of the problem they and their kind put up to society.

"At whose establishment and where shall they apply for employment?" he asks.

"I'll tell you," he continues. "They can go either to the river or to the brothel."

The mayor denies that gambling in its common form exists in Toledo with the knowledge of the police. The mayor denies that the laboring man gambles.

Gambling Vice of Rich.

"Gambling is essentially a vice of the rich," he says, and he includes a few processes of the business world in the term gambling.

That gambling is gambling whether in a dive or an aristocratic club, whether for pennies or street car franchises; that prostitution is alike a sin whether it be of talent or person; that crime is none the less crime on Monday than on Sunday, is the note sounded in the close of the letter and it is followed by the reiteration of the mayor's well-known doctrine that force has no efficacy in the making of people good.

Mayor Whitlock, in speaking of the statutes for closing of saloons and places of amusement on Sunday, says:

"The basis of all this legislation was the contention that the Sabbath should be observed, and its object was to enforce the observance of the Sabbath, that is, to enforce an observance of the Sabbath in a certain way, devised by the Puritans, brought by them to this country and handed down and impressed upon their descendants.

Law Easy for Puritans.

"In any community composed of people among who the Puritan ideals and traditions prevail, the enforcement of such statutes was easy, because there was a general wish to observe them, and the other tendency was an exception; they represented the will of the people; they were in conformity with their customs and habits and employment; they were, in a word, law.

"But America was not for the Puritans or their descendants alone; it was for all men, and there came here others, of a different tradition, of other, less severe, and, in some respects, more cheerful ideals, people of different customs and habits and ways of viewing life. They wished to observe the Sabbath in a different manner.

"So here a first difficulty arose. A second presents itself upon the appearance of another powerful factor—namely, the economic aspect which the problem assumes. In dealing with what are called moral problems we are only beginning to take into consideration the influence of economic conditions in determining human conduct.

City and Country People.

"This mode of observing the Sabbath and the statutes enacted to enforce it found their rise in purely agricultural communities. Men accustomed to work out of doors all the week, coming at last wearily to a day of rest, were quite ready and willing to spend that day indoors. For rest, primarily, is change, and men who have been out of doors all week find a change within doors. Consequently the statutes relating to Sabbath observance were the more easily and readily accepted by the people, because, aside from any considerations of religion or piety, they were in conformity with their impulses, their desires and their necessities.

"In the city, however, a different state exists. Here the conditions of employment are such that men, for the most part, are indoors all the week, and when the day of rest comes they, or at least those to whom it does come, naturally as their country cousins went indoors, seek recreation in the open air.

Amusement a Necessity.

"Again, when we reflect upon the intensity of the modern struggle for existence, the rigorous demands made upon the vital forces of men in the economic conflict, the long hours of toil in close and often ill-ventilated shops, stores and factories, the nervous strain, the risk and danger in operating machines, it will be seen that some relaxation is necessary, and this fact, more than any other, explains the search for amusement. These things become a necessity under the economic conditions of today.

Purpose of the Saloon.

"The saloon, it is true, stands upon somewhat different grounds, yet, where the resort to it cannot be explained on the ground of real or fancied social necessity, it being the only public place where men may met freely as equals and enjoy each other's society, it is found to be due to the necessity of stimulation decreed by this same insatiable machine, which, by exhausting men's bodies in the mad greed for profits, drives them to stimulants in an impulsive effort to restore their wasted forces and exhausted bodies.

"And beyond all this, deeper, sadder, more pathetic far than all this, is the fact that thousands by society's grim machine are driven to drink by poverty, quite as often as they are driven to poverty by drink. Indeed, I think that Tom L. Johnson spoke the truth when he said that 'there are more people who drink because they are miserable than there are people who are miserable because they drink.'"

Call for the Opulento cigar.

OFFERS FINAL PROOF ON CLAIM

William Schreiber Is Now Owner of 160 Acres Near Cook.

William Schreiber, convicted of the murder of Frank Massapust and sentenced to prison at Stillwater for life, yesterday made final proof on his homestead near Cook, a small station on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Rainy Lake railroad, taking advantage of the commutation clause.

The homestead consists of 160 acres located in the very heart of the rich agricultural portion of the county. Some of the land has already been cleared and is ready for cultivation.

Final proof was made through Attorney Alexander McKnight, counsel for Schreiber, and two witnesses, George and Norman Lindsey. They testified that Schreiber had complied with the law in every respect.

It is unlikely that Schreiber will ever be able to live on his land. His wife and children will probably live at the forest home after Schreiber has begun his sentence at the Minnesota state prison.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

C. M. Sprague of Sauk Center, candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, is in Duluth, a guest at the home of A. Lofgren, 2305 West Second street. Mr. Sprague came to Duluth last night from his home and will return there after attending the banquet of the Svea Republican club. Mr. Sprague is an optimist, decidedly. He expects to be nominated. He feels no disquieting doubts. However, he recognizes that possibly he will not be nominated, but he accepts that possibility as a part of the game and doesn't kick.

State Candidate Is in City.

"If conditions come right and St. Louis county will support me, I will be glad to get that support," said Mr. Sprague. "This county is naturally more deeply interested in the candidacy of Mr. Smith for the treasurership than in that of the men who are out for lieutenant governor. Conditions make lieutenant governors, and I hope that conditions will so shape themselves as to give me the support of St. Louis county. The convention will name that man for lieutenant governor who will add the most strength to the ticket. That means, the man who will most help to elect the head of the ticket. His election is the predominating object.

"Governor Eberhart will be renominated and re-elected, undoubtedly. It is my opinion that he is the only man whom the Republicans can elect, and that he will be elected no matter who is named by the Democrats to run against him. He has been pointed out by the hand of Providence for the task of governing.

"Reapportionment? Certainly the next legislature should pass a reapportionment act, and it will. You should have it and you will get it. There is no doubt about that."

Concerning his own candidacy, Mr. Sprague said he had traveled about the state considerably and was extremely well pleased with the situation as it appeared to him. He feels confident that his square deal pronouncement on the county option issue is satisfactory to the optionists.

"There are a number of counties outside the Sixth district that are 'right' for me," said Mr. Sprague, whose manner of saying it indicated that he has certain well defined ideas as to the location of a large number of other counties that are about to fall into line for him, if he has the case properly sized up.

The fight for the Republican nomination for state treasurer is overshadowing the scramble for the lieutenant governorship these days. Walter J. Smith probably is responsible in large part for this fact. At any rate, before he got out and hustled a bit there was very little fuss over the candidates for treasurer, and now there's lots of fuss, mostly over the Eveleth mayor, too. The geographical phase of the situation is being given much attention, and this fact cannot but work to the advantage of the Northeastern Minnesota man.

Spotlight on the Treasurership.

The editor of the Itasca News, referring to this feature of the pre-convention skirmishing, confesses that "Us fellows in the middle are becoming cross-eyed."

The Itasca Iron News of Bovey, conceding the fact that any section of the state appreciates recognition, bewails the further fact that state treasurers are not empowered to draw a stiff rein over the legislature. The Iron News notes that Mr. Smith is receiving "all kinds of bouquets from the state press" and that "the range has been a very loyal party supporter and recognition would be appreciated," but pessimistically adds that, with Kaiser in the field, two northern candidacies will militate against either of the aspirants getting the prize.

In Minneapolis and St. Paul and farther south, Mr. Smith is being hailed as a pretty-sure winner, while nearer home,—well, here's what they say:

The Hibbing Tribune:

"In commenting on the candidacy of Walter J. Smith for state treasurer, some of the range newspapers are making the same mistake they have always made whenever a range man runs for a county office. They say: 'He is all right and ought to win, but the farmers down in the south end won't let us have representation.' It's a poor, weak-hearted way to go into a battle. This section has a right to representation on the state ticket. It is putting forward one of the brightest and most deserving, and we mad add, best looking Republicans in the whole state. Now, let's go into the contest with full confidence of victory. No buts, please. Just boost."

The Eveleth News:

"Judging from the attention paid Mayor Smith's candidacy for the state treasurership his advent into state politics has caused a furore, bringing about a readjustment of the slate as proposed and an uncertainty of where his strength will align in the state convention. It is a sure thing he will go to the convention with the Eighth district solid, with a bunch of delegates that, we trust, will have the political sagacity to demand their candidate is nominated—with just that singleness of purpose, having no preference nor making no attempt to dictate the rest of the ticket. With a delegation of this kind, Mr. Smith's chances to land the nomination are excellent. It is no exaggeration to say he is today accounted the leading candidate for the position."

"Senator Thomas M. Pugh of Duluth, who is spending a few weeks at his farm, called at the Free Press office this morning," says the Mankato Free Press. "The rest and outing are doing him good, and he is looking fine. He states that Duluth and the iron range is booming, and that there are now over 700 men working on the new steel plant. He thinks that there is no doubt about Duluth becoming a second Chicago in the near future."

C. M. SPRAGUE,
Candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Judge Jaques was the bright particular star at last evening's meeting of the Duluth Democratic club in Sloan's hall. The Democratic candidate for congress made a characteristic speech and was frequently interrupted by cheers and applause by the audience. The meeting was well attended and much enthusiasm for Judge Jaques' candidacy was evinced. Andrew Nelson was one of the prominent Democrats who came to the hall to assure the judge that the entire democracy of Duluth is backing him in his fight against the forces of reaction. The speakers emphasized the intention of local Democrats to see that Judge Jaques shall go into the battle with the required sinews of war, and all in all a measure of confidence was shown that promises much for the party in the campaign.

President Charles Dice was in the chair and among the speakers were Frank Crassweller, John Brown, Thomas J. McKeon, Alderman Frank Jordan and Harris Bennett.

FLICKERTAIL POLITICS

Former Justice Edward Engerud's contention that he has a right to file as a candidate simply for the senate, rather than for either the long or the short term vacancies in that body, has been studied by interested persons from every conceivable angle. Insurgents have agreed with his interpretation and stalwarts have disagreed, and vice-versa. Now it's up to the supreme court to say which interpretation shall stand as the legal one.

Engerud and the Fllings.

The course that has been followed by Mr. Engerud during his campaign trips may throw some light on his motives in fighting for his contention. His stump speeches should be read in the light of the fact that Senator McCumber has specified that he is a candidate for the long term, and of the fact that Engerud's opponents want him to file as a candidate for the shorter term so that he will be right-fully placed as a running mate of McCumber.

In his speeches in different parts of the state, Engerud is quoted as having made veiled advances to the insurgents. Not in definite terms, but inferentially, he has proffered support of Helgeson, the progressive candidate for congress, and he has also leaned strongly toward Buchannan, the progressive candidate for governor, in some localities. However, he is hand in glove a part of the stalwart ring-around-the-rosey game and hasn't been able to conceal his real affiliations from the insurgents, if apparently reliable advices from the seat of war are to be accepted as true.

The suspicion is taking form that Engerud wants, first and last, to be senator, and he'd rather have the long than the short term; but, although he dares to put that phase of the question up to the supreme court without breaking with McCumber, he believes it would be folly for him to come out as an avowed progressive, appreciating the fact that he could not be accepted in that role by the insurgents and would only succeed in losing his stalwart machine support.

The attempt of the North Dakota standpatters to induce President Worst of the agricultural college to run for governor is going to be responsible for some very sad, sad jokes. Worst kind of jokes, indeed.

* * *

Unless President John H. Worst agrees to run for the Stalwart Republican nomination for governor of North Dakota, his case is hopeless, he is being told. The Flickertail regulars have become convinced that if their plan to reunite the fragments of their part of their party is to have a chance of success, it will be necessary for them to put Dr. Worst in the field as their standard bearer. Their argument to him is that unless he goes after the nomination and gets it and then wins in the election, he will be most completely a has-been. They say that in the event of Governor John Burke's re-election, President Worst will be removed from his place at the head of the agricultural school, where he would much rather stay than enter a political fight. So, they tell him, the only thing for him to do is to beat Burke.

Worst as Gov. Burke's Rival.

It seems that H. C. Hansbrough, former United States senator, and C. B. Little of Bismarck, his bitterest enemy of two years ago, have got together and made a solemn pact to win the two attainable togas for McCumber and Engerud, incidentally taking the governorship away from Burke. All their differences have been buried, it is related, and they are working hand in hand to restore the regular faction of the party to the unfractured condition it enjoyed before they had their falling out.

With the stalwarts putting forth every effort in the primary campaign to nominate McCumber and Engerud, who have drawn the persistent and consistent fire of the insurgent Republicans, there is every prospect that the result of the primary campaign will spell disaster to the regular Republicans. The insurgents, as they have done in the past, are likely to turn to the Democrats, who more nearly represent them than do the standpatters, and elect Burke governor and Purcell senator.

The Democrats of the state are showing an eager activity in organizing the party in practically every county. A complete state ticket will be put in the field. The hopeful Democrats expect to elect others besides Burke and Purcell, and there seems to be ground for hopefullness.

FOOD FOR MEMORY.

The Kind That Builds Up the Brain.

It is hard to believe that certain kinds of food will strengthen the memory, and yet, upon the condition of the brain depends the character of the mind, and its power to remember and to exert itself in various ways, and a healthy brain can only be maintained by well selected food.

Now we know that daily use of the brain uses up certain parts that are thrown out through the pores to the outer surface of the skin. This waste is natural and must be made up from food.

Grape-Nuts food was made especially to rebuild the brain and nerve centers. An experience in Chicago will illustrate:

"I had a terrible siege of gastritis; my stomach refused everything in the way of food until I got hold of Grape-Nuts. It was perfectly wonderful and marvelous to see the difference—I began to improve at once.

"I weighed myself about that time and found that I had 118 pounds to my credit. I gained in weight, strength and health steadily and rapidly, and now weigh 160 pounds and am strong and in better health than ever in my life.

"I have lately had a seven months' course of instruction in vocal music, and have memorized 58 songs and most of the accompaniments besides several piano pieces. When I started in it seemed difficult to memorize one, but my memory has been growing better every day and I now find it easy to commit to memory without difficulty.

"I have taken no medicine, but my steady diet of Grape-Nuts food has given me strength, health and memory."

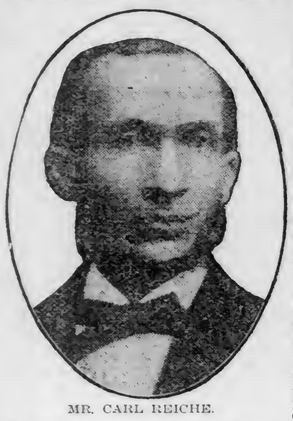
Throat and Stomach Trouble



MR. CARL REICHE.

MRS. CARL REICHE.

Mr. Carl Reiche suffered for years with his throat; nothing he tried did him any good till he used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which absolutely cured him.

Mrs. Reiche had stomach trouble in a severe form, but this wonderful medicine completely restored her to health.

They both praise Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the greatest remedy in the world for the weak and suffering.

Mr. Reiche writes: "I have suffered for a long time from two very bad diseases. When I went to bed I had a regular boiling in my windpipes. This increased until I could not breathe any more. It drove me crazy; choked me; I could not sleep and all medicines I tried did me no good. The second trouble was while speaking to people; I had such a tickling and pricking in my larynx, together with strong coughing, that I could not talk—a suffering of many years. Of all these tortures I am now delivered through Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. After using it for one week only I found relief and now I am free of my sufferings and in the best of health."—Carl Reiche, Chase City Va.

In a recent interview, Mrs. Reiche said: "During Christmas holidays I felt very ill in my stomach. My husband wanted to call a doctor, but I thought of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I took a teaspoonful in a little water and it was not more than a half hour when I felt a little better. After taking a few teaspoonfuls more I had some appetite and I improved steadily. Now I am perfectly well. It is my opinion that this medicinal whiskey is incomparable."—Mrs. Carl Reiche, Chase City, Va.

RICH DISCOVERY BY ART CRITIC

Rare Paintings Worth $100,000 Are Found in St. John, N. B.

Boston, Mass., May 13.—A report comes from St. John, N. B., of the discovery of a wonderful collection of old pictures, which if autuentic should be worth at least $100,000, and probably much more. The announcement is made on the authority of Purves Carter, a London art critic and teacher and restorer.

Some of these pictures are owned by the Right Rev. Timothy E. Casey, Roman Catholic bishop of St. John, and were identified in the bishop's palace by Mr. Carter. Others are in the possession of F. Gleeson, ex-secretary of the Exhibition Association. Mr. Gleeson has had his pictures for about three years. Originally they formed part of a larger collection made in Europe many years ago by a very eminent personage who traveled extensively. The collection was broken up and disposed of, and some of the very finest pictures in it eventually came into Mr. Gleeson's possession.

While believing that his pictures held some value, Mr. Gleeson had no idea that their worth was so great until the expert advised him.

Finest in the World.

While the discoverer of these pictures was in Quebec, he met Mr. Gleeson and, having decided to travel by boat from St. John to Boston as soon as his work in Quebec was finished, accepted Mr. Gleeson's invitation to spend a day or two in St. John and look over some of his pictures.

He now says that the St. John pictures are among the finest of their kind in the world today, and on this he stakes his reputation and years of experience.

Of the pictures he saw at the bishop's palace, Mr. Carter selects as the most valuable a magnificent work representing the "Adoration of the Magi," which he identified immediately as an exceedingly fine specimen of Jacopo Bassano's art.

Another work in Bishop Casey's collection represents the Blessed Virgin Mary and the infant St. John, with St. Elizabeth. This is said to be by Bartolomeo Schikone, who was born in Modena in 1560. His works are extremely rare, as he died young, and the one in Bishop Casey's collection is pronounced one of the finest and most valuable in existence. Still another painting is a sublime work representing St. Francis of Assissi, attributed to Spagnoletto, the famous Spanish artist.

One of Guido Reni's Best.

Of John F. Gleeson's pictures, Mr. Carter says they belong to the best periods and schools and are extremely valuaole, embracing genuine examples of the work of Guido Reni, Rembrandt, Andrea del Sarto, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Salvator Rosa, Bassano, Fuselli and Peter Neifs.

One of the finest works in the collection, which Mr. Carter says is easily worth $20,000 today, is a gallery work by Guido Reni representing St. Mary Magdalene. Reni was born at Bologna, Italy in 1575, and died in 1842, which is indicative of the great age of the picture. Speaking particularly of its worth, Mr. Carter says: "It is a far more beautiful work than the Magdalene in the National Gallery of London. It is one of Reni's finest, and is easily worth many thousands of dollars."

Other gems in Mr. Gleeson's collection, which are genuine old masters, embrace a Cleopatra estimated at $10,000, three Venetian pictures estimated at $5,000 each, an interior of Antwerp Cathedral, by Peter Neifs, estimated at $3,000.

TO BE HAPPY AND MARRIED.

Simple Secret on Adjustment of Vibrations, Says Mme. Maeterlinck.

Berlin, May 13.—Mme. Georget Maeterlinck, who was Mlle. Leblanc, a Parisian actress before her marriage to Maurice Maeterlinck, says that the reason many marriages are not happy and that so many divorces occur is that the two persons have different rates of vibrations and that they thus jar upon each other. Vibrations must be of the same rate or no harmony can exist. She says that the vibrations can be trained to fit each other by breathing exercises for perfect polarization of the nerves.

When the Maeterlincks were first married they had many a jar. They vexed each other and appeared to be quite unadjusted. They are both of highly strung temperaments, and were constantly in hot water. Now she says she and her husband are like one person, thinking upon the same lines and being, as Mme. Maeterlinck expresses it, "in exactly the same vibration and therefore in perfect harmony and accord."

MORE ENGLISH CRUELTY.

Woman of 70 Years Has Spent Life in Jail.

London, May 13.—A belated attempt to reform Annie Connor, 70 years old, who has spent nearly forty-one years in prison, was begun by a group of persons interested in the reform of the system of magistracy in England.

The woman has served fourteen prison sentences, having been first arrested when she was 14 years old on a charge of petit larceny. Despite the fact that she was of good parentage and that it was her first offense the magistrates gave her four months in prison.

After this sentence she was literally driven to a life of crime. She is now under sentence of one year for shoplifting.

ATTIRED IN "NIGHTIE,"

Memphis Society Girl Chased Burglar Down the Street.

Memphis, Tenn., May 13.—Calmly turning on the electric light switch after discovering a burglar ransacking her room with a dark lantern at an early hour in the morning, Miss Grace Toof, prominent in women clubs and daughter of C. C. Toof, wealthy merchant, followed the man in her night clothes, pleading for the return of the family jewels, including her father's heirloom watch. The burglar escaped, but with rare presence of mind, Miss Toof telephoned the police. Bloodhounds and police scoured the neighborhood, with Miss Toof taking active part, but asphalt streets and paved walks, the police say, prevented a perfect trail.

MILLIONS IN BUILDINGS

Vast Sums Being Invested in New Structures in New York.

Four Million Passengers Are Moved Daily By the Street Cars.

New York, May 13.—With $100,000,000 invested in skyscraper structures that are already beginning to hide the horizon from end to end of this island, the walls of Gotham are today calculated to be rising more rapidly than ever before in the history of its development. In the centers of the city fully $50,000,000 worth of office buildings are now well under way, while another $25,000,000 is being hurried into apartment buildings in the upper sections. Some $30,000,000 worth of stone, stucco and scaffolding are being devoted to suburban home making and many millions more are being made to beautify a hundred new residence parks on the city's limits. Altogether, Greater New York has never seen the day when its builders were more ready to risk fortunes on its structural growth.

Staple Stricken.

Begging bread in vain of their liveried army of servitors, thousands of the pampered inmates of this city's gilded hotels are today suffering strike rule such as has not shattered polite service here in many a year. Bake shops, upon which rich and poor alike depend for the staff of life, are closed and cold on the upper East side since the bakers walked out, and for the lack of their simple wares the whole metropolis is gastronomically stagnant. Wheat gambles, that left the poor starving for want of their loaves, have often before laid hold of the tenement quarters of town; but seldom have the more fortunate folk behind brownstone been called upon to feel the exigencies of a squeeze in bread. While cake clogs the market, plain bread and butter is now commanding a high premium all about town.

Moving Millions.

That the daily toilers in this city number well up to 2,000,000 is shown by official statistics that have been given out here. According to a bulletin from the Hughes utility board, more people were carried on the street cars of Greater New York each day last January than were counted in the whole population of this metropolis at the last census. Within the twenty-four hours of every one of the thirty-one days of this recent month some 4,000,000 passengers are figured to have been handled by subway, surface and elevated lines. Excluding the many thousands of men and girls who walk to and from their work and making due allowance for shoppers and pleasure trippers, it is calculated that over 1,500,000 of these passengers rode in and out to their offices. As the records show that some 800,000 persons are hurried home from work within a few hours each week-day night, New Yorkers are beginning to realize the magnitude of moving them with speed and safety at their own time every morning and night.

Smith's Survival.

While the masses still mourn the death of Charles Sprague Smith, whose later lifetime was a single-handed struggle to show them the path to higher thought, New Yorkers are today beginning to realize the large legacy that he has left to every citizen of this town. From a life of literary pleasure the founder of the People's Institute plunged into the heart of the slums and the idea which he created there is now recognized as having become rooted for an everlasting rowth. Thousands of the people of the tenements are today taking up with hundreds from the higher classes the common cause of clearer thought, as Sprague Smith pointed out the way under the simple doctrine of "Faith, Hope and Love." New York may lose many men from more prominent and powerful places in public life than that claimed by Prof. Smith, but no one of them can leave a more lasting impress for good upon the minds of all her people.

Choosing Celebrities.

To entitle some ten women and thirty men to new niches in the hall of fame upon University heights, ninety-six electors are solemnly sitting here to pass upon a list of 206 eligibles. Many ineligibles, among whom Mr. Jeffries of fistic fame is chief, have been unofficially presented to the august body by irreverent partisans over on the East side. Of the long list of celebrities from which the authorities must choose, it is said that not a dozen names could be recognized by the majority of the people of this town. Whatever the final choice of subjects for statuary may prove, it is apparent that little commotion will be caused among the general public here.

AS THE COMET WAS IN 1835

Old Lady Indulges in Some Reminiscences of Its Appearance.

Marion, Ohio, May 13.—Mrs. Adeline Degarmo, who celebrated her ninety-first birthday anniversary April 8, was an eyewitness to the visit of Halley's comet seventy-five years ago, and remembers distinctly the night of the falling stars, the year before.

Mrs. Degarmo is a daughter of the late Stephen Kable, who, with Moses Cleaveland, the founder of the city of Cleveland, built the first cabin on the tract of land on which the Forest City now stands. This cabin was later moved to make way for the first courthouse.

The night of the falling stars Mrs. Degarmo and her parents—they at that time were living at Brownheim, Lorain county—had retired.

"During the night," said Mrs. Degarmo, "mother came to my bed and awoke me and told me to get up and dress, as something terrible was happening. It was then about 10 o'clock, and the rain of stars continued until along toward morning. The sight was very beautiful, and I can remember it as well as if it only happened last night. The next day many meteorites were found. Straw stacks in the neighborhod were set on fire, and the people became much frightened, thinking the world was coming to an end. Many of the neighbors came rushing to our home, and I can remember how astonished they were at the calmness which we displayed. Some said to me, 'Adeline, aren't you afraid?' and I replied, 'No, I don't think God is ready to destroy the world by fire just yet.' Many became very ill, and some died of fright.

"It was about a year after this that the comet made its appearance and frightened the people, who were sure this time that God was going to destroy the world."

"The comet was very bright and was visible to everybody. I was then a little girl, but I remember that it had a long tail that stretched across the sky. It was visible and very bright for a number of evenings, and then gradually it disappeared. To us it was a very remarkable and awful spectacle, and while it was a beautiful sight yet it carried a sinister meaning that held the people in a great fear."

The feeble old lady, smiling, closed here narrative with these words:

"I knew God did not intend to destroy the earth just then by fire, because there was so much wickedness all about, and He surely would not take the pople without giving them a chance to repent. So I was not afraid, but many others were."

OLD-FASHIONED SPANKING.

Columbus, Ohio, May 13.—"What you need is a good spanking," remarked Judge Samuel L. Black, of the juvenile court, to Elisha Searles, 14 years old, who was arraigned for incorrigibility. Elisha "sassed" his mother and would not mind her.

The sentence was executed by Probation Officer Thompson, who took the boy to the cellar of the detention home and applied a leather strap liberally.

Judge Black says that he proposes to inflict this punishment on incorrigibles in the future.

BUILDING HIGHWAYS

Great Work Being Done By Maj. W. P. Richardson in Alaska.

Movement Started to Erect Memorial to the Southern "Mammy."

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every fall there comes out of Alaska a party of rugged men whose business interests lie in that far away territory, and all winter they are engaged in what has been, up to date, a vain attempt to secure legislation looking to the development of the interests of Alaska. Many of these men have schemes for making themselves and their associates rich, others simply want congress to create some form of government for the territory which will insure stability; extend to the citizens a measure, at least, of home rule. Others beg for changes in the mining laws, which will enable them to develop their holdings to better advantage than they can under existing conditions.

But there is one man who makes his appearance in Washington every winter who has no personal axes to grind. He is Maj. W. P. Richardson, who has the physique of a Samson, the fighting qualities of Andrew Jackson, the brains of a Solon and the good nature of St. Nicholas. Richardson for years has been posted in the Far North, building trails and highways under the authority of the war department. He has accomplished more in the matter of making travel possible in Alaska in the last five years than some highway commissioners have succeeded in doing in half a century. The highways of Alaska are not of course up to the standard set by France and Belgium. The trails are simply what they claim to be—simply pathways which can be traversed by horses, mules or men. But if one could imagine the vastness of the country and the utter lack of anything like a pathway when the pioneers moved to Dawson in 1890 and could compare conditions then with conditions as they exist today, an idea of the enormous service of this rugged army officer could be obtained.

As it is, he has the absolute confidence of his superior officers. He comes out each winter with his reports and maps, and he is followed by the encomiums and praise of the people who have benefited through his labors. Maj. Richardson has just gone back to continue his labors through another summer. The cordiality which will greet him when he reaches his headquarters at Valdez will be equaled only by the regrets of the friends whom he has made in Washington because of his departure from the capital for another summer.

Memorial to Southern "Mammy."

There is a movement on foot among the people of the South to erect a memorial to the Southern "Mammy." Few people north of Mason and Dixon's line know anything about this rapidly departing species of the American negro. But there is scarcely a Southern man or woman, who has passed the half century mark, who has not, a way down in his or her heart, a feeling of love and veneration for the old time mammy, who nursed them through their childhood and who was to them an affectionate, loving mother. The abolition of slavery scattered the negroes from the plantations of the South and the relationship which existed between master and slave exists no longer between master and servant. The colored servant of today seldom stays in one place long, and while there are exceptional cases wherein Aunt Cloe has served as nurse down to the youngest of the last generation, it is more often that one finds a new one installed at the cradle with the appearance of each addition to the family. There was no greater affection ever exhibited by one human towards another than was displayed by old mammy towards the babies whom she nursed, coddled and fussed over, and as they grew she punished them for their faults with just as much vigor as she spanked her own youngsters. It is because of this feeling of veneration towards this type that is so nearly extinct that it is proposed by the Southern women, backed by the Southern men, to testify to the affection which existed by the erection of some great memorial, which will probably take the form of a monument, that will have to be explained, but will be a patent and forceful indication of the oft repeated truth that in the South the household negro, and especially old mammy, was venerated and esteemed by the master.

Rise of Charles C. Carlin.

Representative Charles C. Carlin of Alexandria, Va., will be re-nominated without opposition, and re-nomination in that district means re-election. Carlin is a young man who has hewed his own way to the front. He was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth and he had an uphill road to hoe when he was a boy, and while it is no uncommon thing to find scores of men in the West who have climbed from the farm to the forum, it is rather unusual to find in the South men who have achieved as great success as has Mr. Carlin with as few advantages as he has had. Two years ago, when Carlin had served only one year he had a rather hard fight for re-nomination, but he won against some of the strongest representatives of the best families of the district. He has accomplished much for his constituency. He has the respect of the Republicans as well as the Democrats in the house and will continue to make an excellent representative.

As much as this might be said of scores of other representatives on either side of the house whose service for their districts are appreciated by their constituencies. But there is more than local interest attached to Mr. Carlin's congressional service. The principal portion of his district is embraced within that section of Virginia which was formerly a portion of the District of Columbia. President Taft thinks that the recession of the Virginia portion of the district back to the commonwealth of Virginia was a mistake and the president has attacked the constitutionality of that act of congress. During the past year there has been a great deal of talk of congressional action, looking to the restoration of the original limits of the District of Columbia, and Mr. Carlin has been the leading opponent of this movement. His people naturally prefer the franchise as citizens of the Old Dominion to the advantages which they are promised if they will only consent to come back, and give the real estate speculators who about exhausted their efforts in Washington, a chance to extend their sphere of influence to the fertile fields across the Potomac. Thus far Mr. Carlin has been successful in his efforts to prevent action by congress and it would appear from present indications that he will continue to be successful during the remainder of the present term.

Office Appliances Exhibit.

The United States government has at last started to do business on business principles. During the last week there has been an exhibition in the treasury department of labor-saving devices for office use, which is attracting the attention of practically all bureau chiefs, chiefs of divisions and heads of departments in the capital. This exhibition will undoubtedly result in the standardization of appliances used for reducing the labor cost of government work. It is remarkable to see as to what extent interest was developed, not only by officials, but by all the clerks of the treasury department. The exhibit was under the direct supervision of W. M. Geddes, who has been in charge of the government exhibits in the exhibitions in Philadelphia, Omaha, Buffalo, St. Louis and other cities during the past decade. The success of this show was remarkable. The exhibit included desks, tables and filing devices in steel (which, by the way, is being substituted for wood at the rate of hundreds of thousands dollars' worth a year in all the government departments), adding machines, addressing machines, duplicating devices, various and wonderfully constructed typewriters, and in fact everything that goes to reduce the cost of office expenses in governmental as well as commerical business. One of the most attractive features of the exhibit was the wonderful work of a young woman from Kansas City, who operated a typewriter without letters on the keys and without at any time glancing at the machine itself. This young lady—Miss Alice M. Owen—was graduated from a business college in Omaha two or three years ago, and for five hours every day operated this non-marked typewriter and produced copy at the rate of 100 to 120 words a minute, without a single error. This Western girl opened the eyes of the Eastern typewriters, and during the hours when the operators from the departments were permitted to visit the exhibit she was watched by others eager to see this most wonderful performance.

The office appliances exhibit promises to become an annual feature, and is a natural outcome of the purpose of the government to standardize appliances used as well as the method of purchasing them.

ESTHETIC MINING CAMPS.

Towns in the Hawkeye State Are to Be Beautified.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 13.—A complete revolution in the social condition of the Iowa miners is planned as a result of the appointment of a social improvement commission by the joint scale committee tonight.

Unsightly and forbidding appearing coal mining camps will give place to neat towns; churches will be built; mining huts entirely remodeled and good substantial schools erected in the mining districts of Iowa. The appointment of this committee grew out of the failure to agree on the much mooted house rent question and was recommended by the sub-committee of the joint scale committee.

The plan contemplates the formation of the camp into regularaly organized towns, with mayors, councilmen and police. It is planned to do away with the blind tigers and gamabling joints. The miners are overjoyed at the prospects of improvements in their social conditions and were enthusiastic in their praises of the operators.

"It is one of the greatest improvements even contemplated by any state," said John P. White, president of the miners' organization. "We want churches and schools the same as other laborers. We want to enjoy the home comforts, and this action will go far toward securing them."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GREAT DITCH WORK STARTS

Northwestern Drainage Co. Begins to Construct Huge Drainage Project.

Half Million Dollar Enterprise That Will Reclaim Vast Swamp Lands.

Crookston, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work has commenced on the greatest drainage project ever undertaken in Minnesota, if not in the entire Northwest. The Northwestern Drainage company yesterday placed the first dredge at work on Ditch No. 11 in Eastern Marshall, Red Lake and Beltrami counties, and within a few days will have another big dredge at work.

Will Cost About $500,000.

The great ditch and lateral which is expected to redeem an empire of swamp land will cost about $500,000.

Engineer W. R. Hoag has general direction of the scheme which will redeem thousands of acres of what has been classed as swamp land, and will make it as rich agricultural land as can be found in the world.

The scheme is a gigantic one, but perfectly feasible. The fall is ample and the water will be carried off rapidly The amount of water to be handled will by its own action wash the ditches deeper and deeper each succeeding year.

One of the big problems the state will have to figure out is the amount of work that will have to be done in straightening out Thief river so that stream may take care of the immense amount of water that will be dumped into it.

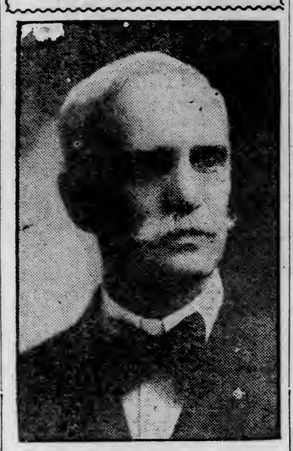
Mr. Hoag will devote a month or more in securing data as to the percentage of decrease in the head of a stream caused by sharp bends. In a straight ditch with a given fall, the volume of water that will be discharged can be easily figured, but no standard has ever been established upon which to base the restraining influence of a certain number of bends of a given angle of sharpness.

About Straightening Thief River.

Accurate data in this connection will be secured by Engineer Hoag and upon it will be based the amount of the straightening of the river to be done, and the size of the waterway that will be necessary to take care of the great volume of water to be taken care of coming through the drainage ditches into the river.

Some apprehension has been felt that even Red Lake river may be unable to take care of the vast amount of water that will thus be hurried to it in the spring when the snow disappears rapidly or when a general rain fall of more than ordinary precipitation wit.in a short space of time. If the state turns more water in a river than the river can take care of, it is up to the state to increase the carrying capacity of the river by straightening out the bends or deepening the channel to increase the head.

SEEKS POSITION ON THE SUPREME BENCH



C. M. COOLEY.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among the candidates for a position on the North Dakota supreme court is C. M. Cooley of this city. He is a member of the firm of Bangs, Cooley & Hamilton and has been engaged in the practice of law in this city for a number of years, formerly residing at Minneapolis, and at Decorah. Mr. Cooley has received the unanimous indorsement of the members of the Grand Forks County Bar association and he announces that he proposes to conduct a very thorough campaign during the year.

BACK TO RAILROAD.

Former General Manager of Northern Pacific in Harness.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry J. Horn, a railway man who left the Gotzian Shoe company Jan. 1, has accepted the position of assistant general manager of the Western division of the Burlington road, with headquarters at Omaha. He will be under Frank Ward, general manager of the Burlington in Chicago, formerly general manager of the Great Northern.

Mr. Horn was general manager of the Northern Pacific for six years and his resignation was a surprise to his friends when he retired from railway work about two years ago. Following his retirement from the Gotzian company various rumors were afloat concerning his return to railroad work. President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, asked him to come to that road. Mr. Mellen knew his capabilities when Mr. Mellen was general manager and Mr. Mellen president of the Northern Pacific.

BUTTE MAN LOSES FORTUNE IN HOTEL

In Form of Certificates of Deposit and Checks, But Recovers It.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—When John M. Moris walked out of the elevator at the West hotel Wednesday, on his way to his room on the third floor, he found a pocketbook. When he opened the pocketbook he was surprised. It contained certificates of deposit, checks and papers worth $50,000.

Realizing that if the owner of the pocketbook was, like himself, a traveling man, he would likely be temporarily embarrassed by the loss of his small change, Mr. Moris first examined the papers, then went to the desk, and demanded to see J. D. Slemons of Butte, Mont.

That was the name on most of the papers.

When Mr. Slemons appeared and was handed his pocketbook, he offered to fall upon Mr. Moris' neck. He asked Mr. Moris to accept a trifle in token of his esteem, say a $1,000 bill. He told Mr. Moris that to retain $49,000 out of $50,000 should be enough for any man who would lose his pocketbook. But Mr. Moris declined, waved his hand airily and smiling in the manner that has sold much goods.

Not to be refused, Mr. Slemons then drew a ring from his finger and pressed it into Mr. Moris' hand. It was given to him, he said, by his friend, the late Marcus Daly, Mr. Moris accepted the ring. It is a seal ring and fits Mr. Moris nicely.

Mr. Slemons then chained his pocket book to his person and took the train back to Butte.

RUN DOWN BY AN AUTO, WINONA BOY MAY DIE.

Winona, Minn., May 13.—Robert Posz, 7-year old son of Louis Posz, a prominent local merchant was run down and probably fatally injured by an automobile owned by C. M. Youmans and driven by his chauffeur in front of the baseball park, after the game late yesterday. The boy in attempting to cross in front of the machine, was struck squarely, and the car passed over him. He suffered internal injuries.

Chief of Police Dead in Bed.

Livingston, Mont., May 13.—Chief of Police C. P. Donohue, one of the most prominent citizens of this section of the state, died while asleep Wednesday night of heart failure.

FIRST RIGHTS NOT SQUATTERS

Reversal of Duluth Land Office in an Important Land Ruling.

Brookston, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alex Sorvari, who filed on a homestead in section 1, 50-19, Sept. 15, 1908, and whose right to hold the claim was contested by Hugh McCaw, a squatter, has received notice from the general land office at Washington that the decision of the local land office at Duluth was reversed and Sorvari entitled to the land.

This case attracted considerable attention locally, and the recent decision has rather upset the contention that a squatter has first rights on the Fond du Lac reservation. It is understood that in future openings within this reservtaion the squatter will not be considered at all, and that all land entries will have to be made at the land office in Duluth.

IS SILVER PLATED.

New Spurious Dollar Circulating in the Copper Country.

Houghton Mich., May 13.—A new counterfeit silver dollar has been found in circulation in the towns of the Michigan Copper country, and it is believed to be the product of local counterfeiters.

The coin is almost perfect; is only twenty grains lighter than the genuine coin and possessing a clear ring. It was discovered in a local bank through the medium of tarnish on its face. All the usual simple tests failed to show that it was not the genuine article, and it was found necessary to scrape off the silver plating and use silver nitrate and nitric acid to prove it not good.

The coin is lead, plated heavily with silver. It is of perfect diameter and thickness. The letters of the words "In God we trust" and the stars are very slightly clogged with the metal. Beneath the head of Liberty appears the initial letter "N." The federal authorities were notified immediately on the discovery of the counterfeit, and the local and county officers are on the trail of the counterfeiters.

JUDGE MORRIS IS HOLDING COURT AT BISMARCK, N. D.

Bismarck, N. D., May 13.—Federal court convened here yesterday and as usual there is a large number of Indians to be seen in the streets. Most of them are interested in cases where the sale of liquor on the reservation is charged. There are two cases to be called in which the Northern Pacific is facing heavy danage charges. Judge Page Morris of Duluth is presiding for Judge Amidon.

To Leave St. Peter Asylum.

St. Peter, Minn., May 13.—After having served for twenty years as superintendent of the St. Peter state hospital for the insane, Dr. H. A. Tomlinson is to leave this city. He has been selected by the Board of Control of State Institutions to take charge of the state farm for inebriates near Willmar and will be transferred to taat institution about a year hence.

Last night, the city council authorized the opening of the road to the Bayfield county line, at an expense of not to exceed $500. He holds that section 1 of chapter 302 of the laws of 1905 does not repeal section 6 of chapter 72 of the laws of 1903.

GRAIN RATES AT LOW LEVEL

Cargoes Offered at 1 Cent Are Taken By Vessel Men.

No Demand for Eastbound Package Freight---Coal Movement Steady.

Grain rates are erratic, ranging from 1 cent to 1½ cents. Line boats at the present time are asking 1½ cents, with but a very slight demand for charters. Wild boats are asking 1¼ cents, with little demand. Cargoes that are offered at 1 cent, are generally accepted by vesselmen, so scarce are grain cargoes at the present time.

On May 13, a year ago, the charter rate on grain was 2 cents. There was more demand for grain then, with no congestion of flour in the East and also a strong demand for export grain.

From the opening of navigation last season the rate remained above 1¼ cents until in July. Unless there is some improvement in the demand for grain charters, the rate on grain cargoes applying from here to Buffalo promises to remain indefinitely at the present low figure.

With the ending of the present week there is little improvement in the package freight situation. There is no demand for eastbound freight. The coal movement remains steady, with the promise that the movement will show a heavy increase.

Ore boats are not loading as heavily as they did at this time last year, owing to the low stage of the water at the Soo, but the cargoes are loaded with little delay and there is a strong demand for ore.

SERVICE MAY BE AFFECTED

Hydrographic Office Says the Comet May Interfere With Wireless Apparatus.

The hydrographic office of this city has sent out a bulletin, stating that the approach of Halley's comet may have some effect upon the wireless telegraphic service. The bulletin has been sent out from the main government hydrographic office to all parts of the country, the branch offices sending it to stations and ships in their territories.

This bulletins state that there is danger of grave disturbances, and that the electro-magnetic phenomena may cause electrical discharges.

Though there is no definite precedent on which to base this warning, the government office has been led through scientific research to believe that serious disorders may result to the wireless apparatus at the stations and on the ships.

The warning also states that a compass may be affected by the comet. Captains have been requested to inform the hydrographic office of the brightness of the comet and other details in connection with its appearance.

MINNESOTA IS NEGLIGENT

Gen. Andrews Says State Does Not Provide Sufficient Money.

Should Have Large Force of Rangers and Means for Prosecution.

Gen. C. C. Andrews, state forestry commissioner, returned to Duluth today from Ely after looking over the forest fire situation between Duluth and the iron range town, along the line of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. Gen. Andrews will probably remain in Duluth and vicinity for a few days, or while the forest fires are at their worst.

"If the legislature were in session it would probably appropriate a substantial sum for the prevention of forest fires and the prosecution of those who carelessly start them," he said. "Forest fires, however, are like other great disasters, causing horror when they occur and being soon forgotten. Minnesota had a terrible lesson two year ago, yet it has done very little toward preventing a recurrence of the Chisholm conflagration and the other disastrous fires of that time.

"I would ask the people of Minnesota if they think enough money is provided to prevent forest fires? The state provides $14,000 a year for paying fire wardens, rangers and people who fight fires, and it has an area of 25,000,000 acres exposed to forest or prairie fires. For prosecuting people who negligently cause forest fires, $2,000 is appropriated, and it is scarcely one-fifth enough.

"The cities and villages of Minnesota spend $2,000,000 yearly for fire protection, yet the vast tracts of standing timber and the homes of hundreds of settlers, which may be wiped out at any moment, are allowed, but $16,000 for protection and prosecution. The state of Maine appropriates $40,000 yearly for the prevention of forest fires in unorganized towns, while the organized towns take care of themselves.

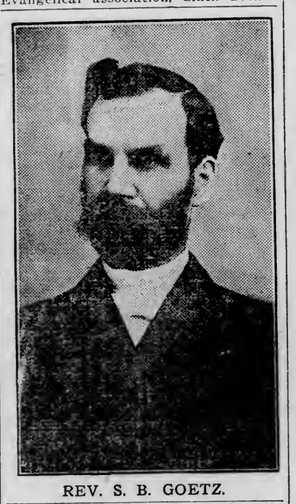
"The legislature of Minnesota should appropriate an adequate amount for the protection of its forests. A force of rangers large enough to police the woods thoroughly should be employed. People who carelessly leave camp fires burning should be arrested and prosecuted. People who will not pay any attention to warning signs, will give heed to rangers and the courts.

"Local officials should do their part. Town supervisors, village presidents, constables, sheriffs, county attorneys and magistrates should aid the state forestry department. The law should be rigidly enforced, violators should be summarily dealt with and the officials should have funds enough at their disposal to carry on the work as it should be done.

"Minnesota has a law requiring railroads to have efficient smoke arresters. A thoroughly efficient smoke arrester has not yet been devised, but the railroads are required to have their tracks patroled in dry weather. I do not believe the railroads are as much responsible for the fires as are negligent campers, and we cannot deal with them until the state allows enough money for the purpose."

FAREWELL SERMON IN DULUTH

The Rev. S. B. Goetz will preach his farewell sermon to his Duluth parish Sunday evening at Hope church of the Evangelical association, Sixth avenue east and Fifth street. Mr. Goetz leaves the Duluth church after a three years' service to take the pastorate of the Emanuel church of the Evangelical association at St. Paul.



REV. S. B. GOETZ.

He will leave soon for a two months' vacation before taking his new work.

GIANT LOCOMOTIVE.

Monster Weighing 300 Tons Used in Local Ore Service.

Brookston, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern railway has placed one of the new Mallet locomotives in the ore service. The engine is the largest on the entire system, weighing 300 tons, and it is expected that some tonnage records will be broken during the season. On the first trip from the mines the monster locomotive brought down 100 loaded cars of ore, a dead weight of 6,300 tons, and it is expected that in a short time it will be hauling 125 cars. The usual train of ore consists of 70 loaded cars, weighing 4,410 tons. Local officials state that the company has several of the large engines under construction, and when they come from the shops the long trains of ore will be a common sight.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER IS KILLED BY STONE.

The unfortunate boy was struck in the head with a stone that was thrown by a 13-year-old boy named Neumiller, a son of Frederick Neumiller.

WANTS RACES TO INTER-MARRY

Clarence Darrow Also Says Negroes Should Learn Not to Work.

New York, May 13.—Clarence F. Darrow, the Socialist lawyer of Chicago, in an address last night at the second annual conference of the National negro committee, in Cooper Union, wiped out the color line and urged race amalgamation as the solution of the race problem. He criticised Booker T. Washington and told his hearers that what the negro needs is some one to teach him not to work.

"It may be a long way in the future," he said, "but inter-marriage between the races will finally settle all difficulties as it has in the case of the Irish and Germans and other peoples, who formerly had to be kept apart in order to preserve the peace.

"Not Color Distinction."

"It is not the color which causes the distinction between the negroes and the white people. The real barrier is the fact the negroes were once slaves and that today they are in the ranks of labor. It is a labor question rater than a race problem, and the way for the negro to obtain recognition is to cast his lot bodily with the poor and fight with them and for them. The cause of the poor is his cause—and his cause is theirs.

Booker T. Washington, the speaker described as "that modest self-abasing optimist, who builds industrial colleges to teach his people to lay bricks for the white man and to perform manual labor of the lowest kind."

Learn Not to Work.

"What you really need," he continued, "is some one to teach you not to work. Your people have worked from the beginning. You have earned your bread by the sweat of your brow so long that now when you ask for an increase in wages, it is considered ludicrous and is regarded in the same light as though some one demanded that a horse's wages should be increased."

PAINTS FLAG STAFF ON ALWORTH BUILDING.

Arnold Kulland, 22 years old, painted the flag staff on top of the Alworth building this morning. The young man caused shivers to run up and down the spines of those who saw him working up among the clouds, but he said he wasn't afraid for a moment.

WOULD PUT LID ON FIGHT NEWS

Smith of Iowa Introduces Bill in the House at Washington.

Washington, May 13.—A wholesale interdiction against the publication of descriptions and pictures of prize fights, which would apply to the coming Jeffries-Johnson mill, is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Smith of Iowa. The bill would make it unlawful "to send by mail or in any other manner from any state, territory or the District of Columbia to any other state, territory or the District of Columbia, or to bring into this country from any foreign country any picture or description of any prize fight or encounter of pugilists under whatever name, or any record or account of betting on the same."

The measure, which was referred to the interstate commerce committee, would penalize violations under a maximum of one year's imprisonment or $1,000 fine.

LOSES GIRL TWICE, BUT IS HER THIRD HUSBAND.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 13.—Hope long deferred failed to make sick the heart of William Leichtle, who went away to fight in the Civil war after a schoolday sweetheart forsook him to marry his brother. Ten years later, while Leichtle was fighting Indians out West, his brother died, and the Indian fighter hastened to Cincinnati to claim the widow's heart and hand.

Before he could get there his old sweetheart had taken a second husband, Michael Mueller by name, and Leichtle, to drown his disappointment, set out to travel. Wednesday he returned to Cincinnati and learned that Mueller had died in 1895. Promptly he began a search for the two-time widow and after a brief renewal of his old suit, won her consent to marry him.

He is 67 years old. She is 65 and the mother of two married daughters.

WRINKLES

Duluth Herald Free Beauty Coupon.

Good Tomorrow for This World's Most Famous Beauty Specialist.

An opportunity is now offered every reader of this paper to consult the world's most famous beauty specialist, Harriett Meta, of Paris, London, and Syracuse, absolutely free.

A little over three years ago there was nothing known which, in our judgment, would actually remove wrinkles, but at that time Mlle. Meta made the important discovery which has since made her famous in two continents.

She demonstrated the great power of he rnew process by taking her own wrinkles out with it in three nights, after face massage, masks, straps, steaming pots, etc., had all failed, and to-day Mlle. Meta's face is free from all wrinkles, her cheeks full and plump and her skin and complexion is a delight to behold. In fact, by many she is considered the most beautiful woman in all Paris.

Her remarkable discovery was brought before the judges of the Paris International Exposition and the Rome exposition Internationale for their investigation, and in both instances they quickly awarded her Gold Medals thereon. The French Government also honored her with a patent on her new process, and patents are now pending before the U. S. Government at Washington.

London journals sent their Beauty Editresses to investigate her methods, and their high endorsements of her discoveries made her famous almost overnight, so that she was eagerly sought after by French Countesses and English Ladies of high title and rank. The Beauty Editress of the London Onlooker wrote, "An interview with Mlle. Meta left me persuaded that here at last might be found the secret to restore youth and beauty."

Many of those who have used her process report most astonishing results. Mrs. Mary J. Davis, of East St. Louis, Il., says: "My wrinkles were very deep and of long standing, so you can imagine my surprise when, after only two applications, they entirely disappeared." Mrs. L. E. Haskell, of 2592 Clay St., San Francisco, writes: "I am fifty years old. Consequently my wrinkles were of long standing, and I had not thought it possible to erase them, but now when I view my changed reflection in the mirror I can scarcely realize the transformation that has been wrought." Mrs. M. A. Edwards, of 528 Fayetville St., Raleigh, N. C., says: "Since using the Treatment I look younger than I did twenty-five years ago." Mrs. M. L. Lee, 704 E. Marshall St., Richmond, Va., writes: "I used the treatment one night and I succeeded in entirely removing my wrinkles, leaving my face as soft and free from lines as a child's." Miss Henrietta Jackson, of 6 Mellville Bldg., Pittsfield, Mass., says: "Your treatment is a Godsend to womankind. I wish every woman could know the wonderful results which are produced by your treatment."

Since Mlle. Meta made her remarkable discovery imitators have naturally sprung up all over the country. Some of them have copied Mlle. Meta's advertisements and literature to such an extent that the public is often at a loss to distinguish the imitation from the real. We are therefore authorized to announce the following remarkable offer, which cannot fail to convince you as to who is who.

Mlle. Meta will forfeit $1,000.00 in Gold if she fails to prove that she holds nine Gold Medals and three Grand Prix on her discoveries from International Expositions. She will forfeit $1,000.00 in Gold if any one can prove that she did not take out her own wrinkles with it in three nights exactly as she claims. She will forfeit $1,000.00 in Gold if every testimonial and sworn statement which she publishes is not absolutely genuine. She will forfeit $1,000.00 in Gold if any one can show advertisements similar to hers published in any Newspaper or Magazine in the United States or Europe prior to the publication of her advertisements.

Arrangements have been made with Mlle. Meta to furnish free information in regard to her marvelous process for removing wrinkles to all Duluth Herald readers. Merely cut out and send her the Coupon below and you will receive free particulars by return mail in plain sealed envelope. You can use this remarkable process in the privacy of your own home without the knowledge of even your most intimate friends. It often works astonishing wonders in a single treatment over night.

RAIN HINDERS CANAL WORK.

Col. Goethals Cables Report to Washington.

Washington, May 13.—Heavy rainfalls on the isthmus have retarded the canal diggers, according to a cable report made to the Washington office of the Isthmian canal commission by Col. Goethals. The total excavation for the mouth of April was 2,632,468 cubic yards against 3,607,479 yards in the previous month, but the rainfall for April was 5.08 inches against 3.78 in March.

Besides rainfall, the canal workers have had to contend with the fact that as they got nearer the bottom of the excavation, the work increased in difficulty. In spite of this, Col. Goethals reports a substantial increase in the amount of work done upon the great locks and dams of the canal during April, 96,120 cubic yards of concrete having been laid, against 90,502 yards in March.

"SLOW RACE" WITH DEATH

Started to Prevent Hoosier's Inspection of Cement Vault.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 13.—The family of Jacob Maloney has started a "slow" race with death to prevent the eccentric old man from visiting a cement vault he had ordered built for himself. He is dying, but by strength of will is keeping alive to carry out his purpose to inspect the vault in a cemetery three miles from his home.

He started a large force of men building the concrete stone structure last week and announced that as soon as it was ready he would be carried to the cemetery on a cot to see the vault.

Saturday the workmen "laid off" because it rained. Monday the number of men was diminished and today the few at work were "loafing on the job." The vault will have but one receptacle for a coffin.

OLD DOBBIN NEIGHED

And Pranced Around Like Charger After Sopping Up Wine.

Chicago, May 18.—A horse belonging to William Britt, an expressman, was standing in front of the Northside Turner hall, on Clark street. A cask of wine which was being unloaded from a truck fell and broken open. The fragrant liquor ran into the gutter, and the horse, sniffing it, bent down and drank.

The more the horse drank the better he liked it, apparently. Anyway, he drank a couple of bucketsful of the wine.

In something like three minutes the horse began to act strangely. It reared its head and pranced like a charger. There was a fine light of exaltation in its eye. Then it stepped unsteadily out into the middle of the street and began to neigh.

A big crowd gathered, but no one dared approach the horse and traffic on the street came to a standstill.

Some one turned in a riot call. One of the officers secured a lump of sugar. He gave it to the horse and started down the street. The horse, still very unsteady on its pins, trotted after the policeman in the hope of getting more sugar. That broke the blockade.

GIPSY LEAVES FORTUNE.

His Passionate Violin Playing Netted Nearly Half a Million.

Budapest, May 13.—Lajos Munczy, the "King of Gypsy Violinists," died here recently at the age of 63 years, leaving property at the value of about $450,000.

He had played before all European monarchs, including King Edward, and was a particular favorite of the late Empress Elizabeth, who used to listen to his music for hours at a time, and gave him many costly presents.

A great part of the violinists's fortune came from the jewelry which ladies of the Hungarian aristocracy used to tear off and throw at him when they were carried away by his passionate playing, of the wild melancholy Hungarian tunes and dances.

WOMEN HONOR M. PREVOST.

Well-Known Novelist Succeeds Sardou in the French Academy.

Paris, May 13.—M. Marcel Prevost, the well-known novelist, who may be said to have made a specialty of analyzing the soul of woman, has been received into the French academy in succession to the late Victorien Sardou, the dramatist. The event had excited the greatest interest in literary and social circles, and there was an immense demand for seats, principally from M. Prevost's numerous and enthusiastic women admirers. The sword he wore with his becoming black and green uniform was the gift of a well-known woman's journal.

Mr. Prevost delivered a moving panegyric of the dead dramatist, to which M. Paul Hervieu, the playwright, responded.

STUDIES "MIDINETTE" SOUL.

Will Be Leading Character in Signor d'Annunzio's New Play.

Paris, May 13.—The secret is out concerning the mysterious visit to Paris of Signor Gabriele d'Annunzio, the Italian poet and novelist, who during a fortnight's stay has lived in retirement.

He has been studying in the great Paris fashion establishments the life and the soul of the "midinette," who is to play a leading role in his new book "Amaranta."

This book, which Signor d'Annunzio now is writing in French, is the story of a young girl who leaves her old-world Italian home to seek her fortune in Paris where she finds employment at a leading firm of dressmakers. Amaranta goes through "l'enfer Parisien" tasting all its joys and sorrows.

FINDS 350 PEOPLE LIVING IN ONE HOUSE.

New York, May 13.—The census enumerator at Passaic, N. J., who found that 350 persons lived by day and night shifts under the same roof, thought he had made a discovery, but he must give way to another enumerator who has reported even worse conditions.

Another house in Passaic shelters twelve families, numbering with their boarders 202 souls, and all either infants or day workers, so that they all slept there at night, whereas in the first named house there were never more than 175 sleeping at the same time.

In the second house the average number of occupants to each room is 8 1-9 including the kitchen. There is no space for beds and the inmates sleep in straw. During the day the straw is heaped in a corner like horse bedding in a stable. Most of the occupants are foreigners.

N. F. RUSSELL ARRESTED ON SPEEDING CHARGE.

N. F. Russell, vice president and treasurer of the Bridgeman-Russell company, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with speeding. He entered a plea of not guilty, and his trial was set for May 17 at 2 o'clock. It is believed that the car was being driven by Mr. Russell's son at the time the evidence was secured by Detectives Schulte and Irvine.

LITTLE TUBERCULOSIS IS OF BOVINE ORIGIN.

Washington, May 13.—Not less than 3 per cent and not over 15 per cent of all cases of tuberculosis have bovine origin, according to a report of James Schroeder of the bureau of animal industry experimental stations at Bethesda, N. Y. Mr. Schroeder contended, however, that the milk of tuberculous cows was not itself tuberculous, the germs being transmitted carelessly with the milk, instead of at first existing in it. The only safe way, he argued, was to pasteurize the milk.

POLES GRIEVED BECAUSE TAFT WAS NOT AT BANQUET.

Washington, May 13.—President Taft is being criticised by some of the Poles because he did not attend their banquet Wednesday night. Speaker Cannon, one or two senators and some representatives were there, but some of the Poles think the president's absence was a slight to their organization.

S. A. Dangel of Chicago, president of the press committee of the convention, prepared a statement in which he recites the deeds of Pulaski and Kosciuszko and declares that the Poles are American citizens and gallant patriots.

"The president attends often the dinners of much smaller organizations, and we had every reason to hope that this honor would not be denied us," says the statement. "The Poles in America feel deeply aggrieved that the chief of the country of which they are loyal and devoted citizens did not find it possible to honor them by his presence."

HEALTHY FAMILY THIS.

Fourteen Children and None Ever Has Been Sick.

Fergus Falls, Minn., May 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bergtoll reside in the town of Orwell, west of Fergus Falls, and have fourteen children. Mr. Bergtoll was born in France, but has resided in Minnesota for thirty years, having come from Mower county. All of his children were born in Minnesota, and are bright, strong and healthy, $5 being the total amount spent in doctors' bills for the whole family thus far. The children range in age from 27 to 3½ years, and twelve live at home.

BABY WASTED TO A MERE SKELETON

With Terrible Eruptions—Grew Worse in Spite of Doctors—Would Scratch and Tear Flesh Unless Hands were Tied—Mother Says

HE WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk.

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. So great was her faith in them that she gave me a small piece of the Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took them home without any faith, but to please her I tried it and it seemed to dry up the sores a little. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for the most wonderful Cuticura Remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment.

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D. 1, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."

TRAVERS COUNTY BANK IS ATTACKED

Yeggmen Dynamite Safe of Dumont, Minn., Institution Getting Nothing.

Dumont, Minn., May 13.—Yeggmen visited Travers county early yesterday when yeggmen dynamited the safe of the First State bank here, setting fire to the building, and made their escape without securing any money. More than $500 in paper money was destroyed by the overcharge of explosive used.

The citizens were aroused but made no attempt to enter the bank. Shots were fired into the building by those who were near enough, and this may have compelled the robbers to retreat.

The bank was damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars by fire, which followed the explosion.

Leaving their tools on the floor the men left the bank by the rear exit and left town northward. Citizens fired several shots in pursuit of the men, but none of them took effect. No one was hurt.

W. C. T. U. FIGURE IN CHAUTAUQUA PLANS

Institute to Be Held at Devils Lake, N. D., Grounds Next Summer.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota members of the W. C. T. U. will play an important part in the Chautauqua session to be held here this summer, having adopted plans for the organization of an institute to be conducted under the direction of Mrs. Harriet D. Hall of Illinois. The season will continue from June 30 to July 9, and the following program has been arranged:

June 30—Organization of institute, appointment of committees and introduction of conductor, Mrs. Harriet Hall.

July 1—"Our New Department, the Circulation of National Official Papers and How to Promote It," Miss Mae Halcros, Bowesmont, N. D.

July 2—Conference with educators, subject, "Scientific Temperance Instruction and Prize Essay Contests," Miss Mabel Nelson, Cando.

MAKING SNOW HEDGE.

Great Northern Planning to Keep Snow Off Track.

Crookston, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern has started the distribution of several carloads of trees along the right-of-way between Dugdale and Ebro which will be planted in a narrow strip about three rods wide the entire distance to serve as a snow hedge.

Golden willows are being used to a great extent, and the experiment will be watched very closely with the intention of using trees more generally in the future if the plan proves successful. Over 200,000 trees will be planted and the work will be finished within a month.

GOPHER BOUNTY WISE.

Foster County, N. D., Farmers Glad of It.

Carrington, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the county commissioners of Foster county acted wisely in offering a bounty for the killing of gophers is the general belief of farmers who are acquainted with the situation. A great many of the pests are being killed off and the farmers will realize a benefit through the saving in their crop which would otherwise be taken by the gophers, of which there have been great numbers. The commissioners have set aside a fund large enough to pay bounty on 35,000 gophers if that many can be found, which is hardly probable.

NORTH DAKOTA CAMP MEETING AT JAMESTOWN.

Jamestown, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota Methodists will hold their annual camp meeting in this city on June 17 to 27, Superintendents S. A. Danford, of the Bismarck district, and C. A. Macnamara of the Fargo district, being in charge. It is expected that there will be an attendance of about 1,000 persons from all sections of the state, as there are ample facilities for caring for a great throng.

GRONNA TOO BUSY TO SPEAK AT GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman A. J. Gronna, who was scheduled to deliver an address in Grand Forks on May 17, will be unable to attend. A telegram was received from him yesterday afternoon stating that he had so much business on hand in Washington that he could not possibly get away at this time.

NEW DETENTION HOSPITAL

At St. Peter Insane Asylum Will Be Erected This Year.

St. Peter, Minn., May 13.—Contracts have been awarded by the board of control of state institutions for the construction of the new detention hospital at the St. Peter state hospital for the insane and work will be begun in about two weeks. The hospital is to cost upwards of $75,000 and its completion will revolutionize the methods of caring for the insane.

When it is ready for use the new law relating to the commitment of insane patients will become effective. At present judges of probate of the various counties in the district tributary to the St. Peter institution send patients directly to the hospital, but so soon as the new building is accepted they will be required to commit them to the detention ward. There they will be treated, those who may be cured will be discharged and the remainder will be transferred to the hospital proper.

THE PEOPLE'S LAW.

Senator Bourne of Oregon made a noteworthy speech in the senate the other day, in which he presented a comprehensive view of what the people of his state have done toward bringing their government back to themselves and eliminating the complexities that foster bossism.

The speech was so good that Senator Burkett of Nebraska wanted the senate to order 50,000 copies of it printed for distribution. The Aldrich old guard was on duty, however, and acting through Senator Gallinger it prevented the Burkett motion from carrying. If it had been a Taft speech on "the best tariff ever passed," or a Cannon speech on the duty of the people to submit to their self-created rulers, it would have been different. But the old guard in the senate cannot afford to let the people hear good news of government by and for the people. However, the speech was printed in the Congressional Record, and copies may be had, no doubt, on application to senators and representatives.

Oregon really has done wonders, and the citizens of other states should be given every opportunity to study what has been accomplished there. In discussing it, Senator Bourne said: "In advocating popular government, I mean direct legislation as far as practicable, popular selection of candidates and such regulation of political campaigns as will secure fair and honest elections. Popular selection, under the present stage of evolution of our government, can be secured only by direct primary laws and complete elimination of conventions and caucus nomination of public officials. Time was when a few self-constituted leaders in Oregon politics arrogated to themselves the prerogatives of government and made their assumption effective through illicit combinations and the use of money in any and every quarter where necessary to their purposes of control; that is, they commercialized conventions, legislatures and the administrative branches of the city, county and state governments. It was not a condition peculiar to Oregon. It obtained and I believe still obtains, in a more or less flagrant degree, in every state of the Union."

The present complex system which makes machine rule and bossism and commercial politics inevitable is based on the false presumption that the people are not fitted to govern themselves. Perhaps they were not when the republic was born; certainly it is an outrageous falsehood to say that they are not now. The substitute of representative government, born of this fear of the people, which now prevails is inadequate, incompetent and corrupt. It has broken down on every hand.

The remedy for the evils of democracy is more democracy.

The ballots should be shortened, doing away with the complexities which make boss rule the corrupt but only substitute for chaos.

Nominations, as well as elections, should come straight and undefiled from the people.

The people who elect should be empowered to discharge those who are unfaithful, by the medium of the recall.

The people should be given close control of legislation by conferring upon them—or restoring to them, for it is an inherent right—the power to initiate laws if lawmakers balk, and the power to pass upon laws proposed by legislatures if there is doubt about their wisdom.

These things have been done in Oregon; and the people of other states should demand that they be given the rights and privileges of free government which the people of Oregon have seized and are now using.

BAD ADVICE.

Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago is a thinker whose thoughts are untrammeled by convention and who reasons out many things truly and well. But when he advises negroes that the solution of the race problem is intermarriage with the whites, thus holding up before them the bootless dream of miscegenation, as he did in New York yesterday, he declares false doctrine and raises hopes doomed to disappointment. When he adds to that the opinion that Booker Washington is doing wrong when he seeks to teach the negro to be self-supporting, and that what the negro needs is somebody to teach him "not to work," his advise becomes an infamy for which insanity is the only decent excuse.

HOW ONE FARMER SUCCEEDED.

Though thousands of city dwellers long for the life of the farm, and would gladly exchange the privileges and penalties of life in the city for the freedom and independence of an agricultural life, many are restrained from taking any step in that direction because they know that they are as ignorant of farming as they are of aviating. That is a wiser attitude than that of those who fancy that anybody can win independence on the farm because all you have to do is to stick in some seeds and sit back waiting for them to grow. Yet those who are fearful of their ability to farm are likelier to succeed than those who fancy that their ignorance is no bar to success.

Ignorance is a handicap, because farming requires not only patience and industry but technical knowledge. Yet technical knowledge is available in prodigious quantities, the department of agriculture and many state departments being busily engaged in turning it out at the rate of many volumes a year. Those who are willing to be patient and industrious, and who will study "book farming", no matter how much old farmers laugh at it, may hope to succeed at farming, though they should not expect wealth from the first crops.

A bulletin from the department of agriculture tells a story full of human interest and hope to those who envy the life of the farmer. Ten years ago Josiah D. Detrich, a country parson of Flourton, Pa., bought a 15-acre farm. He didn't know the first thing about farming. The land was so worn out that it couldn't produce forage enough in the pasture for two cows and a horse. There was a mortgage of $7,200 on the property.

In seven years Detrich paid the mortgage, made the farm yield him a comfortable surplus, and did it all without borrowing a dollar.

Knowing his ignorance of farming, he became a "book farmer", and used his brains. He found out what his soil was good for, what it needed to become fruitful, and how it should be handled. He learned about the best breeds of cattle, and how to make them yield the most milk. Correlating his newly gained knowledge, he perfected a complete system for his little farm, and stuck to it. Based on that system, work on his farm went without a hitch.

The first thing he had to do was to restore to the soil the needful elements of which it had been robbed. "No waste" was his motto, and his first economies had to do with the fertilizer produced in the barn yard. Not an ounce of it was wasted, and no other fertilizer was used. The pasture was turned into plow land, and though it couldn't feed two cows and a horse when he began, it feeds thirty cattle today. He was $46 out of pocket the first year, but after that he was on the up-grade, and he stayed there.

The details are interesting, but there is no space for them here. The reason the story is briefly told here is that it may set some people thinking. If a village parson who knew nothing of farming, but who was willing to work and learn, could make a success on worn-out soil, how infinite are the possibilities near Duluth, where the soil is in its virgin richness, covered with the mold of countless years, and ready to yield wealth when intelligently cultivated!

STATE AND FEDERAL LAND.

The Federal government has thrown open to settlement 233,295 acres of land in Minnesota, and there is great excitement among homeseekers about it. Already landseekers are camping at land office doors to await the opening day. The probabilities are that the greater portion of this land will be taken up at once, and that most of those locating upon it will actually settle and cultivate it. This is a big thing for Duluth and Northern Minnesota, but it affords a puzzling parallel.

The state owns ten times as much land as there is involved in this government opening, and every acre of it is open to settlement—when the authorities get around to sell it. Yet there is no excitement about the state's holdings, and settlement is slow and difficult. What makes the difference?

For one thing, the government throws open its land in large, solid blocks, every part of which may be settled upon. Settlers can form neighborhoods large enough to provide schools and roads, and to meet the need for social improvement.

But the state sells a small tract here and a small tract there, expecting the purchaser to go where he is surrounded by silent, idle acres that produce nothing and pay no share of the expense of building schools and making roads. It refuses to do anything for the settler, either by paying the share due from its lands for the cost of local improvement, or by opening up for settlement large blocks of contiguous tracts.

Some day, it may be, the state will adopt a wise and business-like land policy; and when it does Northern Minnesota will spring into teeming life in a twinkling. Its idle acres will be peopled, its stumps will disappear, its soil will yield riches out of its vast fertility, and what was lately a wilderness will become one of the world's garden spots.

NIGHT SCHOOLS.

While undoubtedly School Director F. A. Brewer was correct when he said at the recent school board meeting that there is no need of setting apart a building for night school purposes, since there is "ample room in the district for all the night schools the district wants to support," it is to be hoped that the time will come shortly when greater attention will be given to this vital need of the community.

Director Wilson G. Crosby spoke to the point when he said that night schools are needed, though there will be a division of opinion on whether it is necessary to retain the old Washington school for that purpose. There seems to be no reason why the school rooms which are used but a few hours during the day should not be devoted to night school purposes in the evenings. It means a little more work for the janitors, perhaps the employment of a few more men; but the good that comes out of night schools is absurdly out of proportion to their relatively small cost.

Every facility that has been afforded in the past for those seeking night instruction has been taxed to its limit. It is to the interest of society that all children should be educated; but it is equally to society's interest that grown people who have missed the benefits of education in their youth shall be given the chance to remove the disability of illiteracy.

Provision for night schools great enough to meet the demand is a public duty, only less important than the conventional duty of providing the children with an education that will fit them for citizenship.

THE POSTAL DEFICIT.

The house having under consideration the bill appropriating money for sundry civil purposes, Representative Payne of New York yesterday spoke at length on the tariff law that bears his name. His speech had nothing whatever to do with the bill then pending, nor was it intended for his hearers on the floor or in the galleries.

It was a defense of the new tariff law, designed for campaign purposes. It will be published in the Congressional Record, and by reason of that publication it becomes matter that can be sent through the mails free. The Republican campaign committee will have many thousands of copies of that speech printed and sent hither and yon under somebody's frank, and the people will pay the cost. It will be but one of many campaign documents made privileged matter by publication in the Record, and sent free through the mails for campaign purposes. Just now a fat, bulky volume about the tariff bill is being mailed free on the same excuse. It is a defense of the tariff law, but as its contents all were printed in the Record, it is mailable without cost.

Despite the flagrancy of this abuse of the franking privilege, the administration overlooks it in its search for a cure of the postal deficit, and wants congress to raise the mail rates on newspapers and magazines.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

A NARROW ESCAPE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Just now, when everybody seems to delight in rubbing it into the police department, I am very pleased to say a good word in its behalf. Yesterday afternoon while standing waiting for a chance to cross the street, one of those crushes that every now and again takes place at that particular corner, when every conveyance in town is headed in one direction, a West Duluthian rushed out of the Columbia store intent on reaching the car standing at the corner. Along came the patrol automobile trying to get through the best way it could, but the West Duluthian had no thoughts for anything so small as an automobile, and ran right in front of it. But for the fact that Mr. Johnson, who was driving it, had his machine under complete control, the West Duluthian might have been in a hospital—or a cemetery—this afternoon. LAKESIDER.

WHY NOT SEND THE GOPHER AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Couldn't the U. S. S. Gopher be of considerable assistance to the stricken settlers along the north shore? The ship went down two years ago to help fight the fires, as well as bring relief to the men, women and children who were left without a roof to cover them. Probably the need is not so pressing as it was at that time, but there seems to be no question but that a crew of that kind could do a vast amount of good. Thus far nothing has been heard of dispatching the boat down the north shore, but I think that there is still plenty of time to send it down with excellent results.

FORMER NORTH SHORE SETTLER.

Duluth, May 13.

The Futility of the Parties.

"Democratic Factions and Insurgent Republicans" is the title of a strikingly timely article by Herbert Croly in the North American Review for May. He cites the present situation of both parties at the present time, and says:

"The recent ineptitude of Democratic leadership and the failure of Democratic political tactics must be traced to a fundamental source; and that source is, I believe, nothing else than the inadequacy of the traditional Democratic creed to the solution of contemporary political and economic problems. The social and economic changes which have gradually been accumulating since 1870 demand political and economic measures which the Democratic party cannot undertake without proving faithless to a part of its traditions; and as its leaders are necessarily and sincerely seeking to find a basis for its policy in its inherited principles, their political platforms are continually vacillating between the two horns of a dilemma. Either they propose to take certain positive action, which is from the point of view of their traditional creed unprincipled, or else they remain content with a negative policy which derives its high political propriety from the antiquity of its lineage."

So much for the Democratic position. On the other hand:

"The Republican party is facing one of the most difficult and dangerous crises of its career. Here is a party which is committed by its traditions to the formulation of a policy, genuinely expressive of the national interest, and which in the fulfilment of that responsibility actually formulated a policy which for many years contributed to the economic development of the country and, on the whole, satisfied public opinion. Little by little, however, it is discovered that the national interest is demanding the modification of every important element in the economic system for which the party has been responsible. During a few years under aggressive leadership the "regular" party machine quieted public opinion by consenting to certain modifications in its policy, but every concession encouraged further demands and, consequently, increased the opposition of those interests connected with the party who have benefited from the traditional system."

The Call of the Heart.

Oh, my heart is on the moorland,
On the old land, on the poor land.
Where it hears the heather calling
And the gorse shake with the bee!
Oh, it's there I would be lying,
With the clouds above me flying,
And blue beyond the black-thorn tops
A peep of purple sea.

Oh, my heart is on the moorland,
On the old land, on the poor land,
Where the gipsy bands of dreams pitch camp,
The dark-eyed Romany!
Oh, it's there I would be dreaming,
With the sunset o'er me streaming,
With her beside my campfire there
Whose voice still calls to me.

With her the light-foot maiden,
With her eyes so vision-laden,
That little sister to the flowers,
And cousin to the bee;
Oh, would that we were going
Against the moorwind's blowing
To meet the playmates that she knew,
That child of Faery.

Oh, would that we were sitting
Beneath the wild fowl's flitting,
Her dark eyes looking into mine
As stars look in the sea,
While, dim as autumn weather,
And sweet as scents of heather,
Our campfire trails its smoke of dreams
Like mists along the lea.

Oh, heart, there on the moorland,
The old land, and the poor land,
You're breaking for the gypsy love
You nevermore will see;
The little light-foot maiden,
The girl all blossom laden,
Departed with her people
And the dreams that used to be.

—Madison Cawein.

Disastrous New Trials.

Law Notes: Sometimes persons accused of crime have good cause to pray for deliverance from their counsel. In a murder trial in New York recently the jury returned a verdict convicting the accused of one of the lesser degrees of homicide. When the attorney for the defense made the usual motion for a new trial the judge immediately inquired whether the prosecuting attorney had any objection to interpose, and on receiving a negative reply promptly granted the motion. Filled with consternation the defendant's counsel sought to withdraw his motion, but the obdurate judge compelled him to accept the ruling he had requested, and on the second trial the luckless client was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death. A similar case occurred in Georgia not long since. On the first trial the prisoner received a sentence of fifteen years for manslaughter, and his counsel, having secured a new trial, succeeded in having the penalty increased to life imprisonment, which the Georgia supreme court upheld on appeal. One of the most valuable assets of a criminal lawyer is the capacity to recognize the occasions when well enough had best be let alone.

Most Popular Joke Ever Published.

Westminster Gazette: The most popular joke which has been published in any language in the history of the world is stated to be that which appeared in an obscure corner of the Punch Almanac for 1845. It read: "Advice to persons about to marry—Don't!" It would be interesting to know who was its author. Another, founded on a similar subject, was the "Advice to persons who have fallen in love"—Fall out!" One of the most brilliant things that ever appeared in our conemporary was the brief dialogue between an inquiring child and his impatient parent: "What is mind?" "No matter." "What is matter?" "Never mind."

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

The Joke on the People.

Winona Independent: A millionaire had to pay $1.75 for two eggs and a cup of tea in New York. Most of us chuckle and call it a good joke, but the truth is that when a millionaire has to pay like that the rest of us have to come across to the same tune proportionately to our means.

Sarcasm.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: What's the use of a tariff commission when we have "the best tariff law ever passed?"

As Bede Sees It.

J. A. Bede in Pine City Pioneer: It is getting so that it is impossible to tell whether Minnesota is represented in the United States senate by Republicans or Democrats. It looks as though our senators had stolen the livery of Heaven in which to serve the Devil.

People Like a Sticker.

Elk River Star-News: It is sometimes difficult to stand by one's convictions but in the long run it pays to do so. People have an admiration for a sticker, even when he is with the minority.

It Must Be Changed.

International Falls Press: There is only one real drawback to Northern Minnesota, and that is the policy of the present state land department—and even that can be changed.

Adjourn.

St. Peter Free Press: The people are still waiting for a postal savings bank law and also a parcel post. Both were promised and both are wanted. What is congress going to do about it?

Wisdom.

Virginia Enterprise: The idea of teaching every girl to thump the piano and every boy to be a bookkeeper will make potatoes worth $8 per barrel in another twenty years.

The Militant Koll.

Onamia Lake Breeze: The zephyrs from the Northland are slightly laden with the scent of powder these beautiful spring days. It is doubtless due to the long range firing going on between M. N. Koll in his "Kollum" in the Cass Lake Times and the International Falls Echo. At this distance it seems that friend Koll is doing great execution, while the Echoe's batteries are somewhat disabled.

A State of Political Thinkers.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The Republican party has an elephant on its hands, and any attempt to whip the Minnesota Republicans into line for Taft or his administration policies will be the disaster of the party. The idea of "endorsing" Taft is the merest political buncombe and yellowdogism, but it is the policy of the big spoilsmen who aim to retain control of the nation by yelling partyism to those who still believe that the party, like the king of old, can do no wrong. If the Minnesota Republicans endorse Taft, The Ore hopes they will be honest enough to endorse his tariff law, and his other administration measures, and if the tariff law is condemned the man who gave it to the nation should be condemned likewise. Political quibbling will not go with the thinking voters of Minnesota, and it is a state of political thinkers.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: The crosses we carry cheerfully are those we think aren't.

A man is just fool enough to be proud of getting into a lawsuit.

Doing almost anything that isn't against the law gets stupid even before you do it.

Most men who get into public office act as if it were a hammock on a summer day.

There's hardly anything a man lies about so much as how successful people consult him about their affairs.

"This Church Closed."

Rev. John Van Schaick, Jr., in The Survey: The problem of the rural church presses upon every denomination. Boarded up or feebly supported, it stands on many hillsides and in many valleys doing nothing or little where there is pressing need for service. It is dying of inefficiency. If it knew, it would minister. There is a new social service for the country district. Housing, sanitation, recreation, education, care of the poor, the backward and the criminal classes, are not only city but country problems. Take a man of average ability and faith, and dip him into any of these problems, open his eyes, and he can go to a country wilderness and make it rejoice and blossom as the rose. Give him one year in an agricultural college, in place of one of his three years at the seminary, and he will be better fitted for his work. What he may learn of soils, botany, crop rotation, and stable hygiene may be negligible, but he will learn that there are such things. To his love will be added insight. To the help of his faith, will come knowledge. He may never announce a series of sermons on "The Best Breeds of Domestic Animals," or "The Way to Make a Farm Pay." It is to be hoped that he never will. But in every sermon and service, if he measures up at all to what he ought to do, he will interpret, he will idealize, he will inspire solutions of rural problems, he will exhibit the dignity and worth of agriculture, he will make the farmers understand the pace which their toil occupies in the great movements of history, and in the purposes of God.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

•••Robert Louden and Alexander Fraser were looking particularly jubilant last evening. And no wonder! They have worked hard for the past few years, trying to center lumber industries in this city. To no two men is more credit due for bringing the Mitchell-McClure mill to this city. They have been the trusted and trustworthy agents of the Mitchell-McClure syndicate, and on their personal work and judgment these men have bought many hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of pine. Both "Bob" Louden and "Alex" Fraser have done a great deal more for Duluth than people generally know.

•••Dr. J. E. Bowers will not return to St. Paul at once, but will open the summer in Duluth. He has sent for his library and appliances, and may locate permanently in this city.

•••The Port Arthur, Duluth & Western road is nearly completed to the iron mines east of Gun Flint lake. Within six weeks the first iron ore over the new road will be shipped to Port Arthur. The line will be finished to the border within the year.

•••Sacred Heart church was the scene of a very pretty wedding, the contracting parties being Joseph Beck of the Duluth Electric Light & Power company and Miss Maggie McIntyre. Nuptial mass was celebrated by Bishop McGolrick. A reception followed at the residence of the bride.

•••Olin S. Davis of Topeka, Kan., the new librarian of the Duluth public library, has arrived here. He is of medium height, about 29 years of age, of scholarly aspect, and his black hair is already tinged with gray. His salary will be $1,200 a year.

•••Prof. Cohn will be here next month to establish the Duluth summer school of languages. He has met with great success in securing pupils.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

The Bystander: Pushing Young Grocer (to local M. P.)—Ha, good morning, Mr. Rodgers! I presume you want my renewed support in this coming contest.

M. P. (unexpectedly)—No, I don't young man; I want a tin of sardines, and look sharp about it!

Stray Stories: Mrs. Bridgewhist—What is the subject of Mrs. Suffragette's lecture this afternoon?

Mrs. Clubwoman—"The Disasters of Married Life."

Mrs Bridewhist—I suppose she will have her husband on the platform as an exhibit?

University of Wisconsin Sphinx: Louis—Have a cigar?

Phi Beta Kappa—Don't smoke; but I'll take a lead pencil instead.

Lippincott's: Ted—Are you making any progress in your love affair with that young widow?

Ned—It looks that way. She has just put on second mourning.

Detroit Free Press: "Brown's saving money."

"That so?"

"Yes; his suffragette wife has just been sent to jail for thirty days."

Judge: "I suppose, now that you are married and settled down, life is a struggle for bread?"

"Not exactly. It's more of a struggle with bread."

Fliegende Blaetter: Father—You are marrying my daughter for love, you say? But she gets 80,000 marks dowry.

Suitor—Well, that can't be avoided, can it?

Life: The man who gives in when he is wrong is wise; the man who gives in when he is right is generally married.

Chicago Record-Herald: "My earning capacity has been doubled since I married."

"What are you doing with all your money?"

"With all my money. I merely said my earning capacity had been doubled."

Houston Post: "Nice car."

"Yes."

"Is it the latest thing in cars?"

"I guess so; it has never gotten me anywhere on time yet."

Tit-Bits: A health officer recently received the following note from one of the residents of his district: "Dear Sir: I beg to inform you that my child, aged 8 months, is suffering from measles as required by act of parliament."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Who is th' thin fellow that's going around the art gallery sniffing at all the old masters?"

"That? Why, that's Splotcherby. He's the chap who made the $40,000 advertising design for the Cleopatra soap people."

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: It's very unlucky to lose $13 on Friday.

A little fault of our own looks like a big vice in others.

Even a worthless man thinks he'd be able to make good as a critic.

Many a woman has lived to regret the day she discovered her affinity.

If you would know what a woman doesn't mean, listen to what she says.

No, Alonzo, a helping hand and the glad hand are not necessarily the same.

After a widow makes up her mind to marry again she makes up her face and then gets busy.

A man ought to be thankful if his wife declines to accept an excuse when he has none to offer.

One kind of harmless crank revolves a grindstone with the assistance of a small boy. It isn't subject to violent turns.

Tomorrow.

In the downhill of life, when I find I'm declining,
May my fate no less fortunate be
Than a snug elbow-chair can afford for reclining,
And a cot that o'erlooks the wide sea;
With an ambling pad-pony to pace o'er the lawn,
While I carol away idle sorrow.
And blithe as the lark that each day hails the dawn
Look forward with hope for tomorrow.

With a porch at my door, both for shelter and shade, too,
As the sunshine or rain may prevail;
And a small spot of ground for the use of the spade, too.
With a barn for my dairy, a dog for my game,
And a purse when a friend wants to borrow;
I'll envy no nabob his riches or fame.
Nor what honours may wait him tomorrow.

From the bleak northern blast may my cot be completely
Secured by a neighboring hill;
And at night may repose steal upon me more sweetly
By the sound of a murmuring rill;
And while peace and plenty I find at my board,
With a heart free from sickness and sorrow.
With my friends may I share what today may afford
And let them spread the table tomorrow.

And when I at last must throw off this frail covering,
Which I've worn for three-score years and ten,
On the brink of the grave I'll not seek to keep hovering,
Nor my thread wish to spin o'er again;
But my face in the glass I'll serenely survey,
And with smiles court each wrinkle and furrow;
And this old worn-out stuff, which is threadbare today
May become everlasting tomorrow.

High Prices Force Children to Work.

The Survey: There is no doubt of the truth of the saying that "wages climb the stairs while prices go up the elevator." A record of retail prices in New York city, kept by a careful housewife and by Miss Gibbs, the visiting housekeeper of the Association for Improveing the Condition of the Poor, show unquestionably that poor families have been pushed to the very edge of want. There is evidence that more children are leaving school to go to work, the day nurseries show that more married women must seek positions, the supply of meat has been cut down—the increased cost of living has, in fact reduced the standard cost of living, and that is something which must be reckoned with in the next as well as in this generation.

Shameful.

ACCUSED OF BURNING HIS WIFE TO DEATH.

Santa Ana, Cal., May 13.—Following the testimony of his mother-in-law and several neighbors at a coroner's inquest, Frank Skelly, a contractor, has been arrested pending an investigation of the death of his wife, who was supposed to have died of burns received Friday in the explosion of a gasoline stove. According to the testimony of the mother-in-law, Skelly threw a quart of gasoline over his wife and then applied a match. Mrs. Lewis said her testimony was based on a statement her daughter had made as she lay dying in a hospital.

Neighbors who testified said they saw Mrs. Skelly rush out into the yard of her home with her clothing ablaze and crying:

"Why did you do it, Frank? You have murdered me. Why didn't you use a pistol instead of gasoline?"

BUTTER IS A SHADE LOWER

Prices Which Have Held Firm All Spring Are Weaker.

Potatoes Are Higher---Strawberries More Plentiful and Cheaper.

A slight decline in the butter market was the chief feature along Michigan street this week. Poultry business was quiet. Potatoes were much firmer. Fruits and vegetables met with a good inquiry. Supplies were short of expectations and prices were firmer.

The decline in butter values came several days ago and was of much benefit to the trade. Supplies were heavy and concessions were made by receivers to attract immediate business. Buyers were holding aloof and dealers appeared to believe that a recession in values was necessary to the health of the market.

The wrangle between the Chicago and Elgin members of the Elgin butter board has been a factor of some importance in the butter world. The Elgin members have been endeavoring to hold up prices while the Chicago members have revolted. They declared that they would no longer help the Elgin contingent to maintain values at artificial levels. The Chicago members seem to have the better of the argument thus far. They have forced a reduction, which, although slight, may be the forerunner of a further decrease.

Butter quality has been excellent. Little stuff has been placed in storage, as prices have been so high as to be almost prohibitive. Only a small amount of dairy butter has been received lately. The demand has not been urgent and prices have remained at a steady value. Creamery values declined from 30@30½c to 29@30c. Packing butter is cheaper at 20c, a decline of 1½c in the last seven days. The quality has not been especially desirable and it has been neglected. When the quality is good the demand has been fair.

The egg trade has been fairly active at even prices. There are no cheap miscellaneous receipts for the general market. Supplies consist wholly of fresh grades. There has been no urgent demand for any class. Receipts have not pressed upon the market, and although the quality has been excellent consumption has not been up to normal. Eggs are firm at 21c.

• • •

The cheese trade has been quiet. Supplies were plentiful and slight concessions were made in fancy full cream and wheel Swiss, reductions being ½c Old cheese has been practically cleaned up and stocks are heavier owing to increasing productions and supplies moved more freely in consequence. The quality of new cheese is highly desirable and stocks were disposed of without difficulty.

Potatoes sold at an advance of from 3 to 7c. Cool weather and low prices stimulated the demand and values firmed in consequence. Supplies are still pressing on the market, but the outlook for the new crop is said not to be good and the market advanced in sympathy with reports from the country. The trade has been active and supplies have been well taken care of. Receivers have bought only the best grades and they have taken care not to overstock the market Consequently they have been able to advance prices without discomfort to themselves or without disturbing the demand which was active despite the increase. Prices range from 30@35c to the retailer. New potatoes have been coming forward in larger numbers. Stock has been packed in barrels with the big ones on top and the little green potatoes at the bottom which has caused much dissatisfaction among receivers. The new potatoes have sold well when of satisfactory quality.

Green vegetables have been firm with lettuce, asparagus, tomatoes, string beans and green peas leading the upturn. The advance was attributed to cold weather which has had a tendency to retard the growth of these vegetables while it has stimulated the demand for them. The trade has been moderately active and supplies are will absorbed. Strawberry values are lower than at any time this year on account of a seasonable increase in supplies. The movement from the South has not increased as rapidly as had been expected, however, and it is probable that prices would not have declined so early if cool weather had not checked the demand. Some of the berries have arrived in an unsatisfactory condition and this aided in depressing the market. A few small lots of cranberries are on the market and holders being anxious to clean up odd lots are not particular what prices are obtained for them.

Apples have met with a good demand at steady to firm prices. There was little or no change in the market for oranges and lemons. Pineapple receipts have fallen short of expectations and prices are firm. The demand is only moderate.

A FISH STORY FROM MEXICO

"The Tempico Record," a newspaper published by Spaniards at Tempico, Mex., caused much amusement when it was passed around downtown yesterday afternoon, by the account which it contained of a big fish caught by Attorney Charles d'Autremont of this city. The description is different from anything that has been seen here, the vividness being enhanced by the unusual language and spelling. Mr. dAutremont has returned to the city and says that the story is correct. It is as follows:

"Mr. Chardesd Aubremont Had grnte Luck tarpon fishing wednesday first landing a large yelou tail then a six ..t shark by this time he was out at the mouth of the jettie here he got tangeled up with a 300 Pound Jew fish, which carried him out on the gulf the big jue fish was giving him and his boat man a free ride but say those white caps dont look good to me will he ever change his course no time to lose now but out came his knife to cut the line when the boat man said he is chaingeing his corse hold onto the rod with a tight line he is now going to the jetties here they found a mexicin boy in a boat that come to their assistance by this time the monster was playing out having fought them one hour they finely got the gaf hook in his gslls and floated him to the jetties where they found a crain and Block and falls and after fastening a rope to him pulled him out of the watter and let him hang untill dead while fisherman fell over in the botom of the boat all in after the jew fish quit kicking they run the boat under him and droped him down into the boat and started for Tampico troling as he went soon he had a strike and landed a 4 ft tarpon this was all done in less than half a day Mr. Auntremant diserves much credit for the fas woork in landing his firsh."

Tacoma, Wash., May 13.—Two brakemen employed at the Du Pont powder mills, sixteen miles from here, were blown to atoms yesterday by the explosion of a car containing ten tons of dynamite. MRS. SMITH'S HEIRS OBEY INVALID WILL.

Chicago, May 13.—The wishes of their mother were stronger than the verdict of the law with the heirs of Mrs. Beatrice Smith, mother of the late James Henry (Silent) Smith, who died at her home in Evanston, Ill., March 20. Because of a technical error, the will was invalid, but the heirs agreed to divide the estate in strict accordance with its terms.

Mrs. Smith's estate consists of property valued at $50,000, household goods and a collection of valuable paintings.

Dentists estimated that 65 per cent of the school children are "dental cripples" and place the total number throughout the United States at 8,985,000. In 12,000 cases, they say, other ills may be traced directly to defective teeth.

KING MADE A FORTUNE

Edward Netted $5,000,000 By Dabbling in American Securities.

Cleared Cool Million on a Single Flyer in Steel Common.

New York, May 13.—Now that Wall street has dressed itself in somber garb, with the stock exchange, the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., and other commercial institutions draped in sable and purple flags half-masted on all the principal buildings the American speculator is asking:

"How much did King Edward make in his operations in the street?"

The answer comes readily enough, and from the most authentic sources, "About $5,000,000, or £1,000,000 during the declining years of his life."

Favored Real Estate.

King Edward differed greatly from the late Queen Victoria. Like the Astors, Victoria had supreme confidence in real estate, and in her life time had acquired through trusted agents, in whom the title was vested, large parcels of real estate, including some of the most dilapidated and unwholesome tenements in the city of New York. The class of property resembled to some extent that held by Trinity church, and the return thereon was enormous.

Edward had true sporting instinct, whether it took the form of his racing stable, a yacht, shooting or coursing, so the money derived from the sale of his mother's American property was invested in American securities.

In Regal Fashion.

And when King Edward "plunged" in the New York stock market he did it in truly regal fashion.

On a flyer in Steel common it was reported in Wall street today that prior to the panic of 1907 the king "cleaned up" a clear $1,000,000. His activities were not confined to Steel but the king plunged heavily in both Union and Southern Pacific and made vast sums of money out of his "trades."

The monarch had an abiding confidence in the financial acumen of the late Edward H. Harriman, and it was not until Harriman, a few weeks prior to his death, had conveyed to his personal friends his belief that the price of stocks was too high and that there must inevitably come a reaction that the British monarch abandoned Wall street as a field of speculation.

At a Handsome Profit.

King Edward had practically closed out all his accounts prior to Dec. 1 last, and in each instance at a handsome profit.

In his operations in Wall street King Edward was aided in two directions. First, he had the advice of that astute English financier, Sir Ernest Cassel, and, secondly, the good will, to say nothing of the "tips" of American millionaires thoroughly acquainted with conditions in Wall street, but who desired to curry favor with those who ruled in English society.

The open seasame in English society is a presentation at court. Where the American millionaire or banker had been an aid to the king's advisers in an American investment, and especially where the venture had turned out to be successful, it was not a difficult matter to have swung open the doors of Buckingham palace at a king's levee in behalf of some of the American's kinswomen.

American Millionaires Aided Him.

The $1,000,000 King Edward is said to have made by his plunge in Steel common is attributed solely to the good offices of an American millionaire who had plainly told the British monarch that Steel was a "good thing" in the American market and bound to result in a profit.

Wall street recalls that many mysterious visits were made to this country by Sir Ernest Cassel, although, except in the innermost circles, none knew that these "little journeys to New York" were for the express purpose of investing the king of England's surplus sovereigns in American securities, usually on a "sure tip" that the market would shortly assume an upward tendency. He generally made his headquarters at the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

In December, prior to the break in Rock Island, and long before the semi-panic created by the slump in Hocking Coal and Iron, Wall street heard that the king was liquidating his American holdings in a quiet and inconspicuous manner and taking a handsome profit. When he finally got out it was estimated that his winnings were not far short of $5,000,000, and at the time of his death his holdings were of so infinitesimal a character as to cause no alarm as to their disposition.

Fat Defeating Extraordinary

Margaret Knolly

SLENDER Margaret Knolly, now, if you please. The fascinating leading lady of the Bijou, now more fascinating than ever, astonished all her friends on Broadway the other day by presenting to their admiring gaze a svelt and willowy form in place of the plump, not to say fat, outlines with which she gally sailed away to new triumphs and foreign shores last January. After a good deal of diplomatic cross-examination from interested fat acquaintances the secret was cautiously whispered to a few dear friends, with the result that everybody knows it now. It was not exercise, nor fasting, nor sea air, nor worry about her new venture that had brought about this wonderful willowy change in the charming Margaret; no, none of these; nothing but a simple mixture which all good druggists are familiar with and can supply at small cost, to-wit: One-half ounce Marmola, one-half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and three and one-half ounces Peppermint Water. "Grown folks need a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime," explained the now slender Margaret. "It is simply wonderful. It takes off the fat quickly, as much as a pound a day, and keeps it off. You can eat what you like, too. In that respect it is unlike anything of the kind I ever heard of, and besides it has another splendid feature—it is entirely harmless, and will not cause wrinkles. I think it is about as essential a toilet article for the woman who is fat and wants to get thinner as face powder. In order to get the best results, however, you should buy the Marmola in the original package and mix it in with the other two ingredients after you get home."

KAISER LAVISH IN SUPPORT OF OPERA

Spends Over Half Million Annually to Maintain Royal Theaters.

Berlin, May 13.—The kaiser spends $500,000 a year—amounting roughly to an eighth of his civil list—on supporting the royal theaters and opera houses in Prussia. This curious fact was revealed in the budget committee of the Prussian diet by the minister of finance, Baron Rheinbaben, who was defending his demand for a government grant of $212,500 for the purpose of modernizing the Royal opera house in Berlin.

It was stated that the emperor devotes $375,000 annually from his private purse toward maintenance of the three royal playhouses in Berlin alone, and his majesty contributes proportionately to the support of the three other royal theaters situated at Weisbaden, Hanover and Cassel. The kaiser's expenditure consists of contributions equivalent to the annual deficits.

The expenses at the opera houses and theaters has been vastly increased by his majesty's fondness for lavish productions. The gorgeous revival of Verdi's "Aida," produced under his personal directions in 1908, cost $50,000. One of the costumes worn by the King of Egypt was embroidered in gold and cost $750.

It is announced that the municipality of Berlin is ready to purchase the Royal opera house, and it is rumored that it will be converted into a naval museum. If the transaction is carried out the kaiser will fulfill his long-cherished ambition of erecting a magnificent new opera house more in keeping with the present splendor of Berlin, and costing about $5,000,000.

Lion Fondles a Child.

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovvery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for Cougas, Colds, La Grippe, Asthma, Hemorrhages, Weak Lungs. 50c, $1. Trial bottle free. YOUNGEST GRASS WIDOW

In World Will Be Ten-Year-Old Tennessee Applicant.

Memphis, Tenn., May 13.—Provided courts grant her decree of divorce applied for this week, Nellie M. Johnson Lamar, who celebrated her tenth birthday since her sensational marriage a few months ago, may lay claim to being the youngest grass widow in the world. Papers in behalf of the child-wife were filed after several months' effort on the part of detectives to obtain service on the groom, Newlan L. Lamar, 32 years, who, it is claimed, enticed his bride from her home, driving to the residence of Rev. E. R. Overby, where the nuptial knot was tied. Desertion is alleged by the pretty young miss, through her parents.

RELICS FADED FLOWERS.

Italian Curator Finds Himself in Plight in Premier's Presence.

Rome, May 13.—Signor Luigi Luzzatti, the new Italian premier, being also minister of the interior, was conducted the other day over the spacious archives of that department. Heaving a sigh at the mountainous piles of dust-laden documents, Signor Luzzatti asked: "Is it really necessary or desirable to preserve all these accumulations?"

"Decidedly so," quickly retorted the curator. "Here, for instance," exclaimed he, picking up a bundle at haphazard, "is a dossier dealing with a grand scheme of administrative reform, which occupied successive ministers for thirty years."

"Heavens!" ejaculated Signor Luzzatti, now profoundly interested. "Let's have a look at it."

Imagine the poor curator's plight when, the parcel being undone, the contents were found to consist of a big bouquet of faded violets, a very old pair of gloves and a large liver patty, all supposed to be relics of the far-off days when Signor Crispi ruled.

TURMOIL IN RUSSIAN DUMA.

Emperor and Empress Said to Belong to Murderers' Association.

St. Petersburg, May 13.—M. Stolypin has made an important political speech in the duma. He denied that the government was tending towards reaction. Repressive measures were being abandoned wherever possible. By his majesty's express command, courts-martial and capital punishment were resorted to only in the most extreme cases.

A violent scene occurred when M. Mulipkoff remarked that the prefect had just fined the Znamya for saying that a Jewish delegation had presented M. Stolypin with a diamond-studded torah. The Znamya several days previously had announced that the czar and czarevitch belonged to the Union of the Russian People—that is, they were members of an association of murderers. Why was the Znamya not punished for lese majeste? There was a great uproar on the extreme right, M. Purishkevitch shouting, "They are members."

MILAN HAS WAVE OF CRIME.

Police Make Concerted Efforts to Rid City of Undesirables.

Milan, May 13.—So startling has the increase of serious crime and hooliganism become here of late that Questor Commendatore Bondi has organized armed patrol bands in every district of the city and suburbs. Hundreds of suspicious characters are being arrested nightly. No fewer than 119 were captured one night this week who turned out to be ex-convicts armed with revolvers, daggers or burglary tools.

A large number of these criminals are Southerners who have taken refuge in Milan in consequence of the military campaign against the Camorra in the Neapolitan provinces. It is quite unsafe to venture outside after dark in some of the outlying districts of Milan.

A strenuous endeavor is also afoot for putting an end to the white slave traffic, which has been making alarming strides recently owing to wholesale foreign importations. In this connection also the arrests run into hundreds. Twenty-five young girls sent to Italy by the Perisian white slave syndicate were intercepted by the police in the international night express on its arrival at the central station, and conducted back to their own country.

SOX DROP SECOND GAME

Winona Outhit and Outfielded, But Takes 11 Inning Game.

Wilhelm's Errors Cause the Downfall of Sox---Neelon Stars in Outfield.

Winona, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winona took the second game of the series from the Champions, winning an eleven inning game by the score of 5 to 4. Bzoski, a pitcher secured from Sleepy Eye, won his own game by a hit in the eleventh inning.

The game was tied up in the seventh inning. The Sox scored two, Winona sending the tying run over by clean hitting. Two errors by Goodman in the seventh frame, coupled with hits, gave the Sox their two markers.

Bzoski was hit hard by the Sox, but errors on the part of the Duluth infield, Wilhelm being the worst offender, gave the locals a chance to tie up the game. Neelon in center field played a great game for the visitors making four difficult catches in deep center.

The winning run came in the eleventh after two were out. With Goodman on third, Pitcher Bzoski hit cleanly to left field, ending a game that was full of good playing and exciting features.

Red Wing, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Superior took the second game of the series through the errors of the locals, by the score of 6 to 2. Though Superior made an equal number of errors, the errors of the local team proved costly. Coupled with the ragged playing of the Indians was their inability to hit Baertschi. OUTCASTS AGAIN DEFEAT SCHOOMHOVENS EAU CLAIRE.

La Crosse, Wis., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Outcasts repeated their victory of Wednesday, defeating Eau Claire Angels by the score of 5 to 4, yesterday. Malone for Eau Claire has little control and his wildness counted in the run getting. After the first Watson was effective and held the Angels helpless.

Tommy Schoonhoven protested the game on the new interpretation of the rules, which allow a run to be scored on a ball that hit the umpire. Score:

COULON HAS BETTER OF PHILLY McGOVERN.

New York, May 13.—Johnny Coulon of Chicago, bantamweight champion, outfought and outpointed Philly McGovern, Terry's brother, in ten slashing rounds before the Madison Athletic club last night. Charley White was referee.

McGovern finished strong, but Coulon was clearly the better boy. McGovern floored him with a right hook to the jaw in the third round, but Coulon got up quickly and, with a glancing blow to the head, retaliated by knocking McGovern down. The latter slipped, however, which was partly responsible for his fall.

ACE HIGH ANSWERS FLAG FOR LAST TIME.

New York, May 13.—Ace High, once in Larry Mulligan's string of selling platers, but now between the shafts of a fish peddler's wagon forgot yesterday afternoon that he no longer is even deuce high and at the drop of a switchman's yellow flag started out to break all records through crowded Park Row between Brooklyn bridge and the city hall subway entrance.

Ace High did the distance in new time, breaking not only all records but pretty nearly everything else that stood in his line of progress. True, he collapsed at the finish, but his head and feet were well across the line, even if to get there he had to shove them through the plate glass side walls of the subway entrance. They carried the old race horse off in a covered van; it was his last dash, and he needed no rubdown.

FRANK GOTCH VISITS CITY

The World's Champion Will Wrestle Chris Person at Houghton.

Frank A. Gotch, world's champion wrestler and generally believed to be the greatest heavyweight mat artist that the world has ever produced, was in Duluth a short time yesterday afternoon.

The able Iowan stopped off here between trains simply to say "hello" and "how do you do." He was on his way to Houghton, where he is billed to meet faithful Chris Person in a handicap match. Gotch undertakes to pin the shoulders of the Duluth heavyweight three times in an hour.

Emil Klank, a former wrestler of some note but who now spends most of his time in looking after the business interests of Gotch, accompanied the champion.

Frank expressed confidence in his ability to defeat Zbyszko. While not underrating the burly Pole, the world's champion stated that he believed he would prove the victor after a hard struggle. Gotch also stated that the match would be pulled off without further haggling over the split of the purse.

After the match with Zbyszko, Gotch will leave for the coast to assist in the conditioning of James J. Jeffries. The Iowan stated that the coming match with Zbyszko would be the last big match he would participate in.

ENGLISH DOG THAT BROUGHT $5,200 DIES.

New York, May 13.—What is said to have been the most valuable dog in the world, champion Chinchan Young Jack, an English bull, died yesterday at the Long Island kennels of his owner, J. Coper Mott, who recently imported him for $5,200. Richard Croker, Jr., paid $5,000 for Rodneystone, another English bull, some years ago.

Champion Chinchan never knew a healthy day from the time he landed in America.

ROUND-THE-WORLD WINS DEBUTANTE STAKES.

Louisville, Ky., May 13.—The debutante stakes for 2-year-olds carrying a value of $1,100, was the attraction of the Downs yesterday afternoon. Though the track was heavy after Wednesday night's rain, the clear, cool weather of yesterday served to attract a banner crowd to the course.

As a side attraction, the third race was provided in which the winner was returned in Sal Muller, who simply romped home. Round-The-World got the best of the start and won the Debutante stakes by two lengths from Golden Egg, which wore Princess Industry down in the run.

ZBYSZKO WINS FROM FRENCH-CANADIAN.

Trenton, N. J., May 13.—Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, defeated Paul Pons, the French-Canadian, in a match here last night. Zbyszko won the contest in straight falls, best two in three. He won the first fall in fourteen minutes on a scissors hold, and the second in five minutes on a toe hold.

TEX RICKARD IS WORRIED

Fight Promoter Fears Principals Will Not Agree on Referee.

Johnson Says Third Man Will Surely Be Selected Monday.

San Francisco, Cal., May 13.—Though Promoter Tex Rickard is plainly apprehensive that the opposing fight factions may not be able to agree on a referee at Monday's final conference, both Johnson and his manager, George Little, profess confidence in a settlement of the problem on the appointed date. Johnson said he was certain to put one of his own choice in the much-mooted place.

Sam Berger is expected here late today and Rickard is planning to bring about a preliminary conference between Jeffries' manager and Johnson in the hope of adjusting the difficulty.

No change in Johnson's daily program of light training has been announced.

Jeff to Give Exhibition.

Ben Lomond, Cal., May 13.—To give San Francisco prize-fight enthusiasts an opportunity to look him over and note the improvement that weeks of training have wrought in his condition, Jeffries, according to a plan arranged by Manager Berger, will appear up to the city May 27 and appear in a sparring bout there that evening.

Harsh criticism of Jeffries' indifference to Sunday visitors to Ben Lomond, who on several occasions have been disappointed by the big fellow's failure to exhibit himself in action, is believed to have something to do with the scheme to hold the San Francisco exhibition.

Jeffries has decided to pack his week-day activities from now on into morning hours.

In yesterday's bouts with Armstrong and Choynski, Jeffries presented each of his sparring partners with a discolored eye. The retired champion continued to show the speed which marked his work Wednesday and gave each of his partners a grilling session.

Armstrong came out of the bout with a severely bruised face, with a half-inch square of skin peeled off near the eye. Landing twice in rapid succession on Choynski's right eye, Jeffries caused the optic to change color almost instantly. When time was called in the final round Choynski was bleeding from the mouth.

In view of his showing the big fellow decided that his day's work was done by noon and he was ready to take things easy for the remainder of the day.

LEAGUE HONORS KING EDWARD'S MEMORY.

New York, May 13.—Out of respect to the memory of the late King Edward and his people all Eastern league baseball games scheduled for Friday, May 20, the day of the king's funeral, have been called off. Notice to that effect was sent out last night by P. T. Powers, president of the league.

Games scheduled for May 20 will be played in double headers on May 21, along with the regular games.

DRIVERS READY FOR DAY'S GRIND

New Records Expected in Twenty-Four-Hour Race at New York.

New York, May 13.—The twenty-four drivers, who are to alternate at the wheel of the twelve high powered automobiles entered in the twenty-four round-the-clock race which begins at Brighton Beach tonight, were given their final instructions yesterday at the headquarters of the Motor Racing association.

The track has been especially prepared and a number of the drivers who have had practice spins this week, express themselves as confident of setting a new world's record.

Louis Chevrolet, who will pilot one of the two Buick cars entered, predicts 1,250 miles covered in the twenty-four hours.

The cars entered are: One Flat, two Stearns, two Bulcks, one Marion, one Cole, one Simplex, one Houpt-Rockwell, one Sheldon, one Rainier and one Creston-Keaton.

Among the drivers participating are Strang, De Palma, Burman, Chevrolet, Basle, Mulford, Disbrow, Patschke, Howard and Poole.

CENTRAL MEETS SUPERIOR NORMAL SCHOOL TEAM.

Central high school baseball team and the team from the Superior normal will play at Athletic park tomorrow afternoon. At the present time Central, Blaine, and Nelson Dewey are tied for the leadership of the interscholastic league. For that reason the Central boys are particularly anxious to win the game of tomorrow.

Scanlon will mount the mound for the Central boys. Larry Boyle will be saved for one of the Superior highs. The Central team is in very good shape at the present time and the boys are confident of winning.

Kelly will be seen behind the bat and Scanlon on the mound. Waldron, Larry and Joe Boyle and Greenfield will play the infield positions. Capt. Spencer will cavort in left, Horton will show in center, and Johnson will hold down right.

The game will be called at 3:30.

GOLF SEASON WILL BE OPENED TOMORROW.

The handicap two-ball sweepstakes medal competition, 18 holes, will be played at the Northland club tomorrow. This will be the first regular event of the season, and will mark the opening of the golf season.

Hereafter regular matches on Saturdays and holidays must be played between the hours of 1 and 4 in the afternoon.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

A swing around the southern end of the circuit will convince one of the enthusiasm the fans in that portion of the state have in the greater Minny league.

The opening day at Winona brought out an attendance that would have been a credit to a town in the American association. The people of Winona are good fans, and though the park in that city is farther from the center of the city than the Duluth park, the games the present season promise to be better attended than any baseball games in the history of the league.

Going down to Winona to see the Sox perform in the opening game of the season, A. W. Kuehnow was met at the Red Wing depot by M. H. Creamer, president of the Red Wing club. Mr. Creamer believes the season at Red Wing will prove more successful than any of the other club owners have any idea of.

The president of the club says they are baseball mad there, and that interest in the new circuit is high.

All over the southern part of the circuit the enthusiasm for the league is the same. La Crosse has awakened, apparently, according to the reports they have received at Winona, and even Wausau has shown more interest in the game than has been shown in that town for years.

The baseball people of Winona have no fear of the success of baseball at Rochester. It has been predicted that Rochester will rank fifth in the attendance of the league. One of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a baseball game in the southern part of the state attended the opening game between Rochester and Wausau.

From what the fans at Winona have seen of the Sox they are inclined to believe that they have a very strong team. Kaiser Wilhelm played his first game with the team and also his first game of the season, the day before yesterday. The little follow has not as yet had an opporunity of getting his eye in, but, considering everything, made a very good showing.

Young Frynn at first looks to be a comer. Though the boy was nervous in the opening game on Wednesday, he played a cool and steady game at the initial sack. He goes after the sand disturbers, and is tall enough to pull the enthusiastic throws out of the higher air line.

Darby O'Brien realizes that the success of his team the present season will depend in a large measure upon the showing of his pitchers. The great work of George Dauss in the opener relieved the Orator of a heavy burden of worry.

If big Marion comes around all right, another burden will be removed from the classic shoulders of the manager. Before the opening game Marion was working out, and had his curves working nicely. The day was raw and cold, and he did not want to take any chances with his arm. He believes that he is able at the present time to go in and work.

Kuehnow received a letter from Al. Cummings, just before he left for Winona, in which the Duluth boy stated he would join the team the last of the present week or the first of next. He also stated that he was in excellent condition, and would be ready to jump into the game.

In the opener with Winona, the team Uncle Joe Killian has collected did not look as strong as the Sox. If Thorsen works right the present season and Klingebell comes up to expectations and Al Cummings joins the team —well, we should have a pretty sweet twirling staff.

There are a lot of qualifiers there, to be sure, yet O'Brien will strengthen his team in every possible manner between now and the first of June. The boys got off well, and played a good game yesterday. They are a nervy bunch, for O'Brien won't have a ball player on his team who hasn't plenty of courage.

The prospects for a successful season for the Minny league, and a good season for the Duluth team, look good. It is early as yet which, of course, must be taken into consideration. But judging from the getaway, Duluth should be able to make a fairly good showing on the first trip, during which five of the teams will be played.

Strong for Kelly.

"We have a sweet baseball team."

That remark is upon the line of the true and faithful of St. Paul. Not for years has the Saintly City been so enthused over the game. Kelly is the man who has done it. Added to the fact that St. Paul has a very fast team, is the personal popularity of Michael J.

Genial and a thorough gentleman, Kelly has probably the largest personal following of any manager in the American Association. He is just as well liked in Minneapolis as he is in St. Paul.

He is a wise and shrewd manager, is Michael, and from their gait for the first few strides, he has at last succeeded in giving St. Paul a real baseball team—something the city has been shy on for some few years.

Watch Him Go.

The office boy came in wide-eyed and in evident excitement. Something besides his cap was on his mind.

"Gee, that Jeff must be a great man" came from the lips of the hero worshipping youth.

Then it came out—Jeff had blackened the eyes of Mr. Choynski.

The office boy is young yet, and he is naturally bright. He is sure that James J. is the greatest man in the universe. He has ceased to be interested in the travels of T. R. since James J. has gone into training.

It would be quite useless to tell the office boy of the status of ancient Joe Choynski. Jeff gave the ancient gladiator a black eye; that is quite enough for the office boy, who faithfully pursues the dope on the retired champion.

Youth and credulity are great—let the office boy alone—everybody of a fair complexion hopes he is right with his sanguine belief.

MINNY LEAGUE TEAMS COMPLETE FIRST SERIES.

Teams of the Minny league will complete the first series of the season this afternoon. Duluth moves on to La Crosse for a series of three games, while Artie O'Dea's team will journey to Rochester and begin a series of three games tomorrow.

Carl Bond's Wausau Lumberjacks will move to Red Wing, and Eau Claire will begin a series with Uncle Joe Killian's Winona heroes.

It is too early to get a line on the teams as yet. Eau Cinire, Winona, La Crosse and Duluth look strong. However, no estimate can be made yet.

FOOTBALL UNDER KNIFE

Surgeons Gather for What May Be the Final Clinic.

Operation Will Decide Ultimate Destiny of Great College Game.

New York, May 13.—Today and tomorrow may be fateful ones in deciding the ultimate destiny of college football. The football rule revisers are in New York, ready for what is expected to be a final tussle with the rules. The problem of the experts is to make the game safe and sane, as demanded by the faculties of college after college, and at the same time preserve its present status as the favorite sport of the undergraduate and the alumnus lover of exciting athletic contests.

Before the revisers, the members of the intercollegiate football rules committee, met today there was a general expectation that their sessions would be lively. The much-vexed question of the forward pass pressed to the front, but not far behind were the questions of the flying tackle and the eight-yards-to-gain feature of the game tentatively decided upon at the recent Philadelphia meeting of the committee.

It is getting near the time, the revisers realize, when the issue will have to be grappled with and brought to some definite conclusion, and it was the hope of many that the present meeting would result in definite action.

Among the experts who have gathered for the meeting are: Prof. L. M. Dennis of Cornell, chairman of the committee; Walter Camp, Yale; Dr. Carl Williams, Pennsylvania; and Lieut. H. P. Hackett, West Point.

LONG ISLAND IS SELECTED

International Aviation Meet Will Be Held in New York.

World's Championship Event for the Bennett Trophy Oct. 22.

New York, May 13.—America's first international aviation meet for the championship of the world will be held on Long Island. The last international meet, at which Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammondsport, N. Y., won the James Gordon Bennett trophy, was held last year at Rheims, France.

St. Louis, Indianapolis, Los Angeles, Seattle, Washington and Baltimore have been interested competitors for the contest, but the Aero Club of America finally selected New York because the city was thought to be better equipped to handle larger crowds and because foreign aviators have signified an inclination to favor New York for the long distant start.

Three sites are now under consideration, and it is probable that a final decision will be reached at a meeting of the directors of the Aero club to be held next Tuesday. The course will be in triangular shape, three miles long over all, and a huge grandstand will be built for the enormous crowds that are expected unless the Belmont track—one of the sites under consideration—should be chosen. In that event the track grandstand will be availabie.

The races will be conducted by the International Aeronautical Federation of which the Aero Club of America is a member, and will last for a week. The main contest for the world's championship and the Gordon Bennett trophy has been scheduled for Oct. 22, but the dates for the minor events have not yet been set. The rules of the federation provide that the races shall be held each year in the country represented by the victor in the contest of the year previous. Last year Curtiss won the championship, and the trophy, together with a cash prize of $5,000 as a representative of the Aero Club of America, and this year the club's representative will defend it on their own territory.

COLE DENIES THAT HE IS A PROHIBITIONIST.

Chicago, May 13.—Demanding withdrawal of his name as candidate for state treasurer on the Illinois Prohibition ticket, George F. Cole of Chicago declared he is not a Prohibitionist and said he was not consulted in the matter of his nomination at the Decatur convention Wednesday. Mr. Cole's demand is made in a letter to Alonzo E. Wilson, chairman of the Prohibition state committee.

FAIR

Northeastern Minnesota is enjoying this weather, but it is an expensive luxury. J. Pluvius is still sleeping and the forest fires continue. They will continue, at least to some extent, until checked by the forces of nature. Fair cool weather prevails today and the same is predicted for tonight and tomorrow. The frost predicted for last night failed to materialize, 36 deg being the lowest temperature. Frost is promised again for tonight.

Damp, raw weather prevailed a year ago today in the morning, but the afternoon and evening were delightful.

The sun rose this morning at 4:33 and it will set at 7:34, giving fifteen hours and one minute of sunlight.

Mr. Richardosn makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Areas of high barometric pressure overlie the Red river valley and the Oregon-Washington coast, eastward throught Canada and in the northern portions of border states. Light to heavy frosts occurred this morning in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and in the northern portions of Indiana and Ohio. Barometric depressions central off the Atlantic coast and over Saskatchewan and Arlona caused light rains in Atlantic states, Kansas, Texas and Western South Dakota, respectively. Continued dry weather is indicated for the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Upper Lakes: Light to moderate north winds shifting to east and southeast on Michigan and Superior; fair tonight and Saturday.

Chicago, May 13.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. Saturday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight with heavy frost; Saturday fair and slightly warmer.

Wisconsin—Fair and continued cool tonight and Saturday; heavy frost tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Saturday with warmer in west portion; frost tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight with frost; warmer in northwest portion; Saturday increasing cloudiness with showers in west portion.

North Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; warmer tonight.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy with probably showers in west portion tonight or Saturday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; not much change.

day; Wednesday, is alumni day and Thursday the commencement exercises proper will be held.

Alumni day will be one of the big features, former students of the university from all sections being expected back for the celebration. On that day there will be the A. D. T. and Adelphi society reunions as well as reunions by several other societies. The alumni baseball players will meet up with the 1910 team as one feature of the day's festivities. The women's alumni association will be the closing events of the day.

Friday, June 3, has been selected as commencement date for the Grand Forks high school. This date is a little later than usual, the change being necessary on account of the fact that the May Music festival will be held the same week.

have advanced as rapidly as a man can walk at a good brisk gait. A shift in the wind helped the fire-fighters, and they back-fired along an old logging road for four miles, saving the timber and cottages on one side of the road.

"Though the cottages have been saved, large quantities of standing timber were destroyed, and the material loss is heavy," said Capt. McDougall. "There were large quantities of Norway pine near the cottages and much jack pine in the cut-over lands, which had not been considered valuable enough to cut when the Norway pine was removed, was destroyed. Some of the land was heavily covered with young trees, and those have all been burned out.

"Last night, when the wind had gone down, I mounted a height and could see great volumes of smoke arising for miles around. This morning I looked over the same territory and there was no fire where it had been last night. Everything had been burned out. Much timber was standing this morning, but when I get back I expect to see that it is all burned."

Protest to Forester.

En route to Duluth from the Brule, Capt. McDougall wrote the following letter, which has been sent to E. N. Griffiths, superintendent of state forests in Wisconsin:

"Dear Sir: I have been for the last few days along the beautiful Brule valley with a lot of men fighting fire, working night and day, and I am now on my way to Superior or Duluth to get more men. I go back today, and will keep on fighting fire as long as I can.

"Last night, just before dark, from the highest hills in the town of Highland, Douglas county, and again this morning at daylight, I could see and learned from our own and other men that there must have been a territory equal to 100 square miles of country burned over in the neighborhood of the Brule river and along its banks, and in this territory many bunches of splendid timber and thousands of acres of young timber and small trees if protected on the wild lands would be worth millions for posterity.

"During a dry spell of two years ago I came west on a railroad, where I carefully watched from the rear end of the car to see the effects of cinders setting fire to leeward of the train. Then in particular and several times since I saw places where these sparks or brands of burned coals were forced out through the furnaces of the small muzzle called the smokestack and sent streams of burning cinders that might have been muzzled by a screen. In dry times at least, through wild land sections, for it looks like if some demons were passing through the country trying to devour by flame all that comes in their way. I do not say that all forest fires originate from railroads, but if I were superintendent of forests either in Michigan, Wisconsin or Minnesota I would feel ashamed if I could not bring about legislation that would muzzle those dogs of fire in dry times."

red-handed in pillaging the cars. On divers occasions the watchman has been startled by the warning cry "jiggers," and heard the "pirates" run at top speed for their boat. Before he could get close enough to learn their identity or see where they went, the crew had pulled their craft far out into the bay. They worked on the darkest nights, it is asserted, making it impossible to see the direction they took.

Strategy had to be resorted by Officer Williams to uncover them. He heard of a big boat on the other side of Rice's point which seemed to have no owner. Hunting it up several days ago he tried to find out to whom it belonged. Finally he went to some small boys pitching quoits in the next block. He asked them whose boat it was, stating that he wanted to rent it for an hour or two for a short fishing trip.

Eager to make a few cents the boys said that he could rent it. They stated that about half a dozen or more boys were jointly interested in the boat. In that manner he got their names and found part of their booty. He says that they have admitted their crimes.

The boys whose names he has are: Vaner Erickson, Elmer Grandbeck, Clint Ridgewell, Ed Young, Reynold Marchand, Arthur Marchand and Lew Arthur. All are under 17 years of age. They will be in juvenile court tomorrow. It is claimed that others have also been concerned in the box car robberies. Efforts will be made to find out who they are. The boys are said to have sold some the stolen goods and it is probable that steps will be taken to bring the purchasers to book on the ground that they knew the goods were stolen.

the best copper properties in the world and I now intend to devote my whole attention to them, which I have not been able to do for two and a half years.

"I appreciate the loyalty of my friends who have stuck to me through it all, and regret exceedingly the price of the securities in which I have been interested."

Judge Gave Long Charge.

Judge Hough began his charge to the jury a few minutes before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His charge lasted 1 hour and 15 minutes and the jury filed out. Heinze then became a prisoner, for as the jurors began their deliberations, his bail of $50,000 was automatically revoked under the law. He was not locked up, however, but was permitted to sit in the court room or walk in the corridor. A friend brought him sandwiches, and he ate them hungrily. He was calm and confident.

When the jury announced a verdict had been agreed upon, the court room was so quiet that a pin could have been heard to drop. Heinze looked hard at each juryman, but showed no trace of nervousness.

When Foreman Lavell of the jury announced "We find the defendant not guilty," the court room was in an uproar. It was crowded with the defendant's friends, who shrieked exultantly and gave loud hurrahs of joy.

Shook Hands With Jurors.

Marshals banged violently on the benches and finally restored order, while the jurymen filed out of court. As each juror left, Heinze shook his hand warmly.

Heinze laughed hysterically as he received the kisses of his women relatives and congratulations from the men. Out into the corridor he was pushed, where the scene of the enthusiasm and disorder was repeated.

New York, May 13.—Fears that the commission he has accepted to act as the official representative of the United States at the funeral of King Edward might delay the return to this city of Former President Theodore Roosevelt, necessitating a change in the plans for his welcome home, have been set at rest by the receipt of a telegram from him announcing that he will sail on the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, as scheduled. This will insure his arrival in New York on June 18.

FIRE FIGHTER MAY BE INSANE

The Heat and Hard Work May Have Unbalanced Settler's Mind.

Supposed to be insane as the result of fighting forest fires day and night for some time past, Charles Cass, a homesteader living near Skibo, is in the county jail awaiting an examination as to his sanity in probate court.

Cass lives with his brother on land they took up some time ago. The buildings on the land compose all their worldly possessions, and they made a hard fight to save them.

Weakened by the overwork the settler's mind is thought to have failed. Yesterday he began telling the other settlers that it was he who started all the forest fires.

Fearing that he might do himself harm, he was brought to the city last night by a brother.

JURY DECLARES AHO NOT GUILTY

Finds He Was Not Implicated in Assault Upon John Hill at Chisholm.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—At 11 o'clock this forenoon the jury in the district court in the case of the States against Isaac Aho, charged with having been implicated in the assault upon John Hill at Chisholm on March 12, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The court then took an adjournment until 9 o'clock Monday morning. It is likely that Judge Cant will be called here next week to try some cases in which Judges Hughes was interested privious to being appointed upon the bench.

Chief Witness Faints Away.

John Hill, the complaining witness in the assault case gainst Isaac Aho, fell in a dead faint on the floor of the courtroom just as the court adjourned for the day yesterday afternoon, which caused considerable excitement. Blood ran from his nose and mouth, and but for timely aid might have succumbed. After several minutes of work of respiration and the administering of a tonic, Hill regained consciousness. He is still in a weakened condition from the effects of the assault made upon him, suffering from a large hole, about the size of a teacup, in his skull, from which his brains can be seen to beat against the thin covering of scalp which has grown over the wound. Hill claims to have been assaulted with a knife and a large piece of ice at the hands of Isaac Aho, Frank Grenlund and John Hantala, the assault having taken place at Chisholm the early part of April. The defendants in the case have been granted separate trials.

Dave Marzlak and Mrs. Kate Fabich were bound over to the grand jury by Judge Carey in municipal court on a charge of adultery preferred against them by Joe Fabich, husband of Mrs. Fabich. Their bail was fixed at $500 and $300 respectively, upon default of which they were taken to Duluth today. The crime is alleged to have been committed at Biwabik on March 5.

Two Years for Assault.

Frank Terchan was sentenced to serve a term of two years in the state penitentiary at Stillwater by Judge Martin Hughes, having been found guilty of assault in the second degree. The assaulted party is Louis Novak, a mine shift boss, who received a knife wound in the left shoulder while visiting the boarding house of Mrs. Schmitt at Aurora on April 15.

John Knustita and Frank Hill, who were sentenced to two years and one year respectively in the state prison for assaulting Alfred Vilhoness at the Kinney mine on March 25, and Frank Tershon, were taken to Duluth today by Deputy Sheriff Owen Gately.

BOYS' COOKING SCHOOL LATEST

Eveleth Board to Try Experiment Also Teaching Them How to Sew.

Eveleth, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board has decided on two new innovations, a boys cooking camp and a boys sewing department, that will be commenced very soon, and will continue for the last month of the present term.

The boys' cookery will be under the direction of Miss Emmalissa Mandeville, the regular cooking instructor, while Miss Polly Bullard and Miss Mandeville of the domestic science department will have charge of the boys' sewing classes. Many of the boys have announced their intentions of joining the new classes, and the interest shown by the boys during the month the two innovations will be conducted, will determine whether the two new departments will become regular subjects of the school curriculum next term.

Prof. Hayes of the Hamline college, yesterday afternoon addressed the high school students on school matters in general.

George B. Eaton, state high school inspector and Supt. B. Lunn of Biwabik were high school visitors this week.

CHISHOLM NEWS NOTES.

May Day Festival By High School Saturday Evening.

Chisholm, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The pupils of Chisholm high school will give a May day festival tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the high school.

A post mortem examination wes held on the remains of John Galus, who was found dead Tuesday morning in the rear of Michael Barch's saloon. Death was due to inflammation of the aorta, which caused a blood clot on the heart.

William Sangrell slipped on first base during the ball game Monday and fractured one of the small bones in his right foot.

SKIN TROUBLES IN THE HOUSEHOLD

For Eruptions of Every Kind There Is Only One Thing to Be Used.

At various times during the year nearly all the members of the household are annoyed by skin affections, such as pimples, herpes, rash, inflamed skin, itching spots, scaly scalp, dandruff, etc. A little poslam ready at hand whenever these troubles appear will effectually put an end to them and prevent any mental or physical discomfort which they might bring. Should any of the more serious skin diseases, eczema, acne, tetter, scabies, psoriasis, etc., affect either infant or adult, or any part of the body, poslam may be depended upon for immediate relief and a rapid and permanent cure.

How quickly and thoroughly poslam does its work may be noted by any one who will send to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city, for a free sample, and use it on a small affected eczema surface, or for clearing the complexion and causing pimples to disappear.

Poslam is now on sale by all good druggists, particularly the Lyceum Pharmacy and W. A. Abbett in Duluth and the A. E. Holmberg Drug Co., in Superior. Two sizes, 50 cents and $2. Druggists who appreciate just what poslam does, know that they cannot, with satisfaction to their customers, substitute anything else.

FIRES STILL BURNING ON NORTH SHORE

flames will do as thorough a job in the interior.

The fires are now at their worst in the Gunflint region and along the Pidgeon river, where much standing timber is being leveled and destroyed. Pidgeon river is on the boundary line.

John G. Howard of Duluth, who has extensive logging interests in the north, is now in the Gunflint country. He went up on the America early this week.

Among the pessengers who came from the North Shore on the boat today were A. E. Gilbert, vice president of the Red Cliff Lumber company, and Manager Burnett of the lumber camps back of Chicago bay.

Dynamite Found.

Postmaster H. O. Engelson of Tofte made a remarkable find in the ruins of a roothouse after the flames had raided that village. It was a box of rynamite, with fifty sticks in it, which had reposed harmlessly on the ground over which Mr. Engelson and another man had stamped and danced in their efforts to put out the fire. The box was covered with a thin layer of dirt.

Between Brimson and Ab Smith's logging camps the fires are burning steadily, and all along the road west of Two Harbors the flames are sweeping over the land. In the vicinity of Embarrass there are several dangerous fires, it is reported, and at Ab Smith's 44-mile camp a large quantity of ties is being destroyed.

Along the Miller trunk road in the vicinity of the Ely and St. Mary lakes there are fires, and William Shea's buildings, on the east side of Ely lake, have been razed. The fires have spread to the Missabe tracks on the other side of the lake and are raging in the woods in the immediate vicinity of "Farmer" Burn's residence, and are also threatening the Forrest Wickey home. Supt. F. E. Forrister of the Eveleth waterworks went to the lake with many feet of hose to fight the fire threatening the homesteaders.

At Eveleth last evening the 1,000 feet of hose that the local fire department had been using in fighting fires at the Adams Location district was put away. In the vicinity of the ball park the fires have subsided and the few fires along the Iron Range road and near Wolf have died down. At Gilbert the fires have also subsided.

Bush fires in the neighborhood of L'Anse, Baraga, Newtonville and Alston, in upper Michigan, are freshening and again threaten these places, driven by a strong westerly wind. Back fires have been started at Baraga to protect that town.

In the town of Gneisen, twelve miles from Duluth, all the buildings on John Kubuki's farm have been wiped out and the timber of Martin Lepak's farm has been cleaned out by the fire that has been raging in that part of the county. Thirty men are fighting desperately to halt the progress of the flames, which have spread over a territory four miles in extent.

John Praugh, an aged settler whose home is two miles east of Lakewood, on the Lakeshore road, has been made destitute by the fire that swept over his small farm. He fought bravely, single-handed against the flames, until he saw that he was hopeless, and then turned loose his three cows and a calf, tucked half a dozen chicks away in his coat and sought safety in flight. Within half an hour's time on Monday the fire wiped out his buildings and denuded the land of vegetation. Mr. Praugh came to the city yesterday to ask temporary assistance of the city authorities.

Charles Jacobson, a farmer living about eleven miles south of Iron River, Wis., lost all his farm buildings in a bush fire that suddenly advanced upon the place. Several members of the family had narrow escapes from death in the flames.

linger himself. You are requested to send us your affidavit in reference to irregularities charged against the forest service in our articles on the first page. You need not fear that you will fail to make proof on account of such affidavit. We will guard your interests."

Answer to Nelson.

The letter and editorial were introduced by Mr. Pepper in answer to a statement made yesterday by Chairman Nelson that he had received a large number of complaints against the forest service.

Secretary Ballinger said he knew nothing about Mr. Carr's letter, which bore date of Jan. 3 last, but on redirect examination he said he had received a letter from the editor of the paper late in December, stating that there were many complaints in that locality against the forest service. He offered in evidence his reply to the editor.

he said, "means not only death to the defendant, but probably death to the wife of the accused man."

Reprimanded by Court.

Special counsel for the state and the foreign chemists were assailed. Mr. Brewster spoke with much feeling about newspaper interviews given out by state's attorneys before the trial started, and brought upon himself a reprimand from the court.

"This case is not being tried upon the newspaper account," said the judge. "Not only that, but he is not speaking the truth," added Attorney Reed of the state's counsel.

"Proceed," said Judge Latshaw.

When Mr. Brewster's address, which lasted an hour and thirty-five minutes, had been completed, Prosecutor Virgil Conklin began his address. The prosecutor's speech was a defense of himself for employing special prosecutors and a scathing arraignment of Dr. Hyde, mainly for his dealings with cyanide.

Speaking of the presence of Mrs. Hyde in the court room, Mr. Conkling said:

"I had intended to comment upon the action of the defendant in bringing his wife into court at this time, but in the light of the awful predicament of the accused man, I can excuse him, and shall pass the matter without further words."

The prosecutor had not completed his argument when the noon adjournment was taken.

S.S.S. UNEQUALED FOR BAD BLOOD

Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation. These corpuscles are constantly forming in healthy systems by the extraction of nutriment from food eaten, and this nourishment is then supplied through the circulation to every portion of the system. Any system which does not receive the proper amount of blood nourishment is not prepared to withstand the countless disorders that assail it. Bad blood can not nourish the body, the circulation must be pure, rich and strong if we would enjoy good health. Bad blood manifests itself in various ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. If the germs and impurities in the blood are of a more virulent nature then bad blood becomes more serious and produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, and like troubles. Nothing equals S. S. S. for bad blood. It is Nature's own blood purifier, made from roots, herbs and barks. It goes into the circulation and removes every impurity or poison, strengthens and enriches the blood, and in this way supplies the body with the proper amount of nourishment to maintain good health. S. S. S. is likewise the finest of all tonics and while purifying the blood builds up every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures every ailment coming from bad blood, and it does so simply because it purifies the circulation. Book on the blood sent free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

There is great interest in the coming to Duluth in the autumn of Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, who has been called "a public housekeeper." Mrs. Crane's services to her own city, Kalamazoo, and since then the broadening of her helpfulness to many parts of the Union, has attracted much attention. After her appearance before the conservation congress, the Twin Cities and Duluth pledged themselves to bring her to Minnesota for a month's whirlwind campaign in October. In a recent article in Collier's Weekly, Sarah Comstock wrote of Mrs. Crane and her work:

"As an example of what can be done when a woman sets about it, and a prophecy of what many women are likely to do in the rapid onrush of 'the feminist movement,' we have the work of Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Kalamazoo, Mich.

"It is Mrs. Crane whom the state of Minnesota has summoned to devote a month to looking into its cracks and poking thereIn with her skewer. Likewise, the city of Duluth and one or two neighboring towns will make use of her services; and Nashville and Chattanooga in the South are now undergoing a week or two of vigorous overhauling. A year ago she housecleaned twelve cities of Kentucky, spending five weeks at the task, and last month's adjournment of the Kentucky legislature completed the securing of more advanced health legislation than in all the state's past history.

"Housekeeping, whether public or private, begins at home, and Mrs. Crane did not pry into the affairs of her neighbors, such as Scranton in Pennsylvania, Concord in New Hampshire, Fargo in North Dakota, and Daytona in Florida, until she had set Kalamazoo in the best order possible. Nor, for that matter, does she ever pry into her neighbors' affairs. They summon her. She travels under official auspices, commissioned by a state's board of health or a city's authorities, inspecting water supplies, paving of streets, street cleaning, milk and meat, schools, lighting, heating, playgrounds, hospitals, workhouses, almshouses — in short, pokes her skewer to such an extent that the headlines like these mark her trail:

"'Mrs. Crane goes for the Henderson bakeries, dairies and scores the county jail; urges filtration plant, compliments parks and butchers, and goes on to Owensboro.'

"'What Mrs. Crane did to Calumet in three days: Started whirlwind campaign which has already resulted in remarkable reforms in busy city.'

"'Come out, fellers, Mrs. Crane's gone! Civic revivalist entrains for Wilkesbarre and great is the relief thereat. "It's a good job," declared one, "that she wasn't a man."'" marked the covers for the young women guests. Covers were laid for nine.

LINNAEA CONCERT

At Mission Church Is Delightful Success.

The concert arranged last evening by the Linnaea club, which was given at the Swedish Mission church, was a pleasing success and the proceeds from the affair will go toward the tuberculosis fund, relief work in that cause being the special effort of the club members. During the evening Dr. A. F. Elmquist of Minneapolis, formerly of this city, gave an interesting talk on "Tuberculosis." Miss Sjoselius sang several numbers and the other numbers on the program were given by Roy Fritz, Mrs. Carle Kewley, Miss Agnes Johnson and Mrs. K. A. Ostergren. Several hundred people were in attendance and the church was prettily decorated in the club colors, pink and green.

Bridal Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hatch were hosts at the bridal dinner last evening at their home on South Fourteenth avenue east in compliment to Miss Ethel McLean and Maurice Scroggins whose wedding will take place tomorrow evening. Pink roses and ferns were the table decorations and baskets or roses

MODEL HUSBAND

"My husband never chides me," I heard her sweetly say;
"He makes no moan concerning the bills there are to pay;
He never comes complaining about the hats I wear,
And offers no objection to my commercial hair.

"My husband never grumbles because the coffee's cold
He is not roused to anger by eggs infirm and old;
He never sits and murmurs while precious moments pass,
Because I have to linger to primp before the glass.

"My husband cares not whether the bills are big or small—
The cost of living never gets on his nerves at all.
He never sits at banquets when I'm at home in bed;
House cleaning never makes him impatient—he is dead!"

TRY THIS DINNER

Dried Split Pea Soup.

This is a very nourishing dish: One pint of dried peas, 2 onions, 1 turnip, 1 carrot, some outside leaves of celery, 1 teaspn salt, ½ teaspoon pepper. Soak the peas for twelve hours, then put them on to boil in two quarts of cold water. Wash and cut up the vegetables, and when the water boils add them to the peas, also the salt and pepper if desired, and let boil slowly for three hours. Stir often. After that time pour through a sieve, rub all through that is possible and put back into the saucepan to get quite hot. Serve with crisp toast cut into discs.

Meat—Hashed Duck.

One can of duck, 2 cupfuls of stock, 1 tablespoon of dripping or buter, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoonful of flour, salt and pepper, a few drops of lemon juice. 1 slice of toasted bread.

Cut the onion very small and fry it in the hot dripping; put in the duck cut into neat pieces, season with salt and pepper, let them brown, then add the flour, pour in the stock gradually and let all simmer gently for about half an hour.

Take out the pieces of duck, dish on a hot dish, moisten the sauce with a little more stock or water if too thick, let it boil up, add a squeeze of lemon juice, and strain over the duck. Cut the toasted bread into small pieces, put round the dish and serve.

Vegetables—Parsnip Balls.

Wash cold boiled parsnips, season and roll into tiny balls. Dip in egg and crumbs, fry delicately brown in deep fat.

Dessert—Imperial Cream.

Make a good lemon jelly and in half put enough cranberry juice to color. Harden it in a shallow pan. Beat the whites of two eggs stiff and whip in the uncolored half of the lemon jelly. When nearly stiff enough to drop stir in small squares of the pink jelly. Mold, and when ready to serve turn out on a dish and garnish the base and top with macaroons soaked in wine. Pour a rich boiled custard round the mold.

GOOD FORM AT THE TABLE

By MARGARET SANGSTER

A man who thrusts his knife into his mouth, or sticks a piece of bread on the point of his fork into the platter of roast meat or fricasseed chicken, may have every virtue in the calendar. He may be honest, truthful, chaste and God-fearing. Yet the fly in the pot of intment spoils the sweetness of the whole. He offends the accepted canons of present day good taste by eating with his knife.

In a very old lady or gentleman this lapse is somewhat excusable, for the reason that two generations ago it was customary thus to use the bread of the knife. When thee-tined steel forks were seen everywhere people had to eat peas ,for example, with something else, and therefore a man might take his knife, if he did not wish to use his teaspoon for the purpose. Silver forks are now in all homes, and they are to be used for eating. You violate good table manners if you ignore this.

When I was a wee little maid I studied natural philosophy in a book written by an author named Swift. It was in the form of questions and answers, and the children committed the answers to memory. One of them was, 'Why do you pour your tea out of your cup into your saucer to cool?" The answer was, "That a larger surface may be exposed to the air at one time than is possible when the tea remains in the cup."

In these days it is a shocking thing to pour one's coffee or tea out of one's cup into one's saucer, but you may easily see that there was a day when it was the proper thing to do.

Seat yourself in an upright position —not too close to nor yet too far from the table.

Take your napkin, partially unfold it, and lay it across your lap. It is not the correct thing to fasten it to your buttonhole or spread it over your breast.

Do not trifle with your knife or fork, or drum on the table, or fidget in any way, while waiting to be served.

Keep your hands quietly in your lap, your mind composed and pleasantly fixed upon the conversation. Let all your movements be easy and delicate. Undue haste indicates a nervous lack of ease

Should grace be said, you will give the most reverent attention in respectful silence during the ceremony.

Exhibit no impateince to be served. During the intervals between the courses is your opportunity for displaying your conversational abilities to those sitting near you. Pleasant chat and witty remarks compose the best possible sauce to a good dinner.

Eat slowly; it will contribute to your good health as well as your manners. Thorough mastication of your food is necessary to digestion. An ordinary meal should occupy from thirty minutes to an hour.

You may not desire the soup, which is usually the first course, but you should not refuse to take it. You can eat as much or as little as you please, but you would look awkward sitting with nothing before you while the others are eating.

When eating soup take it from the side of the spoon, and avoid making any noise in so doing.

Should you be asked by the host what part of the fowl you prefer, always have a choice, and mention promptly what you prefer. Nothing is more annoying than to have to serve two or three people who have no preference and will take "anything."

Never place waste matter on the tablecloth. The side of your plate, or perhaps your bread and butter plate, will answer as a receptacle for bones, potato skins, etc.

You will use your fork to convey all your food to your mouth, except it may be certain sauces that would be more conveniently eaten with a spoon. For instance, you should not attempt to eat peas with any except a silver fork if there is none, use a spoon.

The knife is used only for cutting meat and other articles of food, for spreading butter on bread, etc.

Here is a summary of blunders to avoid:

Do not eat fast.

Do not make noise with mouth or throat.

Do not fill the mouth too full.

Do not open the mouth in masticating.

Do not leave the table with food in your mouth.

Be careful to avoid soiling the cloth.

Never carry any part of the food with you away from the table.

Never apologize to a waitress for making trouble; it is her business to serve you. It is proper, however, to treat her with courtesy, and say, "No, I thank you," or "If you please," in answer to her inquiries.

Do not introduce disgusting or unpleasant topics of conversation.

Do not pick your teeth or put your finger in your mouth at the table.

Do not come to the table in your shirt sleeves, or with soiled hands or tousled hair.

Do not cut your bread; break it.

Do not refuse to take the last piece of bread or cake; it looks as though you imagined there might be no more.

Do not express a preference for any part of a dish unless asked to do so.

THE EVERY-DAY MOTHER

By HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD

The true beauty lies with the commonplace mother—the mother who not once in ten thousand instances falls in the fulfillment of all that routine, so seldom estimated at its worth when performed, so surely bringing condemnation if in any iota neglected.

The true beauty, we repeat, is with this mother who rises in the middle of the night to see if her children are covered; who springs from warm and comfortable and needed rest at the hoarse breath or the restless toss; who lies awake plotting and planning, in these early years, how to get two articles of dress out of the cloth meant for one—in those later years, how divine that bent of this child's genius, of that child's inclinations; who perhaps kindles the fires, perhaps prepares the breakfast, certainly sees the children contentedly off to school; who toils and moils all day long, endeavoring to have the home what it is desirable it should be for her husband and children; measuring this way and that to make both ends meet; never glancing aside at the enticing romance; forbidding her feet to follow the pleasant path to some neighbor's gossipy fireside; denying herself necessaries in order that her children may have luxuries; foregoing social outside pleasure that the evening lamp may always be trimmed and burning, and the best-loved spirit of the fireside never wanting; bearing her pains and her sorrows with silent composure, that no thought of them may darken the young lives about her, and when all is done, and while all is doing, finding perfect recompense in the happiness afforded by the opportunity of the sacrifice and devotion

The compensation seems to come to every real mother in every moment. She forgets her suffering from the first in the joy of her possession; and as the bird strips her breast of down to warm the nest for her young, so there is no self-abnegation that is too great for a mother to make, and none that does not bring with it a satisfying joy.

"Wearie is the mither that has a storie wean,
A wee stumpie stoussie that canna rin his lane,
That has a battle eye wi' sleep before he'll close an ee—
But a kiss frae aff his rosy lips gives strength anew to me!"

It will only be when we understand, in gazing on the beautiful picture of the young mother, that she is so lovely because all this exertion and devotion and sacrifice are before her, in gazing at the old one, that she is so saintly because trial and labor and love refined her in their furnaces, that our talk about the beauty of maternity and the sacred name of mother will cease to be poetical cant and become realized truth.

THE EVENING STORY

HIS LITTLE GIRL

(By John Bently.)

James Lumley, manager of "Dodson's," was in the office back of the store. With him was the lawyer who was engaged in settling the estate. The lawyer looked up and from the statement before him and stared at the drawn face of the manager.

"Does this disclose a correct state of affairs?" he rapped out.

"Absolutely!" returned the man wearily. "We have been barely solvent the last two years."

"And you have let Mrs. Dodson live in a fool's paradise until she died; you have let that little girl believe that her father had left a business that made her and her mother comfortable."

The other said nothing.

"I note here an item of $750 recurring every month as having been paid to the deceased," said the old gentleman. "Where is the figure for your salary?"

"You will not find it!" The answer came hatingly.

"You understand, Mr. Lumley," the lawyer said, "the affairs of the young lady are in my hands, and I have to ascertain the exact position, I am dependent on you for certain explanations, and I am sure you will assist."

James Lumley nodded.

"Very well," went on the lawyer. "Let us review the facts. Five years ago John Dodson died in harness, so to speak, and his widow decided to carry on the business. Knowing you to have been the right hand of her husband, conversant with his methods, the management of the shop naturaly devolved on you. You had been with John Dodson for many years."

"He took me as a boy from school," Lumley replied.

"Exactly! He and his family had taken to you. You had the trade at your finger ends. There was no man better fitted to carry on the business. It was sound. Dodson had drawn a certain sum regularly each month from the profits; no reason existed for this arrangement to be varied under the proprietorship of the widow. I turn to the early pages of your book and find a very satisfactory state of affairs. But, later on, say a year, I note the takings have begun to fall off, and this retrogression has persisted until, today, we reach a level of something like half the former turn over. The business has gone back badly, that is evident; but, right up to the death of the widow, I find the monthly amount of her drawing regularly appearing. What I fail to find for the past three years is the weekly salary item of $75 for yourself."

James Lumley threw out his hands.

"Is there any need for this?" he cried.

The man of law sat with finger-tips pressed together.

"In half an hour Miss Dodson is coming here to learn exactly how her affairs stand," he returned. "I have to give her a full explanation. I want you to give me a clear perception, for your sake. Come, now, tell me about it!"

"What is there to tell?" the young man cried.

"The record of failure is in the books. There is nothing to say, except that I have done my best, and am sorry."

The lawyer shook his head.

"The girl will want to know more than that,' he murmured. "And it is her due."

For a time the man sat, with his gaze again on the carpet. Then he rose, and strode the room.

"A record of failure!" he muttered. "I've fought, but the odds have been too heavy. I wonder if you'll understand when I tell you that I'm glad she who has gone never learned that anything was wrong, never guessed but that the business was flourishing."

"I understand," the lawyer said. "Tell me all about it."

"He took me as a boy, and taught me everything I know of my trade. I did my best, because I wished to show him that I was worthy. He made me free of his home. The kindness of his wife instilled within me an abiding affection. I learned to know and to love the little girl. She was of my age, capricious, and pretty, teasing and tender by turns, and I was her big brother.

"Some day—when she was a woman and I a prospective man—the little girl and I were going to be married. So she often laughingly assured me, and the hope was a constant spur urging me to prove worthy. But as she grew to womanhood she began to treat me with less and less of the old familiarity. The woman seemed to have forgotten the promise she made as a child.

'Not so with me! The desire to win and held her but strengthened with the years. This held me constant in endeavor. Before me was the goal of a future partnership or the prospect of being my own master. For this I worked and saved. Some day, when I had reached her level, I meant to remind the little girl of her promise.

"At twenty-five I had made myself competent to carry the business on my shoulders. During his last year, the old gentleman was frequently ailing, and added responsibility became mine. He knew that I would do my best. And so I have.

"When the charge was offered me by the sorrowing widow I took it gladly. The limited income they had hitherto enjoyed should be increased. My work should be a labor of love, which, in due time, should have its reward.

"And for a time everything went swimmingly. Dodson's in thirty years had gained a wide reputation for value. The best trade of the district was ours. In an evil day the agent of the capitalist proprietor of a hundred stores throughout the country spied out the land, and one morning I awoke to the fact that 'Smart's Market' was open but two doors away.

"From the first I realized that I was in for a stiff fight. This man, buying, as he did, enormous quantities on preferential terms, could well afford to cut prices as against the single shop owner, and yet maintain his average of margin. I fought him hard, but he had the pull all along. If I came down to his prices he could go a little lower, and in certain lines I was forced to follow or lose customers, even thought the transactions meant no profit. I was compelled to buy larger quantities, and on one occasion was bitten by falling markets. The business came, at last, to produce less than the charges upon it.

"I did not worry the woman who trusted me. It was my fight, and I was going win through. In five years I had fought every inch. The sequel is in the sheet before you. Dodson's is still sound. The amount of the monthly drawing has been regularly paid, but the day when the tale of my failure must have been told could not be long deferred.

"If you could know the harrowing dreads of my nights during the past few months at the nearing certainty of that revelation. I think you would realize something of my thankfulness that she did not live to learn. There remains—Mary."

He paused and stood with clenched hands as if incapable of further utterance.

"You will tell her, sir, that Dodson's is still sound," he faltered presently; "but for a time she must be content with less. I think we have touched the low water mark. We have still many loyal customers who swear by us. The rest is dogged work."

The lawyer gravely inclined his head.

"Thank you, Lumley!" he said softly. "I quite understand. In a few minutes Mary will be here. Will you call again in half an hour?"

Jim Lumley stood by the door of the office, gazing at the face of the little girl, as she sat in the chair by the desk. At his entrance the old lawyer took off his glases, and applied himself to a polishing process. For some reason, when he spoke his voice was curiously subdued.

"Lumley, I have fully explained the position," he said. "It is for Miss Dodson to say what is to be done."

The girl rose and confronted him. He fancied that her face was unusually white. Although she was smiling, he could see that in her eyes showed the glimmer of moisture. She came towards him with outstretched hands.

"We mustn't let the old name come down, Jim," she said.

"Will you carry it on with your little girl as a partner?"

KITCHEN LORE

Fish for Breakfast.

Take half a pound of cold cooked fish, a heaped tablespoonful of butter, the same of flour, a gill of milk, half a teaspoonful each of anchovy sauce and pepper, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and a hard-boiled egg. Remove all skin and bone from the fish and put it on a plate and add to it salt and pepper and mix well together.

Put the butter in a saucepan, allow it to melt, stir in the flour, then gradually add the milk, stirring the mixture until it boils. Take the saucepan from the fire, add the anchovy extract and again mix well.

Stir in the fish lightly and place the mixture on a plate.

Toast a slice of bread, spread the mixture on it, chop the white of the egg, sprinkle it over, then rub the yolk over the top and place the toast on a plate in the oven for ten minutes.

Economy in Meat.

When ordering meat always bear in mind that beef when boiled loses nearly one pound in every four, and when roasted quite eighteen ounces. Mutton will lose even more than this. For this reason pies, puddings, etc., are far more economical, and in many cases more nourishing.

Spaghetti and Eggs.

This is a most nourishing and economical dish. Boil the spaghetti in slightly salted water until tender and to every half pound allow six hard-boiled eggs. Turn the spaghetti into a dish and pour over it half a pound of tomato sauce. A little onion may be added if the flavor is liked. Serve very hot. Enough for three or four persons.

To Get Onion Flavor.

If the flavor of onion is needed so quickly that there is only a few seconds in which to cook it, grate it instead of chopping it, for the taste of semi-raw onion is most unpleasant.

How to Ice Cakes.

To make icing remain firm on cakes flour the top of the cake before putting on icing, to which previously a tiny pinch of cream of tartar has been added.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

Health in Posture.

By far too little importance is attached nowadays to the proper carriage of the body, in spite of the attention given to gymnastics. Thousands of boys and girls, for instance, are developing round shoulders, not only because they sit for hours in a bad position every day in school, but because they do not stand correctly, and no one teaches them. They go into the gymnasium once a day possibly, and perform wonders on parallel bars or ladders, or what not; but this is not enough to counteract the habit of slouching to which they give way when walking or standing. Many methods have been suggested by which this habit may be overcome; for instance, some hold that the secret is merely to keep the chin drawn in, others would square the shoulders and protrude the chest, but either rule is likely to result in an ugly or strained posture.

The ideal position may be ascertained by standing with a small object, such as a box, on the head, and then taking a few steps without letting it fall.

Standing erect will thus be found to depend not on the shoulders alone, nor even in the trunk, but on the whole of the body. That this is an advantage to your personal appearance may easily be proved by means of a long mirror. You will look a full inch taller, and if you think at first the position is too tiring for you to keep up, try it at intervals for a few minutes through the day.

You will soon find that you are not satisfied to slouch as hitherto, the correct attitude will become unconscious and after a while you will feel stronger and more vigorous because the stomach is no longer cramped and so does not trouble you with dyspepsia

The food taken will give you more nourishment, your blood will be better aerated, and your general health improved.

A Glass of Water.

The custom of drinking a glassful of water on rising and on retiring is one to be encouraged. Many people fall short in the amount of fluid they take during the day, and this is especially true of women. The morning glass of water does not impair the appetite for breakfast as does the early cup of tea and biscuit; it also acts as a natural laxative, and tends by cleansing the mucosa, to prepare the stomach for a meal.

HINTS FOR BOUDOIR

By MILDRED WYCKOFF.

The woman who would preserve her beauty must learn that a dozen short periods of rest may be taken every day in the busiest life.

When writing or sewing or embroidering or drawing pause for a few seconds and close the eyes. In every task there will be opportunity for a brief eye rest.

If life keeps one much in the presence of others, be alone, if only for five minutes. The silence and solitude will soothe the tired nerves and calm the spirit.

Open a window and, standing before it, inhale deeply, noting the time thus occupied. Hold the air in the lungs for the same length of time, then exhale slowly in the same amount of time. Try first counting four for each inhalation, four for each holding of the breath and four for each exhalation, increasing the number with practice to ten.

Do this three or four time a day. Try to take half an hour, or at least a quarter of an hour, from a crowded day and lie down for a little season of absolute repose. This should be taken in a darkened room.

One can, if she must, rest while standing. First learn to stand correctly. Keep the shoulders back, the chest up, the chin up. Stand so that a line dropped from the center of the head would fall between the arches of the feet. Rest easily, apparently on both feet, but really shifting the weight gently from one to the other. The reclining position is best for rest. Lie flat upon the back. It is the most restful position physically. Moreover, it interferes with continuous thought, so it is mentally restful.

Often a mere change of occupation for half an hour is a rest.

BOY LANDS BIG TROUT

Pulls Fish Weighing 5 3-4 Pounds Out of Lester River.

A rainbow trout which weighs five and three-fourth pounds is the result of 12-year-old Percy Starkey's ability as a fisherman. The fish was caught last night at the mouth of Lester river and is today on display in the window of a downtown store.

For a straight hour and a half the battle went on. The boy was light and the fish was both gamy and strong. At last the fish gave out and he was hauled ashore by the youngster who could not wait to prove his luck to the folks at home.

So great was the lad's excitement that he could not sleep last night. He caught fish all night long, according to the father, William G. Starkey, manager of the Duluth Grain & Produce company.

The boy had been fishing some time with no apparent luck when the big fellow "struck" and the rod began to slip from his hands. The boy was quick to see that he had hooked a big one and then he began playing the fish up and down the stream until he finally tired it out and brought it safely ashore.

This is said to be the largest trout ever caught in Lester river.

TEDDY TOASTS GERMAN PEOPLE

Ex-President Meets Literary and Other Celebrities in Berlin.

Berlin, May 13.—During the luncheon at the American embassy today, Mr. Roosevelt proposed a toast "To the health of his majesty, the German emperor, and the future of the German people."

The reception which followed Mr. Roosevelt received a delegation from the interparliamentary union, who were introduced by Prince von Carolath-Beuthen. Replying to an address presented him by the delegates, the former president said the general demand for peace only excited the derision of practical men, but when peace was worked for by practical men, such as the delegates, with definite aims and methods, the results were splendid in their fruits.

MARKET DULL BUT STUBBORN

The Copper Shares Hold Firm in Face of Dull Trading.

The copper market was dull but stubborn today, values advancing toward the close on scattered buying. Some of the specialties acted well. There was no news of interest to stimulate buying in coppers, the strength appearing to be due to the firmness of the industrial and railroad market in which there was heavy buying in Wabash and Pennsylvania.

The metal market is in a more hopeful condition despite the falling off in exports. It is far from being in a healthy condition, however. Sellers of copper report a general awakening of interest on the part of buyers and sales are larger than have been reported for some time. Westinghouse, General Electric and Western Electric are said to have been heavy buyers during the last few days. The total sales this week are estimated at from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 pounds. Some of the big sellers are holding for 13 cents.

ON THE TRAIN.

Chicago News: Having just returned from a visit down the state, Miss Spinks was full of her experiences.

"I don't know why," she said to her brother, "but everybody talked to me on the trains and street cars.

"It's that new hat of yours," her brother said. Besides, you probably smiled first."

"I mean women and children, of course," said Miss Spinks. "Now, there was the queerest women on the train coming back to Chicago. At first I thought she was at least 50 and then I was sure she was no more than 18."

"Her young life was probably crushed," her brother said. "Give her a new set of furs and she'd be all right."

"Well, she was dressed queerly," conceded Miss Spinks. 'She wore her hair in a braid and her blue dress was trimmed with a good deal of red."

"Not half as gorgeous as that pink dress of yours with the brass stuff on," said her brother.

"That's a party dress. People dress simply when traveling."

"Don't be too severe," said her brother. "Maybe traveling was to this friend of yours what a ball is to you."

"Well, anyway," continued Miss Spinks, "she sat and stared at me for a long time so fixedly that I couldn't help looking at her. She had very queer eyes and she carried a patent-leather satchel that she kept polishing with her handkerchief. Finally she spoke."

"Asked you where you were going?"

"No, she said travel was a great educator."

"She was hopeful, for your future, then?"

"I agreed it was," Miss Spinks went on, unheeding. "She told me she was on her way to Milwaukee, where she was to visit a cousin who knew the postmaster. The postmaster had promised to show her all the points of interest in the whole place and she was very much excited about it."

"He must be a smart man, that postmaster."

"After a while she leaned over toward me and said that I must be very careful. I asked why, thinking of wrecks and confidence men, and she said that wherever one traveled there were pickpockets and one must look out not to be victimized."

"What a simple village maid you must have seemed to her!"

"I said I never carried enough money to tempt any one, and she whispered back that she did, a very great deal. She had, however an invention that would catch them whenever they came."

"What a disappointment!" said the brother. "She was nothing but a traveling agent after all!"

"Indeed, she wasn't," said Miss Spinks. "Her invention was not for sale. She said she lined her dress pocket with fish hooks!"

"Fish hooks!" exclaimed her brother. "How did she get her money out herself?"

"I don't know," confessed Miss Spinks, looking puzzled. "I forgot to ask her. It seemed very possible then, but, somehow, it looks very odd."

"Sort of fishy."

"She said a friend of hers tried it and a man put his hand into her pocket and couldn't get it out again. She thereupon led him to the police station and had him arrested."

"Did she say any more?"

"No," said Miss Spinks, thinking back. "You see, a man came for her from the smoker and they got off at Kankakee."

Her brother gazed at her a minute and then laughed.

"What's the matter?" she inquired in injured tones. "I don't see anything so funny in that."

"You don't?" her brother asked. "Why Kankakee's where the insane asylum is!"

ON THE FLAT SHELL.

The waiter had taken a long time in getting the oysters, but as he was well known to his guest, and his guest to him, that occasioned no comment, says the New York Sun.

When the oysters were brought the waiter set them down before his customer and asked:

"Do you like them better that way?"

The diner looked, but he didn't notice any difference. So he asked: "What way?"

"Why, on the flat shell," replied the waiter. "Don't you see they aren't on the curved part of the shell, as usual?"

"I see it, now that you tell me about it," said the diner, "but I don't exactly get the significance."

"Well, you see," said the waiter, "they always keep them upstairs on the round shell and when any one calls for oysters if they do come on the round shell it isn't a certainty that they have been opened fresh. Sometimes they aren't good, just because they have been standing. When I call for them on the flat shell, as I do for some of my customers, taen they have to open them specially for that order. In that way you get them fresh."

"Ah, I see," remarked the diner.

But when he told the professional cynic about it, the cynic said something about betting that they kept them standing opened in both ways.

"Besides, any one knows they look fatter on the flat shell, which is all the more reason they'd be likely to serve them to some folks that way. If they asked for extra large oysters they'd get them on the flat shell. The same oysters on the curved shell would go as ordinary sized oysters," remarked the cynic gloomily.

OPENING UP BRAZIL.

Bolivia east of the Andes is one of the richest regions of the world in timber, rubber and minerals and it has some fine agricultural lands. It has no outlet on the Pacific coast. Its only outlet is through the Amazon and Para, and since peace was made with Brazil a railroad activity in this direction has taken possession of the whole republic.

East of Bolivia is the great Brazilian state of Matto Grosso, a territory nearly three times the size of Texas. A dozen large navigable rivers pour northeastward out of this state into the Amazon. According to the Engineering magazine its agricultural, mining and grazing possibilities are very great.

It is said that a great deal of this territory will grow as fine long staple cotton as Mississippi or Alabama. The Brazilian government has matured a plan to connect by canal one of the tributaries of the Amazon with one of the tributaries of the La Plata in this state, thus opening an all inland water route from Para to Buenos Ayres, a distance of nearly 6,000 miles. This extensive route would reach the whole interior of the continent.

Turning to the west and northwest, the Amazon is navigable in its chief tributaries in Peru, Ecuador and Columbia to the very walls of the Andes. One may go aboard a steamer at Para and remain aboard until it has plowed its way up to the hill city of Iquitos and several hundred miles beyond. Peru has little Pacific coast trade now and the development of this country must pour its wealth into Para.

But if Brazil and Para had none of Andean republics to draw trade from the development of the Brazilian Amazon valley alone must in time amount to untold wealth. In the states of Para and the Amazons and the federal territory of Acre there are near the water's edge 10,000,000 rubber-bearing trees of the Hevea variety. These trees if properly tapped will live indefinitely and steadily increase their yield. The state of Para is considerably larger than Texas and much of this state will grow excellent cotton.

HABITS OF HEDGEHOG.

The Scotsman: The hedgehog, that butt of juvenile rustic horseplay, is the possessor of tastes which, like Sam Weller's knowledge of London are "extensive and peculiar." Scorning fastidiousness it can make a hearty meal of nearly any insect and is one of the few vertebrates which can tackle the repulsive cockroach. For effectual extermination of beetles and crickets it is as useful as a mongoose among the rats, but it is not generally known that it has a partiality toward snakes and adders. The methods it employs for the attack are interesting.

Having come from the adder it goads that reptile to the offensive and at the first dart immediately rolls into a ball. The adder is then left to attack the spines, in which encounter it naturally comes off second best. After a little, when the hedgehog feels that his antagonist has exhausted his power, it once more opens out and makes a bite at the adder's back, thereby breaking its spine. It then proceeds to crunch the whole of the reptile's body by means of its powerful jaws, and after that it is said to start at the tail and devour its prey. Of eggs the hedgehog is also very fond, thereby giving just cause to keepers and farmers to destroy it on sight.

Cases have been known where hedgehogs actually forced the hen pheasant off her nest and then proceeded to demolish the contents. There is a tradition among country people to the effect that the hedgehog will suck the milk from cows, who certainly show strong aversion to the hedgehog, but eminent naturalists scout the idea, their explanation being that it is the heat of the cow which attracts the hedgehog, the cow's dislike being no doubt caused by unpleasant contact with the prickly spines. Hedgehogs are invulnerable to most of their enemies except man, although the wily fox has been known to get the better of them occasionally.

COOLY SNAPS PICTURES WHILE TRAIN RUNS AWAY

ON THE WAY TO THE MOVING PICTURE SHOW.

If you were a moving picture photographer and were seated comfortably on a platform in front of the engine of the State Express in the Tyrolean Alps, and you had intended only to make snap shots of the beautiful scenery all around you; if you suddenly found that the train had broken from the control of the engineer and was speeding down the steep grades, plunging through tunnels and around curves at a 150 miles an hour clip, what would you do?

C. R. Bosworth, who had such an experience, is in Duluth. He is one of Lyman H. Howe's moving picture photographers. A few months ago Bosworth was sent to the Alpine district to make a series of animated scenes. He brought to America a thrilling reproduction. During the ten minutes of hair-raising experience on the run-away train he kept his camera in motion and the negative developed wonderfully clear.

Bosworth has had some other dangerous assignments. He was the moving picture photographer with the Japanese army during the siege of Port Arthur and has taken pictuers in almost every land under the sun.

Next Wednesday night at the Lyceum The Herald will give a theater party for its newsboys. The entire upper floor has been reserved for them and Mr. Bosworth will explain all the wonderful scenes that have recently thrilled the New York hippodrome. He will be with them in the gallery and "personally conduct" the tour.

Tickets will be given out at the newsboys' room Wednesday afternoon.

WEST END

MELTS STEEL LIKE BUTTER

The Possibilities of the New Welding Process Are Shown.

A practical demonstration of the possibilities of the new welding plant which will come to the West end this year, was made this morning, when workmen from the Northern Welding & Manufacturing company of Minneapolis, with their new process, cut away the nickel steel bolts of the cash vault of the American Exchange bank, with as little difficulty as they would saw a soft piece of timber.

The cash vault at the bank is today being moved from the main floor to the basement. It was found that the work necessitated the cutting away of several nickel steel bolts. Yesterday an electric drill was applied and it required all the afternoon to take out one of the bolts. With the new process the work was done with amazing rapidity.

The Minneapolis concern is now negotiating for a site at the West end, where its Duluth branch will be located. The process employed is known as the oxy-acetylene method and is best defined as the process of uniting or cutting metals by heat alone, without the application of pressure or hammer blows and without the use of flux or other metal. Two gases, oxygen and acetylene are combined through a torch. A temperature of 6,300 degrees Fahrenheit is produced.

By the use of the new process broken pieces of machinery can be welded so perfectly that when smoothed the weld cannot be discerned, yet the tensile strength of the metal remains the sume. The broken piece may be a casting or forging, and of any metal.

The rapidity with which the steel of the cash vault was cut this morning was astonishing. Three layers of steel aggregating one and a half inches were pierced by the flame in less than a minute. Steel up to six inches in thickness can be cut by this process. The cut can be made any shape.

The application of the process is now considered by the promoters to be in its infancy, and the field for the work seems unlimited. Although the factory at the West end will not probably be in running order for at least three or four months, over $1,500 worth of work has already been contracted for.

The successful application of this process where used for all classes of work, requires a large equipment of expensive apparatus and the services of skilled workmen.

To Present Play.

At the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, this evening the Christian Endeavor society will present a three-act comedy entitled, "Men, Maids and Matchmakers." Among those who will take part are: Nellie Nelson, Lucille Gorby, Hazel Butchart, Dora Williams, John C. Johnson, Ralph Page, James Collie, Arthur Henry.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state of Minnesota was awarded $10,000 interest on back taxes from the Western Union Telegraph company in a decision handed down by the state supreme court this morning.

The taxes were about $40,000 for the years 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904 and 1905, which were awarded the state in a decision by the same court last December. At that time the interest was denied. In the decision today the court reverses its former ruling and allows 12 per cent interest.

"OPEN DOOR" HIS POLICY

"We Have No Quarrel With Klaw & Erlanger," Says Marshall.

Will Book Both Syndicate and Independent Attractions in Future.

"We have not transferred our allegiance from Klaw & Erlanger to Shuberts—or the so-called independents; neither are we going to fight Klaw & Erlanger, or anybody else; we have taken our business into our own hands, have opened our doors to every producer and are going to give our patrons the most meritorious productions we can obtain, regardless of who produces or controls them," said C. A. Marshall, owner of the Lyceum theater, who returned from New York this morning.

Mr. Marshall assisted in the formation of the National Theater Owners' association in New York last week, acting with other managers in withdrawing their circuits from the exclusive booking of Klaw & Erlanger and declaring for the "open door."

"The organization of the National Theater Owners' association is the culmination of a country-wide movement for greater freedom on the part of theater managers in booking attractions," said Mr. Marshall. "All the different circuits had agents in New York and the agents arranged for attractions, clearing them through Klaw & Erlanger. Klaw & Erlanger had a censorship of the agents' bookings and they used it to keep out the attractions of the so-called independents. They were fighting the independents in the larger cities and they used the country theaters to aid them in the fight. We have simply refused to be parties to anybody's fight and our agents will do our booking in the future. They will make their choice of attractions from the productions of everybody, Klaw & Erlanger included.

"The move on the part of the theater owners who have formed the National association, was desired by the Shuberts, but was prompted primarily by self-interest on the part of the managers. The Shuberts and the other independents have been gaining in strength, while Klaw & Erlanger have been standing still. The independents have youth, money, energy and have shown that they are capable of a good fight. They have attracted the attention of the theater patrons of the country; they have good attractions and the people want to see them.

The Open Door.

"We have concluded that we were not acting for our best interests and the interests of our patrons in keeping our doors closed to the independent productions. Productions that were popular in the big cities years ago have been sent to us year after year. Our doors have been closed three weeks at a time for want of attractions. The independents have big attractions and we want to give our patrons an opportunity of seeing them. I have no quarrel with Klaw & Erlanger even now. The doors of the Lyceum are open to them, but they are also open to the independents. Next year, we will have a better list of attractions than ever before and the people of Duluth will then appreciate the wisdom of the step.

"The stuation is about the same all over the country. In the big cities, the independents put on big productions and the patrons of the theaters, reading the reviews, wanted to see them at home in their own theaters. The independents needed a circuit through the country and, being shut out of the theaters controlled by Klaw & Erlanger, they set out to build up a circuit of their own. Communities that could not support two first-class theaters, had two and neither made any money. To protect their property and their own interests, they had to take the step they did in New York last week.

"I have no personal quarrel with Klaw & Erlanger. My relations with them have been pleasant on the whole, but the independent productions cannot be overlooked and I want them for the Lyceum and the other theaters of the Duluth, Copper and Iron circuit."

The National Theater Owners' association includes 1,500 theaters representing $50,000,000 in property. The following circuits are included: Walker's Winnipeg circuit, Marshall's Duluth, Copper and Iron circuit, Chamberlain, Harrington & Kindt's circuit, Northwestern Theatrical Managers' association theaters, Jake Weil's Southern circuit, Mose Reis' circuit, J. J. Coleman's circuit, O. S. Hathaway's circuit, Julius Cahn's circuit, Crawford, Philley & Zehrung's circuit, Central States' circuit, Albert Weis' Texas circuit and the Oklahoma theaters.

Mr. Marshall yesterday attended the meeting of the Northwestern Theatrical Managers' association at Milwaukee. Mr. Marshall was elected president of the association and the other officers are as follows: P. B. Haber, Fond du Lac, secretary; John D. Cuddihy, Calumet, Mich., John E. Williams, Oshkosh; C. D. Moon, Eau Claire; Marcus Heiman, Madison, and John D. Arthur, Green Bay, directors.

The Northwestern Theatrical Managers' association represents twenty-six theaters in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The managers present at the Milwaukee meeting were: Charles A. Takacs, Appleton; R. H. Wilson, Beloit; John D. Cuddihy, Calument; C. A. Marshall, Duluth; C. D Moon, Eau Claire; P. M. Peterson, Escanaba; P. B. Haber, Fond du Lac; John B. Arthur, Green Bay; Ray Kerredge, Hancock; W. L. Pierce, Ironwood; Ed J. Butler, Ishpeming; Peter L. Myers, Janesville; Joseph G. Rhode, Kenosha; M. Heiman, Madison; A. F. Koepcke, Marquette; C. I. Cook, Menominee; J. E. Williams, Oshkosh; W. A. Scott, Red Wing; W. H. Stoddard, Sheboygan; H. C. Pierce, Duluth; C. S. Cone, Wausau; O. F. Burlingame, Winona, and F. W. Greene, Neenah.

The four managers absent were W. J. Power, Hibbing; A. J. Rundle, Iron Mountain; Daniel Washburn, Merrill, and H. P. Jordan, Sault Ste. Marie.

James Wingfield, Chicago, director of the national organization, was representative of that body.

POPE'S EDICT AIDS CATHOLIC WOMEN

Dispense With Scapular in Order to Wear Evening Gowns.

Milwaukee Wis., May 13.—Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee will, within a few days, issue a circular to priests, in which he will notify the women of the church that the pope has issued a special edict which will make it possible for them to wear decollete gowns.

Hitherto it has been impossible for Catholic women who wear the scapular to wear evening dress, for the scapular is not designed as artistic, and would not harmonize with the decollete gown. The edict permits them to carry the scapular in their pockets or "wherever they please."

Letter of Pope.

The pope's letter says:

"The holy father, always interested in the affairs of his children, is desirous that Catholic women who take an active part in social affairs be not restricted in the dress proper for social requirements by any open insignia of their faith, and, therefore, dispenses them from wearing their scapulars where they will be conspicuous or doing away with them altogether if they desire."

The scapular consists of two small squares of dark brown cloth, upon which are stitched smaller squares of white cloth bearing a portrait of the Virgin. These small squares are connected by a long cord of brown braid worn around the neck, one square resting on the breast and one on the back. These scapulars are an emblem of devotion to the Mother Mary.

Cord Found Disfiguring.

Catholic women have for many years found the coarse brown cord around their necks both uncomfortable annoying and disfiguring when worn with a thin or low-neck gown. The matter has been a trial to good Catholic women, who are quite as fond of smart dressing as their sisters who are not bound to the same creed. To wear the brown cord with a low corsage was simply impossible, a thin yoke with the cord showing through its meshes, was not to be considered and white shoulders were not improved by the dark line across them.

SWEDES PLAN HALL OF FAME

Governor Johnson's Portrait to Be Hung in Chicago Clubhouse.

Chicago, May 13.—The Swedish club of Chicago has completed plans for a new clubhouse on the site of its present quarters, 1258-60 La Salle avenue. The building will cost $20,000, according to the present specifications, and the decorations will cost as much more, which, with the furnishings and other accessories, will bring the total cost of the structure to $50,000. It will include a hall of fame which will contain the portraits of Swedes of national and international reputation, among them the late Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota and John Eriesson, inventor of the Monitor.

SCOTT ANTI-OPTION BILL IS HELD OVER.

Washington, May 13.—The question of consideration of the Scott anti-option bill in the house went over today for at least a fortnight. The rules committee wrestled with the proposition today but was unable to reach an agreement upon the date. The bill makes a sweeping prohibition against transactions in futures on cotton exchanges.

New Lidgerwood Baptists.

Lidgerwood, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lidgerwood Baptists will erect a church edifice this summer, the work of raising funds for the building now being done by a committee of the congregation. The Baptists just recently organized the Lidgerwood congregation but they have been making splendid progress.

HOMECROFT PARK

THE SUBURBAN GARDENS

The last block of ACRE LOTS in Homecroft Park are now ready and will be put on the market commencing Saturday, May 14th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

LOCATION AND SOIL

These Lots are located about eight to fifteen blocks from the end of Woodland car line. The soil consists of coal black loam, unsurpassed for Celery and Truck Farming. No stones. Well drained.

OWN A COUNTRY HOME in a "close in" and attractive location. Good roads. City water and gas only eight blocks from Homecroft Park. A school house is just built. Telephone, electric light and the car line extended through Homecroft Park are improvements bound to come in the near future.

THE SIZE

The size of these SUBURBAN GARDENS is equal to about twelve 25-foot Lots. This makes room for yard, flowers, berries, vegetable garden and chickens and this again means more income, health and happiness.

And right here it is proper that another important fact should be pointed out to you. Some of the purchasers who bought Lots in Homecroft Park last fall (when the first lots were put on the market) have already made a profit of 33 per cent and many more refuse 25 per cent.

HOMECROFT PARK IS RAPIDLY BUILDING UP; already nine families have built and live there, and many more are making ready to build, because it means a great saving in living expenses. For instance if you spend in improvements upon one of these tracts the amount you pay in one year for rent in town, say $150, this little farm would pay for itself each year.

TIMBER

REMEMBER there is SUFFICIENT TIMBER on most of these lots for all building purposes and this timber can easily be cut into lumber at the sawmill near by.

PRICES AND TERMS

The terms are so easy that there is a chance for everybody to get one of these valuable lots. ONLY ONE DOLLAR CASH and $1.50 to $2.00 per week until paid for. NO INTEREST AT ANY TIME. NO PAYMENTS WHEN SICK. PERFECT TITLE, (TORRENS TITLE).

The price of these lots runs from $200 to $290, a few slightly more, according to size, location and amount of timber.

Come out tomorrow afternoon. If you cannot come tomorrow, come Sunday. An automobile will meet you at the end of Woodland car line and take you out through Homecroft Park in a few minutes.

DON'T MISS THIS LAST CHANCE TO GET A COUNTRY HOME "CLOSE IN." The soil is the finest you ever saw.

HOW TO GO

Take the Woodland car to the end of the line. Our big sign will show the way.

BROWNE IS TO GO ON TRIAL MONDAY

Alleged Briber of Illinois Legislator Soon to Face Court.

Chicago, May 13.—State's Attorney Wayman announced that Lee Browne, Democratic leader of the house, who is charged with bribery of legislators, will be placed on trial before Judge McSurly in the criminal court next Monday.

Browne is alleged to have distributed the money alleged to have been paid to certain representatives to vote for Lorimer. Representatives White, Beckmeyer and Link, who are declared by the state's attorney to have confessed to receiving bribes, will be witnesses at the trial.

The state's attorney stated that the grand jury had additional indictments against state representatives under consideration, but whether for perjury or bribery he would not state.

CHIEF STEWARD ORDERS CORT THEATER CLOSED.

Chicago, May 13.—Chief of Police Steward today ordered that the Cort theater be closed tonight and thereafter until a dance which he considers objectionable is eliminated.

Chief Stewart notified the manager of the house yesterday that this feature must go, but the order is said to have been disregarded last night, and the chief determined upon more drastic measures today.

MINE DISASTER LAID TO BAD VENTILATION.

Columbus, Ohio, May 13.—Defective ventilation, the result of inadvertence or carelessness, caused the explosion in the mine of the Youghiogheny & Ohio Coal company at Amsterdam, Jefferson county, the night of April 21, resulting in the death of fifteen miners. This is the finding of Chief Mine Inspector George Harrison, after thorough investigation, in his report just submitted to Governor Harmon.

REAL MONEY IN MAIL

From Grand Rapids to Milwaukee Fastened to Tag.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—A $10 bill, carelessly folded and attached to a tag by a piece of string about the middle, came by mail to the Hotel Pfister Wednesday.

The unique piece of mail was delivered by a diminutive special delivery boy, whose tattered clothes were in contrast to the packet which he carried. The safe delivery of the money forms a strong testimonial to the honesty of postoffice employes.

The money came to C. G. Bennett, a salesman staying at the hotel and was sent by K. E. Funde, Grand Rapids, Mich.

EIGHT HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS ARE DROWNED.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 13.—Eight high school students—six girls and two boys—lost their lives yesterday while boating near what is known as the old paper mill, at Huntington Mills, about twenty miles below this city. The dead are:

MAUD SUTLIFFE, aged 17, of Town Line.

CAROLINE KOONS, aged 16, Harveyville.

RUTH BONHAM, aged 18, Town Line.

RISI DAVENPORT, aged 16, Watertown.

RACHEL THOMPSON, aged 16, Town Hill.

MADELINE GOOD, aged 17, Watertown.

ROBERT MINNICH, aged 18, Koonville.

RAY DODSON, aged 17, Fairmount.

Twelve students of the Huntington school secured two boats at the noon hour and started for a row. One of the boats sprung a leak and an effort was made to transfer the girls from the leaking boat to the safer craft. The last one of the party had scarcely set foot in the boat when it began to sink on account of the combined weight of the party. The boys of the party, with the exception of Dodson, were expert swimmers. Minnich lost his life trying to save Miss Davenport.

Three of those who were drowned were to have graduated this summer—young Minnich and the Misses Bonham and Good.

TAFT PROVES THAT HE IS NOT SICK AT ALL.

Washington, May 13.—President Taft set at rest rumors that he was confined to the White House by a threatened attack of pneumonia by attending the theater last night with Mrs. Taft. The play was "Twelfth Night," staged by the company from the New theater, the principal feminine roles being taken by Miss Annie Russell and Leah Bateman Hunter. The president remained throughout the performance, and all traces of his cold seemed gone.

MINOT HAS BIG FIRE.

Fine Water Pressure Probably Prevents a Worse Conflagration.

Minot, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minot's new water system was put to the test yesterday and proved its worth when the splendid water pressure probably prevented a bad fire in the north end of lower Main street from spreading to the business portion of the city.

The fire started in a cigar factory, spread to the European restaurant, McDougal's dray office, Olander's employment agency and Smith's pool hall.

The total loss on the buildings which were owned by E. F. Tompkins, is estimated at $20,000, insured for a third of its value. The loss on stock amounts to $6,000, partially insured.

SWEDISH CHURCH AT PROCTOR

A movement is on foot at Proctor among the Swedish people to establish a church of their own.

Arrangements have been made for a Swedish pastor from Duluth to speak at Sunday afternoon meetings and it is understood that an effort will be made to build a church this year.

Last Sunday, Rev. C. W. Engstrom, pastor of the West Duluth Swedish Mission church preached to a good sized audience of Swedish people at the Proctor M. E. church where in the future, until a church is built, meetings will be held twice a month or as often as a Duluth minister can be secured.

The Norwegian Lutherans at Proctor may also organize a congregation and build a house of worship. There are two churches at Proctor at the present time, the Proctor Methodist Episcopal, and a Catholic church.

New Engine in Boat.

Earl and Cassius Moore have recently installed a twenty-horse power Pearson engine in their speed launch and expect when the boat is put in the water that it will give the other craft at West Duluth a good race.

FORTUNE TELLER SAYS BUSINESS IS SLACK.

Fortune telling is not a popular vocation at West Duluth and Madame Geise, a Syrian, who has been established at 323½ Central avenue for the past week, will move on to Superior.

The woman stations herself in the open doorway and if a passer-by gives her any encouragement she offers to read his fate by his hands at 50 cents per.

Madame Geise says that her business is poor at West Duluth and has decided to migrate. She has been stationed in a small building, formerly occupied by Hans Morsen, recently committed to Fergus Falls for insanity.

MISS GERTRUDE SMITH IS SERIOUSLY ILL.

Miss Gertrude Smith, 21 years old, is dangerously ill this afternoon at her home, 7 North Fifty-third avenue west. Friends and relatives have given up hope for her recovery and her death is expected hourly.

Two weeks ago her father, Benjamin H. Smith, a Civil war veteran and an old resident of West Duluth, died after a short illness and Miss Smith was seriously ill at that time, not being able to attend the funeral.

Since that time her condition has failed to improve. For the past few years she has taken an active interest in church circles at West Duluth.

KILLS CHICKEN HAWK AND IS ARRESTED.

Because Joseph Lantier of Forty-eighth avenue west shot at a chicken hawk in his poultry yard yesterday afternoon, he was arrested a few hours later on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits. He paid a fine of $5 and costs when arraigned before Judge Flack this morning.

LAYING NEW WALKS.

Contractor Begins Work on Two Blocks on Central Avenue.

Work on laying two blocks of cement sidewalks on the east side of Central avenue, between Bristol street and the Northern Pacific right-of-way began this morning. W. H. Kiltin, a West Duluth contractor, has been awarded the contract for the larger part of the work.

The walks will be the widest in the city, as the specifications call for fourteen feet. The improvement will be a welcome one for business men along the avenue. It is probable that the improvement will be ordered by the council for the west side of Central avenue in the near future.

A routine meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club has been planned for this evening. It is probable that the market situation at West Duluth will be discussed among other matters. The Duluth city band has consented to render a number of selections at the meeting.

Many West Duluth school children are planning on attending the Wallace oratorical and declamatory contest this evening in Superior. In the contest, the Irving Industrial High school has two representatives, Barbara Pecor and Eva Ketchum. The contest will be held at the Blaine high school auditorium.

Inquest Not Necessary.

Rock, the Superior delegation to the ninth annual convention of the Knights of Columbus held at Ashland this week, returned to th city yesterday. Washington, May 13.—With an agreement to begin voting on the long and short haul amendments to the railroad bill at 4 o'clock this afternoon, the senate began consideration of that measure almost immediately when it convened at noon.

Mr. Heyburn, author of the first amendment offered, proposing the modification of the long and short haul clause of the pending law, promptly took the floor.

MEN WHO HELD UP TRAIN ARE CAUGHT

Arizona Sheriff Chases Them in Automobile---Car Breaks Down During Run.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 13.—The two bandits who held up the Phoenix & Maricopa passenger train Wednesday night near here, were captured last night by a posse headed by Sheriff Hayden and Immigration Inspector Cronin, in the desert beyond Casa Grande.

A brief telegram to C. M. Scott, superintendent of the Ipswich & Maricopa railroad, announced the capture shortly before midnight, and added that the motor car Hayden had used in the chase had broken down.

"Machine smashed, but got the bandits, anyhow," read Hayden's message.

TAFT'S SON MAKES PHI BETA KAPPA AT YALE.

President Taft was at commencement two years ago when his class of '78 had its thirtieth reunion.

WHAT HE'D DO.

Chicago News: "I have been thinking," said the man leaning against the cigar stand, "of what I think I should do were I a trust magnate with a double chin and a yearning for the earth with a fence around it."

"Well, what would you do?" asked the cigar man.

"I said I had been thinking of what I think I should do," returned the customer, with dignity. "I think the first thing would be to get rid of the desire to own the earth. It is too large and unwieldy for me to handle with comfort.

"Then I should go down to my office some morning and summon the manager before me. If the weather was bad I should ride down in my limousine, smoking a cigar on the way. I am sure I should not want to walk when the streets are in their present condition. When the manager came I should hand him a good cigar.

"'Bill,' I should say—yes, I should call him Bill—'how much did this concern make last year?'

"'I'll have the superintendents of the different departments prepare a statement,' Bill would reply.

"In less time than that the superintendent would come in with a carefully tabulated statement showing that the concern cleared $36,000,000 during the previous twelve months.

"'How many food products do we put out?' I should ask the manager. After consulting the superintendents again he would return with the information. The manager would be in a hurry about it, too. He would be afraid of losing his job.

"'Bill,' I should say, after drumming on the desk with my pencil, 'are there any poor people in the world now?'

"Bill would look at me apprehensively, wondering if I was having a spell of some kind or just evolving a new adavertising scheme.

"'Why,' he would reply, speaking guardedly, 'there's a family out in my ward that doesn't exactly live in luxury.'

"Perhaps I should be unable to learn from Bill the actual condition of affairs all over the country, but I should ask others and again summon the manager.

"'Reduce the price of all our products one half,' I should say to him with an air of finality—the same air of finality you read about in the magazine stories. Then I should turn to my desk and begin to shuffle the papers.

"Bill would stagger away feeling sorry for me and wondering what had brought it on so suddenly.

"He seemed to be all right until a few days ago,' he would mutter to himself. 'Too much champagne, I suppose.'

"Every day I should read the newspapers and learn more about the condition of the country. The impulse to raise the prices again should not get hold on me every time I saw a fat man. I should think of the probability that he might be a trust magnate like myself.

"I should go down to the office frequently and walk through the immense building among the clerks and workmen. In the boiler room I should speak to the stokers and give them cigars after inquiring about their families. I think I should enjoy hearing them express sympathy for me on account of the condition of my mind.

"I think I can imagine how it would be at the clubs to which I should belong. The other members would look at me pityingly and go away shaking their heads.

"'He ought to be in a sanitarium,' they would say.

"No doubt that would be the general verdict, even among those most benefited by the reduction of prices. I should be pointed out as an insane man because I did not hold up prices. Eventually I should be shunned by all classes of society and finally I should have to face a legal inquiry as to my sanity.

"It would be impossible to prove that I was in my right mind. Even the children in the block where I live would run when they saw me coming. Their parents would write anonymous letters to the authorities asking to have me restrained.

"In the course of time I should be placed in an asylum and then the prices of food products would be raised. Those associated with me would breathe more freely and everybody would be happier."

"Say, it's lucky for you that you're not a trust magnate," commented the cigar man.

BLACK PAN.

Know black pan?

There are those that do. The man who has essayed the voyage between the seaport town of Dan and the marine haven of Beersheba without the price to satisfy the purser, he knows what black pan is. It's a relief from the crew's dietary schedule, with its tasteless succession of soup-an'-bully and peas, salt junk and salt horse on alternate days, says the New York Sun.

The man who has gone across the western ocean waiting on a shipment of cows has not had the wisdom to better his condition if he has not learned the ins and outs of the black pan. The opulent voyager who is so reckless as to squander his substance on a steerage ticket when it's so easy to work it out counts on the black pan to make his voyage tolerable for all the days that may lie between thence and thither, wherever these terminal points may be.

Black pan exists aboard the passenger ships through the intermediation of some scullion underling in the galley. When such an understrapper mentions black pan with a question inflection of the voice the traveler, wise through having gone that way before, enters upon a consideration of ways and means.

Sometimes it is a fine piece of bargaining, the rapacity of a sailor and the capital of the voyager delimiting the range of prices. In the end some bargain is struck, and then the traveler feeds on black pan for the voyage, really a great amelioration of his condition.

Black pan is cabin waste, but it's good even at that. It is by no means the scrapings of the plates whereof the opulent have eaten or failed to eat, according to the state of the sea and their equilibrium sense. It is the waste of the serving pantry, that which never gets onto the tables.

In theory, the second steward is supposed to see that this is put to use in made dishes for the next day. In practice, a large amount of these unused meats gets into the system of black pan, and goes forward to the crew and the steerage.

It's graft, of course. The purveyors of black pan are not averse to making harsh terms when poverty is combined with a high stomach. What partition of the avails must be made, how much must go to the serving pantry and how much to the galley is not to be discovered.

There are details in service outsiders may never seek to know. Even the significance of the name is lost in the fleeting history of the sea. But black pan is recalled with pleasure by many of those who have had their ups and downs and the yearning, whether up or down, to be somewhere else.

GOLD AND SILVER WORKERS.

A novel system of classification of employes is followed in the Panama canal zone. The men are rated in two divisions known as the gold and silver divisions.

The gold employes, according to the Bookkeeper, are the engineers, clerks, bookkeepers, auditors, and all except the mechanics and ordinary laborers who are classed as silver men. There are 4,166 of the gold men and 22,322 of the silver men.

The latter are again classified into American, European and West Indian laborers. Of the total number over 10,000 are from the West Indies and the old country. The gold men are so named because they are paid in United States currency, while the silver men are paid in Panama currency, which has only a local circulation.

BALLINGER COMPLAINS

Says Literature Against Him Is Being Secretly Circulated.

Declares Pinchot Has Referred to Him as "a Yellow Dog."

Washington, May 13.—During the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation today, Mr. Pepper, counsel for Pinchot, asked Mr. Ballinger if he did not think the "conspiracy" which he had referred to as directed against himself, might have been a defensive combination of those who were heart and soul for a policy to which he was known to be opposed. Mr. Ballinger replied:

"It was a most amazingly wicked defense."

He then took from his pocket a long resume which he secured permission to read and which he said would show the existence of a conspiracy to remove him from public life. The resume had to do with various portions of the testimony during the present investigation, and concluded as follows:

"The evidence introduced in the present investigation by the so-called prosecution was all put in by March 18 last, and since that time evidence has been introduced by me before the committee. An anonyinous pamphlet has been circulated, notwithstanding the truth which has been shown by the evidence in my behalf and circulated secretly and confidentially, purporting to state what the prosecution had shown and expressly declining to state any evidence introduced by me. Reliable information discloses that these anonymous pamphlets are being distributed from the home of Gifford Pinchot."

"Pinchot Advised Glavis."

Mr. Ballinger in his statement said that Mr. Pinchot had "acted steadily" as an officer and a citizen to bring about the removal of a man whom he regarded as not only an unfaithful public servant, but as an enemy to the great principles of conservation. He said Pinchot had advised Glavis to lay his charges before the president and had given him a letter of introduction. He referred to Governor Pardee's speech at the Spokane irrigation congress in which he seriously "reflected on me," and said it was made after Pardee had visited with Pinchot.

"Pinchot admits that I am an obstacle in the way of the conservation movement which 'we propsed to remove,'" said Mr. Ballinger, "and admits that Garfield and Glavis and he are part of the 'we.'"

"Dog" vs. "Snake."

He spoke of Pinchot's alleged statement to George Otis Smith in which the forester was alleged to have called Ballinger a "yellow dog." Mr. Ballinger said Pinchot had denounced him thus because he had overturned some of Garfield's work.

"I guess, the yellow dog' and the 'snakes' about balance each other, don't they?" interrupted Mr. Pepper.

Mr. Ballinger replied that he had never spoken of Mr. Pinchot disparagingly before he had taken the stand, and that Pinchot was not one of the "snakes."

Mr. Ballinger called attention to the fact that the projected fight against him at Spokane had been opened according to schedule, although nothing had been said against Garfield.

HOPES TO FORCE LINK TO TESTIFY

Burke Has Subpoena Served on Legislator to Get Him to Capital.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—Representative Michael Link will be brought to this city in charge of Sheriff Warner, who served a supoena on him at his home in Mitchell today. If he declines to testify in the alleged legislative bribery cases when taken before the grand jury, State's Attorney Burke plans to ask that Judge Shirley issue an order of immunity to the legislator. If after that he still refuses to testify, State's Attorney Burke may ask that he be adjudged in contempt of court.

Representative George C. Welbert, a Republican member of the legislature, was the only witness before the grand jury this morning. He testified that William Lorimer had asked him for his legislative vote the day previous to the election of Lorimer, but that he refused. He said Mr. Lorimer had made no offer of money or position to him.

YOUR TURN WILL COME

By CLARA REESE.

Everybody's turn is coming. The next to get a "raise" will be the laborers—those receiving less than $3,000 per annum!

Things always come your way if you only have patience. All you need to do is to wait awhile and keep pegging along. You are "discovered" in time as sure as fate, whether as a gifted individual of brush or pen, or as an inventive genius, or as a faithful packhorse, going over the same treadmill, or as a class or type or species. You are bound to come into your own if you can only keep life in your body long enough and bolster your courage.

Everybody gets in now. Something like an open-door rush at some special entertainment, where the seats of the elect are forfeited when a certain moment arrives. It is everybody's turn then. And it is everybody's turn now. The laborers come next—the laborers, those trundling the wheelbarrows or driving pick and shovel, the pushing, pulling, sweating, straining crowd. The laborers, the hands at the presses, at the vats and the caldrons. The laborers at the desks, behind the counters, at the bench and in the factories. The laborers in the office buildings, in the giant industries, in transportation service and who facilitate all activities. The laborers in the streets, in the stores, in the schoolrooms and the great throbbing area catering to domestic needs. The laborers in the pulpits, in the mission centers and the charitable agencies. The world of laborers comes next, and you are one of these!

It is everybody's turn now. Those who receive less than $3,000 per annum are down next in the schedule of increase. Grand, isn't it? After all the striving to make ends meet, to be "discovered" and "rewarded" at last! But, say, does it not induce a sorrowful feeling in behalf of dear friends who are earning a trifle more than the magic figures Perhaps a paltry $500 more or less or greater than that. There is no disappointment so keen as to just "miss" the prize or the treat, for a "miss" even of a few cents is as good as a mile, as in this case. So, even while joyfully hailing good fortune, an occasional sigh of regret will not be out of place for those whom perverse winds, as the classic tale runs, have blown beyond reach.

And are you not somewhat ashamed for your own impatient rebellion at fate? Here you have been complaining and repining, encouraging a spirit of vindictiveness, even hatred, toward those more favored, while, lo, fortune was busy preparing your own table and feast of good things. It is the way with laborers, those in the vineyard or less fresh air quarters, to murmur at long hours, or poor pay, or the chill or the heat. They would not be laborers if occasional complaint were not set over against their names and record. It is not the complaining, nor the unrest, nor the dissatisfaction that ever and anon breaks forth that counts so much as it is the carrying of such murmuring to extremes. Many a time good fortune has been surely approaching, when an ominous growl at the gate has turned it aside. Keep quiet; everybody's turn is coming next; the laborers get a raise.

Boy Hit By Ax.

Eddie Johnson, 8 years old, was accidentally struck by an ax at his home in Foxboro, near Superior, this morning, and may die from the injuries, although the chances for recovery seem to be about even.

The boy was brought into Superior this afternoon on a Great Northern train. He was taken to the office of Dr. J. C. Adams. The details of the accident were not learned.

HABIT AMONG ANIMOLS.

Chicago Tribune: The horse, as the most stupid of all the dumb creatures man has made his friends, has been painstakingly studied by E. T. Brewster. He is so stupid that he can be taught anything—that is, any habit—and having no mind of his own, can be relied on to do exactly as he is told. All the authentic tricks, whatever the details, are worked in this way:

The horse is taught by endless repetitions some mechanical habit. A given signal, and he begins to paw the floor. Another signal, and he stops. Press the proper button and he takes a sponge and rubs it over a certain spot on a blackboard or picks up a card lying in a certain position. The meaning of an act exists for the spectator only. The pawings count the answer to a problem in addition, the card bears the reply to a question; but the horse does not know it.

He merely follows a blind habit just as he will stop when you say "Whoa!" though you interpolate the word into your recitation of the Declaration of Independence. The reason the horse is so available for this particular deception and so generally useful to mankind is that he possesses just the right degree of stupidity. If he were stupider he would not be plastic enough to acquire convenient habits. If he were cleverer he would acquire too many habits and lead too much his own life, like that particularly clever animal the cat.

The 2,000 tests to which James P. Porter of Indiana university subjected two English sparrows serve as the type of all experiments with animals counting. They proved beyond question that the sparrows could not count. After a bird had been given its food 100 times in succession from dish No. 5, in the next twenty trials it went only nine times to the proper place. Moreover, after the bird becomes pretty certain of the situation of the desired dish when he came to it on the wing, walking up to it threw him all off again, while if he started his flight from a point to one side of his usual perch he was likely to hit correspondingly to one side of his objective point.

The sparrows guessed numbers better than most creatures who have been tested. They could not count certainly even two. Neither instinct nor reason is the key to the animal mind, but habit. The animal forms habits precisely as we do, and like ourselves stores up as habits many common experiences of life. The difference is that what for us is a mere side line is almost the entire stock in trade of the beast. We are all of us, men and beasts alike, bundles of habits; but the man has more other things wrapped up in his package.

CASUALTIES OF OTHER DAYS.

New York Sun: "How can a fellow who has passed the half century stone and a few more besides help feeling that the whirligig is not what it used to be when even the ways in which people get killed are not what they were?" said a man who had a box party on the celebration of a birthday. "Every day we read of sudden deaths on the football field, or from automobile collisions and spills, or drops from flying machines. How did people get killed before these modern death methods came in?

"You hardly ever hear any more of a sudden killing in any of the old time ways. Is it because people do not take the chances they used to take, or is an old-fashioned killing out of date and not worth printing?

"It is easy to explain why we seldom hear of steamboat boiler explosions with accompanying loss of life, because steamboating has nearly passed away. That used to be the horror that we expected to find on the first page of our paper.

"Except in summer you seldom hear of an old time drowning. There is as much water as ever, but people seem to know how to take care of themselves in boats better in these days. Every town in the country used to have its list of sudden deaths from runaways, but seemingly there are fewer of them nowadays.

"Cases of death by breaking through the ice while skating used to be a frequent piece of news. Is the ice thicker now than it was formerly, or is the skater smarter than he was? When did you last read of an old-fashioned killing by lightning? People do not sleep on feather beds now, but somehow the lightning does not overtake them as it did.

"The old graveyards have many graves of men and boys who were kicked to death by unruly horses or mules. It would seem that when automobiles came into fashion horses got ashamed of themselves as death dealers.

"There were times when the cradles of the land were made empty by children swallowing needles. Sewing machine companies did away with that, and now children meet death in some newfangled way. Surely times have changed when there must be new ways for killing people."

WHY HE WAS CONCERNED.

Answers: A big abed-bodied man of about middle age shuffled into the poor law guardian's office and curtly bade the clerk good morning.

"Wot d'yer mean," he began, "by knockin' orf poor Wilder Snagg's parish pay? She's a 'onest, 'ard workin' woman whose nose is in the washtub all day, an' it's a wicked shame to rob 'er of 'er lorful rights."

"Mrs. Snagg has married again," he said, "and the guardians have decided that she is no longer entitled to outdoor relief, and in any event, my man," he added sharply, "I should like to know if the matter is any concern of yours?"

"Concern of mine!" the man responded. "Well, I should rather think so, guv'nor. If you stops the ole lady's pay you stops my daily ounce o' shag an' quart o' beer too! I'm 'er noo 'usband!"

IT PAYS TO GO TO SCHOOL.

Educational Review: The table prepared by the Massachusetts state board of educaiton shows the weekly earnings of children who left school at 14 until the end of their twenty-fifth year. Those who left school at 14 began at $4 a week and at the end of the twenty-fifth birthday were receiving $12.75 a week.

Those from the high school began at $10 a week at 25 were receiving $31 a week. The total earnings of the elementary school boy in the twelve years were $5,722.50, while those of the high school boy in the eight years were $7,377.50.

SEVENTY YEARS OF EATING.

If a man of 70 years was starving, it would probably be little comfort to him to think that he had consumed in the course of his life fifty-three and three-quarte tons of liquid, or about 1,280 times his own weight in both solids and liquids, but it would be true.

Being a man of average appetite and purse he would have eaten fifteen tons of bread, which would have made a single loaf containing 1,200 cubic feet and appearing about as large as the average suburban home; and on this bread he would have spread one ton of butter. If his bacon had been cut in a single slice, says Harper's Weekly, the strip would have been four miles long and his chops placed end to end would have extended two miles.

Twenty ordinary sized bullocks have supplied him with beef, eighteen tons of which he has eaten, along with five tons of fish and 10,000 eggs and 350 pounds of cheese. If he had elected to have all his vegetables served at once they would have come to him in a train of cars, the pod containing all his peas being over three miles longer.

He has had 9,000 pounds of sugar, 1,500 pounds of salt, 8 pounds of pepper and 100 cans of mustard. Three pints of liquid a day would have amounted to 76,600 pints, or forty-two and three-quarter tons. If he had been a smoker, he would have burned about half a ton of tobacco in a pipe or if he preferred cigarettes, would have smoked about a quarter of a million.

SCIENCE OF SHOW WINDOWS.

New York Sun: "I should like it," said a storekeeper, "if some psychologist could tell us how often the display in a show window ought to be changed You take, for instance, the practice of changing a window daily.

"There are many persons who have to mull over a thing in their minds before they decide. Now on a person such as that a window changed daily might have no pull at all. He is not caught by the first sight, but if the thing that had attracted him was there in the window the next time he went by he would stop and look at it, and if it still pleased him he would think it over some more; and he would look it over again, and so it might grow on him until he would decide to buy it.

"Now, a possible purchaser such as that would be lost by the window that was changed daily; but to hold him how many more customers would have been lost by continuing the window for days in one form, by its lack of variety?

"I am told that theer are many persons who require time to decide, who want to look again; but on the other hand are there not as many or more who can tell at sight whether they want a thing, and who decide offhand on what they see? Then there are plenty of people who go looking for new things, to see what they can see—who seek variety.

"Take also a window display of beautiful and elaborate gowns—a window requiring great care and labor in the preparation as well as fine art in the arrangement of the accessories and in the harmonizing of the colors. To such a window women flock. It builds up and attracts. It creates atmosphere and spreads profitable fame. It secures and holds customers.

"Such a window may well stand unchanged for days, but would this apply to a little window, in which but a single gown could be displayed? I don't know, but I doubt it, and this leads us to the general question: Should the display in any small window of any business be changed oftener than that in a big place? This it seems to me should be answered in the affirmative.

"Here, however, is to be considered something else. Eighty per cent, we will say, of the people who pass these windows are regular passers—people living in the town—but they don't all pass on the same day. Such people might miss many displays if the window was changed daily. Within what period of time does the greatest percentage of the regular passers to whom the window would appeal pass, and figuring on this system how often would we want to change the window? Isn't that a question?

"The art of window dressing is one thing, the science of window changes quite another, and it seems to me that this question that might be determined by the application of mathematical psychology. I would like to see the mathematically inclined psychologist who could settle it come along."

A NATURAL COMPASS.

A famous Canadian guide of whom his friends assert that you could take him up in a balloon blindfolded and drop him into the middle of the wilderness and he would find his way out was asked by a New York hunter not long ago how he did it, says the New York Sun.

"Is it true," said the New York man, "that you can find your way back to camp every time and in the straightest line possible?"

"That's what they say," admitted the old guide; "and" he added half apologetically, "I should be ashamed of myself if it wasn't pretty close to the truth."

"How do you do it?"

"Well, sometimes I know pretty well where I am—I mean, in a general way —and I feel the direction of the camp or whatever place it is I want to reach. You know that is an entirely different proposition from merely getting out of a forest or a section of country. The man who doesn't know where he or anything else is can always follow the streams and get somewhere some time if he holds out long enough.

"But that is a different matter from taking an objective point, even imaginary, and then going straight through the wilderness to that point. Perhaps not many guides themselves can do that with absolute success, though it seems a very simple thing to me."

"Do you mean that you can hold a perfectly straihght course through thick woods and across broken country without a compass or sunlight to guide?"

"As straight a course as could be followed in such country."

"What is your guide, the moss or growth on the shaded side of tree trunks?"

"No. That's not to be depended on. Sometimes the dampness collects on the north side of a tree, sometimes on the east side of a tree, sometimes on another slant. You can't depend on it, for it may be one thing in one ravine and just the opposite where currents of air and relative positions of tree and of water are reversed.

"But there is one thing which in any general stretch of country is infallible. That is the inclination of the trees. Every section has its prevailing wind. If you know what is the prevailing wind of the region where you are it seems to me that anybody with half an eye ought to be able to hold a straight course.

"Of course you won't find the trees in thick woods bending at a decided angle as you will find those on exposed ground. But if you observe carefully you will detect enough variation from a straight perpendicular to keep you going true. That's the secret of my sense of direction and it's a secret every man in the woods can share."

BIG SALMON CATCHES.

London Evening Standard: The fine salmon brought to gaff and landing net have included several fifty pounders, and one of fifty-three pounds, which latter fish was caught with a spoon bait in the Namsen at Gartland, Norway, by Mr. Anton. It is believed to be the largest rod taken fish of the season.

A salmon of fifty and one-fourth pounds has been landed from the Aroe at Dalmally by D. Fraser; one of fifty pounds caught in the Ness at Inverness by George Thomas; and a fifty pound salmon has been secured in the Shannon at Castleconnell by G. C. Williams, where also Sir D. Gooch has had one of forty-three pounds. Taking over three hours to bring to bank a forty-nine pound salmon—believed to be the largest ever caught in this river—has been landed with the fly on the Falls beat of the Beauly (Scotland) by Henry Frazier, fisherman to C. W. Olgen of New York and Lady Edith Trotter has captured a forty-eight and one-half pound salmon in the Sprouston waters of the Tweed, while the concluding week's sport on the river was marked by the taking of a forty-two pound salmon by the Rev. W. McCullum, fishing in the Kelso district.

STARTING A RUBER PLANT.

St. Nicholas: Rubber plants are usually started by a method known as mossing. A cut is made in a young branch and a wedge put in it to keep the surfaces apart. A bunch of sphagnum moss is then fastened around the stem over the cut, the moss being kept wet. As soon as the young roots appear on the outside of the moss the young branch is cut off and potted up.

Ficus elastica, the rubber plant of our houses, must produce seed in its home tropical Asia, but it does not attain a size sufficient under cultivation in green houses to do so often.

If a few more table guests would make it profitable for you to keep boarders, then you have business for a Herald want ad.

Exceptional values in first-class pianos can be found in our stock just at this time because we have several good ones, the cases of which were marred in moving and some fine ones taken in exchange for Steinway Grands and Pianola Self-Playing Pianos.

Now is the time to obtain a very high-grade Piano, just as good or better than new, at a big saving in price. A good, high-grade used one is often much better than a cheap, low-grade new one.

SPORTSMAN and TELEPHONE

EVERY TIME a man wants to get away from all connection with the busy world, the telephone is an important helper.

The Local Service is useful in arranging his affairs at home, and the Long Distance Service of the Bell System helps him to decide where to go and what to take.

By means of his Bell Telephone he can find out whether the fish are biting or the birds are flying, and whether guides or horses can be secured.

After he has been out awhile, if he wants to get word from the city, the nearest Bell Telephone is a friend in need.

HAS BEGUN LONG WAIT

Cloquet Man With Patience and Camp Stool, at Land Office.

Proposes to Spend Nearly Six Weeks in Federal Building.

Ready to wait five weeks and three days for an early selection from the lands to be opened to homesteaders by the government, June 20, six men have taken a position at the door of the United States land office in the federal building, to remain until the doors are opened on that date.

Bright and early this morning, Emil Berquist of Cloquet was on hand with a camp stool and a large supply of patience. He found the coast clear and he took up his position just outside of the door, the first man in line. He was followed by Andrew Orsen, also of Cloquet, and four other men came soon afterward.

"Friday, the thirteenth, doesn't make any difference to me," said Berquist. "If I had waited until tomorrow, I would probably be away down the line. As it is, I am in first place."

The men all have chairs of their own and say they are ready for the long wait. They say that there is some good land to be opened in the Fond du Lac reservation and they expect to get some of the best on account of having an early choice.

BLIND MAN PRAYS FOR MUCKRAKERS

House Chaplain Wants Their Eyes Turned Toward Their Own Homes.

Washington, May 13.—Rev. Henry N. Couden, the blind chaplain of the house of representatives, astonished the members of that body today by praying for Divine guidance to lead muckrakers to "rake before their own doors before attending to the litter in front of their neighbors' homes." He said:

"Since the purity of the home depends upon the purity of those who compose it, the character of the nation depends upon the people who make up the nation. Help us therefore, as individuals, to strive earnestly to pull the mote out of our brother's eye. If we are to become muckrakers, help us to rake before our own door, and, if we have time, then let us help our neighbor. Strife, graft and hypocrisy are the most heinous of all sins, deliver us, we pray Thee, from them."

PATROLMEN ARE SUSPENDED

Two Officers Given Vacation Without Pay for Breaking Rules.

Patrolmen John Sass and Fred Mahlen were suspended for thirty and fifteen days each, respectively, without pay, by Mayor M. B. Cullum this morning for drinking in a West end saloon while in full uniform.

Sergeant E. H. Barber, second officer in command in the West end, saw the men go into Peterson's bar and followed them. He learned from the bartender that they had gone into a back room and was told that each had one glass of beer. It is claimed that Patrolman Sass "sassed" Sergeant Barber, threatening to strike him. Officer Mahlen didn't say anything, which accounts for his lighter punishment.

Sergeant Barber reported the matter to Capt. Fiskett, in the absence of Chief Troyer, and he took it up with the mayor. Both men are recognized as exceptionally good patrolmen.

SLOT METER IS MEANS OF DEATH

Sleeping Man Killed at Grand Forks When Gas Flow Is Renewed.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harry L. Giesson, aged 30 years, a fireman employed on the Northern Pacific, was found dead in his room in this city this morning. He went to bed last night at the usual hour, but evidently was reading after retiring and fell asleep with his book, Masonic ritual, in his hands. Later the gas ran out and afterwards another quarter was placed in the meter, filling the room with gas and killing the sleeping man.

Giesson lived at Staples, Minn., up to four months ago. Last night he had written a long letter to his sister, in which he said that he might soon see her again.

POLK COUNTY BRIDGES.

Eleven New Structures Are Ordered By County Board.

Crookston, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners of Polk county have instructed the county auditor to advertise for bids for the construction of eleven new bridges to be built this summer, ten of which will be of steel. This county has practically gone out of the wooden bridge business, and everything is now constructed of steel, having proved so much cheaper in the long run, needing but very few repairs. Where the townships want steel bridges, the county pays one-half the cost of construction, and in this way nearly all the townships have gone into the steel bridge plan, with very satisfactory results, though concrete arches are used to some extent for the shorter bridges, such as over ditches, etc.

SUIT OVER DITCH WORK.

Complicated Case Is Being Considered By Judge Watts.

Crookston, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before Judge Watts in district court, the most tangled-up ditch case that has ever developed in Polk county is being unraveled in connection with the construction of Judicial Ditch No. 2 in this county, located near Beltrami. It was let about five years ago to Contractor Eickhoff of St. Hilaire, the weather so hampered him that the second season afterward he threw up the job and left his bondsmen in the hole. A. K. Austin, who has since died, was one of the bondsmen, and about the only one that was financially responsible, and he attempted to finish the ditch, meeting with still further losses. The ditch is practically completed now, but has cost a considerable sum more than the contract price, and an effort is now being made to collect this excess cost from the bondsmen before the final settlement of the A. K. Austin estate. State Drainage Engineer George A. Ralph is here from St. Paul as one of the witnesses in the case. A decision will not be rendered for some little time, as there are many very vexing questions of law involved.

Helena, where he was given preliminary examination.

He claims that all of the money has been made good to the bank, and said that he had no objection to going back and facing his accusers.

He is a young man, apparently not over 30 years of age, and is said to have a wife and two children in Anamoose.

BUT FEW CASES ARE TO BE HEARD

District Court Criminal Calendar Is Unusually Light This Term.

There are but three criminal trials to be held during the present term of the district court.

But six indictments were returned by the May grand jury and one of the six men has already plead guilty. Two others are expected to plead guilty within a few days.

Monday morning the criminal calendar will be taken up and it is expected that the cases can all be finished in very short order.

Peter Larson of Grand Lake, Minn., will be tried on a charge of adultery. He is accused of improper relations with Mrs. Mary C. Hanson.

Isadore Burlack, who is accused of perjury will probably be tried on this charge. During the trial of the state against two men who were accused and later found guilty of robbing Wassil Stocki of $600, Burlack swore on the stand that the accused men were with him all the day in question in Superior. This was later found to be untrue, it is said.

Thomas Chapik is accused by the grand jury with having carnal knowledge of Helen Maleski, a female child, but 15 years old. This case is being pushed by Humane Officer George Fifer.

Assistant County Attorney Warren E. Greene has charge of the criminal cases for the state at this term of court.

CROPS RUINED; WANTS DAMAGES

Farmer Has Suit Against St. Louis River Dam and Improvement Company.

Ivar Edward Nouman is suing the St. Louis River Dam and Improvement company for $1,890 for damage alleged to have been sustained when his farm was flooded with water and his crops ruined by a dam constructed by the company. The case is being heard today by Judge Dibell and a jury in the district court.

Neuman claims that through his farm, which is located in section 29, township 56, north range 15 west, there runs a stream known as the Water Hen river.

In his complaint he claims that in June of 1909 the company built a dam near the source of the river. This caused an overflow. Forty acres of his farm was flooded and crops which would have been worth $540 were destroyed, he says.

The farmer claims that his house was flooded as was the rest of his buildings. He says that it was necessary to abandon the farm for a time.

FERGUS FALLS WOMAN ROBBED

Part of Mrs. Welsh's Report to Women's Clubs Stolen From Her Room.

Washington, May 13.—The report of the treasurer of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. George O. Welsh of Fergus Falls, Minn., has been postponed until Friday, because a thief stole from Mrs. Welsh's room her four copies of her annual report which she had prepared for the convention.

William Hall, first assistant to Gifford Pinchot, former chief of the United States forestry bureau, occupied the stage at this morning's session of the biennial. He spoke on "The Forest and the Family." Mr. Pinchot was originally scheduled to speak, but his trip to Europe prevented his being present.

Congressman Joseph Randall of Louisiana followed Mr. Hall and addressed the assemblage on "Our National Waterways."

Greetings to the convention were received yesterday from Lady Aberdeen of England, Mrs. William H. Taft, the Lyceum clubs of London and Berlin, the women's clubs of Montreal and of Shanghai, China, and others.

A resolution of sympathy to the bereaved Queen Mother Alexandra of England was adopted.

MINNESOTA MEN FIGHT OLEO BILL

Dairymen Are Given Hearings Before House Committee at Washington.

Washington, May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dairymen of the country are daily being given hearings before the house committee on agriculture in opposition to the Burleson oleomargarine bill. Today representatives of Minnesota interests appeared, the following being present:

J. R. Morley of the Minnesota Dairy association; Andrew French, Minnesota state dairy and food commissioner; W. F. Shilling, president of the Minnesota Dairymen's association; E. K. Slater, secretary of the National Dairy union, and J. K. Farrell, president of the National Buttermakers' association.

The Minnesota dairymen announce that they will insist on the 10-cent tax on oleomargarine and the strengthening of the existing law by classification as colored oleomargarine of all oleo treated with palm oil.

CONGREGATIONAL MEET AT BRAINERD VERY SOON.

Brainerd, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth association of Congregational churches and ministers, taking in the northern part of the state, will hold their spring conference at the First Congregational church in Brainerd either the latter part of May or the first part of June. The exact date has not been definitely fixed. When the required arrangements are made the full program of the session will be announced.

VERDICT FOR THE PLAINTIFF

Effie Lewis Awarded $540 From the Duluth, Missabe & Northern.

Effie Lewis, the nurse who sued Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad company for $20,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when she fell from the train in attempting to alight at Fifty-seventh avenue west, was given a verdict for $540 by a jury in district court this morning.

The case has been on trial for several days before Judge Cant of the district court. The plaintiff claimed that the railroad company was negligent in that it had not platform at the point where she attempted to get off the train. She claimed that the stool was set upon loose gravel, and that when she stepped it gave way and she was thrown to the ground, suffering severe injuries.

CAUGHT IN MONTANA.

Former Anamoose, N. D., Banker Confined in Jail at Helena.

Helena, Mont., May 13.—W. C. Hauck, until recently cashier of the Anamoose National Bank of Anamoose, McHenry county, N. D., is in the county jail here awaiting the arrival of United States Judge Carl Rasch to issue a warrant for his removal to the district of North Dakota to stand trial on the charge of misappropriating $3,144 of the funds of the bank of which he was an officer. Hauck, coming here, filed on a homestead near Chester in the northern part of the state, the filing being made under the name of J. L. Haucks.

He was recently indicted by the United States grand jury in North Dakota, and the marshal's office in that state was instrumental in locating the fugitive on his homestead in Montana.

FLAX MARKET IS ERRATIC

Price Fluctuates Wildly, But There Is Little Trading Here.

Wheat Options Advance Fractionally, Following a Weak Opening.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 13.—Wheat advanced fractionally today, the distant months overcoming their early weakness. Toward the close May wheat opened at $1.10 bid and sold at $1.10¾, $1.10¾, and closed $1.10¾ bid. July opened $1.11½ bid and sold at $1.11⅛, $1.11¼, $1.11, $1.11¾, and closed $1.11⅝-¾ asked. September opened $1.02 asked, declined to $1.01¾ asked, advanced to $1.02⅝ bid, and closed at that quotation.

Flax was erratic, and fluctuated widely. Trading was slight. May opened $2.19 bid, jumped to $2.24 bid, $2.25 bid and sold at $2.30, $2.24, $2.26½ and closed at the last named figure. July opened $2.12 bid, went to $2.18 bid, sold at $2.20, $2.22, $2.18, and closed $2.22 bid. September sold at $1.71½, $1.72, $1.70½, $1.72½, $1.72, $1.70½, $1.73½, and closed $1.72½ asked. October opened at $1.64 and sold at $1.63½, $1.64½, $1.65, and closed $1.64 bid.

Barley advanced 1c again today, oats closed 1⅛c up, rye was unchanged, durum was ¼c off and cash wheat was on a parity with May.

Flax was violently erratic. Trading was light and the market, so far as the current and near futures were concerned, was almost barred of offerings. There was no short interest in evidence and there is little doubt that it has been cleared up. Two or three small buying orders from out of town forced the market up. May jumped from $2.19 bid to $2.25 bid without being traded in and the July option went from $2.12 bid to $2.20 before a sale was recorded. The futures were erratic also, but in a narrow phase. September was bid up ½c but a sale sent it down 1½c and a buying order force it up 2c. The October option lost ½c at the opening and then gained 1c. The country sold the futures lightly. There was not much significance to any of the trading in flax. The current month and July option are susceptible to violent fluctuations as there are but few offerings and few buyers. The options can be kicked about without disturbing the distant months.

Wheat prices fluctuated within a narrow range. The market was dull and there was little trend either way. May wheat was strong and stubborn while July was inclined to be weak. September suffered slightly, weather conditions being favorable to the bears. The cash trade was sick here and May closed weak compared with Chicago. The May option experienced a bulge early in the day when Armour bought 100,000 bu. When support was withdrawn the market sagged.

The trading was chiefly from professional and was of a scalping nature. Both sides had encouraging news and this made the market a moderately good trading affair. There was no inclination on the part of either side to press operations. Buying and selling came from scattered sources. No stuff was worked for Chicago and the Eastern milling demand is dead. Washburn-Crosby, a message said, had secured 350,000 bu here for shipment to Buffalo. This stuff evidently was worked at Chicago as it was not handled here.

Wheat opened fairly firm on higher cables. May advanced but the futures showed some weakness. Warmer weather and possible rains are forecasted for Kansas, Nebraska and North and South Dakota tonight and tomorrow. Several messages were received from North and South Dakota and all of them said that the growing wheat is in excellent condition. The Modern Miller was bearish. Insect damage was reported from some parts of Illinois and Texas. Rains in the winter states have minimized damage from insects in that territory.

Cash wheat in the Southwest has been reported as especially strong, but values are said to have been fictitious and artificially high. The flour demand shows a slight improvement.

Receipts are moderate and the bulls think the farmers will not feed out available supplies except at top notch prices. They bank on the farmers' aptitude to help sustain them in their position. The bulls are ignoring the foreign situation and the bears think the time is nearly at hand when the foreign situation must be taken into consideration. Argentine wheat is being offered in Liverpool for May and June shipment around $1.03@1.03½. This market is about 9c out of line and export business is hopeless. Sentiment abroad today was mixed. The Liverpool market was oversold and values closed higher. Argentine and La Plata offerings were lighter. The continental markets closed lower.

Flax stores decreased 172,000 bu in five days to 114,000 bu. Wheat stores decreased 455,000 bu to 4,973,000 bu.

Dispatches from Chicago said that 350,000 bu of No. 1 northern were worked yesterday by Washburn-Crosby for shipment from Duluth to Buffalo. This stuff was not handled through this market but probably was worked at Chicago.

Poehler received a dispatch from one of his traveling men in North Dakota saying that crops west of Minot are in first class condition.

A dispatch to The Herald from Winnipeg said that cold weather has hurt wheat in some parts of Saskatchewan. Rain is needed in many places. Frost is doing some damage, added the report. The Winnipeg correspondent said that Winnipeg did not believe damage reports from the Western provinces and that the trade was convinced that the growing plant is in excellent condition.

A Russian cable said that in the South of Russia the weather is warm and condition of crops is good. In the Central portion it is cool but on the whole satisfactory. Arrivals at ports continue small with stocks decreasing owing to heavy shipments. Markets are easy and large offerings are pressing for sale.

Daily Trade Bulletin said the world's available supply shows 179,003,000 bu versus 136,841,000 bu May 1, last year. December last month of 23,437,000 bu versus December on April last year of 33,741,000 bu.

Broomhall's Argentine cable: Wheat steady, demand quiet. Arrivals from interior light, quality unsatisfactory. Corn firmer with an improvement in demand. Arrivals from the interior small with the quality showing an improvement.

Broomhall cables from Liverpool: "The persistent steadiness displayed in American markets served to stimulate lighter offerings, and this, together with the smaller shipments this week from Argentine and Australia caused some covering by shorts at the opening and values were ⅜d higher. During the morning the market was dull, but with a firm undertone, and prices further advanced ⅛@¼d. Spot markets were generally ½d higher under an improved demand, and there is less pressure of Russian offerings and a better inquiry. Shorts covered over the holiday with offerings light. At mid-day the market was firm and ½@⅝d higher than yesterday.

"Corn—The market was easy and ¼d lower at the opening, owing to the cheaper La Platta offerings and continued favorable advices from Argentine and the improved quality of arrivals from the interior. Following the opening the market was unchanged. Australian shipments for the week amounted to 264,000 bu against 688,000 bu last week and 328,000 bu last year. Rains in the winter states have minimized damage from insects in that territory.

Cash wheat in the Southwest has been reported as especially strong, but values are said to have been fictitious and artificially high. The flour demand shows a slight improvement.

Receipts are moderate and the bulls think the farmers will not feed out available supplies except at top notch prices. They bank on the farmers' aptitude to help sustain them in their position. Clearances: Wheat, 374,000 bu; flour, 16,000 bbl, equals 446,000 bu; corn, 70,000 bu; oats, none.

The Modern Miller crop outlook is rather bullish. With rains in the winter wheat states of central regions the wheat not infested with insects looks well, and more favorable reports are received from Kansas and Nebraska, but the crop is spotted and many fields have poor prospects. Insect damage continues in sections of soft winter states, and especially in Illinois and Missouri.

Broomhall estimates world's shipments of wheat and flour for Monday next (exclusive of North American) at 6,400,000 bu against 7,216,000 actual last week. Of this total Europe will take about 5,600,000 bu. Total shipments last week, 9,178,000 bu, and 10,640,000 a year ago. Arrivals of breadstuffs into the United Kingdom will aggregate about 3,600,000 bu. He predicts that there will be moderate changes in the quantity of breadstuffs on passage. Indian shipments of wheat this week amount to 678,000 bu against 578,000 last week. Predicts that the shipments next week will aggregate 216,000 bu.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Traders Look in Vain for Rain to Help Spring Growth.

Chicago, May 13.—Scanning the Northwest for signs of rain occupied much of the time of wheat traders today. The skies, however, were reported generally clear in that section as well as over the winter wheat belt, although there was a slight shower at Dodge City, Kan. Opinion crystallized that, notwithstanding serious damage might not have been done yet by the dry weather in the spring country, the situation was such as to require increasing watchfulness. Bulls meanwhile were striving to purchase on soft spots, and the bears were alert for chances to sell on the places that seemed hard. The market opened unchanged to ⅛c higher with September within ⅛c of last night's figures at $1.01½@1.01⅝. After advancing a shade, the price went down to $1.01¼ and back to $1.01½. May had a momentary gain of more than 1 cent, but quickly reacted.

On news of better demand at Liverpool and because of continued insect damage in Illinois and Missouri, shorts became good buyers. Michigan wheat was said to be showing a yellow tinge, indicating something radically wrong with the growth. Accordingly, September advanced and closed firm at $1.02⅝, a net gain of ⅞c.

Selling of a line of corn by a prominent elevator concern caused a decline in that grain after a somewhat bullish start. September opened a shade to ⅛@¼c up at 63⅞c to 64c, and fell to 63⅜@½c.

The tone continued heavy with the local crowd working against the market. September closed ¼c offat63⅛@ 63⅝c.

Purchases of oats were scattered. September opened unchanged to ⅛c higher, and eased off to 39c.

Offerings of provisions were light. Plt scalpers worked the buying side moderately. Quotations at the close averaged 5 to 10c higher, but did not wheel materially.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Stronger on Weather and Chicago Situation.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—Dry, cold weather in the Northwest and congestion in the Chicago pit were strengthening factors in wheat today. Local elevator stocks decreased 825,000 bu for the week, making the total 8,521,811 bu, against 9,390,310 bu a year ago. Wheat and flour shipments so far this week were 510,239 bu in excess of the wheat receipt. A nervous undertone ruled in the pit on account of a general uneasiness among the traders. There has been 275,000 bu of May wheat delivered on contract in Minneapolis so far this month. Cotton Market.

New York, May 13.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2 points on May, but generally 1 to 8 points higher, and during the early trading sold into new high ground for the movement, May firming up with the rest of the list on covering of shorts, firm cables, large English spot sales and fresh buying for long account. The frost predicted for the Eastern belt did not materialize, but thire was no rain in the Southwest, and it was reported that hailstorms had done some damage in the Atlanta district.

NEST ON TELEPHONE POLE.

Telephone Topics: Fishhawks built their nest on the Providence-Fall River toll line of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, in the town of Swanzey. The fishhawks feed in the small streams that flow into Mount Hope bay, and build their nests in nearby trees or other convenient places. The best place seems to be on the top of a high pole and where there are plenty of wires to hold the foundation for a nest and also to protect them. They usually build in late spring or early summer.

Trouble does not show up on the wires unless there is a lot of wet weather. It has been so dry this summer that the nest has not been located and taken down. Probably in this case the hawks have had their young and departed.

It is not easy to take down one of these nests, as the material used is woven in and about the wires. It is especially hard when the nests are occupied. Three or four years ago a lineman was sent to take one down and had to call for help from a nearby farm house, as the hawks attacked him and tore his clothing badly before he could get the nest down.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

After Sag in Prices, Canadian Pacific Took an Upward Flight.

Advances Partly Lost and Close Rather Heavy and Dull.

New York, May 13.—Opening dealings in stocks today were meagre and the price changes were confined to small fractions, mostly declines. The market offered no feature of interest.

The trend became upward after the first few minutes of business, but while the rise was unimportant in the usual active stocks, there were some striking improvements in a few of the low priced stocks. Missouri Pacific lost a point, but it recovered fully when the other Gould stocks became strong. Canadian Pacific advanced 2 points, Wheeling & Lake Erie first preferred 1½, Wabash preferred 1⅜, and Chesapeake & Ohio, Louisville & Nashville and American Smelting preferred 1. Great Northern ore certificates fell 1.

Profound neglect marked the dealings in stocks, and no feature of interest presented itself. Sales of the Western railroad stocks were made in the second hour, but holders becoming discouraged at the lack of sympathy shown by the standard blocks with the bidding up of special issues. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Chicago-Great Western preferred and Ails-Chalmers preferred gave way and Bethlehem Steel 6 points. Bonds were irregular.

The market closed rather heavy and dull. The sag in prices had put St. Paul a point under last night and Atlantic Coast Line 1½, when the upward flight in the price of Canadian Pacific turned the market upward. Reports were in circulation of an intended extra dividend disbursement of proceeds of the land sales. Canadian Pacific itself r

CLARK CONFIRMS THE REPORT OF HIS SALE OF COPPER PROPERTY

Butte District Holdings Are Turned Over to the Amalgamated.

Ex-Senator Says It Was Cash Deal and Not Related to Merger.

Does Not Mean That He Is to Retire From That Field.

New York, May 14.—Former Senator William A. Clark of Montana, departing today for Europe, confirmed the report that he had sold certain of his copper properties in the Butte district to the Amalgamated Copper company. Mr. Clark said that the sale did not mean he intended retiring from the copper field.

"I received no Anaconda stock for my Butte mines," said Senator Clark. "The transaction being strictly for cash. The deal has nothing to do with the reported impending big copper merger and I am not interested in the merger in any way.

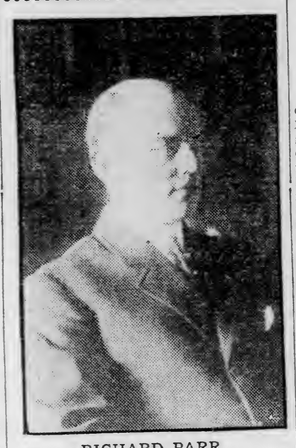
"The copped situation will work itself out in time. The consumption is good and at the present time there are not more than four months' supply of copper now mined in the world."

Property Included in Sale.

The property includes what originally was known as the Stewart mines and the Butte Reduction works, where the Clark ores have been treated. Senator Clark, however, will retain his zinc mines in the northern part of the Butte field.

Officers of the Amalgamated would say nothing of the transfer, and Senator Clark could not be reached. He is about to sail for Europe.

GOVERNMENT WITNESS IN SUGAR CASE ILL



RICHARD PARR.
The Man Who Discovered the Secret of the Fraudulent Scales at the Customs Dock.

NEW HITCH IN HEIKE'S TRIAL

Neither Parr Nor Schmelter May Be Able to Testify Next Week.

Two Chief Government Witnesses Stricken With Illness.

New York, May 14.—Misfortune seems to be pursuing witnesses in the sugar scandal cases. Recently Richard Parr, star witness in preceding trials and expected to figure prominently in the trial of Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, was threatened with peritonitis and it is still uncertain whether he can appear at the trial next week. Today it was learned that Otto Schmelter, one of the American Sugar Refining company's bookkeepers, upon whose testimony the government depends even more largely in the Heike prosecution, is seriously ill. The prospects are that he will be unable to testify.

Two Important Witnesses.

Parr uncovered the crooked work with the scales on the Williamsburg sugar docks which sent a quartet of checkers and Oliver Spitzer, their foreman, to the penitentiary, after a sensational trial.

Schmelter, whose post was in the sugar company's offices, checked the weighing operations. It was the tables he prepared and concerning which he testified at previous trials that enabled the government to show the differences proving the underweighing which sent the checkers to prison and which resulted in the refunding to the

HOFFSTOT LOSES HABEAS CORPUS

New York, May 14.—The writ of habeas corpus obtained by Frank N. Judge Holt, however, said he would grant a stay if Hoffstot desired to appeal. Hoffstot's extradition to Pennsylvania was recently ordered by Governor Hughes.

M. Clements. Seven aldermen who acted jointly with the mayor in failing to reinstate the men were fined $5 each on each count.

Slater Goes to Prison.

Taft, Dickinson and Ballinger Confer on New Mexican Outbreak.

Ranchmen Armed Against Indians Angered By Taking of Census.

Washington, May 14.—President Taft conferred this morning with Secretary Dickinson and Secretary Ballinger, regarding the uprising of the Pueblo Indians at Taos, N. M. It was decided to send a troop of cavalry at once from Fort Wingate to quell the uprising and restore order. The president was unwilling that the territorial militia of New Mexico should deal with the situation.

Ranchmen Fear Indians.

Taos, N. M., May 14.—Ranchmen throughout this section spent a sleepless night keeping vigilant watch against a possible organized raid by Pueblo Indians from the reservation north of here, but at daylight no word of any further movement on the part of the braves had reached this town.

Following raids of yesterday and the day before, in which the ranch of L. S. Meyers was attacked, the buildings burned and fences destroyed and, it is reported, the female members of the family attacked, everybody armed themselves and gathered in groups for better protection.

Troops from Santa Fe and other points ordered yesterday were due to arrive this morning, but in the meantime a general massacre was feared, as authentic news came that fifty or more of the warriors of the San Juan and other tribes were wearing war paint and engaged in war dances

WOUNDED OFFICER KILLS BURGLAR

Other Thieves Loot Nearby House During Pistol Fight in Street.

San Francisco, May 14.—An unidentified burglar and Patrolman William Maguire engaged in a running pistol fight in the central residence district early today. The burglar was shot through the heart and instantly killed and the pooliceman was probably fatally injured.

In the excitement attending the shooting, thieves, believed to have been accomplices of the robber who was killed, entered an apartment house nearby and from the rooms of Mrs. Colin Church, stole jewelry said to be worth $1,500.

A lodging house proprietor discovered the burglar climbing through a window of his room. He raised an alarm and two policemen started in pursuit of the fleeing thief.

Maguire, coming around a corner, encountered the burglar, who instantly shot the patrolman through the abdomen. As Maguire fell he drew his pistol and shot the man dead.

MORE WOMEN GET BALLOT

Norway Grants Municipal Suffrage to All Over 25 Years Old.

Nearly Quarter of a Million More Electors Made By the Action.

Christiania, Norway, May 14.—By a great majority the odelsting has voted to grant universal municipal suffrage to women over 25 years of age. The new legislation will become effective at the next elections and will increase the present women electors from 270,000 to 500,000.

The odelstring is the controlling legislative body of Norway. The general assembly, the storthing, is elected by popular vote, and upon convening annually divides itself into houses, the lagting and the odelsting. The former is composed of one-fourth of the total members of the storthing and the other of the remaining three-fourths. The revision of the government belongs exclusively to the odelsting, in which house all new legislation must be first considered.

Since 1907, women have been allowed to vote under the same conditions as men, only when they, or the husband, when the couple have the property in common, have paid an income tax of 400 kroner in the town and 300 kroner in the country districts.

JURY IN HYDE CASE WILL BE GIVEN UNTIL TUESDAY NIGHT TO AGREE; STATE HAS NO HOPE OF VERDICT

MRS. B. CLARKE HYDE.

Voting Is Said to Have Altered Materially After First Night.

Twelve Men Seem Unable to Agree---Few Spectators in Courtroom.

Dr. Hyde Meets His Wife Early on Arrival at Trial Scene.

Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—For three hours, from 9 until 12 o'clock today, the jury that is trying Dr. B. C. Hyde on a charge of murder vainly balloted in an effort to reach an agreement. According to unverified reports from the jury room, voting this morning showed a decided change from that of last night. At noon it was said on good authority that the last vote stood 7 to 5 for conviction.

Prosecutor Virgil S. Conkling has given up hope of the jury's reaching an agreement. Before noon he told Mrs. Logan O. Swope he believed the body would disagree.

Judge Latshaw announced today that he would probably hold the jury until Tuesday night, and if they had not disposed of the case by that time, discharge them.

The jury was taken to its hotel for dinner shortly after noon and ordered to return at 1:30 o'clock.

Verdict Was Expected.

An early verdict was expected in the Hyde murder trial when the jury resumed its deliberations this morning. When the jury retired to its hotel last night at 11:35 o'clock after taking half a dozen ballots it is stated the vote was 11 to 1 for acquittal. The lone juror said, however, that if an adjournment was taken until this morning he would weigh the evidence carefully and report early today as to changing his vote.

The first ballot, it is said, stood 9 to 3 for an acquittal. On the second ballot another juror voted for acquittal and several more votes were taken with the same result. Then came the last ballot, leaving but one man voting against the physician.

It was shortly before 10 o'clock last

Works on Correspondence.

Berlin, May 14.—Amid the quiet surrounding of the Roosevelt library at the University of Berlin, Mr. Roosevelt this morning again tackled the correspondence which has outrun him from the moment that he emerged from the African jungles. He failed to catch up, but before noon today he had made great progress.

Later the former president received and had a chat with Prof. C. G. Schilling and Paul Niedieck, two of Germany's best known hunters of African big game. Mr. Roosevelt had lunch as the guest of Joseph C. Grew, second secretary of the American embassy. Other guests were Mrs. Roose-

EIGHT MONTHS AND $5,000 FINE FOR PITTSBURG MAN

Former Bank Cashier Is Sentenced in Civic Scandal Cases.

Seven Other Prominent Men Hear Fate in Bribery Scandals.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—Ten prominent men of affairs of Pittsburg, including bankers, physicians and former prominent politicians, faced Judge Robert S. Frazer in criminal court today to receive their sentences on various charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with councilmanic corruption recently exposed.

Of the ten men appearing in court today, all except one have already pleaded no defense to indictments alleging the giving and receiving of bribe money.

When court opened the name of A. A. Vilsack, former cashier of the German National bank, was called. Vilsack was represented by his attorney, ex-Governor William A. Stone, who at once made motion for an argument to appeal any sentence that might be forthcoming later. At the conclusion of the argument Judge Frazer imposed

HOOSIER ROBBERS WRECK BUILDING

Fire at Citizens Aroused By Attack on Postoffice, But Get No Money.

Scottsburg, Ind., May 14.—A gang of robbers in endeavoring to rob the postoffice here early today practically wrecked the building; fired at citizens who had been aroused by the explosion and escaped without, it is believed, securing any money. Posses were quickly organized and sent in pursuit.

Fire alarms here are sounded by revolver shots, and in response to a fusillade the whole town turned out to find, not a house ablaze, but a band of safe blowers busy with the strong box at the postoffice and exchanging bullets with men in a hotel across the street.

Yells of warning and redoubled shots kept the crowd back for a time, but as it grew and began surrounding the postoffice building, the robbers lost nerve, dropped their tools and fled into the darkness. They had not yet cracked the inner money vault.

Under Present System Settler Is Almost Certain of Contest.

Likely to Spend Savings, Waste Time and Lose Land.

Openings of government land for filing and settlement, such as the opening of Minnesota lands set for June 20, are factors for contests, sources of immense revenue for land lawyers, and sources of years to worry and great expense for those who brave the dangers of game and place their all on the turn of a card.

Land openings conducted on the lottery plan are gambling games, but everybody has an equal chance. If a man files and loses, he is through. If he files under the filing and settlement system, he may lose in the end, but not until he has paid a good round sum in lawyer's fees and has lived in apprehension for two or three or four years, while the contest case drags through the complicated and involved

SVEA BANQUET PROVES A REPUBLICAN LOVE FEAST

Governor Eberhart Is Guest of Honor at Notable Gathering.

Says Insurgency Proves That the Party Is Alive.

The banquet of the Svea Republican club at the St. Louis hotel last evening was an unqualified success as a civic and social affair.

As a Republican love feast it was just as unqualifiedly a success, and the guests went away with an enlivened confidence in the triumphant destiny of the party and a feeling of satisfaction with the talks they had heard. At least, that is what many of them said.

Governor Eberhart was the principal speaker of the evening. He was in a happy mood and talked entertainingly. His opening remarks were calculated to induce a corresponding mood in his audience, and gradually he progressed in his remarks to a protracted climax of ortnodoox Republican oratory that seemed to make a hit with the banqueters.

Otto Gafvert, president of the Svea Republican club, opened the proceedings by introducing Dr. J. J. Ecklund, the toastmaster, and he in turn introduced Rev. J. A. Krantz who spoke the invocation. Dr. Eklund then took the floor for a brief talk, and in a happily worded parase or two said that a song by Miss Alice Sjosellus would be the first feature of the program. Miss Sjosellus sang "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and was so heartily encored that it was necessary for her to favor the audience with two additional songs, both of them Swedish.

C. E. Elmquist Speaks.

Charles E. Elmquist, state railroad and warehouse commissioner, was the first of the speakers called upon. His subject was "Republican Observations," and he remarked that it permitted of a wide range of treatment by the speaker. He told of the good work and high standing of the Minnesota grain inspection service and made a number of diverting local "slams," not overlooking the Duluth newspapers. Mr. Elmquist contrasted the methods and political practices of the Republican and Democratic parties in the state, finding in it much to the credit of his own party. He talked at some length of the possible nominee of the Democratic party for governor, and mentioned "John" Hammond and "John Hays" Hammond in referring to the Democratic representative in congress from the Second district.

A ripple of laughter swept over the audience when Commissioner Elmquist took up the high cost of living. He had no sooner mentioned the subject than the ventilating fan near the speaker's table was started, and many glances of amusement went from the fan to the speaker.

Because the men who made it are human, the speaker said, it was impossible that the new tariff law could be perfect. He praised President Taft and said that in the seven years of the Roosevelt regime the reform legislation fought for and secured by Roosevelt were won only after five years of effort. As Taft has been in office only thirteen months, he should be given more time to demonstrate what he can do, said the speaker, who expressed confidence that the president will make good. Mr. Elmquist made an extended argument in favor of the tariff commission advocated by the president and said that the executive was deserving of praise and commendation for his stand on this question. He spoke a good word for the court of commerce bill that has passed the house and declared that the opponents of Taft's legislative program are the representatives of vested interests.

Miss Sjoselius sang "Annie Laurie" and as encores two Swedish songs that seemed to please the audience immensely, and then Governor Eberhart was introduced. The welcome given him by the banqueters was of the proportions of an ovation, as it had been when he entered the dining hall.

"Progressive Republicanism" was the title of the governor's talk. In his introductory remarks he addressed, among others, "The Ancient and United Order of Candidates for Lieutenant Governor and Treasurer," that element of Republicanism being represented by C. M. Sprague of Sauk Center and Mayor Walter J. Smith of Eveleth.

The Governor Speaks.

Governor Eberhart declared that "we are all progressives" and predicted that the Republican party will roll up a greater majority next November than ever and will demonstrate that it is alive as it never was before. He rejoiced that there is insurgency in the party, saying that a spirit of intelligent insurgency was an unmistakable evidence that the party is thoroughly alive.

"The Democrats haven't any insurgents in their party," he said, "because there is no one in the Democratic party to insurge. The opposition will attempt—is attempting—to divide our forces into factions, standpatters and insurgents, and against this loyal Republicans must be on their guard." Pleading for fairness on the tariff question, Governor Eberhart said:

"We have laid down the fundamental principle that the tariff should be no greater than the difference between the cost of production here and abroad plus a reasonable profit to the American producer, but congress could not be expected to pass a perfect bill on this basis.

"If President Taft does nothing more than establish the tariff commission he has done more, in my opinion than most of the presidents who have served in that distinguished position."

Governor Eberhart insisted that because of the complex and varied questions involved in tariff legislation, Republican members of congress might consistently, as party men, vote either way on the tariff. He described it as a conscientious issue. Separate herding of tariff sheep and goats would be of advantage only to the Democrats he said.

President Taft, in the governor's estimation, will before the expiration of his term of office, make a record of accomplishment and achievement second to that of none of the presidents of recent years.

"All through the state I have found a feeling of confidence that the Republican party will prevail in the election this fall," said the governor.

SENATOR G. H. SULLIVAN,
One of the Speakers.

"There is observable a disposition on all sides to bury all factional differences and join hands to make the party's cause a triumphant one."

Governor Eberhart concluded with a graceful appreciation of the greeting and welcome given him by the club, and on behalf of the other visitors thanked the club and the city for their hospitality.

Madame Gagna and Mr. Osterberg sang a duet that was not on the program and pleased the guests so very much that they were forced repeatedly to respond to encores.

Other Speakers.

O. J. Larson of Duluth, James P. Boyle of Eveleth and Senator George H. Sullivan of Stillwater were the other speakers. Mr. Larson made a stirring talk on "The Spirit of America," in which he told in glowing phrases of the melting pot and its product, especial attention being given to the part that the public schools are playing in the transformation of the children of foreign born parents into thoroughly Americanized citizens.

Senator Sullivan's talk came straight from the shoulder. He told of what has been done by the party, and spoke also of what is to be done. He pleaded for that regularity, that loyalty that has made Republican successes in the past, and altogether his talk was one of the frankest and most sensible that Duluth Republicans have heard for many moons.

Mr. Boyle made one of the most striking speeches of the evening. His talk was a red hot Republican preachment, and the ardor of the audience as evidenced by frequent interruptions of applause was proof that it was what the banqueters wanted to hear. Mr. Boyle served notice, inferentially, on the old-time leaders of the party that any symptoms of a fossilized condition will in the future be diagnosed as cause for the eradication of the victim.

The banquet came to an end with the guests and speakers singing "America." Governor Eberhart was the center of an animated group for some time after the diners began to disperse.

SEVENTY-FIVE BUILDINGS UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT THE WEST END

NELSON BROS. KNITTING MILL AND BUSINESS BLOCK, UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT TWENTY-FIRST AVENUE WEST AND SUPERIOR STREET. A TYPE OF BRICK BUILDINGS AT THE WEST END.

Building operations at the West end are attracting much attention this spring, not only from real estate dealers, who are always in touch with the situation, but from casual visitors, transients and would-be investors.

Inquiry among contractors results in the statement that before the year has closed that there will be 500 new buildings erected at the West end. It is estimated that about seventy-five of this number are now in the course of construction.

During the past two or three years there has been a movement on foot among working men at the West end to buy property and erect homes of their own. For this reason, there are more frame residences erected than brick flats.

On the hillside district, the Piedmont avenue car line extension has done much to boom the building situation. Since the car line has been assured rentals have gone up and property is being held for higher prices than formerly. Much building is being done along the hillside and much more is in prospect.

A pleasing type of the bungalow residence which is being erected on West Third street, is that of E. A. Smith at 2311 West Third street. The structure is a six-room affair, the interior to be finished elaborately. The contractor, Henry Hallfrisch, expects to have the place ready for occupancy in three weeks.

At Twenty-second avenue west and Second street, northwest corner, David Adams will build four houses, all modern, at a cost of $10,000. Two of the structures have already been started and the others will probably be commenced next week. On the southwest corner, Dr. O. A. Oredson is planning the erection of a $12,000 store and flat building.

Bergstrom Bros. have recently completed a modern two-story brick flat and store building at Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, southeast corner. On the southwest corner is the new edifice which the First Swedish Baptist congregation of the West end has in course of construction. This church is to cost $25,000.

David Adams is also erecting a store and five-room house at Forty-first avenue west and Third street. The store will be ready for occupancy in about three weeks. Dr. L. Q. Greeley expects to have his brick flats on Twenty-third avenue west between Third and Fourth street completed by June 1. The structure was put up at a cost of $8,000.

A new store building to cost $12,000 is being erected on West Third street betwen Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth avenues. It will be a two-story affair.

Besides the Swedish Baptist congregation, other churches will start building operations at the West end this summer. The St. Clement's Catholic parish will have a new $35,000 church, the largest in the West end, at the southeast corner of Twenty-first avenue west and Third street. The excavation work for this edifice has already been completed.

The Seventh Day Adventists have purchased a lot at Twenty-second avenue west and Fourth street and arrangements have been made to build. The new church will cost close to $10,000. The Grace M. E. church, northeast corner of Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will be remodeled at a cost of $10,000, the work to commence at once.

It was also announced in The Herald this week that the Norwegian societies of the city are considering a proposition to build a Norwegian hall at the West end. Members of the committee favor a location on West First street, near the business section of the West end.

The Scandinavian Help and Aid society is planning the erection of a hall, but no plans of a definite nature have been formulated.

The Scandinavian Good Templar organization at the West end has a location on West Second street and effort is being made to raise money for a building fund.

On West Superior street a number of good-sized projects are under way. The Twentieth avenue West corner, it is understood, will be a site for a modern hotel. Tenants who now occupy the corner have received instructions to be ready to move in case of a thirty days' notice.

A type of the brick business blocks which are being constructed at the West end is the Nelson Bros. knitting mill, on the upper side of Superior street, near Twenty-first avenue west. The new factory is on the lot adjoining the present location. The building is completely fireproof and covers the entire lot of 50 by 140 feet.

The first story has been divided in half, one part to be used by Nelson Bros. for an office and retail department. The other half will be arranged for a vaudeville house. On the second floor the front part will be arranged for offices. The knitting factory will occupy the rear 100 feet of the second floor.

The factory will be modern in every particular and especially arranged for the comfort of the employes. A large number of skylights will be placed in the ceiling.

The west half of the first floor and basement has been leased to E. A. Nelson, proprietor of the Mutual Electric company and the Star theater of the West end. He has arranged a booking service with the Sullivan & Considine circuit of New York.

The new theater will comply with the most exacting rules of the building inspector. The entrance will be on the street level with a commodious lobby. The stage will be twenty feet deep, twenty-two feet high and twenty-four feet deep. The seating capacity will be 400.

Plan Church Bazaar.

In benefit of St. Peter's Swedish Episcopal church, a bazaar will be given Thursday and Friday evenings, May 19 and 20 at St. Luke's Episcopal church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street. There will be singing by the Svea Glee club. A good program will be rendered and refreshments will be served.

West End Shortrails.

Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church, returned today from Chicago, where he has been attending a national meeting of Baptists.

Mrs. William N. Chapman of 319 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, is reported to be ill at her home.

A confirmation class of thirty-one members will receive its first communion tomorrow morning at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street.

The Duluth State bank, recently organized at 1924 West Superior street will open its doors to the public for the first time Monday.

Axel Swanson of 1907 West First street left last evening for Sweden where he will spend the remainder of the summer on a visit with his parents.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church presented "Men, Maids and Matchmakers," a three act comedy last evening to a good-sized audience at the church parlors last evening.

Rev. Peter Peterson, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran church of St. Paul will be the principal speaker at a local celebration of the golden anniversary of the Swedish Lutheran churches of this country held tomorrow at Bethany church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street.

Rev. J. W. Loughridge, pastor Central Baptist church, has returned from a trip to Chicago.

SELECT SITE FOR CHURCH

New Home for St. Paul's Congregation Will Cost $100,000.

St. Paul's Episcopal church will erect its new edifice at the corner of Seventeenth avenue east and Superior street and the complete cost will exceed $100,000.

The definite decision was reached at a meeting of the vestry which was held yesterday afternoon.

Preliminary sketch plans for the building were presented by Mr. Goodhue of the firm of Crane, Goodhue & Ferguson, architects, of New York. With a few changes the plans were accepted, and they are to be perfected and submitted in detail at the earliest possible date. The erection of the building will go forward as rapidly as possible.

The new church will be on the southeastern corner of Seventeenth avenue east and the deal purchasing four lots at that location will be completed at once.

MRS. L'ENGLE IS HEARD IN RECITAL.

Glen Avon Presbyterian church was filled last evening with the people of the suburb and many from the city for the concert presented there. The feature of greatest attraction was Mrs. Rebecca McKenzie L'Engle, whose singing is always heard with great pleasure by her Duluth friends. The assisting musicians, Mrs. Eleanor Dickinson Tate, who gave an organ number and presided at the piano, and Fritz Friederici, violinist, were heard with delight and added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Mrs. L'Engle sang an aria of Massenet, a group of French songs and three of American composers, but it was in the Scotch folk songs that she was most gladly welcomed, for she has made the interpretation of them, her own.

The audience was most enthusiastic and the performers were encored in every number.

Fraud Indictment Faulty.

Chicago, May 14.—Judge Baldwin yesterday ordered the jury in the case of James P. Connery, charged with defrauding the city on coal contracts, to return a verdict of not guilty. The court declared the indictment faulty.

HERALD NEWSBOYS TO BE GUESTS AT THEATER PARTY NEXT WEDNESDAY

Little groups of Herald newsies were to be seen discussing something very earnestly in every part of town yesterday.

It was the news being spread of the big theater party to be given to the newsboys by The Herald next Wednesday night at the Lyceum when Lyman H. Howe's New York Hippodrome Travel Festival will entertain them. The entire upper floor of the Lyceum has been reserved for them and the boys are to see all the wonderful moving pictures with all the remarkable accompaniment that so pleased the New York playhouse audiences a few months ago. The youngsters will be taken to Egypt and see the Pyramids and the Sphinx; to Russia and view the home of the czar and his noted Cossack soldiers; witness the flights of Wilbur Wright's aeroplane, and ride on the runaway train at the rate of 150 miles an hour down the steep grades of the Tyrolean Alps. There will be two and one-half hours of the best possible amusement for the boys. Tickets will be given them Wednesday.

TROPHY GOES TO CENTRAL

By a narrow margin, Duluth Central high school won the cup given by Dr. Charles J. Wallace in an oratorical and declamatory contest at the Blaine high school auditorium last evening. The schools represented were the Duluth Central, Duluth Industrial, Blaine and Nelson Dewey.

Stanley Lamb of the Central high was awarded a gold medal for first place in the declamatory division and Roger Lerch, also of the Central high, finished second in the oratorical race. The winning school received 548 points. Blaine of Superior ran a close second with 543 points. The cup was presented by the donor, Dr. Wallace, who said that contests of this kind kindled a desire for public speaking and taught young people to cultivate genius of character and purpose.

The Central high will surrender the cup next year and it will be played for again. The school winning the most times in ten years is the permanent owner. The attendance was very large, many coming from Duluth.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE NEWS

New York, May 14.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s, Weekly Review of Trade today says:

Little new business has developed in pig iron, although in certain directions more inquiries are noted. Consumers generally delay important purchasers for forward delivery because of uncertainty regarding prices. Various wage advances have increased producers' costs and not unnaturally any further concessions are not readily granted. The leading interest has still further curtailed blast furnace operations, now having about thirty stacks idle, and it is estimated that stocks are decreasing at the rate of approximately 25,000 tons weekly. Specifications on finished products are heavier, with a considerable inquiry from the railroads, yet actual orders are not large.

Quietness pervades the dry goods markets, orders being of a hand-to-mouth character all along the line, but anticipation of deliveries on some lines of fall cottons, is noted, the advance business booked by jobbers being exceptionally good. Cotton goods show fractional advances in some lines for converting and printing, but manufacturers complain that orders are being booked below the current cost of production. Export trade is light. Woolens and worsteds are quiet, offerings of stock goods serving to accentuate the trend of values downward. Yarns show a little more movement at a sacrifice on costs. The fall carpet season opened satisfactorily following the sucessful auction distribution. Fancy silks are being ordered better for fall, but staples are quiet.

Immediate trading in boots and shoes is quiet, but the business placed shows a decided gain over several months back and shipments continue to increase. Most kinds of sole leather are firm and there are more than the usual number of British buyers here who are taking fairly large quantities. The market for hides shows even more dullness this week than last, and sales of domestic packer and country hides are few and scattered. Prices are irregular. Foreign dry hides are firm and some small sales of common descriptions of Latin-Americans were made at an advance of ½-cent.

"Gwen's Challenge".....
Miss Laura Cote, Blaine High.
"The Soldier Tramp".....
Miss Eva Ketchum, Irving High.
"Hagar".....
Miss Eileen Keaough, Dewey High.
"Comin' Through the Rye".....
Girls' Double Quartet, Blaine High.

POLICEMAN AND LIQUORMAN KILLED

Fight in Saloon Also Leads to Wounding of Three Persons.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 14.—Policeman Hiers and Daniel Dansen, proprietor of a saloon here, are dead and three other persons, including a woman companion of the saloon keeper, are in hospitals suffering from pistol wounds following a battle late last night between two officers and Dansen and his son in the saloon. The fight followed efforts of Officer Ammons to close Dansen's saloon, which was open after lawful hours.

Patrolman Ammons proceeded to club Daniel Dansen when the latter's son Harry opened fire, shattering the hand which held the club. Ammons then fired six shots, each taking effect, and the elder Dansen fell dead.

Policeman Heirs, attracted by the firing, was shot through the head by young Dansen as he entered. The woman was hit by a stray bullet and her condition is serious.

Harry Dansen was arrested charged with murder.

RAVINE AS CITY PARK

George L. Woollen Advocates Purchase of East End Property.

Land Was Originally Platted as Avenue and Later Vacated.

George L. Woollen of 1911 East Third street believes that the ravine at Twenty-second avenue east, between Second and Fourth streets, should be secured by the city for park purposes.

He says that the ravine was originally platted as Twenty-second avenue east, but that about two years ago the adjacent property owners induced the council to declare it vacated, giving them the benefit of sixty-six additional feet without expense.

Mr. Woollen states that the property is so desirable that the park board should secure it even though it has to purchase it outright, although the city once owned it and gave it away without getting any return. Later, he explains, that the ravine could be beautified from Fourth street to the Normal school. He sugests a driveway as one of the best improvements. He complains that the property owners who benefitted by the vacation have fenced in the ravine, depriving the public of all the pleasure which he thinks is rightfuly theirs by reason of the property having once belonged to the city.

Should the city secure it as park property he is confident that the much-discussed Oregon creek bridge will be built. He feels that the people in the East end will be glad to contribute towards the structure if the ground is thrown open to general use. He is enthusiastic over the proposition and states that he intends to do all in his power to carry the plan to a successful culmination.

Muscular Development.

The secret of being well rounded and having the hollows filled out is not to be padded with fat, but to have good muscular development, such as may be acquired by persistent exercise, together with the daily use of a good malt tonic, such as Golden Grain Belt beer.

Order a case for home use and be convinced of its invigorating qualities. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company.

GREATEST LOSS IS IN BURNING OF SOIL.

Prof. Thomas Shaw, until recently head of the department of animal industry, who is now agricultural expert for the Great Northern and the state of Montana and who is in Duluth for the board of trustees of Macalester college, thinks spring forest fires are due entirely to the carelessness of homesteaders. Settlers, he says, neglect brush fires.

The chief loss, Prof. Shaw declares, is in the burning of the organic matter covering the forest floor. It contains a large percentage of nitrogen.

Say Opulento to your dealer.

ACCUSED OF PLOT TO AVOID DUTIES

Former Governor of New Hampshire and His Son Are Arrested.

New York, May 14.—Frank W. Rollins, former governor of New Hampshire and now a banker with offices in Boston; his wife Catherine and his son Douglas are charged in the sworn complaint of a customs inspector "with conspiracy to smuggle into the United States wearing apparel and jewelry and souvenirs without paying or accounting for the duties legally due thereon."

Mr. Rollins and his son were arraigned late yesterday afternoon before a federal commissioner and released on $2,000 bail. Mrs. Rollins was prostrated and took to her bed in a hotel immediately on landing from the Lusitania.

The Rollinses were first-class passengers on the Lusitania from Liverpool. They brought nine trunks, of which Mr. Rollins declared only a woman's fur jacket valued at $800. The examination of their baggage had only partly been completed when Inspector Cassidy stepped to the desk of Deputy Collector Raschiwiecz and whispered in his ear. Mr. Rollins was summoned and told dutiable goods had been found and that a search of their state rooms would be made.

Jewelry Not Declared.

Customs officers afterwards swore that on the person of the former governor were found several articles of jewelry, on Mrs. Rollins a pearl mounted watch and studs, and on Douglas Rollins more jewelry. It is charged that none of this jewelry had been declared, but the estimated value was not given. The arrests followed, and the hearing was set for May 20.

Frank W. Rollins was governor of New Hampshire from 1894 to 1901 and is the author of "The Ring of Cliffe," "What Can a Young Man Do," and other books. His home is at Concord, N. H.

Foxhall Keene, millionaire polo player and sportsman, also a passenger on the Lusitania was notified by customs inspectors that he had failed to declare wearing apparel brought from England, said to be worth $300.

Mr. Keene said the omission was an oversight and he would be glad to pay the 60 per cent duty. His explanation was accepted.

GERTRUDE SMITH PASSES AWAY

Popular West Duluth Girl Dies After Long Illness.

Miss Gertrude Smith, daughter of Mrs. B. H. Smith of 7 North Fifty-third avenue west, died at 6 o'clock this morning at the family residence after an illness of several weeks. Death was due to stomach trouble followed by a nervous breakdown. She was 21 years old.

Her father, Benjamin H. Smith, an old resident of West Duluth and a Civil was veteran, died about two weeks ago. She was confined to her bed at the time of his death and could not attend the funeral. Her condition was regarded as critical most of the time since her father's death.

Miss Smith had, for the past few years, been prominent in musical circles. She was an active worker in the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church of West Duluth, where she was a member of the choir and often had charge of the song service. She also sung at a number of the musical entertainments held under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic of which her father was a member.

Surviving her are two brothers, Eugene Frank and Harry C. Smith, both of Portland, Or., one sister, Mrs. Angus C. Macauley of this city and her mother. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street. Rev. William G. Chamberlain's Liniment.

This is a new preparation and a good one. It is especially valuable as a cure for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and for the relief from pain which it affords in acute inflammatory rheumatism. Those who have used it have invariably spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Lame back, lame shoulder and stiff neck are due to rheumatism of the muscles, usually brought on by exposure to cold or damp, and are quickly cured by applying this liniment freely and massaging the affected parts. Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is allayed by this liniment. For sale by all druggists.

SEN. SULLIVAN VISITS DULUTH

Senator George H. Sullivan of Stillwater came to Duluth to attend the Svea club banquet last night. Senator Sullivan is a friend of Northern Minnesota and he made many friends in this part of the state by his attitude while the tonnage tax bill was before the senate. He made an able speech against the bill and cast his vote against it.

Senator Sullivan is a candidate for re-election this year and the present outlook is that he will have no opposition, either at the primaries or at the polls. There was some talk of John T. Zelch, a member of the house from Washington county, entering the list against Senator Sullivan, but Mr. Zelch has evidently concluded that the people of the district are satisfied with the senator now representing them and he will probably be a candidate for re-election to the house.

PREPARING FOR ART EXHIBIT

The weekly meetings of the Duluth Art association are being held at the Duluth Commercial club in preparation for the exhibit which will be held in the top floor of the new courthouse, beginning the week of May 23, and continuing for two weeks. Another meeting will be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club rooms and any one interested is invited to attend the meeting.

Bishop McGolrick, who has been identified with the various phases of progress in Duluth, is president of the association and with the committees is working diligently to make the exhibit a great success. The home showing of paintings, all originals, will be of particular interest and the Duluth people who possess raro and valuable pictures have been most generous in loaning their works to the exhibit. There will be more than 100 pictures, owned by Duluthians, in the exhibit.

There will be several features of particular interest. David Ericson, the eminent artist that Duluth considers her own, is in the city after a two years' absence, and it is hoped that he will have a special showing. C. C. Rosenkranz of Duluth, who has lived here for three years, will also have a special showing of his works and his pictures which recently received honorable mention at the Buffalo Exhibit of Artists, will be among those displayed.

In addition to the local showing, there will be collections from out of town dealers that will be of great interest and value.

During the two weeks of the exhibit there will be special lectures by local and out of town speakers and there will be a series of receptions on the various days. A school children's contest for cash prizes amounting to $30, will be given for the best papers on "The Picture I Liked Best and Why." It is expected that during the two weeks that the show will be held that many hundreds of Duluthians will avail themselves of the opportunity to see the works of art which the society will bring.

BAD FIRE AT SPLIT ROCK

That forest fires have destroyed the corundum mill at Split Rock, on the north shore, is the opinion of passengers on the America, which passed Split Rock yesterday bound for Duluth. M. H. Murray of 428 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, who has two hunting cabins at that place, today stated that passengers on the boat claimed that the forest fires were creeping along in that direction of the mill.

Only a miracle, they said, could prevent the mill from destruction. Back of the mill is considerable brush and old timber which has been cut and piled up. This is very dry and if the fire has caught by this time nothing could save the property.

The mill has not been operating for the past two years. The men interested in the concern, are: John Jenswold, Duluth; W. A. Whitney, Superior; H. I. Pineo, Duluth; D. D. McInnis, Minneapolis, and H. A. Woodbury, Barnum.

No later reports have been heard from Split Rock.

ORPHANAGE TO BE READY JUNE 15

The Sisters of St. Benedict, in charge of St. James Orphanage at Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will move into the new Orphans' Home and Industrial school at Woodland about June 15. The original intention was to have the building ready for occupancy June 1, but delays in obtaining the furniture for the building has caused a postponement of the opening.

The new building is rapidly nearing completion. The interior finishing is progressing well and will be completed in a short time. Most of the furnishings have been ordered and they are expected to arrive about the first of June. They will be installed immediately and everything will be in place when the building is occupied.

The board which has charge of the erection of the new building, held a meeting at Bishop McGolrick's residence yesterday and discussed means for obtaining funds for the completion of the building. The board has already raised $85,000 and $30,000 additional will be needed to complete the erection and furnishing of the building.

The new Orphan's Home will be the best building of its kind in the Northwest. Children will be trained mentally and morally and will be thoroughly instructed in trades so that when discharged from the institution they will be fit to take their place in the world, self-supporting and independent.

UNKNOWN MAN CREMATED IN FRATERNITY BUNGALOW

The charred bones of an unidentified man were found in the cabin of the Lamba Sigma high school fraternity about two miles up Lester river this morning. Part of the skull, the hip bones and a fragment of the thigh were discovered on the top of a bunk against one of the walls on the lower floor. The cabin was gutted during the forest fires two or three days ago and it is supposed that the man had wandered inside to sleep when overtaken by the flames. None of the boys have occupied the cabin recently and no watchman has been kept there. None of the doors were locked so it would have been easy for any one passing to gain access. The gruesome discovery was made by Frank Erickson, a settler employed to make the assessment in that locality. He and County Commissioner John Tischer reported the matter to the police this noon. Mr. Erickson has the town of Lakewood in his district and was making the rounds of the different settlers in the locality when he came upon the burned ruins of the cabin. He started to make an examination of the interior to ascertain if anything had escaped when he came upon the few charred bones of what once had been a human being. The intensity of the heat is shown by the fact that the springs had been melted and run together. Mr. Tischer stated this morning that he was in the vicinity of the cabin Tuesday and that at that time the fires were raging all about it. He said he never suspected that any one was inside the place. No one has been reported missing at the police station and neither Mr. Erickson nor Mr. Tischer knew of any settlers in that part of the county who might have been near the cabin at the time of the fires Tuesday and Wednesday.

COPPER MARKET HAS STRENGTH

The copper market was strong today in sympathy with the industrial and railroad lists. Amalgamated, however, was well bought on confirmed reports that it has obtained control of the Clark properties in Montana and that production costs will be only 9c a pound for the combined holdings. The selling of the former senator's mineral interests to his old rival caused a good feeling among professionals and they purchased Amalgamated heavily. The healthy tone in this stock was communicated to other issues which acted well, although trading was light outside of Amalgamated.

Butte-Alex Scott, part paid, sold at $3.18¾, the full paid at $6.75 and $7, Denn at $2.12½ and $2.65, Red Warrior at $2.93¾, Shattuck at $30 and $29.62½, Carman at 80c, National at 32c and 33c. St. Mary's at 16c and Amazon at $3.

Amalgamated sold at $70, $69.87½, $71.62½ and $71.37½, Steel common at $82.87½ to $83.50 an $83.37½. Butte Coalition sold at $20.50 to $21, Calumet & Arizona at $63 to $63.50, Superior & Pittsburg at $12, North Butte at $33 to $33.75, Greene at $9, Giroux at $7.75 and $7.87½, Ojibway at $7.62½ and $7.50.

It is reported on good authority that the Amalgamated is after the Butte-Alex Scott. Senator Clark confirmed the report today that the Amalgamated had paid cash for his holdings and it is expected that if a deal is made with the Butte-Alex Scott people it will be on a cash basis.

The Scott property adjoins the West Colusa and the latter can be worked to more advantage if operated with the Scott. The price put upon the Scott holding is said to be so high that stockholders will obtain returns several times the present selling price of the stock. This is due chiefly to the small capitalization of the Scott.

The deal is in progress but there is no certainty that the Scott will be sold. The rumor is given for what it is worth. It comes from a source closely allied to the Scott management.

Patrick Ryan of Salt Lake City was in Duluth today. He is president of the St. Mary's Mining company, which has a property in the Star district of Beaver county, Utah. He said that development work is being pushed vigorously. Commercial ore is expected in ground which is still from 30 to 50 feet from the workings. A drift is being driven to the fissure crossing what is known as the Mars-Taylor vein. At this contact it is hoped to strike high grade ore. St. Mary's has some ore on the dump, but will not begin regular shipments until ore is shown up in the drift, said Mr. Ryan. He will leave tonight for Chicago, before returning to the mine.

BANQUET FOR DULUTH BOYS

The eighth annual banquet of the boys' department Y. M. C. A. was held last evening, and over 150 boys sat down and did justice to the splendid menu that was prepared for them by the committee of women who had the affair in charge.

After the banquet was finished, Watson S. Moore, who acted as toastmaster, gave the opening toast "Our country," which was responded to by the singing of the national anthem by the boys. This was followed by the toast "The Boys' Department," by Palmer Bevis, president of the cabinet, who gave a review of the work of the past year. He took occasion to thank all the members of the club who had assisted in any way towards making the work the success it was. The Duluth boys' department is one of the foremost in the United States, and he was proud of the honor that had been conferred on him in having been elected its president, he said.

Glen Merritt responded to the toast "An Opportunity." He spoke of the splendid opportunity the boys' department gave for service as well as enjoyment. The boys who did most were the boys who got the most, he said.

Phil Bevis, general secretary, responded to the toast "The Association." He gave a comprehensive view of the Young Men's Christian association, showing how it had adapted itself to every class of men and boys.

Caldwell Harris was called upon to congratulate the winning team in the $1,000 campaign. He did full justice to the topic, and made the boys feel glad that they had worked so hard. The winning team sat at the table of honor in the center of the room. Harold Bradley the captain of the winning team responded and told how it was done.

George Martin gave the toast to Camp Miller. He gave a brief review of the past twelve camps and graphically described life at Camp Miller. Before he was through he had every boy resolving that he would be in this year's party.

Rex St. Clair responded to the toast "The Ladies," and in well chosen words spoke of the many good qualities of the fair ones. He took occasion to thank all the ladies who had helped with the banquet, and the young ladies who served it. The boys' department orchestra gave a program of music, and Mr. Wegener physical director of central department, and Chester McLeod gave numbers, both having to respond to encores.

WILL INSTALL ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS ON ALL STREETS IN THE BUSINESS DISTRICT

DULUTH'S "WHITE WAY" AT NIGHT.

Duluthians are proud of the new lighting system on East Superior street and visitors in the city who have been that far east on the main street have remarked on the brilliant showing.

Strenuous efforts are now being put forth to light all the down town district in the same manner.

The idea is to extend the lights to the Soo depot at Sixth avenue west. The property owners are also anxious that they be placed from the docks up to the courthouse on Fifth avenue west. On First street, the lights will extend from First avenue west to Fifth avenue west. The property owners on this street seem to be anxious to have the lights installed and it is said that three-fourths of them have already signed the petition. The Superior street owners seem to be holding back.

THE TRAFFIC COMMISSION

Work Accomplished By That Body Since Its Organization.

Report Is Made to the Public Affairs Committee.

The work that has been accomplished by the Duluth traffic commission since its organization was shown in a report made last evening by the committee to the public affairs committee of the Commercial club.

The report reviews the work undertaken since the traffic committee was organized last September, and is of much importance to Duluth shippers. The report follows:

"T. W. Hugo, Chairman, Public Affairs Committee:

"The traffic commission was appointed by the public affairs committee Sept. 30, 1909.

"It is composed of the following: Chairman, C. R. Rust, treasurer and manager of Stone-Ordean-Wells company, secretary, C. Roy Hall. Commissioners: Julius H. Barnes, secretary and treasurer Ames-Brooks company; L. L. Culbertson, president Thos. Thompson company; Carl F. Rowe, traffic manager Marshall-Wells Hardware company; Frank O. Davison, traffic manager Kelly-How-Thomson company; Ernest A. Risden, traffic manager F. A. Patrick & Co.; Harry A. Earnshaw, traffic manager Stone-Ordean-Wells company. Counsel, Alexander Marshall.

"The first work undertaken was the construction of a comprehensive tariff file. Upon our request, thousands of tariffs have been sent us from all sections of the country, and the work of classifying, arranging, indexing and filing these tariffs has been continually going on. Our aim is to secure such a comprehensive and accurate tariff file that shippers may at all times be able to secure prompt and correct information as to freight rates in which they may be interested. That this feature of the work of the bureau is appreciated is shown by the fact that an average of over fifty requests for rates are received by the commission each working day; and to illustrate the reputation for accuracy which we are gaining, it is sufficient to say that the railroad offices frequently call upon our office for rates.

"Discriminations in rates are being developed as rapidly as possible, and proper action taken to secure readjustment. This involves careful and exhaustive checking of tariffs, lengthy correspondence and frequently personal conference with officials of the railroads. Already a number of adjustments in rates have been made upon our representations. The situation on the Soo line particularly, was somewhat involved on account of the newness of that line in here, and it is a pleasure to say that the Soo line officials have met us in a very receptive mood, and have adjusted matters to our satisfaction in the majority of cases.

Discriminations.

"The hardest problem has been the discrimination against Duluth shippers on account of the very poor service furnished us in comparison with that furnished to our competitors. We have devoted a great deal of attention to this subject, and the first thing we had to do was to satisfy the roads themselves that their service was abominable, and by tracing some thousands of shipments we secured abundant proof to overcome their skepticism. We have received assurance from all the roads that they consider our complaints well founded, and good results in the way of improvement in the service have already been obtained. Further improvement must and will follow, especially on shipments to the West.

"This is an important subject, for if we cannot lay our goods down as promptly as our competitor, other things being equal, he will get the business. We have drawn up a schedule of package freight car service out of Duluth, and are satisfied that it will be adopted by the roads. It is such a system that has enabled Chicago to obtain the jobbing supremacy over New York city, and has been the most potent factor in the growth of St. Louis.

"The service on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Iron Range roads is uniformly good. These are considered as Duluth roads, and they show a disposition to comply with all reasonable requests of Duluth shippers.

"The freight service on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic is also good, and it is another road which is looked upon as friendly to Duluth interests at all times.

"The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway and the Northwestern systems are giving us satisfactory freight service to practically all points with but few exceptions. The service to the latter is under careful investigation by the officials of the road, and it is a pleasure to express our appreciation of the spirit in which they received our advances in our efforts to secure needed improvements. The service on this road from Chicago has been subjected to some irregularity during the last few months, due to conditions which the operating officials of the system are striving hard to overcome. The switchmen's strike, severe and unexpected, storms and snow blockades, and an unprecedented rush of traffic have combined to cripple their service so that it is not quite up to the standard usually given. This situation, however, is being rapidly overcome, and on the whole the friendly attitude of the road to our interests is highly commendable.

Pioneer Work.

"On the Soo line, we have had to do a lot of what may be called pioneer work. When the line opened for business here on Jan. 3 of this year, the old traffic arrangements whereby business was handled in and out of here from and to Soo line points only in connection with the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Omaha railways, were of course abrogated, and the road was called upon to create, almost over night a new set of schedules under which our business could be promptly handled. As might be expected, complaint of delays to shipments began to come in in great numbers, and prompt and energetic measures were required to correct the difficulties before permanent damage was done to our trade. The opening of the line of course, opened new territory to Duluth jobbers, and a number of salesmen were sent out by the various houses into territory hitherto not cultivated. It is easy to be seen that delays of eight or ten days at the very outset of new campaign would have been extremely detrimental. Delays were particularly aggravating on the Soo line between Chippewa Falls and St. Paul, on the Soo line east and west from Ladysmith, Wis., on the line between Abbotsford and Ashland, and on the line from Duluth to Brooten. We are very glad to express in this report our sincere appreciation of the attitude in which the Soo line has received our complaints, and of the prompt and efficient way in which they have overcome our troubles.

"It is a pleasure to report that with with very few exceptions the service to all points on the Soo line is now extremely satisfactory, and when it is appreciated to what an extent the matter of freight service enters into securing trade, our gratification will be fully understood. It is our experience that where a railroad company has a desire to give us what we want, they can generally find a way to do it. Still further improvement will be brought about in the Soo line service to the West, as soon as operating conditions make it possible to run a time freight out of Duluth in the evening over the new Brooten line.

Poor Service.

"So far as the freight service of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways is concerned, we wish that we could report a substantial improvement, but the fact is that the service generally is poor, and in some cases abominable. We feel, however, that we have made a long step towards securing satisfactory service in finally convincing the officials of these roads that they regarded our complaints as based upon actual conditions. For a long time past we have felt that they regarded our complaints as based upon isolated cases, instead of truly representing the general situation. We feel, however, that we have satisfied these two roads that good service from Duluth has been absolutely the exception instead of the rule.

"The territory on these two roads is competitive with other jobbing centers in the highest degree, and the uniformly poor service from Duluth costs our jobbers an enormous sum yearly. We have had repeated conferences and correspondence with the officials of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, and they have given us assurance that we shall be provided immediately with fair and reasonable service to our territory. We have faith in these promises, and believe that the conditions which we have shown up to the officials of the two roads are fully as distasteful to them as they are to us. We believe that an honest effort will be made to change these unfavorable conditions, and unless they are changed, we shall feel it our duty to take whatever steps may lie in our power to force just and equitable treatment of our shipping interests.

"We wish we could say something nice about the Northern Pacific passenger service between here and the West, but after riding in the decrepit ark that runs as a sleeping car between Duluth and the coast, it is hard to think of kind words descriptive of the trip. The line from Duluth to Fargo was built about forty years ago, and was intended to be the main line, but anyone who has attempted the trip from Duluth will agree with the statement that we are on a side track as far as the passenger business is concerned. The records of this harbor show that during 1909 51,423 passengers arrived at and departed from this port via passenger steamships. It would be difficult to say accurately what proportion of this number continued to, or came from the West. It is a fact, however, that of those who do make a rail journey by far the greater proportion patronize the Northern Pacific railway, and the knowing ones travel by way of St. Paul. The through sleeping car on the night train, and the so-called observation car on the day train between here and Staples were put on as a compromise during our negotiations for through passenger service. We think anyone will admit that the sleeping car is hardly a credit to the road, or to Duluth, and the observation car on the day train is little more than a good second-hand coach. We ought to have a through train between Duluth and the coast, and if only three cars are run they ought to be good enough so that passengers are not attracted away from the train in favor of the Twin Cities, who might otherwise come through Duluth or to Duluth, and give us an opportunity to secure a share of their patronage.

"The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, in common with all the other roads, suffered severely from the strike and weather conditions, and they appear to be slower to recover than the other roads. It is undoubtedly due to the heavy demands upon their equipment to take care of their recently completed coast line. The territory on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul served by Duluth jobbers is comparatively small, but such trade as we have is important and valuable. There are some points on this road over which we are virtually shut out by reason of the wretched freight service. Every effort has been made and negotiations are yet pending with the officials of this road looking towards a betterment of conditions. The progress made, however, has been sufficient as yet to warrant us in making a definite statement as to the future. It is to be hoped that the officials of this road will appreciate the friendly spirit in which we have called attention to their deficiencies, and that they will meet us half way in our negotiations.

"Most of the victories we have gained for the interest of the city, have been accompanied by no blare of trumpets. The work is essentially diplomatic in its nature and boasting of what has been done, or what it is intended to do is very likely to defeat the ends which we are seeking to accomplish.

"The traffic commission fully appreciates the magnitude of the subject intrusted to it. Transportation is an important item, and when it is considered that the American people pay over $200,500,000 each year in freight, there is no question of the extent to which this subject of transportation enters into the life of every individual in the country. We assure you we do not set ourselves up as a body of experts, but approach a consideration of the transportation subject with due respect for its magnitude and importance. We are learning something about it every day and are always glad to have anyone add to our store of knowledge.

Compromise Murder Verdict.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 14.—"Guilty of manslaughter," was the verdict of a jury last night in the case of Jesse Van Zandt, who was charged with having murdered his wife whose body was found in their home bound and gagged and literally roasted over a lighted gas stove. The verdict was a compromise.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Corps of Cadets Is Inspected and Engages in Sham Battle.

Fund for the Northrop Tribute Is Showing a Steady Growth.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—All classes were excused on Thursday on account of the government inspection of the University of Minnesota corps of cadets. The cadet companies, the battery and the band fell into their usual places at 8:30. The same men who have acted as guards during the spring were stationed about the grounds to keep outsiders from the field.

The following program was followed in the forenoon inspection: Escort of color, review, inspection, regimental drill, battalion and company drills, guard mount, crack squad drills.

At 1:20, the cadets assembled and went to St. Paul to participate in the sham battle. In this battle the Mississippi river was considered the boundary between two separate states. The control of the bridges across the river at Fort Snelling was of the greatest importance to both sides.

Wednesday night the St. Thomas cadets, the red army, took their position about a mile north of the bridge, got control of the bridges and threw a regiment across into the blue country to repel the expected attack from the blue army.

At 2:30 Thursday afternoon, Col. Maurice Jenness led the university cadets, the blue army, against the enemy. The blue force totaled about 600 men, and the red numbered 500. The blue army was backed by a battery of two three-inch guns. Officers from Fort Snelling acted as umpires. When one army approached within fifty yards of the other it was stopped and the umpires decided which was to advance. The action continued until nightfall, when Minnesota, rushing down the hill surrounded the St. Thomas cadets and forced their surrender. The sham battle is one of the most exciting contests ever fought by Minnesota.

"If the earth passes through the tail of Halley's comet we will be no more affected than one locomotive is in passing through another's smoke." This is Prof. Leavenworth's latest prediction. The earth will be millions of miles from the tail of the comet and therefore little, if any, of the poisonous gases can filter through.

"There is no doubt but that the Northrop tribute is going to be a success. It is only a question now of time," says E. H. Johnson, alumni secretary. He went on to say that he expected to see the men's building begun before the end of this year. "Duluth will surely raise the sum she promised and Minneapolis and St. Paul will certainly not fall short, but it takes time. The hardest thing to contend against has been the feeling even among the students and faculty, that it is too big an undertaking and cannot be done. But we can do it. Single cities have raised sums as large and larger for Y. M. C. A. buildings, which would not accommodate as many as the Northrop tribute. The amount already raised is $39,000 and the sum is growing every day."

The poems bear the book name of "Reveries and Other Poems." One was Arthur Upson, the other Gottfried Hult.

In the former the special entrance examination in writing, spelling and English composition has been abolished. In the college of engineering every student entering is required to take an examination in writing, spelling and English composition, and students who fail in this examination will not be admitted to the college. Students who receive marks of condition may be admitted on probation for six weeks.

Through an exchange with Oberlin a valuable collection of books has been secured by Librarian Gerould. A complete file of "The Emancipator, and Journal of Public Morals," is considered one of the most important of the collection. It was published weekly by William Goodell, an Abolitionist, in 1834-35 and the local feeling on the slavery question is clearly shown. The Minnesota library has been lacking in literature pertaining to this period and by this exchange with Oberlin, 118 bound and forty-three unbound volumes have been secured. In return, Mr. Gerould sent a number of volumes which were duplicated in the library here.

Plans are being made which will make it possible for Minnesota to have the long hoped for boat crew. The prospect of obtaining a dam to make this possible is causing much interest at present, and the authorities are using their influence to bring it about.

There is enough material in the university to warrant two splendid crews which would represent Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. There is already a boat club in St. Paul, and with crews at the Universities of Wisconsin and Chicago, Minnesota would have opposition enough to stimulate the efforts of the crew and win them another championship.

CLOUDY

The weather man must be brought to a realization of the fact that enough of a good thing is plenty. When rain is wanted, he refuses rain, and yet if the baseball season were to open he would send a deluge. Truly, he does not court public favor. Cloudy weather is promised for tonight, but there is no rain prediction. The fair, cool weather continues and the promised frost arrived on scheduled time last night.

A year ago today a young northeaster was making itself noticeable.

The sun rose this morning at 4:32 and it will set at 7:35, giving fifteen hours and three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The last cold river valley high pressure has advanced its center to the lake region, its easterly movement resulting in light to killing frosts in that district and the Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys and freezing temperatures in the northern portions of Michigan and Wisconsin and in Northeastern Minnesota. The high pressure off the Oregon-Washington coast has increased in strength. The barometer continues low over Saskatchewan and Arizona. During the past twenty-four hours these disturbances increased in intensity and caused light rains in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Montana and North Dakota."

General Forecast.

Upper Lakes: Moderate southeast to south winds. Fair tonight and Sunday. Warmer Sunday.

Chicago, May 14.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight with frost; slightly warmer in west portion; Sunday fair and warmer.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and probably Sunday; rising temperature; frost tonight in lowlands.

Minnesota—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Sunday, except threatening in west portion; warmer tonight and in east portions Sunday.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; moderate temperature.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; moderate temperature.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; cooler tonight and in east portion Sunday.

LAND OPENINGS BENEFIT FEW BUT LAND ATTORNEYS

machinery of the department of the interior.

For instance, a man stands in line for six weeks at the door of the land office, as several are standing now waiting for June 20. He gets into the office at 9:10 on the morning of the opening and offers his filing. At 9 o'clock another man stands at the line of the land on which the first man files. Promptly at 9 o'clock, he steps across the line and chops down a tree. He has started improvements, has settled on the land and has a prior claim to the land unless the man who filed at the land office can find some technicality on which to defeat him or he cannot furnish proof of his prior settlement.

Out of the different land openings here and elsewhere, hundreds of such contests have come up. Each has dragged out for two or three years before it was finally decided and in almost every case, where the proof was adequate, the case has been decided in favor of the man who settled on the land. About the only man who can file at the land office and be sure of escaping a contest is the one who steps across the threshold of the land office first on the morning of the opening.

A case was decided a few days ago, which offers some security to those who stand in line. It was to the effect that a man settling on a piece of land on the morning of a land opening, cannot cross other land, also to be opened on that morning, before the hour of the opening.

Ruling Reversed.

The decision reversed the ruling of the local land office in the case, which had dragged out for almost four years. The man who settled on the land had stood on an adjoining forty, which was also to be opened, before the time of the opening and had stepped across the line at 9 o'clock. The local land office decided that he had a prior right of settlement, but the decision was reversed by the department, which held that he was a trespasser at the edge of the land and did not have a right to be there. The man standing well up in line at the land office with a filing made out for a piece of land surrounded on all sides by land to be opened on the same morning has a pretty fair chance of getting his land without a contest and stands in the same class with the first man in line.

Lawyers Reap Harvet.

The system is not considered of a benefit to anybody except the lawyers, to whom it offers fine opportunities for obtaining big fees through pushing the contests. The lottery system, while it has its defects, is much more equitable, for the first man and the last man to file have the same chance. Under the system practiced here, the men all have their choice of land, but in making their choice, they are up against a contest, which may be drawn out for years, which may cost them every cent they have in the world, and which in the end may result in their losing the land.

Hardly one desirable piece of land has been filed on in any opening in the Duluth district during the past few years without a contest resulting from some settler claiming prior right under his settlement. Every contest has been expensive, lengthy and nearly all of them have resulted in favor of the settlers.

The department has the power, if the officials had the inclination, to provide that land openings shall be either by settlement or filing, but for some reason it has failed to make the ruling. Each opening has brought out scores of contests, but the department does not seem to take cognizance of the hardship imposed on the filers by the system. The lawyers are making money, the machinery of the department is clogged with contests that could have been avoided and would-be settlers find themselves penniless and without land after years of litigation.

Land is scarce in this district now. Some of the pieces included in the land to be opened June 20 are desirable and it is safe to say that the usual number of contests will come out of the opening. The first man in line at the land office is safe, but the others are taking a gambler's chance, and it's a long shot at that.

Twelve are now in line at the door of the land office, awaiting the opening June 20. The third person in line is a woman, she being the only one of her sex in the line.

CAVALRY TO SUBDUE REDS

None of the older bucks had donned the war bonnets, but many of the young ones were reported as having joined the uprising.

Angered at Census Taking.

Several causes are given as the possible reason for the outbreak. Opposition to census taking and general dissatisfaction with the whites because of what the Indians believe to be encroachments on their rights are more generally accepted as the cause of the trouble. The attack upon Meyers' ranch is explained by the fact that Meyers had fenced in a section of land over which the Indians had enjoyed undisputed reign for many years.

Afraid of Military.

Santa Fe., N. M., May 14.—Sixty men of the First regiment of Infantry, National Guard, accompanied by Adjt. Gen. A. S. Brooke, left here early today for Taos, where the Pueblo Indians have been threatening trouble. Early advices from Taos were that all was quiet, with the exception that the renegade Indians for whom bench warrants were out were still resisting arrest and were protected by their associates.

It probably will be necessary for the troops to serve the bench warrants and make the arrests, but no bloodshed is feared, as the Indians, who, including women and children, number only 500, stand in awe of the military.

JURY IN HYDE CASE

night that the case went to the jury. For twenty hours the jury men had heard closing addresses. They seemed joyous that the end of the case was near.

Oldest Juryman Is Foreman.

All of the jurymen were anxious to get home today if possible. This fact caused the belief that a verdict would be returned soon. C. W. Whitehead, an abstractor, the oldest man on the jury, was chosen foreman last night.

The jury was brought to the court building a few minutes before 9 o'clock this morning. It at once went to its room and began balloting.

Dr. Hyde met his wife in one of the private rooms near the courtroom just after the jury arrived. They remained alone, talking for a quarter of an hour.

Only three members of the Swope family were present. They were Mrs. Logan O. Swope and her two children, Thomas H. Jr., and Miss Lucy Lee Swope.

Fewer spectators were in evidence today than there has been any day since the taking of evidence began. At 9:10 o'clock not all of the spectators' seats were filled.

velt, Miss Rooseelt, Kermit Roosevelt, American Ambassador Hill, Mrs. Hill, Miss Hill, Henry White, former American ambassador to France, and Mrs. White, and Prof. and Frau Schilling. Prof. Schilling, with a stereoptican, showed flashlight pictures of jungle animals and presented the colonel with five of the collection.

Saw the Animals.

Mr. Roosevelt concluded the afternoon with a visit to the zoological gardens.

Today Emperor William sent to Mr. Roosevelt a vase from the royal porcelain works. The vase is three feet in height, and bears upon one side a likeness of his majesty. On the opposite side are two views of the imperial palace in Berlin, one from the Bridge of Elector, showing the equestrian statue of the great elector, and the other the palace terrace, with the statue of William of Orange.

One of the newspapers suggests that a medal be struck commemorating Mr. Roosevelt's visit to Berlin.

Met Many Americans.

Col. Roosevelt yesterday wound up a day devoted almost exclusively to social activities by meeting in the American embassy 350 fellow Americans. Earlier in the evening he and and his family dined at the French embassy, the guests of Jules Cambon. The dinner was private.

At a reception one of the officers, acting on behalf of Emperor William, presented Col. Roosevelt with several photographs, showing the American and Emperor William together at the Doeberitz maneuvers. The photographs bore the autograph of the emperor.

EIGHT MONTHS AND $5,000 FINE FOR PITTSBURG MAN

a sentence of eight months in the county jail and a fine of $5,000.

Others Are Sentenced.

As rapidly as their names could be called and their appearance be made, five other former select and common councilmen were sentenced by Judge Frazer as follows:

Charles H. Stewart, former select councilman, sentenced to eight months in the county jail and fined $500.

Hugh Ferguson, former common councilman, eight months in the county jail and $500 fine.

Dr. W. H. Weber, former select councilman, six months in the county jail and $500.

P. B. Kearns, former select councilman, four months in the county jail and $250 fine.

Morris Einstein, former select councilman, six months in the county jail and $2,500 fine.

Two Cases Postponed.

Because of illness in their families the sentencing of E. H. Jennings, president of the Columbia National bank, and F. A. Griffen, former vice president of the same institution, was postponed, on consent of the district attorney, until next week. The petitions for postponement were not made a part of the court records.

COMPROMISE IN SENATE

New Long and Short Haul Clause to Railroad Bill Passed.

Each Faction Thought It Was Getting Better of the Bargain.

Washington, May 14.—By a sudden welding of supposedly irreconcilable factions the senate, by a vote of 56 to 16, late yesterday adopted a compromise amendment to the railroad bill for the control of relative charges for long and short hauls. The agreement was reached chiefly for the reason that such faction apparently thought it was getting the better of a shrewdly driven bargain. There are not wanting senators who suggest that the supreme court may have to arbitrate the question as to which faction's judgment is right.

As adopted the new provision strikes out section 4 of the interstate commerce law the words "under substantially similar circumstances and conditions," and also eliminates the proviso of that section.

Section as Amended.

It amends the section so as to make it reads as follows:

"Section 4—That it shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act to charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of passengers or of like kind of property for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line or route in the same direction, the shorter being included within the longer distance, or to charge any greater compensation as a through route than the aggregate of the local rates; but this shall not be construed as authorizing any common carrier within the terms of this act to charge or receive as great compensation for a shorter as for a longer distance.

"Provided, However—"

"Provided, however, that the interstate commerce commission may, from its knowledge or from information, or upon application, ascertain in that the circumstances and conditions of the longer and are dissimilar to the circumstances and conditions of the shorter haul, whether they result from competition by water or rail; then it may authorize a common carrier to charge less for the longer than for the shorter distances for the transportation of passengers or property; but in no event shall the authority be granted unless the commission is satisfied that all the rates involved are just and reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory, nor unduly preferential or prejudicial.

"And provided, further, that no rates on charges lawfully existing at the time of the passage of this amendatory act shall be required to be changed by reason of the provisions of this section prior to the expiration of six months after the passage of this act, nor in any case where aplication shall have been filed before the commission, in accordance with the provisions of this section, until a determination of such application by the commission."

Of the fifty-six votes in favor of the amendment twenty-three were given by Republican senators who have opposed the insertion of any long and short haul provision in the railroad bill; thirteen by Democrats and the remainder by Republicans, chiefly insurgents. The negative vote was equally divided between Republicans and Democrats.

ON THE IRON RANGES

NEITHER SIDE WILL CONCEDE

The Village of McKinley and Mining Company Still Far Apart.

McKinley, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The situation regarding the Wills mine remains unchanged. The hearing was postponed for about a week, but the application of the village for a permanent injunction will likely be heard in a few days. C. O. Baldwin has been retained to appear for the village, in conjunction with N. B. Arnold, the village attorney, and they are working to secure an early adjustment of the difficulty. The village authorities are anxious to have the matter adjudicated, that they may know their rights and not unnecessarily delay the operation of the mine.

Representatives of the Wills Mining company continue to assert that there is not much ore under the village and that it would not pay them to buy more than a few of the lots. It is claimed for the company that the drifting done proved beyond a doubt the amount of ore, and that it is not sufficient to meet the demands of the property owners that the entire village be bought. This statement leaves the situation just as it has been in the past, with little prospect of a peaceable settlement.

Mrs. Hanson gave a splendid talk along the same lines. The other speakers were Mr. Rifle, C. E. Hendrick, A. T. Gordon, W. W. Baldwin and Rev. Henry E. Neff. A quartet composed of Dr. W. Beach, C. E. Hendrick, G. R. Forbes and Rev. Mr. Neff, handled the musical end of the program.

BUY ROAD MACHINERY.

Town of Grand Rapids Expects to Effect Quite Saving.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thursday the town board placed an order for $3,548 worth of new road machinery. The machinery consists of a sixty-horse power J. I. Case freighter traction engine, water tank and eight reversable dump wagons.

Mr. Nisbett, chairman of the board, presented figures indicating that the use of this machinery will effect a saving of some $40 per day. He states that the cost of operating would be about $20 per day, and that for a haul of from four to six miles, such as a team would make two trips a day, twenty-four yards of dirt could be moved with this machinery. Mr. Nesbitt also contends that the machinery could be used for other purposes and even leased out to other towns or to contractors, and a goodly amount realized from the rentals.

A BUILDING BOOM AT GRAND RAPIDS

Besides Construction of McAlpine Block Much Other Building Is on.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The moving of buildings for the new McAlpine block is progressing. Mr. McAlpine has the west end of his old building torn down, and the debris and old lumber carted away or piled up neatly where it will be used for other building operations. The corner or east end of the building will be torn down at once.

The office of the Reishus Remer Land company has been moved to the location recently vacated by the Ed Huson building on Fourth street. The building heretofore occupied by the Lieberman Bros. store has been purchased by G. C. Smith of Bovey and it is being moved onto Mr. Smith's lot on Leland avenue in the same block, 400 feet farther down the street. The building will be occupied by the Liebermans until the new building is ready for them. The building which was formerly occupied by the Lyons blacksmith has been torn down, and Mr. Lyons has moved his shop to the building near the Mississippi river bridge.

Mr. McAlpine is having a new glass front put into the J. O. Johnson meat market building and is making other improvements to the place.

W. N. Dalcour has the excavating done for a dwelling on Sleeper avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets. The house will be a modern home, 28 by 30, with full concrete basement. Mr. Dalcour and Ed Huson have just finished installing a joint sewer and water tap from the street to their properties.

The A. B. Clair residence, which was partly destroyed by fire about six weeks ago, is being repaired and will soon be better than before.

L. Courtemanche has the village hall repairs almost completed, and will be through in a very short time. The contract for the painting of the hall was let to William Ashton at a meeting of the water, light, power and building commission Monday night. The work will cost the village $295, the next lowest bid being that of J. N. Brown for $299.50. Mr. Ashton will start on the hall, commencing with the interior as soon as the carpenters have it ready for him.

Work on the construction of the addition to the county jail was commenced this week. The concrete base for the foundation is down, and the work on the foundation will commence soon. Emil Johnson, the contractor, will rush the work to completion. The brick and the stone for the building are on the ground.

The contract for the construction of the McAlpine block was let to Graham & Young of Hibbing, for $22,118.

John Craig is making some extensive repairs on his dwelling on Hoffman avenue and Fifth street.

N. Miller is having a neat porch built in front of his cottage.

C. L. Pratt has had a foundation placed under his residence and sewer connections made with the street.

VIRGINIA SITE WILL BE TAKEN

Sale of Buildings on Property Cuts Down Cost Price.

Virginia, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Through the efforts of N. B. Arnold, president of the Commercial club, final arrangements for the closing of the deal for the purchase by the government of the site selected some time ago for a federal building was consummated last night.

F. Brockett sent here by the treasury department to make another appraisal of the property, left this morning, with the necessary documents by which the government may secure the site. The site at the northeast corner of Maple street and Wyoming avenue, and which includes 145 feet frontage on Maple street, the appraisal price of which was $17,500, will be taken over by the government as at first intended. By an agreement of certain citizens to purchase the buildings upon these lots, the original price of the property has been reduced to the amount set aside by the government for a site, which is 20 per cent of the total appropriation, $60,000, made for such federal building and site.

Two Disease Are Quite Prevalent in Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is an alarming number of measles cases, one of the hospitals having something between forty and fifty cases while the other hospital has also a large number. These cases seemed to be confined to the children mostly and are taking a large number of children from school.

The typhoid fever has not let go its hold yet, as one hospital received five cases in two days and there are several in the city who are very ill with the disease, but it is thought that this will not continue for only a short time.

AS ADAM SEES IT.

Former Congressman Gives Version of Cost of Living.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the auditorium of the high school J. Adam Bede last night gave a lecture on "Our Country, Its Problems and Its Possibilities," under the auspices of the Tuesday club. He said that a problem arises from progress, and when a country is free of problems, the country is not advancing.

He claimed the cost of living was due to the modern improvements in our homes today; that if the people threw away the improvements and lived as their grandfathers did, they would be able to live as cheaply.

One of his arguments was that the world was getting better, and he showed that it was in a very clear and entertaining manner. He said the senate was never as good as at the present day.

He ended by saying: "The children should be taught, in the schools to know the rights of others, to respect the rights of others, and to improve opportunities." After the lecture the ladies of the club served ice cream and cake, netting quite a large sum of money for the club.

A RACE FOR LIFE

BITTEN BY A DEADLY INSECT

TRAIN DELAYED SEVERAL HOURS ON ACCOUNT OF A WRECK

In the spring of 1894, while in Austin, Tex., Where I had been sent for my health, I was sitting in front of the Driscoll hotel, when from a carriage hastily driven from the depot two gentlemen emerged. One was an elderly, well-dressed gentleman of about 60; his face was swollen almost twice its natural size, his eyes and mouth almost closed. The other gentleman, who was his attendant, stopped to ask me if I could refer him to a first-class physician. I recommended him to the one who was then attending me, and at the same time asked about the disease of his friend. In reply he stated that about two years ago a growth had appeared in the glands on the side of the neck. This was removed by an operation, but soon reappeared. A late conference of the home doctors have reported that he could not live, and we are now en route to Louisville, Ky., to consult Dr. Rea of that city. Our train being delayed, we are now compelled to remain in Austin until evening.

You will not see Dr. Rea in Louisville, I replied, as I remember seeing in the Houston Post where Dr. Rea will visit Houston, Tex., in a few days, therefore you had better stop there and save yourself the journey. "What," muttered the sufferer between his half-closed teeth, "Dr. Rea of Louisville in Texas; how fortunate."

They left Austin that night, and upon arriving at Houston the next morning, found that Dr. Rea was due in Houston one day later.

Dr. Rea arriving in due time, was informed of the suffering and importance of the patient waiting, and hastened to make an early examination of his case.

Without asking him a question, Dr. Rea said to him: "My dear sir, it is my opinion that you have been bitten by some poisonous insect: it is also my opinion that one of your parents or very near relatives has died of cancer and that your system, being specially liable to develop cancer, has only been aggravated by this bite, which has produced a cancerous growth. With the proper treatment you can be cured. Do you want me to doctor you;"

No sooner had his permission been granted than Dr. Rea injected something into the growth, gave him something to make him rest and then sent him to his room to lie down. Being treated in the same manner the next day, he started to his home, stopping in Austin a few hours between trains. I saw him again at the hotel.

He assured me that he was feeling much better and that the Doctor had promised him a cure in from three to five months. Being interested in his case I gave him my address. Six months afterwards I received a letter from him saying that he was cured and that he was in better health than he had been for years. I met a number of patients while in Texas, as I have in all sections of the country I have been in, they all tell me of the miraculous feature in Dr. Rea's practice, his unerring ability to tell a patient his disease without asking a question and the speed and ease with which he cures the most malignant disease. In cancer, consumption, tumor, paralysis, fatty degeneration of the heart, kidney and nervous diseases, he does not lose one case in ninety, his patients are those having the worst cases of chronic diseases and have been given up by other physicians as incurable, and yet these incurable, malignant diseases seem to be handled by him with the utmost ease and uniform success. The names of some of the patients whom he has cured have come to my notice.

Mrs. W. A. Cochran, Woonsocket, S. D., cured of a terrible case of piles, which she had for years.

Hans Swenson, Pretoria, S. D., cured of bladder and kidney trouble of long standing.

George Maxon, Lodi, S. D., cured of kidney disease in three months after the doctors had said it was diabetes and that no one could cure him.

L. S. Dreasler, Ellison, N. D., cured of piles, nervous prostration, stomach and bowel troubles.

Lucy Brouders, Kent, Minn., cured of rheumatism that had afflicted her for years. Her feet were drawn up and at times she could scarcely walk.

W. H Pease, Wahpeton, N. D., Doctors said that he had consumption and must change climate to get well. Dr. Rea's treatment gained for him seventeen pounds the first month and Dr. Rea said he didn't have consumption at all.

Henry Schwaka, Nerstrand, Minn., cured of chronic rheumatism. Had suffered for years and had tried all kinds of doctors.

Miss Farney, Marshalltown, Iowa, the daughter of a prominent and wealthy capitalist, cured of consumption.

Mrs. Mark Anton, Plankinton, S. D., cured of general debility and catarrh of the stomach.

Daniel Smith, Woonsocket, S. D., cured of long standing deafness.

John Boreman, La Fayette, Ind., cured of stricture of bowels and heart trouble.

Mrs. Elliott, Vincennes, Ind., cured of catarrh of liver.

Elmer Wosley, Fort Wayne, Ind., cured of cancer of arm and hand. Had consulted doctors in Cincinnati and many other large cities and all pronounced that he would have to lose his hand.

Mrs. Charles Roth's girl, Mitchell, S. D., cured of cross eyes.

Frank Peters, Watertown, S. D., cured of slow consumption and stomach trouble.

Louis Bicking, Watertown, S. D., cured of slow consumption and stomach trouble.

Clara Erickson, Thief River Falls, Minn., cured of nervousness and mental debility that had almost wrecked her mind.

Mrs. Joseph Fraser, Mora, Minn., cured of cancerous growth of the breast. No operations are used in these treatments. The treatment is injected into the growth and it is killed in a few treatments.

J. C. Lundquis, Christine, N. D., cured of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bladder and kidney troubles, a very serious case. He had been doctored by a number of other doctors. Dr. Rea quickly cured him.

Child of C. Boll, Baldwin, Wis., cured of a bad case of eczema. Had been treated by doctors but had given up all hopes of ever being cured.

Julius Ponto, Menomonie, Wis., cured of chronic catarrhal bronchitis.

E. R. Morgan, Elmwood, Wis., cured of a bad cancer of the face with the hypodermic injection treatment.

Geo. Kothlow, Menomonie, Wis., cured of catarrh and bronchial troubles.

John Consbruck, Hastings, Minn., cured of cancer of the face in two treatments.

P. J. Swoboda, Hopkins, Minn., cured of chronic bladder and kidney troubles.

Mrs. Margaret Gangloff, Denison, Minn., cured of bad skin cancer on the face in one treatment.

Louis Doer, Ronnaby, Minn., cured of almost total blindness by cataract. Cured by the absorption method.

C. J. Wendt, Duluth, Minn., cured of chronic eczema all over the body. Of two years' standing.

William Reid, Little Falls, Minn., cured of cancer of the lip in one treatment.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14, 1910.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Rea will make a professional visit to Duluth, Minn., on Saturday, May 21st, at the St. Louis Hotel, from 9 A. M., until 8 P. M.

This will afford his many patients and others interested an opportunity to consult this eminent specialist close to their homes. Consultation and examination to those interested, $1.00.

INSURGENTS, REAL AND IMITATION.

Unquestionably, most people think well of the insurgent movement in congress. It promises well in itself, also because it marks a breaking down of party barriers that lets faithful servants of the people vote in the people's interest without the confusion of partisanship and the misguidance of party bosses.

But there are all grades of insurgency, from that of those who are trying to do the right thing by the people absolutely without regard to "party solidarity" to the thin, diluted insurgency of those who are hand in glove with the organization in Washington, and are insurgents only at home and on the stump.

The kind of insurgency of which the people think well, and which promises hope of better things, is exemplified in the Minnesota house delegation only by Congressmen Lindbergh and Davis. These men are out for results for the people, and no consideration of party expediency comes between them and their duty. They have voted against Speaker Cannon and the system in which his power is rooted at every possible opportunity. They have not voted for or with Cannon since it became clear that results for the people are unobtainable until Cannon and Cannonism are removed, root and branch. It would be well for other Republican congressmen from Minnesota, who presently will be seeking re-election as "insurgents", if they could show a slate so clean as Lindbergh's, for instance.

When Senators Dolliver and Cummins got home from Washington to open the Iowa campaign, they, too, exemplified real insurgency, the only kind that is worth a moment's consideration. They are Republicans, but they stand for the honest things in Republicanism, and no considerations of party expediency prevent them from denouncing the dishonest things in Republicanism.

It will be considered an essential to "real" Republicanism, this year, to approve the new tariff law, the president who signed it, and the vice regents and prebendiaries of Special Privilege who engineered it. Clearly, he who seeks re-election as a Republican, and who holds allegiance to the Republican organization, must bolt this dose without blinking. If he condemns one, he must condemn all. If he approves one, he must approve all. They must stand or fall together. No man can approve the tariff bill without approving Taft, Aldrich, Cannon, Tawney and Payne. No man can denounce the tariff bill without denouncing those who foisted it upon the country. No man can denounce Aldrich and Cannon without denouncing the president who has abided by their will, and the sycophants, like Tawney, who have coined their will into power.

Cummins and Dolliver chose the only honest, straightforward course. They condemned the tariff law as a betrayal of public faith and a breach of party promises. If the president says it is good, so much the worse for the president; he cannot make it good by saying so, and he can rank himself with the enemies of the people by applauding their treachery. They have condemned Aldrich and Cannon and the followers who are the bulwarks of their power and the ever-present aid of privilege. They denounce their Iowa colleagues in congress who have stood with the Republican cabal of Special Privilege, and they demand that they be replaced by men who will serve the people, not privilege.

There are near-insurgents in Minnesota who would have done well had they followed these examples, instead of trying to bestride two stools, and ending by falling between them, supported by neither.

EXTRAVAGANCE AND COST OF LIVING.

Pretty nearly every doctrinaire who seeks to account for the high cost of living in some way that will obviate the necessity of encroaching upon the fat benefits which privilege enjoys, sooner or later gets around to the conclusion that the real cause of high prices is the extravagant tastes of the people.

One of the latest of these is J. Laurence Laughlin, who gives his views in the May Scribner's. He will serve as a specimen of a large tribe. He says:

> Each family now wishes more expensive food, better clothes, more costly millinery, more pictures and books and those of a higher price, more bicycles and automobiles, more horseback riding, more traveling, stays at higher priced hotels, takes passage on more expensive steamers than formerly—all to keep up in the procession with the successful rich who are increasing enormously in numbers. Every one expects, as a matter of course, to buy fruits and vegetables out of season—such as a very short time ago were considered within the reach of only the largest purses.

Studying that picture, you must wonder what opportunities J. Laurence Laughlin and others of his ilk have to study the habits of the plain people. Congressman Tawney of Minnesota is another; not long ago he explained very carefully that living was high not because of the tariff or the trusts, but because the workingman was buying too many automobiles and steam yachts.

If these are the conditions in the sections studied by Prof. Laughlin and Mr. Tawney, they are not the conditions in any section with which The Herald is familiar.

Each family may "wish" all these things, but mighty few families get them; and the great majority of families have too hard a struggle to keep decently housed and fed and warmed and clothed to bother much with wishing for costly millinery, expensive pictures and books, high-priced hotels, passage on palace steamers, automobiles and the like.

"Everyone expects, as a matter of course, to buy fruits and vegetables out of season," says Prof. Laughlin. Everybody, mind you! That includes, of necessity, those who must be contented with potatoes and cheap meats and dried fruits, and often are glad to get the poorest of these.

It would be strange indeed if the many, seeing the few swimming in costly luxuries, didn't long to jump into the sea of expensive living. But the many, unfortunately, view that sea from the beetling cliff of poverty, and the leap from that eminence is neck-breaking. All they can hope for is the vicarious enjoyment, if it is enjoyment, of seeing others bathe in the pleasant waters of luxury, and of realizing that they, if they do not share these pleasures, at least make them possible by their productive energy.

Extravagance IS one great cause of the high cost of living; but it is the extravagance of the few who absorb the power to buy luxuries, not the extravagance of the many who toil and create that a few may enjoy the fruits of their toil.

What opportunities for extravagance has the average workingman's family, when the breadwinner's share of the fruits of his toil is barely enough to keep body and soul together?

THE PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE.

The year covered by the report of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, presented to the members last evening by Chairman T. W. Hugo, has embraced a period of great civic activity, the greatest in the history of Duluth.

During that time the public spirit of Duluth has been aroused, concentrated and made effective as it never was before. Objectives have been made clear, system has come in to give form and coherency to the business of city-building, and public interest in various projects for the common good has been wider and stronger than at any time in the history of Duluth.

In this work the center of activity has been the public affairs committee, the clearing house of civic activity. That body has arisen to its duty with vigor and earnestness. The annual report, which is published in full elsewhere in The Herald tonight, is a record of the committee's work and a timely taking of stock as to the situation of the city and the prospects for its future. It should be read with interest by every citizen.

In the report is one bit of advice on which The Herald would like to lay stress. It concerns the open market which has been established in Duluth after years of complaint about conditions, and which is trying to bring producers and consumers together for their common benefit. The report suggests that it will be a great help if the citizens of Duluth ask their dealers for goods handled by the Producers' Co-operative Market association, and give these goods a preference. That is something every citizen can do and should do. The association is doing good work, and if it is supported it will go a long way toward solving the twin problems of cheaper living in Duluth and settling the idle acres of Northeastern Minnesota.

THE CASE OF HUGH DICKSON.

Let the young man who despairs because disadvantages surround him, and who thinks there is no hope for him in life because the struggle is hard, contemplate for a moment the case of Hugh L. Dickson of San Bernardino, Cal.

Dickson, a lawyer, lately was admitted to practice before the supreme court of the United States.

Many lawyers have been admitted to practice in this highest court of the land, and in itself the circumstance is not remarkable, even though qualification for practice before the supreme court involves qualification for practice before every other court in the land.

But when you know Dickson's story, and realize the disadvantages he had to contend with, you will see that the circumstance is worth noting.

Dickson used to be a locomotive fireman. Ahead of him was the hope of becoming a locomotive engineer, one of the best paid and most responsible positions in the ranks of labor. Then, one day, he lost both hands in an accident.

He couldn't be a fireman. He couldn't be an engineer. Trained for labor with his hands, his equipment was all gone. You, young man, who think your poverty or lack of education very serious handicaps, should put yourself for a moment in Dickson's place at that juncture. If you think your present circumstances hard, what would you think if you were afflicted as Dickson was afflicted? And what would you do?

Dickson determined to be a lawyer. Without even the advantage of hands to turn the pages of the lawbooks he had to study, he dug into it, stuck to it, and won. He became a lawyer, and a good one. Now he is general counsel for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

It isn't circumstance that counts so much as the spirit that is in you. If that spirit is one of determined ambition, difficulties will roll away as by magic. Lacking the right spirit, the slightest difficulties will halt you and turn you back. Possessed of the right spirit, difficulties will only make you more determined and more forceful.

To the man of determination, difficulties, however great, are only challenges that test his mettle. He has joy in the conflict, born of his confidence in himself and his grim will that nothing shall stop him. Difficulties not only determine character; they make it. The man who has faced a difficulty and dared it down is a stronger man for the victory. The man who has encountered a difficulty and, trembling, has turned back on the trail, is a weaker man for the defeat.

Development of character is very much like development of muscle. The man who doesn't use his muscles lets them get flabby and feeble; the muscles that are used constantly grow hard and strong. He whose strength has wasted in idleness must avoid situations that call for strength, or he will fall a victim to his weakness.

The man who uses his firmness and determination cultivates them. The fibers of his mind grow tense and strong by use. The more he uses them, and the harder the problems against which he applies them, the fitter they are. But the man who avoids difficulties, and turns back at the slightest obstacle, presently finds that the fibers of his character have turned to limp and useless strings, as the muscles of the idle man turn to fat.

Remember that it is the spirit that is in you, not the circumstances without, that counts. Take a lesson from the case of Hugh Dickson, and be of good cheer.

"NO TUBERCULOSIS IN 1920."

The campaign for the regulation and prevention of tuberculosis in the state of New York has two watchwords. Both are startling. Neither is impossible in realization. It all depends on how thoroughly the work is done, and that, in turn, depends upon how clearly the people grasp the idea and support the movement.

The first watchword is: "No uncared-for tuberculosis in New York in 1915." That means that it is hoped that in five years every case of consumption in New York will be under careful supervision, with cure and prevention of contagion as its objects.

The second watchword is: "No tuberculosis in New York in 1920." That means that those back of the present fight are so confident of victory that they aim to wipe out the disease in ten years.

Says John A. Kingsbury in the American Review of Reviews, discussing the fight in New York: "How the people of the Empire state have rallied for the fight against this disease in almost every city, village and hamlet in that commonwealth is a story that will doubtless be of interest to the citizens of every other state in the Union, for the crusade against consumption is not confined to the limits of any state or any nation. In the words of Prof. William H. Welch of Johns Hopkins university, the leader of scientific medicine in America, 'the people have recognized their true foe in tuberculosis and are stirring to the combat throughout the civilized world.' This is because enlightened men and women throughout the civilized world are beginning to appreciate the full significance of Pasteur's words: 'It is within the power of man to cause all germ diseases to disappear from the earth.'

"The striking thing about tuberculosis is that while scientists have known for a quarter of a century how to cope with it,—and indeed a few of our larger cities have been successfully coping with it for the past twenty years,—nevertheless the 'civilized world' has only just begun to stir itself to a systematic combat. Already, however, in the way of education great strides have been made. He would be held an ignorant person who should learn now for the first time that tuberculosis is a communicable and therefore a preventable disease, and that in most cases, if properly treated in the early stages, it is curable. There are few who could not recite for you these essential facts about tuberculosis:

"'Tuberculosis causes more deaths than any other single disease.

"'In the civilized world there are not less than a million deaths each year,—or two in a minute,—which are due to this disease. In the United States the scourge claims no less than 200,000 of our citizens annually.

"'One-third of all who die between the ages of 15 and 45, just at the time of life when they are repaying to society their debt for nurture and education, die of tuberculosis.'"

No consumption in 1920! That is a splendid slogan for a state to have. And public-spirited citizens everywhere, in Minnesota no less than in New York, are flocking to the anti-tuberculosis standard with earnestness and intelligence. In Duluth there is a live and aggressive local organization which is waging effective battle.

By the way, have you sent in your contribution to the Duluth anti-tuberculosis organization yet?

OZYMANDIAS.

What things strike deepest into the hearts of men, and make the memories of those who said them or did them live the longest?

Not the accumulation of wealth; not the hard pursuits of selfish ends; not the brutal greed of power; not the arrogance which makes men slaves to the power and greed of a few: none of these things carve lingering memories in the hearts of men, save memories of hate which the flood of forgetfulness soon wipes out.

But the man who sets humanity forward by his thought and energy—he is the man who is remembered and loved. The poet who strikes out of his glowing mind a living thought, forged in the fire of genius, that is a lamp unto the feet of mankind; the composer who makes a masterpiece of music that causes noble thoughts to surge in the minds of men, and whose spell moves hearts to better things and souls to higher aspirations; the artist, who embodies truly in marble or paint the noblest impulses that come from that side of humanity which is only a little lower than the angels; the patriot, who gives his brave heart, his mighty brain and his strong right arm to the service of his country: these strike deepest into the hearts of men, and carve there living memories that make generations sing their praises.

It is far better to have given mankind an idea that points the way of progress than it is to have piled up vast wealth wrung out of the tears and pain and sorrow of the multitude.

It is far better to have contributed a thought or an effort to the service of mankind than it is to have forced mankind to unwilling service in ministry to your greed.

Let those who shape their strength to unworthy ends of selfishness, who neglect the happiness there is in service for the bitter triumphs there are in making men serve, remember the story of Ozymandias, king of kings, and the frailty of his victories, the futility of his victories, as told in this bit of verse:

I met a traveler from an antique land
Who said two vast and trunkless legs of stone
Stand in a desert. Near them in the sand,
Half sunk, a shattered visage lies whose frown
And wrinkled lip and sneer of cold command
Tell that its sculptor well those passions read
That yet survive. Stamped on these lifeless things
The hand that mocked them and the heart that fed.
And on the pedestal these words appear:
"My name is Ozymandias. Kings of Kings.
Look on my work, ye mighty, and despair."
Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare,
The lonely and level sands stretch far away.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MORE MONEY NEEDED FOR FORESTRY PURPOSES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

All Northern Minnesota should unite in the demand that the state appropriate more than $16,000 annually for forestry purposes. The experiences of the last two years have demonstrated in the minds of the people that such a sum is entirely inadequate to cope with the situation when fires break out. Not only should the money be used to fight the fires, but in a general campaign of education. The assertion that the settlers are responsible for the fires seems to be the only logical explanation unless sparks from locomotives are partially responsible. They need to be educated. Each of them should be provided with instructive literature on this subject and it would be a great preventive to send a capable man among them to impress upon them the necessity of carefully guarding against all kinds of fires. He might also be of help in many other ways when he went among them individually. He could call their attention to the best methods of sanitation and ventilation; possibly help them out with advice about crops or cattle; gather valuable statistics for the state, and help them along in various ways. If he people in the upper sections of the state make a determined effort to get a larger appropriation I believe they will find little difficulty in getting it.

ON THE VALUE OF INDEPENDENCE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Now that Congressman Miller will come up for re-election in November, every voter should feel a deep responsibility as a citizen and not as a partisan. When a candidate accepts the nomination for an office of trust he generally speaks of the deep responsibility resting upon him, but there is no greater responsibility resting upon the man voted for than there is on the voter. First of all a good citizen will consider what is best for the greatest number of people, ahead of what is the best for the party. The fundamental principles of self government is the greatest good to the greatest number. How can the greatest good to the greatest number be obtained if we, the voters, are hide bound by party prejudice. If we strictly adhere to our party right or wrong, there is bound to come a time when a minority is benefited at the expense of the majority. We have an example of the yellow dog method of voting in this state. The Republican party for nearly forty years held both the legislative and executive branches of the state government and as a rule the judiciary also. What was the result? Well, everybody knows how the affairs of the state were handled from timber stealing to insurance frauds. Had it not been for the election of John Lind and John A. Johnson, that gave us a divided responsibility at the state capitol the same frauds, with others added, would yet be going on. So much for the independent voter. Is there any one among those that were independent and patriotic enough to vote for Lind in 1898 and Johnson the third time, that is sorry he did so? I think not. Now then, if it has resulted in good to be independent once or twice, would it be a bad plan to be independent right along? There are not many people now that believe in the monopoly of the industries and natural resources, because experience has taught us it works an injury to the country, and none of us would allow it if it was in our power to prevent it, and yet when we vote year after year with one party regardless of issues or candidate, we vote to monopolize all the offices and ultimately to perpetuate the very principles you are at heart against.

Mr. Miller might be at heart inclined to do what is right, but under the political system of the party to which he belongs he must incline toward the people just enough to keep the voters in line at the polls, when it is only a sham battle. Of course he is allowed to maneuver but when it comes down to the real thing the whip comes into play and Mr. Miller lines up like a stalwart for the solidarity of the G. O. P. I wish every voter in the Eighth district would stop and think on the word independence for two minutes each week from now until November and if they did it would be dollars to doughnuts that Alfred Jaques would be our next congressman.

KROMBACK.

Business for the Common Good.

Charles Edward Russell in Success Magazine: The slums would not spread under business for the common good, but would be destroyed; disease would not be disseminated but lessened; crime would not be fostered but abated. Business would have no need to buy legislatures; to maintain Cannons and Aldriches, to violate the laws about land under the sidewalks, to support corrupt city administrations. All these evils profit. Business for the general welfare would have no other impulse.

At all times and under all conditions man in the mass is the only subject worth thinking about or legislating for. Day by day this becomes more and more apparent around the globe, and none of its manifestations is so important as this impending change in business by which it shall be conducted for the sake of man in the mass and not for the sake of a fortunate and overfed class.

So far as men have been able to foresee, this is the certain trend of evolution. To agitate, to complain, to demand restrictive legislation, to fulminate, to try to distinguish between good trusts and bad trusts, to denounce, to regret the days that are past, to prosecute, to indict, are equally vain and equally foolish. Nothing will come of these employments but some very sorry spectacles. We live in the twentieth century, not in the fifth. We ought to be as willing to admit economic as geological facts, and the age of competition has passed from this earth as surely as the age of shellfish. Now comes the age of man.

Business is right, necessary, honorable, and not without sound reason. It is today the power behind the republic. All it needs is to be democratized that it may become man's best friend and the people's chief bulwark instead of that peril that now appals us all.

Hamstringing the Cities.

New York World: Mayor Seidel of Milwaukee has offered the post of Commissioner of Health to Chief Sanitary Inspector Hall of Chicago, as an expert. An attorney has been retained to fight the appointment on the ground that Mr. Hall has not been a resident of Milwaukee one year, as the charter may be held to require.

A Milwaukee newspaper proprietor might hire a Detroit writer. A Milwaukee brewer might draw a malster from St. Louis. A Milwaukee street railway company might seek a manager in Cleveland. A Milwaukee architect might send to New York for an assistant. In none of these cases would protest be made. Everybody takes it for granted that a private corporation is entitled to the best talent it can employ. But when the city itself tries to get the best man for a certain task, the same citizens who would welcome industrial talent from elsewhere make protest. They look upon a health commissioner not as a worker but as a job-holder.

New York has partly outgrown this folly. Col. Waring, who won a great name by cleaning its streets, was drawn from Newport. Police Commissioner Bingham was brought by Mr. McClellan from Washington. Prof. Bemis came from Cleveland to assist the new water commissioner. Why should not a city, like a private employer, be free to get the best man it can find for its expert service? Why hamstring only public business?

Dishonesty on a Newspaper.

William P. Hamilton in May Atlantic: It may be said at once that no reporter could use his office for his own pocket and hold his position long enough to make it worth while. The result in America is a not overpaid class which will compare favorably with the corresponding grades in the newspaper business of any part of the world. Higher up is the editorial staff, and if news is to be garbled for the purpose of deception, or suppressed in public or private interest, it is here that the operation must be done. The news editor cannot for any appreciable length of time print what is not true, or suppress what is, without the knowledge of the directing editorial mind, to say nothing of the proprietor. A dishonest city editor without a dishonest managing editor is unthinkable to anybody who knows the working of a newspaper. Everything that is being done is done in black and white, and the responsibility for evry line in the paper can be instantly placed. Even the editor-in-chief has small opportunities for dishonesty, and could not for any length of time deceive the proprietors of the paper; while he would in the mean time earn the contempt of his subordinates, and this to any newspaper man with his profession sincerely at heart, is a fearful price to pay for a mere pecuniary advantage.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Power of a Common-Place Truth.

Because a thing has been said before is no argument against its repetition. Circumstances may make its reiteration exceedingly valuable and timely. What maiden ever tires of having her lover whisper in her ears the words that lovers have been passionately saying to their sweethearts ever since Adam and Eve were alone in the garden. There is no sweeter music to a mother's ear than the lisping voice of her darling baby saying "I love 'oo."

What some cynically-minded persons are prone to stigmatize as platitudes have recently been wafted from the continent of Europe to all parts of the civilized world and have been read probably by millions of persons. Here are a few of them in substance:

It is not enough that a man should be good; he should also be efficient.

We should all have our ideals, but let us beware that we do not become mere theorists.

The cynical attitude toward life is one of the worst moods into which a man can fall.

It is a little short of a crime deliberately to shirk the responsibilities of parenthood.

Not the mere fact of wealth, but the way it is used, entitles a man to credit.

A man must pull his own weight before he can be of any advantage to others.

Class hatred and religious intolerance are equally obnoxious.

We have heard all these observations before not only from this distinguished gentleman but from moralists, teachers and preachers in more than one land. And yet we make a big mistake when we toss them aside as threadbare and trite. The question for you and me is have we taken these truths to heart no matter who spoke them, or when or where.

This nation desperately needs not a totally new message, but a sensitiveness to old yet never outgrown truths, and we ought to be thankful that events have recently thrown them upon such a broad canvas in such large letters that the whole world must perforce, take notice. True, they are but the whole A. B. C. of morality and religion. But no greater blessing could come to the modern world than its arousement to the imperativeness and indispensableness of a few of the simplest, most elementary and most familiar moral truths.

A commonplace deliverance is always in order, provided it has behind it the sincere conviction of the man putting it into language. The greatest preachers seldom go far afield for their themes. The Spurgeons and the Beechers, the Moodys and the Phillips Brooks' have two or three great, deep, self-evidencing truths on which they dilate and which they apply in various directions. If this very day all the preachers in America would select the truth that means most to them, no matter how many times they have uttered it, and restate and enforce it with all the power which they possess, a revival of religion would begin all over this country.

Yet one other requisite is essential in order to make effective a commonplace truth and that is the illustration of the truth in the life of him who utters it. Men will listen willingly to discourses on familiar matters, provided they know the speaker practices what he preaches.

Shun not, then, friend, the commonplace message. It may be the one you most need. And hesitate not to speak such a word to someone else, provided it comes out of your heart and life.

THE PASTOR.

Potent Slang.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: American slang, deplored by the purists and revered by literary anarchists, remains the joy of the unregenerate reader and waxes ever richer and more picturesque. Its full value, however, has not been fully realized. Sporting editors and short-story writers have flung weird words with wild abandon, but only to vitalize anaemic English, or to entertain the reader with language puzzles.

It remained for O. Henry to discover a new use for slang. And it is a serious use. In one of his stories he makes of our most esoteric slang a national code. Two Americans want to communicate with each other in a Central American republic at a time when all telegrams are censored. They cannot use English or Spanish for fear of detection, and have no cipher prepared. So one of them telegraphs to the other in the "great and potent code of slang." This is what he says:

"His nibs skedaddled yesterday per jack rabbit line with all the coin in the kitty and the bundlin of muslin he's spoony about. The boodle is six figures short. Our crowd in good shape, but we need the spondulicks. You collar it. The main guy and the dry goods are headed for the briny. You know what to do."

Officials were unable to fathom this cryptic message. If you are a true American, and understand your native tongue, you should have no difficulty with it. As a sample of our inmost patois, it is worthy of all admiration.

The Chivalrous South.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

•••The Republican state central committee, which met at St. Paul today, fixed the date for the state convention for July 24. Some wanted the convention in June and others desired it called for September. To Joel P. Heatwole belongs the credit of the compromise. He, F. A. Day and Dan Bruchart were the leaders of the late convention proposition, while the opposition forces were led by E. G. Potter, David Clough and others.

•••Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McMillan have gone to St. Paul and Iowa, where Mrs. McMillan will visit for some time.

•••E. W. Barker is in Chicago on a two weeks' trip and will return by way of Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie.

•••Capt. Alex. McDougall says the American Steel Barge company will lay the keels of the first vessels in the new yard at Superior in about three weeks. The two steel barges of his patent being built in Brooklyn for ocean service are nearly finished.

•••At the city council meeting last evening, Anson P. Gould, Charles L. Wells and Fred T. Evans, Jr., of Sioux City presented an ordinance granting a franchise for a district messenger service, the same privilege that has been asked by C. Hope and others of St. Paul.

•••Supt. Wardwell of the Street Railway company stated today that the material for the new electric lines will begin to arrive in a few days and construction work will start in earnest. A. S. Littlefield of Chicago, who has made a partial examination of the line, is of the opinion that the line cannot be changed without tearing up the present ties and laying new ones in concrete.

•••State Oil Inspector Sam Nichols of St. Paul is in Duluth today to see Jay M. Smith, who is to be appointed deputy inspector here. He says that Governor Merriam will undoubtedly seek a renomination.

HALE AND MAINE

By SAVOYARD.

This man has exerted a very great influence on public affairs, the more than double decade he has been in public life at the capital of the Republic. He is 74 years of age, and for fifty years of his life he has held office. He was nine years prosecuting attorney for Hancock county, Me.; he was three years a member of the Maine legislature; he was ten years a member of the national house of representatives. He has been a senator in congress since March 4, 1881.

Maine is one state where intellect is held in high esteem. Here is a consecutive, and frequently cumulative—conservative, succession: Peter Sprague, who came to congress in 1825; George Evans in 1827, William Pitt Fessenden in 1841, James G. Blaine in 1863, Eugene Hale, 1869; Thomas B. Reed, 1875. Sprague and Evans served concurrently; so did Evans and Fessenden; so did Fessenden and Blaine; so did Blaine, Hale and Reed, though I count both senate and house as the congress in this computation, and that is the way the Constitution of the United States counts 'em.

Evans was the greatest intellect Maine ever produced. He was her first lawyer, her most formidable debater. He was the one man old John Quincy Adams admitted beat him in parliamentary combat, though Stephen A. Douglas did the same thing later. With the single exception of Alexander Hamilton, Evans was the most powerful advocate of a protective tariff our country has produced, above Webster, who was really a free trader, and far above Clay, who called it the "American system," though it was as old as tyranny on the throne or graft in the treasury. They had it in Greece when Corinth flourished, and I wish I were not too lazy to take down a history of Greece I read last winter and quote from it. There never yet was a ship, or a road, or a canal, or a wagon, constructed for the convenience of man, that was not a protest against protection and a practical and material argument for free trade. There never was a river and harbor bill passed by the American congress that had not its germ in the instinctive demand for free trade. There never was a trade reciprocity treaty that was not the tribute the rascality of protection paid to the honesty of free trade. And the same is true of the "maximum and minimum."

But that is a digression, though a wholesome one. Splendid and gigantic as was his intellect, George Evans was utterly devoid of morals. He went all the gaits, burned the candle at both ends and in the middle, and I am sorry that what President Taylor said of him is unprintable when Daniel Webster urged Evans for secretary of the treasury. In the old man's cabinet of which Webster was secretary of state.

Doubtless it is true that William Pitt Fessenden was Maine's greatest son. Nearly as intellectual as Evans, he was as pure a man as Thomas F. Bayard or William L. Wilson, or Henry G. Turner. Certainly he was the greatest senator the Republican party ever had in congress, greater than Conkling, even, or Morton, or Sumner, or Chase, or Seward. He succeeded Chase as secretary of the treasury in Lincoln's cabinet. Had he been chosen to that station in 1861 there would have been no greenback; the war would have cost about half what it did, and doubtless it would have been brought to a conclusion at least a year earlier. He would have made a great president. He saved his country when he defeated the partisan scheme to impeach Andy Johnson.

Maine was born a sister of the republic ninety years ago. For eighty-five years of that time, she has been represented at this capitol by at least one commanding figure, often by two, and now and then by three. Evans came before Sprague left. Fessenden came before Evans left. Blaine came before Fessenden left. Hale and Reed came before Blaine left and Dingley, whom I left out of my computation, came while Hale and Reed were here.

• • •

All honor to Maine, that never had a boss, and that is why Maine has cut so wide a swath in the American congress. In Maine Carmack would have been senator for life, and so Carlisle, or Lindsay, or Owsley Stanley.

• • •

James G. Blaine was a small edition in politics of what the first Duke of Marlborough was in war. Both thought it better to be rich than to be honest. Blaine was a brilliant man, and his will added to his imagination made him a great figure; but it is sacrilege to link the name of Blaine with that of Clay, for Clay held honor in as high esteem as Blaine held wealth. It would have been impossible for Clay to write the "Mulligan letters," and Blaine would never have faced Randolph's pistol.

But people went wild over Blaine, and the South and the country owe him a great debt. He beat old Butler's force bill and he beat the third term movement. Would we had another Blaine for 1912 to throttle an even more threatening third-term movement!

I will relate an anecdote that has not been in print for a long time. In 1884, when Blaine was the Republican candidate for president, he toured the country in a special car attached to a special train supplied by Jay Gould. Of course the entourage was Charles A. Boutelle. And of him I shall take the liberty to digress. He was a sailor and about the handsomest fellow I ever saw. He looked, walked and talked the game cock. He could make a fine speech, and his mind was stored with a good deal of information. He lived and died a bloody-shirter. Old Joe Wheeler said he would not fight; but he looked and talked the fighter, at any rate. Wollington said, "the pupples would fight."

In October, 1884, the Blaine special went out of New York city early in the morn, and Boutelle was on board. He picked up the New York Tribune, and after reading the leading editorial, he threw the paper down, stamped on it, and cussed Whitelaw Reid, its editor, as only a sailor could cuss. Blaine sat with amusement on his face and a twinkle in his eye, and when Boutelle had exhausted himself, the "plumed knight" quietly said:

"Charley, I wrote that, and had it printed double lead."

Boutelle collapsed.

But to get back. Hale was to Blaine his ablest and most trusted lieutenant—what Crittenden, at one time, was to Clay; what Randolph, at one time, was to Jefferson; what Hayne was to Calhoun; what Choate was to Webster; and, to go across the water, what Canning was to Pitt, what Grey was to Fox, what Windham was to Burke; what Collingwood was to Nelson. Hale had what Blaine had not—a calm, sedate, sage judgment. A far less brilliant man, he was equally as able, and with a judicial temper. Hale would have been in the front rank of his profession had he stuck to the bar. He would have made a great judge on the bench.

Hale entered congress at the age of 33, when Blaine was speaker, and Blaine gave him ample opportunity to exploit himself. He was well equipped, and had all the strong points of a debater except eloquence; but he was a capable public speaker, and in those days rather garrulous. I will say this for him right now, lest I forget it, and the same is true of old Joe Cannon: He was always for economy in appropriations, and those two men have saved to the public treasury many a million of extravagant or corrupt expenditure. That is the converse of what the fishwife of Billingsgate said of herself in "Humphrey Clinker."

When Thad Stevens died old Ben Butler was the chief Republican on the floor of congress, the ablest man in congress, indeed. He led the cohorts of hate from the North against the prostrate South in the infamous period of reconstruction, and why? During the administration of Frank Pierce, Butler licked the boots and fetched and carried for Jefferson Davis, the dominant factor of that administration, and now he has turned a gigantic Uriah Heep.

Hale supported all these infamies, as did his chief, Blaine, ostensibly. But it was a time of passion, and the South was to be put under the heel of the tyrant because of the matchless valor of her sons on a thousand bloody fields.

In 1878 there was a greenback epidemic in Maine. Hale, more than any other man I ever saw in public life, looks and acts the aristocrat. He was born on the wrong side of the water. He was intended for a British lord of the time of the Stuarts, or a French count of the time of Louis XIV. And in 1878 a stonecutter beat him for congress, his only defeat. And thus the mousing owl killed the towering falcon in her pride of place. You ought to see the vest Hale wears in the summer time.

But three years later Eugene Hale was the successor of Hannibal Hamlin in the United States senate, of which body he has been a conspicuous and leading figure for twenty-nine years.

Next to Evans, Tom Reed was the greatest intellect Maine ever produced, and he was what Evans was not—a respectable man. He would not submit to the domination of Blaine, and was always an insurgent in the camp. He believed he was a greater man than Blaine, and he was right. Certainly his mind was finer, and assuredly his character was better.

They did not speak—Reed and Blaine—and there were years that Reed would not speak to either Hale or Frye, and Reed debated long whether he would shove Frye out of his seat as senator, but ultimately he determined the house was his place. Later he was urged to go to the senate, but he shook his head and said: "The chariots of the gods swing low but once for any man."

• • •

He left public life a disappointed man, as all of them do, and as Hale does. He was humiliated when his party preferred the weak McKinley to himself. He never got over it. Tom Reed would have been a grand president—almost as Grover Cleveland's class.

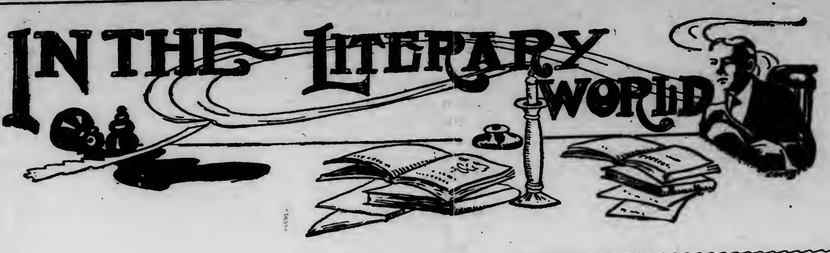
IN THE LITERARY WORLD



THE RIGHT STUFF. By Ian Hay. Boston: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.20 net.

The author of this delightful book approaches us, through his preface, with piquant humility and self-respect combined with whimsical apology for the fare he sets before us, all of which creates an anticipation of something good—an anticipation that is not disappointed. The story is quaintly and delightfully humorous and human. Robert Chalmers Fordyce, the hero, we meet when he comes up from the farm to Edinburgh to try his learning on an examination for a scholarship. He is raw enough—he thought the glass-roofed railroad station was Edinburgh—and canny enough to be typical of all typical Scotsmen. He won his scholarship, went through the university, became a hack journalist in London, and was rescued by S. Adrian Inglethwaite, a British under-secretary who makes Robin his private secretary and tells the story, making good-humored fun of himself in doing so. Inglethwaite has a very interesting family, including two beautiful twin sisters-in-law who are sprightly, tricksome and heartwhole—in the beginning. They have been used to having sport with impressionable young men, using their similarity in appearance to excellent theatric advantage. Robin's simple and natural manliness was a match for them, however, and there is much amusement in witnessing the play of their wits against his sturdy self-respect. A romance grows out of it, of course, and our Robin becomes a good deal of a figure before the end of this tale. The book is a continuous chuckle from first page to last, and besides it has real and appealing charm.

J. Montgomery Flagg contributes a frontispiece, and we are moved to say at this time, not particularly because of the frontispiece, though it is good, perhaps because of the good humor the story evokes, that for humanness, humor, adequacy and sympathy, Mr. Flagg pleases us better than any other illustrator.

THE RED SYMBOL. By John Ironsides. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.50.

The struggle of the lower classes in Russia against the oppression of autocratic rulers and the tragedies that from time to time have marked that struggle, have proved popular backgrounds for romantic story to work on, and no doubt the public's reception of such novels has justified yet another of that character. In "The Red Symbol" we are shown the heart experiences and adventures of an American newspaperman who, as correspondent for a London paper, is sent to Russia to report affairs in that country. He has plenty of adventures and very little chance for love-making, which perhaps is just as well, considering how the story turns out. He is present in Moscow on the fearful "Red Sunday" and takes a small part in the stormy scene enacted there, but the author manages to get over even this part of his story without more than a reasonable portrayal of blood and corpses. Although not more than ordinarily absorbing as a novel in other respects, "The Red Symbol" is exceptional in that it would seem impossible for the reader to guess the solution of the mysteries as it is given by the author. In fact, it is one of those few books which one cannot lay down half or even three-quarters finished and complacently fill in the rest all by himself.

AN ARMY MULE. By Charles Miner Thompson. Boston: Houghton Mifflin company. $1 net.

Joe Bixby, a good-hearted New Englander, but "sot" in his ways, is the "mule" in this story, and a pretty mess he made of it. He was about to marry Hannah Foster, when he discovered that his small fortune in bonds, which he had brought to town with him in the valise, was missing. He determined, then, that he wouldn't marry till he found the bonds. Also, he made up his mind that Rufe Holt, his orphan chore boy, must have stolen them, and nothing would change his mind. In the meantime, the small boys who had taken his clothes out of his valise and substituted a suit intended for a scarecrow, and who, without intending to do so, had taken the bonds as well, were undergoing the pangs of tortured conscience. After Joh had had Rufe arrested the whole story came out, and Joh had to win Hannah, who had a mind of her own, back again. How she seemed to let him win, but in reality won the real victory herself, makes a very entertaining story, which is admirably told from beginning to end.

THE TWISTED FOOT. By Henry Milner Rideout, author of "Dragon's Blood," "The Siamese Cat," etc. Pictures by G. C. Widney. Boston: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.20 net.

Here is an absorbing and fascinating story of mystery and peril in Eastern lands and seas. David Bowman, after falling overboard and swimming desperately through a lonely sea, climbed aboard a native vessel and had to cow its two occupants before he was safe. He slipped overboard when land was in sight and found himself in the hut of a young Englishman who was surrounded with mystery, and who was presently killed by a weird being which left the print of a twisted foot, "on which the great toe flared at right angles like an outspread thumb." The dead man left the picture of a fair lady, with a packet to be taken to her. Bowman knew her name was Mary, that she was beautiful, and that he was jealous of this dead man, and he knew nothing more; but he started out to deliver his parcel and to carry the message of the Englishman's death. That errand was pursued through many dangers and mysteries. He was followed by the apparition with the twisted foot and by another, one Rosario, a gay and fair-minded villain, who would cut a human throat as he would kill a fly. He found help and companionship in peril in the fascinating person of the Sultan Rama, and he found the girl more beautiful and desirable than he had imagined.

The story is full of color and action, and, in spite of its mysteries and bloodshed and excitements, it isn't a bit overdone and keeps its interest from first to last.

Of Books and Writers.

Ben B. Lindsey's account of the founding of his children's court with its damning exposure of Colorado's political rottenness is now completed in serial form and has just been brought out by Doubleday, Page & Co. as a book entitled, "The Beast." It is impossible that the author of such a narrative should escape the attacks and curses of the enraged victims who writhe under his unsparing pen. Nor has he. Instead he has patiently suffered a living martyrdom, firm in the support of his great achievement. Bribes sufficient to buy a millionaire have been offered him. His life, even, has been threatened. To all these countless charges he answers simply with his book; the irrefutable statements of facts, with the names, dates and places.

The judge has, however, recently made the following remarks: "Nothing in my life has been more encouraging than the response that has come from the people of Colorado and from all parts of this country to our appeal for a recognition of the Beast and an opposition to its rule of plunder and corruption. This response has brought the assurance in a thousand ways that the American republic has still the determination of freedom and the heart to fight for it. I am hoping that however I may be discredited in the future by the organization of vice and power that may crush me here, as it has crushed so many before me, the cause for which we have fought may not have any smirch put on it in the struggle to "get" me. With so many bribed juries and bought judges, with the power of wealth impelling the villainies of weakness, with the functions of the state so often in the hands of the agents of injustice, it is next to certain that the way will be found, some time ——

"Let them not injure the cause in your mind by disgracing the advocate. The individual is of no importance—his success or his failure, his happiness or his suffering, his triumph or his disgrace. But the cause involves the success or the failure of our wonderful democracy—the happiness or the suffering of millions of oppressed citizens, polluted in their lives, agonized by the disease of immortality of their corrupted children. We are moving forward against evil, against injustice, not away from it. Whoever falls in the struggle, let him end behind you, and he will not end unhappily."

Winston Churchill is the latest novelist to be taken up in the series "Some Representative American Story Tellers" which is now running in The Bookman. Dr. Frederick Taber Cooper, the author of the article, has divided his discussion into three parts, Churchill's method, his novels and his future.

Churchill's method is, says Dr. Cooper, "the time-honored method of Fielding and of Thackeray and to some extent of Dickens." After elaborating on this point to a considerable extent he then turns to the novels themselves. "Taken as a whole," Dr. Cooper writes, "with the exception of 'The Celebrity' and 'A Modern Chronicle,' Mr. Churchill's books may not unjustly be defined as comprehensive panoramas of American history, each standing as a vivid summing up of some national or local crisis. • • • There can be no question that he has succeeded admirably in handling big backgrounds; few American novelists have achieved as he has that sense of wide spaces of earth and sky, the weariness of dragging miles, the monotony of passing years, the whole fundamental trick of making us feel a relative value of our own modest holdings, our individual interests, our brief hour as contrasted with mankind and with eternity. • • • His trick of characterization is as graphic and almost as indefatigable as that of the camera lens. You see face after face, figure behind figure, each drawn with fewer and swifter strokes as they become more bold by distance, yet every one individualized and recognizable."

Regarding Mr. Churchill's place in American fiction it is possible to speak, Dr. Cooper says, with more confidence than is the case with most of his contemporaries. That he has a widespread popularity is a fact that cannot be disregarded, and this popularity, instead of waning, has remained a constant quantity. He builds his books solidly as one builds a house, upon rocks, with the intention that it shall not soon be torn down. He has moreover the advantage of a careful style and a scrupulous regard for truth."

That great international event, the around-the-world cruise of the American naval fleet, suggested the theme of E. Phillips Oppenheim's new novel of international intrigue, "The Illustrious Prince." He here narrates the secret and world-startling methods employed by the emperor of Japan through Prince Maiyo, his close kinsman, to find out the real reasons for this famous cruise. As in Mr. Oppenheim's previous novels the reader is carried from deep mystery to tense situations, without a dull moment, until finally the explanation is reached in a most unlooked for and unusual climax. "The Illustrious Prince" is issued by Mr. Oppenheim's American publishers, Little, Brown & Co., of Boston.

As an evidence of the true Thackerayan quality of Mary S. Watts' "Nathan Burke," (Macmillan), the reviewer of one of the papers quotes the following passage descriptive of an auction sale of the furniture of Mrs. Ducey's home:

"Verily, I thing I should rather go to a funeral than witness such a profanation of a friend's home—a decent family mansion. Every such roof whereunder men have lived and suffered and been happy, has a soul; one might fancy its mirrors reflecting with loathing the strange faces, its curtains and carpets shuddering at the alien touch. Its very shabbiness move one inexplicably; they speak so of old and dear association. There goes the big leather arm chair out of poor Jones' sitting room—the chair he used to sit and smoke and dream in; it is knocked down for $3—all it was worth probably—to the stout, red-faced lady with the plaid shawl and the feathers in her bonnet; she was their laundress, I believe. The little walnut bureau with the long, swinging glass and the drawers up one side, was Mrs. Jones'; these is a discolored place on one of its marble tops where she got into the habit of laying the curling iron—the bureau won't fetch much; it's too worn. The small room just off the bedroom? Why, that was the nursery; can't you see the gouges all along the baseboard where the points of her rocker hit when she sat in that low chair with a baby? And now from the garret they have brought down a whole wheelbarrow-load of broken toys, picture books, building blocks, a doll's cradle and trunk, the sight of which brings forth much laughter from the spectators; they bundle all the trash into one lot, and get rid of it to that elderly, side-whiskered gentleman who is the superintendent of the Presbyterian Children's hospital. I do not feel much like laughing: And I won't even bid on the mahogany chest and hat-rack, although I used to envy Jones the possession of them. I should as lief have a mahogany ghost in the house as that relic, and wouldn't know how to look Jones in the face—broken-down failure as he is—if he should come into my hall and hang his hat on those pegs."

An indication of the interest which "Nathan Burke" has aroused since its publication a few week ago is contained in a letter which the publishers have just received from a prominent theatrical concern which is interested in its dramatic possibilities. As yet no decision in the matter has been reached.

With the death of Bjornstjerna Bjornson, Norway has lost one of its most capable makers of literature, and not only Norway, for the famous author's works have been translated into many different languages. To his earlier volume, "Guide to American Biography," which dealt with men of action, Burton E. Stevenson has now added a second volume—"Guide to American Biography," dealing with men of mind. Both books are published by the Baker & Taylor Co., who call attention to the fact that in the interval between the writing of the first and second volume, the title of the series in which they appeared has been changed—that it is no longer called the Child's Guide Series, but merely "The Guide Series."

How an American baby played cupid to a Kentucky belle is set forth in a new romance of manners by Mrs. Charles N. Among the Magazines.

The Baroness Von Hutten, whose "Pam" established for herself a unique place in the hearts of thousands of readers the world over, introduces her admirers to a new and equally delicious character, "Jinny," in the June Smart Set. This latest novel of the Baroness Von Hutten's, which is published complete in this number of the Smart Set, is a story of New York city. There is a double romance running through the story, which begins with a chance encounter of Prof. Hoyt and young couple in Central Park and concerns itself mainly with the love story of Jinny, the daughter of these two young people, whose widely different stations in life had brought their own honeymoon to an untimely end. The action of the novel shifts back and forth between Fifth avenue and the downtown boarding house district, where the kindly old professor and his equally lovable associates live their simple lives and contribute their not inconsiderable share to the action of the story. A spirited account of the Jinny's runaway horse show, a threat of blackmail and an attempt at kidnaping add interest and excitement to the plot. This novel is likely to rank among the very best of the Baroness's works. Ellen Duvall contributes a short story, "The Strategists," that tells of a problem of life that was worked out in a very shrewd manner. "Twenty Minutes in a Horse Show" is a brilliant bit of conversation between a husband and wife on the question of woman suffrage. Lucine Finch establishes herself with this little story as a mistress of gentle irony.

The Delineator for June makes a broad appeal, for its special articles deal with a great variety of subjects and a fiction interprets many phases of life. The nigh cost of living receives attention in "A Brief for the Housewife," by Mabel Potter Daggett, who presents facts that every woman should know, in a concrete manner that is most convincing. Other special articles of the month are: "The Man Who Has Revolutionized Five Hundred Sunday Schools," by Allan H. Benson; "Childhood's Happy Hour," by Eugene Wood, "The Theater—A School for Discipline," by Louise Closser Hale; and "Women in the Indian Service," by Francis E. Leupp. Erman J. Ridgway, who is impressing his personality upon the magazine through the medium of the new editorial department entitled "Conversations," discusses marriage. "There would be fewer misunderstandings and more successful marriages if more people realized that a marriage can be successful without being perfect," he says.

In the issue of Harper's Weekly for May Edward G. Lowry writes from Washington upon "The Clean-up in the Senate." Other articles in this issue are: "Watch-dogs of the Sea," a description of the light-ships of Nantucket Sound, by Perriton Maxwell; "The Lure of the Pearl," by Mura Bayly; and "Shadows of the Stage," by William Winter, in which the famous critic attacks the decadent plays of the season. This issue contains the usual editorial and humor features, with illustrations and articles upon topical events of interest.

Perhaps the most important of the semi-political questions which congress is expected to settle in the near future is that of a revised banking system. This will be based upon a report to be made by the national monetary commission, of which United States Senator Aldrich is chairman. This commission, as is well known, has made a careful, personal investigation of the systems of foreign countries and a series of reports are now being issued for the benefit of congress. It is believed likely that we shall adopt a system based upon that so successfully used in Canada. The Bookkeeper for May publishes a careful abstract of the report of the commission on this system. It is written by Ernest Cawcroft, who has made a careful study, personally, of this and other economic questions relating to Canada. The details of an exhaustive report by the commission are summed up in a brief article by Mr. Cawcroft so clearly and truthfully that it is well worth the attention of every business man.

EX-MAYOR HENRY TRUELSEN RETURNS THANKS TO THE PEOPLE OF DULUTH

Touched By Sending of Artist to Paint His Portrait.

Recalls Strenuous Fight of the People for Pure Water.

The Herald has received the following interesting letter from ex-Mayor Henry Truelsen, who is at present managing the Zenith Coal company's mining operations at Zenith, N. D., in which he thanks the people of Duluth for sending an artist to paint his portrait, which is to be hung in the city hall, and indulges in some reminiscenses of the long and successful fight of the people of Duluth to obtain ownership of the Duluth Gas & Water company's plant and secure pure water:

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would be ungrateful and not worthy the honor bestowed upon me by the people of the city of Duluth, in sending David Ericson, the noted artist, here to paint my portrait, to be hung in the city hall, should I not acknowledge the honor conferred upon me by them. I love the people of Duluth, and am proud of the city, and its people. What could I have accomplished in their behalf if I had not their confidence and co-operation? And when final victory crowned our efforts for pure water, and the plant purchased at a reasonable price, it was not my victory but the victory of the people, who stood shoulder to shoulder in the fight, and did not tire nor were they discouraged by reverses. I was but one of the people and rejoiced with them when pure water flowed to every house in the city, and as far as I was personally concerned I felt amply compensated that the object fought for had been accomplished, and as I have often stated during the heated campaigns that not only the present but coming generations would feel the benefit of the people's victory in the gas and water fight.

I am an earnest believer in municipal ownership of all public utilities, not only of gas and water but of every utility used by the people in common. Of necessity public utilities form in themselves monopolies, and I believe every monopoly should be owned and controlled by the people in place of by individuals. The opponents of municipal ownership contend that the people cannot conduct the business as economically as corporations, and that public utilities would become the prey of politics and politicians. I have always combatted these allegations, because if that would be true, then people would be unfit for self government, but it has not proved such in Duluth, in fact, to the contrary. Since the city acquired the plant it has produced astonishing results, showing a net profit from 1897 to 1907 of $1,592,524.05, and it has been free from politics, while during the existence of the gas and water company, they controlled the city elections, and generally owned a majority of the members of the common council.

If the people will look as closely as they ought to after city affairs and elections, they will always have faithful public servants, but if cities should never enter into a city election. "Honesty and Competence" should be the only consideration in selecting public servants. A city is a large business corporation, of which all the people are members, and it ought to be conducted on strictly business principles. The people of Duluth have shown their independence so often in the past, and have a right to feel proud of that fact.

But I am getting off my subject, I did not intend to go into the question of municipal ownership of public utilities, but to thank the dear people from the bottom of my heart for their kind remembrance. I have no desire for notoriety, but their act has touched a tender spot, and makes me feel as if life is still worth living. What do riches signify in comparison to friendship? The former ends at the grave, while the latter lives beyond it. May the people of Duluth live long and prosper is my earnest wish, and may the city exceed our fondest expectation of her future greatness.

How well do I remember the early days of Duluth, when few persons would listen to our enthusiasm about the future greatness of Duluth, which they could not perceive or understand. Great things have come true, but greater events are still in store for her, and I expect to live long enough to see a quarter million of a happy and contented people claiming Duluth as their home. I hope and expect that I shall again be with them inhaling the pure ozone of old Kitchi Gammi, which makes men strong and vigorous, fit to battle for supremacy of the metropolis of the North Star state.

With kind regards to all the people, I beg to remain, very truly yours.

HENRY TRUELSEN.

RAILROADS ARE IN DILEMMA

Commerce Commission Will Ignore Decision on 16-Hour Law.

Not only will the commission ignore the decision, which said that railroads had the right to work telegraph operators more than thirteen hours in day offices when the work is performed on "split tricks," but it will also take immediate steps to prosecute all railroads that follow the decision of the court.

PUBLICITY BILL REPORTED.

House Measure Reaches Senate in Amended Form.

Washington, May 14.—Senator Burrows yesterday reported to the senate the house bill providing for the publicity of contributions made for the purpose of influencing elections. The bill was amended from the form in which it was passed by the house by striking out the provision requiring publication in advance of elections.

An animated debate on the Bartholdt bill to reimburse the St. Louis subtreasury to the extent of $61,500 for money stolen from it in 1906 greatly developed partisanship in the house and the measure was passed by a strictly party vote of 121 to 90.

REPLIES TO BEVERIDGE

Representative Fordney o Michigan Speaks in the House.

Answers Charge of Indiana Senator Regarding the Tariff.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Issue was joined by Representative Fordney of Michigan with Senator Beveridge of Indiana in a speech he made in the house late yesterday upon the tariff. the tariff.

He declared that the senator from Indiana assaulted the Republican party and held himself up to his constitutents as a martyr, representing himself as the savior of his people; demanding justice from his party and not getting it, and wishing to make people believe that in order to be saved, they must go to him.

Rrepresentative Fordney took up Senator Beveridge's tariff speech issue by issue and delivered what he believed to be an answer to each of them. Mr. Fordney quoted the senator as having said President Taft wanted free lumber. This Mr. Fordney denied. Mr. Beveridge's statement that the woolen schedule had remained the same more than forty years he also denied.

"The gentleman from Indiana would lead the people of this country to believe the president's position on the new tariff bill has been inconsistent; that he has changed his position since the passage of the new law.

Says Taft Favored Schedules.

"President Taft stood for the rates fixed in the Payne bill when it became a law, and he stands for them now. His signing the bill is the best evidence that he stood for it then and he now states it is the best tariff bill ever placed on our statute books. That is the best evidence that he stands for it now."

Mr. Fordney declared he was unalterably opposed to any reduction of duty on sugar, declaring such reduction would destroy a magnificent industry.

"To write a tariff law that will increase the wages of the laborers in the rolling mills, the cotton mills, the woolen mills or any other mills and reduce to the consumer the price of this labor's product, would be a puzzle. Again, a law that will increase the farmer's income, his profits, and reduce the price of farm products, is a second conundrum. The man who could do it would be the wizard of the world. Such, however, may be found in the state of Indiana. Thomas B. Reed said, 'This is what I call arranging a perfect tariff in your mind, but unfortunately, a tariff so arranged has no extraneous jurisdiction.'

"Theory Is Impossible."

"If the gentleman believes that a law could be made putting raw materials on the free list and putting them there in an equitable manner to all concerned, why should he not propose such an amendment to the bill when it was before the senate? I challenge the gentleman from Indiana to present such a bill. His theory is not among possibilities. He would rob Peter to pay Paul, and he seems to think such action would be just and equitable.

"President Taft has taken the position that the adoption of the Payne law is the true test of Republicanism. I agree with him. Senator Beveridge, on the other hand, takes the view held by Mr. Bryan, whose views on the subject have more than once in general elections been overwhelmingly repudiated by the voters at the polls."

Mr. Fordney also declared himself unalterably opposed to a tariff commission.

Can This Man Read Your Life?

The rich, poor, exalted and humble seek his advice on Business, Marriage, Friends, Enemies, Changes, Speculations, Love Affairs, Journeys and all events of Life.

MANY SAY HE REVEALS THEIR LIVES WITH AMAZING ACCURACY.

Free Test Readings Will Be Sent for a Short Time to All Duluth Herald Readers.

Has the veil of mystery that has so long shrouded the ancient sciences been raised at last? Can it be that a system has been perfected that reveals with reasonable accuracy the character and disposition of an individual, and so outlines the life as to assist in avoiding errors and taking advantage of opportunities?

Roxroy, a man who has for twenty years been delving into the mysteries of the occult, making a scientific study of the various methods of reading the lives of people, seems to have reached a higher round in the ladder of fame than his predecessors. Letters are pouring into his office from all parts of the world telling of the benefits derived from his advice. Many of his patrons look upon him as a man gifted with some strange, mysterious power, but he modestly asserts that what he accomplishes is due alone to an understanding of natural laws.

He is a man of kindly feeling toward humanity, and his manner and tone immediately impress one with his sincere belief in his work. A huge stack of grateful letters from people who have received readings from him adds to other convincing proofs as to his ability. Even Astrologers and Palmists admit that his system surpasses anything yet introduced.

The Rev. G. C. H. Hasskarl, Ph. D., Pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, in a letter to Prof. Roxroy, says: "You are certainly the greatest specialist and master of your profession. Every one consulting you will marvel at the correctness of your detailed personal readings and advice. The most sceptical will consult you again and again after corresponding with you once."

If you wish to take advantage of Roxroy's generous offer and obtain a free reading, send your date, month and year of birth, state whether (Mr., Mrs. or Miss) and also copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

I have heard of your power
To read people's lives,
And would ask what for me
You have to advise?

Be sure to give your correct name, birth date and address and write plainly. Send your letter to ROXROY, Dept. 54c, No. 17a Kensington High Street, London, W., England. If you wish, you may inclose 10 cents (U. S. A. stamps) to pay postage, clerical work, etc. Do not inclose coins or silver in letters.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GOOD ROADS; LESS WATER

Farmers of Roseau County Awaking to Need of These Things.

Expected Opposition to Judicial Ditch in That County Not Present.

Roseau, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roseau county has awakened to the need of good roads and drainage.

Every week this spring delegations of farmers have called at the county seat and inquired how to proceed to get systems of ditches and roads built. The expense necessary on these improvements deters the farmers no longer from urging this work ahead. Plans are under consideration affecting several of the best localities in the county.

This week a number of well-to-do farmers in the town of Falun came in and after they had gone over the situation carefully, it was determined that a judicial ditch system benefiting that township and American be petitioned for, which petition is already being circulated and the matter will be pushed as fast as possible under the law until the ditches and roads have been built.

Many farmers from the territory affected by state ditch No. 91 were present Wednesday at the hearing before Judge Grindeland on assessments for the benefits to be derived from this great drainage system. State Engineer George A. Ralph was present to explain the nature of the proposed work. Olaf Hofdahl, John Norquist and D. Mosher, viewers, were in attendance to furnish the court with information bearing on particular assessments, and William J. Brown, county attorney of Marshall county, acted as attorney for the state drainage commission.

Little Objection In Evidence.

When it was noticed that so many farmers had come so many miles to attend the hearing, it was at first feared that they would interpose objections to the construction of the ditches and otherwise oppose the work proposed. It soon developed that nearly everyone had come to express his delight over the prospect of getting drainage, and not a single one opposed the building of the ditches and only three presented arguments for wishing to have the assessments against part of their land lowered, which the judge took under advisement with a view of equalizing assessments so as to do justice to all concerned.

The actual work on these ditches will begin in a short time, and when it is completed the county south of Badger and Greenbush, comprising seven townships, will be settled with prosperous farmers on every quarter section, and much of what has hitherto been idle land will become as productive as any in this state.

FIVE MEMBERS OF A FAMILY BURNED

Father, Three Children and Mother-in-Law Perish Near Faribault.

Faribault, Minn., May 14.—Five members of a family were burned to death early yesterday.

Bert Sperry, the father, fell into the flames when the upper floor of his home collapsed, and his charred body was found, with the arms clasping in pitiful embrace, two little blackened corpses, the remains of his children. He had entered a blazing room in an attempt to rescue them.

A moment before he had placed his little boy on the roof of a porch, and had seen the roof collapse and the child fall screaming into the awful furnace beneath. The dead are:

BERT SPERRY, father, aged 35.

MRS. A. N. KELLOGG, aged 65 years, mother of Mrs. Sperry.

EDWARD SPERRY, aged 7.

CLARENCE SPERRY, aged 5.

GRACE SPERRY, aged 3.

All of the bodies have been recovered, but were burned to a crisp. The mother, the baby and the oldest child, aged 10 years, were the only members of the family saved. The home of the Sperrys was in the western part of the city near the Sheffield-King mill.

Father Starts Fire.

Mr. Sperry arose about 6 o'clock to build a fire in the stove. He went back to bed, and about thirty minutes later neighbors saw the entire interior of the house was a mass of flames. All members of the family slept upstairs and their escape was cut off. Mr. Hackett, a neighbor, succeeded in rescuing Mrs. Sperry and the baby. The oldest girl made her escape.

Mr. Sperry succeeded in placing the 7-year-old boy on the porch roof, but the child was so badly burned that he was unable to help himself, and in a few minutes the roof of the porch gave away and the child was plunged into the burning mass beneath.

The father then went to the rescue of the remaining two children, when the upper floor gave away and he, with one child in each arm, went down in the ruins. His burned body was found in the basement with the two children still clasped to his breast.

The house is not large, and all could have made their escape but for the fact that the entire interior of the home was a mass of flames before the fire was discovered. The probabilities are that the stove became overheated while the family was asleep. The bodies were all recovered.

Mrs. Sperry is in a serious condition and is unable to comprehend that nearly her entire family are dead. The house and contents were consumed.

CASS COUNTY LAND IN LARGE DEMAND

Big Advance in Prices Received at State Land Sale This Week.

Walker, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The banner state land sale was held here this week by State Auditor Iverson. Over 4,000 acres were disposed of to actual settlers and Mr. Iverson stated that it was ont only the largest sale ever held in Cass county, but by far the biggest one held this year anywhere in the state. The highest price any one parcel brought was $13.50.

This piece was appraised at only $6 and was listed last year at the state sale, but had no buyers. This is but one instance of the growing demand for land in Northern Minnesota, as well as its increase in value.

MAY VISIT THE HILLS.

Reported Ex-President Roosevelt Will Come There Soon.

Rapid City, S .D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Behind the visit of United States Marshal Seth Bullock of Deadwood to London, where he will join the Roosevelt party and return with them next month, is a mission of much interest to the Black Hills. Although Capt Bullock did not mention the subject before leaving except to one or two close friends, it has been learned that one of the objects of his trip now is to induce the ex-president to visit the Black Hills in August. Col. Roosevelt has accepted an engagement at Cheyenne, Wyo., for that month and will also speak in Omaha, and it is believed that the friendship of Bullock will prevail upon the distinguished traveler to also take in the Hills.

When this was learned here the business men took advantage to place Rapid City first on the list of the Black Hills towns to extend a formal invitation to Col. Roosevelt and on behalf of the Business Men's club, Secretary Soule has written a letter to the ex-president to preside at the initial session called for the purpose of organzing the proposed Black Hills Wool Growers' Co-operative association, the date to be arranged to suit the other engagements of Col. Roosevelt's.

PLANNING FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Moose Lake Commercial Club Arranging for Proper Tribute to Heroes.

Moose Lake, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special meeting of the Commercial club this week plans were made for the celebration of Memorial day, and on motion G. W. Skelton, C. F. Mahnke and J. W. Wentland were appointed as a committee to arrange for the program which will be published later. There are quite a number of old veterans who are buried here.

It was also decided to extend an invitation to the I. O. O. F. lodges of Duluth and Superior to hold their annual picnic here. It was also voted upon to put a resolution before the village council asking that the council appoint a park board to look after the park and make improvements where necessary.

It was also resolved that Friday, May 20, be set aside as a day for a general cleaning up in the park. The members of the Athletic club are now at work shingling the roof of the pavilion evenings.

The hauling of gravel for the making of the cement walks in town has begun and the village already has five teams at work and also a large crew of men unloading the gravel from the cars in the Soo yards. Six carloads have already been put in at the siding in the yards and the Soo will furnish more if necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rusk of Duluth, came down in their auto Sunday and spent the day on the beautiful shores of Moose lake, returning to Duluth in the evening.

A. C. Grindell recently purchased the forty-acre farm owned by William McGlivery a few miles north of town and is moving his household goods to it.

Mrs. Cross and two children, who have spent the past few weeks visiting with the former's sister, Mrs. Fred Losensky, left Wednesday for their home in Montana. A number of Mrs. Cross' friends tendered her with a farewell surprise party Tuesday afternoon.

DULUTH MEN ARE BUYING UP LAND

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Like a gold rush of the old days is the way in which T. J. Skellet of this city characterizes the excitement which is on in Todd county over the discovery of anthracite and the belief that it will show in quantities large enough to make its mining feasible for supplying the state with hard coal.

Mr. Skellet asserts that people have flocked to Lincoln and Browerville in such numbers that farmers have turned their houses and stables into hotels and are charging big prices for accommodations. Duluth is sending the largest contingent of speculators to the field and they take with them money to buy up the farms, offers of $200 an acre being readily made for whole farms for miles in every direction.

Big Vein Is Tapped.

It is claimed that three holes have been drilled, ninety feet deep and a mile apart, and the same vein it has been struck in each place. This would indicate that there is plenty of coal, whatever its quality, which can only be told by mining a quantity large enough to give an actual test. It is said to lie next to a slate formation, similar to that in Pennsylvania. It is not dull when taken out, like Colorado coal, but shiny and resembles Pennsylvania anthracite.

Mr. Skellet, who is a coal dealer and claims to know all kinds of commercial coal, is quite excited over the prospects and professes to believe that if the quality is there the coal find dustry.

Samples are now being tested at the University of Minnesota and other samples have been sent to Pennsylvania for comparison there by experts.

SURVEY COMPLETED.

For Wild Rice Drainage Scheme in Norman County.

Ada, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Monday the surveying crew which has been working here under the direction of State Drainage Engineer Ralph, completed their work and a report will soon be ready. The survey was made for the purpose of solving the drainage problem along the Wild Race river and the report will be the basis for future drainage work.

The ground has been thoroughly gone over from a point in Lake Ida where the Wild Rice is apt to overflow almost to the Red river.

The surveyors covered the territory from section 22 in McDonaldsville, at the Wild Rice river, thence westerly along the Hegne-Hendrum ditch to where said ditch empties into the Wild Rice river in Hendrum.

Lines were also run along the Marsh river, south of the Wild Rice river in Lake Ida, and north of the Wild Rice river in Lake Ida.

The report will be of great value and will be watched for with interest.

WILL APPEAL TO COURTS.

Mahnomen Indian Proposes to Have All Saloons Closed.

Mahonmen, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Warrants for the arrest of several hundred Northern Minnesota saloon keepers on the charge of selling liquor in violation of the Indian treaty of 1855, will be demanded by John W. Carle of this place, an Indian attorney.

Mr. Carle has been agitating the strict enforcement of the old law for some time, and recently appealed to Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, who decided to leave the entire question in the hands of William E. Johnson, special Indian agent.

Mr. Carle declares that his case was decided by Mr. Johnson himself. He originally took the matter up with President Taft, who refered it to Secretary Ballinger. It was then referred to the commissioner of Indian affairs, and finally turned over to W. E. Johnson.

Mr. Carle is determined that there shall be no discrimination in the enforcement of the treaty. He declares that it is unfair to allow some of the towns in the territory to run saloons while others are closed, and that if he cannot get justice at Wahington he will appeal to the courts.

BEST LAND IS TAKEN.

Wadena Men Returning From Montana Not Pleased With Outlook.

Wadena, Minn., May 14.—Golf Koch, Joe Ganzer and Philip Loreg returned home last week from their trip to Montana, where they hoped to take up homesteads. They did not like the country, and don't believe dry farming will work out there. They report that Nate Read, John Power, Mike Power, Thomas Power, Jr., William Carlson and Herman McCaffrey have all taken adjoining claims four miles from Big Sandy, about thirty-five miles from Havre. This land was thrown open for squatting on April 18, and the boys will file on May 18. All land close to towns is already taken up, and the claims cannot be had now closer than ten to twenty miles from the villages. Mr. Koch says water is scarce, prices are high and the country very dry. He says it don't look good to him, and predicts failure to a good majority of the homesteaders, who will be glad to get back to the places they have left. He says the Wadena men who have homesteads near Big Sandy are down on bottom land and are well situated.

FROM THE MINES AND THE SMELTERS

DEAL BY BUTTE & SUPERIOR

Secures Absolute Control of One-Half of Basin Concentrator—Two Carloads of Steel Received for Concentrator at Mine.

Butte, Mont., May 14.—Overcoming all of the difficulties which have surrounded the treatment of its ores in the Basin concentrator, the Butte & Superior Copper Mining company has assumed full control of one-half of the concentrator and in future will conduct its operation without supervision by the representatives of the La France Copper company, which holds a controlling interest in the Basin plant. Up to the present time a contract has existed between the Butte & Superior company and the La France Copper company, whereby the ores of the former were treated at a stipulated rate per ton. It is understood that ore was rushed through the mill and concentrator at a speed too great to insure concentration with a satisfactory degree of mineral saving. The concentrates have averaged about 49.1 per cent zinc, whereas it is believed that with care the saving may be increased to at least 70 per cent with the grade of ore which for several weeks has been treated at the Basin plant.

The arrangement by which the Butte & Superior company assumes absolute control of one-half of the plant was completed in New York recently at a conference between F. A. Heinze, representing the La France Copper company, and A. B. Wolvin, president of the Butte & Superior company, and R. H. Atwater, Jr., consulting engineer for the latter, upon whose recommendation the change was made.

Under the new arrangement a number of important changes will be made in the plant, including the installation of two Toust jigs to take the place of

DRILLS AT WORK ON LIVE OAK

Second Hole Now Forty Feet Deep—Lake Developments Promise the Striking of Commercial Ore in the Near Future.

Globe, Ariz., May 14.—The churn drill being used in prospecting the Live Oak property in advance of the underground drifting is now at work at its second location 400 feet west of the first one. The second hole is forty feet deep and is in the granite capping common to the Miami mining district. The first churn drill hole encountered 175 feet of chalcocite ore.

One of the notably favorable developments in the underground work at the Live Oak mine is the driving of drift No. 208 on the second level. This drift has passed eastward through forty-five feet of sulphide ore of good commercial grade. The vertical shaft, where sinking was resumed several weeks ago, has been put down 109 feet below the 300-foot level, thus showing to date a most promising vertical extent of ore.

Warrior.

At the Warrior mine, one of the greatest permanent producers of Globe district, the sinking of the third churn drill hole is under way. This hole is already 225 feet deep and is being put down on the Winnie claim, west of the second churn drill location, and about 700 feet north of the Scorpion claim on which the Inspiration Copper company is now doing development work in a good grade of sulphide ore.

On the 250 and 300-foot levels of the mine, ore is being stoped for shipment to the El Paso smelter. At present these shipments amount to from ninety-five to 100 tons of ore daily and the average copper content is being maintained as usual at about 9.5 per cent.

Arizona-Michigan.

At the Arizona-Michigan property, development work is being carried on at the Blackbird and Telfair shafts.

The Blackbird shaft has been sunk to a depth of 215 feet and levels have been established at 100 feet and 200 respectively. On the 100-foot level, about twenty-two feet of crosscutting has ben done. At a depth of 200 feet, a crosscut has been driven southeast toward the footwall for about eight feet and crosscutting northeast toward the hanging wall has been advanced five feet. The shft work has shown that at a depth of 200 feet the vein grows wider and contains much iron and some copper stain, thus giving promise of the existence of copper deposits at greater depth.

At the Telfair shaft, crosscutting is being continued on the 500-foot level in the expectation of opening the Old Dominion vein, which lies about 1,100 feet south of the shaft. So far, this crosscut has been driven 815 feet. For the past few weeks, the formation encountered by this crosscut has been shale, showing occasional iron stain.

Supt. N. A. Nelson is employing about twenty men in exploratory work.

PROFITS ON COEUR D'ALENES

More Than $2,100,000 Earned By Mines in District Last Year—St. Paul Expert Points Out Need of Smelter Near Spokane.

Spokane, Wash., May 12.—Statements filed with the assessor of Shoshone county, Idaho, show that the net profits of the Coeur d'Alene district were more than $2,100,000 in 1909, five of the prominent companies reporting as follows: Federal Mining & Smelting company, Mace mine, $869,155.70; Wardner mines, $350,678.54; Bunker Hill & Sullivan, $575,547.30; Hercules, $325,305.35; Hecla, $189,169.55; Snowstorm, $169,966. The Morning mine at Mullan was the only big producer worked at a loss this year. The Hercules and Bunker Hill & Sullivan also spent large amounts in improvements and repairs.

Control of the Federal Mining & Smelting company's common stock, which formerly lay with the American Smelters Securities company, is now vested, it is understood, with the American Smelting & Refining company. The last annual report shows $6,000,000 in common stock outstanding. The American Smelters Securities company at one time held $2,995,200. In the Securities company's last report to the Spokane Stock Exchange the Federal company does not appear as one in which the former company held an interest. Federal common, with the exception of 1½ per cent in 1909, has paid no dividends since 1907, when it paid 14½ per cent. It is understood that no common dividends will be paid this year.

Dr. G. F. Monson of St. Paul who was in Spokane a few days ago on the way to Paragon, Idaho, to inspect a lead and zinc property, in which Minnesota people are intersted, believes the time has come to establish a commercial smelter near Spokane to handle some of the ores from the tributary mining districts. "Spokane," he added, "is in an ideal situation to operate a reduction plant as well as become a manufacturing center, where many of the products of the district could be changed from raw material into finished commodities and I believe that will eventually be done."

Ore may be exposed in the Missoula copper property of the Coeur d'Alene district within a few days. Proximity of ore is not suggested by mineral conditions as much by the situation. The drift run on the vein is approaching the point where copper-bearing ore was penetrated by the drill hole. The crosscut driven to reach the ledge, did not follow the course of the drill hole because the journey of the drill was at an angle. The crosscut was driven on a short cut and missed the ore body by distances variously estimated to have been from 50 to 150 feet. Another drift has followed the ledge 20 feet and is proceeding toward the scene of the diamond drill strike. The character of the rock on the line of advance is improving.

CROSSCUTS TO PINTO SHAFT

Hamilton Shaft of the Cactus Mine Connected With Old Pinto Shaft—Drifts in Ore Running 3 and 4 Per Cent.

Globe, Ariz., May 14.—On the 300-foot level of the Hamilton shaft of the Cactus mine, crosscutting from the main west drift has just effected a connection with the Pinto shaft. As about 180 feet of water had accumulated in the Pinto shaft, great care had to be used to avoid injury to employes in making the connection.

At the 400-foot level, the west drift will be connected with the Pinto within a few weeks. The water will be pumped out through the Hamilton shaft. The drift at the 300-foot level has passed through the main fault into barren ground on the Pinto property, but that on the fourth level is continuously in ore within the Pinto line.

The sub-level fifty feet above the third level and running north from the raise located 200 feet north of the Hamilton shaft and a short distance west of it, is 150 feet long and continues in the malachite vein. At a point fifty feet farther north a west crosscut is being started on the sub-level.

Eastward from the Hamilton shaft drifts are being driven on the third and fourth levels. The former is 530 feet long while the latter has been advanced 600 feet. At these distances from the shaft the ore assays 3 per cent copper at the third level and 4 per cent at the fourth level. The ore is sulphide as in the greater part of the mine workings.

No definite plan of procedure from the Pinto shaft has yet been made, but it is likely that development work will cotninue from this shaft as from the Hamilton. The fourth level of the Hamilton will intersect the Pinto shaft at a depth of 540 feet, at which depth the latter shaft was bottomed after passing through ten feet of carbonate ore assaying 15 per cent copper.

Tools for the churn drill are expected to arrive in Globe at any time, but meanwhile the drill work is being delayed. W. H. Hamilton is in charge of operations.

LAKE COPPER MINES' OUTPUT

April Production About 20,000,000 Pounds—No Concerted Attempt to Curtail the Output—Bohemia Strikes Copper Ground With Diamond Drill, Disclosing Lode of Unusual Width.

Houghton, Mich., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake Superior mines during the month of April produced approximately 20,000,000 pounds of copper. No concerted attempt is being made to curtail the output and with the exception of two of the larger mines, the Calumet & Hecla and Osceola, which are yielding less copper than in former years, the several companies are maintaining normal productions. The number of producing mines now totals nineteen, this count including such mines as Lake, Franklin, La Salle, Superior and Centennial, in which the production is incidental to development work. The open season of navigation sees a freer movement of the metal and in consequence the local stocks of the metal are being kept well under normal.

Bohemia.

The Bohemia Mining company has succeeded in striking copper ground in its diamond drill explorations. The discovery while not particularly rich in copper discloses a lode of unusual width, the amygdaloid bed in which the copper was encountered showing a thickness of fifty feet. About ten feet of this bed carried copper finely disseminated. The disclosure of this lode, three miles from the Lake mine, and presumably identical with one of the several lodes cut on that property or the adjoining North Lake or Indiana properties, together with its exceptional size is indicative of great possibilities. It is not unreasonable to expect that other drill borings will locate a wider and stronger copper course in this lode than that just encountered.

Houghton.

The diamond drill operations of the Houghton Copper company have resulted in the disclosure of copper ground at a depth of 350 feet in the No 2 drill hole. The identity of the lode has not been definitely established but presumably is an extension of the Superior lode. The drill core shows a seventeen-foot copper course. A third drill hole will be put down to determine the strike and dip of this lodo preliminary to shaft sinking which is expected to begin this summer.

Victoria.

The situation in the Victoria mine has laterally shown considerable improvement at several points, particularly so at the sixteenth level east, where heavy copper ground is now being opened. The extent of this ground has not been determined. Further encouragement is had at the twenty-second level, the present bottom of the mine, where drifting reveals considerable mass copper of large size. The new shaft, to the eastward, is sinking steadily but is thus far without especial features.

Lake.

The Lake Copper company is paying less attention to underground development work and rather more to surface improvement. A new steel shafthouse is planned for this summer and the erection of a permanent steel hoisting plant is already under way. Work in the mine is centered largely in the construction of rock chutes, and such other work as will tend to facilitate the handling of rock underground. A limited amount of development work is in progress at several points including the shaft which has just reached the seventh level. At the sixth level, where a crosscut is being driven in the lode, a chute of copper was recently opened which compares favorably with anything yet opened in this mine. The situation at the fifth level where drifting is in progress continues highly encouraging. The company is maintaining a small production and is mining ground only exceeded in richness by the Calumet and the Wolverine.

Twin Lakes.

The exploratory operations of the Twin Lakes Development company are directed toward the discovery of the northerly extensions of the several so-called Indiana - Lake - Adventure lodes The search is being conducted with the use of a diamond drill, and that is expected to begin as soon as the overburden which at this point apparently is very heavy can be pierced by the sandpipe. A depth of

PARROT KICK ON THE MERGER

Minority Interests Will Demand Appraisement of the Property—Development in All Amalgamated Mines Being Pushed—Lexington Mine Is to Be Operated as a Zinc Property.

Butte, Mont., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is announced that minority interests will demand an appraisement of the property of the Parrot company under the laws of the state of Montana. It was for this reason that Attorney W. D. Kyle, representing 3,510 shares, appeared at the recent meeting and voted against the sale of the property to the Anaconda Copper Mining company under the terms proposed in the merger agreement. The laws of the state provide that any stockholder who opposes the sale of the company's property may go into the district court within twenty days after the sale and demand an appraisement of his stock at its real value, all expenses to be paid by the purchaser. It is further provided that the purchaser must accept the findings of the court and pay the full appraised value of the stock to the objectors Just what the minority interests expect to gain by such a move cannot be determined by those who have carefully looked into the whole question. Notwithstanding that the Parrot mine has been a non-producing property for some time and that it has been worked at a loss for two years, under the terms offered and accepted by the Anaconda Copper Mining company the Parrot will pass from a losing concern to a dividend paying company.

Amalgamated Development.

Development in the Amalgamated properties is proceeding with as much speed as possible. This includes shaft sinking at the Gagnon, Badger State and Belmont. The new Gagnon shaft is now down nearly 700 feet and it will be carried to a depth of 2,300 feet, where connections will be made with the workings at that depth. The Badger State, a Boston & Montana property, is down about 1,750 feet and will be put 50 feet deeper, after which the ground will be opened and explored. The Badger State claim is supposed to carry the extension of the Jessie vein of the North Butte property, but that is not certain. The Belmont shaft is being connected with the Anaconda mine workings and is being deepened with as much speed as possible. It is now down 1,000 feet. Connections have been made with some of the upper levels, but aside from cutting stations there will be no interruption until the shaft reaches a depth of 2,400 feet. The Belmont will be used in connection with the mining of the Anaconda properties.

The Lexington.

The Lexington mine, controlled by F. Augustus Heinze, is to be operated as a zinc property and the work of getting the mine ready for the resumption of business is progressing. The property has really been idle for nearly two years, with the exception of some of the upper levels, which have been worked by leasers, and some time will be required to get the water out of the lower levels, but this task is expected to be completed by at least the latter end of the month when the shipment of ore to the Basin concentrator will be commenced. Between the 800 and 1,400-foot levels the zinc ore is said to be very rich and it is between these levels the mine will be worked. The Lexington is right in the zinc district and the underground workings are said to be in fine condition, so that just as soon as the water is removed the management figures on being able to ship 200 tons daily to the Basin concentrator and to increase this amount to possibly 400 tons a day soon afterwards. The Basin concentrator is also controlled by Heinze, and with the ore now being handled from the Butte & Superior mine the mill will be running to its full capacity by the first of next month.

Iron Mountain.

W. Q. Ranft of Boston and his associates have been given a surprise in the Iron Mountain property by the announcement that a fine body of zinc ore has been encountered on the 1,600-foot level, and in the opinion of Supt. Robert C. Davis there is enough ore in sight to pay all operating expenses. On the 1,550-foot level, the lowest working in the mine, the old crosscut is about half way to the silver ledge and this is now being extended. About 150 feet more will take it to the vein, which is more will take it to the vein, which is separate and distinct from the zinc ledge.

Robert Emmet Mine.

At the Robert Emmet mine in the Corbin-Wickes district, also owned by Mr. Ranft and associates, shaft sinking has been resumed and it will be taken to the 500, where another level will be opened. The present lowest level is at the 350, where a drift on the vein has opened some excellent ore. The management is firmly of the opinion that at the 500-foot level a large body of commercial ore will be found.

The Blue Bird and the Penn Yan mines have recently been acquired by Mr. Ranft and his associates, and both properties are being extensively worked. The Blue Bird is a constant producer and one of the best properties in the Corbin-Wickes district.

Butte-Ballaklava.

The Butte-Ballaklava new electric deep-sinking hoist, the first to be installed in this part of the country, is giving every satisfaction and regular shipments of ore are being made every day to the Pittsmont smelter. Last month nothing but first-class ore was shipped, running as high as 14.6 per cent copper and about 18 ounces of silver to the ton. This week the company commenced shipping second-class ore averaging close to 6 per cent copper, bringing the mine output up to about 300 tons a day. Just as soon as the market warrants it, the shipments will

FIRST SHIPMENT BY CUYUNA

Rogers-Brown Will Send Ore From Kennedy Mine This Season—Branch Road to Tap New Properties on the Marquette Range—New Exploration on Menominee Range.

The Rogers-Brown company will put the new Cuyuna range of Minnesota on the shipping list this season, when it sends out its first ore from the Kennedy mine at Rabbit lake. This property already is well developed and is in condition to make a good-sized annual output. The Cuyuna is proving a more valuable field than many of the old range mining men have disposed to concede. In the neighborhood fifty or more drills are engaged in exploratory work at the present time. Much ore has been shown up and in some holes the mineral is of as high grade as one could wish. It is still too early to class the district as a source of ore supply of the importance of the other fields of the Lake Superior region, but there is no doubt that its possibilities are of large extent. Such ore as will be shipped this year, all of which will come from the Kennedy property, the only one that has yet attained the dignity of a mine, will be transported to Ashland by the Soo line and thence will be transferred to ship. Next season the Soo line will be prepared to handle the ore from a dock on St. Louis bay, at the head of Lake Superior. Contracts incidental to the construction of this pier have already been awarded and the erection of the dock itself will be under way before the close of the present year.

After many millions of dollars have been expended in fruitless exploration, a new shipper will be added to the Vermilion range list this season for the first time in twenty-two years. This property is the Section 30 of Shagawa mine of the St. Clair interests. Railroad facilities will be provided by the Steel corporation's Duluth & Iron Range. These will be available by June 1, and it is the expectation of the operating concern to send out fully 100,000 tons this season. This ore is an exceedingly high-grade Bessemer hematite, considerable of which has been sold at better than $7 a ton, delivered at Lake Erie ports. The success in finding ore in the Section 30 property has greatly stimulated exploratory work on the Vermilion. Numerous stock companies have been organibed, much deep drilling is being done and some shaft sinking is in progress. Whether these operations will be successful in developing profitable mines, is perhaps too early to say. Still it is known that ore has been tapped on some tracts, and at one property—the North American—the sinking of an expensive concrete shaft is in progress.

To Reach New Properties.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad has awarded a contract for the construction of three miles of track in the Michigamme district of the Marquette range. The work will be done by Hoose & Person of Iron Mountain, which firm is stripping the Buffalo & Susquehanna company's Portland mine in the Michigamme field. The new branch will run through a rough country requiring much filling, and in this operation use will be made of the earth removed from the Portland ore formation. The branch will tap several new mining properties about to be opened. The Chicago & Northwestern is laying considerable new track in the Iron River-Stambaugh district of the Menominee range. One spur is being built into the Zimmermn mine, a property controlled by Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati. The Zimmerman is a new producer and will give a good account of itself this season. A new track is being extended to Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Swanson property at Stambaugh. The Swanson is in course of development and probably will ship no ore this year. It has been given an equipment of buildings and machinery ample for its needs for some time to come.

On the Menominee.

A new exploration on the Menominee range has been started by a pool, in which A. E. Gouensburg of Menominee, Mich., and Henry R. Armstrong of Green Bay, Wis., are principally interested. The John Mattson farm, directly south of the city of Iron Mountain, has been taken over under option and will be prospected thoroughly. The property is very favorably located. Some trouble has been experienced latterly at the Independent Iron company's Spencer exploration at Iron Mountain on account of an unexpected inrush of water, which drowned the small pump. A larger pump has been installed and the shaft unwatered in short order, permitting the shaft sinking to continue. The shaft has reached a depth of about 200 feet. Some small leads of ore have been cut in sinking, but it is not expected to encounter the main deposit for some time as yet. A sandstone capping is an unusual geological

BUILDING OF NEW SMELTER

J. D. Ryan to Inspect Progress of Work at Tooele, Utah—Lack of Structural Steel Workers Has Kept Work Back.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 11.—The presence in this city of E. P. Mathewson of Anaconda and the expected arrival of J. D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, are taken to mean an early inspection of the International smelter, now being built on the other side of the Oquirrh range, near Tooele. It is believed that these men, one of whom represents the controlling interests in the big smelting proposition, while the other is its chief engineer, will mean that something will be done to bring the construction work on the smelter to an earlier conclusion than had been forecasted.

The building of the smelter has been going ahead at a fairly rapid rate. The 350-foot stack is finished, and the four-mile tramway over the mountains is ready for operation. Steel at first was slow to arrive, and now is coming in faster than men can be secured to handle it. It is stated that 100 structural steel workers could be kept busy, whereas the working force can be maintained at only about fifty. At the present rate the smelter will be completed about October; but it is thought that the visit of the "men behind" may result in more strenuous action.

As originally designed, the International is to be a 2,000-ton copper smelter, and will cost about $3,000,000. It will start in by the treatment of from 1,000 to 1,200 tons of crude copper ore from the Utah Consolidated mines at Bingham just over the range, in addition to ores from other sources. To transport these ores from the mines to the smelter the aerial tramway, the

SUPERIOR & GLOBE TO DRILL

Prospecting to be Done With Diamond Drills From Drift on 650-Foot Level—New Formation in Williams is Promising.

Globe, Ariz., May 14.—At the property of the Superior & Globe Copper company, arrangements are being made for prospecting with diamond drills. The drilling will probably be done under contract by the Sullivan Drill company. According to present plans, one hole will be put down on the vein from the bottom of an eighty-foot winze sank from one of the drifts on the 650-foot level. The object of this hole will be, of course, to explore the vein at depth and thus ascertain whether the absence of copper in the workings so far was merely due to the fact that leaching has taken place or that this particular vein is not copper-bearing.

So far as shown by drifting and the sinking of the winze, the vein carries a great deal of iron, much of which is rather hard. It is possible that crosscutting may be commenced shortly from the bottom of the winze, to determine the width of the vein at that depth and to explore the ground along both foot and hanging walls.

A second hole will probably be drilled horizontally from the face of the crosscut which has been driven for a distance of about 350 feet northward from the vertical shaft. The material through which this crosscut was driven for the most part was diabase, containing very little mineral, and the face of the crosscut is now in rock of this kind.

National.

The changes of formation encountered by the crosscut driven southeast from the Williams shaft on the 660-foot level at the property of the National Mining Exploration company are arousing much interest among people interested in the development work being carried on in the locality.

As was announced some time ago, the crosscut struck a stringer of high-grade ore in the form of copper carbonate running as high as 39 per cent copper. This ore was struck at a distance of fifty feet from the Williams shaft and proved to be about eighteen inches wide. Since passing through this stringer the crosscut has been driven for about thirteen feet through shale containing a great deal of iron and showing much copper stain. Within the last two or three days, the crosscut has passed out of shale into quartzite. This change is regarded as being very favorable to the future development of an ore body, as the hanging wall of the Black Hawk vein on the Arizona Commercial property adjoining is quartzite. Thus, it is possible that the formation in which the crosscut is being driven at present is the hanging wall of a copper-bearing lode. The total length of the crosscut from the Williams shaft is now about sixty-eight feet.

THE GIROUX CONSOLIDATED

Huge Electric Pump is Nearly Completed—Gigantic Preparations Indicate That the Time for Shipping Ore is Almost at Hand.

Ely, Nev., May 14.—The big electric pump for the Giroux Consolidated mines has begun to arrive. This means that the principal parts of it are on the ground; and the pumping station which has been cut at the 1,200-foot point is about ready for its reception. The station is 120 feet deep by 40 feet wide, and the cut has been made and is now being strengthened with concrete, which will cover every inch of it. In the station are to be placed three pumps, this big one with a capacity for handling 1,200 gallons a minute, and two smaller ones, each with a capacity of 600 gallons a minute.

The work of constructing the new and permanent hoisting plant is under way. There is still considerable work in the way of excavating to be done, and they are getting ready to set the concrete foundation. A few finishing touches are yet to be put on the tracks connecting with the main line of the Nevada Northern, and there has been no falling off in the number of workmen which has been employed all winter. There is plenty of work ahead, and the construction of the permanent plant will occupy perhaps a year's time. The head frame will be the greatest in the district, and will be ninety feet nigh and of steel.

The shaft is being operated with the temporary plant, which is of no insignificant proportions itself, being one of the most complete in the district. The management has been fortunate in encountering very little water down as far as the 1,200-foot level. But they know that there will be plenty of work for the pumps as soon as they are ready to operate in the ground where the rich ore bodies lie. The five-compartment Giroux shaft will be the working shaft of that entire part of the Giroux Consolidated estate, including the old Alpha shaft. In the Alpha the water level is at the 1,235-foot point, and above it and below it is a great body of ore, which as far as is known runs 14 per cent copper, and there is a great deal of native copper in the ore body besides.

It is for the handling of this great body that preparations are being made on the elaborate plant of the Giroux shaft. But that will be but one of the functions of the new shaft. There is another body of carbonate ore at the 700-foot level, and that will all be taken out through the new shaft. In addition to this it is hoped to develop sufficient water through the shaft to operate their own concentrating plant and possibly for a smelter.

When shipping will begin from the Giroux Consolidated is a moot question and one which cannot be answered here. But, from the immense preparations which are being made, and which will soon be completed, for the handling of the ore, it would seem that the day of shipping is not a great way off. There is one thing certain and that is when shipping is begun, the Giroux Consolidated will be one of the regular and permanent shippers of the district.

CALLS PILARES GREAT MINE

Property of Moctezuma Company Regarded as One of the Most Wonderful Copper Mines in the World—No Shafts and no Water.

Bisbee, Ariz., May 14.—W. B. Gohring, mining superintendent of the Calumet & Arizona and the Superior & Pittsburg Mining companies, has returned from Nacozari, where he went to pay a visit to the famous Pilares mines, the property of the Moctezuma Copper company.

Mr. Gohring declared that he regarded the Pilares mine as one of the great and wonderful copper properties of the world. He was in the mine for several hours and was particularly impressed with the easy manner in which the ore is taken from the mine. There are no shafts and the little ore train is taken under the ore bodies through a tunnel. Above are the great stopes from which the ore is dumped through chutes into the cars, which are carried to and from the concentrator at Nacozari by electric power.

"I regard the Pilares mine as a most wonderful property," said Mr. Gohring. "There is not a stick of mining timber in it and there is no water. The ore is all put through the concentrating mill, though much of it carries sufficient value to justify shipping if that were necessary. The general impression now is that should the concentrator from any cause be put out of commission the Pilares mine could maintain its output by shipping the high-grade ore to the Douglas smelter.

"The original Pilares mine was a low grade proposition, but that has been changed now.

"Everything about the mine is kept in perfect order and every department moves in accordance with perfect system. The same condition was found at Nacozari, where is located the concentrating mill and power house. Here is an ideal town with splendid buildings for the accommodation of all persons and all machinery, stores, offices, etc., required for the operation of the great enterprise of the Moctezuma Copper company."

This picture was reproduced recently in the St. Paul Pioneer Press as that of a group of Shriners of Ozmun temple, St. Paul, but as a matter of fact the men and women who appear in it are Duluthians. The incident pictured here was a part of a frolic in the Mississippi city on the way home.

MINE DIVIDENDS IN APRIL

More Than $8,000,000 Disbursed in Month—Nearly $25,500,000 Paid Out By Forty-Nine American Mines Since First of the Year.

Dividends to the amount of $8,064,725 were paid by forty-nine American mines and metallurgical works during the month of April, according to returns made to the Mining World at Chicago. Contributing to this total were thirty-four properties classed as gold-silver-lead producers which enriched shareholders to the extent of $2,752,523. Of these thirty-four properties eighteen are located in the United States, eight in Canada and eight in Mexico. Six copper producers, all in the United States, paid to shareholders during the month $1,315,245, while six metallurgical companies distributed $2,233,985.

Added to the dividends paid in January, February and March, the total dividend disbursements by American mines and metallurgical companies, numbering 101, during the first four months of 1910, total $25,492,066. Participating in this total were seventy-three gold-silver-lead properties with $11,322,230 to their credit, nineteen copper properties (all in the United States) with $8,092,713 and six metallurgical companies with $5,507,123.

Since incorporation these 101 companies have paid to forunate shareholders the enormous sum of $613,540,633. Of this total the copper properties contributed more than one-half, or $334,473,571, which makes a return to shareholders equivalent to 296 per cent on the $112,893,114 issued share capital. It is of interest to note in connection herewith that of the $334,473,571 paid by these nineteen copper properties approximately one-third, or $111,350,000, was paid by one property, the great Calumet & Hecla of Michigan.

The gold-silver-lead producers, to the number of seventy-three, are interested in the grand total to the extent of more than a fourth, or $164,626,329. United States mines to the number of forty-two contributed nearly three-fourths of this, or $124,169,172, while seventeen Mexican companies paid $25,554,407 and thirteen Canadian companies (all but three operating in the Cobalt camp) $15,993,750.

Though but few in number, the six metallurgical companies have been a source of considerable profit to their shareholders, for they have to their credit since incorporation the sum of $97,794,133, a 43 per cent return on the $222,991,950 issued share capital.

Another source of great profit to investors is the shares of the securities holding corporations, for already in 1910 nine of these have distributed dividends totaling $4,794,419 and since incorporation $107,263,643, a 39 per cent return on the $314,535,725 issued share capital.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Minnesota Mines Company Resumes Operations in Mill—Hymalulu Company to Erect 200-Ton Mill for Its Large Ore Bodies.

Deadwood, S. D., May 14.—The Minnesota Mines company, operating in the Maitland district, has resumed operations in its mill and is putting through nearly 100 tons of ore daily. The ore comes from the 200-foot level of the mine, from a ledge 35 feet wide which has been several times crosscut, and one of the same width 150 feet from the station on that level. One vein is of fair grade milling material, the other is of higher grade. A third vein higher in grade than either is being developed.

General Manager George Bennett of the Hymalulu Mining company of Slate creek in Pennington county has been here arranging for the construction of a mill. It was at first proposed to erect a small plant and enlarge later, but present plans are for a 200-ton mill, as the development of recent months has shown the ore bodies to be greater than at first supposed. Some high-grade ore, a sample of which showed over $100 to the ton, was recently uncovered.

John McGoffin, superintendent of the Altia Mining company, formerly of the Puritan, whose property is located in Strawberry gulch, has returned from a trip to Kansas City, where he consulted with the directors of the company. He announces that the bonded indebtedness of the company has been entirely removed and that efforts are now being made to secure the necessary funds for a speedy resumption of work.

Hill City, S. D., May 14.—E. C. Johnson, manager of the Gertie Tin Mining company, is back from the East, bringing with him Charles L. Girard of Perry, N. Y., the new superintendent. Active preparations for a resumption of work on the property located near here were begun at once. A 100-horse power Atlas engine, which is to be installed in the power plant on Spring Creek is expected daily and the boilers will be started upon its arrival. Mr. Johnson has invented some special machinery which will be placed in the mill and which he expects will run the daily capacity up to 125 tons. The Gertie is worked from an inclined shaft now down 500 feet. About 2,000 feet of laterals have been driven, levels being made at each 100 feet. The ore is hoisted and dumped into the top of the mill automatically, then passing to the smelter. Tests of the Gertie ore have shown it to be from 99.89 to 99.96 per cent tin.

The tin boom has extended to Tinton, where the Tinton Tin Mining company is busy preparing for summer work. It expects to be operating its mill and treating the tin concentrates before many weeks. Recent assays on the Tinton ground show 11 per cent tin and $2.50 gold.

The Mogul Mining company, operating in the Bald mountain district, near Deadwood, is securing more property and has taken over the old Snowstorm mine, belonging to the Hawgood estate. This property has for many years been a rich producer. Other adjoining properties are being sought by the Mogul. Regular shipments are being made daily to the mill at Pluma.

BUILDING OF NEW SMELTER

longest in Utah, is now ready for operation. It has a capacity of 1,500 tons every eight hours.

Ore can be taken from the mine to the smelter by this route, it is calculated, for 10 cents a ton. Charges by the railroad to the smelters at Garfield, whither the ore is going now, are 40 cents a ton, and to the International smelter would be 50 or 60 cents a ton.

The contract of the International smelter to handle the Utah Consolidated ores on April 1. The smelter will begin the treatment of these ores, it is supposed, about Oct. 1. In the meantime the Utah Consolidated is shipping just enough ore to the Garfield plant of the American Smelting & Refining company to complete its contract, which has been running two years, and called for 800 tons of ore a day. When the mine company has completed the delivery of these ores, it will begin shipping to the International smelter, to fill up the ore bins and insure a good supply. Thus the smelter will be protected against bad weather and other emergencies which might possibly interfere with the operation of a new system of ore handling.

In addition to Utah Consolidated ores, it is understood that the Giroux mines at Ely will soon begin shipments of ore to the International. The Giroux is controlled by the same financial interests that own the new smelter. This mine has a very considerable deposit of copper sulphide ores in its new shaft, at a depth of between 1,000 and 1,200 feet. This is a direct smelting ore that carries a high percentage of copper, and the Giroux will obtain, it is stated, a transportation rate from the railroads concerned of less than $3 a ton.

those now in use which were installed some years ago for the special purpose of treating copper ores.

The Butte & Superior's half of the plant will be operated by three shifts of men, and at least 400 tons of ore will be treated daily, to be increased to more than 500 tons a day within the next few weeks.

The greatest difficulty that the Butte & Superior company has at present is the scarcity of competent jig and table men, and an effort is being made to secure the services of additional men for this class of work.

Good progress is being made toward the building of the concentrator, plans for which were adopted several months ago, on the company's mine property west of Meaderville. Two carloads of the structural steel for the buildings have been received and are now on the sidetracks at the property. The machinery for the concentrator has been ordered and probably will be on the ground inside the next few weeks. Construction and installation are to be commenced at once.

The output of the mine will be increased just as soon as the chippy hoist is in position and awaits only the arrival of the cable.

feature encountered in the work. Sandstone has been considered foreign in that district. Where encountered in other districts, it has generally formed a blanket for large bodies of good ore. The Spencer shaft is in a good country and the geological conditions are such as to warrant a hopeful view of the development of a shipping mine.

Manistique Furnace Shut Down.

The Manistique, Mich., furnace, which is understood to have been sold to an English syndicate, along with the other properties of the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company, has gone out of blast. The duration of the shutdown is indefinite. Repairs will be made, but it is surmised that operations will not be resumed until the iron market improves somewhat. Along with five charcoal iron furnaces and four wood alcohol and chemical plants, the holdings of the Lake Superior company, now reported transferred, have included the Yale mine at Bessemer and the Tyler Forks exploration at Plummer, both on the Gogebic range. The Yale is developing a large body of ore at a depth approximating 2,000 feet and is considered a very valuable property. Ore also has been found at the Plummer. The Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's Carp furnace at Marquette, Mich., continues out of commission. In fact, it is destined to remain idle for an extended period, if it is ever put in blast again. It has been out of commission upwards of two years. The plant would require an extensive rebuild before it could be started up with good results. The Carp furnace is regarded as a plant that can be worked profitably only when pig iron brings high prices, and the trend of the market lately has been toward lower quotations.

Moose Mountain.

A report issued to the stockholders of the Moose Mountain Mining company, in which John W. Gates and other prominent Americans are interested, indicates that operations on a big scale will soon be in progress at this Ontario property, covered by Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., several years ago. The company has made a contract for the complete electrification of its plant, the power to be transmitted thirty-one miles. This is expected to reduce the cost of operation very largely. A new mill for crushing, sizing and separating the ore is nearly completed and will be in full operation by June 1. This plant will have a daily capacity of 1,000 tons. Further diamond drill work has demonstrated the existence of a body of approximately 1,000,000 tons of ore of shipping grade in the No. 1 deposit. Diamond drill work is now being done on adjacent outcrops. The company, when its new plant goes into operation, will be the first in the world to employ drifting magnets in handling broken ore. It is is expected that this system will justify itself by a large saving in mining cost. The output for the present is expected to be about 100,000 tons of ore. Shipping is already in progress.

PARROT KICK ON THE MERGER

be increased. The announcement following the installation of the deep-sinking hoist that a dividend may be expected in July is a source of much gratification to all interested.

Keating Gold Company.

A new electrically driven surface plant is being installed at the Blacker shaft of the Keating Gold company, in the Radersburg district. It will be the main working shaft, while the orignal Keating shaft will be used for lifting the ores from the upper levels, and some very high grade ore has been opened upon that level. The ledge is wide and the ore a sulphide. The work of drifting on this level has already been commenced and the ore is found to be of better grade, especially as to the gold values, than on the upper levels. The shaft is to be sunk to a depth of 600 feet during the summer and the vein will be developed on that level in order to increase the ore reserves. It is estimated that by the middle of next month the shaft will be timbered to the 500-foot level and that at least fifty tons of ore will be shipped daily. It is said that above the 400-foot level there are 30,000 tons of ore in place which can be got ready for mining at any time. It is now being blocked out for stoping as soon as the main shaft is in condition to handle it.

Davis-Daly.

Development work is proceeding as usual at the Colorado mine of the Davis-Daly company and large quantities of ore are blocked out ready for shipment, but just when the company will be in a position to commence shipping is very questionable, unless some arrangement is made whereby the ore can be got to the line of railway for shipment to Basin. There is a belief that just as soon as Mr. Heinze gets clear of the courts in New York he will come to the city and endeavor to straighten matters out.

No Curtailment.

The announcement that the big producing companies have failed to agree on an arrangement whereby the copper output might be curtailed and that the Amalgamated Copper company will proceed along as usual means only one result—that the companies under present conditions will continue piling up the copper until such time as one side or the other of the conflicting copper interests will have to give in and then theer will be practically a shut down all around in order to get clear of the accumulated stock.

Alex Scott.

During the month of April the Alex Scott shaft was sunk a total of 106 feet, making a record close to the highest record for deep shaft sinking in the Butte camp. The shaft is now down about 1,524 feet and by June 1 it is anticipated that a depth of 1,600 feet will have been attained. At the latter depth a station will be cut and an electric pump will be installed. Also a crosscut will be run to intersect all of the veins traversing the property and the work of placing the mine in condition for heavy shipments will be pushed aggressively.

From the 500-foot level to the 1,400-foot level, the Alex Scott has opened up a number of veins carrying copper and silver in commercial quantities. On the 1,400-foot level the main vein has been drifted upon to a considerable extent and an ore body more than twenty feet in width has been developed to the producing stage. The ore carries considerable bornite and copper glance, although in a conglomerate form, and it is believed that on the 1,600-foot level the ore will be found in a more compact form.

The Ophir Mine.

Active operations are underway at the Ophir mine in this city, owned by the Butte Central Copper company, toward resumption of development work, and it is expected that the work of unwatering the shaft will be commenced about May 20. Three large boilers with a combined capacity of 330-horse power are now being set in position on concrete foundations, and over them a new building will be erected. A new compressor is to be installed and will be in readiness for use as soon as the work of unwatering the underground workings is completed. Owing to the fact that there are several miles of crosscuts and drifts that are now filled with water, it probably will require about six weeks to complete the work.

The hoist is also being overhauled, as well as the big steam pump which was taken from the 500-foot level when operations were suspended two years ago, and as soon as the water has been lifted by the sinker pumps, the big station pump will be replaced on the 500-foot level. As depth is attained it is the intention of the company to install electrically driven pumps because of more economical operation.

It is probable that sinking operations will be commenced about July 1. The shaft will be sunk to a depth of 1,000 feet before any great amount of exploration work is commenced, and simultaneously with crosscutting and drifting on the 1,000, the work of continuing the shaft to the 1,500-foot level will be continued.

LAKE COPPER MINES' OUTPUT

200 feet or more has been attained without reaching bed rock.

Hancock.

The Hancock Consolidated Mining company continues actively engaged with shaft sinking and the development work in the so-called No. 3 Hancock lode. The big vertical shaft, through which the Hancock production will eventually be handled, has attained a depth of about 2,400 feet, will continue sinking until the Quincy-Pewabic lode, calculated to lie at a depth of about 3,600 feet from surface, has been reached. Development work in this property is confined wholly to No. 3 lode, in which drifting is in progress at the several levels from the thirteenth to the eighteenth inclusive. The character of the newer ground is not materially different from that noted in the past and is altogether of a fairly high average grade. The company is engaged with a construction of a permanent shaft rockhouse that will be one of the largest in the district and capable of handling upwards of 500 tons of rock daily. The permanent power plant is rapidly nearing completion and should be in commission by early fall.

Beer vs. Other Tonics

The government's ruling compelling manufacturers of medicines to state on their labels the constituents of their products, has revealed the fact that most tonics contain a very large percentage of alcohol, often 50% and more.

Beer on the other hand contains but little alcohol, (about 3½%), and its medicinal properties are derived from two of nature's products—hops and barley.

SOME SIZZLING DOPE DIRECT FROM THE OLD FOLKS' HOME OUT WEST

Jeffries Runs 300 Yards and Shows His Fierce Spirit.

(BY BRUCE.)

Camp Been Lemon, May 14.—James Jay Jeffries accomplished a terrifically hard day's work today. He began the day by getting up. As the huge form of the greatest fighter in the world hove in view, there was a sigh of relief from all the old men in the camp. They were afraid lest Jay Jeff would refuse to work today, as he ran 300 yards yesterday afternoon.

Jay Jeff began the day by taking your correspondent aside and informing him that he was no grouch, and no gentleman would say he was. "I will knock the block off the bloak what says as I am a grouch," were the words the great fighter breathed into the ear of your correspondent.

"What a spirit the big fellow has!" said Sam Berger, and he chuckled with glee, standing first on one foot and then on one of Farmer Burns. The elation seemed contagious, and Joseph Bartlett Choynski, leaning on his crutches, laughed until the tears streamed down his venerable face.

Believing that he had enjoyed sufficient exercise for the day, Jay Jeff repaired to the porch, where he engaged in three hard games of smear.

Drawing your correspondent aside, Samuel Solomon Berger vouchsafed the opinion that Jay Jeff was ready for the gong.

"Which gong?" your correspondent, ever alert for the news, asked Mr. Berger.

"The dinner gong," said one of the untrained newspaper men, who was rude and unused to the ways of the camp.

"Ish!" said Mr. Berger, and a peeve o'erspread his usual placid and moony countenance.

"I meant the gong that will send him to the greatest fight of the century—the fight that will show James J."—Mr. Berger had mounted a box, and a hurried call was sent out for the salaried correspondents, for Berger was getting off some very good stuff—"is still the great, invincible and unconquerable fighter."

At this point the cover of the box broke with a crash and Mr. Berger sat down precipitously. He swabbed his large, round phiz and stalled for wind and composure.

It was announced to your correspondent, and I have every reason to believe the story, that James Jay will run half a mile tomorrow. Farmer Burns may forbid it, however, as he is afraid Jeff will overtrain and heat his blood. The Farmer says Jay Jeff is a horse for work. They are thinking seriously of importing a plow for him.

There is an unofficial report that Edward Payson Weston will join the camp. Joe Choynski says "Doc" Osler was beany, at which remark there was a hurrah from the elder sparring partners.

Jeff has stated that he would like to secure the services of Jem Mace, as he believes the old fighter would be able to tell some awfully good stories, and Jeff loves to be amused. Jeff has had a special space on the porch screened off and will do much of his training there.

Jeff refuses to be weighed, but hazarded the guess that he was in the immediate vicinity of 248. Late this afternoon it was announced that Jeff would knock off work for tomorrow, as he feels he is working too hard. He will probably run up to Frisco, as he thinks the change of scene will be good for what is the matter with him.

Those who have been permitted to see Jeff are surprised at his condition —your correspondent was, too—at first.

Jeff will address a meeting of Civil war veterans Sunday evening. Sam Berger says the idea is a splendid one, as he wants Jeff to become used to facing all kinds of fighters.

A large crowd watched Jeff pick his teeth. The big fellow is intensely fond of Hugo and Gibbon's Roman Empire. He is also fond of Budweiser.

Jeff told your correspondent that he was sure that Johnson was a good man, as he went to church regularly.

"What a wonder he is," murmured Berger to an eager crowd of the educated newspaper men.

ERRORS GIVE WINONA GAME

O'Brien's Fumbles and Buzinsky's Wild Heaving Give Pirates Victory.

Heidenson Splits Finger in Opening Inning---Sox Go to La Crosse.

Winona, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winona yesterday took the third game of the series by the score of 5 to 3. The victory of the Pirates was largely due to the poor playing of Darby O'Brien and the erratic throwing of Catcher Buzinsky.

The Pirates stole bases at will on the Sox receiver, and twice when Buzinsky had the runner beaten to the bag, O'Brien dropped the throw. A run was the direct result of the fumbling of O'Brien.

Heidenson, the new catcher for the Duluth team, had his finger split in the very first inning. He will be out of the game for at least a week. Killian was benched for disputing a close decision at the plate.

The White Sox earned all of their runs, while errors contributed to the score of the locals. Graves robbed Taylor of a three base hit in the first inning, tearing back to deep center and pulling the ball down with one hand. Anderson scored from second on the throw in. Koepping's base running was one of the features of the game. The Dutchman pilfered three bases and also accepted ten chances without a skip. The hitting of Goodman was also a feature, the third baseman getting three clean hits.

COLLEGE TEAMS IN TRIPLE MEET

Illinois and Chicago Universities Battling for Supremacy of Urbana.

Urbana, Ill., May 14.—The baseball, 'varsity and freshman track teams of the University of Illinois engaged in a triple contest today with the University of Chicago on Illinois field.

The state institution athletes expressed confidence in a victory for the baseball nine, pointing to the long list of victories on the diamond this season.

Coach Stagg of Chicago regards the small size of his track squad as somewhat of a handicap, but predicted his bunch of stars would furnish some of the fastest performances of the season.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

Who is the greatest athlete in the world?

Probably nine out of ten readers who follow the doings of track and field events closely will answer that Martin Sheridan, the wonderful Irish athlete of New York, is the greatest all-around man who has ever tied on a spiked shoe.

On the testimony of records and points rolled up in meets, both for special events and the all-around program, Sheridan is sure entitled to be hailed the greatest athlete this country has ever produced.

Keene Fitzpatrick, the great trainer, who for a number of years was at the University of Michigan, has written an article comparing some of the greatest of the great college athletes and also saying something about Sheridan.

There are only three men who can be compared with the great athlete of the Irish-American Athletic club. These men are Alvin Kraenzlein, Johnny Garrels and Joe Horner, the young University of Michigan man, who at the present time is making a wonderful record for himself at the Wolverine institution.

Kraenzlein made a great name for himself in the University of Pennsylvania. There he met the greatest in the East and he defeated these boys with comparative ease. Before going East, Kraenzlein was a student of—at least he attended—the University of Wisconsin.

In the West the tall and lanky youth attracted the attention of some of the Eastern wiseacres, and they lost little time in putting the great Western youngster under the competent hands of Mike Murphy.

This Kraenzlein was, perhaps, the best hurdler the world has ever seen. One time at the Paris Olympic meet this wonderful hurdler was twenty yards behind two such fast hurdlers as Maloney of Chicago and McLean of Michigan before he left the mark. This, too, in a 120-yard hurdle race. He won the race and showed the French the greatest piece of hurdle running they had ever seen.

Kraenzlein was also a high and broad jumper and won the 100-yard dash in one of the Eastern intercollegiate meets.

Probably Sheridan would be able to defeat both Garrels and Kraenzlein in the list of events included in the all-round program. His ability in the pole vault and with the weights would probably win the greatest number of points for the giant Irishman.

There has often been a great curiosity to see Garrels and Sheridan in the all-round competition. Now it seems that, if the crown of all-round king is to be removed from the complacent brow of Martin Sheridan, that young Joe Horner will be the boy to accomplish the task.

His record shows that he is nothing short of a phenominal performer in a number of events. If he meets Sheridan in the all-round competition the present summer, it seems logical to believe he will defeat the big New Yorker, as an inspection of the records found below will convince the unbiased.

Horner's and Sheridan's records compared, follows:

	Horner.	Sheridan.
100-yard dash	:10 2-5	:10 3-5
120-yard high hurdles	:16 2-5	:17 1-5
16-pound shotput	46 ft 8 in	43 ft 1½ in

Hammer throw	138 ft	125 ft 10 in
56-pound weight	29 ft	29 ft 11½ in
Half-mile walk		:3:43
Mile run		:6:05

Records of Garrels and Kraenzlein compared, follows:

	Kraenzlein.	Garrels.
100-yard dash	:10 1-5	:10 1-5

Following Father.

Young Jake Schaefer, the 16-year-old son of the late "Wizard Jake" Schaefer, is at this early age showing some flashes of the genius that made his father the greatest billiard player that the American or any other school turned out. Tom Foley, formerly the owner of a billiard hall in St. Paul, and well-known to many of Duluth, has made the prediction that Young Foley will develop into a great player.

Tom Foley is at the present time running a billiard academy in Chicago. He has had plenty of opportunity of watching the development of the youngster. His judgment upon such matters is considered very good. Therefore when he gives his opinion on the future ahead of the son of the late billiard king, it is at least worth taking seriously.

Go It, You Kid!

Down in the bucolic sweetness of Eau Claire there lives a worthy youth of the name of Kid Speer. The kid should spell his name Spear, though, for he is forever getting stuck for something. He reads personal allusions betwen the lines of articles that have nothing whatever to do with his station at Eau Claire, important though it is to the kid.

Down in the rustic quiet of Eau Claire the kid cuts a mighty swath.

He was captain of his debating team, later "covered" churches and social doings, and later became an authority upon sports. As captain of the school debating team the kid contracted the personal "I" habit. He has never forgotten. Therefore he jumps hastily and grabs greedily when even an allusion is made to the surburbs of Eau Claire.

Forget it, little one! You are as excited as a country yearling at the sight of one of them 'ere darn automobiles. Stick to telling Thomas Helne Schoonhoven how to run his baseball team and the corner store gang of the village how they conduct sports out in the wicked world. But, Ray, child, don't try to cover too much territory. So long.

Princeton vs. Cornell.

Princeton, N. J., May 14.—The Cornell-Princeton track meet this afternoon is expected for the first time in years to prove a close contest. The Ithacans have always romped away with the annual dual meet by a large score, but Princeton's advance this year as well as Cornell's heavy losses by graduation have changed conditions. Penn defeated Cornell last Saturday by a large margin while Princeton lost to Yale by a few points.

Yale vs. "Pennsy."

Philadelphia, Pa., May 14.—Yale and Pennsylvania will meet on Franklin field this afternoon in the final baseball game between these teams, and the former will try hard to wipe out the defeat administered by the latter at New Haven two weeks ago. The teams have met three times this year, Yale winning two practice games at Atlantic City during the Easter recess.

ADAMS BALL TEAM LOOKING FOR NEW FIELDS TO CONQUER

EDWARD OLSON,
Captain of the Adams Team.

The Adams Athletic association has one of the strongest baseball teams in this part of the state. Last season the team won the amateur championship of the city. The present season the team will devote much of its attention to teams outside the city. The Adams will meet Cloquet Sunday. The defeat of the Scott-Graff team by the score of 11 to 3, is the only game the team has played this season.

THE EVENTS WILL BE HARD FOUGHT

Yale and Harvard Track Teams in Great Athletic Meet.

Cambridge, Mass., May 14.—Seldom in the long history of the Harvard and Yale track game have the two universities met under such equal conditions as those that prevailed when the athletes trooped into the stadium today. Even the closest follower of track athletics was unwilling to venture a prediction regarding the outcome of the meet and the expectation of many an exciting contest in strength, agility and fleeting brought into the long rows of spectators seats several thousand students and other enthusiasts over college sports.

The Yale team arrived last night, and the trainers of both organizations declared their men today to be in the proper condition.

Weather conditions were almost perfect, and what little wind there was came from the east blowing into the bowl of the stadium and on the backs of the runners in the sprints.

Before the game began Harvard was conceded to be strong in the short and long distance runs and in a couple of the field events, while Yale was thought to have the better chance in the middle distance runs, the weights and the pole vault.

NORTH DAKOTANS BEATEN.

Macalester College Nine Easily Defeats Flickertail Boys.

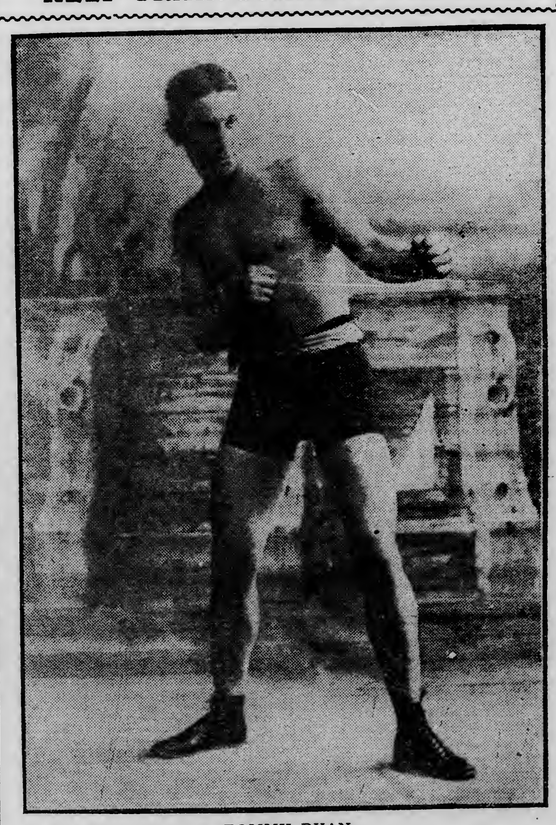
Grand Forks, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Macalester played rings around the North Dakota university team yesterday afternoon, winning by a score of 13 to 6 in a decidedly loose game. From the start it was evident that the Dakotans had little chance of victory, and when the Minnesotans ran in six scores in the third inning, the Flickertails completely lost heart.

The trouble was entirely due to the inability of Bradshaw to hold the Macalester bunch down. He allowed eight hits, passed ten men and failed to strike out any, while Carson struck out thirteen Dakotas, and although he allowed ten hits they were well distributed with the exception of one inning. The score by innings: R. H. E.

North Dakota	0 1 0 0 2 0 2 1 0—	5	10	8
Macalester	2 0 6 1 1 0 3 0 0—13	8	5

Batteries—North Dakota, Bradshaw, McIntosh and McIlraith; Macalester, Carson and Carson.

CLEVER TOMMY RYAN WILL HELP TRAIN JOHNSON FOR FIGHT



TOMMY RYAN.

Foxy Tommy Ryan is to train Jack Johnson for his fight with Jeffries. If there was more of Tommy there is no doubt but that he would have been champion of the world. He is one of the cleverest men that ever fought in the ring. He helped train Jeffries for some of his most important fights.

Barger was hit rather hard, but kept the hits well scattered. Hummel's batting was the feature. Score:

Philadelphia, May 14.—Philadelphia yesterday again defeated Cleveland, 7 to 2. The home team knocked Berger off the rubber in the sixth inning. Cleveland did not get a hit off Morgan until two men were out in the eighth and only one man got to base up to that point. Then Lord tripled. Score:

COLT WINS BY FULL LENGTH

Fashion Plate, Four-Year-Old, Takes Classic Metropolitan Handicap.

Race Was Furious One and the Finish Was Best Ever.

New York, May 14.—Ten thousand racegoers saw Fashion Plate, a 4-year-old chestnut colt, entered by the Oneik stable, win the Metropolitan handicap at Belmont park yesterday, in the fastest time made in the history of this classic turf event.

The colt, quoted at the comparatively long odds of 6 to 1, covered the mile in 1:37 4-5. Prince Imperial, entered by the Woodhaven stable and quoted at 10 to 1 for place, was second, a length behind Fashion Plate. Jack Atkin, winner of the 1908 Metropolitan, finished third at odds of 8 to 5 to show.

Blue skies and a warm summer-like sun drew to the course of the Westchester Racing association for the opening of the meet one of the largest throngs of society people ever assembled at a horse race. The crowd had its curiosity pleasantly gratified by a view at close range of August Belmont, sponsor of Belmont park, in the role of a recent benedict, and of the new Mrs. Belmont—Eleanor Robson that was. Mrs. Belmont was the center of attraction in the clubhouse enclosure.

The Metropolitan handicap brought out speedy thoroughbreds. Keene's Masketeer, Hildredth's King James and Restigouche, August Belmont's Priscillian and B. Schreiber's Jack Atkin, all heavily backed, were each looked upon as probable winners. The others, Stanley Fay, High Private, Prince Imperial and Fashion Plate, were not lacking in followers.

Restigouche showed in front at the start, and for nearly three-quarters of the distance set a heart-breaking pace, with Jack Atkin and Prince Imperial close up. At the turn into the stretch, the Hildredth horse tied and Fashion Plate, admirably ridden by McGee, forged ahead. Jack Atkin lost several lengths by making a wide turn.

The finish was a rattling one, with Fashion Plate a good length in front. Prince Imperial beat Jack Atkin for the place by three-quarters of a length.

It had been apparent that the race was a furious one, but the announcement of the time—1:37 4-5—took the occupants of the grand stand by surprise and occasioned an enthusiastic demonstration when McGee rode the winner back to the judge's stand.

TO SPAR WITH BROTHER JACK

New Arrival at Training Camp Finds Big Jim in Good Condition.

Ben Lomond, Cal., May 14.—Jim Jeffries has been urging on the conditioning work of his brother, Jack, who arrived here recently, and who is expected to furnish the big fighter lively and gruelling ring work during the remainder of Jim's training.

It has been many years since Jack has donned the mitts for a scrimmage in the arena but he is in fair shape and the hard road work he has indulged in for the last few days has hardened his muscles and strengthened his wind. He says he is now prepared to go up against Jim in light bouts and from now on the brothers are expected to box together regularly.

For the last two years Jack has been in Mexico, and not having seen his brother since leaving the states, he was vastly surprised on his arrival here to note the fine trim in which he found the former champion. "I have studied Jim closely since I have been here," Jack said last night, "and I have compared him as he is now with the way he was in other training periods. From every standpoint I honestly believe Jim is going to be better in this fight with Johnson than he ever was in all his ring career. He is strong and fast and he has every bit of the old dash he had in former years. I think Johnson is going to be a snap for him."

Just before leaving last evening for San Francisco Sam Berger in discussing the referee question, intimated that the situation seemed so tangled that it was probable that an Eastern man would have to be selected as a compromise.

Promoters Worried.

San Francisco, Cal., May 14.—That the promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight are viewing with much anxiety the crusade launched against the holding of the contest at Emeryville and are taking steps to insure it elsewhere if the bars are put up in California, is shown by an announcement of Tex Rickard that he will secure a permit for the big battle in Nevada.

Jack Johnson is spending most of his time in his automobile and is holding to his determination to do no ring work until Saturday.

Starts Road Work.

San Francisco, Cal., May 14.—Foggy weather caused Jack Johnson to start his road work late this morning and once on the beach the chill air made the champion extend himself to keep warm. His run was a bit shorter than usual and he omitted his daily plunge in the surf.

BALDWIN WAS DISQUALIFIED

Said to Have Struck Low in Match With Leach Cross.

New York, May 14.—Matty Baldwin of Boston was disqualified for fouling last night in the eighth round of a 10-round bout with Leach Cross of Brooklyn, before the National Sporting club. Joe Hesse, the referee, was hissed for his decision.

Baldwin had the better of the fight and scored a clean knock-down in the third and sixth rounds. From then on Cross clinched and covered up to avoid punishment. In the eighth, Baldwin stepped out of a clinch, the referee saw a blow which he thought struck low and his decision of disqualification followed.

AROUND THE CIRCUIT

In the games played so far, the Eau Claire Angels have not played up to the form expected of them. Also, the team gathered together by Silent Joe Safford has proved faster than it was generally expected.

It must be remembered that only three games have been played, and the strength of a team cannot be judged in a short series. So far, however, the Outcasts have shown faster class than the team led by freckle-faced Thomas Schoonhoven.

Ward, the first base guardian of the Outcasts, has proved class and ability, taking snap judgment on his playing, and is likely to prove a very good man for Safford.

There is a rumor that "Russ" Bailey will be back with Eau Claire. This rumor was repeated to A. W. Kuehnow, and is generally believed in some of the towns around the circuit. Bailey has not been doing very much hitting for the Bronchos, but McCloskey is said to like the boy's playing.

The return of Bailey would strengthen the Angels and would also cause Kid Speer to attempt a passion poem.

Umpire McDermott, one of the indicator holders being tried out by John A. Elliott, has already made good with the fans of La Crosse. They are calling him "Mac," which is a very good sign. They say his work is clean-cut, and his judgment on balls and strikes very good.

Despite the fact that Duluth dropped two out of three games to the Killian Pirates, the Sox look the stronger team of the two. As soon as some of the youngsters on the Duluth team get their stride, the team will start the percentage climb. Kuehnow has several new men that look like real ball players, and these men can be counted upon for some good work. A good throwing catcher would improve the team wonderfully.

The La Crosse team has shown the heaviest hitting ability of any team in the league to date. The members of the Safford squad are slamming the ball in great shape. Before the season opened the scribes looked for Eau Claire to lead in the lamming department.

Mique Malloy's team must have been overrated. So far the Red Wing Indians have failed to show anything, however, little will be known here of the new teams until they make their first northern invasion.

Despite the fact that the Superior grumblers have taken three straight from Red Wing, they have shown little class as yet. It is generally believed that O'Dea will have to have some additional pitchers, a second baseman and a new outfielder before he can make a bid for first flight honors.

"Slats" Morrow, the erratic youth of the Eau Claire team, is like the little girl with the curl; sometimes he is really sweet and at other times he has a welsh rarebit dream, looking tame and domesticated.

This kid can show everything when he is right; but once the balloon cuts loose from the anchor, and he has a March hare looking tamer than a toothless house dog.

Mike Breyette, the railroad shortstop, is a wee sma' man, who has been in the game several years longer than most of the players performing in the Minny league. The little fellow was once called to higher company and remained there long enough to get a cup of coffee. Mike is a little gentleman on and off the ball field, and is ever in the game. He is one of the most popular members of the Eau Claire Angels.

Callahan, the center fielder of the Eau Claire, who was secured from one of the American Association teams, has so far shown the goods. He can hit, and as Schoonhoven was after a hitter to take the place of "Russ" Bailey, the new man will probably stick if he can continue to show the same class of baseball.

Darby O'Brien is not on the heels of a catcher. So far the backstop department has proved the weakest part of the team. Lines are out for several men, but at the present time neither Kuchnow nor O'Brien can give out any definite information.

It will be a long time before another man like Count Otto Mueller will make his debut in the league. The German would be more welcome than the flowers in May. He is twenty pounds heavier than last year and has improved in his hitting. He would burn up the Minny league, were he to return.

It is just possible that St. Paul may be induced to turn over a player to the Duluth team. Michael J. Kelly, the genial manager of the St. Paul team and A. W. Kuehnow are very good friends. Anything that Mike may be able to do for the local team, he would gladly come through with.

They do say that the Red Wing baseball field is located on a side hill, and that it requires mathematical ability of a high order to gauge the course the spheroid is liable to take.

William Beach Smith, the austere writer that used to graze in the Winona journalistic pasture, is at Red Wing and is telling the natives many points of the great old game.

FITWELLS WILL MEET STRONG HAYWARD TEAM.

Fitted out in brand new white uniforms with blue trimmings, the strong Fitwell baseball team will journey to Hayward, Wis., tomorrow to meet the strong city team there. The Fitwells are one of the strongest teams in this part of the state. The members are confident of defeating the Wisconsin team, as Cloquet gave the Duluth boys little trouble in the game of last Sunday.

With a strong team signed up for the season, additional games are being added to the schedule. Games have been scheduled with Coleraine and Chisholm, in addition to the games announced with Eveleth, Hibbing, Two Harbors, Grand Rapids, Iron River and Aitkin.

Frank Sears, the manager of the team, states that he has a very strong team signed, and that if the team goes through the season winning the majority of its games, a series will be arranged for the championship of the northern part of the state.

The team will line up tomorrow as follows: Wicklund, c; Talbot and Larson, p; Michalek, 1b; G. Cullen, 2b; Nelson, 3b; Young, ss; Wickstrom, lf; Sears, cf; L. Johnson, rf.

JOHN HECTOR WILL JOIN JUNIOR CREW.

An announcement hailed with delight by those interested in the rowing interests of the Duluth Boat club, is the statement that John Hector, who rowed at No. 7 last year and the year before, will come out for the crew.

The big fellow has been kept out of rowing so far this season from various causes. He has promised to be out tomorrow and his presence will add strength to the crew.

So far the miserable weather conditions have conspired against the more rapid development of the first boat candidates. The material is there and it is generally believed that Duluth will send a faster crew to Kenora than the crew that gave Winnipeg a great race at St. Paul last season.

Important news may be announced in a few days which will cause joyous thrills to excite the followers of rowing. The men have been requested to get out on the water tomorrow morning, as the bad weather has prevented as much rowing as has been thought necessary the present week.

NORTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY BALL TEAM WILL INVADE THE TWIN CITIES

THE NORTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY BALL TEAM.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 14.—Leaving Grand Forks next Monday, the North Dakota university baseball team will play four games, three of them in the Twin Cities. The trip opens with a game at Fargo, N. D., against the state agricultural college, from which point the team goes to St. Paul.

In St. Paul on Tuesday the Macalister team will be played, it being a return game. Wednesday the Minnesota university will cross bats with the Flickertails, and on Thursday St. Thomas' college will be given an opportunity to show the North Dakotans what they know about the national game.

The North Dakota team this year is in very good condition. It played its opening game against Fargo college a week ago with a score of 14 to 4 in favor of the university resulting. Coach Dunlap has had his team out early and late, and has put them through some hard work. The entire team is made up of new men with only a few exceptions.

ONE KILLED; ONE INJURED

Other Dare-Devil Auto Drivers Have Narrow Escapes at Brighton Beach.

At End of First Ten Hours Fiat Car Was in Lead.

Brighton Beach, Motordrome, New York, May 14.—One man killed and another maimed and three more badly bruised was the hospital record for the first ten hours of the 24-hour race held at the Brighton Beach motordrome track last night and today. At the end of the tenth hour the Fiat car led with 497 miles to its credit and the Rainier was only one mile behind.

The cars, with the Buick pair in the lead, ran without serious mishap until midnight, thus disappointing the auguries of those who criticized the starting of the contest on Friday, the 13th.

Eighteen minutes after midnight the looked-for crash came. The Marion, driven by Hubert Anderson, tore through the fence on the turn to the home stretch and turned turtle. Anderson jumped clear of the wreck, but his mechanician, William F. Bradley, was so badly mangled that he died an hour later in the Emergency hospital at Coney Island from concussion of the brain and a fracture of the skull.

The second accident happend at 2 o'clock this morning when the Buick car No. 2, driven by George De Witt, crashed through the inner fence on the turn into the back stretch. The driver escaped unhurt, but the mechanician, Jack Towers, sustained a fracture of the leg and internal injuries. Early this morning the doctors at Emergency hospital said Towers was resting easy and would probably recover.

About three hours later the other Buick was disabled by the breaking of a crank shaft and it was towed into the paddock by the official car.

Louis Strang after an hour's delay, had the Marion car going again and he made a good showing. In speeding around the home stretch Strang had a miraculous escape as he tore through the fence and came out through the other angle of the barrier without a scratch.

The score for the tenth hour, 7 a. m., shows: Fiat, 497; Rainier, 496; Simplex, 492; Stearns No. 1, 476; Buick No. 1, 453; Croxton-Keeton, 451; Stearns No. 3, 435; Marion, 425; Selden, 367; Cole, 353; Buick No. 2, 305; Houpt, 266.

FORWARD PASS STILL A FEATURE

Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee Decides to Keep It.

New York, May 14.—The intercollegiate rules committee, at a meeting yesterday, decided to retain the forward pass unrestricted. The committee framed a number of rules designed to throw safeguards around the operation of this and other plays, and adjourned without having finished consideration of the revision of the rules.

The working out of the details of the new game was left in the hands of a sub-committee, composed of Walter Camp of Yale, Dr. Carl Williams of the University of Pennsylvania and Percy D. Houghton of Harvard, but as the new regulations are theoretical largely, it is admitted that the precise results will not be known until the football season of 1910 is under way.

The rules adopted follow:

"1. The forward pass may cross the line of scrimmage at any point, but the player making the pass must be at least five yards behind the line of scrimmage when the pass is made, and the player receiving the pass shall not be, when the catch is made, more than twenty yards in advance of where the ball was passed.

"2. Only the end men on the line of scrimmage and the four men in the backfield shall be eligible to receive the forward pass, and the backs, in order to be eligible, must be at least one yard back behind the line of scrimmage when the ball is put into play.

"3 A forward pass which crosses the line of scrimmage, or a kick of any description, must be made from a point at least five yards back of the scrimmage line.

"4. Penalties: On the first and second downs, in case of an incompleted forward pass, the ball shall be brought back to where the pass was made, the distance to be gained to remain the same. On the third down the ball shall go to the opponents on the spot where the pass was made.

"5. Players on the offense who have crossed the line of the scrimmage must not interfere with the defensive players on a kick until the ball shall have gone twenty yards, or on a forward pass until it shall have been caught, except in an actual attempt to catch the ball.

"6. Players on the defense, except when they are behind the line of scrimmage, may play as heretofore. Players on the defense behind the line of scrimmage may use their hands only upon their opponents' bodies in order to get at the man with the ball, until the ball shall have advanced across a line five yards back of the scrimmage line. After the ball has advanced across the five-yard line they may play as heretofore. Defensive players behind the line of scrimmage on a forward pass shall not in any way interfere with their opponents except in an actual attempt to catch the ball, nor shall such players, in case of a kick, in any way interfere with their opponents until the opponents have gone twenty yards beyond the line of scrimmage. No player on the offense or defense, while in the act of catching a forward pass, shall he tackled, thrown, pushed, pulled, shouldered or straight-armed until he shall have caught the ball and taken more than one step in any direction; provided that any such interference which is incidental to a bona fide attempt to catch or intercept a pass shall not come within this prohibition."

In addition, the committee adopted a rule designed to safeguard the players in another direction. This rule reads:

"In case a player with the ball crawls after the ball is declared dead, his team shall be penalized five yards."

The committee also formally adopted a provision that any player drawn from the game for any cause, except disqualification, may return once at the beginning of any subsequent quarter. This is to allow a tired player to rest, recuperate, and to remove the temptation to keep players in the game when they are not in fit condition.

Gaines Defeated.

Milwaukee, Wis., 14.—James Gaines of Boston was defeated in the second round of a ten-round fight by Bob Moha last night, the fight being stopped by the referee.

WILL MOTOR TO ZENITH CITY

Twin City Automobilists Will Have Long Parade to Duluth.

Duluth Enthusiasts May Return the Visit Later in Season.

The date whe nthe Twin City autoists will invade Duluth territory in a body has not yet been determined. Certain it is, however, that some time later in the season the run from Minneapolis to Duluth will be made and already it is said that fifty owners have made known their desire to make the run.

The run will not be made to break any speed records. A car will be sent one day in advance of the big parade. The army of automobiles will follow. It is planned to get as many to make the trip as possible and it is expected that before the time for the run, there will be many more entered.

A mechanic will be taken along to repair any breaks that may happen, and plenty of time will be taken so that the trip will be made as enjoyable as possible. Many women are to make the trip and some of them will drive cars.

The automobile clubs of the Twin Cities have the affair in charge and each city rivals the other in the number who are to make the trip.

A return trip will be made to the cities by Duluth enthusiasts. At present the idea is being talked up and it is expected that quite a number will decide to go.

The roads between Duluth and the Twin Cities are now said to be in very fair shape. Later in the season they will be in almost perfect condition. Repairs are being made all along the line.

The Bureau of Tours of the Automobile Club of America, of which Gen. George Moore Smith is chairman, has been busily engaged during the past winter in an enlargement of the scope of the work of the touring bureau to cover every state in the union. The A. C. A. has also perfected a plan by which a motorist can join the A. C. A. as a tourist member, and enjoy all the facilities and advantages of the Bureau of Tours at a yearly membership fee of $10. The motorist can thus obtain for a nominal sum all the touring information, route cards, maps and guides he desires, and under the new arangement which the A. C. A. has made with numerous of the larger automobile clubs throughout the country, the tourist member enjoys the privilege of a chain of automobile clubs, where he can stop on his travels and receive detailed local touring information and the temporary privileges of each of the clubs.

The H. H. Franklin Manufacturing company is the largest user of sheet aluminum in the United States, utilizing the material in making lightweight bodies of Franklin motor cars. Aluminum bodies are both light and strong; the material has the merit of being easily and attractively shaped, and it is not subject to warping and cracking as is other material.

The sheets of aluminum are fitted into a frame of angle steel. This steel is first cut to the right length and fitted over forms to the correct shape for the different models. The angles are assembled and brazed into a frame for the reception of the aluminum. The aluminum sheets after fitting are riveted, and the surfaces are ground smooth for the many coats of paint. For touring cars aluminus doors are used. Some woodwork is added, and then one of the lightest and strongest constructions for car bodies known is complete.

WORK OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE FOR YEAR IS REVIEWED IN REPORT

Many Matters of Vital Importance to City Touched Upon.

The Last Meeting of the "Old" Committee Is Held.

Chairman T. W. Hugo Given a Vote of Thanks for Untiring Labors.

The "old" public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club held its last meeting last evening at the club rooms, and listened to reports reviewing the work accomplished during the year.

The new committee will be named within a few days by President C. A. Luster. Mr. Luster was unable to be present last evening, being out of the city, and a telegram of regret from him was read. W. A. McGonagle, chairman of the committee on the cost of living, which reported last evening, was also unable to be present, and sent a telegram expressing his regret.

The reading of reports was the only business that came up. The report of T. W. Hugo, chairman of the public affairs committee, was a complete review of the work undertaken by the committee during the year. It was supplemented by reports from the subcommittees on agriculture, the cost of living, express delivery, traffic commission, and the open market.

At the conclusion of the report it was accepted, and on a motion by R. B. Knox, Mr. Hugo was tendered a vote of thanks by the committee for his untiring and unselfish efforts on behalf of the city and the club.

Mr. Hugo's report in substance follows:

"Any sane able bodied citizen of Duluth complaining of monotony or lonesomeness, should apply to President Luster of the Commercial club for a position on the public affairs committee, and if it is not a clear case of paralysis or paresis, he will have thrills and excitement enough to at least keep him awake. Even of those on that committee, few have a thorough comprehension of the multifarious matters which are disposed of in the course of a year, or brought to its notice. The members of one sub-committee busy with their peculiar subjects, cannot fully appreciate or even know all those being considered by the other committees; and it is to help bring back to all our minds, some of the things which have engrossed the attention of this committee during the year just ended, as well as to make report to the president of the Commercial club how we have improved the opportunities afforded us, that this summary is presented by the executive committee.

Paving Garfield Avenue.

"About the first thing a new public affairs committee has to take up, is the raising of money by subscription from public spirited citizens with which to carry on its work. Never an attractive job, or one that anybody would choose, it was especially difficult this year because of the extraordinary calls that had been made on the pocketbooks of the people who contribute for all those things, and most of all, because of the Garfield avenue subscription, because that was the most out of the way of them all.

"The burden of raising $25,000 for that paving had fallen on this body. Owing to the inequitable and vicious legislation which drains into the coffers of the state all money received as taxes from railroads, leaving upon the municipalities the burden of providing them with fire protection and water facilities, and even improving streets abutting on railroad property, it was found impossible, practically confiscatory, to levy the cost of this improvement on the assessable property on the street. A plan was therefore devised and agreed to by the city, by which, authority being granted by the legislature, the city should issue bonds to the amount of $50,000, the property owners should pay 25 per cent of the total, estimated at $100,000, and the generous public should contribute the remaining $25,000.

"The task of raising this $25,000 fell upon the public affairs committee and was successfully accomplished through its finance committee. But this work, as may be imagined, made it only more difficult for the same committee to go to substantially the same persons to raise the money for the operations of the public affairs committee.

Delays at Duluth Bridge.

"Many matters of importance to our shipping interests were taken up, among them the vexatious harbor delays. Efforts were made to introduce hinged smokestacks on tugs so that they might be lowered in passing under the interstate bridge, and the draw need not be swung open so often. But the tug owners maintained that structural reasons forbade and our efforts were ineffective. Lieut. Col. Graham D. Fitch, United States engineer, has labored steadfastly among the line of saving time at the interstate bridge and it is expected that much good will result; but as Duluth grows, a tunnel will be the only means of communication that can be tolerated.

Fire Tug.

"Efforts have been maintained to get in the city budget, some provision for a fire tug. It is first necessary that the conference committee make such provision in the budget which is the basis for the tax levy, before an appropriation can be sought from the city council. So far, however, the effort has not been successful and it may be Duluth must suffer a conflagration before the authorities are aroused to the pressing need of such a fire fighting machine, the only efficient weapon for the protection of the valuable and necessary dock property which pays such liberal sums into the funds of the city.

Harbor Improvements.

"At the National Rivers and Harbors congress, Duluth was represented by Capt. Alexander McDougall, whose valuable services are always at the call of the committee, although he is not now a member of it.

"The project of creating public docks and facilities for shipping which shall be open to all, a matter which the city now has in hand, receives our hearty indorsement and if the authorities need any assistance, our services should be tendered to them.

T. W. HUGO,
Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee.

"Preliminary steps were taken looking toward the improvement of the St. Louis river as far as New Duluth, and a survey of the rest to Fond du Lac, and favorable reports were made by the engineering department, but the design was frustrated by the effect of a letter in which the writer took counsel of his own concerns alone, giving occasion to adverse interests to retard the smooth passage of the bill. It is understood, however, that Senator Nelson has still hopes of putting through a measure which will relieve the situation and result in the improvement which is necessary before the St. Louis river can be available for industrial sites with appropriate facilities.

"Our industrial interests are so varied and many sided that a well advised opinion must include consideration of all the factors, and due weight must be given to each. No one institution may be deemed paramount and none should be ignored. Then when counsel has been taken of all plans and purposes, under the motto, "All for all," and with the methods of good team play, we shall move to unvarying success.

Soo-Brooten Excursion.

"Considerable interest has been taken in extending the circle of our acquaintance, principally among our immediate nieghbors, and in carrying out that policy we had the great pleasure of entertaining a large party who came here on what was called the Soo-Brooten excursion. Owing to the denial of special rates that were asked for, the number in the party did not come up to expectations, but those who favored us with their presence, were taken care of in Duluth style and we learned to respect and appreciate the visitors. This was only an informal dropping in of neighbors, which we hope will be repeated. These visits, reciprocally made, build up a sentiment of good feeling and confidence which is of incalculable value in the dealings of people one with another, and this committee can plan nothing which will bring forth better and more wholesome fruit than such interchanges of courtesies.

St. Louis County Club.

"Few experiments have developed into such a potent factor for the upbuilding of St. Louis county as the formation of the St. Louis County club, composed of representatives of the commercial and farmers' clubs of the county. Notwithstanding the fact that the meetings are held during the daytime and distances are long in this empire county, a large number attended and the business is transacted with an interest that is remarkable. The meetings, originally four times a year, but now twice, are held in different places and the business session ends with a dinner with the speeches and felicitations of the orators of the county. These meetings are growing in popularity and usefulness and some of those who at the outset scoffed have recently remained to pray, and we are all glad.

Northern Development Association.

"Our committee took an active part in the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Bemidji on Feb. 17 and 18. This gathering well conceived and carefully planned, deliberating for the welfare of this region, was a strong expression of the determination of this people to win for the northern section of the state, a fairer apportionment in representation and a square deal in the activities of the state.

"Another meeting along similar lines has been called at Crookston, on June 1, 2 and 3, and it behooves St. Louis county to be present in large numbers on that occasion. There are few gatherings more important to us, few that should appeal more to us or that promise better results. Accommodations and transportation facilities are being looked up.

Conservation Congress.

"Somewhat resembling the Bemidji meeting, though of greater magnitude and wider scope, was the Minnesota conservation congress, held at St. Paul under call of Governor Eberhart, at which this committee was represented by a large and influential delegation. Statewise though the interests were, Northern Minnesota and its development were practically the chief topic of discussion. Our vice chairman presided at one of the sessions and other members occupied important positions on committees. The agricultural and mining exhibits from this county attracted a great deal of favorable notice.

"All these meetings are helpful, whether in St. Louis county, the northern part of this commonwealth or at the capitol, because we are enabled to make ourselves and our interests known to those who are ignorant of our position, our prospects or our personnel, and it only requires a knowledge of either to attract the attention and assure the co-operation. A valuable portion of our active work lies along the lines of visitation and participation in those gatherings.

North Dakota Fair.

"In line with our policy to encourage the agricultural development of the territory tributary to Duluth, we have offered the managers of the North Dakota fair, a cup trophy for some special object which is a matter of deliberation now between them and our committee.

Associated Charities.

"In matters concerning the city, in addition to the Garfield avenue paving, many matters have demanded our attention. Following our practice of helping all meritorious civic enterprises in their organization, and then leaving the organization to run itself, lest we find ourselves swamped by dependent agencies instead of supported by independent allies, we took an active part in the organization of the Associated Charities, and that very practical institution is doing useful, constructive work under the supervision of Miss Jean Poirier.

Public Music.

"Believing in the uplifting tendency of good music, we assisted in defraying the expense of some of the outdoor band concerts, given last summer with so much pleasure to multitudes, and many individual members lent their efforts to the establishment of a Duluth Symphony orchestra convinced that such an institution would make for a happy and contented populace, for the cultivation of artistic sense and refined taste, with all the attendant benefits of improved social habits and civic pride. Unfortunately our givers had been drained to exhaustion and the money could not be raised. Perhaps we are not quite civilized enough for the orchestra and it might be better to organize at first, a choral society, which would naturally lead to the orchestra. But whatever the method, some general, comparatively cheap system of public concerts are needed and would add wonderfully to the toning up of the city. The only thing of the sort now is the series of free concerts given at the Masonic temple by that organizatiton during the winter season; those concerts will be given up as soon as some other organization is ready to adequately supply their place.

Coherent City Government.

"Another year's experience with the operations of the board of public works resolved the committee to again try for its abolition, and on its representation, the charter commission inserted an amendment which was voted on at the last city election with the same result as before, defeat. But that does not convince those who believe that no up-to-date business house would tolerate for one day such a many headed system as prevails in our city work; who have seen delays arise and plans upset if not defeated by the hydra-headed chimera which serves under our charter as a business organization; who realize that such conduct of a private concern would be business suicide.

"There is no criticism of the personnel of the board; the objection is to the practical working of an irresponsible system, which must submit to amputation and the longer the operation is delayed, the greater will be the shock. With a change in the board system and the election of aldermen at large, Duluth would have a humanly perfect charter.

City Ambulance Service.

"Our attention was called to the cruel delay, at times, in the arrival of the so-called city ambulance, in answer to emergency calls, because nobody seemed authorized to guarantee the charges, a manifest failure to give those needing it the benefit of urgent relief. We recommended to the city government a freer use of the ambulance and a guaranty of the expenses, and we have heard no further complaints.

Garbage Collection.

"The garbage system, experimented with last year, appears upon trial to have given satisfaction. Believing that some modern plan must correct the archaic lack of system generally prevailing here, we recommend its extension to the council so that it may supercede the insanitary methods now permitted.

Census of 1910.

"Vital to the interests of Duluth is a fair census, and we have, therefore by every means in our power, assisted the supervisor of that work until we believe that under his fair and energetic management we have accomplished as complete an enumeration as could be made. Of course some are missed in every census for one reason or another, but as that percentage will not materially vary, this enumeration is relatively correct if not absolutely, and at any rate we will know that it is fair, honest and equitable.

Ornamental Lighting.

"We assisted in working up sentiment and gathering agreements for commercial lighting on First street and are pleased to note that the idea has been developed on East Superior street. In modern business, more daylight is always the cry, and when any portion of our streets is made as bright as day, it not only beautifies the city and lends an attractiveness that ordered judicially and with good taste, will pay back all the money invested and the cost of maintenance.

Farming and Truck Gardening.

"Out of all the discussions and reports grew the firm conviction that first and foremost was the necessity for developing the tributary farm country and garden patches if Duluth really expected to become the desirable place for permanent homes that it claimed to be. Quickly following that view, was the project outlined by Mr. John G. Williams for developing a large tract near the city for market gardening purposes, to be ready, cleared and otherwise improved for cultivation, with a suburban railway to supply the transportation facilities. The plan was well-devised, promised good results, was carefully analyzed by a committee of this body, and reported on favorably, but no tangible results have so far been made known to this public affairs committee.

"Following this was the investigation of Mr. George Rupley's plans of persuading the owners of the Brooks-Scanlon railway to continue the operation of the portion of their logging road, the Minnesota & Northern Wisconsin, which they intended to abandon. In order to show the possibilities of profitable traffic in both directions, a census was made under the direction of Mr. Rupley and Mr. Hostetter. It will be to the interest of this public affairs committee to leave no endeavor unspent in pushing this plan to a successful conclusion.

Manufacturers.

"While it is encouraging to note that a live woolen mill is to be established in Duluth and that the Steel plant is fast coming to concrete form, it cannot be said that we have attained any marked success in bringing manufacturers here. There are several reasons. For instance, few live institutions in these days are slack enough in their orders to think of moving; those that present themselves are often peripatetic establishments, out of a job; in many cases with a valuable patent, perhaps untried, which they offer to put against the money of our citizens; but the greatest handicap is the assumed dearness of living and the lack of developed farm and garden lands.

"It is believed that in strenuously trying to develop these lands and set them to producing what we all want, we are taking the first step toward making conditions so favorable that manufacturers cannot ignore our facilities and advantages and that until then there is little use spending our energies in trying to convince those people that we have what they want. If they are the intelligent enough to be the kind we want, they can see for themselves that we are not ready for them yet. Agricultural development must precede our entrance into the manufacturing field and then both may develop together.

"Neither was it easy to induce the desirable manufacturer to consider our claims so long as traffic conditions were what they used to be. What was the use of making things here when our rivals had more favorable rates for placing similar goods on the market? What those traffic conditions were, the layman may in a measure comprehend by reading the report of the traffic commission, to which reference has already been made.

"We believe, however, that the time is near when we may throw our gauntlet into the ring and compete successfully with any locality. But we must lay the foundation first and see that they are broad and deep below the frost line of possible depressions.

Agricultural Development.

"Equal in importance to all other projects, if not supreme for the salvation of Duluth, was the work for the development of the agricultural resources of St. Louis county and the environs of Duluth. A general summary of the efforts in that direction will be found in the report of our capable superintendent of agriculture.

Terminals.

"Some time ago, Mr. F. A. Patrick suggested the advisability of preparing a general plan for the Duluth beautiful, economical and convenient, towards which, in our future city development, we would proceed, and negotiations were entered into tentatively with a representative of D. H. Burnham & Co., landscape architects and engineers of Chicago. Meanwhile, however, it developed that before anything could be accomplished in that direction, the entire traffic situation must be remodeled and our bay front and railroad tracks must be rearranged. And since we could not undertake to prosecute both, it was decided to postpone the larger plan and give heed to the more immediate pressure of acute needs in the railroad and dock situation, foregoing the aesthetic for the utilitarian.

"Parallel with the creation of the traffic commission, a terminal committee was appointed who devoted much time and thought to the work, engaging the services of Capt. H. A. Parker, a railroad expert, who with the committee worked out a well conceived and practical scheme, which, with plans and sketches, was presented at a meeting of this body held for the purpose. That report with the plans was printed and distributed to the membership and to others interested, bearing this committee's approval.

Conventions.

Little attention has been paid to bringing conventions to Duluth in as much as our hotel accommodations have been no more than sufficient for the summer tourists who are with us at the same time, and it would be neither fair nor wise to induce parties to come here on pleasure or business bent, or a combination of both, and not be able to provide the accommodations that decent people want.

"A further hindrance has been the lack of a suitable convention hall. The Armory is not fit, being neither comfortable nor convenient, and Duluth cannot establish itself as a convention city until that need is filled.

"Nevertheless there is no doubt that people in large numbers will come to Duluth in due time and the committee has made such efforts as its finances would permit to give the information and present the niducements which should attract the traveling public and the pleasure seeker in our direction.

Summer Tourists.

"Summer travel hither should be cultivated both for its own sake and for the commercial results to which it may lead. Nature has chosen Duluth for her own ideal summer resting place, where she also fondly lingers during the autumn and winter, and therefore, we would share our advantages with those less fortunately situated.

"The need of better passenger facilities, which the traffic commission has under consideration, is again emphasized by the growing volume of this tourist business.

Publicity.

"We have prepared and distributed thousands of copies of the attractive circular called 'Duluth Outdoors,' placing them in connection with the railroad and steamboat time tables in hotels, drawing room cars and other public places; have printed and distributed Mr. C. P. Craig's speech at the land congress in Chicago; a brief on the tonnage tax, by Hon. C. A. Congdon; Governor Johnson's veto of the tonnage tax bill; 'Opportunity in St. Louis County,' an agricultural folder; 'Duluth, the New Steel Center,' a new edition of the Proctor Knott speech, always in demand; photographs have been supplied to railroads and others; letters have been written for periodicals as opportunity offered, and a monthly bulletin has been issued to the members of the club, in which the chief activities of the public affairs committee have been detailed, all good stuff if the right people will only read it.

Newspapers.

"Our dailies have been very active in giving publicity to matters of common interest, have written strong editorials and given unlimited space to articles concerning Duluth and St. Louis county, and have invariably been ready to co-operate with the committee. Their work must bear good fruit and they have laid the community under a deep debt of gratitude for their uniform and persistent efforts to promote the welfare of the entire community.

Road Map of St. Louis County.

"As soon as the road map of St. Louis county is completed, and it needs only a few short stretches to be marked in, we have engaged to publish it for distribution in the county. It will show in a surprising way the extent of the road system of St. Louis county and entice many to take longer auto rides than they think possible now.

Indian Supplies.

"Representations were made to the committee that, under the prevailing method of purchasing Indian supplies, Duluth merchants were practically shut out of competition and on information sent to our representative in congress, Hon. C. B. Miller, protests were made to the authorities. We have received assurance as a result that the disabilities would be removed and the unjust conditions changed.

Japanese Commissioners.

"It was our great pleasure to entertain the honorary commercial commissioners of Japan in the course of their continental excursion. Our entertainment committee did beautifully and with the assistance of the officers of the club, the visit was an unqualified success. The international exchange of courtesies was as pleasant to us as to the visitors, even if they did find out more about our business than we did about theirs. They are such people as any municipality may be proud to have as guests.

At the End of the Year.

"Notwithstanding the number of items here called to your attention and the length of the comments, only the high spots have been touched, with hardly a glance at the daily grind and routine, the thousands of letters, the questions answered, the things noxious which have been prevented and the things useful which have been promoted would stretch your patience to the breaking point to tell. But they all go to make up the work of the public affairs committee, a business in itself, and one which, as the city grows, will have to be taken care of in the same way that has been forced upon other large cities by the conditions and circumstances of their existence, that is by the employment of a commissioner of public affairs, at a good salary and liberal expense allowance.

"As long as it can be done by the citizens themselves, so much the better. For each has then a personal interest in the work that no hired man can inspire in him. When the commissioner arrives he becomes, by force of gravity, almost the whole thing, and the members lapse into a state of snug complacency, satisfied with what somebody else is doing for them. But there is nothing like digging in with one's own hands.

"Duluth is fortunate so far in having the services of loyal, zealous, intelligent citizens who, for their civic pride's sake, are willing to do everybody's work and receive scant recognition or even blame for it. But our list has been sadly shortened by the death of two valuable members, Mr. O. H. Simonds and Mr. Ward Ames, Sr. Their work will live and the results of their lives will be beneficially felt by every citizen. Both were genuinely mourned and this committee attempted to recognize their services by appropriate resolutions and in such other ways as presented themselves.

"The scope of our work has passed the single capacity of Maj. Eva, the secretary, borrowed with his willing consent, from the Commercial club. His services have been invaluable and he has done all that any one could do to forword the interests and push the advancement of the city along sane lines. The agricultural work has occupied the attention of the capable superintendent of agriculture, Mr. Hostetter. When more help was needed, we were fortunate in employing the services of J. S. Pardee, whose training and experience have made him useful to the committee in a number of ways.

"While we have not been able for lack of means to grasp all the opportunities that came in our way, it is believed that much good has been done and that the public affairs committee of 1909-1910 has at least endeavored to make the best use of the materials at its disposal, to accomplish substantial progress and be faithful to the duties they assumed when they accepted appointment. And so at the close of the term, in making this report of their fidelity to their trust for the approval of the president of the Commercial club, as is the custom, they retire to the ranks of private membership feeling that if they have not done all that was expected, they have done what they could.

For the Larger Future.

"As we analyze the situation in Duluth today, we must come to the conclusion that we have reached the parting of the ways, that the old haphazard methods are to be relegated into innocuous desuetude. Duluth's rennaissance has been heralded and scientific city building takes the place of the uneconomical wastage of opportunism.

"A great work lies before the city, in which no doubt the public affairs committee will be called upon for counsel and help, not only in shaping our terminals but in providing port facilities, establishing the independence of this gateway, proportioning the thoroughfares of trade and traffic and assembling the factors of commercial growth.

"Hitherto we have been working from the top down, throwing our arms about widly in the hope of embracing a sunbeam, listening to the siren song of 'Manifest Destiny,' while we were often deaf to the call of immediate opportunity. We have spent our time in chasing rainbows which usually ended in a new addition to Utopia, or in a bottomless copper mine; we have placed on the map a scattered, hysterical, incongruous series of villages called Duluth, instead of a compact, economical city; we are a municipality of 83,000 people trying to live up to the scale of a quarter of a million; we have strained our vision so persistently towards the great things that we have a permanent kink in our back that prevents our seeing the smaller ones clamoring for our attention, though in the aggregate they sum up larger than the fancies we sought; we built to secure returns enough to pay our way out of the city in which we accumulated our wealth; we damned our stores but bought our shirts and furniture in Chicago; we tried for impossible perfection and permitted the entrance of the thin edge of interference with personal liberty; we locked up so tightly our city business methods that now we canont progress.

"But through the persistent efforts of this committee as a nucleus, the dawn of an era of enduring results appears; chance gives way to science, speculation to positivism, vagaries to good sense, and the Alworth building displaces the one-story saloon paying for itself every year; the rule of the resident supplants the control of the absentee; the improved lot succeeds the vacant disgrace; the railroads will see us instead of our cooling our heels in the ante room waiting the pleasure of the new lord of creation; our merchants will supply our wants instead of our relying on those who have no interest in us; St. Louis county, instead of Anoka county will dictate the fashion and price of foodstuffs.

"We may not see the millenium but we will perceive the leadings that will bring it nearer, and Duluth will have started on a career of progress after the new birth, which will bring it to its own, hastened by the working together of all Duluth people in good sense, loyalty and good humor."

In addition to the matters mentioned above, Mr. Hugo's report touched on the work of the traffic committee, the cost of living committee, the effort to reduce express delivery charges, and the producers' market association, all of which were fully treated in supplemental reports by sub-committees. Mr. Hostetter, in charge of the agricultural department, also submitted a complete and very interesting report of his year's work.

THIEVES STEAL NEW SCHOOL CORNER STONE.

Chicago, May 14.—Saw mills have been stolen on the Canadian frontier; red hot cook stoves have been purloined in various cities, but it is believed a new record has been set by the theft of a corner stone. The stone was discovered missing from the Lutheran seminary, in course of construction. The thieves, in search of coins often imbedded in cornerstones, secured only a tin box containing newspapers, cards, etc.

HIGBEE IRON CO.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE AT ST. PAUL, MINN.

MINES ON THE FAMOUS MESABA IRON RANGE IN MINNESOTA.

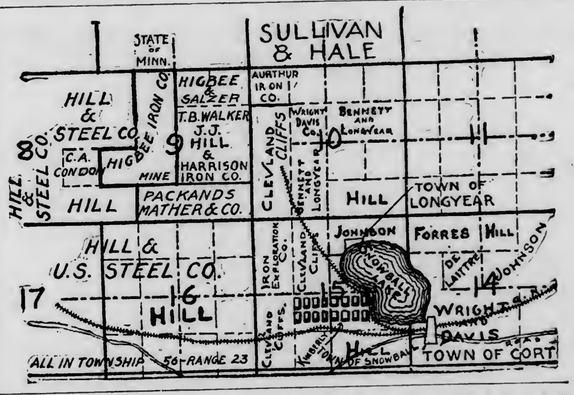
R. Bacon Higbee, President, Business Builder and Counselor, St. Paul; George Salzer, Vice President, President Salzer Lumber Company, Minneapolis.

TALK NO. 2.

For several weeks I have been talking to you about the Higbee Iron company and just at this time I want to call your attention to a number of facts which are worthy of repetition and special consideration. First, you must admit that our capitalization of only $100,000 is exceedingly low. Now, Mr. Salzer, who is the principal backer of this enterprise, insisted when the company was organized, the 14th day of September, 1909, that it be done on a conservative business basis, hewing strictly to such lines as had brought his other enterprises to success. You know, Mr. Salzer is a hard-headed German business man, who made his money in the lumber business. He is now president of one of the largest retail lumber companies in Minneapolis—the Salzer Lumber company—a director in the German American Bank of Minneapolis and interested with his brothers, John and Henry, in the "Great" Salzer Seed company of La Crosse, Wis. He is not the kind of a man who would loan his influence or his prestige or his money to any ordinary proposition, and when he became connected with the Higbee Iron company it was because the probability of ultimately making a fortune from the mine was apparent. Now, if you will look at the map, you will see how the James J. Hill and T. B. Walker, the U. S. Steel corporation and many other famous iron company's lands embrace us, and when you realize that our development work to date consists of at least ten drill holes—every one in ore—from end to end of our southeast forty acres, you will admit that we have a large body of ore and as sure as fate it runs clear through the west forty acres also and will surely double the amount of ore already found, and, then, everybody knows that lots more ore is sure to be found at depth. No hole so far drilled is over 100 feet deep, I believe, also, that ore will be found well to the north of our property. In fact, the possibilities seem unlimited.

A contract has been made with Geary & Power of Hibbing, large independent iron operators, looking to the leasing of the property on a basis of 10 cents a ton net on every ton of ore mined. The first minimum payment of $3,000 is to be made the 5th of July next, and $6,000 is to be paid every year thereafter until mining starts and when mining starts we ought to get $25,000 a year and perhaps $50,000 or even $100,000, if my judgment as to the amount of ore in the mine is anywhere near correct. I almost forgot to tell you of another feature of our deal with Geary & Power which is likely to make it possible to pay an extra dividend of about 6 per cent almost any time, and that is this: If they in turn lease this property to other people we are to receive an extra $6,000 in cash at that time. As several parties are right now investigating the property it may be that they will want it bad enough to make it worth while for Geary & Power to buy the privilege of releasing it.

Now, the other day, when I was in Hibbing, a head man of the Oliver Iron Mining company, the mining department of the Steel corporation, had me take him to Geary & Power's assay office in Hibbing, where we got Mr. Geary to show him the samples of ore from our property. This gentleman looked over the samples and expressed surprise and pleasure at their merit. In the conversation, I asked Mr. Geary why we had not received a report from the last drill hole, and he said: "I thought we had sent you one, but if none has been sent it must have been because the drill man must have probably thought the sample too poor to assay." At that the Steel trust man asked to see that particular sample, and, upon examination, he said he thought it good enough to assay, and I gave him some of it, and after assaying some of it he sent me the report, a copy of which is here shown. You see it ran (45) forty-five per cent in iron and low in phosphorus and with just enough manganese to make it right. Now, if this is a sample of poor ore, what ought our good ore to run—be that as it may, the Steel trust man secured my promise to give them the first chance to purchase or lease our property if Geary & Power ever defaulted in their contract. All of which ought to be good evidence of the intrinsic worth of our stock and show the investor that aside from a good dividend payer our stock has a speculative chance of making a fortune for the lucky holder, depending somewhat, of course, upon the size of the holding. And I'll wager a new hat to any one that it will be the safest and biggest paying investment offered the public by anyone this summer.



The stock is being advertised and offered very broadly throughout the country, so the market will be a large and general one, assuring investors of an opportunity to trade in the stock, and I believe the demand that is being created for it will soon be so great that the price will have to be advanced to two hundred and, perhaps, three hundred dollars a share; however, I shall continue to offer stock for sale only long enough to obtain the co-operation of some more good representative business men. You see, I have other properties that I want to finance later, and I believe that when the investor in this company finds out what a really good thing he has he will go the limit with me on my next company, and thus may the ball of success be kept rolling, and if you, reader, are endowed with a love for real enterprise, I invite you to come in with me now.

I don't see how you can ever regret it. You can see that we have the utmost confidence in our proposition, for aside from Mr. Salzer's being prominently connected with it, I have christened it with my own name and am endeavoring to broaden my reputation for being a winner in this field of enterprise. Payments can probably be arranged to suit your convenience—send as much at once as you can spare and state when you can pay the balance, and, if your proposition is at all fair, I will try to meet you more than half way. Shares are a hundred dollars each. Only intelligent business-brained people are expected to be attracted to this proposition, and to such I will be glad to furnish additional information, if it is desired.

For a few days I will make the price ($99) ninety-nine dollars a share, where full payment is sent with order. Sincerely,

R. B. HIGBEE, President,
St. Paul, Minn.

MAY BRIDES

Duluthians will be much interested in the following account from a San Francisco paper of Thursday of last week, as the bridegroom, George G. Joerns, lived in Duluth for several years and is known to many here:

"A brilliant navy wedding last night marked the nuptials of Miss Constance Cummings and Ensign George Geoffrey Joerns, United States navy, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin E. Cummings. The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock, and the marriage service was read by Rev. William Rader. The Cumulings home was artistically decorated with masses of hawthorne, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out with the aid of these dainty blossoms.

"The bridal party included the two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Harry Childs of Spokane, and Mrs. George Alexander Knox, as martons of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Madeline Cummings and Miss Louise Mosser. Shelby Cummings acted as best man.

"The bride's gown was of white silk crepe beautifully embroidered and trimmed with duchesse lace.

"The matrons of honor were gowned in the handsome wedding dresses that they wore at their own marriages recently.

"The bridesmaids were frocks fashioned alike of pink chiffon over pink silk. All the bride's attendants carried armfuls of pink roses, which added much to the picturesqueness of their gowns.

"About 150 guests attended the ceremony and reception which followed. A great many of the guests were from Mare island, where Ensign Joerns' ship, the Yorktown, is at present awaiting orders for Central America.

"A honeymoon trip in the South will precede the departure of the young navy officer with the sailing of the Yorktown on its cruise in Southern waters.

"The wedding was to have taken place later in the year, but owing to navy orders, the ceremony was hastened to permit of a month's honeymoon trip before the day of sailing."

GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY

By HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD.

For all the interest that attaches to old age, most of us find it difficult to grow old gracefully. The first few whitening threads in our hair amuse us as a prank of nature. Other people may grow old and gray, but in ourselves we feel the bubbling of a fountain of inexhaustible youth.

We hardly think of those white threads as a serious fact; never as spies who have stolen in to possess the land. But we have read of certain weeds foreign to a soil that one year appear here and there thinly, a struggling outpost, and another year the whole grand army has advanced, the possessor is dispossessed and the weed reigns.

And one day we are suddenly startled to see that ashes have fallen on our head, that ours is the common lot, that age—dark and unlovely it seems to us then, as it did to Ossian—has in reality begun. And at the same time, very like, we see the wrinkles round the eye, coming so stealthily that we have never suspected them till we were used to them; the deepening lines of the forehead; we see that the luster and the smoothness and the roundness of youth are gone.

Ashes are on our head, indeed, and we are inclined to put on sackcloth, too; for while we are still conscious of the buoyancy and hopefulness of youth, we find that we have lost its charm, and we cannot so resign it without a struggle; angry with our impotence we declare ourselves old, wear old colors, adopt old ways, in a sort of satire upon ourselves, till, before we know it, that buoyancy has gone, too; elasticity has followed; in the relaxing of our muscles we observe the sinking of the eye, the nagging of the cheeks, and if there is a sudden revulsion of our methods we do not strive to disguise it; we strive to ignore it, and are resolved to be young in spite of years and fate.

We scrutinize these, then, who have already suffered this crisis, if, indeed, they cared as we have cared, with an ignorant marveling; their peacefulness seems but submission to the inevitable; and perhaps out of the dark a great helping hand reaches forth to give us strength to lead us forward till we can gild the future with faith, and there has begun to mingle with our wonder a sympathy that, if it strips away some of the mystery from hoary old age, gives it a more human interest than we have hitherto allotted it; and we understand how the widowed grandmother relieves her gay days in the gayeties of her grandchildren, understand how she beguiles herself with knitting and netting and all the little domestic details of the house, and we find something more pitiable than we found before in the loneliness of the old grandfather whose eyes have failed and whose mate has gone before.

CLUBS AND MUSICAL

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN MAY FESTIVAL OF MUSIC

ARTHUR MIDDLETON, Bass.

MARIETTA BAGLEY, Contralto.

DAVID DUGGAN, Tenor.

LUCILLE TEWKSBURY, Soprano.

The interest in the June concerts by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and the assisting soloists, is greater this year than ever before and the Duluth populace is sending in the early subscriptions in larger numbers than during any former year.

There is a discount for the tickets subscribed for before the regular public sale and many are availing themselves of this advantage. The subscription sale will remain open only during next week and any one may speak ahead for tickets by addressing H. W. Reyner, the local impressario.

Four distinguished vocal soloists are accompanying the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra on its fourth annual spring festival tour; a soprano, contralto, tenor and basso. The engagement of these four artists enables the orchestra in its concerts to command vocal material that will cover absolutely the concert, oratorio and operatic fields of song, as well as to answer practically all the solo demands made by the world's great choral works.

The soloists for the tour were selected with extreme care, and are among the foremost oratorio and concert singers of the country, combining the necessary qualities of voice, musicianship and personality made necessary by the varied and exacting demands of such a tour. All these demands are believed to be met in an unusual degree by the four singers selected, Lucille Tewksbury, soprano; Marietta Bagley, contralto; David Duggan, tenor; and Arthur Middleton, bass.

Mrs. Tewksbury is widely known and recognized as one of the foremost American sopranos, and her beautiful voice, fine musicianship and charming personality have made her a favorite wherever she has appeared. Her voice is a rich clear soprano, under perfect control, and especially suited to oratorio work, while a fine musical taste and intelligence combined with sincerity and an excellent command of both dramatic and lyric phases of interpretation combine to make her one of the most satisfactory artists before the public She has filled many important engagements with leading oratorio societies of the country, and always with success.

Miss Bagby is a contralto who is better known in and around her home, New York, than in the West, and is rapidly winning her way to wider recognition. She has done much oratorio, concert and church work in the East, and made several tours as soloist with the Russian Symphony orchestra, meeting with the greatest success. She has a voice of great beauty and exceptional range, and a pleasing personality. She goes to Europe at the close of this tour to enter grand opera and is believed to have a great future before her.

Mr. Duggan is a pupil of several prominent American teachers, and later studied with Jean De Reszke and other great European teachers. His voice combines many of the qualities of both the lyric and dramatic tenor. He has studied both oratorio and opera, and is an excellent artist in either field. He has much dramatic style, and a voice of very wide range and exceptionally beautiful quality, while in his singing of MacDowell and other songs of a lyric style, he shows a fine musical intelligence and grasp of the subtleties of mood portrayed in these compositions. He has temperament and the qualities which make his work interesting and vital.

Arthur Middleton has been repeatedly called by ardently enthusiastic critics, the greatest bass singer in America, and wherever he appears he arouses the greatest enthusiasm. His magnificent voice has that virile quality that thrills the listener with its sonorous beauty and it is doubtful if there is a more popular singer before the American public today. He is in constant demand throughout the season, the requests for his services being more frequent than he can respond to. His voice is one of dramatic splendor and of great richness. He sings, also, with remarkable intelligence, and in such matters as interpretation, phrasing, and the right use of tone color he excels. His strong, vigorous and manly appearance, repose of manner and winning, magnetic personality, count immeasurably in his favor. He accompanied the orchestra on its tour last year, and owing to the almost unanimous requests of local directors of the various festivals he was re-engaged for this year. His recent phenomenal successes with the Apollo club of Chicago, and with other prominent choral organizations, have brought him greater recognition than ever.

Linnaea Club.

The Linnaea club held its annual meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. P. C. Smith. The annual reports were given. The following report has been prepared by one of the members:

"As the club has existed but one year, a resume of its work may not loom up very large, but all have the satisfaction of knowing that a noble work has taken root, and as time passes its activities may increase.

"The original idea was to create a reserve fund, which was to be gradually increased until the completion of the proposed tubercular sanitarium. The amount was to be expended in furnishing a room and to provide for needy patients. But as the hospital has not yet materialized, it was decided last November to help by the way to some extent instead of holding money for future relief entirely. Therefore, at present all income shall be divided so as to give half for immediate needs and half to be added to the reserve fund.

"The receipts for the year have amounted to $327.65; disbursements, $86.65; leaving $184.85 in the reserve fund, and $46.25 in the relief fund.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. I. Bergstrom; vice president, Mrs. John Brandt; treasurer, Mrs. P. C. Smith; secretary, Mrs. Harold Fegraeus; trustees, Mrs. Andrew Nelson for, two years, and Mrs. D. E. Seashore, for one year.

TRY THIS DINNER

Puree of Turnips.

Peel and slice three white turnips. Put into a kettle with two cups of rice, two tablespoons of butter, and pepper, salt and nutmeg to season. Cover with one quart of veal stock (made from boiling some veal bones and scraps of beef.) Simmer for two hours, rub through a fine sieve and reheat. Add two tablespoounfuls of butter and three cups of boiling milk. Serve at once.

Fish—Turkish Halibut.

Place on the bottom of a baking pan two or three slices of onion, then a cutlet of halibut, and put a tablespoon of butter cut into small bits over the top of the fish. Cut three skinned tomatoes into quarters, slice a sweet green pepper into ribbons, and put over the fish. Place the pan on the shelf of the oven to first cook the vegetables, but do not let it remain there long enough to discolor or change ther shape; then remove it to the bottom of the oven, baste it well, and finish the cooking. When done place it carefully on a hot dish and pour over it the juice from the pan.

Vegetables—Vegetable Curry.

Into the saucepan put one heaping tablesponful of butter, and in this place some slices of carrot. Turn these about in the butter, and add turnip cut in dice or slices, potatoes sliced, also one onion cut up. Season with salt and add a little water. When the water reaches boiling point add two teasponfuls of curry powder and a tablespoonful of flour moistened with cold water. Stir it again till it reaches boiling point and allow it to simmer gently till the vegetables are perfectly tender. If green peas are in season they may be added, or cooked beans make a nice addition; also cold boiled rice may be added to the curry.

Dessert—Pineapple Sponge.

For this you will require three cupfuls of the crushed or shreded pine apple, one small cupful of sugar, a half package of gelatine soaked an hour in a half cupful of cold water, and the whites of four eggs. Put the pineapple and sugar in a saucepan with a cupful of water and simmer ten or fifteen minutes if the fresh pine is used. All that the canned requires is simply heating. Add the soaked gelatine, take at once from the fire and strain into a dish set in a pan of chipped ice. Where the canned crushed pineapple is used it does not require straining. When partially cooled add the well-whipped whites of the eggs and beat until the entire mixture is spongy and thickened. Puor into a mold and set away to harden. Serve with whipped cream or a soft custard made from the yokes of the four eggs, a quart of milk and four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Do not fail to cook the pineapple before adding to gelatine, or it will not harden.

HINTS FOR BOUDOIR

By MILDRED WYCKOFF.

Beauty Box for Country and Seaside.

No girl should go away for her summer holiday without making preparations in case of hot sunny days, for she will find nothing worse than the direct rays of a hot sun for spoiling a pretty complexion.

The beauty-box will take up very little room, as only small quantities of powders and creams are required. The "box" should contain, in the first place, a good cleansing cream, which should be used instead of soap and water during the day, when the face needs to be refreshed; a pure face powder and a small packet of talcum powder. A sunburn lotion may be added, but quite a satisfactory one can be made from one teacupful of sweet milk and the juice of a lemon. Squeeze the lemon into the milk, and let it stand in a cool place. Apply to the cheeks at night with a piece of soft rag.

The talcum powder is very beneficial in cases of perspiration, and the face powder should be generally dabbed on the face, when it is to be exposed to the sun for some time.

If the skin gets badly burned, never wash it with cold water, but apply hot cloths as soon after returning indoors as possible. Then dry the face well, and rub in some cold cream, which should be left on for about half an hour.

If the sunburn is very painful, cloths, wrung out of witch hazel, will draw out the heat. A face bath of buttermilk will have the same effect, and cucumber juice is also very cooling.

Some Useful Pointers.

Perspiring hands should be bathed in hot water, dried well and dusted with powdered oatmeal.

No receptacle for soiled clothing should be kept in a sleeping room. Good health demands pure air.

To prevent discoloration of bruises, apply a cloth wrung out of water as hot as can be borne, as soon as the cloth cools change to a hot one.

WHAT DREAMS MEAN

By POLLY PAGET.

Dreams of accidents are very lucky; they denote surprise of a pleasing nature.

To dream that some one is reproaching you is a sign of a peaceful married life.

To dream that you are sailing through smooth waters is significant of prosperity.

If a girl dreams that she has a very tall man for a sweetheart she will marry a man of little stature.

To dream that you wear a veil is a sign that you have a great love of approbation.

For a woman to dream that she is a widow indicates that some one is in love with her.

To dream of one's father is a most fortunate dream.

To dream of drowning is a sign of difficulties which will only be mastered by great perseverance.

To dream of blue eyes means joy.

To dream that you find anything signifies success in business, generosity and a wealthy marriage.

To dream of home is one of the most fortunate of omens. Wherever you go great kindness shall always be shown you.

To dream you see grass denotes long life. To dream you cut grass denotes trouble.

Dreaming of sunshine denotes great joy and happiness, also wealth and length of days.

If a girl dreams of men who are unknown to her it is a sign that she will have many admirers and that she will eventually marry a foreigner.

To dream that you see a minor foretells some unexpected visit. If the miners are at work the dream denotes adversity.

To dream of the opal denotes good luck.

To dream of an owl fortells marriage to a very clever man. You will be very fortunate in your marriage, for it will bring you great wealth, power and position.

To dream of a river denotes long life.

To dream that you are rinsing washed linen is a sign that you are to change your situation.

To dream that you are rambling in green fields denotes success and happiness in your love affairs.

THIEF LAKE TOWN MAN DROWNS IN RED RIVER.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Hemsings of the town of Thief Lake, north of here, was drowned recently in the Red river, near Dale. His body was found Monday and turned over to relatives. He had hired out to work on a boat on the river, when he fell into the water and perished.

ADVANTAGES MORE THAN OFFSET DISADVANTAGES

Cost of Living Here Not Higher Than Elsewhere, Says Committee.

Citizens Gouged on Some Items, But Other Necessities Are Cheap.

While there are some items in the living expenses of Duluth citizens that are higher than they should be, the citizens of Duluth have advantages that fully offset them, and there is no just ground for complaint regarding the excessive cost of living in this city, according to the report of the Commercial club committee on the cost of living, presented to the public affairs committee at its annual meeting last evening.

The committee was appointed last fall to investigate the comparative cost of living in Duluth and in other cities, and its report is the result of careful investigations covering several months.

The report in full follows:

To the Public Affairs Committee of the Commercial Club of Duluth:

Gentlemen—The general complants that living expenses in Duluth were unduly high were referred some time ago to the committee on statistics and legislation to the end that if the current impression was correct steps might be taken to overcome the inequalities, or if there was not good foundation for them a contribution might be put forth that would carry weight.

The inquiry naturally ran along two lines, the cost of living compared with previous years and the cost of living compared with other places. The two inquiries are not easily separated.

So far as the general advance in the price of commodities is concerned, that has been investigated by so many bodies in so many places, that it need not take our attention now at any length. A rise in the level of prices is ascribed by pretty general agreement to the rapidly increasing supply of gold, in which all other commodities are measured. Meats have been affected by the dwindling of the flocks and herds on the open ranges and by the dearness of feed as the demand for cereals increased and the average yield decreased.

Lumber has had a legitimate advance because of the destruction of large forest areas and the lack of conservation of same. The legitimacy of the advance in many articles is challenged on the ground that prices have been maintained above fair warrant by trade agreements, and combinations. The tariff is charged by many with the blame for high prices. The cultivation of fancy tastes is accountable for a part of the advance. The same commodity that sells in bulk for 3 cents a pound, with a fancy package and a pretty name will fetch three times as much, though giving no more nourishment.

That there has been a great increase in prices is undisputed. That the prices advance faster than wages is accepted. That the American people must give more attention than heretofore to household thrift is recognized. That the people through their governments must exercise reasonable control over the capitalization and conduct of public service corporations and quasi public corporations is not disputed, and the people must take pains to make the best use of all resources, since there is more free land and what is in use is too valuable to be used wastefully.

There is no department of business in which saving cannot be made. In transportation long trains of cars pass one another carrying like commodities in opposite directions, sometimes absurdly as though ore were shipped from Pennsylvania to Northern Minnesota. Retail trade has problems of distribution where there is equal opportunity for saving. Inasmuch as there is not a business institution in the country nor a trade association that is not giving its best attention to improving its methods, this phase of it need not detain us.

Duluth's Comparative Basis.

Your committee collected statements of price costs from a number of American cities, giving staple foods, clothing and rents. It has followed other inquiries that ran on similar lines.

There are so many factors that any conclusions should be put forth with great caution. If we had the typical case in each city, a comparison might be made with confidence. But it is hard to say that any price quoted is the average price or that the average is the typical price.

Some facts may be quickly dismissed. Advertised goods sell at the same price here as anywhere else. A $3 shirt, for instance, is the same in any city. That eliminates from the question of comparative cost a long list of items.

Fuel—Fuel is low in Duluth, lower than anywhere else in Minnesota. Soft coal shows in Duluth's favor as compared with any point more than 200 miles from the mines. Hard coal is cheaper here than anywhere away from the lakes. Besides the low price, the screenings from the docks furnish a large supply of very cheap fuel.

Gas for fuel or light is served at 90 cents per 1,000 feet, or 75 cents net. Many places are fighting to get dollar gas and very few can show lower rates than Duluth.

Electric light for domestic consumption is lower than in most cities and lower than the average for a large number of cities. On bills of less than $5.70 a month, the Duluth rates are lower than in Minneapolis which is also served by water power.

Water is furnished at cost by the municipal plant from the exhaustless supply of Lake Superior, the purest in the world.

Duluth's Advantages.

In comparison with almost any other city, Duluth enjoys an advantage in fuel, water and light. Even allowing for the extra length of winter, the fuel factor is in Duluth's favor as compared with other territory of this latitude or 500 miles farther south unless in immediate contact with the coal fields.

Clothing—Prices for many articles of clothing are standard and invariable. Prices for other articles are so very variable that figures are mere confusion. But this is the statement: That working garments are the same price in Duluth as other places. Necessary clothing costs no more here than anywhere else in the temperate zone. Unnecessary clothing costs whatever one chooses to spend, here or anywhere else.

Furniture—What is true of clothing holds good of furniture and household wares. Simple tastes can be satisfied here as cheaply as anywhere. For the necessary household outfit, one may be as well equipped here as in other cities, at prices showing no significant variation one way or the other.

City's Disadvantages.

Food—Here we come to an item that has counted heavily against Duluth.

It is enough to recite the fact now familiar that Duluth has been accustomed to draw from a distance, supplies that other cities usually provide for themselves. There has necessarily been extra freight, additional handling charges and extra shrinkage compared with the same articles produced at the door.

The development of Northern Minnesota and of the country immediately around the city is bound to overcome that disparity and there is ground for the statement that the gap is already narrowing. The presence of a supply of produce needs to be supplemented by public market facilities, which are in the way of being furnished.

As an example, during the recent months potatoes have been as plentiful around Duluth as anywhere else. Every market was overrun. In consequence potatoes were about as cheap in Duluth as anywhere else. That sufficiently disposes of the question of the high price of any commodity that can be raised in quantity in this section.

There is some reason, however, for the statement that grocers are accustomed to require a broader expense margin in Duluth than in other places. Not that the grocers as a whole are growing inordinately rich, but that, as they say themselves, "This is a peculiar town," or "delivery costs so much here." Whether the reasons are correctly assigned or not, it appears that it is generally understood that it costs more here to perform delivery service. It is recommended that the grocers individually and in association give special attention to reducing the cost of delivery, possibly by co-operative service.

Groceries commonly called shelf goods, or staples, do not vary much in price here from the level of other markets. Southern fruits and California fruits are on the same basis here as in other cities on the same basis of distance. Sometimes the difference is a little against Duluth, sometimes a little in its favor. We do not pay excessive prices for that sort of supplies.

Meats—What is true of farm produce is true in less degree of meats. Freight is relatively less and shrinkage in transit is hardly a consideration. But there is a freight charge against Duluth as compared with Sioux City or Omaha which could be adjusted. There is discoverable in the quotations a difference in retail price that may be charged to that unnecessary freight charge and to the tendency to work on a comparatively broad retail margin. But from the best investigation your committee has been able to make, that difference in the price of meats would never reach an average of 5 per cent and may at times be practically nil.

Rents Are High.

Rent—Rents are high in Duluth in comparision with most places that have been examined, though the tendency is to presume the difference to be greater than it always is. Real estate agents point out that people are apt to compare the price they pay here, insisting on thoroughly modern houses, with what was paid in older houses in the places from which they came. They are also inclined to compare present rents here with those established five years ago in their old home. They are apt to compare the best residence section with some quiet neighborhood with which they were perfectly satisfied in the old home.

It is also fair to remember that a house in Duluth must have foundations that are not necessary in a milder climate and that the whole scale of construction is different from what suffice in Atlanta or Seattle. Walls and windows must be double to make a comfortable winter dwelling.

Again it is fair to recognize that rents are higher in a growing town than in one that has vacant houses to spare. The place that corresponds most closely to Duluth in the scale of rents, in all that have come under the observation of this committee, is Los Angeles, where the climate requires as little as possible of the builder. If there are ever more vacant houses in Duluth than there are tenants seeking for them for any length of time rents will probably decline.

This obvious statement does not, however, sufficiently account for an apparent difference in the scale of rents between Duluth and Minneapolis, in favor of Minneapolis. For similar accommodations, the rent in Minneapolis rules lower than in Duluth. This consideration deals with dwelling occupied by the man who earns from $75 to $125 a month. People who can pay $35 a month or more for rent can find what they need. On the other hand, neither in Duluth nor anywhere else is the tenement that a day laborer can afford at all what a home ought to be. It is with a certain average that this inquiry is concerned and that in comparison with other cities.

It may be stated that rents below $20 a month with reasonable conveniences are hard to find and that the accommodations furnished at that price do not compare as well as could be wished with other cities under similar conditions.

Two lines of inquiry are suggested, which should be referred to the appropriate committees.

Building materials—Prices of lumber seem to be out of line in Duluth and the cost of building operations also. One heavy item in the cost is that of delivery, which might be reduced by employing the street railway for hauling materials during the hours when there is no passenger traffic. As to the cost of materials at the yards, some saving might be effected by co-operation of a committee from this body with the dealers and the representatives of the building trades.

Taxation—The influence of taxation on rents ought to be very carefully considered. Lately much prominence has been given to the theory that the burden of taxation should rest as lightly as possible on improvements and that the bulk of it should be borne by the land without regard to improvements. That would discourage the practice of holding land idle for speculative purposes and stimulate building which would operate to reduce rents.

The city authorities are now committed in a measure to such a program so far as it may be lawful and to changes in the lava that would allow full effect to this policy. It is not in the province of the inquiry undertaken by this committee to discuss this proposal at length. It is submitted here for further consideration.

In conclusion—Your committee recommends that the public affairs committee continue and extend its support to the efforts heretofore undertaken to increase the food supply by settlement of this country and by encouragement of better methods of marketing here which center in facilities for a public market.

That improved methods of distribution should be studied by retail interests with the hope of effecting a saving in that direction.

That efforts should be made to arrive at a better situation in regard to lumber and other materials of construction.

That the taxation policy of the city and state should be shaped to encourage investment in buildings and discourage speculation in vacant lands.

That, without attempting the difficult task to overcome, street should be laid on the undoubted advantages of Duluth, the low cost of fuel, light and water, the opportunities for comfortable provision and reasonable living if one takes advantage of the supplies in which this market excels. The abundant opportunity for employment at the highest wages, and for climatic conditions that on account of the clear, pure and bracing atmosphere and the maximum number of bright sunny days make this city of ours one of the most healthful and desirable places for permanent homes that exists on this continent.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The night for commencement exercises is drawing near and the seniors are anxiously awaiting the distribution of diplomas. Class night will be Wednesday June 15, and the commencement exercises will take place Friday, June 17.

Mr. Custance is working hard on the class night program and expects the "Annual Meeting of the High Court of Appeals of Mount Olympus" to be given in a pleasing manner.

• • •

The junior-senior debate which was to be given in chapel yesterday morning was postponed until Monday morning as many of the teachers decided plans by shortening the periods.

Mr. Phillips' physics classes did not recite yesterday on account of the absence of Mr. Phillips who was ill.

• • •

A number of the high school students enjoyed a social gathering last night at Kreiger's cabin where they held a spread. Those in the crowd were: Constance Mitchell, Beulah Maguer, Lucy Nightingale, Lois Fee, Ruth Hobbs, Evonne Roberts, Florence Wilkenson, Marion Cunningham, Alma Strand, Tom Harrison, Jack Hurdon, Ted Jones, Alastir Guthrie, John Jenswold, Harold Burgess, Kirby Black, and Harold Williams.

Prof. De Witt Clinton Sprague chaperoned the party.

The baseball team will play the Superior normal team this afternoon and expects to defeat the normalites for the second time this season. The team is not discouraged with the defeat of last Wednesday and still has a splendid chance for the winning of the championship.

• • •

The seniors received a trigonometry test yesterday afternoon. The pupils say that Friday, the 13th, is rather a bad day for a test, although they do not want to be superstitious.

• • •

The sophomore-freshmen debate will take place Monday afternoon at 2:30. The winner in this debate will debate with the winner of the upper two classes for the class championship of the school. The cup offered to the winning team has stirred up much enthusiasm.

• • •

The date for the junior-senior party has been set for Thursday, June 16. As yet the place for holding the party is in doubt but the juniors think they will be able to secure the new Masonic temple hall.

Preparations are also progressing rapidly for the senior farewell which will take place a week from next Friday.

The senior essays are due Monday with the exception of those on the negro problem which will be handed in next Friday. After the seniors have their essays handed in, their English course will be practically over.

• • •

The faculty is becoming anxious to trim the senior baseball team and the game will be played either two weeks from today or a week from next Wednesday.

• • •

Many of the girls have purchased class autograph books and it is now a common sight to see a member of the senior class writing his name and some verse in one of the books.

• • •

By the looks of the hall on the third floor the manual training enthusiasts have not been loafing. The third floor contains about fifteen pieces of beautiful furniture which are the work of the manual training students. The exhibit contains large morris chairs, library tables, etc., and the members of the faculty have warmly congratulated the workmen.

• • •

The high school choir was strengthened last week by Charles Kelly and John Scanlon. The choir was in need of more male voices and Mr. Custance is pleased with the addition of these two boys.

• • •

Mr. Sprague has decided to remain in Duluth all summer. The reason is easily discovered when it is learned that he now resides near the golf grounds.

• • •

Stanley Lamb and Roger Lerch spoke the selections in chapel Wednesday, which they rendered in Superior last night.

• • •

The students are watching with interest the construction of the new manual training school. The running track for the gymnasium is now being constructed and a large number of the boys are interested spectators of its progress, every day.

• • •

Mr. Wallace assigned a history lesson which, under ordinary circumstances would mean hard work between now and Monday for all the United States history pupils. A large number of the esays on the Panama canal, and when Mr. Wallace assigned the reading on this question for Monday a sigh of relief went up from many of the classes.

• • •

James Kelly, who was out of school last week on account of illness, returned Monday.

• • •

The seniors are planning to have a class prophecy read at the farewell banquet. Miss Beulah Magner, chairman of the committee will probably give the prophecy.

• • •

The senior class this year is the largest in the history of the school, but the number 135 seems small in comparison with the class which will enter the class next fall. There are 684 in the entering class, about 200 more than in any class which ever entered.

"OWL" CARS ARE PROMISED

Mayor Notified New Service Will Be Installed July 1.

The Duluth Street Railway company will inaugurate the much-needed "owl" street car service in Duluth beginning July 1, according to a letter received by Mayor Cullum from General Manager Herbert Warren yesterday afternoon.

Manager Warren states that he believes the night service will be a losing proposition, but explains that the requests for the late cars have been too strong and persistent to resist.

The only request made of the city is that the company be furnished proper police protection from unruly passengers who may attempt to create disorder on the late cars. There has been trouble from rowdies in the past on the late cars. Should they follow some of the tactics they have used before, there is no doubt but that the city administration will be glad to supply pelleomen to put them promptly under arrest

The new service will provide a car every hour to the western end of the city, two additional cars to Lakeside and one to Woodland. This service will be afforded by the use of two extra cars, which will alternate in making the different trips.

It is proposed to have one car run from West Duluth on the old line to Lakeside. Returning, it will make a trip to Seventy-first avenue west on the Third street line. From there it will make a trip to Woodland and return to West Duluth over the old line.

The other car will run opposite to the first. Leaving Third avenue about 2 o'clock it will go to Seventy-first avenue west; from there to Lakeside and then return to West Duluth over the old line.

Potsdam, The Royal Playground

ONE writer has called Potsdam "the Prussian Versailles," and it is certainly "the city of blood and iron," comprising, as it does, the stern, autocratic qualities of the Hohenzollerns.

To enjoy Potsdam the better, one should acquaint himself with the history of Frederick the Great before visiting the quaint neighbor of austere Berlin. It is better approached by that delightful series of narrow lakes known as the River Havel. By this route one passes Peacock Island, made famous by the rose garden planted there by Frederick William III. Voltaire, on first beholding Potsdam, exclaimed: "Potsdam is Sparta and Athens in one!"

It was in 1410 that the Hohenzollerns planted themselves at the Mark of Brandenburg. They seem to have had small use for Potsdam, for they mortgaged it again and again to abbots, knights and financiers of that day. During the Thirty Years' War Potsdam, the insignificant, suffered greatly, and save for her neighbor, Berlin, that rose so quickly to prominence, she would doubtless have dropped into oblivion. It was then that Potsdam became the "Royal Playground."

It was the Great Elector who began the town castle, which reached its completion under Frederick the Great.

One writer has called Berlin the Hohenzollerns' office and Potsdam their garden. The castle at Potsdam owes its greatness and beauty to Frederick William I. and Frederick the Great. The former discovered its utility, while the latter developed its beauty.

Some curious relics are to be seen at the town castle. Over the death bed of the Spartan king hung two pictures which were painted by the monarch's own hands and during a siege of the gout. One has but to look at these feeble efforts toward art to realize that the painter was in an abnormal state of health and mind, for they are both crude and horrible. Only one suffering from the agonies of such a malady would inflict two such atrocities on his descendants.

The rooms which were occupied by Frederick the Great in the castle have been carefully kept in exactly the same condition as when that great monarch lived there, and it is most interesting to view his bed chamber, his council chamber, his library and dining hall, looking upon the very chairs and tables which were in his daily use. In the matter of his last resting place the wish of Frederick the Great was not observed. He lies in the Garrison Church, in violation of his will. The following, pertaining to this matter, is quoted from a most interesting book, "Romantic Germany:"

"His will left directions that he be buried with his favorite dog on the terrace before Sans Souci, but his successor cruelly buried him in the church beside his cruel father. When Napoleon visited the place he bowed the knee and exclaimed: 'If this one were alive, I would not now be here!' Then he stole the Conqueror's sword, which hung above the grave. The German people have never forgiven this outrage, and by way of reparation have hung the church with mellow old standards captured from the French armies. When the first emperor placed his trophies there he exclaimed: 'God was with us. His alone is the glory.' In the royal vault one evening in 1805 Frederick William III. and Alexander I. of Russia sealed their friendship and laid the foundations of the Russo-German Alliance."

A Wildwood Study.

A CLEVER boy who loved to be out of doors, and who also loved to employ much of his time in study and miscellaneous reading, decided to build for himself a "wildwood study." When the hot days of June should arrive, this boy knew that the house would be almost unbearable, for he loved to spend his summer vacation as close to nature as possible; so he "took time by the forelock," and while the month of May was still young he began his preparations for the summer. On Saturday and on many evenings after school he might be seen very busily engaged in a beautiful woods near to the town where he lived. He was erecting a summer house. It was made of stout pine beams, firmly set up in the shape of a shanty frame. The sides were closely covered with wire netting. A roof was made of boards, closely joined together and slanting towards one side, so as to shed the rain. About the sides of the summer house was a trench, dug 10 inches deep. This was to carry off the falling rains. Just inside this trench (and close to the floor beams) were planted vines which would cover the walls as completely as its young occupant might desire. Inside the study was placed a wooden table—rough but serviceable. A wooden chair, a little table book rack, pens, pencils and writing pads would complete the furnishings when the summer days invited occupancy.

The Wildwood Study.

The woods belonged to a farmer, who kindly consented to allow the young naturalist room for his "wildwood study." And at the farmhouse, only a quarter of a mile distant, the boy could procure a pitcher of cold, refreshing buttermilk to sustain him from the morning till dinnertime, giving him the whole day in the woods, reading, studying, rambling and resting, as his mood dictated.

LESSON NO. 101—THE CLOWN'S HEAD BALANCE.

Flora's Birthday Party or, Three Boxes of Candy.

BY FLORENCE DAVIS.

"NO, I just don't want a party at all unless I can have three one-pound boxes of candy." And Flora tapped her little foot impatiently on the floor as she sat uncomfortably perched on the arm of a big library chair.

"But, Sister," protested Agnes, Flora's elder sister, "don't you know that mamma hasn't the spare money just now to give you for so much candy? There has been such an outlay already on our spring clothes, and mamma hasn't yet gotten half the things she needs. And when we talked over having the little party for you on your birthday mamma said you should have taffy—that you girls should make it yourselves. And that would be just heaps of fun, you know."

But Flora still pouted and looked dissatisfied. "No," she declared, "I don't want a taffy pulling. It is old-fashioned and cheap. I want three boxes of fine candy, just like Stella May had at her party last week. There were nine of us girls and the three boxes supplied plenty and some was left over. I shall have the same crowd of girls, and I don't want to give them plain molasses taffy. I'd rather not have the party at all than to have it cheap and common."

"But taffy isn't cheap or common," explained Agnes patiently.

"Yes it is," protested Flora.

Just at that moment the girls' mother entered the room. She caught the last few words of her daughters' conversation and asked what it was about.

"Why, mamma," explained Agnes, "Flora says she doesn't want taffy at her party tomorrow night. She thinks it looks cheap and old-fashioned. In vain I have tried to make her see that it will be awfully nice to have a taffy pulling. She insists on having three one-pound boxes of fine candy, like Stella May had at her party last week."

"Well, Flora, dear, if the success of your party depends on your having the fine candy from the confectioner's you shall have it," promised the little mother. And she went to her room and got her purse, from which she took some money and gave to Flora. "There is the amount, dearies," she said. "And perhaps you'd better run along and get it now, and then everything will be supplied for the party."

"Oh, thank you, mamma," exclaimed Flora, jumping up and hugging her mother about her neck. "You are a dear, generous mother. Yes, I'll run along and get the candy at once, I'll be so happy to know it is on the shelf in the pantry, all ready for my party." And Flora ran off to get her hat and jacket.

The next morning all was bustle in the kitchen, for Mrs. Dean (Agnes' and Flora's mother) was anxious to have the party pass off in a most happy manner. She and the maid-of-all-work were busy preparing a delicious salad, baking a fine chocolate cake, making sandwiches and preparing the lemon juice and sugar syrup for nectar. And Flora was flitting hither and thither, as happy as could be. Agnes was also busily employed about the rooms, decorating the mantels and tables with great clusters of lovely flowers, picked from their own garden. The party was to be a small one, including only nine little girls; but the preparations were as carefully carried out as though there were to be three times that number of guests.

In the evening Flora and Agnes went up town on an errand. As they were hurrying along, Mrs. Grey, a warm friend of their mother's, called to them from her porch: "Say, girls, tell your mother I have a ticket for her to attend the matinee with me Saturday afternoon this week. Tell her to keep that afternoon for me, sure. She will enjoy the play immensely, for it is an Ibsen drama."

Agnes and Flora thanked Mrs. Grey heartily and assured her that their mother would be most happy to avail herself of the opportunity to attend the matinee, and that she would doubtless phone her that evening of her acceptance. Then, as they hurried on to perform their errand, Agnes said: "I'm so glad mamma is going to the matinee this week. She goes out so seldom and is always so eager to give us pleasures at any cost to herself."

"Yes, so am I glad," said Flora. And she remembered her little mother's quick consent for her to have the three boxes of candy, which cost 75 cents a box.

When the girls reached home they told their mother about Mrs. Grey's invitation for the matinee, but to their surprise and disappointment their mother declared that it would be impossible for her to accept it. A little later, and when Flora had left the room, Mrs. Dean explained to Agnes the reason why she could not accompany Mrs. Grey to the matinee that week. "You see, dearie," she said, "I had just enough money out of my month's allowance to get myself a new hat, but I gave Flora two dollars and a quarter to buy the three boxes of candy for her party. I shall now have to wait till my next month's allowance comes in, for Papa's business expenses are very large this month, and I cannot ask him to increase my allowance."

Now, when Mrs. Dean confided this to her elder daughter she did not know that her younger daughter was just about to enter the room, and that her words had caused her to stop and listen. Then, overhearing what the little mother said, Flora ran to the pantry, reached to a shelf and took down the three boxes of fine candy—still wrapped just as the confectioner had wrapped them for her—and hurried uptown with them tucked under her arm. She went to the confectioner's shop and asked the dealer if he would refund the money on the candy, explaining that she needed the money for something very much more important than bon-bons. The confectioner, knowing Flora very well, did not ask a single question, but took the boxes of candy, replaced them on the shelf, and from the money drawer took the amount they had cost and handed it to Flora.

Mrs. Dean and Agnes were still in the library, chatting when Flora came running in. She went directly to her mother, and flinging her arms about her neck, cried: "You are the dearest and sweetest mamma in the world, and I have been a very selfish girl. But you shall not sacrifice yourself for me any longer. Here—this is the money you gave me to buy candy with. I'd rather have taffy, after all. And—now you can have your new hat, and go with Mrs. Grey to the matinee."

It took a few words of explanation before Mrs. Dean and Agnes quite understood what Flora was talking so excitedly about, and how she happened to have the money in her hands, since they had both seen the three boxes of candy on the pantry shelf.

But soon everything was clear, and Mrs. Dean stroked her little daughter's hair gently as she said: "Thank you, dearie; thank you so sincerely. Mother knows just how you feel in the matter, and shall take the money and get the new hat, for that will afford you much more joy than the candy could have done. But, darling, neither you nor mother have made a sacrifice. I gave to you because it afforded me more pleasure to make you happy at your party than to have the new hat, and you, in turn, gave to me through your deep love. You want mother to enjoy the matinee, and mother wanted you to enjoy your party. We have won together, haven't we?"

"Yes, mamma, for you are to have the hat and the matinee, and I am to have the party. And as for the candy—well, it will be just as nice to have taffy, after all. And it will be something new, too, for none of the girls have had a taffy-pulling yet."

And the party did go off beautifully, and each little guest declared she had never before enjoyed a party so much, for the taffy-making and taffy-pulling gave just the "finishing touch," as they declared, to the evening. And after the guests had departed, Agnes, Flora and the little mother sat talking it over. "Oh, wasn't it great fun?" asked Flora, "And just to think—the molasses cost only twenty cents, and the candy in the boxes would have cost two dollars and a quarter. And the taffy was such fun in making and pulling, and the box-candy could only have made us a bit ill eating it, for it was so rich and heavy."

"Yes, and there would have been no jolly exercise on the back porch pulling taffy had you indulged in the box candy," said Agnes.

"And mamma, dear, would have had to wait for her new hat," said Flora. Whereupon tears came into Mrs. Dean's eyes and she declared fervently that two such girls as her daughters never lived before.

"I'd rather not have the party at all than to have it cheap and common."

Old Blue-Bottle Fly.

BUZZ, buzz, buzz!
Old Blue-Bottle Fly!
You never do laugh,
You never do cry.

But all day long
On the window pane,
You buzz, buzz, buzz;
And then buzz again!

If out of the house
I try to drive you,
By shaking a cloth,
Then what do you do?

Why, you buzz, buzz, buzz!
With might and with main,
And when my head's turned
You come back again.

So, it's buzz, buzz, buzz!
The long spring day;
And I guess you will buzz
The summer away.

The Jamaica Firefly.

THE Jamaica firefly, a species of insect over an inch in length, emits a very brilliant light, which comes from the sides of the head and beneath the thorax. The light is a fluctuating one and not the steady glow of the glow worm. A very remarkable fact is that this fluctuating or pulsating light may continue after the death of the insect. If it is supposed that the light of the living insect is due to oxygen supplied under its control to the luminous matter, a conclusion may be reached to the effect that after death the oxygen of the air might obtain access to it and produce a like effect. It is difficult, however, to account for the pulsations in the light of the dead firefly.

Plain Pete Becomes a Hero: Story of a Western Prairie Fire.

BY MAUD WALKER.

PETER ANDERSON was the son of a poor farmer. Indeed, every one in the county where Peter lived was poor. So to be poor was not in itself a disgrace in that part of the world, nor did it set men apart from their fellows. All fought the same hard fight in a new country where rain was scarce and crops were few. And all were possessed of rare courage and splendid hope.

Nature had done so little for Peter Anderson. It had crowned his huge head with brilliant red hair. It had covered his face with brown freckles. It had endowed him with large feet and hands—both being exposed to sun and air and the view of all whose eyes fell upon Peter, for shoes were only to be worn in the severest winter weather, and gloves not at all. The latter were for "society folks" and "fair ladies." And Peter's manners were not as refined or easy as were the manners of boys who had mothers or grandmothers to instruct them in such things. Peter knew no refined feminine influence. His grandmothers had died before his birth. His mother had departed this life when Peter was a tot of three. So, from infancy Peter's sole teacher and daily companion at home had been his good-natured, well-meaning but uneducated father, a poor farmer on the Western Plains.

During four or six months of each year Peter went to the little district school two miles from his home. The school was taught by a young man who did not bother himself about the general deportment of his pupils. They could learn "finery" at home, he said. And the boys who had mothers did learn "finery" at home, which meant to remove their hats or caps on entering a house; to talk quietly and to laugh moderately; to ask few questions, and to avoid being rude or bold toward others; to use knife and fork properly and many other ways to follow certain rules of etiquette.

And Peter Anderson, having none of this training, soon became known as "Plain Pete." Both in manner and appearance Peter was most unprepossessing. And often his comrades at school made jests at his expense.

When joked concerning his huge hands and feet and long sinewy arms he would laugh broadly and declare: "But my fists an' arms an' laigs air powerful stout, boys. I kin handle half a dozen of you fellows at once. You all live on pie an' white bread. I live on corn dodger an' buttermilk. I'm not purty to look at, but——" And Peter would double up his fists and straighten out his muscular arms, showing his strength. "Golly! I could most lift a hoss," he said one day.

When the spring opened, and the ground was ready for tilling, the country school was closed for the season. The boys were needed on the farms, and could not spare the time to attend school. So Peter—or "Plain Pete" as the women and girls of the community called him—was once more alone with his father on the farm, and rarely did they go to visit the neighbors during the work-year. "The bosses are too tired to go a-visiting of a Sunday," old Mr. Anderson would say when invited by some of the neighbors to "come over on Sunday an' fetch Pete an' stay to dinner. The wife is goin' to kill a rooster an' there'll be some eatin'."

But all this homely routine of Pete's life has little or nothing to do with my story of how he became a hero. It happened in this way: During the spring, and following the first rains, the dry grass of the prairie becomes like tinder under the hot April and May suns. And then it is that the property and life is menaced on the plains by the fierce prairie fires that break out now and again, sweeping like a whirlwind everything before them. It is the custom on the frontier to prepare "fire-breaks," and it is a lazy farmer who neglects to provide his family and property with such protection. On the farm adjoining that of the Andersons was a poor farmer who had been ill during the spring, and who had not been able to plow his "fire-breaks." With him lived his aged mother, who was very frail, being unable to walk any great distance. On a beautiful, though windy, morning in early May the man, whose name was Jones, started to town on a matter of business. Just before hitching his horses to the big farm wagon he remarked to his mother: "Next week I must plow some 'fire-breaks.' Dickinson county was swept by a terrible fire a few days ago. Anderson told me about it as he passed here this morning on his way to town. He offered to come over and plow mine for me, but as I'm on the mend now, I will be able to do it myself in a few days."

"Yes, it is dangerous to have no 'fire-breaks,'" replied the aged Mrs. Jones. "You must attend to the matter as soon as you can, son."

After Mr. Jones had departed for town his mother returned to the little sod shanty to wash up the breakfast things. She was in the midst of her morning's work when suddenly a strange odor came to her on the wind. She dropped the work and went to the door, sniffing the atmosphere. A shudder went through her old body, for it was burning grass that she smelt. And far to the west hung a low line of blue-black haze, to the frontier people a sign of the fire which is coming.

Fear seized the aged woman, for she had no place of safety. There was one field broken, but it was only a five-acre patch, with grass and stubble fields all about it. To try to live on that spot in the midst of the smoke and fire would be out of the question. And she could not walk to the neighbors, her frail strength would not endure it. Her son had been gone over an hour, and as he was traveling from the source of the fire, doubtless would not become conscious of it till he had reached town. And he could not drive home in time to save her, for if the fire were on its way down the valley toward her home, it would reach there before another hour.

"Oh, what shall I do?" she asked herself. "What is to become of me?" She got together a few valuables, wrapped them in an old shawl, preparatory to leaving the house. If the worst came, she would attempt the five-acre field of plowed ground. And by all hazards she must preserve her son's valuable papers, his tax receipts and a note for $50. Besides, there was his Sunday suit of black, and her own black silk dress with the white lace collar, one she had worn for ten years. All these things she made into a bundle with the intention of burying them in the plowed field.

While she was thus busying herself, and trembling in every limb (but praying to her God, in whom she trusted), a voice spoke to her suddenly from the doorway. "Mrs. Jones, a fire's comin'. Here, get ready quick an' come with me."

Mrs. Jones turned to see "Plain Pete" standing at the door, his freckled face serious, but brave. "Come, don't waste a moment," he urged.

"But where am I to go?" asked the old woman. "Have you a wagon here? You see, my son John went to town this——"

"I know—I saw him drivin' over the long hill," interrupted Pete. "Dad has gone to town, too, so we're without hosses or wagon. I'll have to be both for you, Mrs. Jones. Here—don't stop to talk. Smell that smoke? Golly! We've get no time to fool away! Come, git on my back. I'll hold my arms behind me to make a saddle. You'll set safe enough. You're not bigger'n a gal of 12. You're so spare. Come—or we'll be too late. Golly! I can smell the smoke and see cinders flyin'!"

For a few moments the old woman was uncertain about trying to ride into safety on Plain Pete's broad, strong back, but fear of the coming fire, and trusting the strength of the big boy, she soon complied with his orders and was on his back, hanging about his neck with her trembling old arms. She did not weigh more than 90 pounds, for as Pete had said, she was "spare" to emaciation.

"Now, is this to go along?" asked Pete, grabbing up the bundle.

"Oh, yes, if you don't mind," said the old lady. And she hung it over one arm. Then off set Pete, not stopping to close the door of the shanty. "It's all the same to the fire, whether the door's open or not," he said philosophically. "It don't stop to knock anyway. An' Mrs. Jones, I reckon it's good-by to that ole house forever. That fire's coming pell-mell down the valley, and this place is in its path; the wind's helping it, too."

As Pete talked he ran across the prairie, not going out of his way to gain the road. On and on he went, his strong, large feet as sure as those of a deer. And the sinewy arms held the trembling, frail old form on his back. Otherwise the poor old woman would have fallen off.

The run between the farms of Anderson and Jones was one and a half miles, and Pete had the advantage of the fire, as he was going east, the direction the fire was traveling. So he had that much in his favor. But twice he was obliged to slacken his pace, for the burden on his back became very heavy, and once he feared he might be unable to get through. But pulling all his young strength together, and making a vow to reach his own home in safety, with the dear old woman on his back, he managed to gain the dooryard just as the fire behind him was entering the Jones shanty, eating up the furniture and clothing therein.

A few hours after the fire had passed over and had died from want of more fuel, Mr. Jones and Mr. Anderson were seated in the house of the latter, while old Mrs. Jones lay half exhausted on the bed. Pete was down about the horse lot, feeding the stock. He had gone to the public road to meet Mr. Jones and to tell him that his mother was safe at his own house. But not a word did he tell of his part in saving the dear old lady. And when the son got the story from his mother's lips he broke down and wept like a child. "He's one of them fellers you call a hero," he sobbed. "An' to think folks call him 'Plain Pete.' Gosh! He's the handsomest feller in the world."

"That he is," said Grandmother Jones from the bed. "He's more'n a hero. He's a saint on earth. He run the risk of bein' burned alive just to save an old woman. May God bless him."

"Amen," said Pete's father in a low voice. "I always knowed my boy was no common dirt. An' so all the folks will find out now."

And all the folks did find it out, too, and Plain Pete became the hero of the community, and even the young girls began to think him "the handsomest feller in the county."

"Mrs. Jones, a fire's comin'. Here, get ready quick an' come with me."

My first is a seat,
As all people know;
You see it almost
Every place that you go;

My second's a creature
We all often see,
He's a friend to you,
He's a friend to me;
And he helps to make
This world a success;
But I'll tell you no more
Or you'll surely guess.
My two joined together
Make an officer grand;
And he calls you to order
With gavel in hand;
He holds forth in public
All over the land.

THE supreme court of the United States, which is just now very much in the minds of the people, owing to the important questions pending before it and the shifting personnel of the bench, is said to be the most dignified body in the world. It is looked up to by young and old alike as the bulwark of the republic and, perhaps, there has grown in the public imagination an exaggerated idea that the members of the court are something more than mere human beings.

As a matter of fact, it can be said without fear of contradiction that while the members of the supreme court are always intent upon upholding the dignity of their official office and upon rendering equal and exact justice to all applicants for legal relief, no more human men control the destinies of the nation and of each individual citizen in it than the present occupants of the supreme court bench of the United States. In private life they have their fads and fancies, the same as other men, and as exponents of refined wit and humor they can more than hold their own. Some of the stories told of present members of the court serve well to illustrate the fact that while on the bench they may temper justice with mercy" they have little "mercy" on those who cross their paths outside of the court room. Nevertheless, the justices are not prone to advertise their ability at repartee, and the fact that few of them rarely ever appear on public occasions, except officially, makes supreme court anecdotes a rare jewel among those who relish bon mots.

The Justice of Many Stories.

More stories are told about Associate Justice John M. Harlan, the oldest sitting member in point of service, than about all the rest of the court put together. He is recognized in Washington as one of the most human men in public life today.

Back in 1877, or six years before he took a seat on the supreme bench, Justice Harlan was at the zenith of his political power in Kentucky. He had been mentioned for bravery at the battle of Mill Springs, Kentucky, which effectually wrested that state from the Confederacy, more than ten years before, and had also served the state as attorney general. In that year he was nominated for governor by the Republicans of the state against J. B. McCreary, since senator, who was his great personal friend, although of opposite political faith. The pair stumped the state together, speaking from the same platform and traveling in the same conveyances.

One night they reached a mountain hamlet on mule back to find all the beds in the local hotel occupied, save one. It was therefore necessary that the two rivals should sleep together. McCreary was a man of average size, while Justice Harlan is a man of gigantic stature. McCreary was first to bed. As Harlan blew out the light and lay down beside his rival he remarked:

"Mac, the next governor of Kentucky is certainly going to be in this bed tonight."

Just then the slats of the rickety structure gave way and Justice Harlan fell on his head on the floor, while McCreary went down in the midst of the wreck, the collapse of the head and foot boards adding to the general hubbub. No sooner had Mr. Harlan regained his senses, however, than he heard McCreary say from the pile of bed clothes and timber:

"You are right, judge. The next governor of Kentucky is still in bed."

Some of the best stories on Justice Harlan had their origin on the golf course. On one occasion he was playing with a friend who, driving off from the home tee, hit a cow in the mouth with the ball. To his great alarm the ball failed to reappear and the friend undertook to make the cow disgorge by pounding it on his back with his driver. The cow, not understanding this treatment, took to its heels across the course and finally dropped the ball on the edge of the green of the hole toward which it was being played. By an extraordinarily good put Justice Harlan's opponent holed the ball and calmly awaited the approach of his rival. Justice Harlan finally holed his ball when his friend remarked:

"Well, Judge, how many strokes did you take?"

"I took eight," replied Mr. Harlan.

"Well, I made it in two," said his friend.

"You mean thirty-two," replied the Kentuckian.

"How's that?" asked his rival.

"I counted one for every belt you gave that cow," was the reply.

Justice Harlan's One Great Hobby.

If Justice Harlan has any one hobby it is Kentucky and all it contains. It is said in Washington that no Kentuckian can ask Justice Harlan for an indorsement for any office without getting it. At the present time Governor A. E. Willson of Kentucky is the apple of Mr. Harlan's eye and nothing would please the justice better than that the governor should succeed him upon the supreme court bench. Incidentally, Justice Harlan is partial to Kentucky "institutions."

While riding down from the capitol one day he had his cogitations interrupted when a woman got on the car at Center Market. She wore a heavy coat with large open sleeves in which a small valise might easily have been hidden. Passengers on the car noticed Justice Harlan sniffing the air with great gusto. Finally, bending forward, he was seen to look up the woman's sleeve nearest him.

"Madam, is that mint?" he was heard to say.

The woman, recognizing the justice, replied that it was.

"If I had it, I know just what I would do with it," said the justice, smiling to himself.

No sooner had this remark been made than the woman took a large bunch of mint from her sleeve and divided it in two equal parts, one of which she handed to the justice. Mr. Harlan was observed to accept the proffered gift with thanks. He put it in his overcoat pocket and, reaching behind him, rang the bell to stop the car, and left it at the next corner.

Another friend of the justice's sent him a case of fine old Kentucky bourbon. Mr. Harlan did not see the friend again until he went to church the following Sunday. After church he hailed the donor with "That was fine—" Then, seeming to realize where he was, Justice Harlan added, hastily, "the sermon, I mean."

It is said that Justice Harlan has a strong fear of death. Whether the fear actually exists or not it nevertheless afforded the late Justice Peckham, who was a Democrat, an opportunity to open a conversation along this line with his colleague.

"Why is it Harlan," he said one day, "that you, who are such a good Presbyterian, have such a horror of death?"

Justice Harlan looked at him critically for a moment and replied:

"To tell you the truth, Peckham, I am afraid I might land in the Democratic headquarters after I pass over the river."

"Humph!" was the only reply vouchsafed by Justice Peckham.

Justice Harlan has served on the supreme bench longer than any other man, save only John Marshall, J. Story, and S. J. Field. He is said to be one of the few members of the supreme court who brought a host of friends with him to Washington to back up his application for a job. Both he and Justice Fuller are shining examples of the longevity of those who sit upon the supreme bench.

How the Chief Justice Fooled a Lawyer.

Chief Justice Fuller, who in many ways is the direct antithesis of Justice Harlan, has no particular liking for doing things which attract public attention outside of his decisions from the bench. He likes quiet dinners where the conversation is of the solid and profound type, and in such gatherings he is a conspicuous personage. Incidentally he has scruples about working on the Sabbath day, and it is recorded that on one occasion where it was absolutely necessary that the proof of a decision should be ready for the Monday morning session of the court, he turned it over to his secretary to read.

A year ago, the chief justice fooled a Washington lawyer who had been in the habit of playing the stock market on supreme court decisions, and he did it in such a neat manner that even the court attaches have not yet been able to figure out whether the justice knew what was going on or not. They presume, however, that Chief Justice Fuller was using his eyes to a good purpose, and deliberately blocked the game.

When the consolidated gas case from New York city was decided in favor of the people at a previous sitting of the court, habitues of the courtroom noticed the lawyer in question rush to a telephone, and he was overheard ordering his brokers to sell 1,000 shares of gas stock for him at once. The result of the deal was a net profit to the lawyer of $17,000. The next day everybody about the courtroom knew of the speculation and its outcome.

A few days later the gas company filed a petition for a rehearing. The lawyer, being well acquainted with the decisions of the court, recalled one relating to a Southern water company which seemed to be on all fours with the gas case. To make certain he was right, however, he attended court, intending to use the telephone again if the court decided as he thought it would. He listened all day without hearing a word. As he left the courtroom late in the afternoon, when the stock market had closed, he heard that the petition had been denied; but the announcement, instead of being made from the bench, had been handed to the chief clerk by Chief Justice Fuller, and the former had carefully summoned the newspaper men to his private office and given them the information to be sent to the newspapers. What the lawyer said about the coup would not look well in print.

Although the fact is not generally known, it is nevertheless true that it was Chief Justice Fuller who put a stop to the Roosevelt propoganda for phonetic spelling so far as his co-ordinate branch of the government was concerned. One day, Solicitor General Henry M. Hoyt made the opening argument to the supreme court in a land case. By the order of President Roosevelt, documents printed for the executive departments were spelled phonetically. On this occasion, Chief Justice Fuller happened to pick up the brief in the case which had been sent from the department of justice to the government printing office. The first thing that struck his eye was a reported liberal quotation from a decision of the late Justice Bradley in which the word "through" had been spelled "thru."

"Do I understand you to say that this purports to be a literal quotation from the opinion of Justice Bradley?" said Chief Justice Fuller sarcastically, to Mr. Hoyt who caught the burden of Justice Fuller's objection without further ado, and promised that the "mistake" would not be repeated again.

Shortly afterward, the house of representatives plucked up the courage to vote down phonetic spelling in the legislative branch of the government and thereafter President Roosevelt, although sticking to it himself, permitted his subordinates to spell as they pleased.

Vigorous Justice Holmes.

Of the two New England members of the court, Justices Moody and Holmes, it is said of the latter that he has taken his father's brilliant career so much to heart he has made himself pretty much unlike his sire in looks and in the polish of his manners Close friends of Justice Holmes are authority for the statement that whenever he says anything in public of extraordinary wit or humor, an expression passes over his face which seems to say: "Gee whiz, that sounds too much like father. I must not do that again."

Nevertheless, Mr. Holmes is perhaps the freest and easiest talker from the bench of any of his colleagues; and he is noted as a most vigorous talker in private conversation when he is on a subject in which he is deeply interested.

Not long ago an artist of national repute who was painting his picture happened to tell Justice Holmes that a friend had lost his wife shortly after the birth of their child and that the wife's parents insisted that the baby should be turned over to their care to raise.

"I would see them in hell first," Justice Holmes is reported to have said. The artist, noting the presence of Mrs. Holmes in the room, turned to her with a shocked expression on his face, as though he expected to hear a gentle rebuke from that quarter.

"So would I," demurely replied Mrs. Holmes, showing the greatest possible faith in the decision of her husband.

The pages of the senate have great respect for Mr. Holmes.

"When Justice White turns loose," remarked one of them recently, "I do not mind him much. But when Justice Holmes gives me a broadside he talks as though he meant it."

President Roosevelt appointed three members of the supreme court, Justices Day, Holmes and Moody. When he appointed Mr. Moody, he said to a group of newspaper men at the White House:

"I have been to bat three times on this supreme court justice-ship business, and have struck out twice."

Justice Moody and the Society Women.

When Mr. Moody, bachelor, was sworn in as member of the court, more women of the society set of Washington witnessed the ceremony than have ever before graced the chambers of the supreme court on a similar occasion When his oath of office was read to him, one of the ladies noticed that his credentials said that he "was appointed during good behavior." Turning to Representative Gillette of Massachusetts, one of Mr. Moody's bosom friends, she remarked:

"Why, I thought he was appointed for life."

As secretary of the navy under President Roosevelt, Justice Moody was one of the few civilians to hold that office and his dinner at the same time. Only once during his career did he become seasick. On that occasion he started from Charleston on the Dolphin and stuck it out until midnight. He finally sent for the captain and told him to put him ashore. The ship was turned into Beaufort harbor and Mr. Moody came home by a train.

In Washington Mr. Moody, who is now in Massachusetts fighting rheumatism, has kept bachelor quarters for many years with Representative Gillette of Massachusetts, and Brig. Gen. William Crozier. While on a visit to Annapolis with Senator Hale of Maine on one occasion, Mr. Moody, then secretary of the navy, was thrown out of his carriage when the horses ran away and was severely shaken up. When he had reached the stage of convalescence, President Roosevelt called upon him at his apartment one night to see how he was. Mr. Moody was engaged in a social game of cards in a back room.

"Is the secretary in?" inqired President Roosevelt.

"He is, but he cannot see anyone," said the butler.

"Tell him the president has called to see him," said Mr. Roosevelt.

"President of what?" was the retort.

Mr. Moody, recognizing the voice of the president, prevented the situation from getting worse by shouting to Mr. Roosevelt to come in.

Like most bachelors, Mr. Moody has always been a reader until the "wee sma'" hours of the night. He is especially strong on the history of English law, which underlies the American code. He has read history and law together until he is thoroughly familiar with the circumstances leading up to most laws now in the statute books. While attorney general of the United States he found his work so confining that he had to take to horseback riding to keep in good physical condition. Every afternoon at 4 o'clock he was heard to say: "I suppose I have to go out on that blamed horse." After starting, however, he thoroughly enjoyed the exercise.

Not infrequently Mr. Moody has been mistaken for President Roosevelt and on the latter's political trip of speech-making through the West in 1903, Mr. Moody made a number of speeches from the back platform of the train which left his auditors in doubt as to whether they had heard President Roosevelt or somebody else. It has been said that Justice Moody would have made a good actor. He has a highly artistic temperament, and as an orator possessed the essential quality of personal magnetism.

The Court's Real Baseball "Crank."

Mr. Justice Day, President Roosevelts' first selection for the supreme court, is the baseball "fan" par excellence of the court. While Justices White and McKenna never miss a game if they can help it, Justice Day is a real baseball "crank." He knows as much about the rules of the game as he does about the rules of the supreme court itself, and he knows practically all the players in the big league clubs, not only by name and reputation, but by sight. When the schedule of the supreme court comes into conflict with the schedule of the Washington ball team, Justice Day attends the performance of the former under dire protest. If he can possibly arrange to get away, he will shed his judicial robes without further ado, and hie himself away to a grand stand seat where he can pass judgment on the chasers of the baseball, rather than on the merits of arguments of lawyers engaged in shadowing the constitution.

Physically, Justice Day, who is a small man, has fooled a lot of the oldtimers in Washington, who have been expecting to see him die every time they have looked at him. Even as far back as 1898 the late Senator George Frisbie Hoar of Massachusetts, said, when he heard of Mr. Day's appointment as secretary of state: "If his health lasts, he will do." Since that time, Mr. Day has gone cheerfully on through a successful career as secretary of state, as chairman of the commission which negotiated the treaty of peace with Spain, and as associate justice of the supreme court, which latter position he has held seven years.

The other two "fans" of the bench are the only members of the court who who belong to the Catholic church. Throughout his career, Justice McKenna has been noted for his courteous yet somewhat "stiff" manners. He is always the perfect gentleman, and his one vice—if it can be called that—is his fondness for the great national game. He has been singularly free of leaving a trail of anecdotes along his official career. The one story that is told of him in Washington is that when he was serving as attorney general for President McKinley he took special pains not to be interrupted when at work at his desk. On one occasion, a former attorney-general called on him and, running the gauntlet of secretaries and messengers, succeeded in getting unannounced into the presence of Mr. McKenna. The man's presence was not so astounding to Mr. McKenna as the fact that he was on hand without being duly heralded.

"How in the dickens did you get in here?" was Mr. McKenna's greeting to his caller.

Justice McKenna is the greatest sufferer from the tremendous amount of reading that the justices of the supreme court have to do. Within very recent years he has had to wear a shield for his eyes when sitting on the bench, and this is even more useful to him after the court adjourns, when he takes up the legal briefs and law books for a minute study of the case.

Justice McKenna, when a boy, was in congress, became a close friend of William McKinley, and it has long been understood in Washington that the "McK's," like Damon and Pythias, linked their fortunes together and agreed to look out for each other as they progressed in public life. Whether this story, illustrative of the justice's humanness, is entirely correct or not, the fact remains that President McKinley made Judge McKenna his attorney-general and a year later appointed him on the supreme court bench.

Justice White is the one member of the court who delivers his opinions offhand. He possesses this faculty to such a degree as to excite the admiration of the entire legal fraternity. It is a common occurrence for the justice to review the most complicated kind of a law-suit for fifteen or twenty minutes extemporaneously, and then to connect the main points in the case with the decision of the court in such a lucid manner as to be thoroughly convincing. In fact, the extemporaneously announced decisions of Justice White sound more convincing when delivered than those read by the other justices. In a somewhat lesser degree, Justice Holmes has this same faculty.

Genial Justice Lurton.

Washington's present ideas of the humanness of Justice Lurton are based on the fact that he is exceedingly genial and approachable. Otherwise, he has not been in the national capital quite long enough for the public to get a familiar "line" on him, so to speak.

But as for the justice he succeeded, the late David J. Brewer, any Washingtonian can tell you that Mr. Brewer could hold his own in repartee with any one. One day, when Chief Justice Fuller, who always takes great pride in speaking for his home city of Chicago, had said: "There are more Jews in Chicago than in Jerusalem; more Irish than in any Irish city; more French than in any French city except Paris; and more Germans than in any German city except Berlin," Justice Brewer quietly added: "And more saints and sinners than anywhere else except heaven and hell."

It is at the lunch hour of the supreme court, which is passed by the justices behind closed doors, where each is served by his own body servant, that these men who lay down the law for the republic undoubtedly show their human sides to one another in interesting profusion. And it is probably the fact that if the general public could get a glimpse of the supreme court of the United States at its midday meal, the idea that the court is made up of something more than mere human beings would instantly be relegated to the limbo of outworn superstitions.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN TURKEY

Under the Young Turks the American Missionaries Have Started Campaigns Against Typhoid and Tuberculosis.

By EMILY RAY GREGORY, Ph. D.,
Professor of Biology, American College of Girls, Constantinople.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

Since the Young Turks have come into power we have had four hygienic lectures, something never possible before, and we feel that the public health work so sorely needed, is now fairly under way.

In the first place I must tell you of the local difficulties to be surmounted. Among the old Turks, ladies and gentlemen never attended a public gathering, not even church, at the same time, and it would have created a great scandal if any idea should get about that our students, among whom there are thirty Turkish girls, should be present at a gathering to which gentlemen, especially Turkish gentlemen, are invited. Although there is somewhat more freedom among the young Turks, we could run no risks of that nature. Fortunately, the hall we use does not belong directly to the college, and though situated by our entrance gate, is entirely separate from our buildings, so that there is no need of any student being seen by those attending the lectures.

The lecture on the cause and prevention of typhoid fever, was given by Dr. Kadri Raschid Pasha, an eminent young physician trained in Paris. The audience listened intently and appeared greatly interested. After the lecture sets of rules to avoid typhoid fever were distributed.

The next lecture, to which only ladies were invited, was on the hygiene and food of children. At least 100 Turkish ladies and our Turkish girls came, and all listened eagerly to a long and able lecture by the same Dr. Kadri Raschid Pasha. Most of the ladies stayed and had tea with us. A negro attendant and a eunuch were characteristic additions. The ladies wore their tcharshafs but with raised veils.

The interest shown in the lectures was much greater than I had dared count on. Several thanked us before they went away. One lady, belonging to a very high family and the mother of one of our students, spoke of the value and importance of such lectures for our young women.

On March 11, we had a lecture on contagious diseases of children, by Dr. Suleiman Nouman Pasha, a specialist who studied in Germany and France.

On March 18, we had a lecture by Dr. Aakil Mouktar Bey on tuberculosis and its prevention, and we had leaflets on how to cure and prevent tuberculosis distributed after the lecture. Dr. Aakil Mouktar Bey has been back in Constantinople about a year, following extended studies chiefly in Paris.

Next Friday we shall have a lecture by another prominent physician, Dr. Assaf Devrish, on the education of girls from the standpoint of physiology and hygiene, and another on April 8, on the sanitary care of the house, by Dr. Aakil Mouktar Bey. Dr. Riza Teufik Bey, a prominent Turkish statesman, and Dr. Djenab Chehabbedin, the president of the imperial health commission, have each promised us a lecture.

An American school in Stamboul is now going to have a lecture on tuberculosis and we are supplying it with tuberculosis leaflets. Our students tell me they think that if we can have lectures in Stamboul and Pera even larger numbers will attend.

All the discouraging forecasts of old residents have been disproved. On the contrary, the audiences have given their grateful support, and the eminent physicians whom we have asked to lecture for us, although driven by professional work and their duties on the medical staff of the university, have, without exception, given their time and ability freely and thanked us for our efforts for the people. What more can we ask?

If there were means for a small but competent office staff for the necessary business and a well conducted exhibit, I believe the movement would grow here as fast as in New York, and that it would receive financial help. But after thirty years of the misrule and depredations of Abdul Hamid, the people are not in a position to give largely, however interested they may be, and one can scarcely expect the foreign population to be very generous, though self-interest should lead them to it. My experience so far leads me to think that at least for some time a general hygiene campaign will be more effective than to try to concentrate on tuberculosis, and it is, as you see, desirable.

I have not yet become indifferent to the expectorations of consumptives on boats and cars and streets or indifferent to the knowledge that variaioid probably meets me every time I go to town and that the water is infected with typhoid germs, nor have I become indifferent to the possibility of danger from the garbage and filth thrown in the streets and heaped on the piers near the boat landings, to be passed and repassed before it is thrown into the Bosphorus where thousands of gulls indicate the disposal of the last boat load.

But this must not be interpreted as an adverse criticism of the present government. They are struggling bravely with tremendous problems, weighed down with a heavy debt which they must increase in order to accomplish anything. In fact, they not only "accomplish the impossible" in securing a constitution, but they must continue to do the impossible for a generation to come. Think of our having to cut out all advice to go to a hospital in how to cure a consumptive, because there is no suitable hospital to go to, and a physician told me of having visited the tuberculosis ward in one of the hospitals (not Turkish) here this winter, and finding "everything" inside but the windows all closed!

Vital political problems which are before the empire naturally engross the attention, but as we foreigners see the difficulties the young Turks have to meet on account of the national prejudices of the different races and the mediaeval attitude of the deputies from the interior, we cannot but feel that to arouse interest in such a vital problem as this is for the empire, and one which is neither political nor religious, but in which all the nationalities must work together for their common good, would very quickly lessen the political friction, and advance the common understanding essential to wise legislative action.

TIP FOR TIP.

New York Sun: It pays to tip. If the waiter knows his business the customer who keeps close to the 10 per cent rule not only gets better attention in general but is likely to find some straight tips which will assist in his business of dining.

For several years a somewhat systematic man has patronized a restaurant which has given him general satisfaction. In all this time he has used the same table at the back of a mirrored column and for the greater part of the time the same waiter has attended to his wants. In fact between the man who wears the napkin over his arm and the man who wears it over his knee relations of no little cordiality had sprung up.

In mapping out the ground plan of a recent little dinner the value of the waiter, well treated in the matter of tips, was made manifest. The consomme and other prefatory dishes were plain sailing, but when it came to the substantials the diner suggested a guinea fowl as about the right thing. The Swiss stood with his pencil poised above his card but with an expression indicative of the general impression that there were other entrees on the menu.

"Come now, Heinrich," said the diner, "what's the matter with the guinea fowl?"

"It's probably quite satisfactorily, sir, to some of our patrons. I would suggest that I noticed in the kitchen just now that the carver was cutting into the very best of a very good roast of beef."

So it was all through the meal. Heinrich was ready to give the benefit of his knowledge of conditions behind the swinging doors. In the end the dinner proved somewhat different from its initial program, but it suffered no whit from the amendments thus unobtrusively suggested.

FOR THE CONTRIBUTION BOX.

A custom among the attendants of the Greek church at Trebizond explains the use of certain tokens which have been presented to the American Numismatic society in this city.

According to the Journal of the society sometimes several collections are made during the service in these churches. Even should there be but one, the visitor may desire to make a special contribution at the shrine or picture of some of the saints whose intercession he desires to secure, or he may wish to purchase a candle for use in some of the ceremonials in public or private devotions.

On entering the church, therefore, he exchanges a certain sum of money with the deacon at the gate for an equivalent amount of these tokens. He is thus able to respond to the calls for the various offerings during the service or to deposit his gift at the shrine of the saint by using one or more of these tokens as he may be disposed, yet without any heavy demand on his purse. These church tokens are sometimes of brass and sometimes of paper.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LYCEUM

Motion Pictures De Luxe, Direct From New York Hippodrome Will be Shown for One Week in Duluth

Duluth will have one week of New York Hippodrome amusement at the Lyceum, beginning Sunday night, when Lyman H. Howe brings his famous travel festival with all the mechanical effects of the big playhouse to fit the action of the animated scenes with the sounds of real life.

The same company of imitators that impersonates the characters in the pictures will be at the Lyceum. The program of thrills, travel and comedy that pleased the New York people so well will be produced here. When Mr. Howe first announced that his "picture show" would be put on at the Hippodrome most people laughed, predicting that moving photography had no place in high-class amusement in the largest theater in the world. Within a few days the great auditorium was crowded at every performance and the exhibitor given every encouragement in his effort to make animated scenes of real life with the realism of sound a proper and intensely interesting entertainment for everybody. Beginning with a boat ride through the gorges of Tarn, France, the spectators will see Wilbur Wright, fly in his aeroplane and be taken very much nearer the machine and understand the mechanism of it better than the people who were really on the ground at Le Mans the day of his famous successful trial trip in the air. There will be a tour of Egypt with moving picture snapshots of the Pyramids, the Sphinx, the Nile and other points well known to every one. The sagacity of a dog is an interesting part of the program. The audiences will witness each step in the harvesting of bananas and their shipment to America. The aristocracy of England on parade at Boulter's Lock on Ascot Sunday, displaying the holiday attire of the most beautiful women of London; a tour of Russia, including a visit to Moscow in flood times, and the first moving picture of St. Petersburg, a microscopic study of a fly that juggles, the falls of the Andes, a storm at sea off the coast of Cornwall, and a reproduction of the daring feats of the company of Italian cavalrymen who made Roosevelt wonder during his recent visit with the King of Italy to their grounds are all shown. These remarkable horsemen lead their horses down the steepest grades over stone walls and into the most precarious positions possible. The thrilling feature of the show will be a ride on a runaway train through the Tyrolean Alps at the rate of 150 miles an hour. There will be matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Lyceum Notes.

Thompson Buchanan, the author of "A Woman's Way," the new comedy which Grace George will present at the Lyceum late this season is a young New York newspaper man, who, besides working over the country on papers in various cities, has had a couple of novels published by Harper & Bros., and one other play produced.

Mr. Buchanan is a Kentuckian, and he served as a private in the First Kentucky infantry in Porto Rico during the Spanish war, and then became a reporter on the Louisville Courier-Journal, Col. Henry Watterson's paper. Leaving the Courier-Journal, as dramatic critic, he went to New York, and soon succeeded in selling two novels to the Harpers—"The Castle Comedy," and "Judith Triumphant." Both books proved successful.

Ever since he went to New York, Mr. Buchanan has been connected in various capacities with the New York Evening Journal. His first play, "The Intruder," was tried out recently, and will have its formal production later this season.

"I don't know that I experience what is called 'stage fright,'" said Ruth Peebles. "That is, after I am on the stage I have no fear; I simply feel that I must go ahead and do the best I can and that is all there is about it. But before I go on I am very nervous. Of course, this business of being a star is rather new to me and I have not had many first night experiences, but the feeling I have had on several occasions and had most pronouncedly the night of the opening of 'The Prince of Tonight,' was that I must turn and run from the theater before the curtain went up.

"If anything should ever happen I know that is what I should do—simply turn and run and never stop running. The first night in 'The Prince of Tonight' I sat in my dressing room and listened as the half hour and the last fifteen minutes were being called and each quarter I thought: Now I still have time to get away, but after the overture I knew it was no use and I went down with a sinking feeling somewhere inside me and everything seemed hopeless. Once on the stage though I always begin to brighten and soon get into the swing of things, like a horse getting into his stride at the beginning of a race." "The Prince of Tonight" is coming to the Lyceum soon.

AT THE BIJOU

A Big Trained Animal Act Will Be the Feature of the Program of Vaudeville Commencing Monday Afternoon.

How long it will take the Sullivan & Considine well of high class novelties to run dry evidently canot be estimated, but from the changes that are made weekly in the Bijou the well seems to be well stocked.

For the week of May 16, another bill of standard quality is promised, and one that can in no way be likened unto those that have gone before. The headline attraction will be Mme Anita Diaz's troupe of trained monkeys. For the amusement of the little ones it would be hard to beat, and it is an act that adults can enjoy also. The act makes its second week's appearance in America at the Bijou. It was imported to play only the Sullivan & Considine circuit, after which it will return to Europe, as the act is contracted in such a way that it cannot appear on any other circuit in America for two years.

One of the best musical novelties that has ever appeared at the Bijou will be William Zinello and Adelaide Boutelle, who have a musical comedy in miniature entitled "237 Miles to New York." It tells of the experience of two stranded actors who are anxious to get back to gay Broadway, but who have a long way to walk. Good dialogue, bright songs and funny situations form the foundation for the roarings comedy it is. Special scenery is carried for the act, which adds greatly to its attractiveness.

They are not the only fun makers on the bill. For another farcical pair will be found in Harry and Katheryne Mitchell, who have an abundance of good comedy patter, songs and piano playing. They term the act "Crazy for a minute." Mr. Mitchell has a style of his own. One commences to smile as soon as he comes on the stage. Miss Mitchell is a charming comedienne and possesses an excellent voice, which she uses to advantage. For eccentric comedy creations the act has few equals in vaudeville, it is claimed.

A missionary of mirth will be found in John Francis O'Reilly, who is one of the most popular and best known comedians in vaudeville. He is a New York favorite, having played the big Eastern houses season after season. He is considered to have the most original songs and stories of any monologist before the public. Besides being a clever entertainer, he has a personality that is always a notable feature in his act.

All the way from Japan comes Harry Tsuda. Japan has always been famous for its wonderful equilibrists and Tsuda is no exception to the rule. He has already toured this country once, but returned to Japan to learn the most up-to-date tricks, which he has brought back.

The illustrated songs will be sung by James B. Adams, who makes his first appearance at the Bijou and will use for his opening song the now popular ballad entitled "The Moonlight, the Rose, and You." Mr. Adams has a genuine soprano voice, with plenty of volume and rich tones.

The moving pictures that are shown are exclusive subjects, and of the best class of pictuers. Matinees are given daily at 2:45 and performances every night at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved by either telephone. A special school children's matinee will be given Saturday at 2:30.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Hopper Scores in "The Matinee Idol"—The Story of "The Spitfire," Which is Improving—a Strong One-Act Drama.

New York, May 14.—"The Matinee Idol," in which De Wolf Hopper made his first appearance on Broadway this season at Daly's theater last week, met with a flattering reception, everything considered. Since the piece came off the road Louise Dresser is featured alongside of the star as his principal satellite, and she helped to make it a success.

The beautiful blonde with the large, doll-blue eyes and the voluptuous figure sang three popular songs, but only one of them really awakened any response. It is called "Put on Your Slippers, You're in for the Night." The other two were nearly as unmusical as a popular song of the sort that is usually popular on Broadway (if nowhere else) can well be. The public is becoming somewhat too sophisticated. The tuneful melodies of "The Chocolate Soldier" and "The Dollar Princess" are making their influence felt—apparently. Her acting was much better than her singing, and she and Hopper scored a genuine hit in a travesty duet, in which they give a burlesque scene from "Madame X." and other imitations, which were capital.

The piece has some consistency of plot, though its adaptation from Mollere, as credited in the program, is presuming on good nature. It is a free-hand manipulation of Mollere's comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid," but absurdly treated, the only resemblance to the original being the plea of illness made by a youth who simulates convulsions and other serious symptoms in order to remain near his sweetheart when ordered off to colloge.

Hopper plays the part of an actor out of engagement, who turns physician as a makeshift, and in the person of Mrs. Burton (Miss Dresser) discovers his old time inamorata, now widowed. The comedian made one of his characteristic curtain speeches, in which he thanked the audience for accepting him for once without tights and tinsel, an uncrowned monarch who has discarded his scepter and cloak and for the first time appears in a modern street suit, though in the last act he wears full evening attire. The music of Silvio Hein lacks much in brilliancy, and is reminiscent of several Broadway show pieces, but the comedy went in spite of that. In the cast are Joseph Santley, George Mack and Ethel Green.

At the Lyceum Edward Peppe's melodramatic comedy, as it is billed, is catching on mainly because Charles Cherry is doing capital work in the principal role as a sailor aboard "The Spitfire," and then because for the better part of three acts the piece is quite entertaining as well as sensational. Of course, the action takes place aboard the yacht, whose name provides the title, except the last act.

Cherry has the role of an athletic young American, who is pursuing two thieves, who have robbed him in London of a number of precious gems. The rascals have taken charge of a yacht on forged orders from the owner, whose daughter happens to be aboard. They force the sailing master to go to sea. The hero pursues them in a tug, pretends to have been thrown overboard by the tug Captain, and by order of the owner's daughter is fished out of the water and taken aboard.

The two rogues create a complete misunderstanding in the mind of the young woman—the owner's daughter to wit, and heroine of this yachting romance — and our American friend is reduced to the rank of a common sailoror. A good deal of lively interest is created when the heroine makes the hero polish the brass rails and subjects him to other humiliations, which include scrubbing the deck. Of course, she is secretly in love with him and inwardly has little faith in the misrepresentation made to her by the villains.

In the third act a violent storm breaks and the safe is robbed of the gems. The yacht strikes a rock and all make for the boats. The hero and heroine are left behind, and when the last act is revealed a wonderful picture is shown of the big yacht astride of a rock and the inhospitable shore of New Jersey stretching away into space in the gray dawn of morning. There is the hero cooking breakfast over a fire of driftwood for the heroine. The play ends with the discomfiture of the thieves and the approaching rescue of the two young castaways, and not, of course, before they have reached a satisfactory understanding as to their future happiness.

The piece is superbly staged by Daniel Frohman. In the cast as Cherry's principal support is Ruth Maycliffe, who plays the owner's daughter. She makes a delightful appearance in the part, since she is an extremely pretty girl, but her rise has been amazingly sudden and the part makes demands upon her to which she is not quite equal at all times. Rose Waldrop, in an ingenue role, scored substantially with the audience.

The last three weeks of "Madame X.," which has been one of the substantial successes of the season of the New Amsterdam, are announced, but the piece will reopen at the same theater early in August. The run is interrupted to give the players a needed vacation. Clyde Fitch's last play, "The City," will close at its present stand, the Lyric theater, tonight, and be transferred to the Hackett, where it will continue to run indefinitely. Its place will be taken by William A. Brady's revival of "Jim the Penman," which opens an indefinite engagement Tuesday evening. The complete cast embraces Wilton Lackaye, Theodore Roberts, Florence Roberts, Jeffreys Lewis, Thurlow Bergen, Frederick Paulding, John Mason, Arthur Forrest, Marguerite Clark, Grace Reals, Ernest Glendinning and Louis Massen, one of the strongest aggregations that has been got together in a term of years.

There has been a decided tendency of late on the part of the public to manifest indifference to pieces that avowedly cater to a priori taste. "Where There Is a Will," which is not so bad as it has been painted, but which the management put out as something calculated to appeal to the salacious element, met with little encouragement, and was succeded by "The Girl From Lobster Square." It eked out a languishing engagement of two or three weeks and was sent on tour, and now "The Climax," with a selected cast, has been brought back into Weber's to fill out the month, when the theater will close.

"Love's Understudy," produced at the Lyceum, is a one-act piece by Richard Feechimer and was put on view to an invited audience and a few critics as a tryout. Preceding the event was a mixed program of musical numbers and a specialty by Miss Connie Ediss, the London comedienne, who is playing here in "The Arcadians."

The little play exploits a deep tragedy. The scene is a milliner's work shop and the actors are Emily, a poor little milliner's apprentice; Miss Gordon, a hat model, and the porter or messenger boy of the establishment, Joe. Gordon is a new edition of Rose Stahl's chorus lady. She, too, is of the stage when she is not trying on hats. She uses Joe with siren ways—ways so different from the ways of plain little Emily, who looks upon the tall uncouth porter as a demigod and bends tearfully over her artificial flowers at the stand while Gordon plumes herself before the cheval glass like a glorious golden pheasant and seduces Joe with her consuming eyes. Alone with Joe, Emily upbraids him and pleads for the love he vowed before she trusted him with all she had to give. He promised to marry her. Now he has eyes only for Miss Gordon. Will he keep his promises? Will he do the only honorable manaly thing?

Joe is a surly one. The hat model has humiliated her. Now Joe lords it over her. He tries evasion first. He lies to her about Gordon. She throws open the door and shows him that the model is waiting for him. Then he bullies her and admits that he is going to meet Emily's rival and they are to make their appearance in a "show." He starts to leave the betrayed little working girl. As he reaches the door and opens it, she runs after him in a fit of frenzy. Her hands are raised above her head, and the next moment Joe falls to the floor with a heavy thud. She has buried a pair of scissors in his back and killed her seducer.

The acting part was in good hands. Miss Ethel Browning is a diminutive, emotional actress of great promise and played Emily with much power. Miss Winifred Voorhees was good as the model.

The regular session at the German theater—the Irving Place—closed with a revival of the comic opera, "Das Schoene Maedel," and the playhouse is having a supplementary season of the Bavarian peasant players, who are presenting a series of dialect plays, opening last Monday night in "Der Dorf Pfarrer." In English, "The Village Priest." They vary their dramatic work with folk songs and dances and give a pleasing entertainment.

Since Oscar Hammerstein sold his operatic holdings to the Metropolitan, the future of his opera house, the Manhattan, has been in doubt. Now it has been definitely decided to turn it into a vaudeville theater, which will open Aug. 22, with Poalire, one of the hits of the Parisian stage as the principal attraction. All through his operatic fight, Hammerstein's principal source of revenue to furnish the sinews of war which enabled him to perform wonders was his Theater of Varieties, at the corner of Forty-second street and Seventh avenue, one of the principal vaudeville houses in town, and which is always crowded. Hammerstein is now in Europe, and is expected to do something ultra sensational to make the Manhattan a center of interest. The house is somewhat off the beaten path.

When the present Belasco theater changes its name to the Republic the opening attraction will be Harris's production of "Bobby Burnit," Winchell Smith's comedy which has given satisfaction on the road wherever it has been played. The present Stuyvesant will thereafter become known officially as the Belasco.

Cable dispatches from London indicate that "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," in which Eleanor Robson made her last appearance plor to her marriage to August Belmont, the millionaire, has scored a success in Liverpool with Gertrude Elliott (Mrs. Forbes-Robertson) in the principal role, supported by most of the American actors who were in the company with Miss Robson. When the American company was disbanded by Miss Bobson's marriage, Belmont sent each member a check to cover his salary for the rest of the season.

The remarkable shift in the theatrical situation, produced by the fact that some important producing managers and a considerable number of circuit managers of theaters in the smaller towns have declared for "the open door," is expected to stimulate theatrical affairs generally next season and to bring new blood into the producing field. It will be nip and tuck between the two factions to get attractions to fill their theaters, and anybody with anything resembling a good attraction will have no difficulty in getting bookings. It will open a particularly alluring prospect to the numerous playwrights in New York who are besieging managers with unacted plays. It will also bring out a lot of latent acting talent in the by-ways, which has passed unnoticed until now because there was no place for it. There are more theaters than can be filled, and it is said that the syndicate is not sorry that it is to be relieved of some of the responsibilities of taking care of houses which have been incorporated with their organization until now. Another result which is confidently predicted is that the one-night stands will receive better attractions than they have for some time past, since there will be more producers in the field.

There was a hearty demonstration of proof of the popularity of the late Lottie Faust, the comedienne, at the Broadway theater, when a special program of favorites was offered to raise a fund for the benefit of Miss Faust's mother. The house was large, and a sum something in excess of $3,500 was taken in. The benefit was arranged by Lew Fields, in whose company Miss Faust made her last appearance.

The latest reports from Berlin indicate that the American opera "Pola," by Arthur Nevin, has successfully weathered the storm, and was listened to with close attention at the second and third performances, free from the Philistine influence of the jaded first-nighters.

It is reported that the Manhattan opera house, which has been the New York home of Hammerstein's opera company, will be utilized by the Shuberts as a popular-priced theater. The house, one of the largest in New York, is but a block from the Pennsylvania terminal. When William A. Brady joined the Shuberts it was given out that William A. Brady, Incorporated, would build a theater in Philadelphia. Report now has it that, as a result of the consolidation of the two opera companies in New York and Philadelphia, the Shuberts and Mr. Brady will asume proprietorship of the Academy in the latter city.

According to present arrangements Forbes-Robertson will resume his tour of the Shubert theaters in Brooklyn on Oct. 17. Previous to this, two weeks will be played at Maxine Elliott's theater.

The Civic Club of Philadelphia has begun the task of housecleaning the local drama. A dozen or more plays have been declared unfit for presentation. When the list was read by Miss Owen Wister it was found that "The Midnight Sons" was included. Thereupon a prominent member, having seen the musical piece, indignantly protested, declaring that "The Midnight Sons" is a clean and clever show.

Ethel Green, who is now playing one of the principal roles with De Wolf Hopper in "The Matinee Idol" at Daly's theater, New York, two years ago was a member of the chorus in "Happyland," in which Hopper starred.

If you want to see Henrietta Crosman, see her on her next visit, for it will be the last opportunity in many years, if not forever. Miss Crosman is not going to quit the stage, for she realizes that she has a lot of work to do before she retires, but the opportunity that she has been longing for has come at last.

For years Miss Crosman has had her eyes Londonward and now she is going there. At last the London managers realize that there is a woman in America who can take Ellen Terry's place, and Maurice Campbell has entered into a long contract for Miss Crosman's appearance with Frank Curzon, one of the biggest London manages.

There is no doubt in the minds of those who know the theater, that Miss Crosman belongs in London, the great center of the world. Hers is not a visit, but a going that will last for some years. Just at present there is no one in the English metropolis who can play the Shakesperian roles that are each year demanded abroad.

A year ago Mr. Curzon visited America and saw Miss Crosman play "As You Like It" and has since been trying to make an agreement with Mr. Campbell. At last the matter has been settled and Miss Crosman is to become a fixture in London.

There are some who say that the American actor has no place in London, but Miss Crosman's probable success there is no idle dream. For years we have said that she was a youthful Ellen Terry. She has all of Terry's charm and grace and talent and adds to these youth. Miss Crosman will first appear at one of Mr. Curzon's London theaters.

The plan was for her to do a Shakesperian part at once, but, instead she will open in "Anti-Matrimony" the Percy MacKaye comedy, in which she is appearing now. After that she will go into Shakespeare and America will lose its leading comedienne. To say that Miss Crosman is overjoyed is putting it mildly.

Florence Roberts has closed her tour in "The Transformation" and is now in New York rehearsing with the all-star cast which is to be seen in "Jim the Penman."

• • •

Ada Lewis and Will Archer are the latest additions to the cast of "The Summer Widowers," in which Lew Fields is to play.

Sam Bernard is back on Broadway awaiting the selection of a new comedy in which he will star next season.

Helen Ware, whose signal success in "The Road to Yesterday," and lately as Mrs. Howard Jeffries, Jr., in Charles Klein's play, "The Third Degree," won her unusual distinction, has signed contracts with Henry B. Harris to star for a term of years commencing this coming season. The vehicle selected for Miss Ware's stellar debut is "Delia of the Secret Service," a four-act play by Robert Peyton Carter and Anna Alice Chapin. Miss Ware, who is at present appearing in "The Third Degree," will, at the close of her season, sail for Europe, returning in August to begin rehearsals for her first starring tour.

Frederick McComb Granted Divorce From Julia McComb at Butte.

Butte, Mont., May 14.—Frederick McComb gave his testimony in Judge Donlan's court in his suit for a divorce from Julia McComb on the grounds of desertion and infidelity. The couple were married at Duluth in 1901, and they have an 8-year-old daughter who is in the care of the mother, although she is alleged to be an inmate of a house of ill fame. Mrs. McComb did not answer in the suit, and a default was granted against her. Plaintiff McComb testified in answer to inquiries by the court that he had written to his wife several times and she had replied that she would never have anything more to do with her husband and would not accept any aid from him either for the support of the child or herself. The woman, it was stated, also refused to consider giving up the custody of the little girl. The divorce was granted, and it was stated that proceedings would soon be instituted to secure the custody of the child for the father.

RAILROAD SHOULD PAY

Logging Road Should Be Operated, Says Commercial Club Committee.

Census of District Tapped Shows Large and Prosperous Settlement.

The census of the country through which the Brooks-Scanlon road passes has been completed by George Rupley and A. B Hostetter of the Commercial club, and the figures have been submitted to the club.

The census was ordered for the purpose of showing the owners of the railroad that it could be operated profitably for the convenience of the farmers and settlers, and should not be torn up now that it is no longer useful as a logging road.

Mr. Rupley in reporting the result of his work, says:

"I must say that I am surprised at the amount of development of that region. It should be remembered that these farmers have been disappointed in their hopes of marketing produce, owing to lack of transportation and that these totals, large as they are, represent only what they are doing for self support. With proper transportation their output would be greatly and quickly increased as they have the advantage of starting with over 6,000 acres of cleared land. Owing to the remoteness of their other interests, the owners of this road are averse to operating it themselves and prefer to sell. From my investigation, I am satisfied that, properly handled, this road would pay operating expenses from the start and in a very few years, be a dividend paying property with excellent speculative possibilities ahead of it. It has been considered by several buyers and is now, I think, under consideration. I had hoped that we might be able to announce to the tributary farmers that they would certainly have transportation for this year's crop, but we are unable to do so. I feel very hopeful that we may do so for the next year.

"An analysis of these figures will show that Duluth has a very valuable asset in that region. The farmers have enough cleared land and capital to make a quick and large expansion when provided with transportation. They are asking no bonus or coddling. All they need or expect is fair transportation and they are willing to pay fair prices for it.

"In spite of their long deferred hopes they are just as eager to join hands with us now as when they first entered the region."

The summary of the census follows:

Whooping Cough.

This is a more dangerous disease than is generally presumed. It will be a surprise to many to learn that more deaths result from it than from scarlet fever. Pneumonia often results from it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, and always with the best results. Delbert McKeig of Harlan, Iowa, says of it: "My boy took whooping cough when 9 months old. He had it in the winter. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which proved good. I cannot recommend it too highly." For sale by all druggists.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

SUMMER QUIETNESS IS SETTLING ON MARKET

Real Estate Dealers Have Difficulty in Closing Big Deals.

Many Residence Lots Are Being Sold in the Suburbs.

Summer dullness is beginning to settle on the real estate market already. Real estate men find difficulty in getting parties to deal together, and hard, conscientious work is required to swing big deals. The usual percentage of small deals, which practically make themselves, are being closed, but large deals are slow in being brought to the signing point.

There is nothing alarming in the situation as far as values and confidence in property are concerned. Values are high and constantly mounting. Holders of property believe in it and unless buyers offer good inducements, they are content to hold for the prices that will surely come.

Real estate dealers look for a good, steady movement during the summer months. The sales of residence lots now is good—lots running from $500 to $1,000 in price. The number of sales made recently in that class of property indicates a good movement in residence building during the summer and the "Own Your Own Home" spirit is contagious. The movement only needs a start and it will gather impetus by its own movement, taking new material in constantly.

The rental situation is adjusting itself and it is now certain that there will be very few vacant buildings in Duluth this year. Stores that were vacated on the first of May are all securing tenants. The inroads made on the office buildings by the new Alworth building are now hardly noticeable, for nearly all the offices have been taken by new tenants. Flat buildings and residences recently completed drew people out of older buildings, but flats are not vacant very long in Duluth.

People looking for home locations now will have trouble finding suitable ones, for the first of May saw almost everything snapped up by the house-hunters. Those houses that are vacant are held at reasonable rentals, and people, although they may not be exactly suited, will have little trouble getting located.

* * *

At Lakeside and Woodland there are great developments in progress. Scores of residences are in course of erection and dealers in lots in those two suburbs report that the sale is brisk. Almost every sale is for improvement—for actual consumption—the taking of the lot out of the market and the building up of the suburb.

Lakeside and Woodland have had a good healthy growth during the past few years. They are growing more rapidly now than ever before and the residents of both places are loud in their praises of their own suburb and hopeful of the future.

* * *

Duluth people were interested this week in the announcement of a lease closed in Minneapolis by the Dayton Dry Goods company. The lease was made for 100 years on the property at the corner of Nicollet avenue and Eighth street, while an option for an extension for another 100 years. The lease was made on a basis of $5,000 a front foot, which is the highest valuation placed on Nicollet avenue real estate. The minimum rental for the first period of 100 years is more than $2,000,000. The property involved in the new lease has a frontage of 125 feet on Nicollet avenue and of 150 feet on Eighth street. It was purchased by the Narragansett association in 1887 for $1,000 a front foot, or at a total consideration of $125,000. In twenty-three years, after paying the regular rate of interest and taxes, the company has made a profit of approximately $500,000.

* * *

The deal is interesting in Duluth on account of the fact that what is possible of Minneapolis is possible of Duluth—even more probable in this city on account of the congested business district. Minneapolis has a large business district and advances such as that reflected in the lease just made are large. With a congested business district, such advances are not to be regarded as wonderful in Duluth when the population is greater, but far below that of Minneapolis.

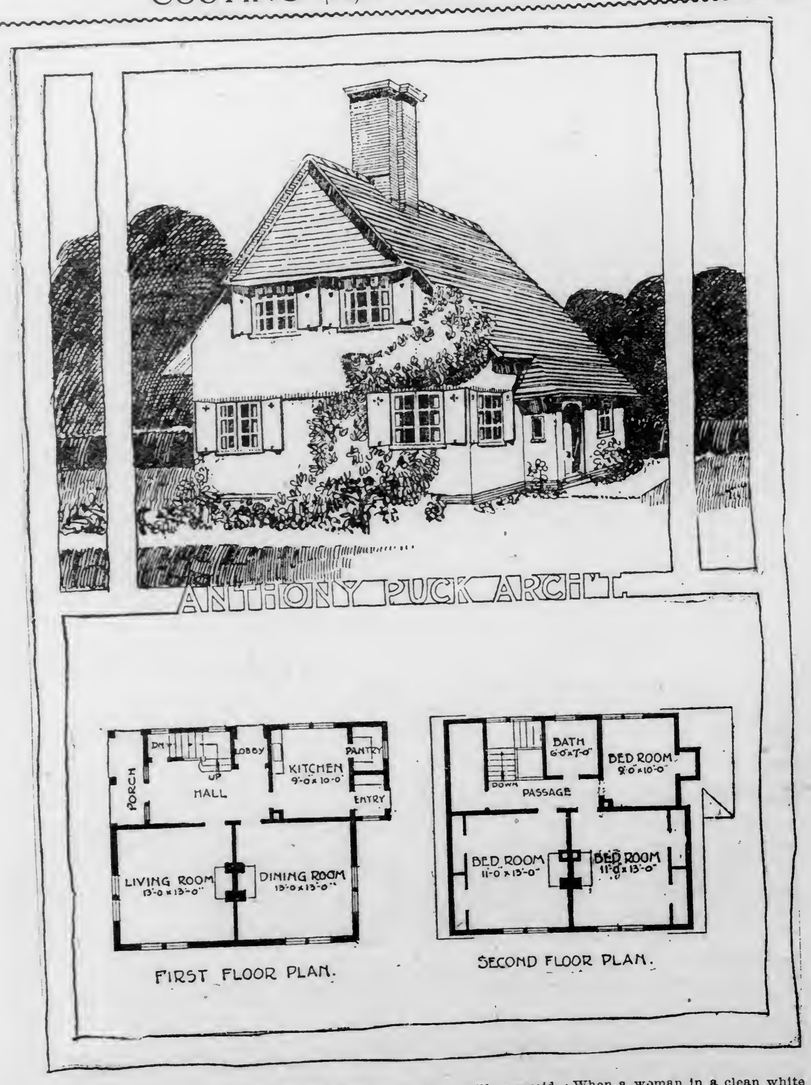
COMFORTABLE AND ARTISTIC HOME COSTING $4,000 TO BUILD IN DULUTH



In the designs on this page exterior is generally described, but on this occasion, as the elevation is so simple it speaks for itself, and the interior decoration is all that needs description.

In decorating a house the owner need not fear getting too monotonous an effect. He can quite safely, and generally with an effect of restfulness, spaciousness, quiet and completeness have the walls and woodwork of one color throughout the house.

When one has done all one can to get a restful, quiet and harmonious treatment, the inhabitants of the room, and the things that will be brought into it sooner or later will unavoidably introduce a greater number of colors, forms, and textures than are artistically desirable.

Getting an effect of too great monotony is the last thing one need fear, for it practically never happens.

The treatment of a domestic interior is not artistic in the true sense of the word, if it does not produce a feeling of comfort, and to give this feeling of comfort there must be a look of cleanliness. This can only be obtained by using materials, surfaces, and colors which show the dirt, not like those in the back sitting room of an ordinary lodging house, chosen because they will not show the dirt. When a woman in a clean white apron and a print dress opens the cottage door at which one has knocked, one has a pleasantly satisfied feeling which the same woman in an equally clean brown dress and dull black apron could not give.

The exterior is in rough cast and shingles with brick base, and first floor interior finish in oak and the bedrooms in enamelled pine The floors are in maple and the pantry and kitchen are in birch.

The above house can be built, inclusive of plumbing and heating for the sum of $4,000, in Duluth and vicinity.

Architect.

HOMECROFT PARK

THE SUBURBAN GARDENS

The last block of ACRE LOTS in Homecroft Park are now ready and will be put on the market commencing Saturday, May 14th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

LOCATION AND SOIL

These Lots are located about eight to fifteen blocks from the end of Woodland car line. The soil consists of coal black loam, unsurpassed for Celery and Truck Farming. No stones. Well drained.

OWN A COUNTRY HOME in a "close in" and attractive location. Good roads. City water and gas only eight blocks from Homecroft Park. A school house is just built. Telephone, electric light and the car line extended through Homecroft Park are improvements bound to come in the near future.

THE SIZE

The size of these SUBURBAN GARDENS is equal to about twelve 25-foot Lots. This makes room for yard, flowers, berries, vegetable garden and chickens and this again means more income, health and happiness.

And right here it is proper that another important fact should be pointed out to you. Some of the purchasers who bought Lots in Homecroft Park last fall (when the first lots were put on the market) have already made a profit of 33 per cent and many more refuse 25 per cent.

HOMECROFT PARK IS RAPIDLY BUILDING UP; already nine families have built and live there, and many more are making ready to build, because it means a great saving in living expenses. For instance if you spend in improvements upon one of these tracts the amount you pay in one year for rent in town, say $150, this little farm would pay for itself each year.

TIMBER

REMEMBER there is SUFFICIENT TIMBER on most of these lots for all building purposes and this timber can easily be cut into lumber at the sawmill near by.

PRICES AND TERMS

The terms are so easy that there is a chance for everybody to get one of these valuable lots. ONLY ONE DOLLAR CASH and $1.50 to $2.00 per week until paid for. NO INTEREST AT ANY TIME. NO PAYMENTS WHEN SICK. PERFECT TITLE, (TORRENS TITLE).

The price of these lots runs from $200 to $290, a few slightly more, according to size, location and amount of timber.

Come out tomorrow and an Automobile will meet you at the end of Woodland car line and take you out through Homecroft Park in a few minutes.

DON'T MISS THIS LAST CHANCE TO GET A COUNTRY HOME "CLOSE IN." The soil is the finest you ever saw.

HOW TO GO

Take the Woodland car to the end of the line. Our big sign will show the way.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

BUILDINGS ARE PLANNED

First Street Will Get Its Share of Activity This Year.

Great Strides Made on Street During Past Few Years.

While there will be comparatively few buildings erected for business purposes in Duluth during the coming summer, First street will get its share—perhaps more than its share, when one considers that First street has just begun to come to the front as a business street within the past few years.

Ground was broken this week for the new garage to be erected for the Mutual Auto company, west of the Elks' clubhouse on the north side of the street, between Third and Fourth avenues west. Good progress is being made on the building being erected by McLeod & Smith on the corner of First street and Lake avenue. At least two other buildings for business purposes are being planned by owners of First street property and the announcement that their construction will be begun, is expected soon.

First street has made wonderful strides during the past two years. Besides the Commercial club, the Sherwood building, the Black building and the Edison building, a number of smaller structures have been erected, all being occupied by business places that are attracting patrons and giving the street an air of activity that means much to First street property and First street prospects.

Time was, not so very many years ago, when a business place on First street was regarded as hopelessly out of the path of trade and saddled with the necessity of offering special inducements to attract patrons from the more generally traveled streets. It is not so now. First street business places are regarded as having desirable locations and First street has come into its own as a business street for all purposes.

The removal of the Commercial club, the erection of the Elks' building and the erection of the courthouse have had much to do in bringing First street to the front. The Board of Trade, the Wolvin building and others have done their part, but many people were attracted to First street by the two clubs and the courthouse—people who would not realize the possibilities of First street otherwise.

Of course, there is no danger of First street ever crowding Superior street out of its position as the main business street of the city, but Superior street is already crowded and the overflow will go to First street and East Superior street. First street is getting the bulk of the overflow at present, for it is nearer to the business center of Superior street than is East Superior street and a position on First street is considered more desirable than a location far east on Superior street.

Real estate values on First street have gone up wonderfully in the last two or three years. The advance in the next two or three years will be still greater, for prices are constantly bounding upward. The movement is not surprising in view of the position First street occupies as the coming secondary business street of the city and those who have property on it are holding it at high prices or holding it closely for the returns that are to come.

McLEOD & SMITH TO ERECT NEW FIDELITY BUILDING

Contract Let for Seven-Story Office Building on Superior Street.

Reinforced Concrete Structure Will Be Strictly Fire-Proof.

The contract was let to McLeod & Smith today for the new seven-story Fidelity building to be erected on the south side of Superior street, between Lake avenue and First avenue west, by the Fidelity Investment company, of which John A. Stephenson is the local representative.

The new building will be one of the most modern and up-to-date store and office buildings in the state of Minnesota. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete and will be strictly fireproof. It will front fifty feet on Superior street and the same on Michigan street with store rooms on the first floor and offices on the upper floors. The building will be equipped with all modern construction features and will be finished in elaborate style.

Plans were prepared for the building by Bray & Nystrom and were completed some time ago, but on account of the difficulty of securing possession of the site on account of leases, the building was held up until after May 1. The site has now been cleared and work will begin immediately. The work will be rushed to completion and the building will be ready for occupancy next fall.

• • •

With the exception of permits issued for buildings at the site of the proposed new steel plant the permits issued this week have been for comparatively small buildings, mostly residences. The month of May is starting out well, however, and Building Inspector S. M. Kielley expects the month will be a good one for his office.

The following permits were issued during the week:

To Henry Fee, frame dwelling, East Superior street, between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues ..... $ 8,500
To J. E. Lindmark, frame dwelling, Woodland avenue, between Lewis and Hardy streets 8,000
To J. G. Berger, repairs, East Sixth street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues. 500

EXTENSION OF STREET RAILWAY WILL BE MADE

Line Will Be Built to Ninth Street When Route Is Ready.

Mayor Still Hopes to Secure Extension to Eleventh Street.

In a letter to Mayor M. E. Cullum yesterday, General Manager Herbert Warren of the Duluth Street Railway company announced the intention of the company to inaugurate "owl car" service July 1 and also touched on the proposed extension of the street railway line in the Second ward up the hill to Eleventh street.

Mr. Warren assured the mayor, that, providing the property-owners would petition for needed street improvements, which would have to be made before the line could be built, the company would build the line on the route recommended by the mayor as far up the hill as Ninth street and east on Ninth street as far as Fourteenth avenue east, the extension up the hill to be made as soon as possible and that on Ninth street as soon as that street is graded.

The extension from Ninth street to Eleventh street is still hanging fire and the mayor hopes to be successful in his efforts to get the extension built that far.

The route proposed by the mayor is an extension up Fifth avenue east from Fourth to Fifth street, on Fifth street to Sixth avenue east, up Sixth avenue east to Sixth street, east on Sixth street to Seventh avenue east and up Seventh avenue east to Eleventh street.

In his letter to the mayor, Mr. Warren suggested that it might possibly be necessary to go two blocks on Sixth avenue east, instead of one, as proposed by the mayor, but no trouble is expected in arriving at an agreement on that score as everybody concerned wants the cars to follow the easiest grade.

Some grading will be necessary on Sixth avenue east, especially, and the necessity for it puts the matter up to the property owners, who will have to petition for the improvement. There will be some cutting and some filling necessary, the cost of the improvement being a few thousand dollars.

Fifth street is already graded, plans have been made for the grading of Sixth street and the grading of Seventh street is being discussed, so that if the line should run up to that street on Sixth avenue east, there would be no blocking of the extension on account of the condition of Seventh street. Seventh street east is graded all the way to Eleventh street and the street railway people could step in immediately and build their line on that avenue.

The proposed improvement is of great importance to a large number of people, who would prefer to see the line extended to Eleventh street, rather than only to Ninth street. If the extension to Eleventh street cannot be obtained, they will have to be satisfied with a line to Ninth street, of course, but the extention of two blocks more would be a great help in opening up the district in the vicinity of the boulevard. The avenue is in good condition all the way to Eleventh street and the people living above Ninth street will make an effort to obtain the other two blocks of track.

As for the extension on Ninth street to Fourteenth avenue east, it is not believed that that can be obtained for several years. Ninth street is but sparsely built up and it is not likely the street will be graded for some years. When it is graded, it will be an easy matter for the street railway company to branch off of their line at Ninth street on Seventh avenue, and in the meantime, the running of the cars to Eleventh street will be a great aid to the people living up in that district.

Property owners along Sixth avenue east in the district through which the proposed line will run, will be urged to petition for the improvement necessary to secure the extension. The street railway company will not build the line until the streets are in condition to receive it and, while the greater part of the proposed route is graded, some work must be done immediately if the line is to be built this year.

WHEAT DULL AND WEAKER

Little Interest in the Market During a Short Session.

Flax Has Nominal Advance, With Little or No Trading.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 14.—Wheat was dull and top-heavy today and there was little interest in the market by either side. There was some long profit taking and the short side appears to be fairly well covered. The buying around mid-day on bullish reports from Arkansas did not last long.

May wheat opened at $1.10¼ bid, advanced to $1.10⅝ bid and closed $1.10⅜. The July option opened with offerings at $1.11⅛ and sold at $1.11⅛, $1.11⅛, $1.11⅜ and closed $1.11⅛. September was not traded in until the close which was $1.02.

Flax was dull. May opening $2.26 bid, and selling at $2.29 and closing $2.27½ asked. October opened $2.22 bid and gained 2c without trading, closing $2.24 bid. September was $1.72½ bid and sold at $1.73, closing $1.73 bid. October was $1.63½ bid and then $1.64, closing $1.64 bid.

Cash wheat was on a parity with May, oats closed ¼c up, rye was unchanged, barley was unchanged and durum closed ½c off.

The market was dead and values held to a narrow trend. The undertone was slightly heavy on account of warmer weather in the Northwest and scattered showers in the Red river valley of Minnesota and certain portions of North Dakota. The bears hesitated to sell the market in the face of a holiday, and the bulls were in the same predicament. They did not care to make a demonstration with rain predicted for part of the spring wheat territory tonight or tomorrow. The bears said that all that was necessary to start the market downward was a copious rainfall in the Dakotas. While the plant does not need rain immediately, according to most reports, yet the bear side of the market does, a little rain properly placed would revive the courage of the bears considerably. While values are lower than last Monday, yet the decline has been stubborn. Both sides have had news which they considered favorable, and neither has had its own way.

The plant in the Southwest is not showing further damage, according to most reports. The bulls are aggressive and think their estimates of great damage to the plant have been confirmed. Bears believe that only a crop calamity can prevent a decline in values.

The shortage in May wheat may yet prove a disturbing factor, especially in the face of small cash supplies. Chicago has drawn upon Duluth, Omaha and the Southwestern markets for supplies to deliver on May contracts. There is a considerable shortage in July also and the bears will be in an uncomfortable position until the fate of the winter wheat crop is definitely known and the spring wheat plant passes safely through the period of early growth. The small cash demand may trouble the leading holder of wheat if it does not show improvement.

The cash demand has improved slightly in the last day or two. Mills seem to be taking more freely. This market sold 350,000 bu to Eastern millers for shipment to Buffalo and altogether about 1,000,000 bu has been disposed of for shipment to Chicago, most of which is now on the lakes. A cargo of 170,000 bu was reported worked today.

The stuff sold to Eastern millers is said to have come from Waterman, which indicates that the leading holder of wheat does not anticipate any trouble in burying the "corpse." Waterman has had considerable experience in carrying large cash stores and he is said not to be worrying.

Trade today in May was without feature. It was extremely light. Offerings in July were small and the demand was dull. There was no significance to the trend of values. The market was listless and values marked time. The professional element is inclined to the bear side but as the bears have not made any headway lately and rebounds from the breaks have generally been insistent the trade is holding aloof, especially until the weather situation clears up.

Offerings from Russia continue liberal at a decline. The French crop will be short but it will not be sufficiently large to be an important market factor.

Cash Sales Saturday.

Devils Lake, N. D., wired: "There is considerable discussion here as to whether the crops are suffering from want of moisture or not. The wheat is up several inches and it is the opinion of some that the dry weather for the past two or three weeks is affecting it, but the general opinion seems to be that the crop is suffering from continued cold weather, which has prevailed here for some time. There has been several freezes since the first of May, although it has not seriously injured the growing grain, it has stopped growth. With favorable weather from now the crop will mature early enough to avoid the fall frosts."

The Commercial West said: "It will be noticed that the exporting countries of the world are offering wheat to the importing countries of Europe at reduced prices, and that some very heavy arrivals from Australia were responsible for a recent break in prices. It appears that Argentine shippers who were influenced by the short crop in that country to hold their prices stubbornly for a time, have finally become tired and have made decided concessions. Canada is also offering freely. Russia continues its large shipments, Roumania found itself above a shipping price to Hungary and was forced to make concessions to sell elsewhere, and India is freely offering its new crop. Furthermore, crop prospects the world over, or with the exception of localities in the United States are so good that no apprehension is felt. Unless some serious trouble should develop in the near future in some of the great wheat-growing countries, the United States will be left high and dry above any possibility of help for the bulls from European markets. Parts of Minnesota and South Dakota have had a fair amount of moisture, and, generally speaking, the crop is in excellent condition, and there are but few reports, and those from limited localities, of any actual damage."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Reassuring Estimates Make Shorts of List of Wheat Buyers.

Chicago, May 14.—Reassuring estimates that there are 109,000,000 bu of wheat available in the United States for consumption, export and carry-over July 1, compared with 84,000,000 bu last year, tended to make shorts less anxious today. In consequence the demand from that source this morning was slim, in sharp contrast with the situation in the closing hour yesterday. Moreover, general trade also was small and of a scattered character. The possibility that warmer weather in the Northwest might bring rain to North Dakota and Minnesota and cause a sudden setback in prices seemed to make speculators cautious. The market opened a shade to ½c lower, September started a shade to ⅛c off at $1.02¼ to $1.02¼@⅜, declined to $1.01⅞ and reacted to $1.02¼.

The news of export sales of wheat at Winnipeg sent the market off a trifle near the end of the session. The close, however, was steady with September, $1.02, a net loss of ⅜c.

There was only a scant demand for corn. Some selling was done by a leading local house. September opened ⅛@¼c easier at 63⅜c and declined to 63¼c.

Further price changes were inconsequential. The close was steady with spot at 63¼@63⅜c, a net loss of ⅛c.

Free offerings gave oats a downward movement. September was ¼@¼c lower at the start, selling at 39 to 39⅛c, and later touching 38⅞@39c.

The stock yards and the packers were said to be buyers of provisions. The market opened 2½ to 10c higher, and continued further in the same direction.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Scattered Rain Throughout the Northwest Improve the Situation.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—Wheat today was inclined to be a little easier. Rains, although light and scattered, fell in the Northwest and improved the situation. Local elevator stocks decreased 150,000 bu for one day. May wheat closed ⅜c lower than yesterday, July closed ⅜@⅞c lower and September ⅝c lower. Minneapolis today received 214 cars of wheat against 109 cars a year ago; Duluth 18 cars against 11 cars and Winnipeg 264 cars against 31 cars. May opened $1.11@1.11⅛; high, $1.11⅜; low, $1.10⅞; closed, $1.10⅞. July opened, $1.10½@1.10⅝; high, $1.10¾; low, $1.10⅛; closed, $1.10⅛. September opened $1.01⅝; high, $1.01⅝@1.01¾; low, $1.01⅛@1.01¼; closed, $1.01¼.

Cash wheat was easier on account of the more liberal offerings. No. 1 northern sold from 1c to 2c below the July option and to go out ¼@½c higher. Closing prices: No. 1 northern, $1.11⅛@1.13⅛; to arrive, $1.11⅛@1.13⅝; No. 2 northern, $1.09⅞@1.11⅛; to arrive, $1.09¾@1.11¾; No. 3 wheat, $1.06¼@1.08⅛; No. 3 yellow corn, 58½@59c; No. 3 white oats, 40@41c; No. 2 rye, 70@73½c.

New York, May 14.—There were some heavy transactions in Reading at the opening of the stock market today at a decline of a point. Canadian Pacific was lifted 1½. Otherwise the list was inert and neglected, with only small fractional changes either way. International Paper preferred rose 1.

A brisk demand for specialties prompted bidding for the important stocks and the whole market became more active and higher. Reading rallied to above yesterday's closing, and small gains were also made by many of the other leaders. United States Rubber advanced 2½, International Harvester 2½, Canadian Pacific 2, American Agricultural, Chemical and International Pump 1¾ and Reading second preferred, St. Louis Southwestern preferred, Amalgamated Copper, American Cotton Oil, Mackay companies and Virginia-Carolina Chemical 1.

The market closed irregular. A rise in the coppers was in response to the report that the Clark properties in Montana had been purchased by the Amalgamated Copper company. That stock rose 1¾, Anaconda 2, Reading second preferred 3, and the common, American Smelting, Utah Copper, La Clede Gas, Distillers' Securities and American Steel Foundries 1. This movement halted a reaction in the general list. Louisville & Nashville, Wabash preferred and Erie second preferred fell 1. There was some selling to realize at the close.
